2. If two Coparceners have iſſue, each of them a Son, and dieth, and the Sons before partition are diſſeiſed; in that caſe they ſhall joyn in an Aſſize: for although they claim by ſeveral Titles in reſpect of their Mothers, yet becauſe the Land deſcended intirely from their Grandfather to their Mothers, they are in Law accompted Parceners, and a Writ of Partition doth lie betwixt them: and ſo they ſhall have but one Aſſize. Cook. 7 par. Inſtit. 9c.

3. Note: Partition amongſt Coparceners makes no diſcontinuance; and therefore if Lands be given to a man in Taile, who puts as much Land in Fee-ſimple, and he hath iſſue two Daughters, and dies, and the Daughters make partition, ſo as all the Fee-ſimple-lands are allotted to the younger Siſter, and the Intailed Lands to the eldeſt; yet in ſuch caſe, after the death of the youngeſt Siſter, after the alienation of the Fee-ſimple-lands by her Mother, her iſſue may enter into the Intailed Lands, and hold them with her Aunt, becauſe the iſſue had no recompence for the Intailed Lands; and ſuch partition made no diſcontinuance, becauſe in that caſe it paſſed not by Livery and ſeiſin: and the partition is leſs then a Grant, and each Coparcener is in by diſcent from the common Anceſtor. Cook. 1 par. Inſtit. 173. accordingly

4. It was found upon a Diem clauſit Extremum, 2 Jac. That A. the Kings Tenant in capite, died ſeiſed of Lands, and that B. an Infant was his Son and Heir; and it was found 13 Jac upon a Devenerunt after the death of the ſaid B that he died the Kings Ward, and that L. and E. were his Siſters

Sisters and Co-heirs, Coparceners of full age, and that L. the eldest Sister, in the life-time of her Brother, to prevent religious Education, went into Flanders, and there remained a Nun professed, contrary to the Statute of 3 Jac. and it was found, that by reason thereof the said L. ought not to take any benefit of the Lands by conveyance or discent, until she returned, and took the Oath prescribed by the Statute; but that E. being the next Heir of blood, and no Recusant, ought to receive the profits of all the Lands by force of that Statute: the Question was, Whether E. the youngest Sister and Coparcener, should sue Livery of all the Lands out of the Kings hands, as Sister and Heir of B. L. being alive. It was resolved in the Court of Wards by the Judges Assistants to that Court, That the said E. could not as next Heir to L. demand of right to have Livery out of the Kings hands of the part of the Lands of the said L. neither by the words, or by the intent of the said Statute of 3 Jac. but that the King might retain the moyety of L. until such time she returned and took the Oath prescribed by the Statute. Pasch. 15 Jac. in Car Ward, Trediways case. Lea. 59. See Hob. 73. the same case.

5. Note: It was resolved by the Court, That in a Writ of Partition upon the Statute brought against an Infant, that the Defendant should not have his age. Mich. 14 Jac. Poyns and Gibbons case. Hob 179. See Cook. 6 par. 4. in Markalls case accordingly.

6. Errour brought of a Judgement in C. B. the case was, Two Coparceners of a house, one of them let her part to a stranger, and the other let her part to a stranger also, and both Leases came to the hands of one H. Then one of the Copaceners bargained and sold her Reversion to the other Coparcener: the Lessee committed waste, and the Grantee of the Reversion brought an Action of Waste. The Errours assigned were, 1. That he ought to have brought two Actions of VVaste; but against that it was resolved, That although at the first the Lessors were entituled to several Actions, yet by matter ex post facto, the Actions might be united. 2 Errour, Because the other Coparcener was not joyned with him in the Action: but it was resolved it was good enough; and the difference is when both parties have an equal Estate and Inheritance, and when one of them hath but a particular Estate; where they had equal Estate of Inheritance as Coparceners, or two Tenants in common, and one makes a Lease, and the Lessee commits Waste, there the Writ shall be brought by the Lessor onely, and the Statute gives the place VVasted and Damages, and it is a mixt Action, and therefore both shall not joyn. 3 Errour, That the VVaste is a permissive VVaste, and no such VVaste lies between Coparceners; for every of them are bound to contribution and reparation: the Court took no notice of that Errour, but the Judgement was affirmed. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B. R. Wardfords case. Owen 11.

7. Note: It was resolved by the Court, That in a Writ of Partition no damages shall be recovered, nor any enquire of them; and yet the VVrit and Count is ad Damnum, &c. Mich. 3 Car. in C. R. Hetley 34. See Noy. 68. The Countess of Warwick and the Lord Barkley's Case accordingly.

8. In a Partitione facienda by one Tenant in common against the other, an Estrepment was granted for all that the Plaintiff had confessed to be held in common, and not for more; for by such means a man may be inhibited to cut his own Boughs according to his occasion, although it was objected out of Bendloes Reports, That an Estrepment doth not lie between Tenants in common; but 6 Jac. it was adjudged contrary. And Mich. 5 Jac. in the case between the Lady Lucy and Oxenbridge, an Estrepment was granted in a Writ de Partitione faciendâ, because it is a real Action, and no damages are to be recovered in it. See in Noys Reports 143. Bayly and Knightons case.

9. A Writ of Partition was brought, and Judgment quod Partitio fiat; and before it was executed in the Country by the Sheriff, Errour was brought: It was said by the Court, That it doth not lie upon such a Judgement before the Partition be made and returned by the Sheriff. And Judgement was given, quod Partitio Stabilis maneat; for this is not like to other real Actions, where Errour lies before the Habere facias seisinam be returned; for it is a final Judgement, and no other is to be given. Also there needs no return of an Habere facias seisinam, for that the party who recovers may execute his Judgement by entry. See Noy 71. The Countess of Warwick and the Lord Barkleys case.

Pay-

Payment.

1 What ſhall be ſaid a good payment of money, what not: Where a good plea, where not: To what, and how far it ſhall extend, to what not.

1. DEbt was brought by G. for 200 l. upon this Bill; Be it known, &c. that I E. W. of H. in the County of M. do acknowledge my ſelf to be indebted to G. in 200 l. for the payment whereof, I, mine Heirs and Aſſignes, do licence the ſaid G. to have the uſe of the Bayliwick of D. to the uſe, &c. until, &c. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, that the Plaintiff had uſed the ſaid Bayliwick; nor ſaid no more, nor at what place he had received the money. It was the opinion of the Court, That the plea was not good in bar of this ſpecialty, for payment is no plea upon a ſingle Bill, and this licence is no condition; and he might have brought his Action upon this Bill, without uſing the Bayliwick. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goore and Winkfields caſe. Goldesbr. 73.

2. Husband and Wife brought Debt upon Obligation againſt N. H. the Obligation bore date 13 Octob. 31 Eliz. The Condition was, That if N. H. did pay 81 of lawful money in the year of our Lord God 1599. at, or upon the 13 day of October which ſhall next enſue the date hereof. The Defendant pleaded that the day of payment was not come: Gawdy Juſtice, conceived that the payment is to be the 13 of October next after the date of the Obligation, and the words In the year 1599. are void: But Fenner and Popham Juſtices, That the payment ſhould be in the year 1599. for when a certainty appears, although afterwards an uncertainty come, yet that ſhall not hurt the certainty, but the firſt certainty ſhall ſtand. Popham conceived the payment ſhould be the 13 day of October, proxime poſt 1599. for the words are, That Obligor ſhall pay 81 l. of lawful money of England in the year of our Lord 1599. and if the payment be made before this time, none may know what money ſhall be currant in England that year, before the year come, and it is impoſſible to pay that before. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Sharples and Hankinſons caſe. Goldesbr. 187.

3. Debt upon an Obligation to perform an Arbitrement, the Defendant confeſſed the Arbitrement, but pleaded in Bar, That the Plaintiff did not require him to make payment: upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was adjudged no plea; for the Defendant at his peril ought to make payment, and the Plaintiff ought not to make a requeſt. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Brett and Audes caſe. Brownlow 1 par. 49.

4. In Debt againſt Executor, the Defendant pleaded divers Statutes to divers perſons. The Plaintiff ſhewed that ſome were by fraud, and others were for performance of Covenants that were not broken, and for other Statutes that they are ſatisfied; and the Defendant in pleading a Statute by three, ſays two of them did not pay, and doth not ſay that the three, or any of them, have not paid. It was holden, that in pleading of a Statute it muſt be generally pleaded; and one may plead generally that the Statute was acknowledged by fraud, without ſhewing the ſpecial matter. Tr. 9 Jac. in C. B. Brokesby and Treſhams caſe. Brownlow 1 par. 41. accordingly.

5. Debt brought upon an Obligation, the condition was to perform an Award which was good in part, and void in part, and the breach was aſſigned upon the good part; and the Award was to pay money, but no time of payment was appointed; and afterwards the money was demanded. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was a good Award, and that the money was to be paid upon demand. Paſch. 16 Jac. in C. B. Rayſon and Winders caſe. Brownlow 1 par. 53. See Tr. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Frond and Batts caſe accordingly. Leon 320.

6. If Debt be due by Obligation, and another Debt be due by the ſame Debtor to the ſame Debtee of equal ſum, and the Debtor payeth one ſum generally: It was adjudged that it ſhall be intended a payment upon the Obligation. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 2 par. 107.

7. Debt upon an Obligation of 40 l. for payment of 20 l. at a day and year certain: The Defendant pleaded that he had paid the ſaid 20. according to the condition: upon which they were at iſſue; and at the tryal gave in evidence that he had paid the money to the Plaintiff before the day, and that the Plaintiff had accepted of it. It was the opinion of the whole Court, That payment before the day was a ſufficient diſcharge of the Obligation; but becauſe the Defendant had not pleaded the ſame ſpecially, but generally, that he had paid the money according to the condition, the opinion of the Court was, That the Jury muſt finde againſt the Defendant, for that the ſpecial matter would not prove the iſſue. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Godb. 10.

8. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in C. B. The Errour aſſigned was for that in Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition being for the payment of 60 l. upon the 25 day of June, 12 Jac. at his houſe in F. the Defendant pleaded that he paid the money the 20 day of June, 12 Jac. at the ſaid houſe, ſecundum formam & effectum indorſamenti prædict. The Plaintiff replyed, That he did not pay it the ſaid aforeſaid 20 Junii, and a Verdict found that he did not pay it the 20 of June, and Judgement thereupon, and Errour for that cauſe aſſigned; for the iſſue is taken debors the matter of the condition, and ſo an ill plea, and avoid iſſue: for it may be he did not pay it the 20 day of June, yet it may be paid upon the 25 of June. And although it was ſhewed to be an ill plea, yet it ſhall be helped by the Statute of 32 H. 8. But it was reſolved, That it was not aided, for it is meerly void, and no iſſue; for it may be the Obligation was not forfeited notwithſtanding this Verdict. But if the Verdict had been found for the Defendant, that the payment was the 20 day of June, peradventure the Verdict had made it good: for payment before the day is a good payment at the day, and the Plaintiff hath not cauſe of Action; but non-payment at the day, before the true day in the Condition, is not a payment at the day; for it may be that he paid it upon the 25 day, although it were not paid before the Judgement was reverſed. Hill. 14 Jac. in B. R. Holmes and Brokets caſe. Cro. 2 par. 434. 435.

9. In an Action upon a Bill of Exchange brought by a wrong perſon, by a perſon to whom the Bill belonged not, and a Verdict found for the Defendant; It was holden by the Court, That if money be paid to a wrong perſon upon a Bill of Exchange, if the wrong perſon do ſhew the Bill, there, by the cuſtome of Merchants, this is a good payment, and the party that paid it ſhall not be charged again: and this being found by Verdict to be a good Cuſtome, Judgement was given accordingly. Hill. 1652. in B. R. Styles 366.

10. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared that the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff would marry E. his Siſter, he would give his Siſter 300 l. for her marriage-portion, upon his marriage with her; and upon this promiſe the Plaintiff obtained a Verdict: the Defendant in arreſt of Judgement, ſaid that the breach was not well aſſigned, for it recites another promiſe then that upon which the Plaintiff declared; for he declares of a promiſe made to give 200 l. in marriage to the Plaintiff with his Siſter E. and he aſſignes the breach in not paying the 300 l. unto the Plaintiff; ſo that the breach doth not anſwer the promiſe: for if the money be paid to the Wife, (as it may be) the promiſe is not broken. But it was the opinion of the Court, That it was all one as if he had expreſſed the very words of the promiſe; for the Husband is to give the Acquittance for the monies, and the monies are to be paid to the Husband, and the Verdict findes they are not paid: Judgement was entred for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1653. in B. R. Bedwell and Fenwicks Caſe. Styles 393.

11. By Articles of Agreement indented between A. and B. A. did Article to pay to B. 110 l. at a day certain; and B. did Article that upon the receipt of the 110 l. by him from A. that he would give unto A. an Acquittance, and would alſo enter into an Obligation of 400 l. unto A to ſave him harmleſs from all claims which ſhould be made unto certain Lands in the poſſeſſion of the ſaid A. In purſuance of theſe Articles, A. doth tender the 110 l. unto B. at the day; but B. refuſeth to receive the 110 l. of A. and to give him an Acquittance, and alſo to enter into the Bond of 400 l. Whereupon A. brings Covenant againſt B. and upon iſſue joyned, a Verdict being found for the Plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of Judgement, that here was no breach alleadged by the Plaintiff; for the Declaration is, That the Defendant upon the payment of the 110 l. was to give the Acquittance, and enter the Bond of 400 l. and it was in the Defendants election; and here is no payment, but onely a tender and refuſal of the 110 l. It was the opinion of the Court, That here was no breach of Covenant; for the Articles expreſs, that upon the receipt of the 110 l. the Defendant ſhould give the Acquittance, and enter Bond: and the breach is, that the Plaintiff tendered it at the day, and the Defendant refuſed to receive it, and hath not ſealed the Acquittance, nor given the Bond; and it may be it was the intent of the parties that it ſhould be in the election of the Defendant either to receive the 110 l. or not to receive it; and the Plaintiff is not prejudiced by the Defendants not receiving of it; for if he ſhould ſue for the 110 l. the Plaintiff may plead this tender and refuſal againſt him, and that will be adjudged a payment; and where he ſues you for the 110 l. you may ſue him for the Acquittance and Bond. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Tr. 1655. in B. R. London and Cravens caſe. Styles 481.

12. Note: It was reſolved by the Court, That if a Deed expreſs a conſideration of a ſum of money upon a purchaſe made to be paid in the Deed; yet upon a Tryal this is no proof of payment of the monies; but the payment of the monies muſt be proved by Witneſſes. Mich. 1655. in B. R.

Thus

Thorn and Madisons Case. Styles 462.

13. Scire facias: Whereas the Wife dum sola fuit, recovered in B. R. in an Action upon the Case, 26 l. 13 s. 4 d. for damages and costs, and had Execution, and yet is thereof possessed: And whereas afterwards the said Judgement was reversed by Errour, and restitution awarded, and afterwards the Wife took the Defendant to Husband: upon this the Plaintiff brought his Scire facias to have restitution. The Defendant pleaded that after the reversal had, and before the Writ brought, he paid the Plaintiff the said 26 l. 13 s. 4 d. absque hoc, that the Defendants were possessed of the money. It was the opinion of the Court, That the pleading of the payment was not good, because it is grounded and affirmed against the Record; and a payment being against matter of Record, cannot be a discharge unless by matter of Record, or specialty.: and as in a Scire facias to have Execution, payment is no plea in discharge thereof; no more is it in a Scire facias to have restitution. But some of the Justices held, That payment had been a good plea if the Defendant had relyed thereupon, because he averred thereby that the Plaintiff is satisfied; and in divers cases matter of Fact may be pleaded in discharge; but yet Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. Vesey and Harris case, Cro. 1 par. 239.

14. Debt upon an Obligation conditioned for the saving of the plaintiff harmless from the payment of all Legacies; the plaintiff by way of breach setteth forth, That there was a Suit commenced against him in the Chancery for a Legacie. It was moved, that the Declaration was not good, because he doth not set forth that any Legacie was given at all, nor what it was; nor doth shew the place where the Chancery was. It was the opinion of the whole Court, that the plaintiff ought to have reduced his general allegation in a more special and peculiar manner; and to have set forth in facto, that such a particular Legacie was given and devised, and that he had not saved him harmless from the payment thereof; and also he ought to have shewed the place where the Chancery was. Wherefore it was the Rule of the Court, that the plaintiff Nil capiat per Billam. Mich. 10 Jac. in B.R. Dowty and Farrar case. Bolst. 2 par. 19.

15. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition appeared to be for the payment of childrens portions when they married, or came to their full age of 21 years. The defendant pleaded that he had paid the same, cum & quam cito they came to their age, generally, without shewing how. It was the opinion of the Court in this case, If there had been a day certain set down in the Condition, then to plead payment, secundū formam & effectū Chartæ, had been good: but here the time being uncertain, he ought to have shewed in his Plea, the time when the children came of the age of 21 years, and when he paid this money, that so upon this issue might have been taken: and he ought to have shewed who made the Will, and how he had performed the same; that it might appear judicially to the Court whether he had performed it or not. See 22 E. 4. 25. Sir James Harringtons case. 22 E. 4. 40, 41. the Lord Lisles case. Trin. 12 Jac. in B.R.. Haulsey and Carpenters case. Bolst. 2 par. 266, 267.

16. In Debt, the defendent pleaded payment at the day, and gave in evidence payment at another day before the day of payment; and so it was found by the Jury in a special Verdict. It was the opinion of the Lord Anderson and the rest of the Justices, That Judgement should be against the plaintiff: for payment before the day, is payment at the day. And Judgement was given, that the plaintiff should be barred. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C B. Bond and Richardsons case Owen 45.

17. In Action upon the Case upon Assumpsit, it was, the defendant did promise to the plaintiff, in consideration that the plaintiff would permit him to occupie certain Lands for the space of five years, that he would pay him at the Feast of All Saints next coming, and so yearly, 20 l. at the Feasts of the Annunciation and All Saints, by equal portions, during the term aforesaid; and alleadged, that he had enjoyed the Land for the space of half a year, and so brought his Action. It was the opinion of the Court, that they were several Duties, and so several Actions maintainable. And Gascoignes case was vouched by Rodes Justice; which was thus: Gascoigne promised in consideration of a Marriage of his daughter with such a mans son, to give him 700 l. and to pay 100 l. every year till all the sum were paid. And in that case it was holden clearly by the Court, That a several Action might be brought for every 100 l. but because an Action was brought for the whole 700 l. before the seven years were out, Judgement was given against him. For if a man be bound in a Bond of 100 l. to pay 20 l. for so many years; he shall not have an Action of debt until the last year expired. Mich. 20 Eliz. in C. B. Roll 2248. Gascoignes case. Note, the principal case was Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Roll 1732. Hunt and Thorneys case. Owen 42.

18. A seised of lands in Fee, did acknowledge a Statute-Merchant to B. of 500 l. to be paid to the consusee, &c. without expressing any day of payment. The consusor made a Lease of the lands to E. for years, who grants his estate to I.S. The consusee dies Intestate; his Administrator extends the lands; whereupon the Assignee of the Land is brings Audita querela; and, if it would lie, was the Queſtion; the onely matter being, whether this Statute, being without any expreſs day of payment, be good or not, and warranted by the Statute of Action Eurnel & de Mercatoribus, or not. It was the opinion of the Court, That the Statute was a good Statute; and the Queſtion is no more but this, If there be a ſufficient time limited for the payment, and ſuch a time as the Mayor may certifie to be incurred, if it be ſo required: and the Court conceived, that there is: for when he acknowledgeth the debt to be due, and no time is expreſſed, the Law appoints the payment to be immediately, and that is ſuch a time as the Mayor by his Certificate may take notice of: and the Statute intends onely to provide aſſurance to the Merchant for his debt, and not to give any day of payment to the defendant, but leave that to the agreement of the parties And there is a Rule in Law, That every Leaſe ought to have a certain time of beginning, and alſo of ending: yet if one make a Leaſe for twenty years, and doth not ſay when it ſhall begin, this is a good Leaſe, for the Law will ſuppoſe the Leaſe to begin preſently. Trin. 18 Jac. in C. B. Meskin and Hickfords caſe. Bridgman 19,20.

19. Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator of a Bond of 100 l. made 1 Aug. 10 Jac. The defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate 20 Nov. 11 Jac. was bound to A. in 100 l. which was unpaid at the death of the Inteſtate. That A. married B. and that the ſaid A. and B. brought Debt in London for the ſaid 100 l. and recovered by default, and had Execution of 55 l. 8 s. 5 d. and acknowledged ſatisfaction. And further pleaded, That the Inteſtate, 11 Jan. 7 Jac. did acknowledge in Chancery, that he owed to the Chancellour and Maſter of the Rolls 500 l. which Recovery and Recognizance did come to 600 l. 8 s. 6 d. And that the defendant for the payment of the Execution, and for payment of divers debts of the Inteſtate, plene adminiſtravit omnia bona Inteſtatoris, præterquam bona ad valentiam 100 l. which were liable to the ſaid Recovery and Recognizance: and that he hath not once had at the time of Action brought, any other goods, &c. ſaving to the value of 55 l. 8 s. 5 d. and the ſaid 100 l. And averred, that the debt recovered was a true debt. The plaintiff by Replication ſaid, That the Obligation upon which the Recovery was had, was made for the ſecurity of 55 l. and that the ſaid A. and B. did accept the ſaid 55 l. 8 s. 5 d. in full ſatisfaction of the ſaid Judgement; and offered to make a Releaſe, and acknowledge ſatisfaction; which the defendent did defer, to defraud the plaintiff, and ſuffered the ſaid Judgement to ſtand in force. The defendant as to the reſidue of the debt, and the acceptance of the 55 l. 8 s. 5 d. &c. did Demur in Law: and as to the Recognizance he ſaid, that a Condition was annexed to it, That if the Inteſtate, his Executors, &c. ſhould pay 100 l. with the increaſe, to I. D. an infant, when he ſhould come of the age of 21 years, then the Recognizance to be void; and did aver, that I. D. was alive and within age, and that the ſaid 100 l. was not paid. The plaintiff to this did joyn in Demurrer, and to the other plea did Demur; and the defendant did joyn in Demurrer. In this caſe, after long Argument, it was adjudged, That for the firſt matter, Judgement ought to be given for the plaintiff; and for the laſt matter, Montague Chief Juſtice held for the defendant, but Dodd and Haughton Juſtices, contrary; and Dodd and Haughton Juſtices, agreed, That the plea of the defendant was naught, becauſe he ſaid a Condition was annexed to the Recognizance, and did not ſay that it was upon Condition. See Cook. 8 par. Turners Caſe. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Robinſon and Francis Caſe. Bridgeman 79, 80, 81.

20. Debt upon an Obligation of 10 l. the defendant pleaded, that at the inſtance of the plaintiff before the day, he paid to the plaintiff 5 l. which he accepted of in full ſatisfaction. It was reſolved in this caſe, 1. That payment of a leſs ſum at the day in ſatisfaction of a greater ſum, cannot be any ſatisfaction; but the gift of a Horſe, or other thing, may be a ſatisfaction for it. 2. That payment and acceptance of a leſſer ſum before the day, or at another place, is a good ſatisfaction for a greater ſum; for perhaps it may be more beneficial for him. But in the principal caſe the plaintiff had Judgement for the inſufficient pleading of the defendant; for he pleaded not that he had paid the 5 l. in full ſatisfaction, but pleaded generally that the plaintiff accepted it in full ſatisfaction; and always the manner of tender and payment ſhall be made by him who makes the tender and payment, and not by him who accepts of it in ſatisfaction. But it was agreed in that caſe, That if a man doth acknowledge himſelf to be ſatisfied by Deed, although he receive a leſſer ſum, the ſame ſhall be a good bar; and ſatisfaction acknowledged by a Deed, is good, although the party receiveth nothing. Trin. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Cook. 5 par. 117. Pinnells Caſe.

21. A man by Indenture is bound to pay a ſum of money; and in an Action upon that Deed, the defendant ſaith that he hath paid the ſum, but ſheweth no Acquittance. It was holden that in ſuch caſe the plea is not good; for this Indenture is like to a ſingle Obligation, where payment is no plea without an Acquittance. 28 H. 8. Dyer 15. See Doctor and Student, Lib. 1. Cap. 12. An Obligation, ligation, or other matter in writing, cannot be diſcharged by an agreement by word.

22. If a Rent be reſerved to be paid at the feaſts of Michael and the Annunciation, or within a month after the ſaid feaſts, and if it happen the Rent to be behinde after any the ſaid feaſts and day by the ſpace of eight weeks, that then, &c. In this caſe it was the opinion of ſome of the Juſtices, That the eight weeks ſhould be accompted from the 28 day after the feaſts, becauſe that makes for the benefit of the Leſſee, and againſt the Leſſor who grants; and the 28 day is a day of payment at the election of the Leſſee, as well as the firſt feaſt and day. Tamen quære, becauſe no feaſt and day certain is mentioned before, but the feaſt day, and the month is not any day, nor comprehends any day in certain. 4 Ma. Dyer 142. But ſee, Where a Rent is reſerved to be paid out of the Land at D. upon Michaelmas day, and if it be behind forty days after, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Leſſor to re-enter; In that caſe it ought to be tendered at D. a convenient time ſet upon the laſt day of the forty days; for although that it be not by expreſs words, That if the Rent be behinde and unpaid at D. by the ſpace of forty days; yet it ſhall have relation to the place firſt named; and ſo the Law ſaith, the Rent ſhall be paid the laſt of the forty days, although it be not ſo expreſſed by plain words. See Plow. Com. 70. in Kedwellies and Brands caſe accordingly.

23. Note: In the caſe of a Dean and Chapter, the Queſtion was, That if Leſſee for years be tendring Rent with clauſe of re-entry for non-payment, and then the Reverſion or Rent be extended by a Statute, or ſeiſed into the Kings hands for debt; if the Leſſee ſhall pay the Rent according to the extent, and the ſame be no breach of the condition although he pay it not to the Leſſor: In that caſe it was the opinion of the Chief Baron, That it ſhall be no breach of the condition, becauſe he is now compellable to pay it according to the extent, or into the Exchequer for the Kings debt. See Tr. 30 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Owen 38.

24. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Obligee ſhall pay the Rent of 37 l. yearly at two feaſts, according to the true intent of certain Articles of Agreement made between the Obligor and the Obligee during the term, &c. that then, &c. The defendant pleaded, that the Articles contain, That the Obligee demiſit & ad firmam tradidit, to the defendant, Omnia talia Domus, tenementa & terras in parochia de P. de & in quibus the ſaid Obligee had an eſtate for life by Copy, according to the cuſtome of the Mannor of D. Habendum for 21 years, if the Obligor ſhould ſo long live, rendring to the ſaid Obligee during the ſaid term, 37 l. to be paid at the Caſtle of C. and pleaded further, That at the the time of the making of the ſaid Articles, that the Obligee had not any eſtate in any Lands, Tenements, &c. in P. for the term of his life holden by Copy. Upon which plea the plaintiff demurred, and Judgement was given for the plaintiff. There was two points in the caſe; 1. If nothing paſs by the Articles, and ſo the reſervation of the Rent is void: 2. If the Obligation for payment of the ſaid Rent be void. It was ſaid, and ſo reſolved upon the firſt point, That no Rent is reſerved; for the Leaſe, in the caſe, did never begin, and therefore the Rent ſhould not. For the ſecond point, Whether the Rent ſhould be paid by reaſon of the Bond as a ſum in groſs, or not, the Court differed in opinion; for Fenner Juſtice held, The Condition of the Bond is to pay the Rent according to the Articles, which is, That if the Leſſee have not the Land, the Leſſor ſhall not have the Rent. Popham contra, That the Obligor is bound to pay it, athough nothing were demiſed to him, for that by the Bond he hath made it a ſum in groſs; and it is altered from nature of a Rent, and he is bound to pay the Rent or ſum: and if this be either of them, he muſt pay it. Quere, for there was no Judgement in the caſe. Paſch. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Strowd and Welles caſe. Owen 110, 111.

2 Where a man ſhall not have Debt for payment of monies till all the days be paſt, & è contra: and if a Condition be to pay money to a man, his Heirs or Executors, how the ſame ſhall be ſaid to be performed, how not.

1. NOte: There is a differance in payment of money or rent, or in bringing of debt for the ſame between perſonal contracts and real contracts; as if a man ſelleth goods for monies to be paid at a day certain, although that the goods be taken away by one who hath right unto them before the day of payment, yet the Vendor ſhall have an Action of Debt for the money againſt the Vendee, by reaſon of the contract: but if a man maketh a Leaſe for years, rendring rent, if before the rent-day encurred, the Land be evicted by an Eigne Title; there the Leſſor ſhall not have an Action of Debt againſt the Leſſee for non payment of the rent in reſpect of the contract, becauſe it is a real contract, and followeth the nature of the the Land; and the rent iſſueth out of the Land, and the perſon is not the Debtor but in reſpect of the Land. Cook. 3 par. 10. in Walkers caſe.

2. If the Executor of a Leſſee for years rendring rent, doth aſſigne over his intereſt, and after the Aſſignement the rent is unpaid; in that caſe an Action of Debt will not lie againſt him for the rent behind unpaid after the Aſſignement: and if the Leſſee for years doth aſſigne over his whole intereſt, and maketh his Executor, and dieth, and the rent is behind and unpaid; the Executor of the Leſſee ſhall not be charged with the rent due and behind after his death, becauſe the perſonal privity of the contract betwixt the Leſſor and the Leſſee as to the Action of Debt, was determined. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Overton and Sydalls caſe.

3. Debt brought againſt Adminiſtrators for rent behinde after the death of the Inteſtate, the Adminiſtrators pleaded that before the rent was behinde, one of the Adminiſtrators aſſigned over all his intereſt to I. S. of which the Plaintiff had notice, and accepted the rent by the hands of the Aſſignee before the day that the rent was due: It was adjudged in that caſe, That the privity of contract as to the Action of Debt, was determined by the death of the Leſſee; and therefore after the Aſſignement, Debt did not lie againſt the Adminiſtrator: and in that caſe it was adjudged, That when the Leſſor hath election to charge the Leſſee or the Aſſignee for the rent behind unpaid, then if he accepteth the rent of the Aſſignee, he hath determined his election, and he ſhall not have an Action of Debt againſt the Leſſee for the rent behinde after the Aſſignement. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Marrow and Turpins caſe. See 8 Eliz. Dyer 247. the Quere reſolved.

4. The caſe was this: Leſſee for years of a Cloſe of Land, ſowed the ſame with Corn; and at the requeſt of I. S. bargained and ſold to the ſaid I. S. the ſaid Corn growing upon the ſaid Land; who promiſed to pay to him for the ſaid Corn, the ſum of 16 l. at ſuch a Feaſt; and for non payment, he brought an Action upon the Caſe upon the promiſe: In this caſe it was reſolved, That although that Debt did lie upon the contract, yet in this caſe the bargainee might have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Action of Debt at his Election: for it was reſolved, That every contract executory, did import in it a promiſe: for when one agreeth to pay money, or to deliver any thing, thereby he promiſeth to pay or deliver it. And therefore when one ſelleth goods to another, and agreeth to deliver them at a day to come, and the other in conſideration thereof promiſeth to pay ſo much money to the other; this mutual agreement executory of both parties, importeth in it ſelf reciprocal Action of Debt, or upon the Caſe. See Plow. Com. 128. And it would be miſchievous in this caſe, if an Action upon the Caſe ſhould not lie like as in the Caſe, where A. and B. bargaineth together that A. ſhall deliver to B twenty Quarters of Barley yearly during his life; if the ſame be not delivered in one year, an Action upon the Caſe lieth; for if A. ſhould be driven to an Action of Debt, then he himſelf ſhall never have it, but his Executors or Adminiſtrators, for that Debt doth not lie in ſuch caſe until all the days be encurred, and that ſhould be contrary to the bargain, and the intent of the party. Cook. 4 par. 94. in Stades caſe.

5. If I ſell you any thing for 100 l. to be paid 20 l. per annum for five years, I ſhall not have an Action of Debt till all the years be encurred, becauſe all is but one contract. But if a man makes a Leaſe of Lands for five years, rendring every year 20 l. that in the caſe of a Leaſe for years, the years are ſeveral, and he ſhall have an Action of Debt for every year. 45 E. 3, 8. adjudged. See Cook. 5 par. 81. in Fords caſe.

6. A man made a Leaſe to I. S. for fifty years, if the Leſſor ſo long lived, rendring rent at the four Feaſts, or within thirteen days after every of the Feaſts, by even portions, after one of the Feaſts, i.e. the Annunciation. The Leſſor died, his Executors brought Debt for Rent due at the ſaid Feaſt. It was reſolved in this caſe, That the Action did not lie, 1. Becauſe the payment being limited in the Diſ-junction, the moſt beneficial time ſhall be taken for the Leſſee; and before that time, the Leſſee is diſcharged by the Act of God, and the moſt extream time is the moſt legal time. 2. Becauſe that when the Leſſee doth not make payment at the firſt day, the Election is paſt; and then the rent is abſolutely due at the ſecond day, and the ſecond day is as well parcel of the reſervation as the firſt day. 3. The rent is not due until the day of payment encurred, becauſe it is to be raiſed out of the iſſues and profits of the Lands; and therefore if the Land be evicted before the legal time of payment, no rent ſhall be paid. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Cook. 10 par. 127. Claans caſe.

7. A man made a Feoffment of Land, upon condition, that if the Feoffor within a year after the death of the Feoffee, paid to his Heirs, Executors or Adminiſtrators 100 l. that then the Feoffment ſhould be void: the Feoffee made a Feoffment over, and died; and afterwards within the year, it was agreed between the firſt Feoffor and the Heir of the Feoffee, that the Feoffor pay the 100 l. and that the Heir ſhould repay it all to the Feoffor except 30 l. which was done accordingly. The Feoffor Feoffor entred into the Lands, pretending the condition to be performed. It was reſolved in this caſe, (amongſt other points) That the payment was not any performance of the condition, becauſe an Eſtate of inheritance was by the payment of the ſaid monies to the Heir, to be deveſted out of the Aſſignee of the Land, and that ſo the condition ought to be performed by a true and effectual payment, and not by a ſhadow or colour of payment; and the Eſtates of third perſons ſhall not be deveſted by colourable payments, but by true and effectual payments. 2. It was reſolved, That the Feoffor could not have paid the monies unto the Aſſignee of the Lands, for that Heirs, Executors and Adminiſtrators were expreſſed in the condition, and not Aſſignes: but the Aſſignee of the Land, although he be not named in the condition amongſt the perſons who ſhall pay, yet he may well pay the monies for the ſaving of his Term. Mich. 40 Eliz. Cook. 5 par. 97. Goodales caſe.

8. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee by Deed enrolled, covenanted with B. That if B. paid to him, his Heirs or Aſſignes 100 l. ſuch a day, that then he and his Heirs ſhall ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Land to the uſe B. and of his Heirs. Before the day of payment, A. having iſſue a Son, made his Will in Writing, and thereof made his Wife his Executor: the Wife renounced the Executorſhip, and took Letters of Adminiſtration. It was the opinion of the Court in this caſe, That the word Aſſignees, ſhall be intended onely the Aſſignees of the Eſtate of A. for that he hath an Eſtate aſſigneable, and the Law will never ſeek for an Aſſignee in Law, when there is an Aſſignee in fact. But in that caſe it was ſaid, That if A. had made a Feoffment in Fee, upon condition that the Feoffee ſhould pay again to the Feoffor, or his Heirs or Aſſignes; there, becauſe he hath departed with his whole eſtate, and hath but a naked condition which cannot be aſſigned over, the Law will make conſtruction (what perſon) as moſt apt, ſhall be his Aſſignee in Law to recover the money; and thoſe perſons the Law adjudgeth to be his Executors, becauſe they repreſent the perſon of the Teſtator for all goods and chattels; and in ſuch caſe the Feoffor cannot have an Aſſignee in fact. See Trin. 24 Eliz. in the Court of Wards, Randals caſe. See Cook 5 par. 97. in Goodales caſe accordingly.

Patents and Patentees.

1. THe Queen granted to I. S. that he ſhould not be Bayliff, Conſtable, Miniſter, or other Officer, Licet eligatur. It was holden by the Juſtices, That if the Queen make him Sheriff of ſuch a County, that by thoſe Letters patents he ſhall not be diſcharged of that Office, for that ſuch Letters patents do not extend to Royal Offices; as grant of Amerciaments ſhall not extend to Royal Amerciaments; and the making of a Sheriff is not by election, but by the denomination of the Queen: ſo that if he have not theſe words in the Patent, Licet eligatur per nos, he ſhall be Sheriff. Paſch. 25 Eliz. in Exchequer-Chamber, Pelhams caſe. Godb. 21.

2. The Wardens of Cloath-workers of I. brought Debt againſt I. S. and declared that the King had incorporated them by the the name of, &c. and had granted to them by Charter, quod nullus exerceat artem ſive occupationem in aliqua ſhoppa, domo ſive camera infra prædicti villam, of a Cloath-worker or Taylor, niſi ante eos vel duos eorum probationem faceret quod Apprentionem fuit per ſpacio 7 annorum, & per eos ſive per duos eorum ſit approbat, under the pain of 8 l. 13 s. 4 d. pro quilibet ſeptimana qua exerceat prædictam artem contra hanc conſtitutionem: and layed de facto, that the Defendant had uſed the Trade of a Taylor for the ſpace of, &c. againſt, &c. The Defendant pleaded that he was retained in ſervice with one I D Gent. of I. and been an Apprentice for the ſpace of ſeven years, in tali loco, &c. and had made Garments for his Maſter, his Wife and Children, infra, &c. quæ quidem ex recitio, eſt eadem exercitio artis, ſuppoſed in the Declaration; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law. In this caſe theſe points were reſolved: 1. That the King might make Corporations, and grant them that they might make Ordinances for the Ordering and Government of any Trade; but they thereby cannot make a Monopoly, for that is to take away Free Trade, which is the birth of the Subject. See 9 H. 5. c. accordingly. 2. It was reſolved that the Clauſe in the Letters patents was void; but it was agreed, That where it is either by preſcription or cuſtome which is confirmed by Act of Parliament, ſuch an Ordinance may be good, quia conſuetudo Legales olus valet quam Conceſſio Regalis. 3. Reſolved, That the Charter was void, becauſe of the words, viz. Nisi ante tres vel duos eorum probationem fecerit; for it was agreed, That the proof cannot be upon Oath, for such a Corporation cannot administer an Oath to the party, and then the proof must be by his Indentures and Witnesses; and perhaps the Corporation will not allow of any of them; for which he hath no remedy but his Action at Law; and in the mean time he should be barred of his Trade and Maintenance, to which he had been Apprentice for seven years: and if such Patent should be good in this point, they should be Judges in their own cause; which is against the Law. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Pasch. 12 Jac. in B. R. The Cloathworkers of Ipswiches Case. Godb. 252.

3. In Ejectione firmæ, the Case was, The Prior of Launceston was seised of four Closes in North-Dracomb in Launceston; and 27 H. 8. demised the same to I. S. by the name of four Closes in Dracomb infra burgum de Launceston, for 99 years. The Priory and the possessions came to King Henry the eighth by the Statute of Dissolution: afterwards Queen Elizabeth by her Letters patents, anno 21. of her Reign, granted to B. and C. and their heirs, totum illud Messuagium sive Tenement' vocat Dracombs alias Dratons, & omnia terras, Tenementa dict. Messuagii spectant vel cum eodem dimiss' situat, jacent & existat in Launceston super Priorali Launceston spectant: But before this grant, anno 25 Eliz. a house was erected upon a Rood of Land, parcel of the said Closes, by the Occupiers thereof; and it was found, The Tenementa in Narratione mencionatur eidem Messuagio spectant, and was demised and granted with the said Messuage, and was called by the name of Dracombs as as well as by the name of North-Dracombs. It was a Question in this case, the Patent being made of a Messuage and Lands thereunto belonging, this Messuage being newly erected after 1 Eliz. whether the Lands should pass; for it was said, that although in a common persons case, Lands may pass by the name of Lands appertaining to a house, yet it cannot do so in the case of the King; for it ought to be for a longer time then twenty years, if you would have it obtain reputation of passing by the word appertaining. But it was resolved by the whole Court, That the Patent was good for the Messuage and the Lands, for although the Messuage was not built upon it when it was demised, and that afterwards a Messuage was erected upon it; yet it should be as it is, and by such name as it is known at the time of the Letters patents: And the opinion of the Court in this case was, That Lands may be said to be appertaining to a house as well in the Kings case as in the case of a common person, when it hath been let and occupied by a convenient time. Hill. 3 Car. in B.R. Gennings and Lakes case. Cro. 1 par. 120, 121, 122.

4. The case was, Queen Elizabeth, anno 19. granted to F. Grivel Esquire, the Office of Clerk of the Council of the Marches of Wales for his life; and by another Patent 25 Eliz. granted to him the Office of Secretary there. King James, anno 1. without recital of these Patents, grants the said Office to the said F. Grivel, then Sir F. Grivel, for life. After, 9 Jac. the King reciting the Patent of 1 Jac. granted those Offices to A. for his life, when after the death, surrender or forfeiture of the said Sir F. G. they should be void. And after, 14 Jac. by another Patent, omitting the Grants of 19. and 25. Eliz. granted the said Office to I. S. and I. D. Habendum for their lives cum post mortem of the said Sir F. G. or A. surrender, forfeiture, or other determination, vel aliatum modo, the said Offices should be void, with a Non obstante male nominando vel male recitando prædict. Offic. & non obstante male nominando vel male recitando, vel non recitando, aliquod donum vel concessionem præsentes factum de Officio prædict. This Case being referred to all the Justices, it was by them all agreed, 1. That the Patent of 1 Jac. was void, for it was agreed that the Patent of 19. and 25 Eliz. were good: and then Sir F. G. being Patentee, and alive, and he accepting a new Patent, 1 Jac. without reciting the former Patent, and not any Non obstante therein, it is void. 2. Agreed, that the Patent of 9 Jac. reciting the Patent 1 Jac. as a good Grant, which is void, and no Non obstante therein; this Patent was void. 3. Resolved, that the Patent 14 Jac. was void, and the Non obstante therein did not make it good, by reason of those miss-recitals, which are not properly miss-recitals, or false recitals, but rather false informations, or suggestions, whereby the King was deceived: for by intendment, the King conceived those Grants were good which are void, and granted those Offices after the determination of those Grants vel alio quocunq; modo, so as the King is deceived, and a Non obstante shall not help such false informations or suggestions. Trin. 6 Car. Lord Brook and the Lord Gorings case. Cro. 1 par. 142, 143.

5. In a Replevin in B.R. upon a Demurrer, the case was, Sir T. Wyat, tenant in taile to him and the Heirs Males of his body, the Reversion in the Crown, 31 H. 8. infeoffed G. M. and his Heirs, to the use of him and his Heirs: he had issue G. Wyat, who had issue Sir Fr. Wyat, in whose name the defendant made conusance. The Plaintiff shewed that Sir T. Wyat made his Feoffment Ma. and was attainted of Treason, and executed; and the Attainder confirmed the same year by Act of Parliament. And that he should forfeit all his Lands, Tenements, Tenements, Jura, conditiones & hereditamenta ſua; and that they ſhould be veſted in the Queen without Office. The Queſtion was, Whether after this Feoffment by Sir Thomas Wyat, he had any eſtate or right remaining in him, which is not forfeited and given to the Queen by his attainder and Act of Parliament. This caſe was adjourned into the Exchequer-Chamber, and there argued by all the Judges and Barons; and it was reſolved, that for the Reaſons given in Plow. Com in Walſingham's caſe, That Sir Thomas Wyat againſt his Feoffment, had no right remaining in him, nec jus ipſe, nec ad rem: and for that cauſe, and for many other cauſes which ſee in the Caſe at large, Judgement was given for the Plaintiff: But the two Exceptions were taken to the pleading: 1. Becauſe there was no ſeiſin pleaded in the Queen, and then Sir Fr. Wyats title is good till ſeiſin, for that he had the firſt poſſeſſion; but that exception was diſallowed: for after the Attainder, by the Act of Parliament the Land was in the Queen without Office, and the Queen granted it by Patents to him under whom the Plaintiff claimed, who entred, and was ſeiſed till Sir Fr. Wyat entred; and ſo he had the priority of poſſeſſion and right. The ſecond Exception was, That the Indictment was by vertue of a Commiſſion granted to divers perſons, and doth not ſay that it was ſub magno ſigillo; and if it was not ſo, it was not good. But all the Court to that agreed, That it had been better to ſhew that it was ſub magno ſigillo; yet being omitted, it was well enough, and good both ways; and there, according to the Judgement in the Exchequer-Chamber, Judgement was entred for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 7 Car. in Exchequer-Chamber. Stout and Newmans caſe. Cro 1 par. 308, 309, and 329.

6. In debt for Rent, the Defendant pleaded Letters patents of protection, dated 5 Jac. reciting, whereas he was indebted to the King in 200 l. the King for his more ſpeedy payment of his debt, received the Defendant into his protection, and that none ſhould meddle with his perſon or goods, or ſue or implead him in any Court for any debt or treſpaſs, &c. until the King was ſatisfied, &c. It was the opinion of the Court, That by the Statute of 25 E. 3. theſe Protections are expreſſly, that none ſhall be delayed upon them, but the party ſhall anſwer and go to Judgement, but Execution ſhall ſtay; and therefore the Court was of opinion, That this Patent of Protection was not allowable; but when it came to execution, they would adviſe; and therefore ordered that the Defendant ſhould anſwer. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Travors and Malyns caſe. Cro. 2 par. 477.

7. King H. 7. anno 19. by his Letters patents granted the Manor of B. to Giles Bridges in taile; and afterwards, anno 24. recciting the former Letters patents of the Eſtate taile, and that they were ſurrendred and cancelled, granted ex certa ſcientia, &c. to the ſaid G. B. and J. his Wife, manerium prædict. without granting any Reverſion of the ſaid Mannor, Habendum to the ſaid G. B. and E. and their Heirs. It was adjudged in that caſe, that the Reverſion paſſed by that Grant: for in as much as the party had truly informed the King of the Eſtate taile, and of the delivery of the Letters patents to be cancelled, although that the King hath miſtaken the Law in matter of fact, yet the ſame ſhall not make void his Grant by Patent, no default being in the party: And in that caſe it was reſolved, That by the Grant of the Mannor without ſpeaking of the Reverſion, that the Reverſion did paſs; for this word (Manor) includes all manner of Eſtates of, or in the Mannor; as if A. gives the Mannor of D. to B in taile, and afterwards the Doner is attainted of Treaſon, and the King levieth the Reverſion, and by his Letters patents grants Manerium de D. to another and his Heirs: although in that caſe the King grants the Mannor of D. as in poſſeſſion, yet the Reverſion ſhall paſs; for the King hath an Eſtate, i. e. the Reverſion in Fee in him, which is grantable; and the Eſtate taile granted by the common perſon, needs not to be recited. Cook. 6 par. 55. the Lord Choudoes caſe.

8. A falſe recital in the Kings Letters patents, doth not make his Letters patents void. Cook. 1 par. 43.

9. The Letters Patents of the King ſhall not be made void upon conſtruction upon inferences and arguments, without expreſs and direct matters contained in the Letters Patents themſelves. Cook. 11 par. 43. in the caſe of Altonwoods.

10. If the Grant of the King cannot take effect according to his intent expreſſed in his Letters Patents, his Grant ſhall be void, and ſhall not be extended to paſs any other Eſtate then he intended to grant. 21 E. 4. 47. the Earl of Kents Caſe.

11. It is enacted by the Statute of 31 H. 8. cap. 13. That all houſes of Religion, and their poſſeſſions then after to be diſſolved, ſhall be in the King in the ſame eſtate and condition as they were at the making of the ſaid Act, ſaving to all ſtrangers their intereſts. The Abbot of Ramſey granted a next Avoidance, and afterwards the Abby was diſſolved, and came to the King by the ſaid Act: and it was adjudged, that the King ſhould have the ſaid Avoidance, and the ſaving in the Act a void ſaving. See 7 Eliz. Dyer 231. 27 H. 8. Br. to Parliament 77. and ſee Cook. 1 par. 47. in the caſe of Altonwoods, That if Lands be given to the King by Act of Parliament, ſaving the Rights of all persons, it is a void saving, for then the Act should be but a vain Act.

12. The King granted omnia illa Messuagia in tenura I. S. situate in W. nuper Priorat. W. spectant. in truth the Lands lay in D. It was adjudged in that case, that the Kings grant was void by the common Law, because the grant is general, and is restrained to a certain Town; and therefore the Patentee or Grantee shall not have any thing which is out of the Town. See Cook. 2 par. 33.

13. By attainder of a Disseisee, a right to certain Lands escheates, and is forfeited to the King; and afterwads, viz. after the death of the Disseisee, the King by his Letters Patents grants all the Lands, Tenements and Hereditaments which he had by the attainder of the Disseisee. It was adjudged in that case, that a naked Right doth not pass by the said general words; but if such a Right may be granted at all, it ought to be with a special Recital by expres and special words. 8 Eliz. Cromers Case. Cook. 3 par. 46.

14. The Queen grants Portionem decimarum & garbarum suarum in L. It was adjudged in that case, that it shall be intended of Tythes in gross, according to the usual signification of the word Portion, and not of Tythes, parcel of the Rectory of L. And further note, That in that case this Rule was taken; That when the King by the common Law cannot make a Grant good, there a Non obstante of the common Law will not make the Grant good. As if the King grant a Protection in a quare impedit, or in an Assize, the Grant is void; but when the King by the common Law may lawfully make a Grant, but the common Law requires that he be instructed, that he be not deceived; there a Non obstante supplying the same, will make the Grant good. Cook. 4 par. 35. Bozouns Case.

15. The King by his Letters Patents granted to Darcy, that he should have the sole traffick of playing-Cards within the Realm in such manner as A. B. had it before. It was adjudged in that case, That the Letters patents to make playing-Cards only, and to restrain Trade, was void, because Trade and Traffick is the life of every Commonwealth, and especially of an Island. Cook. 8 par. 125.

16. Note for a Rule of Law, That Patents of the King grounded upon his prerogative, although they have a shew to be for the good of the Commonwealth; yet if they tend to charge the Subject, they are not good without the assent of the Subject. The King grants the Office of measuring of Cloath in London to I. S. with a Fee to be received for the measuring of it; there, although the Office tendeth to the furtherance of Commutative Justice; yet because this Fee tends to the charge of the Subjects, it was adjudged that the Patent was void.

17. The King by his Letters Patents granted a Protection to A. B. his servant, Quia profecturus in a Voyage to Rome for the service of the King, and of the Commonwealth, to continue there for three years: Such protection was disallowed by the Judges, notwithstanding the Kings Letters patents, because it was for three years, whereas by the Law it ought to be but for one year; and also because there was no exception in it of Dower, Assize, and Quare impedit, which ought to be excepted. 39 H. 6. 37. accordingly.

18. A Commission was awarded to divers persons to hear the cause concerning the Office of the Exigenter of London granted to Scroggs, and it was with a power, that if he refused to submit himself to their Order, then to commit him to prison: he refused to submit to their Order, and they committed him to prison: but upon a Habeas Corpus brought, he was discharged of his imprisonment, because the Commission was not good nor legal, and because his imprisonment by vertue of such Commission, was unlawful. 2 Eliz. Dyer 176.

19. The King seised of a Mannor in which were Copyholds, granted a Copyhold to one generally: It was adjudged in that case, That the Grant was good, notwithstanding that the King did not recite in his Grant that the Land was Copyhold. Pasch. 18 Car. in B. R. Faliamb and Faliambs Case adjudged.

20. In a Quo warranto against Sir Arthur Capel for claiming a Market, he pleaded to it that he claimed the same by Letters Patents of King E. 3. who granted this per literas suas Patentes unto the Abbot of Glastonbury; but doth not say hic in Curia profert. as he ought to do; and the Kings Attorney did confess all this to be so: Whereupon it was moved to have Judgement for the Defendant. It was the opinion of the Court, That after the Confession of the Attorney, the party cannot recover; but as Amicus Curia, he may shew any matter in Law to the Court. And it was the opinion of the whole Court in this case, That the plea in Bar was not good, neither in the manner nor in the matter of it; and caused a Rule to be so entred, for that otherwise hereafter this matter might be evidence against the King; for the preventing of which, the Rule was entred accordingly by the direction of the Court, That the Confession of the plea might not in time after be a bar to the King. Trin. 13 Jac. The King and Capels case. Baldr. 3 par. 58.

21. Note: It was holden by the Court, That the King by his Letters patents cannot grant to a Corpo-

Corporation to hold a Court of Equity; and à fortiori, that a Court of Equity cannot be by preſcription, being Juriſdiction derived from the Crown: and it was ſaid, That it was reſolved by Popham, Anderſon, Gawdy and Wilmeſley Juſtices, That the King could not grant to the Queen his Wife to hold a Court of Equity, for that the King cannot by his Letters patents grant any thing in derogation of the Common Law; but tenere Placita, according to the courſe of the Common Law, may be granted and preſcribed in. And in this caſe it was ſaid, That the Chancery and Durham were Courts incident to a County Palatine, which had Jure Regalia; and London and the Cinque-Ports have Acts of Parliaments for the holding of their Courts. Trin. 13 Jac. in C.B. Martin and Marſhall's Caſe. Hob. 63.

22. In a quare impedit upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Caſe was, A. and B. his Wife, were ſeiſed to them and the Heirs of A. of the Rectory of H. in the County of Suſſex; and 10 May, 31 H. 8. by Deed of that date, did give the ſame Rectory to King Hen. 8. and his Succeſſors; and King Hen. 8. being ſeiſed of the Rectory of D. to which the Advowſon was appendant, by his Letters Patents dated 21 July, 31 H. 8. In conſideratione prædict. Reſtavit de H. &c. per prædict. A. & B. eidem Regi hæredibus & ſucceſſoribus ſuis dat. & conceſſ. de gratiam ſpeciali, &c. dedit & conceſſit prædict. A. & B. the ſaid Rectory of D. and the Advowſon, &c. Habendum to A. and his Wife, and the Heirs of A. and afterwards, that is to ſay, 26 July, 31 H. 8. and not before, the ſaid A. and his Wife came into the Chancery, and did acknowledge their ſaid Deed; which Deed was afterwards duly enrolled; and then the Jury found the Conveyance of the Parſonage of D. to which, &c. to A. and his Heirs. The Queſtion in this caſe was, 1. Whether the Conſideration in the Kings Grant were true, and good in Law, or not: 2. If the Kings Grant were good, notwithſtanding that the Conſideration be falſe and void. And after a very long Argument of this caſe, it was amongſt other things reſolved, That the Kings Grant 21 July, in Conſideration of a Grant made to him 10 May before, and the Deed of 10 May not being enrolled till the 26 of July, which was after the Kings Grant of the Rectory of D. to A. and B. and the Heirs of A. that the Grant of the King was good. See Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Needler and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Hob. 120. to 132.

23. A Manor with an Advowſon appendant, is in the Kings hand; the Church voids; the King grants the Manor with the Advowſon: It was reſolved in this caſe, That the Avoydance ſhall not paſs, becauſe it is veſted in the King. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C.B. Sir Tho. George, and the Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe. Owen 53.

24. Note: It was reſolved by the Juſtices, 1. That the King by his Proclamation cannot create an Offence which was not an offence before; and the King cannot alter the Law of the Land by his Proclamation. 2. That the King hath no prerogative but what the Law allows him. 3. That the King for the prevention of Offences, may by Proclamation admoniſh his Subjects to keep the Laws, and that they do not offend them upon puniſhment. 4. That if an Offence be not puniſhable by Law, a Proclamation cannot make it puniſhable in any Court. Cook. 12 par. 74. in the Caſe of Proclamation concerning Buildings.

25. The King granted bona & catalla Piratorum, and alſo bona & catalla depredata; i. e. Goods robbed from others: It was reſolved in that caſe, That if the King by his Letters patents grant bona & catalla felonum, he ſhall have the Goods of the Felon himſelf, but not the Goods which the Felon ſtealeth from others. 2. Reſolved, The Goods taken from others the King cannot grant; but the King may ſeiſe ſuch Goods till proof be made who hath lawful property in them; and if they be bona peritura, the King may ſell them; and upon proof made, reſtore the value of them. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cook. 12 par. 73.

26. The King granted by Letters patents the cuſtody of Putney-Park, with the annual Fee of 3 l. with the Wind-falls, &c. to I. S. The King diſparked the Park, and afterwards by Patent granted all the Deer to I. S. It was reſolved in this caſe, That by the diſ-parking of the Park, the Office of Keeper was determined. 2. Reſolved, That the King might diſcharge the Keeper of his Office, although the Park continued. 3. Reſolved, That the annual Fee did remain, although the Patentee was diſcharged of his Office, or the Park diſparked. Hill. 2 Car. Sir Charles Howards Caſe. Hutton 86.

Pleas and Pleadings.

What Pleas shall be good, what not. The various forms of pleading in several Actions; where construed strongly against the pleader, where not: Where the place, year, day, &c. must be shewed in the Count, Bar, Replication, where not: and of other Pleas, where, and what shall be good, what not.

1. DEbt by the Abbot of W. against the Executors of L. upon an Obligation dated 10 Novemb. 11 H. 8. The Defendant pleaded an Indenture of Defeasance dated the same day and year, by which the Plaintiff demised to L. the Rectory of A. and L. covenanted that he and his Assignes would discharge the Plaintiff de omnibus oneribus ordinariis & extraordinariis; and during the term to repair the Building, &c. and that it should not be lawful to alien without the licence of the Plaintiff; and he shewed that he entred and paid the Rent, and paid 5 Marks debit appropriat. Reflorie praedict. que sunt omnia onera tam ordinaria quam extraordinaria, and demanded Judgement of Action; upon which Plea the Plaintiff demurred: and because the Defendant did not shew the date of the Indenture, nor did shew the place where the five Marks were paid; It was amongst other things adjudged, that the plea of the defendant was insufficient; and Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Hil. 28 H. 8. Dyer 27, 28.

2. T. C. Archbishop of Canterbury, 25 H 8. by Indenture made a Lease of the Mannor of H. to P. for forty years; which Lease was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. Afterwards, 30 H. 8. he granted a Rent-charge of 10 l. per annum to Doctor Butts for fifty years, which was also confirmed. Doctor B. by his Will, 27 H. 8. devised, that the said Archbishop should retain so much of the said Annuity, with the Arrears of 25 l. of it, as should amount to 100 l. and if he died, or left his Bishoprick, that the residue of the Annuity which should be to come, should remain to E. B. his Nephew, and died. P. let the Land to the L. North for one year: after the year expired, E. B. distrained the Cattel of the L. North, and avowed for one year and a half for the said Annuity, (after the levying of the 100 l. by way of Retainer.) The L. North pleaded the former Lease made to P. without shewing the counter-part of the Bishop; and upon the Bar the Avowant demurred; and because no place was alledged where the confirmation was made, and because he did not shew the original Lease, but onely pleaded pont in eodem scripto Confirmationis dat. apud Cant. in Domo Capitulari, and it might be delivered by the Prior and Chapter in another place; and also because it was not pleaded that the Assignment of this Rent was by Deed; and a Rent cannot be assigned or granted over without Deed: For these causes it was adjudged, That the pleading was not good; and because the pleading was insufficient ex utraq; parte, the Court awarded a Repleader. Hill. 4 Mar. Dyer 139, 140. Cranmers Case.

3. Debt brought by M. in the Exchequer against the Sheriffs of London upon an Escape of A. and declared, That A. was in execution in Ludgate in the time of four Sheriffs, till the Defendants 15 Decemb. 3 E. 6. &c. The Defendants pleaded, That before the said 15 Decemb. viz. 23 Sept. 1 E. 6. the said A. being then in the custody of I. S. and I. D. then sheriffs, they at Lambeth let him at large: Upon which plea the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden that the plea was not good; 1. Because it might be before 3 E. 6. and yet the year after I. S. and I. D. were out of their Office. 2. It is repugnant that the said Sheriffs suffered him to escape in Surrey, he being then in their custody in London. And, 3. Because it ought to have been alledged certainly that he was in their custody in Surrey; for otherwise it is an escape. For the insufficiency of the Pleas, it was adjudged against the Defendants. Mich. 3 E. 6. Dyer 66, 67.

4. In Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared of a Lease for forty years to begin at Michaelmas next after the death of I. S. and averred that I. S. died, and he entred: Upon Non ejecit it was found for the Plaintiff. Error brought, and for Error assigned, that it was not shewed when he entred, so as it may be the term is ended; nor the time of his entry; for if he entred before Michaelmas after the death of I. S. he was a Disseisor, and not a Termor: for these causes the Judgement was reversed. Trin. 7 E. 6. Dyer 83. Clifords Error.

5. The Abbot of the Monastery of Tewksbury, in Com. G. seised of a Messuage and Lands in the said County, in a place called D. by Deed Leased the said Messuage and Lands to A. and E his Wife, and I their Daughter, for their lives, and the life of the longer liver of them. Afterwards, 17 H. 8. by an Indenture under the Covent-Seal, they demised to I D. and M. his Wife, the Re-

Reverſion of all their Meſſuage, &c. in D. together with the Chappel there, which the ſaid A. and E. his Wife, and I. their Daughter, held for their lives, to have to the ſaid I. D. and M. his Wife, and their Aſſignes, from the feaſt of Michaelmas next following after the death, ſurrender or forfeiture of the ſaid A. E. and I. or by what means ſoever the ſaid Reverſion ſhould happen, for 21 years. Afterwards E. and I. died: I. D. granted his Eſtate to W. C. Afterwards the ſaid Reverſion came to Hen. 8. by ſurrender. After which A. died. W. C. entred. The King granted the Reverſion to F. the Defendant in Fee. W. C. granted his Eſtate to the Plaintiff; who being poſſeſſed, put in his Cattel, and the Defendant F. took them damage Feaſants. And all this matter being pleaded in Bar to the Avowry, the Defendant F. did demur in Law. Divers Exceptions were taken to the Avowry: 1. Becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed the Deed of Leaſe made to A. E. and I. for if there be no Deed, there is no Leaſe, and ſo no Reverſion. 2. Becauſe he hath not ſhewed that Livery and Seiſin was made by the Abbot by Letter of Attorney. 3. Becauſe the place is not alledged where the ſecond Leaſe was made. 4. Becauſe the Grant of the Eſtate to W. C. is not ſet forth to be by Deed. 5. Becauſe it is not averred that A. E. and I. held the Tenements for their lives, becauſe the Leaſe for years is of the Reverſion; and if no ſuch Leaſe, then no Reverſion. But all theſe Exceptions were anſwered and over-ruled by the Court; and afterwards upon the matter in Law, Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 3 Mr. Dyer. Throgmortons and Tracies caſe. Plow. Com. 115. to 164.

6. In a Replevin, the Defendant made conuſance as Bayliff of I. S. for damage feaſant, ſuppoſing that King E. 6. d miſed the Land, &c. to A. for years, who granted parcel of the years to his Maſter, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That before King E. 6. had anything, one I. Abbot of, &c. was ſeiſed of the Land in the right of his Church; and with the aſſent of the Covent by Indenture dated 14 H. 7. witneſſeth the ſaid Abbot demiſed to him for life, Habendam poſt mortem A. and E. they died, and he put in his Cattel, &c. and they were at iſſue upon traverſe of the Leaſe of the Abbot, and the Jury gave a ſpecial Verdict; which becauſe they might not do upon a ſpecial iſſue, a Repleader was awarded; which began at the Avowry, who pleaded as before; and the Defendant demurred upon the Bar to the Avowry, 1. Becauſe there is neither Livery nor Attornment pleaded by the Plaintiff; and, 2. He hath not pleaded preciſely that the Abbot demiſeth, but that the Indenture witneſſeth, &c. Upon which, Judgement was given for the Defendant, that he ſhould have Retorne Irreplegeable; and a Retorna habendo was awarded accordingly. Trin. 3 Mr. Dyer 118. Scatlocs caſe.

7. A. was bound in a Recognizance to B. to perform Covenants; whereof one was, That the ſaid A. ſhould permit the ſaid B. and all the Tenants in D. to have Common of Paſture for their Cattel in the open Fields of D. when they ſhould lie fallow. Another Covenant was, That the ſaid A. ſhould not do, ſuffer, or cauſe to be done, any act or thing to alter the courſes of the Fields in D. In a Scire facias brought upon this Recognizance, the Defendant as to the firſt Covenant, pleaded that he had permitted the ſaid B. and all the Tenants in D. to have Common in the ſaid Fields when they ſhould lie fallow. To the ſecond Covenant he pleaded in Bar generally, That he had not altered the courſe; and if this general pleading were good in Law, or not, was the Queſtion: it was the opinion of divers of the Juſtices that it was good; but Harper Juſtice was againſt it, that it was not good. Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer 279. See 26 H. 8. 5. 3 H. 6. 8. 33 Eliz. Dyer 297. accordingly.

8. In an Information againſt W. upon the Statute of Uſury, the Information was, That the ſaid W. at Weſtminſter, per viam corupte accommodationis, 8 die Septemb. anno, &c. habuit & recepit de quodam E. quinq; libras legalis, &c. pro lucro & advantagio ſuo, pro abſtinentia & donatione die ſolutionis quinquagint. librarum à 4 die July, anno ſupradict. uſq; 8 diem Septemb. proxima ſequend. viz. ultra ratam. 10 l. in centum per an. contra formam Statuti: and upon iſſue joyned, being found for the Plaintiff, Exceptions in arreſt of Judgement were taken to the Declaration, becauſe it is not expreſſed that the Plaintiff lent to the Defendant 50 l. alſo no place is aſſigned where, alſo it is not expreſſed upon what Statute the Information is grounded: but all the Exceptions were diſallowed by the Court, becauſe the Declaration is made according to the tenor and form of the Statute of 37 H. 8. which is a general prohibition, That no perſon, &c. and contrary to that, the Defendant had taken Uſury, per viam corupte mutationis; and of neceſſity is as implyed there, that the 40 l. was lent: Judgement was given againſt W. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer 346, 347. Wilans Caſe.

9. A. granted the Stewardſhip of a Mannor for life with the Fee of 40 s. and afterwards the Grantor by another Deed reciting quod cum the firſt Grantee habet & tenet Offic. Senſchalli, &c. for the term of his life, he granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Office, per nomen Reverſionis, &c. after the death prædict. the firſt Grantee was tum ſtodo 40 s with clauſe of Diſtreſs. After the death of the firſt Grantee, the ſecond Grantee held the Courts for eight years, and for the Arrerages he avowed and distrained. It was the opinion of the Court, That the Grant per nomen Reversionis was void, because no Reversion was of it in any person, and none can be Steward but one, i. e. He who executes the Office, no more then of a Corody; and if the Grant of the Office be void, the Grant of the Fee for the executing of it, is void: Also it was not alledged by matter in fact, that the Office was first granted by matter in fact, pro termino vitæ, so as the Grantors might make a Grant of the Reversion, but onely reciting, quod cum ut supra: and for these causes the Plaintiff demurred upon the Avowry: and it was the opinion of the Court, that the Avowry was not good. Pasch. 9 Eliz. Dyer 219. Sir John Savages Case.

Courte

10. In Battery the Action was laid in London, and in truth the Battery was committed at Uxbridge, in the County of Middlesex. The Defendant pleaded that such a day and year at A. in the County of H. the Plaintiff made an assault upon him, and the hurt, &c. absque hoc, that he is guilty in London. It was objected that the Traverse was not good; but it was the opinion of the Court, That it was a good plea to bar the Plaintiff. See 2 E. 4. 6. accordingly. Pasch. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Webster and Paines Case. Goldesbr. 2 par. 5. See Mich. 29 Eliz. Goldesbr. 43. accordingly.

11. Debt upon an Escape against a Sheriff, the Defendant pleaded that the Plaintiff dedit Consensum eidem Jacob. that the Plaintiff should go at large, whereby he did so. It was objected, That he ought to have pleaded it by way of licence, and not by consent: but the Court held the plea good, and that he might take issue upon it. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Cussing and Sir James Harringtons Case. Goldesbr. 81.

12. A. brought a Formdon in the Discender, and declared of a Gift in taile made to his Father, who died; and the Land descended to the elder Brother of the Demandant, who also died without issue, and so coveyed himself as Heir in taile. The Tenant pleaded, That the elder Brother had issue a Daughter, who levyed a Fine to him, and relyed upon the Fine and Proclamations. It was objected that the plea was double, the one the Issue, the other the Fine; but the Court held the plea to be good, and not double, because he cannot come to the one without shewing the other: also here he relyeth upon the Estoppel. Pasch. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Whites Case. Goldesbr. 88.

13. In Trespass the Defendant pleaded that the place is Copyhold, and pleaded a Grant to S. who granted it to him. The Plaintiff said, That before the Grant pleaded by the Defendant, A. was Lessee for life according to the custome of the Mannor; and that the custome of the Mannor is, that the Lord may grant Copies as well in Reversion as possession, and that I. S. was Lord of the Mannor, and 5 Eliz. granted to him a Copy in Remainder before the Grant made to S. and that he entred. The Defendant Rejoyned, that the Lord may grant Copies in Reversion, with the agreement and consent of the Tenant in possession, and that such Grants shall be allowed, absque hoc, that they are demiseable, modo & forma: upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden in this case, that the plea of the Defendant was repugnant; for these words, If any may be granted, implyeth there is such a custome; and then when he saith, Absque hoc, that there is such a custome, the Traverse is void: also it was holden to be a void custome. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Plympton and Dobyetts Case. Goldesbr. 103.

14. Debt upon a Bond of 40 l. for the payment of 20 l. at a day and place certain. The Defendant pleaded that he had paid the money according to the condition; and upon issue joyned, the Defendant gave evidence that he had paid the money to the Plaintiff before the day, which he accepted of. It was the opinion of the Court, That the payment of the money before the day, was a sufficient discharge of the Bond; but because the Defendant had not pleaded the same specially, but generally, that he had paid the money according to the condition, the plea was not good; and Judgement was against the Defendant. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Godb. 10.

15. One charged two men as Receivers: The Question was, Whether one might plead Ne unq; fuit Receiver; it was moved that he could not, but he ought to say, Ne unq; fuit Receiver absque hoc, that he and his Companion were Receivers: It was the opinion of the Justices, That it was well without a Traverse. See 10 E. 4. 8. Accompt was brought against one supposing the Receipt of 200 l. by the hands of I. P. and I. D. The Defendant as to 100 l. pleaded that he received it by the hands of I. P. tantum, without that, that he received it by I. P. and I. C. and there doubted if it were good enough: But see Br. in the end of the Case, Accompt 14. If an accompt be brought against two, and one saith he was sole his Receiver, and hath accompted before such an Auditor, if the Plaintiff answereth to his bar, he shall abate his Writ, because the Receipt is supposed of a joynt Receipt. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godb. 43.

16. In Covenant, the Case was, Lessee for ten years did Covenant to build a House upon the Lands within the first five years. The Defendant pleaded pleaded that the Leſſor did enter, and had the poſſeſſion for part of the fifth year; whereby the Covenant was diſcharged. It was the opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, That the Defendant ought to have pleaded that the Plaintiff held him out with force, and would not ſuffer him to build it. And ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged this Term in the Common Pleas, where the caſe was, That Leſſee for years covenanted to build a Mill within the Term; and becauſe he had not done it, the Leſſor brought Covenant, and the Defendant pleaded that within the laſt three years the Leſſor forcibly held him out, ſo that he could not build it: And it was the opinion of the Court, that ſuch plea was good, but otherwiſe not. See 35 H. 6. Tit. Bar. If one be bound to enfeoff one of ſuch Lands before Michaelmas, there the Obligor in debt brought upon the Bond, pleaded that the Obligee (before the day) had entred with force upon the Land, ſo as he could not enfeoff him: In that caſe it was holden, that the Defendant ought to prove that he was holden ought by force: in the principal caſe Curia aviſer vult. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Barker and Fletwells Caſe. Godb. 69, 70.

17. Note by Popham Juſtice: If a man find my Horſe, and after ride him, and then deliver the Horſe to me, and I bring an Action of Trover for the Converſion; it is no plea that you have delivered me the Horſe before the Action brought, but you ought to anſwer to the Converſion. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Goldesbr. 155.

18. Debt againſt Husband and Wife, the Executrix of the laſt Will of H. G. nuper dict. G. H. of London, Taylor. The defendants pleaded in Bar a Recovery had againſt them in B. R. as Executors Teſtamenti G. H. nuper dict. G. H. of London, Barber-Chyrurgion; upon which the Plaintiff demurred; and whether this were good or no, was the Queſtion. It was objected, that it ſhall be intended one and the ſame perſon; and a Preſident was ſhewed, 16 Eliz. where an Action was brought againſt the Adminiſtrator of F. F. Mercer, and they pleaded likewiſe a Recovery in the Kings Bench againſt them as Adminiſtrator of F. F. Grocer, and allowed good: But the Court ſaid, They did not allow of that Preſident, if it do not appear if Exception was thereunto taken. And the opinion of the Court was, That in the principal caſe the plea was not good, and that it ſhall not be intended to be one and the ſame perſon. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Hooker and Gomerſals caſe. Goldesbr. 111.

19. A. High-Sheriff brought debt upon an Obligation againſt B. his Under-Sheriff: the condition was to perform Covenants in an Indenture; and one Covenant was, That the Under-Sheriff ſhall keep all the priſoners committed to his charge, until they be delivered by Law, and alſo to ſave A. harmleſs of all Eſcapes: the defendant pleaded performance of all Covenants. It was the opinion of the Court, That the plea was not good, for that one part is in the Affirmative, and the other in the Negative: but the defendant ought to have pleaded Non damnificatus. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Peytons Caſe. Goldesbr. 157, 158.

20. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That whereas the Plaintiff at the requeſt of the Defendant ſtandeth bounden with the Defendant to I. S. in an Obligation for the payment of 11*l.* the 15 day of May, (which May was before the date of the Obligation whereof the Action was brought.) If the Defendant do ſave and keep harmleſs the Plaintiff of and from the ſaid Obligation, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded payment ſecundum formam & effectum Conditionis prædict. It was upon a Demurrer adjudged to be no good plea, but the Defendant ought to have pleaded Non damnificatus. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Allen and Abrahams caſe. Goldesbr. 158.

21. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That the Defendant ſhould diſcharge or ſave harmleſs the Plaintiff of an Obligation for which the Plaintiff, as Surety with the Defendant, was bound to I. S. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, That the Obligation made to I. S. by him and the Plaintiff, was upon a corrupt and uſurious Bargain, and pleaded the Statute of Uſury, and ſo Non damnificatus. It was objected, That if this plea be not allowed, the Statute of Uſury would be utterly defeated; for by compact betwixt the Surety and the Uſurer, the Surety ſhall pay the Uſurer; and the Surety by the Counter-Bond ſhall have double recompence; which would be miſchievous. But it was the opinion of the Court that it was no good plea, for that the Condition is, That the Defendant ſhall diſcharge and ſave harmleſs. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Robinſon and Mayes caſe. Goldesbr. 174.

22. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared that the Defendant in conſideration that he had retained the Plaintiff to go from London to Paris, to merchandize divers Goods for the profit of the Defendant, promiſed to give him ſo much as ſhould content him, and alſo to give him all and every ſuch ſum of money which he ſhould expend there in his affairs; and declared that he was contented to have 25*l.* for his labour, which the Defendant refuſed to pay: Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe it is not ſet down any place or time of Notification of his Contentment; for the ſame is traverſable: and it was ſaid, That if one aſſume to pay one 20*l.* upon requeſt, although although the Defendant plead Non Assumpsit, yet if the place and time of the request be not shewed, Judgment shall be stayed; for no Action without a request: So here without Notification of his contentment, no Action; and therefore he ought to shew it: That Case was agreed: But here in this Case it was holden by the Court, it being but conveyance, the certainty of the time and place is not necessary to be shewed, but the general form shall serve, for that is but inducement. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Pasch. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Dellaby and Hassalls case. Leon 113.

23. Debt upon an Obligation; the Defendant pleaded that it was upon Condition for performance of certain Covenants within certain Indentures, and shewed what, &c. and further alleadged, that in the Indenture there was a Proviso, That if aliqua lis vel controversia oriatur in posterum, by reason of any Clause, Article or Agreement in the said Indenture, that then, before any suit thereupon attempted, the parties shall chuse four indifferent persons for the ending thereof; which being done, the Indenture and Obligation shall be void; and said, that Lis & Controversia groweth upon the same Indenture. It was the opinion of the Court, That because the Defendant hath not shewed specially what Controversie and Strife, and upon what Article certain, that the plea in Bar was not good: and the Court was of opinion, That the Proviso did not extend to submit to the breach of every Article in the Indenture, but onely where Strife and Controversie doth arise upon Construction of any Covenant; so as the Defendant ought to have shewed such matter as fell within the Arbitrement: Judgement was given against the Defendant. Tr. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Parmort and Griffiths case. Leon 37.

24. Debt upon an Obligation against Oliver St. John, and Alice his Wife as Heir to her Father: The defendants pleaded Non est factum of the Father: It was found by Verdict that the Bond was made by the Father of the Wife to the Plaintiff, whereas in truth the Plaintiff declared upon an Obligation made to himself onely, without speaking any thing of the other joynt Obligor, and that the Plaintiff as Survivor hath brought the Action: and if upon the matter it shall be said the Deed of the defendant in manner as the Plaintiff declared, the Jury refer to the Court: it was ruled in this case, That the Plaintiff upon the Verdict should not recover; but the best way for the Plaintiff was to sue the Defendant by the name by which he is bound; and then, if he appear and plead, ut supra, he shall be concluded by the Obligation, as the case is put, in Dyer 10 Eliz. 273. And in the principal case the Court was clear of opinion that the Plaintiff ought to have declared upon the special matter. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Dennis and St. John's case. Leon 322.

25. In Debt upon a Bond for performance of Covenants, it was holden by the whole Court, That if the defendant doth plead generally the performance of the Covenants, and the plaintiff doth demur generally upon it, that Judgement shall be given according to the truth of the case; for that default in pleading is but matter of form, and is helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. But if any of the Covenants be in the Disjunctive, so as it is in the election of the Covenantor to do the one or the other, then it ought to be specially pleaded, and the performance of it; for otherwise the Court cannot know what part hath been performed. Pasch. 23 Eliz. in C.B. Oglethorpe and Hides case. Leon 311.

26. In Debt upon an Obligation with Condition to perform Covenants in an Indenture, the defendant pleads performance of all the Covenants generally; and it appears to the Court, that divers of them are in the Negative, or the Disjunctive: It was holden that the plea being general in the Affirmative, is insufficient: but yet in that case, if the Plaintiff reply, and sheweth a breach of one of the Covenants, which by his own shewing is not a breach, upon which the defendant demurs: In that case Judgement shall be given against the plaintiff, because upon the whole Record it appears that the Plaintiff had no cause of Action; and it will be always intended that every one will make the best of his own cause. Cook. 8 par. 123. in Turners case.

27. In Debt against an Administrator, upon an Administration committed by the Bishop of L. The defendant pleads an Administration committed to himself by the Archbishop of Canterbury, because the Intestate had bona notabilia. The Plaintiff replyed, That the Administration was repealed: It was holden in that case, because the defendant did not shew in his bar that the Intestate had bona notabilia in certain, it shall not be intended that he had bona notabilia in divers Dioceses; and yet the Administration committed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, is not void, but voidable. Cook. 8 par. 135. in Sir John Needhams case.

28. A Submission was to an Award by Obligation, so as it be made and yeilded in Writing at or before Michaelmas. The Plaintiff said, That the Arbitrator before the Arbitrement in Writing fact. & partibus, before the day deliberat. made an Award, and assigned a breach: upon which the defendant demurred. In that case it was adjudged against the Plaintiff: 1. Because it is not direct, but but an argumentative affirmance, that the Arbitrators delivered the Award. 2. Because he should have pleaded the delivery according to the condition, viz. that it was delivered at or before, &c. and not before onely. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 243.

29. Note for a Rule, Every Count or Declaration ought to contain two things: viz. certainty and verity; because it is the foundation of the suit, whereunto the adverse party must answer, and whereupon the Court is to give their Judgement. And know, that there are three kindes of certainties: 1. To a common intent; and that is sufficient in a Bar, which is to defend or excuse. 2. A certain intent in general; as in Counts, Replications, and other pleadings of the plaintiff, and also in Indictments. 3. To a certain intent in every particular; as in Estoppels, in resp & they conclude a man to alleadge the truth, they ought to be certain to every intent, and not to be taken by argument or inference. Cok. 1 par. instit. 303. See Plow. Com. Partridges and Strangs case accordingly.

30. If a Messuage be demised to A. for life, the remainder to B for life, si ipse B. vellet habitare in Messuagio prædict &c. In this case, in an Action brought by the Lessor for the recovery of the Messuage &c. and upon a condition broken, it is a good Bar to say, That after the death of A. he entred; without averring the time of his entry, viz. immediately after the death of A. because by intendment of Law, it will be presumed he did so enter. So if one plead in bar, that A. died seised, and that B. entred as son and heir to A this is a good bar, and yet it may be that he was not his heir: for it is not expressly said that he is his son and heir, but that he entred as son and heir: and yet because he pleads it by way of bar, the best shall be intended for the defendant. See Plow. Com. in Coltburst and Brinsdons case 28 and 31. accordingly.

31. Debt against an Administratrix: she pleaded in bar, quod ipsa plene administravit omnia bona, &c. que fuerunt, &c. & quod illa nulla habet bona, &c. que fuerunt, &c. nec habuit die impetrationis brevis, &c. præter bona & catalla que non sufficiunt ad satisfaciend. prædict. seperalia debit. by which she confesseth that she had sufficient in her hand to satisfie the Kings debt and Recognizances; and then she pleads further, quod ipsa nulla fuit plura habet bona, &c. que fuerunt, &c. preterquam bona & catalla que non sufficiunt ad satisfaciendum prædict. seperalia debit. which is repugnant to what she said before: wherefore it was adjudged, that her plea in bar was no good plea, but utterly insufficient. Cok. 9 par 109. Meriel Treshams case.

32. In Covenant, the plaintiff declared, That the defendant being possessed of an Advowson in gross for term of years, covenanted that he would not grant nor assigne his interest to any, without offer thereof first to the plaintiff; and that he should have it 5 l. better cheap then any other: and alleadged that he granted the said Advowson and his term therein over, without offering it to the plaintiff. Issue being joyned upon Non concessit, it was found for the plaintiff. It was moved in stay of Judgement, that the Grant upon which the issue is joyned, is not alleadged to be by Deed. But it was the opinion of the Court, That that was made good by the Verdict: for it being a perfect Grant, it shall be intended that at the Evidence a Deed was shewed; as upon an Issue joyned of the Grant of a Reversion, where it is not alleadged that it was by Deed, or that the Tenant attorned; yet if it be found by Verdict, it shall be good. Mich. 2 Jac. in C. B. Lightfoot and Brightmans case. Hutton 54,55.

33. In Trespass for assaulting and beating of his servant, per quod servitium amisit, the defendant as to the Battery vi & armis, pleaded Not guilty; and as to the Assault, he justified, and shewed, that he was possessed of a house, and had a Light time out of minde, and that the plaintiffs servants did intend and endeavour to erect another house upon a certain piece of ground adjoyning to his house, and had erected certain timber for the house; the which house, if the same had been erected, would have stopped the said ancient Light: and for this cause, that this would have been to his Nusance, he stood in his own house, and with a staff did thrust away the defendants servants by him employed in the said building, and did then throw down the timber so erected. Upon which plea in bar, the plaintiff did demur in Law. It was the opinion of the whole Court, That the plea in bar was not good, for many causes: 1. Because in this case, the principal cause of the Action is the loss of his service; and the defendant doth justifie as to the Battery, but doth say nothing to the loss of the service, which is the ground of the Action, which ought to be confessed, traversed, or denyed. 2. For that the plea amounts to the general issue. 3. The plea of justification is not good: for the defendant ought to have damnum & injurium: and if he have none of these, his justification is not good; and it doth not appear that he hath any damage. It was adjudged for the plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Morris and Bikers case. Bulstr. 3 par. 196, 197.

34. In a false imprisonment, the defendant justifies, That A. being Maior, and Justice of peace within the citie of London, commanded him, being a Sergeant of the Mace, tro diversis certis videlicet Majori bene cognitis, to imprison the plaintiff. In this case it was holden, That the plea of justification was not good, for that he ought to ſhew the cauſe of the impriſonment, ſo as the Court might judge whether it were lawful or not: and where one is impleaded in an Action, he ought to ſhew the cauſe, otherwiſe the plea is not good. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Bouchers caſe. Cro. 2 par. 81.

35. In Covenant brought, for that the defendant let him a Meſſuage for years, and covenanted that he was lawfully ſeiſed in Fee of an indefeiſible eſtate; and laid, that at the time of the making of the Indenture, he was not lawfully ſeized in Fee. The defendant pleaded Non eſt factum, which was found againſt him. It was moved in ſtop of Judgement, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe the breach is too general, not ſhewing that any other was ſeized, nor any cauſe why the defendant was not ſeized. But the Court held the Declaration to be good: and the Covenant being general, the breach may be aſſigned generally, and eſpecially where the defendant hath made the Declaration good by pleading Non eſt factum; ſo as he allows of the breach ſo as it had been his deed: adjudged for the plaintiff, Hill. 12 Jac. in B.R. Muſcot and Ballets caſe. Cro. 2 par. 369.

36. Treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, 8 Maii 43 Eliz. averia depaſcendo, viz. equis, bobus, & vaccis, continuando uſque 25 diem Julii following. The defendant pleaded, that the place where was 1000 acres of meadow, and pleaded that he and all thoſe whoſe eſtate, &c. time out of minde have had paſture in the ſaid, &c. for two Geldings every year, from the firſt of May, until the graſs there grown be cut and made into hay, as to his Manor appertaining; and juſtifies the putting in of the two Geldings to uſe the paſturage, and their continuance there until the 20 of June aforeſaid; and avers the graſs was not cut down until the aforeſaid 20 of June. It was the opinion of the Court, that this might be a good preſcription: but the Court was of opinion, that the plea of the defendant was not good, for theſe cauſes: 1. Becauſe the Action is brought for the treſpaſs cum equis, bobus, vaccis, &c. and the defendant juſtifies for two horſes, and ſpeaks nothing of the reſidue. 2. Becauſe the treſpaſs is alleadged 8 Maii, with a continuando unto the 25 Junii; and the defendant juſtifies from the 8 of May to the 20 of the ſaid June, but ſpeaks nothing of the four laſt days. 3. Becauſe he claims this Paſturage to the Manor of S. and doth not ſhew in what County the Manor lies. And for theſe cauſes, the pleas of the defendant were not good, and Judgement for the plaintiff. Hill 43 Eliz. in B. R. Sir John Thorall and Laſſells caſe. Cro. 2 par. 27.

37. In treſpaſs the caſe was, Leſſee for life of a houſe and paſture-lands, died; his Executors ſuffered Cattel to go there for ſix days after his death, and then removed them: and for that time the defendant juſtified the going of the Cattel there, upon an Averment, that in that time they could not procure any other place for putting in of the Cattel. It was the opinion of the Court, That the Law allows a convenient time for the removing of the Cattel; and that ſix days was but a convenient time for the doing of the ſame: But becauſe the defendant pleaded onely a Leaſe of the Houſe, and not of the Land in the Declaration mentioned, it was adjudged againſt the defendant. Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. Stodden and Harveys caſe. Cro. 2 par. 204.

38. In Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared of Lands in K. and two other Villages: the Defendant pleaded Not guilty; and at the Niſi Prius pleaded, That the Plaintiff after the Darrein continuance, entred into a Cloſe, parcel of the Premiſes, and expelled him; upon which it was demurred: and the cauſe of the Demurrer was, becauſe he doth not ſhew in which of the Villages the Cloſes lay. It was the opinion of the Court, That the plea was ill in ſubſtance, becauſe it is uncertain, and there cannot be a tryal for want of the place. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hawkins and Mores caſe. Cro. 2 par. 261.

39. Treſpaſs for entring his Cloſe, averia depaſcendo, and chaſing the Plaintiffs Cattel in the ſame. The Defendant as to the entry and chaſing of the Cattel with two horſes, pleaded that A. was Parſon of K. within which Pariſh the Cloſe was; and by Deed under his hand, and ſealed ſuch a day, let the Tythe of the ſaid Cloſe to I. S. for three years; and the Defendants as his ſervants entred the Cloſe with their Horſes, and chaſed the Cattel in the ſaid Cloſes, to ſee what Tythes were due for them: whereupon it was demurred, becauſe he juſtifies by vertue of a Leaſe for years of Tythes, and ſhews not the Deed of the Leaſe. It was the opinion of the Court, That becauſe he had not pleaded by Deed hic prolat. that the plea was not good; alſo the plea was not good, for that they cannot juſtifie the Riding upon the Land, nor chaſing the Cattel up and down to ſee what Tythes were due, for there were other means to come to the knowledge thereof. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Sir Hen. Rolls and Boultings caſe. Cro. 2 par. 360.

40. Debt upon an Obligation, the Defendant pleaded, that the Plaintiff in the Kings Court at P. brought Debt upon the ſaid Obligation againſt T. who was joyntly and ſeverally bound with the Defendant, and recovered and had him in execution, and that the Goaler voluntarily ſuffered him to eſcape. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this plea was not good for two cauſes: 1. Becauſe he doth not ſhew that the ſaid Court of P. being a private Court, had power to hold plea: 2. The plea was not good in ſubſtance; for the eſcape of the Priſoner, (although it be by a voluntary permiſſion of the Goaler) is not any diſcharge of the Debt, and by conſequence the Action lies againſt the other. See Cook. 5 par. 86 Blumfields caſe. Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Pendavis and Kenſhams caſe. Cro. 2 par. 531.

41. Errour of a Judgement in a falſe impriſonment: the Errour aſſigned was, becauſe in the Battery and falſe impriſonment, the Defendant as to the Battery pleads Not guilty, and as to the impriſonment juſtifies: And it was adjudged, that the plea was ill: whereupon the Plaintiff prayed his Judgement, and a Nolle proſequi entred for the reſidue, and he had Judgement: And becauſe as to the Nolle proſequi Judgement was not entred quod eſt ſine die, ſo as there was not any diſcharge of the Defendant; It was objected to be erroneous: but the Court was clear of opinion, That where there be two Defendants, and the one pleads Not guilty, and the other pleads another plea, whereupon it is demurred, and Judgement is againſt him who demurred, and a Non proſequi for the other; there it ought to be ſine die: but where it is againſt one, there the Preſidents are both ways. The Judgement was affirmed. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Eaſty and Sloleys caſe. Cro. 2 par. 439.

42. Note: Upon an Aſſumpſit of a Promiſe made by a Woman dum ſola fuit, the Husband and Wife appeared; and the Wife ſaid and pleaded quod ipſa Non Aſſumpſit: and this being tryed, and found for the Plaintiff, upon arreſt of Judgement prayed, it was the opinion of the whole Court, That the plea of a feme covert without her Husband, is no plea at all; and an iſſue joyned upon ſuch plea, is idle, and not helped by the Statute of Jeofails, Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Tamplon and Newſons caſe. Cro. 2 par. 288.

43. In Treſpaſs againſt A. B and C. for taking a Cup-board, and other Goods. A. pleaded Not guilty. B. as to the entry and taking the Cupboard, juſtified by reaſon of an Extent, and a Liberate thereupon: and C. pleaded the like plea, and thereupon was pleaded Nul tiel record; and the Defendant had day to bring in the Record uſq; Craſt. Purif. and at the day the Defendant failed of the Record: whereupon it was adjudged againſt him quoad that, and a Venire facias awarded ad inquirendum de executione predict. quam de damnis, retor. quinq; Paſch. and then the Record is poſtea continuat in proceſſu in predict. Placito, uſq; Octab. Mich. Niſi Prius; and upon the retorn of the Poſtea, Judgement was, Errour was brought for that there was not any continuances, either upon the Plea-Roll, or the Roll of the Venire facias, after iſſue joyned between the Term of Paſch. and Trinity, nor from Trin. to Mich. and there being this diſcontinuance, there was a Failer of the Record: whereupon the Enqueſt is but an Office which is a diſcontinuance not aided by the Statute: and of that opinion was the whole Court: and upon that the Judgement was reverſed. Mich. 10 Jac. B. R. Miles and Peatts caſe. Cro. 2 par. 303.

44. In an Action upon the Caſe for an Eſcape for ſuffering one to eſcape being arreſted upon a Bill of Mid. The Defendants pleaded that after Arreſt they leading the Priſoner to London to the Goal, he was reſcued from their Bayliffs by I. S. and John; and without argument it was adjudged a good plea; for upon mean proceſs they are not bounden to take Poſſe Comitatus with them; and the party is at no loſs, for he hath loſt onely his proceſs, and he may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Reſcuſſors; otherwiſe it was if the Priſoner be in the cuſtody of the Sheriff upon an Execution, and the party be reſcouſed, there an Action upon the Eſcape will lie againſt the Sheriff, for that the Sheriff is at his peril to ſee that his Priſoner be kept in ſafe execution: and therefore it was adjudged that the Defendants plea in Bar was a good Plea. Paſch. 13 Jac. in B. R. May, and Proby, and Lumleys caſe. Cro. 2 par. 419. and ſo was it adjudged. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. See Marſh 1.

45. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That whereas the Defendant by Indenture bargained an Advowſon to the Plaintiff and his Heirs, if he acquitted, diſcharged, and ſufficiently ſaved harmleſs the Plaintiff from all Bargains, Incumbrances, Statutes, Charges, &c. The Defendant pleaded that he ſaved harmleſs the Plaintiff and the Advowſon from Harm, as in the Condition. It was adjudged by the Court, That it was no plea, becauſe he did not expreſs how he diſcharged him, which ought to be particularly ſhewed. See 32 E. 4. 4. Trin. 5 Jac. in B. R. Alington and Yearthacres caſe. Cro. 2 par. 165.

46. Debt upon an Obligation for payment of 500 l. ſuch a day: the Defendant pleaded tender of the ſaid 500 l. at the day and place of payment, and that none was there to receive it, and that he is yet ready to pay: it was demurred unto, becauſe it was not pleaded Tout temps priſt? It was doubted by the Court if it ſhould be a good plea: wherefore the Defendant durſt not inſiſt upon his plea, but paid a ſum of money to the Plaintiff in ſatisfaction of the ſaid debt over and above the 500 l. But ſee 21 H. 7. where it is holden that ſuch plea is good. See Dyer 300. Mich.

19 Jac. in B. R. Steward and Coles case. Cro. 2 par. 617.

47. Accompt was brought against I. G. of divers receipts and parcels of Goods; to all which, except to one, the defendant pleaded to issue, and for one parcel pleaded nothing; and the issues were found for the plaintiff: it was moved that the plea was discontinued, because he did not answer to parcel; and it was said, that the discontinuance was not remedied by the Statute of 32 H. 8. because no answer was given to one person; and of parcel the plaintiff could not have Judgement according to his Declaration. But it was resolved by the whole Court in this case, That the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 30. did extend to it; for it is thereby enacted, That after Verdict found. Judgement shall be given, any discontinuance notwithstanding. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Gomersall and Gomersalls case. Godb. 55.

48. Accompt brought against one as Receiver, issue was joyned, Ne unq; Receiver for Accompt render. Before Auditors the defendant pleaded, That by the appointment of the plaintiff he paid the money to I. S. It was adjudged no plea, and against his former issue: but it was holden it had been a good plea in bar of the Accompt. Hill. 12 Car. in C.B. Hughes and Drinkwaters case. Hutton 133.

49. Debt against an Administrator upon an Obligation of the Intestate, the Defendant pleaded, That the Intestate was outlawed at the suit of I. S. and died outlawed. It was the opinion of the Court, that it was no plea, for that it is a forfeiture by implication onely; and money may be in an Administrators hands, and shall be Assets, and not forfeited by Outlawry of the Intestate; and the Administrator may bring a Writ of Error to reverse the Outlawry. Mich. 20 Jac. in C.B. Bullen and Gevis case. Hutton 52. See Tr. 37 Eliz. in C.B. Wooley and Bradwells case ibid. accordingly.

50. Action of Debt brought for 100 l. against B and others, and declared upon a Lease made at London of the Mannor of L. in Com. S. and four Closes of pasture to the said Mannor adjoyning, lying in L. in the said County of S. rendring 120 l. per annum, with Nomine pœnæ of 8 s. a day for non-payment, and shews that 60 l. was behinde for the half year at such a Feast, and so remained by the space of 90 days, making 40 l. so in all for 100 l. The defendant confessed the Lease, and pleaded an Extent of the Land by a stranger upon a Statute before the Lease, and shewed that the Liberate was executed after the Rent due: upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was adjudged for the plaintiff for the 60 l. because it was due before the Liberate; and although the Lease was ill laid in the Declaration, because the Capital Messuage is laid in the Town; yet it was holden, that that being but default of a Visne, was cured, because the Defendant confessed the Lease: but for the 40 l. paid, it was adjudged against the plaintiff, because he layed no actual demand of his Rent at the day; without which, a pain is not forfeited. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Sir Rich. Grobham and Thornboroughs Case. Hob. 82.

51. A. and E. his Wife, late Wife of Sir H. B. brought Dower against C. Widow, of Lands in H. ex datatione H. B. quondam viri sui. The Tenant pleaded, That the said H. B. being seised of the Mannor of W. in the same County, made a Feoffment thereof to the use of himself and the said E. his then Wife for their lives, for the Joynture of the said E. therein to I. D. and died, and the said E. held her in by Survivor, claiming the said Estate. The Demandant replyed, that before the said Feoffment made, the said H. B. being seised of the said Mannor, did covenant to stand seised thereof to the use of himself in taile, the remainder to his said Wife for life, the remainder to I. N. in taile, and afterwards made the Feoffment prout, and then died without issue; and that she entred, and was seised by force of the Remitter: whereunto the Tenant rejoyns, That she held herein, claiming her Estate by the Feoffment and Joynture, and demands Judgment whether against that claim she could be remitted: upon which plea the Demandant did demur. It was the opinion of the whole Court, That the Tenants plea was insufficient; and it was holden, That the Remitter could not work to the Woman till her Husbands death without issue, because till then the possession and right did not meet together; also because both Estates were made unto her during Coverture: therefore upon the death of her Husband she might claim which Estate she would. Hill. 10 Jac. in C.B. Sir John Shirley and Barbara Woods case. Hob. 71.

52. An Action of Detinue was brought of a Horse: the Defendant pleaded that the now Plaintiff was autrefoits barred in trespass for the same thing. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was a good plea; and Judgement was given for the Defendant, for that bar by Judgement amounts to a Release in Law. Sir Humfrey Ferris and Wignalls case. Noy 18.

53. A. seised in Fee of Acre and a half of Land holden of the Queen as of her Fee at C. did procure licence from the Queen, and suffered a Recovery thereof, whereby he made a Joynture to his Wife; after which, A. died seised, and the Land descended (inter alia) to his heir, who sold the same to I. D. which discended to W. D. his son

ſon. It was found by Office after the death of I. D. that the ſaid Acre and half of Land was holden of the Queen in capite. It was reſolved in this caſe in the Court of Wards, That the ſuing of the licence of Alienation was no concluſion to the party, that the Lands ſhould become to be holden in Capite: And ſo it was reſolved, Trin. 40 Eliz. where the Alience by ſuch a licence came into the Exchequer, and pleaded his licence upon a ſuo titulo; and in that caſe it was reſolved, That neither the licence of Alienation, nor the pardon of it, nor the pleading of any of them, was any concluſion to ſtop and binde the party touching a Tenure in Capite, becauſe it hath relation to the licence or pardon onely: but otherwiſe it is where the party being directly charged with a Tenure, by plea ſaith, That bene & verum eſt, &c. for that ſuch a plea is a concluſion to the party. Wherefore in the principal caſe it was holden, that the Tenure ſhould be taken to be a mean Tenure, and not a Tenure in Capite. Mich. 7 Jac. in Cur. Ward. Daviſon and Dymocke caſe. Lea. 17.

54. In an Appeal of Mayhem, brought by A. againſt B. and others, one of the Defendants plead Nul tiel in rerum natura, as another of the Appellees; and if that be not found, then to the Felony and Mayhem, Not guilty. It was reſolved by the Court, That ſuch a manner of pleading was not good in an Appeal of Mayhem, becauſe no Life is in danger by the ſuit, notwithſtanding ſome books of Law have admitted of ſuch plea. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Kirton and Hoxton's caſe. Poph. 105.

55. In a Replevin, the defendant avowed and pleaded, that I. S. was ſeiſed in Jure Collegii, but did not ſay that he was ſeiſed in dominico ſuo ut de feodo; and the plaintiff demurred upon the Avowry. It was the opinion of all the Juſtices, That the defendant ought to have pleaded that they were ſeiſed in Fee; for although a Dean and Chapter in point of Creation, or a Mayor and Commonalty take a Fee, yet in pleading they ought to ſhew their Eſtate ſpecially, for that they may have an Eſtate pour autre vie: And this caſe is in Avowry, which ſhall be taken ſtaightly Mic. 2 Car. in B. R. Moſſe and Newmans caſe. Poph. 165.

56. In Treſpaſs, the plaintiff ſuppoſed the Treſpaſs to be done in breaking of his houſe and cloſe in ſuch a Town: the defendant juſtified in the ſame houſe and cloſe, to put the plaintiff to a new Aſſignment: the plaintiff replyed, That the houſe and cloſe of which he complained, is ſuch a houſe, and gives it a ſpecial name. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff: for although a houſe may have a Curtilage which paſſeth by the name of a Meſſuage with th'Appurtenances; yet this ſhall not be in this caſe; for by the Bar the Plaintiff is bound to make a ſpecial demonſtration in that Meſſuage, as to ſay that the houſe hath a Curtilage the which he brake; and it ſhall not be taken by Intendment, that the Meſſuage hath a Curtilage to it, if it be not ſpecially named. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B R. Poph. 109.

57. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made of a Meſſuage and forty Acres of Land in the Pariſh of S. in the County of S. The defendant imparled until another Term, and then pleaded, That within the Pariſh of S. there are three Villages, A. B. and C. and becauſe the plaintiff did not ſhew in which of the Villages the Lands did lie, demanded judgement of the Writ: the plaintiff demurred upon the plea. In this caſe it was adjudged for the plaintiff, for that after imparlance, the Defendant could not plead in abatement of the Writ, becauſe he hath admitted it to be good by entry into defence, and his imparlance. And, 2 The plea is not good, becauſe the Defendant hath not ſhewed in which of the Villages the Meſſuage and forty Acres of Lands did lie; and he ought to have done that. It was the opinion of the Court, the plea in bar was not good Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Tompſon and Colliers Brownlow 1 par. 139.

58. Debt upon an Obligation to perform covenants in an Indenture; which covenants were, 1. That he ſhould marry S. the plaintiffs daughter before ſuch a day. 2. That I S. and his wife ſhould levie a Fine of ſuch lands to the defendant and the ſaid S. the plaintiffs daughter, and the heirs of their two bodies. 3. Whereas he had granted a Leaſe for years of part of M. to the plaintiffs daughter, that he had not made any former grant, nor would afterwards make any grant thereof without the plaintiffs aſſent; The defendant as to the laſt covenant in the negative, pleaded that he had not made any former grant of the ſaid Leaſe; nor any grant after the obligation, without the plaintiffs aſſent; and to all other covenants, he pleaded that he had performed them. It was adjudged againſt the defendant, that the plea was not good, becauſe he hath not pleaded how he had levied the Fine, and not to plead general performance: for it being an act of Record, it ought to be pleaded how ſpecially done; therefore the plea is not good, that he did not grant without the plaintiffs conſent, becauſe ſuch is a Negative pregnant. Trin. 18 Jac. in B R. Lea and Luthells caſe. Cro. 2 par 559.

59. Judgement was given againſt the Principal, and a Scire facias brought againſt the Bayl, who pleads Nul tiel Record of Judgement againſt the Principal; and had day to bring the Record in Court; at which day, the Principal tenders his body, to ſave his Bayl. It was the opinion of the Court, that ſuch dilatory plea was not good: for by that means the plaintiff ſhould loſe his coſts of ſuit againſt the bayl. But Crawley Juſtice ſaid, That the bayl might at any time before Judgment bring in the body of the principal; but could not plead ſuch a dilatory plea as this is. Hill. 17 Car. in B. R.

60. A man ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, deviſed the ſame to his wife for life, and died: the wife took another huſband, and they preſented I. S. who is admitted, inſtituted and inducted, and then died: the Church voided again, and he preſented I. D. to the Church to the Biſhop, who refuſed him, becauſe upon examination of him, he ſaid, that he was Schiſmaticus inveteratus; upon which the plaintiff did demur, in C. B. and ſince it was adjudged for the plaintiff, becauſe that plea of Schiſmaticus inveteratus was too general. Whereupon Errour was brought, and two errours aſſigned: 1. Becauſe no preſentment was alledged in the deviſor: but that was reſolved to be no errour; for the preſentment of a Leſſee for life is a ſufficient title in it ſelf. 2. Becauſe the plea of the Biſhop was good, and that the Biſhop ought not to alleadge any particular Schiſm. But it was reſolved, that the plea of the Biſhop was inſufficient: for by the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas, cap. 13. there ought to be a reaſonable cauſe; & cauſa vaga & incerta non eſt rationabilis. Hill. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Cok. 5 par. Speots caſe.

61. An Action upon the caſe upon Aſſumpſit, for divers Wares and Medicines to the value of 20 l. The defendant pleaded, that he had paid to the plaintiff tot & tantas denariorum ſummas, as the Medicines were worth; and did not ſhew any certain ſum. It was adjudged in that caſe, that the plea was not good. Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. adjudged.

62. The caſe was: A. and B. on the one part, and C. on the other part, ſubmitted to ſtand to an Award. The Arbitrators awarded, that B. ſhould pay a certain ſum of money to C. In Debt upon this obligation, the defendant pleaded Nihil debet; and a Verdict was found for the plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgement, that the Award was but of one part, and ſo not binding to all the parties ſubmitting. It was the opinion of the Court in this caſe, that here was a good Award between two of the parties that ſubmitted, but there appears not to be any Award as to H. the third party; for it doth not appear that he can take any benefit by the Award of the money to be paid by B. or that it can be any ſatisfaction for him, but onely for B. wherefore it was adjudged for the defendant. Mich. 1655. in B. R. Morden and Horn caſe. Styles 471.

63. In Treſpaſs for an Aſſault, Battery, Fining and falſe impriſonment, at C. The defendant as to the Aſſault and Battery pleaded Not guilty: as to the impriſonment, juſtified at H. in this manner, viz. that there the Court was holden before him for the Stannery, he being Steward of the Court; in which Court there was a ſuit depending betwixt the now-plaintiff and another for debt; which ſuit went againſt the plaintiff, who was condemned in it, and taken in execution by his command, and till he ſhould pay his Fine; and ſo juſtifies abſque hoc, that he was culpable in any place extra Curiam Stannariæ. It was the opinion of the Court, that the plea was not good, for that it doth not appear what the Juriſdiction of the Court of Stannary is, nor how far the ſame doth extend it ſelf. The Treſpaſs for the impriſonment is laid to be at C. and he pleads a ſuit between the plaintiff and another at A. abſque hoc that he was guilty alibi extra Curiam of the Stannaries: this is not good: for by this plea in this manner, abſque hoc that he was guilty in any place in the county of D. out of the Juriſdiction of the Stannaries, it doth not appear whether C. be within or without the Stannaries, but is altogether uncertain. Therefore it was the opinion of the whole Court, that the plea and traverſe was not good; and Judgement given for the plaintiff. Trin. 13 Jac. B. R. Evely and Showleys caſe. Bolſt. 2 par. 326, 327.

64. In Treſpaſs for aſſaulting, wounding, taking and impriſoning: the defendant pleads quoad the aſſault and wounding, Not guilty; and quoad the taking and impriſoning, he doth juſtifie by force of a Warrant he had from the Lord Mayor of L. but doth not ſhew in his plea any time nor place where the Warrant was made: he doth juſtifie in this manner, quoad Captionem & Impriſonamentum; but in his Juſtification he leaves out the Aſſault. It was ſaid by the Court, There are ſeveral Aſſaults here laid, i. e. The Aſſault in the wounding, and the Aſſault in the taking: he hath in his plea quoad Captionem & Impriſonamentum, but in his Juſtification he hath left out the Aſſault, which is the chief cauſe of the Demurrer; And for this cauſe the Court held the plea not to be good. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Wilſon and Dodds caſe. Bolſt. 2 par. 335.

More,

More, Pleas and Pleadings.

The Form of pleadings of ſeveral things, and the Form of pleadings in ſeveral Writs and Actions.

1. DEbt upon an Obligation for performance of an Award to be made and delivered in Writing. The Defendant pleaded that the Arbitrators made no Award: The plaintiff ſhewed the Award made de & ſuper premiſſis in conditione, &c. in Writing: i. e. That the Defendant ſhould depart from the houſe where ſhe dwelt, and other things which concerned not the Plaintiff, and ſhould pay the plaintiff 3 l. 10 s. The Defendant replyed, That the Arbitrators made no ſuch Award: Whereupon iſſue was taken, and found for the plaintiff; and yet it was adjudged againſt him, becauſe it was an Arbitrament but onely on one ſide: for in this caſe there was nothing awarded for the Defendant, and the 3 l. 10 s. appointed to be paid, is not ſaid for what; ſo that it can imply nothing, nor can it be helped by any Averment. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Nichols and Granmors caſe. Hob. 49. See Cook. 8 par. Dreſpotes caſe.

2. Treſpaſs quare clauſum fregit, at B. The Defendant pleaded that he was ſeiſed of an houſe in C. in the ſame County, and preſcribed to have a Way from the ſaid houſe over the Land in Queſtion to a Common Way leading to the City of N. Iſſue being upon the preſcription, the Viſne from B. and C. found for the plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgement, becauſe there was no place aſſigned where that Way leading to N lay, which is now made part of the preſcription and iſſue; and therefore muſt have his venue and tryal, though the material part of the Way was onely whether it lay over this Ground, or no. But the opinion of the Court was, that the plaintiff ſhould have Judgment: for though a Way muſt be pleaded à quo termino ad quem; yet becauſe the Viſne here is from all the places named in the Record, the tryal ſhall not be avoided by a meer imagition, that the High-Way lay in another Town. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Gogles caſe. Hob 189.

3. Debt againſt an Executor upon an Obligation of the Teſtator, the Defendant pleaded that the Teſtator made him Executor till I. S. ſhould come of the age of 21 years; and in the mean time to keep all his Goods for him, and then to deliver them to him, and the ſaid I. S. then to be Executor: and ſhewed, that before the Writ brought, I. S. was of the age of 21 years, and that he delivered him the Goods, which he accepted, abſque hoc quod ipſe eſt die impetrationis, &c. Executor. It was debated in this caſe by the Court, If the firſt Executor ſold or waſted the Goods, how the Creditor ſhould relieve himſelf for thoſe Goods, the new Executor taking upon him the Executorſhip; for the Goods never came to the hands of the new Executor, though perhaps he may have an Action againſt the former Executor for ſo much as he did not lawfully adminiſter; for againſt the Vendees he can have no Action: or elſe that the old Executor may remain an Executor ſtill for theſe Goods. Quere, the caſe was not Reſolved. Trin. 7 Jac. in C. B. Chandler and Thompſons caſe. Hob. 265.

4. Treſpaſs for taking a Bag of Nutmegs: the Defendant pleaded, That the City of L. is an ancient City time out of minde, and that the Mayor, Citizens and Commonalty had been a body politick time out of minde, and ſeiſed of a VVharf in L. called Queen-Hithe; and by all that time had uſed to take for Goods laid upon the ſaid VVharf, and to be conveyed from thence of perſons not lawfully diſcharged, VVharfage: i. e. 1 d. for every Porters Burthen; and upon non-payment, to diſtrain for ſuch VVharfage upon the ſaid VVharf: and ſhewed, that two Porters Burthens of the Plaintiffs Nutmegs, (being no perſon diſcharged) was laid upon the VVharf to be conveyed by water; and the Defendant being the Collector, demanded the VVharfage; and becauſe the ſame was not paid, he diſtrained the Bag of Nutmegs. The Plaintiff by Reply, ſaid, That within the ſame City there was, and time out of minde had been, a cuſtome, That all the Free-men of the City had been, and ought to be diſcharged of the payment of the ſaid Warfage; and averred, he was a Freeman of the City. The Defendant ſaid, there was no ſuch cuſtome within the City; and then ſays, That the cuſtome in the City hath been, That when any iſſue upon the cuſtome of the City is joyned, though the Mayor and Citizens be party to the Actions, the Mayor and Aldermen have uſed to certifie the truth of the cuſtome. The plaintiff ſaid, that ſuch iſſue ought to be tryed by the Jury, and not by Certificate; and that the cuſtom for the tryal by the Certificate, was againſt Law. It was adjudged in this (amongſt other points) That it was againſt right, and juſtice and equity, to allow them their Certificate, wherein they are to try and judge their own cauſe. And although in the pleading it was confeſſed, that the cuſtom of the Certificate of the Cuſtoms of L. are confirmed by Act of Parliament; yet it made no change in the caſe, becauſe it is none of the cuſtoms intended, but a kinde of a Preſcription, and ſo not within their cuſtoms. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Day and Savages caſe Hob. 85.

5. Note: It was agreed by the Court, That if a man in pleading derive an eſtate from another man, and doth not ſhew what eſtate he had from whom he deriveth his eſtate, that it is a good cauſe of Demurrer. And if a man claim a Rent by grant out of the land of any other man, it is not ſufficient for him to ſay, That ſuch a one was ſeiſed & conceſſit; but he ought to expreſs of what eſtate he was ſeiſed. But it was agreed in the caſe, That the ſhewing of what eſtate, &c. ought to be material to the maintenance, and ſupport of the eſtate which he claimeth; otherwiſe it is not neceſſary to ſhew it. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Marſh 1.

6. Treſpaſs brought, quare cum equis, porcis & bidentibus. The defendant pleaded and juſtified the treſpaſs cum equis, and ſaid nothing to the treſpaſs done porcis & bidentibus. It was the opinion of the whole Court, That the plea was inſufficient: and it was ſaid, That if ſeveral treſpaſſes be done unto me, and I bring treſpaſs, and the defendant doth juſtifie for one action, and ſaith nothing to the other, the whole plea is naught, becauſe the plea is entire as to the plaintiff, and the Demurrer to it is entire alſo. Paſch. 15 Car. in B R. Buckley and Skinners caſe Marſh 21.

7. Trover and Converſion was brought againſt husband and wife of ſheaves of corn, and declared that they did convert thoſe ſheaves ad uſum ipſarum, viz. of the husband and wife. It was the opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good, being of ſheaves of corn, being incertain, not expreſſing the certainty what corn it was. Alſo it was not good, becauſe the Declaration is laid, That the Converſion was ad uſum ipſorum, for that the wife hath no property in them during the life of the husband. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Hodges and Simpſons caſe.

8. In a Scire facias to avoid a Statute, the caſe was: A. acknowledged a Statute to I. D. and afterwards conveyed part of the land liable to the Statute to B. who by bargain and ſale conveyed the ſame to I. D. the conuſee. I. D. extended the lands of B. the purchaſer, who thereupon brought his Scire facias to avoid the Statute, becauſe the conuſee had purchaſed parcel of the land, and ſo extinguiſhed his Statute. In this caſe it was moved for I. D. That the bargain and ſale is alleadged to be made to him, but it was not ſhewed that it was by Deed enrolled: but it was pleaded, That virtute cujus, viz. of the bargain and ſale, the conuſee was ſeiſed, and doth not ſhew that he entred. The queſtion was, What eſtate the bargainee had, the Deed not being enrolled; and then, if the Statute were extinguiſhed. The opinion of the whole Court was, That the Scire facias was well brought: for it was ſaid, that I. D. the defendant perquiſivit ſibi & hæredibus ſuis; and concludes, virtute cujus, and of the Statute of Uſes, he was ſeiſed: and it is a good averment that he had a Fee; and it is not material how he had it: and this Action being an equitable Action, the Court ſhall conceive ſufficient matter to give judgement for the plaintiff; and judgement was given for the plaintiff accordingly. Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. Leak and Dawes caſe. Marſh 63. and 651.

9. Debt upon an Obligation: the Condition was, That if the Obligor did deliver to the plaintiff 200 weight of Hops, in conſideration of 10 l. already paid, and 50 l. to be paid at the delivery, and the plaintiff to chuſe them out of 24 Bags of the obligors own growing, and to be delivered at F. at a day certain. Proviſo, that if the plaintiffs ſhould diſlike their bargain, that then they ſhould loſe their 10 l. and if they liked, they ſhould give 10 l. more. The defendant pleaded, that they were ready, and that the plaintiffs non eligerunt. Upon which the plaintiffs demurred. It was moved for the plaintiffs, that the plea was double, in that the defendant alleadged that they were ready, and that the plaintiffs non eligerunt; both which pleas are iſſuable. But the Court inclined to opinion, that the plea was not double, for that the alleadging himſelf to be ready, was but an inducement to the ſubſequent matter, and he relyed onely upon their election. 2. It was objected, That the defendant ought to have alleadged that he had 24 Bags of his own growing: for if he had them not, it was impoſſible for the plaintiff to make election which to have. But to that it was returned, That no notice in this caſe was requiſite: nor ought he to aver that he had them: for he being bound to deliver them, he is eſtopped to ſay that he had them not; and in this caſe the plaintiffs ought to do the firſt act, viz. requeſt the defendant to ſhew the Bags, for them to make choice. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Brook and Goodes caſe. Marſh 474, 475.

10. Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, becauſe where the plaintiff ſold to the defendant ſo much Wood, the defendant in conſideration thereof did promiſe to pay ſo much money to the plaintiff, and to carry away the Wood before ſuch a day. The defendant pleaded that he paid the money money at the day aforeſaid; but as to the carriage of it away before the day, the defendant pleaded Non aſſumpſit. The Jury found, that he did not pay the money at the day, but as to the other, they found that he did aſſume, and promiſe as aforeſaid. It was moved, That the finding of the Jury was naught: for being but one Aſſumpſit, and one entire thing, it could not be apportioned; and therefore they ought to finde the entire Aſſumpſit for the plaintiff, or all againſt him: all which was granted by the Court, and thereupon a Repleader granted. But it was ſaid and agreed in this caſe, That the defendants plea was not good, and therefore the plaintiff might have demurred upon it: but becauſe he had not done it, and for that the Verdict was naught, no Judgment could be given; and ſo onely a Repleader awarded in the caſe. Trin. 17 Car. in B.R. Eaſt and Farmers caſe. Marſh 100.

11. In a falſe impriſonment, the Defendant pleaded that London had a Court of Record by preſcription, which was confirmed by Act of Parliament, and that he was a Sergeant of the Mace of that Court; and that he had a Warrant directed to him out of the Court, to arreſt the Plaintiff pro quodam contempt committed to the Court in not paying of 20 s. to I. B. In purſuance of which Command, he did arreſt the Plaintiff. It was objected, That the plea was good, becauſe the Defendant was a ſervant to the Court, and had done but his duty. But the opinion of the Juſtices was, That the plea of the Defendant was not good, becauſe the Defendant doth not ſhew what the contempt was, nor in what Action, ſo as it might appear to the Court that they had Juriſdiction of the cauſe; and the plea is too general and incertain. And the Juſtices agreed, That it was hard that the Officer ſhould be puniſhed for his obedience to which he is bound, or for doing an act by the command of the Court, whether it were juſt or unjuſt, if it appeareth to the Court, that that Court had juriſdiction of the cauſe; but it doth not appear that that Court had juriſdiction of the cauſe: and then it is clear, that the Officer by obeying the Court when they have no juriſdiction, doth ſubject himſelf to an Action of falſe impriſonment. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Dive and Olives caſe. Marſh. 117.

12. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, to keep a Pariſh harmleſs from a Baſtard-child. The Defendant pleaded that he had ſaved the Pariſh harmleſs, but did not ſhew how. The Plaintiff replyed, and ſhewed how that the Pariſh was warned before the Juſtices of Peace at the Seſſions, and were there ordered by Record to pay ſo much for the keeping of the Childe. The Defendant pleaded, Nul tiel Record: upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was reſolved in this caſe, 1. That the plea of Nul tiel Record upon an Order of Seſſions, is not a good plea, becauſe that an Order of the Seſſions of Pleas is a Record. 2. The Defendants Bar was not good, in that he hath pleaded in the Affirmative, that he hath ſaved the Pariſh harmleſs, and doth not ſhew how, which he ought to have done: but in this caſe he ought to have pleaded Non damnificatus, and that had been good without further ſhewing. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Marſh 121.

13. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That whereas the Plaintiff was in quiet poſſeſſion of ſuch lands; if I S. nor I. D. nor I G. did diſturb him by any indirect means, but by due courſe of Law, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, that neither I. S. nor I. D. nor I. G. did diſturb him by any indirect means, but by due courſe of Law. It was the opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, That the plea in Bar was not good; for it is a Negative Pregnant, i. e. ſuch a Negative which implies an Affirmative, which ſeems to be repugnant to the Negative, as in 21 H. 6. 9. In a Writ of Entry, the Defendant pleaded the Deed of the Demandant after the Darrein continuance. The Demandant ſaid, Not his Deed after the Darrein continuance. It was holden a Negative Pregnant: wherefore he ſaid, that he made it after the Darrein continuance; and then an Iſſue was taken upon it. 2. Exception to the plea, was, That he pleaded that neither ſuch a one, nor ſuch, nor ſuch, did diſturb him by any indirect means, but by due courſe of Law; and that cannot be tryed neither by the Jury, nor by the Judges: Not by the Jury, for it doth not lie in their mouthes to declare if he diſturbed him by any indirect means, and what is the due courſe of Law, for that doth belong to the Judges to determine: Not by the Judges, becauſe he hath not put it certain, that it was by a due courſe of Law, that he diſturbed him. All the Juſtices enclined to opinion, That the plea was not good. It was adjourned for difficulty. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Deighton and Clarkes caſe. Godb. 60.

14. In a Quo Warranto, the Information was, That whereas the Defendant was ſeiſed of a Manor, and of a houſe within it, that he claimed to have a Court, with view of Frankpledge, infra Meſſuagium prædictum; & quod ſine aliqua Conceſſione ſint authoritate uſurpavit libertates prædictas. The Defendant pleaded Non uſurpavit libertates prædictas infra Meſſuagium prædict. modo & forma. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was no good plea; for that the natural anſwer to a Quo Warranto, is either to claim or diſclaim, and here he doth neither: 2. Becauſe the Quo Warranto contains two things in it: 1. Quo Warranto, he claims ſuch liberties; 2. It chargeth him with a tortious uſurpation; and here he anſwers to the uſurpation onely, but he doth not anſwer by what title or Quo warranto he claimeth them: and it was ſaid, that it had been adjudged in this Court, in the like caſe, That Non uſurpavit modo & forma, was no good plea without making a title. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Jervas Clyſions caſe. Godb. 91.

15. Leſſee for years by Indenture rendring Rent, the Leſſee bound himſelf in an Obligation of 100 l. to perform all Covenants contained in the Indenture. The Rent was behinde, and the Leſſor brought debt upon the Obligation. The Obligor pleaded all Covenants and Agreements performed. The Leſſor ſaid the Rent was behind. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was no plea for the Obligor to ſay that the Rent was not demanded; but in his bar he ought to have pleaded, that all the Covenants were performed but the payment of the Rent, and for that he was always ready to have paid it, if any had come to demand it. But as the firſt plea is, it is naught; for when he pleads all performed, it ſhall be intended that the Rent is paid: the contrary of which he after ſhews. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Godb. 95.

16. In Avowry for damage feaſant, the defendant pleaded a Leaſe made to him by I. S. the other ſaid that before the Leaſe I. S. did enfeoff him: the other replyed and maintained his Leaſe abſque hoc quod I. S. ſeiſitus feoffamen. It was ſaid that this Traverſe of the Tenure was not formal, for the word Seiſitus was meerly idle, and ought to be left out, for that he cannot enfeoff unleſs he was ſeiſed: And the Court ſaid, that they had never ſeen that in ſuch caſe the Seiſin had been traverſed, but generally, abſque hoc quod feoffavit. Wherefore the ſame was holden in that manner pleaded not to be good. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Hales and Homes caſe, Hales and Homes caſe adjudged.

17. A man made a Leaſe of a Garden containing three Roods of Land; the Leſſee was cuſted, and he brought an Ejectione firme, and declared that he was ejected of three Roods of Land. It was moved that by the ſaid Declaration it ſhall not be intended that he was ejected of the Garden of which the Leaſe was made, and ſo the Action would not lie: and of that opinion was Dyer Juſtice, becauſe a Garden is a thing which ought to be named by the ſame name in all Precipes, as appeareth by the Regiſter. The other Juſtices held the contrary; and agreed, that in all real Actions a Garden ſhall be demanded by the name of a Garden, but not otherwiſe; but this Action of Ejectione firme, is in the nature of Treſpaſs, and it is in the election of the party to declare as here he hath done, or of the ejectment of a Garden; for a Garden may at one time be uſed for a Garden, and at another time it may be plowed and ſowed with Corn. The Court agreed, that the beſt order of the pleading is, to declare that he was ejected of a Garden containing three Roods of Land, as in the Leaſe it is ſpecified. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godb.

18. Debt upon an Obligation of 40 l. the condition was, That if the Obligee the 18 of Auguſt, 4 Jac. ſhould go from Aldgate to the Pariſh-Church of Stow-market in Suffolk, within the ſpace of 24 hours, that then, &c. And he ſhewed, that he went from Aldgate to the place aforeſaid; and becauſe he did not ſhew within what Ward Aldgate was, it was holden that his declaration was not good. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Croſſe and Caſons caſe. Godb. accordingly.

19. In Trover and Converſion, the caſe was, A ſtranger delivered the Horſe of H. to an Inholder. H. came to him, and demanded his Horſe; who refuſed to deliver him, unleſs he would ſave him harmleſs and indempnified. But becauſe the plea was, Quod quidem homo, delivered it to him, and did not ſet forth his name in certain, the plea was adjudged not to be good. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Harlow and Woods caſe.

20. In a Quare impedit, the caſe was, A. brought a quare impedit againſt the Defendant, the Defendant ſhewed how that the King was entituled by reaſon of Symony, and preſented the Defendant; and that he was perſona impeſonata of the preſentation of the King. The plaintiff denyed the ſymoniacal Contract: upon which they were at iſſue, and found for the Defendant. The plaintiff brought a ſecond quare impedit againſt the Defendant, who pleaded all the matter before, and the Judgement, and did not ſay that he is now perſona imperſonata, but that he was tunc perſona imperſonata. It was ſaid that he could not plead to the title of the Patronage, without ſhewing that he is perſona imperſonata: and to ſay that tunc fuit perſona imperſonata, is but a plea by way of Argument, that becauſe he was then, ſo he is now; and ſuch plea is not good. 2. It may be that he was perſona perſonata tunc, and not nunc, for he might reſigne, or be deprived after, or the like, and it is a Non ſequitur, becauſe he was then, that he ſhall be now, and parolls ſont pleas, and every plea ſhall be taken ſtrongly againſt him that pleads it. The Juſtices were all of opinion, That he Parſon cannot plead to the title of the Parſonage without ſhewing that he is perſona perſonata. But the queſtion here was, whether the Defendant cannot plead the Record and Judgement yet in force againſt the plaintiff, without ſhewing that he

he is persona imperſonata. The Court delivered no opinion in it. Hill. 17 Car. in C. B. Palme and Hudds caſe. Marſh 159.

See more of Pleas and Pleadings, and of divers points of Pleading in the Titles Actions, Averments, Covenants, Declaration, Bar, and almoſt in every other Title: to abridge the ſame Caſes again under this Title, were but Surpluſage: But if you look into the Tables, under every Title you may finde the ſaid Caſes and points abridged: out of which Caſes, and other Caſes, I have collected theſe few Rules which follow, to be obſerved concerning Pleas and Pleadings: Viz.

RULES Concerning
PLEAS, PLEADINGS and PLEADERS.

1. IF a man is to plead a Fine, he ſhall plead quod quidem finis ſe levavit, and not Hæc eſt finalis Concordia.

2. He that pleads an Entry for a Condition broken, muſt always plead a Demand: but otherwiſe it is, where a man diſtrains for Rent; for there the Diſtreſs is a Demand, although it be for a Rent-ſeck.

3. He who claims a Reverſion, in his pleading muſt ſet forth that he claimed the ſame upon the Land.

4. In Debt, where proceſs of Outlawry lies, the plaintiff ought to name the plaintiff certain, with the Title of his Addition, as Gent. Yeoman, &c. becauſe the King may have notice to whom to reſort for the forfeiture of the Goods.

5. If a man pleads a Releaſe, or Confirmation, he muſt plead that he to whom it was made, was ſeiſed.

6. If an Aſſize be brought againſt one who is Diſſeiſor and Tenant, he ſhall name him Tenant onely: but otherwiſe it is if it be againſt the Diſſeiſor onely.

7. If a man plead that I. S. took ſuch a woman to wife, he ought to ſhew in what place, as at D. to the end, that the Judges may know to what Biſhop to write to certifie.

8. In all perſonal Actions, the party defendant ought to be named certain, and the County alſo, becauſe upon the Outlawry, the King is to repair to the County for his Goods.

9. If a man pleads a Marriage, he ought to ſhew the Church in certain: and ſo it is of a death, in what place the party died.

10. In an Ejectione firme brought, a man ſhall ſay, Quod protulit quandam billam de placito tranſgreſſionis & Ejectione firme, and that the Defendant vi & armis, &c.

11. A man in his Count or Declaration, ought not to ſhew that ſuch a one was ſeiſed, and made a Leaſe, or Gift in taile; but that a Leaſe or Gift was made: But otherwiſe it is in a Bar, for there he ſhall ſay, That ſuch a one was ſeiſed, or made the Gift, &c.

12. In pleading, it is ſufficient to ſhew that ſuch a one was attainted of High-Treaſon, or de diverſis proditionibus, without ſetting out the ſpecial matter or circumſtances, becauſe the ſame is not traverſable.

13. If an Attainder be pleaded, it ought to be ſet forth before what Judges; as before the King in his Bench, or before Juſtices of Aſſize and Gaol-delivery.

14. In all Actions, but in an Aſſize, the County is to be put in the Margent of the plea.

15. If a man plead a Feoffment, a Gift in taile, or a Leaſe for Life, there he ſhall plead, Whereas ſuch a one terram Feoffavit, didit, vel demiſit; and ſhall not plead any licence, or entry, becauſe they are included in them.

16. He who pleads an Attornment, Releaſe, Exchange, Confirmation, ought to ſhew the place, the time of the Attornment, and that he was then Tenant.

17. If a man pleads a ſeiſin of ſeveral Acres, he cannot plead that he was ſeiſed in Fee of one Acre ſimul cum the other Acre; but he may plead that he was ſeiſed of white Acre, ſimul cum black Acre in Fee.

18. Note, that he who gives colour in an Aſſize, ought to do it by one before named in the plea, and not by a ſtranger.

19. A man ſhall not plead in a Replevin, quare vi & armis ammia cepit.

20. Where the Defendant in a Replevin hath cauſe to make an Avowry, he ſhall never plead a juſtification.

21. He that pleads a Deviſe, muſt ſhew that the Land is holden in focage, and of whom it was holden, and that the Diviſor was ſeiſed at the time of his death: but if Leſſee for years, or a man ſeiſed in the right of his wife, deviſeth the Land in Fee, and afterwards purchaſeth the ſame, and dieth, the Deviſe is not good.

22. He that pleads the commencement of a Leaſe from the date, he ought to plead that the ſame begun immediately from the date.

23. He who pleads a Deviſe of Land, he ought to plead that the land was deviſeable at the common Law by cuſtom, or that it was by Writing, and that the Deviſor was ſeiſed at the ſame time of his death.

24. In pleading of an Aſſize, it is not ſufficient to ſay that the Defendant did diſſeiſe the Plaintiff; but he ought to ſhew and plead an Entry and Diſſeiſin, which is the manner of the Diſſeiſin.

25. In a Writ of Right, a man ought to ſhew and alledge Seiſin within 60 years: in a Writ of Entry, ſur Diſſeiſin, within 40 years: and in an Aſſize, within 30 years.

26. He who pleads an Attornment, he ought to ſhew the place, and the manner of the Attornment: i. e. by agreement, or by giving a peny, ob. or a farthing.

27. If a man in pleading convey a Leaſe for years of Lands, upon Condition to have Fee, he is not tyed to ſhew in what place the Leaſe was made, becauſe it ſhall be intended to be upon the Land, becauſe it ought to paſs by way of Livery: but otherwiſe it is in pleading a Leaſe for years onely.

28. If a man in pleading alledge payment of money in ſuch a place, as the Temple-Hall, &c. he ought to ſet forth in what County it is, for the Viſne.

29. Note, that the Writ, or Count, (which is as it were but a Comment upon the Writ) ſhall abate for falſe Latine: but by the Statute of 39 E. 3. it is ordained, that no Count ſhall abate for want of form; ſo that now the Count is not abateable for falſe Latine; but the Bar was never abateable by falſe Latine at the common Law.

30. If a man pleadeth a Leaſe for years, an Attornment, or a Surrender, he needs not to ſhew in what place, becauſe they ſhall be intended to be upon the Land.

31. Note, that a plea in Bar ought to be certain to all intents, otherwiſe it ſhall be taken ſtrongly againſt him that pleads it.

32. If a man pleads in Bar a double plea, and the plaintiff replies to it, and iſſue is joyned, and then it is found for the Plaintiff; now the plea is good, and the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgement.

33. If a man plead in Bar in an Aſſize, that I. S. was ſeiſed in his Demeſne, &c. the ſame is no plea; for it may be after the Diſſeiſin for which the Aſſize is brought: but he ought to ſay, That long time before the Seiſin and Diſſeiſin, I. S. was ſeiſed, &c.

34. He who pleads the performance of Covenants generally, muſt plead the Indenture or Deed likewiſe.

35. He that comes in as Vouchee, and would avoid a Warranty by change of the Eſtate, muſt ſhew how the Eſtate is changed.

36. He who pleads a Diſpenſation from the Archbiſhop to hold a Benefice in Commendam, confirmed by the Kings Letters patents, muſt aver the performance of the Covenants in the Diſpenſation.

37. He who juſtifies by a Licence or Liberty, muſt plead it ſpecially, and cannot have advantage of it upon the general iſſue.

In pleading Letters Patents, what Rules are to be obſerved therein, and upon what differences; where, the place, the day and the date of them muſt be pleaded; and where pleaded in Cur. prolat. and where not; and where the firſt Patentee aſſignes over his whole intereſt, and where but part; See the Titles Grants of the King, Patents; and ſee Cook. 1 par. in the Caſe of Altonwoods and Bolſtrod, 2 par. 154, 155.

Plaints.

Plaints.

Plaints in an Aſſize, or other Action, where good, where not: where the Writ ſhall be general, and the Plaint ſpecial, & è contra. In the Diſjunctive, where good, where not; and where the Plaintiff in his Plaint muſt make Title, where not.

1. AN Aſſize was brought of Tythes, the Writ was de Libero tento, and the Plaint is de quadam portione decimarum, garbarum, feni, lanæ, & agnellorum annuatim provent. renovant. & creſſent. de & in 100 acr. terræ, 10 acr. prati, & 100 acr. paſture cum pertinentiis in N. Exception was taken to the Plaint, becauſe it was uncertain, in not ſetting forth the certainty of the Loads. But to that it was anſwered, That the taking of part was a Diſſeiſin of the whole; which being caſual and uncertain, the Plaint cannot be more certain; and alſo the word quadam is a word of certainty, unleſs it be joyned to a word of uncertainty. 2. Exception was taken to the Writ, becauſe it was de Libero tento, whereas it ought to be de portione Decimarum: To that it was anſwered, That the Writ ſhall be general, and the Count ſpecial; and there is no ſpecial Writ given by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and then the ancient Writ ſhall ſtand. Paſch. 7 E. 6. Dyer 83.

2. An Aſſize was brought of his Freehold in Weſtminſter, and the Plaint was of the Philizers Office: the Plaintiff made his title in the Plaint, and alleadged Seiſin by taking of one Capias: the Plaint was ſaid to be good; and the Poſt where they were ſet at firſt when they were made Officers, was put in view. Paſch. 3 Ma. Dyer 114. Vaux caſe. See Trin. 4 Ma. 149. Hunts Aſſize. Aſſize was de Officio Regiſtrarii Curiæ Admiralitatis Angliæ Principal. and the plaintiff made his title in his Plaint

3. In an Aſſize, the Plaint was in Dale tantum; and there was two Dales in th: ſame County, and none without addition; yet it was adjudged, that the Writ and Plaint were good: the reaſon was, becauſe the Judgement in an Aſſize differs from other Writs; for he ſhall recover Seiſin of the thing put in Plaint by the view of the Recognitors: and if the thing in Plaint be ſo certain and plain, that the Recognitors may put the Plaintiff into poſſeſſion, it is ſufficient. Paſch. 7 E. 6. Dyer 84.

4. Note: It is ſaid that a man needs not uſe tales ordines & certitudines in the Plaint of an Aſſize, as in other Writs of Præcipe quod reddat; for 8 Aſſ. Wood was put before Paſture in a Plaint, which is contrary to the form and order of a Præcipe quod reddat, and the Plaint was de annuo redditu unius robæ vel 20 s. in the Diſjunctive, which had not been good in a Præcipe quod reddat; & de quadam petia terræ; and yet it was holden good in an Aſſize, without any other certainty.

5. A man ſeiſed of two old and ruinous Fulling Mills, preſcribed Quod magna pars aqua cujuſdam rivoli, did run from a place called D. to his ſaid Mills, and that there was a Bank made to keep in the water, and that he pulled down the Fulling Mills, and built up, and converted them to Corn-Mills; and that the Defendant brake the Bank, and diverted the water from his ſaid Mills. It was reſolved in this caſe, That the preſcription did extend to the new Griſt-Mills, becauſe in generalty the Mill is the ſubſtance; and the alteration was not of the ſubſtance, but of the qualities: and in this caſe it was ſaid, If one be in an Aſſize to demand a Griſt-Mill, or a Fulling Mill, or make his plaint of them, the Writ ſhall be de uno Molendino, generally, without any addition; and in his plaint he may ſet forth the nature of the Mill. Cook. 4 par. 86. Lutterells caſe.

6. I. W. brought an Aſſize againſt Sir Tho Kayvet, &c. de libero tento in Weſtminſter, and made his Plaint de Officio Magiſter Ludorum pilarum palmarum: Anglicè, the Office of Maſter of the Tenis-Players of the King in Weſtminſter. Exception was taken to the Plaint, becauſe in his Title he ſaith, quod Officium prædict. eſt antiquum Officium in Weſtm. prædict. & quod Dominus Rex, &c. per literas Patent. conceſſit eidem I. Officium Magiſtri Ludorum pilarum palmarium, Habend. idem Officium eidem I. durante vita ſua, &c. and doth not ſhew that any profit doth belong to the ſaid Office. But it was reſolved that the Plaint was good enough: for true it is, that of an Office of Charge, no Aſſize lieth. And 30 Aſſ. 4. An Aſſize was brought of the Office of Meſſor of the Mannor of D. with the Appurtenances; and there the difference was taken between an ancient Office and a new Office; for in an Aſſize of a new Office, there the Plaintiff ought to ſhew what Fee or profit is granted for the exerciſing of it. But the Court held the Plaint good enough. See 5 E. 3. See 3 Aſſ. Aſſ. 17. Aſſize of Novel Diſſeiſia was brought, and he made his plaint of a profit Apprender for the keeping of a Park, viz. every day in the year, 1 d. ob. and a Roab; and it was adjudged, that the plaint was good, and the Aſſize maintainable, Cook. 8 par. 46. and 49. Jebu Webbs caſe.

7. An Aſſize was general de Libero tento, and the plaint was de 4 acris ſalicetî, that is, four Acres of Willows, and to have reaſonable Eſtovers in 100 Acres of Wood, ſc. Houſebote, Heybote: and the plaint was challenged, 1. Becauſe the plaint ought not to be de quatuor acris ſaliceti, but terra, or prati. 2. Becauſe the plaintiff had joyned in one plaint, two Freeholds; one, ſcilt. the four Acres of Willows at the common Law; and the other, ſcilt. the Eſtovers by the Statute, i. e. the Statute of Weſtminſter 2. Cap. 25. But the opinion of the Court was, That the plaint was good; and the Exceptions were diſallowed by the Court. See 15 Aſſ. 15. Cook. 8 par. 48. in Webbs caſe.

8. If a man grants to another 20 Loads of Hazel, or twenty Loads of Maple to him and his heirs, to be taken yearly out of his Wood of Dale; there the Grantee hath election which of them to take: and therefore if he or his heirs bring an Aſſize of them, and make his plaint in the Diſjunctive, the ſame is good: and ſo if a man doth grant to another for life an Annuity, or a Robe at the Feaſt of Eaſter, and both are behind, the Grantee in ſuch caſe may bring his Writ of Annuity in the Diſjunctive; for if he ſhould bring his Writ for one of them only, and ſhould recover, this Judgement ſhould determine his election for ever. Cook. 2 par. 42. in Sir Rowland Heywards caſe.

9. Errour was brought upon a Judgement given in a Writ of Entry en le Poſt, upon a Recovery had in C. B. The Errour aſſigned was, becauſe that the Writ of Entry was, de uno annuali reddita ſive penſione 4 Marcarum exeunt de Eccleſia ſive Rectoria. It was reſolved in that caſe, That the Writ was good enough, for there is not any incertainty; for one of two ſeveral things is not demanded, but one thing onely, or the demand is of Rent, or penſione de 4 Marcarum, and Redditus and penſio, are all one; and exeunt de Rectoria, proves it to be a Rent; for if it ſhould be an Annuity, the Rectory ſhould not be charged. Paſch. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5 par. Downes caſe

10. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in a Writ of Dower, the Errours were, 1. That the Demand was de tertia parte Decimarum garbarum in C. and by this Demand the Tythes of the kind of them is not demanded in certain; for the word Garba admits of divers conſtructions. 2. The Demand is Ac etiam de Rectoria de A. which is alſo incertain; for it ought to be de Rectoria Eccleſiæ de A. But it was the opinion of the Court, That the Demand de tertia garbarum, was certain enough by common intendment; but it is here more certain then ſo, for it is tertiam partem garbarum grauum, which ſignifies Corn. Alſo it was reſolved, That it is not neceſſary to ſay, Rectoria Eccleſiæ de A. for it muſt ſo be neceſſarily intended. And it was agreed, That a Demand in a Præcipe ought to be more certain then a Demand in a Writ of Dower. The Judgement was affirmed. Mich. 1650. in B. R. Fairfax, and Fairfax caſe. Styles 237. 238.

11. Errour brought to reverſe a Judgement in an inferiour Court: the Errour aſſigned was, That the plaint was entred againſt Francis, and the proceedings were againſt John. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was not good; for a plaint there is in the nature of an original Writ; and therefore if it be erronious, it cannot be helped if it be after a Verdict. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Brerton and Mountigous caſe.

12. Errour brought to reverſe a Judgement in Leiceſt. It was aſſigned for Errour, becauſe that in that ſuit there was not any plaint; for in all inferiour Courts, the plaint is the original at the Common Law; and without that, no proceſs can iſſue out: and here, upon this Record, nothing is entred, but that the Defendant Summonitus fuit, and the firſt Entry ought to be A. B. queritur de C. &c. It was the opinion of the Court, That a plaint ought to be entred before proceſs iſſueth forth; and this Summons which is entred here, is not any plaint: The Judgement was reverſed. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Savage and Knights caſe. Leon 302.

13. In a Replevin, the Defendant did avow the taking of the Cattel damage feaſans: upon iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff in the Court at Windſor, being a three-weeks Court. Errour was brought, and aſſigned for Errour, that the entry of the plaint in the ſaid Court was the ſeventh day of May, and the Plaintiff afterwards did declare there of a taking of the Cattel the 25 day of May. It was the opinion of the Court, That this being in a three-weeks Court, was Errour, becauſe that no plaint can be entred but at a Court; and it appeared to the Court in this caſe, that the entry of the plaint was mean, betwixt the Court-days, ſo the Declaration is not warranted, no cuſtome being alledged to maintain ſuch an entry. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Brook and Gregories caſe. Gouls. 266.

14. Note, where by the cuſtome of a Copyhold-Mannor, plaints have been made in the Court of the Mannor, in the nature of real Actions; if a recovery be had in ſuch a plaint againſt Tenant in tail, that recovery ſhall work a diſcontinuance, and ſhall take away the entry of the iſſue in taile: For, in as much as plaints in the nature of real Actions are warranted by the cuſtome, it is an inci-dent cident which the Law annexeth to the cuſtome, that ſuch a recovery ſhall make a diſcontinuance. Cook. 4 par. 21. Deal and Rigdens caſe. Mich. 37 Eliz. in B. R. Rot. 1417. Clan and Peales caſe adjudged accordingly.

See more of Plaint in Lib. 1. Title Demand.

Pledges, Plegiis Aquitandis, and Pledge.

Where, and in what Writ, and in what Actions, and what Courts they lie; and what perſons ſhall finde Pledges, what not; and of the Writ de Plegiis aquitandis.

1. IF an Attorney of the Court of Common Pleas, doth ſue a ſtranger in that Court by reaſon of priviledge; it was the opinion of the Court, that of neceſſity he muſt find Sureties or Pledges de proſequendo, as well as a ſtranger who ſues an Attorney or Clerk by Bill, ought to find Pledges in fine Billæ; and in the principal caſe, the Judgement was reverſed in the Kings Benches, notwithſtanding the Verdict paſſed for the Plaintiff there for want of finding Pledges. Paſch. 12 Eliz. Dyer 288. Fleeteman and Bygotts caſe.

2. At a Pluries Repleg. the Sheriff retorned in Bank, catalla elongata, & quod nullum aliud Breve, &c. upon that a Withernam was awarded, and according to the ſaid Writ, the Sheriff retorned, that the Plaintiff found Pledges to proſecute: out of which note, That Pledges ſhall be found upon a Withernam awarded. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer 188.

3. If a Formdon be retorned tardè, and the Demandant ſueth an alias ſummoneas, there muſt be nine Returns between the Teſte and that: and note in the alias Summons, Pledges muſt be found; for in the alias, the words be, If the Demandant fecerit te ſecurum, except there be Pledges found in Court. Paſch. 8 Eliz. Dyer 252.

4. At the Pluries Repleg. the Sheriff retorned that the Defendant claimed property: upon which Retorn, his VVrit de proprietate probanda iſſued to the Sheriff, commanding him, taking with him the Cuſtos of the Pleas of the Crown, to make deliverance to the Plaintiff; and if it was found for him, then alſo if he find Pledges to proſecute, that he attach the Defendant to anſwer to the King for the contempt, as alſo to the Plaintiff for his damages. So note, in Proprietate probanda brought, Pledges were found, Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer 173.

5. Error brought to reverſe a Judgment in Debt in C. B. The Error aſſigned was, becauſe no Pledges were found upon the Original Writ of Debt; and every Plaintiff is to be by his Pledges, becauſe he is to be amerced if Judgment be given againſt him: and for that cauſe, for the omiſſion of Pledges, the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Vaughan and Delahays caſe.

6. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in the Common Pleas. The caſe was, One brought his Bill by Attorney in the Common Pleas; upon which Judgement, a VVrit of Errour was brought, and the Errour aſſigned was, becauſe he had found no Pledges: It was ſaid by the Court in this caſe, That Pledges may be entred when the party will. See 18 E. 4. 9. where it was held by all the Judges in B. R. That in any Bill or VVrit where Pledges are left out, the party at any time hanging the Plea, may finde Pledges, for that this is in the diſcretion of the Court, and is but matter of form: Quere, if there be not difference as to that between a Bill and a VVrit; for the VVrit is Si queretus fecerit te ſecurum, but ſo is not the Bill. But in the principal caſe, Curia adviſare vult. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. Haver and Gibbons caſe. Bolſtr. 3 par. 61.

7. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in the Common Pleas in a VVrit of Raviſhment of a Ward there brought according to the Statute of Weſtminſter 2. Cap 35. The Errour inſiſted upon, was this, The Raviſhment de Gard which was brought is given by the Statute of Weſtminſter 2. by which Statute there ought to be Pledges found by the Plaintiff; but here are no Pledges retorned by the Sheriff, nor yet any Entry or Order in Court, that Pledges ſhall be found, which ought ſo to be, this being an Original VVrit. It was the opinion of the whole Court in this caſe, That the Judgement ſhould be reverſed for want of Pledges. Hill. 14 Jac. in B. R. Doctor Huſſey and Moores caſe. Bolſtr. 3 par. 175. to 181. and note, it was adjudged in that caſe, That the ſame was not helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 14.

8. The Writ de Plegiis acquietandis lieth where a man becomes Pledge or Surety of another to pay a certain ſum of money at a day certain, &c. If the

the party doth not pay it at the day, if he who becomes Surety pay the money, he shall have this VVrit against him who ought to pay the same: And it seemeth by the old Books, that this VVrit is good, although he have not a specialty to prove it. See Pasch. 43 E. 3. Fitz. br. Pledges 9.

9. Note: Where a man recovereth against the Sureties in the Country, and the Sheriff distreins them to pay the Debt where the principal is sufficient: in that case the Writ de Plegiis acquietandis lieth. But if he sueth them in the Common Pleas, where the party principal is sufficient to pay the debt; it is a Quere in Mr. Fitz. B. whether the parties may plead that, and aver that the principal Debtor is sufficient. See 19 E. 3. Brook Pledget 12. The Plaintiff ought first to have the Writ against the party; and if he be insufficient, then against the Sureties.

10. A man was bound by Lease to perform Covenants. Et ad majorem securitatem the Lessee invenit D. Fisteiusforem, ad per implead. Conventiones: and further it was in the Deed, that we, viz. the Lessee and D. Obligamur nos & utrumq; nostrum in toto & in solido; and the Præcipe was brought in the name of one of them onely, and therefore it was abated. 39 E. 3. 9. accordingly.

11. One brought a VVrit de Plegiis Acquietandis, and the Jury found that the Plaintiff was bound for the Defendant as his Surety in an Obligation with him jointly and severally; and that being impleaded, he prayed a plea, &c. and yet Judgement was given against him: for as this case is, they were both Principals, and neither pledge nor Surety for the other: and this Action lies not but where one is expresly named as Surety in the Bond; which was not so in this case. Pasch. 22 Eliz. Dyer 370.

12. Note, That in a Writ de Plegiis Acquietandis brought in the Common Pleas, it was alledged that the Plaintiff became pledge for the Defendant in London; and that by the custome there, the pledge shall be discharged without a Deed, as well as by a Deed; and shewed how that the principal had not discharged him, although he had required him so to do, but suffered the Surety to pay the Debt; and for that cause the Action was brought by the Surety against the Principal. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was good in a City or Burrough, but not in another Lordship: and in that case the Court was of opinion, That the party needeth not to shew the cause of the contract betwixt the first Creditor and the Principal, but to shew the matter which giveth the cause of Action for the pledge, viz. because he was not acquitted. Pasch. 41 E. 3. 11. Note in that case, That an Action of Debt as Surety in London without a specialty proving that he was his pledge, lieth in the Common Pleas, or Kings Bench. And see 1 E. 4. 6. accordingly. and Trin. 20 H. 6. 31. accordingly.

13. In Judicial process, if the Plaintiff be barred, non-suit, or if the Writ abate, the Plaintiff shall not be amerced, because that the process is founded upon a Judgment and Record; and therefore in a Quid Juris clamat, Scire facias, Per quæ servitia, &c. in these Actions the Plaintiff shall not find pledges, because that he shall not be amerced. See 11 H. 4. 45. 9 E. 3. 31. 18 H. 6. tit. Pledges 1. Cook. 8 par. 61 in Brechers case.

14. Some persons shall not find pledges in respect of the Dignity of their persons; so the King, and also the Queen, because she partaketh of his prerogative, shall not finde pledges. 18 E. 3. 2. Br. tit. Amercement 53. Fitz. N. B. 195.

15. So an infant shall not finde pledges, Hil. 14 Ass. 17. but when he comes to his full age, hanging the VVrit, he is then to finde pledges, or else he is to be amerced; and see against an Infant, the Entry is, Iddo in misericordia, sed pardonatur, quia infans. Cook. 8 par. 61. in Brechers case.

16. In Trover and Conversion the case was this: A. being possessed of a Hatband set with Pearls and Diamonds, pawned the same to B. for 20 l. no certain time being appointed for the redemption of it. B. being sick, in the presence of his Wife, and with his consent, delivered it to D. the Defendant; and afterwards B. made his Wife his Executrix, and died. A. tendred to the Executrix the 20 l. who refused, and afterwards demanded of D. the Hatband, who refused to deliver it unto him: whereupon he brought an Action against D. In this case three points were resolved: 1. That although there be no time appointed for the redemption of it, yet it may be well made after the death of him to whom it was pledged, but not after the death of him who pledged it; for pledging doth not make an absolute property, but it is a delivery onely until he pay, &c. So it is a Debt due to the one, and a Retainer of the thing unto the other, for which there may be a Re-demand at any time upon payment of the money: for the pledge delivered is but as a security of his money lent; so as he who borrows the money is to have again his pledge when he repays it, and his tender gives him interest therein. 2. That this delivery of the Goods by the Wife with the consent of her Husband to the Defendant, there passed no interest of them to the Defendant, but a custody onely; and therefore the Tender of the redemption ought to be to the Executrix, and not to the Defendant. 3. Resolved, when A tendred the money to the Executrix, and she refused it, it was as good as payment; and the especial property of the Goods was revested in A. again; and then when he demanded the Hatband of the Defendant, and he refused to deliver it, it was a Conversion: and Judgement was given against the Defendant. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Sir John Ratcliffe and Davies case. Cro. 2 par. 244. Rolls. 1 par. 79. the same case.

Pluralities.

See Lib. 1. Title Appropriations, Divis. 6.

Plenarty.

What shall be said Plenarty of a Church: Where it shall be by Admission and Institution, and to what intent, to what not: What makes a full Plenarty, where a bar against a common person, where against the King, and where not.

1. BY institution made by the Bishop of the Clerk presented to the Church, the Church is full as to the Spiritualties, viz. To celebrate Divine Service, To administer the Sacraments, and To instruct the Parishioners in the true Faith; and in a Quare impedit brought, Plenarty by institution is a good plea against a common person, 22 H. 6. 27. Plo. Com. 523. and yet the Incumbent is not a compleat Parson, because he wanteth the Temporalties by which he should live, which he hath not before induction; for upon the induction, the Temporalties, viz. the Glebe-Lands, Tythes, Offerings, &c. are delivered unto him. 33 H. 6. 24. accordingly.

2. A man was admitted, instituted and inducted into a Benefice of the yearly value of 8 l. Afterwards the King presented him to the Church of S. which also was a Benefice with Cure, and he was admitted and instituted; then the Archbishop of Canterbury granted him Letters of Dispensation for Pluralitie, which the King confirmed; and afterward he was inducted into the Church of S. In this case it was adjudged, That the Dispensation came too late, because it came after the institution; for it was said, that by the institution the Church plena existit, as to common persons, but not against the King; and as to the Spiritualties he was incumbent by the very institution. Mich. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4 par. 79. Digbyes case.

3. The King was Patron of the Church of D. The Incumbent being sick, A. entred a Caveat in the life of the Incumbent, viz. Caveat Episcopus ne admittat, nisi, &c. The Incumbent died. A stranger presented one M. who was admitted and instituted. Afterwards A. presented B. who was instituted and inducted. R. obtained a presentation from the King, who was instituted and inducted. The Question was in the Spiritual Court, Who had Right? For the determination of which, it was referred to a Tryal at Law: and thereupon the Lessee of R. who was the Presentee, brought an Ejectione firme. And in that case, two points were resolved by the whole Court: 1. That the Caveat was void, being entred in vita Incumbentis. 2. That the Church was full by institution against all persons but the King; and the presentation of A. of B. was void by reason of the super institution; and so the presentation of R. the Incumbant, was good. Pasch. 15 Jac. Morgan, and Glover, and Ronus case. Poph. 133.

4. Note: At the Common Law, if a stranger had presented his Clerk to the Bishop, and he had been admitted and instituted into the Church whereof a common person was then Patron, the Patron had no remedy to recover his presentment, but by a Writ of Right of Advowson, by which the Incumbant was not to be removed. And so it was, if an Usurpation had been upon an Infant, or a Feme Covert, who had an Advowson by discent, Plenarty generally was a good plea against them; and the reason was, that the Incumbent might quietly intend and imploy himself to his Spiritual charges; and also because the Law intended, that the Bishop who had cure of souls within his Dioces, would admit and institute an able man for the discharge of his duty, and his own. But yet at the Common Law, if one had usurped upon the King, and his Clerk had been admitted, instituted and inducted, the King might have removed him by a Quare impedit, and been restored to his presentation: but this mischief at the Common Law was remedied by the Statute of Westminster 2. Cap. 5. which gave Quare impedit to the party, notwithstanding such Plenarty. Dummodo Breve infra tempus semestre impetretur. But at this day the Church is not full by institution against the King, because before induction, the King may revoke and repeal his presentation; which he could not do if the Church were full of an Incumbent. Cook. Instit. 344. b. See 45 E. 3. 39. 18 Eliz. Dyer 348.

5. In a Quare impedit brought by the King against the Bishop of Winton, the case was, The Bishop did present A. to the Church, who was inducted; and afterwards A. accepted of a Plurality; by which the Church became void: and afterwards the Bishop presented B. to the Church, and the same day the Bishop died before B. was instituted and inducted: the King brought a Quare impedit against the Bishop and B. and recovered, and had a Writ to the Bishop to admit his Clerk. 24 E. 3. 31.

6. A Tenant for life of the Mannor of D. to which a Rectory, which is a Benefice with Cure, was appendant, the remainder to B. in Fee. A. presented D. who was admitted, instituted and inducted, and did not read the Articles; for which cause he was deprived at the suit of A. before the Bishop, and he appealed to the Arches, no notice being given by the Ordinary to the Patron, of the said Deprivation. A. died; the King by title of Lapse, presented E. who was admitted, instituted and inducted. D. died. B. presented G. who was admitted, instituted and inducted. E. entred into the Rectory, and took the profits. G. brought Trespass. In this case it was resolved, 1. That the Church was void presently by the Statute of 13 Eliz. without any sentence Declarative. 2. That when the King hath no title to present by any means, and he do present ratione Lapsus, that the presentment is void. 3. That in such case, although the Bishop admit, institute and induct the Incumbent, yet the Church remains void, and the rightful Patron is not put to a Quare impedit to remove such Incumbent; and if such Ordinary do collate within six moneths, and his Clerk be inducted, yet the rightful Patron is not put out of possession, but may present. 4. That although Plenarty by Collation doth not put him who hath right to present out of possession, yet Plenarty by Collation puts him who hath right to collate out of possession. Cook. 6 par. 29. Greenes case. See Cook. 6 par. 49. Boswells case accordingly.

7. The King hath title to present by Lapse, and and the Patron presents his Clerk by Usurpation, who is admitted, instituted and inducted: It was adjudged in this case, That by this Plenarty the King hath lost his presentation, and he shall not have the second presentation; and the Statute de Prerogativa Regis is to be intended, when the King hath an interest certain and permanent, and not when his interest is specially limited, and time is the substance of his Title. Cook. 7 par. 28. Barkervilles Case.

8. Note: It was resolved by the Court, That if the King hath Title to present by Lapse barre, and he doth present, and his Clerk is instituted, and dieth before induction, that he shall present again. 18 Eliz. Giles case. Cook. 9 par. 132. in Hobbs case. Like the Case where the King marrieth the Daughter which he hath in Ward, infra annos nubiles, and before the years of consent the Husband dieth, the King shall have the marriage of the Heir again, because that the first marriage was not compleated: but otherwise it is in both cases, in the case of a common person. See ibid. and see Cook. 6 par. Ambrosia Gorges case accordingly.

9. In a Quare impedit brought by the Queen, the Wife of the King, Plenarty by institution is no plea against her; for she is a person exempt from the person of the King, and shall partake of the Prerogatives of the King. Cook. 4 par. 23. in Clarke and Pennyfathers case.

10. Errour to reverse a Judgement in C. B. the Question was, Whether a double Usurpation should put the King out of possession, and put him to his Writ of Right of Advowson: it was there adjudged that he was, and now the Error was assigned in the matter of Law. It was resolved after many motions, That the King might maintain a Quare impedit; for he hath such a Privilege, that he cannot be put out of his own inheritance unless by his own Patent; and as he cannot be ousted of Land, so he cannot be of an Advowson. But Usurpation, and Plenarty upon it, shall bind him as to the possession, until he remove the Incumbent by a Quare impedit: and a second presentation shall not gain any possession, nor twenty presentations, but that he always remains seised, and in possession of the Advowson; and so it was adjudged, 38 Eliz. in Hasletts case. And although it hath been said, that in Yardleys case, 25 Eliz. it was adjudged, that the Queen was put out by a double presentation: in that case the Record doth not mention any induction upon the second presentment, so as there was not any Plenarty against the King. Yet Popham and Fenfield said, They well remembred that the case was well argued, as if there had been induction; and then the Court did not conceive, but that induction was fully pleaded; and yet resolved, that it should not bind the Queen, and gave Judgement accordingly. In the principal case the Judgement was reversed. Trin. 4 Jac. in B. R. The King and Champions case. Cro. 1 par. 123.

11. Plenarty is a spiritual thing; and therefore if it come into question, If a Church be full of an Incumbant, or not; the same shall be tryed by the Certificate of the Bishop, who best knows of the the inſtitution. See 50 E. 3. 17. and 18. But if the iſſue to be tryed be, Whether the Church be void or not void, the ſame ſhall be tryed by a Jury of twelve men at the Common Law, unleſs the iſſue be upon ſome ſpecial Act of Avoydance; for then the ſame ſhall be tryed by the Certificate of the Biſhop, ſo as the eſpecial cauſe of the Avoydance be ſpiritual.

12. Note: It was reſolved, That at the Common Law the three points were not enquireable ex Officio, in a Quare impedit, or in a Darrein preſentment; but now they are enquireable by the third Branch of the Statute of Weſtminſter 2. For in as much as the Plaintiff is to recover the value of the Church for two years, if he cannot recover his preſentment, and the value of the moyety for a year if he can, it is neceſſary for the Jury to enquire, 1. If the Church be full; 2. Of whoſe preſentment it is full; and, 3. Of the value of the Church; becauſe according to that, he ſhall recover his damages. And ſee there the reaſon given why the Tryal if the Church be full, or not, is given to the Biſhop, becauſe the inſtitution is a ſpiritual thing. But for induction, that is a notorious Act, and ſhall not be tryed by the Biſhop, but by the Jury at Law: and yet in ſome caſes a Jury ſhall enquire of the Plenarty, as in the principal caſe there; and in all other Quare impedits, one of the points enquireable is, If the Church be full, or not. Cook. 6 par. 49. in Boſwells Caſe.

Poſſeſsion.

What it is, where and what, and who ſhall be ſaid a Poſſeſſor of Lands or Goods: Where a Poſſeſſion ſhall be veſted in a man without claim, where not; and where claim made by one ſhall give Poſſeſſion to another, where not.

1. POſſeſſion is two ways; ſcilt. Actual, or poſſeſſion in Law: Actual poſſeſſion is that by which a man gains the poſſeſſion per pedis poſſeſſionem: viz. by entry in fact into Lands or Tenements, or by ſome other act, when the Lands deſcend or come unto him: Poſſeſſion in Law is, when Lands or Tenements are deſcended or come unto a man, and he hath not yet really and actually entred into them; and it is called Poſſeſſion in Law, becauſe in Judgement and the eye of the Law, he is deemed to be in poſſeſſion, in regard he is Tenant to every mans Action that will ſue concerning the ſaid Lands or Tenements. Cook. 1 par. 42. in Ratcliffs caſe.

2. Tenant in taile had iſſue two Sons, the eldeſt had iſſue a Daughter, and died; his Wife privement enſient with a Son in the life of his Father, Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion, ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of I. S. for twenty one years, and after to the heirs males of his body begotten, and to the heirs males of the body of ſuch heirs males; and preſently after the Judgement, and before Execution, the ſame day that the recovery was ſuffered, Tenant in taile died. It was a Queſtion in this caſe amongſt others, If the Reverſion was in the Recoverers preſently after the Judgement, until Execution was ſued. It was ſaid that the Recovery was executed by the Judgement preſently, and a difference was taken when Lands were in poſſeſſion, and when in Leaſe for years or life: as if a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit tantum, be levied of Land in poſſeſſion, the Conuſee hath not any thing before entry; but if it be of a Reverſion upon an Eſtate for years or life, there the Reverſion or thing which lieth in grant, ſhall paſs preſently. So if a man makes a Leaſe for years upon a Collateral Condition; the Feoffee makes a Leaſe for years again to the Feoffor; the Condition is broken: in that caſe the Law ſhall adjudge the Feoffor in of his Fee-ſimple preſently for neceſsity, and in ſuch caſe he needs not make any claim. But it was reſolved in the principal caſe, That the Reverſion was not in the Recoverers preſently by the Judgement, until Execution was ſued: and it is there laid for a Rule, That when a man may enter or claim, the Law will not adjudge him in poſſeſsion without entry or claim. Cook. 1 par. 94. and 97. Shelyes Caſe.

3. A man ſeiſed in Fee, for divers conſiderations covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his Son in taile: Proviſo, that at any time during his life with the conſent of others by Deed of Indenture to be enrolled, to revoke the ſame uſes, and to limit new uſes; and afterwards by Deed enrolled in the Chancery, he revoked the uſes in part, and limited new uſes to him and his heirs; and afterwards by another Deed he declared, that from the time of the Enrollment of the Deed in Chancery, all the firſt uſes in the firſt Indenture ſhould be void. It was in this caſe, amongſt other points, reſolved, 1. That the Fine levied before the Inrollment in Chancery, had extinct the power of Revocation; and ſuch a power of Revocation might be extinct or releaſed by any who had an Eſtate of Freehold in poſſeſsion, reverſion or remainder. 2. Reſolved, That if the Fine had not been levied, then by the Revocation, the ancient uſes were determined without entry or claim, becauſe he himſelf was Tenant for life of the Land; ſo as he could not enter upon himſelf, and claim he need not, when he himſelf is ſeiſed of the Land, and makes an expreſs act of Revocation, which is as ſtrong as a claim can be. Cook 1 par. 174. Diggs caſe.

4. A. Tenant for life, the Remainder in taile to B. the Reverſion to B. and his heirs expectant. B. levies a Fine to C and D. and the heirs of C. to the uſe of them and their heirs, and had iſſue, and died before all the proclamations paſſed: the iſſue being beyond Sea, the proclamations paſſed; afterwards the iſſue returned, and made his claim to the Remainder. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the iſſue was barred by the Fine with proclamations: and in that caſe it was reſolved, 1. That the Eſtate taile which paſſed by the Fine, was not abſolutely determined by the death of the Tenant in taile, but it was in the election of the iſſue to make it voidable or void. 2. Reſolved, That when the proclamations paſſed without entry or claim made by the iſſue upon the Land, that the right which deſcended to him was barred by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines. 3. It was reſolved, That the iſſue in taile being heir and privy, could not by any claim which he could make upon the Land, ſave the Eſtate taile which deſcended to him. Cook. 3 par. 84, 85. The Caſe of Fines.

4. Note: It was reſolved by the Juſtices, That a ſtranger of his own wrong cannot enter in the name of him who hath right, and avoid a Fine which is levied according to the Statute of 4 H. 7. without a Commandment precedent, or a conſent ſubſequent within the five years after the Fine levied. But he who hath the Reverſion, or the Lord of a Mannor, may enter in the name of his Leſſee, or of his Copyholder, as well to ſave their inheritances, as particular Tenants, becauſe they are privies in Eſtate, and that they may do without requeſt precedent, or conſent ſubſequent. See Mich. 39 Eliz. in B. R. the Lord Audleys caſe vouched in Cook. 9 par 106. in Margaret Podgers caſe; and ſee there Guardian for Notiture, or in ſocage, may enter in the name of an Infant who hath right; and the ſame ſhall veſt the Eſtate in the Infant without any commandment or aſſent, becauſe he is privy betwixt them.

Poſſeſſio

Poſſeſsio fratris.

1. What ſhall be ſaid a ſufficient poſſeſſion to make the Siſter, Uncle, &c. Heir, what not.

1. A Copyholder in Fee by licence, made a Leaſe for years: the Leſſee entred; the Copyholder having iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one woman, and a ſon by another woman, died; the eldeſt ſon died before admittance: it was adjudged in this caſe, that the Land ſhould deſcend to the daughter of the whole blood; for it was reſolved, That where cuſtomary Lands of inheritance do deſcend to the heir before admittance, he may enter and take the profits; and that there ſhall be a poſſeſſio fratris before admittance upon an Actual poſſeſſion. Mich. 24 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4 par. 22. Bowres caſe. See Mich. 8 Jac. in B.R. Eliſſe and Chapleys caſe. Roll. 1 par. 42. accordingly. See, An uſe is an Hereditament at the Common Law, and there ſhall be poſſeſſio fratris of it. Cook. 1 par. 121. Cook. 3 par. 2. in the Marqueſs of Winchesters caſe.

2. If a man maketh a Gift to one, and the heirs of his body, and he hath iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one woman, and a ſon by another woman, and the Father dieth, and the eldeſt ſon entreth, and dieth, the younger ſon ſhall inherit per formam Doni; for he claimeth as heir of the body of the Donee, and not generally as heir to his Brother: and that is the reaſon that Littleton ſaith, That Poſſeſſio fratris de feodo ſimplici facit ſororem eſſe hæredem; in which Maxime, the words are to be obſerved, 1. That the Brother ought to be in actual poſſeſſion of the Fee and Freehold, either by his own act, or by the actual poſſeſſion of another: and therefore if Land, Rent, Advowſon, deſcend to the elder Brother, and he dieth before any entry made into the Land, or receive the Rent, or preſent to the Church, the younger Brother in ſuch caſe ſhall inherit: but if the eldeſt ſon enter, and by his own act hath gained the actual poſſeſſion; or if the lands were leaſed for years, or in the hands of a Guardian, and the Leſſee or Guardian poſſeſs the lands; there the poſſeſſion of the Leſſee or Guardian doth veſt the Fee and Freehold in the elder Brother, and in ſuch caſe the Siſter ſhall inherit as heir to her Brother. Cook. 3 par. 42. in Ratcliffs caſe.

3. A man Mortgaged Lands upon Condition, That if he or his heirs repay 100 l. at ſuch a day, that he ſhall re-enter. He dies, leaving iſſue a daughter onely; his wife privement enſient with a ſon: the daughter and heir at the day pays the 100 l. and afterwards the ſon is born. It was the opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, That the Siſter ſhould retain the Land againſt the ſon born after the performance of the Condition: for ſo as much as ſhe paid the money, (and if ſhe had not paid it, the Land had been loſt) if ſhe could not retain the Land againſt the ſon, ſhe had no remedy for the money; and by payment thereof, ſhe hath gained the Land, and is in as a Purchaſor, though ſhe be entituled thereunto by the Condition, and as heir; and ſhe ſhall retain it as ſhe ſhall the perquiſite of a Villain, and as Land gained by her care and vigilancy. Mich. 3 Car. Kirtons caſe in Cur. Ward. Cro. 1 par. 61.

4. This Queſtion was in Parliament concerning the Barony of Ruthen: One being created Baron to him and his heirs, hath iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one Venter, and a ſon by a ſecond Venter, and the eldeſt ſon hath the Barony, and ſits in Parliament, and after dies without iſſue; Whether the ſecond ſon ſhall have that Dignity as heir to his Father, or the Siſter ſhall have it as Poſſeſſio fratris of Lands, &c. And the opinion of the Judges being required therein, it was by them reſolved, That there is not any Poſſeſſio fratris of a Dignity, but that it ſhall diſcend to the ſon; for the yonger ſon is Hæres natus, and the Siſter is onely Hæres factus by the poſſeſſion of her Brother of ſuch things as are in demeaſn, but not of Dignities, or the like, whereof there cannot be acquiſition of the poſſeſſion. Hill. 16 Car. the Lord Greys caſe. Cro. 1 par. 417.

5. The King purchaſeth Land, and dieth, having iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one woman, and a ſon by another woman; the eldeſt ſon entreth, and dieth without iſſue; the daughter ſhall not inherit the Land, but the younger ſon. See 34 H. 6. 34 Plow. Com. 245. accordingly.

6. If a man purchaſeth an Advowſon in Fee, and hath iſſue a ſon by one Venter, and a daughter by another, and dieth, and the ſon preſenes, and dieth without heir of his body; the daughter ſhall not have the Advowſon, but the Uncle of the ſon on the part of the Father. See 19 E. 2. Quare imp. 77.

7. If the ſon chargeth the Reverſion of Leſſee for life with a Rent-charge, and dieth, the ſon of the half blood ſhall have the Reverſion as heir to the Father, and ſhall hold it diſcharged of the Rent;

Rent; yet if he granteth the ſame Reverſion over for life or years, the ſame is a good poſſeſſio fratris, becauſe whoſoever will claim a Reverſion expectant upon a particular intereſt, ought to claim the ſame as heir of the Grantor. Cook. 3 par. 42. accordingly.

8. If a Remainder be limited to the right heirs of I. G. and he hath iſſue two ſons by divers women, and the elder hath iſſue, and dieth before the Remainder falleth, and afterwards the ſame falleth, the younger ſon ſhall have the Land, and not the ſon of the eldeſt. 7 H. 4. Profits of Court accordingly. But Br. title Done 8. makes a Queſtion of it.

2. Where entry made upon the poſſeſſion of the King, ſhall be lawful without ſuing of Livery, Petition, or Ouſter le Mayne; and where the Lord after the death of his Tenant, ſhall be in poſſeſſion of the Body of his Ward without Seiſure, where not.

1. IF the Husband ſeiſed of Lands in the right of his wife, be attainted of Felony, and the King upon Office found ſeiſeth the Land, and after grants the ſame over to another in Fee: it was holden in that caſe that the Grant of the King was good to paſs the Eſtate to the Patentee during the Coverture, which the King had gained by the forfeiture; and the reaſon was, becauſe the King was entituled by the Office found, and therefore and in that caſe the heir could not enter upon the Kings poſſeſſion, or the poſſeſſion of his Patentee, but was put to his petition; and the King had an eſtate which he might lawfully grant. But if in ſuch caſe a ſpecial Office were found, that the Husband had nothing at the time of the Attainder but in the right of his wife; in that caſe, after the death of the wife, the heir of the wife might have entred upon the Kings poſſeſſion, or the poſſeſſion of his Patentee, without ſuing any petition. See 33 Aſſ. 10. Cook. 1 par. 48. and 50. in the caſe of Altonwoods.

2. Tenant in Capite enfeoffeth one & his heirs, Provided, that when the Feoffor ſhall pay 100*l.* to him and his heirs, that then it ſhall be to the uſe of the Feoffor and his heirs: the Feoffee dieth, his heir within age, the 100*l.* is paid, and then Office is found. In that caſe it was holden, that the Feoffor ſhall have the uſe by force of the firſt Livery; and by relation it ſhall defeat the Wardſhip of the body of the Land. 22 Eliz. Dyer 363. Cook. 1 par. 133. in Chudleighs caſe.

3. A man ſeiſed of a houſe in London, deviſable by cuſtome, and holden of the King, deviſed the ſame in taile; and if the Donee died without iſſue, that the Land ſhould be ſold by his Executors: the Deviſe died without iſſue; the Land eſcheated to the King: It was holden in that caſe, that the bargain and ſale made by the Executors, ſhould deveſt the Eſtate out of the King without petition or Monſtrans de Droit. 49 E. 3. Iſabel Goodcheaps caſe, and Cook. 2 par. 53. Sir Hugh Chomleys caſe. For there the Ground is put, that when an Eſtate ſhall be deveſted out of a common perſon, and veſted in another without entry or claim, there it ſhall be deveſted out of the King without petition or Monſtrans de Droit: and ſee there that the reaſon of the caſe of 49 E. 3. was, that it was deveſted out of the King for neceſſities ſake, in reſpect that in that caſe the Executors had but a power, and could not have a petition, or Monſtrans de Droit. But it was holden, That if Lands upon Condition cometh to the King, and the Condition be broken, and the King makes a Leaſe for life, he who hath the Condition cannot enter, but ought to have a petition, or Monſtrans de Droit. And ſee in the principal caſe of Sir Hugh Chomley, that it was agreed, That although that the remainder paſſed by bargain and ſale, ſo as in Judgement of Law an uſe paſſed firſt; and although it was of a thing which lay in grant, and not in Livery, and that the words are, that by the payment of the money the Eſtate ſhall ceaſe, and be void; yet the Eſtate ſhould not be deveſted out of the Grantor without claim, for that an Eſtate of inheritance cannot determine by Condition without entry or claim. Cook. 2 par. 53, 54. Sir Hugh Chomleys caſe.

4. Note: It was reſolved by the Juſtices, 1. At the Common Law when the King was ſeiſed of any Eſtate of Freehold or inheritance by matter of Record, be it by Record Judicial, Miniſterial, or by conveyance of Record, or by matter in fact, or found by Office of Record, he who had right, could not have had any Traverſe, upon which he was to have an Ouſter le Mayne, but was put to his petition: but when the King was intituled by matter in fact, and found by Office of Record, if in the ſame Office the title or intereſt of the party was found; there, and in ſuch caſes, the party grieved at the common Law, might have had a Monſtrans de Droit, and ſhould not be put to his petition. 2. Reſolved, That when the Kings Tenant ſeiſed in Fee dieth without heir, that the Fee and Freehold is preſently in the King without Office, if the Tenant was in poſſeſſion at the time of his death. But if the heir be diſſeiſed, and dieth dieth without iſſue; or if an Alien born, or the Kings Villein be diſſeiſed, the King ſhall not be in poſſeſſion, till the poſſeſſion of the Diſſeiſor be removed. 3. Reſolved, That in all caſes at the Common Law, when the Kings title accrues to him by Judicial Record, or by Judgement of Record; there, although the King grants his Eſtate over, the party grieved was put to his petition, and to have a Scire facias againſt the Patentee. But when the King was entituled by conveyance of Record, as if the Diſſeiſor conveyed Land to the King by Fine, Deed enrolled, or the like; there, although the party was put to his petition as againſt the King, yet if the King granted the Land over, the Diſſeiſee might have entred, or have an Action againſt the Patentee, for that a Judicial Record ſhall be preferred before a conveyance of Record by conſent. Cook. 4 par. 55, 56, 57. The Wardens and Commonalty of Sadlers caſe.

5. It was reſolved, That if the King be Tenant in taile of any Gift of his Anceſtors who were Subjects, that the King upon a Fine upon Grant and Render, might bar the Eſtate taile: 1. Becauſe the King is bounden by the Statute of Donis, and the King ſhall take benefit of the Statute of 4 H. 7. which enables Tenant in taile to bar his iſſues, for otherwiſe the King ſhould be in worſe condition then any of his Subjects common perſons: and a difference was taken when the King claims in his natural capacity, as heir of the body per formam doni; for there he ſhall be bound by the Act of Parliament; and when the King claims in his politick capacity, there a general Act of Parliament ſhall not binde the King, unleſs he be named. But in the principal caſe it was ſaid, That it was neceſſary that the King grant Letters Patents to the Conuſee, that he might enter into the Land, becauſe the Fine being executory to a Grant and Render, it might be doubted if the Conuſee might enter upon the poſſeſſion of the King. Mich. 2 Jac. Cook. 7 par. 32. The caſe of Fine levied by the Kings Tenant in taile.

6. The caſe was, The King made a Gift in taile of a Park, and afterwards granted the Reverſion of the ſame over in taile; and if the Donee of the Reverſion paid 10 l. at the Exchequer for the uſe of the King, that then he ſhould have prædictam Reverſionem to him and his heirs. The Donee of the Reverſion paid the 10 l. at the Exchequer; Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion died without iſſue. In this caſe theſe points, amongſt others, were reſolved: 1. That a Grant with a Condition precedent of increaſe, might be made as well of things which lied in Grant, as of Reverſions, Rents, Commons, &c. as of things which lie in Livery. 2. Reſolved, That if he who had the Reverſion in taile, had died before the Condition performed, his heir of his body might have performed the Condition, and had Fee, for that the power ſhall diſcend to the heir as an inheritanee annexed to the Condition. 3. That if the Condition had been, that if the Donee pay 20 l. to I. S. that he ſhall have Fee, that preſently upon the payment the Fee ſhould be deveſted out of the King without Office found, Petition, or Monſtraus de Droit for neceſſity, for that otherwiſe it could not veſt. 4. That if the Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion had ſuffered a common Recovery with Voucher, that the Eſtate taile in the Reverſion had not been barred, but had been preſerved by the Statute of 34 H. 8. Cap. 20. for that when the Eſtate taile it ſelf cannot be barred, the Reverſion upon ſuch an Eſtate cannot be barred. 5. Reſolved, That if the Reverſion in the Fee had remained in the Crown, the Fine levied by Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion, ſhould not have barred the iſſue, but that he might enter by the expreſs words of the Statute of 34 H. 8. Cook. 8 par. 74. to 78. The Lord Staffords caſe.

7. Tenant in Capite died, his heir within age; the heir at full age tendred his Livery; and within the time given for the proſecution of it, bargained, and ſold part of the Lands to another in Fee, & died alſo within that time. In this caſe it was reſolved, That when the heir at full age tendred his Livery, it was as much as he could do: and then when within the time of proſecuting of it, the ſuing of it becoms impoſſible by the Act of God, the intereſt which the King had was determined by the death of the heir, and the Bargainee might enter upon the poſſeſſion of the King, and occupy the Land, without ſuing a Mouſtraus de Droit, or Ouſter le Mziue. Cook. 8 par. 173. Holes caſe.

8. The King granted the Office of Marſhalſea for life, and afterwards granted the ſame in Reverſion for 21 years: the Grantee of the Reverſion aſſigned his intereſt to A. Tenant for life made I. S. his Deputy at will, and died. A. by Deed, aſſigned the ſaid Office to I. S. and then Office was found that I. S committed divers forfeitures of his ſaid Office by ſuffering divers voluntary Eſcapes. In this caſe it was, amongſt other things, reſolved, That the King might ſeiſe the ſaid Office without ſuing a Scire facias: and in that caſe theſe differences were taken, 1. That in ſome caſes the King ſhall be in poſſeſſion by Seiſure without Office, as in the caſe of Temporalties of a Biſhop, or of a Prior Alien, becauſe the certainty appeareth in the Exchequer. 2. In ſome caſes the King ſhall be in poſſeſſion by the Office without Seiſure, as of Lands, Offices, Gard of Lands, whereof continual profit may be taken. 3. In ſome caſes the King ſhall be in poſſeſſion by the Seiſure & Office, as in caſe of Advowſon, the rightful Patron ſhall not be ouſted by a falſe Office, until the King hath preſented his Clerk, who is inſtituted and inducted: for if the King bringeth a Quare impedit in that Action, he may traverſe the Office. 4. In ſome caſes the King ſhall be in poſſeſſion without Seiſure or Office, as where the Kings Tenant dieth without heir. 5. In all caſes when a common perſon is put to his Action, there, upon Office found, the King is put to a Scire facias: but when a common perſon may enter, or ſeiſe, there an Office found without a Scire facias, ſhall be ſufficient for the King. Cook. 9 par. 96. 98. Sir George Reynells caſe.

Seiſure

Where,

3. Where, and in what caſe, the Lord ſhall be ſaid to be in poſſeſſion of a thing without actual entry or ſeiſure; and where, and what poſſeſſion ſhall take away a Diſcent to the half blood, what not.

1. IF the Lord in Mortmain, or the Lord of a Villein, claimeth a Reverſion, by the claim the Law veſteth the Reverſion in him, and he hath not means to compel the Tenant to attorn; and therefore he ſhall avow, and have an Action of Waſte without attornment. Cook. 1 par. 14. in Chomleys caſe. Cook. 6 par. 68. in Sir Maile Finches caſe accordingly.

2. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor, part of which is in leaſe for life, and part in leaſe for years, and levyeth a Fine to A. to the uſe of B. in taile, with divers remainders over: In this it was holden, That B. ſhall avow for the Rent, or have an Action of Waſte without Attornment: for when the Reverſion is ſetled in any one in Judgement of Law, and he hath no means to compel the Tenant to Attorn, and no Lacheſs or default is in him; there he ſhall avow, and have an Action of Waſte without Attornment. Cook. 6 par. 68. in Sir Maile Finches caſe.

3. In a Writ of Meſne, the plaintiff made his title by preſcription, that the Defendant and his Anceſtors had acquitted the Plaintiff and his Anceſtors, and the heir Tenants time out of minde. The Defendant took iſſue, that the Defendant and his Anceſtors had not acquitted the Plaintiff and his Anceſtors, and the heir Tenant. It was found by Verdict that the Grandfather of the Plaintiff was enfeoffed by one A. and that A. and her Anceſtors was acquitted by the Anceſtors of the Defendant time out of minde, before that time: ſince which time, no Acquital had by C. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover his Acquital; for that there was once a title by preſcription veſted, which could not be taken away by the wrongful Ceſſer to acquit of later time; and in that caſe the Law favoured the right more then the poſſeſſion. Cook. Inſtit. 114. accordingly.

4. Note: The Raviſher of a Ward by his Raviſhment gains no intereſt in the Body or Cuſtody of the Ward, nor doth the true Guardian loſe the poſſeſſion by the Raviſhment: and therefore if my Tenant by knight-ſervice dieth, his heir within age, I am preſently in the poſſeſſion of the Body

Body without Seiſure; and the Treſpaſs at Common Law, and the Writ of Raviſhment now, doth not as in other Actions renounce the property or poſſeſſion of the Ward, but onely doth puniſh the Temeraria occupatio, and gives the Plaintiff damages according to his hurt, by abuſe or marriage of the Ward: and if another take him away from the Raviſher the Ward, and marry him, the firſt Raviſher can have no remedy againſt the ſecond, but the very Guardian may have an Action againſt them both, and ſhall recover againſt them both for their ſeveral Raviſhments. By Hobart Juſtice, in Moore and Huſſeys caſe. Hob. 93.

5. If one Tenant in Common entreth into the whole Land, and claims all the Land expreſly, he cannot by this Act and Entry diſpoſſeſs his Companion; for the poſſeſſion is the ſame as well before his entry and claim, as it is after: and from hence it is, That a Coparcener or Joyntenant, or a Tenant in Common, can never be diſſeiſed by his Companions. And ſo for the ſame reaſon it is, That if one Tenant in Common doth alone bring an Action of Treſpaſs againſt a ſtranger, his Actions ſhall be abated by pleading him Tenant in Common with another, although his entry was generally and expreſly into the whole. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Smales and Dales caſe. Hob. 120.

6. If a man makes a Leaſe for years of Lands, and a ſtranger puts him out, he doth alſo diſſeiſe him in the Reverſion; but if the Leſſor himſelf putteth him out, there is no Diſſeiſin committed; and yet the Leſſee hath loſt his eſtate, and hath but a right to it: for although it be true, that when two are in poſſeſſion, the poſſeſſion is adjudged in him that hath right, for he onely poſſeſſeth, although the other be in poſſeſſion too, and taketh away the Trees, Corn, &c. yet when the true Owner is clearly put out, and removed, then he hath no longer eſtate or poſſeſſion, but right onely, and hath no election to be in poſſeſſion or not to be in poſſeſſion; and clearly then he cannot grant his Term: and if the Leſſor bring an Action of Debt for his Rent due at Michaelmas, the Leſſee ſhall plead in ſuch caſe, that he did enter upon him, and put him out, and that he continued poſſeſſion at the time; for he cannot have Rent out of that Land that he himſelf poſſeſſeth. Per Hobart Juſtice, in Sir William Elvis, and the Biſhop of York's caſe. Hob. 322.

7. If a man be attainted of Felony by Judgement, the heirs begotten after the Attainder ſhall be excluded of all manner of ſucceſſion of Heritage as well on the part of the Mother, as on the part of the Father; the reaſon is, becauſe the ſon begotten after Judgement, hath not two inheritable bloods in him; for at the time of the begetting of him, the blood of the Father was corrupted; and where the Father is attainted of Felony, the blood in reſpect of which he ſhould inherit being corrupted, the ſon hath in him but a half blood, viz. the blood of the Mother in him uncorrupted; and none can be heir, if he hath not in him both the bloods of him to whom he maketh himſelf heir. Cook. 3 par. 41, 42. in Ratcliffs caſe.

4. Where a Releaſe ſhall be void for want of poſſeſſion in him to whom the Releaſe was made; and what ſhall be ſaid a ſufficient poſſeſſion, what not.

1. IN a Præcipe if one be vouched, in that caſe having regard to the Demandant, the Vouchee is Tenant of the Land, and a Releaſe made unto him is good; but having regard to a ſtranger, he is not Tenant, and a Releaſe unto him by a ſtranger is void. Cook. 1 par. 78. in Corbetts caſe.

2. A. made a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of B. in taile, and after to the uſe of C. in Fee; Proviſo, and with liberty to revoke the uſes, and to limit new uſes if A. ſurvive I. S. and I. S. dieth without heir of his body. A. renounceth, and ſurrenders to B. and C. all the authority of Revocation; and releaſeth alſo the Proviſo, Conditions, Covenants and Agreements, as well as the ſaid power and authority, and afterwards I. S. dieth without iſſue male of his body. It was ſaid in this caſe, That an Authority which is Collateral to the right of the Land, could not be extinct by the Feoffment: and as to the Releaſe it was ſaid, That that which ſhould be releaſed was but a poſſibility, which could not be releaſed: but it was reſolved, That a Fine or a Feoffment would extinct a future power of Revocation; and if the power of Revocation had been preſent, that the ſame might be releaſed. And it was ſaid, That it might be reſembled to a Condition ſubſequent, which might be releaſed: as, If A. enfeoff B. and his heirs upon Condition, that if B. ſurvive C. that then, &c. If then A. and his aſſignes pay to B. and his heirs and aſſignes 40 l. that then he and his heirs ſhall recover; this is a Condition ſubſequent: and although the ſame cannot be performed but upon a Contingent, yet the inheritance is in him, and the ſame ſhall diſcend to his heir, and may be releaſed, and his heir by the Releaſe may be barred. Cook. 1 par. 112. Albanes caſe.

3. Note: by a fiction in Law, the Law ſuppoſeth that the Vouchee is Tenant of the Land, whereas in truth he is not; but that is as to the Demandant himſelf to enable him to do all things as to the Demandant, and which the Demandant may do to him; and therefore a Fine levyed by the Vouchee to the Demandant, or a Fine or Releaſe from the Demandant to the Vouchee, is good. So if Donee in taile maketh a Feoffment in Fee, in rei veritate, the Donee hath not neq; jus in re, neq; veritate in re, neq; ad rem; and yet in ſuch caſe the Donee may in ſuch caſe extinguiſh or diminiſh his Rent by a Releaſe or Confirmation to him. Cook. 3 par. 30. in Butler and Bakers caſe accordingly.

4. A Copyholder in Fee ſurrendred out of Court his lands to the uſe of another and his heirs upon Condition: at the next Court the ſurrender was preſented; but in the preſentment, the Conditions were omitted: he to whom the ſurrender was made being dead, the Lord did admit his Daughters to the Copyhold, and then he who ſurrendred, did releaſe unto them, and afterwards entred upon them. In that caſe it was adjudged, That his entry was lawful. And in this caſe it was reſolved, 1. That the preſentment of the ſurrender was void, becauſe it was not done in ſuch manner as the ſurrender was made; but if the Conditional ſurrender had been preſented, although the ſame had not been entred in the Roll, it was holden that the ſame ſhould have been amended. 2. It was reſolved, That he who hath a right to a Copyhold, may releaſe to another who is in by admittance of the Lord, and that ſuch releaſe is good to extinguiſh the right of the Copyholder, becauſe he to whom the releaſe is made is in by title, and by the admittance of the Lord: But if a Copyholder be diſſeiſed, a releaſe unto the Diſſeiſor in ſuch caſe is not good, becauſe he [illegible] not a cuſtomary eſtate upon which a releaſe may enure. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Cook. 4 par. 25. Kite and Queintons caſe.

5. In debt brought the caſe was, A. became Baile for the Defendant; and before Judgement, the Plaintiff did releaſe unto A. all Actions, Duties and Demands, and afterwards Judgement was given againſt the Defendant, and a Scire facias brought againſt the Baile, who pleaded the releaſe. In that caſe it was adjudged that the releaſe did not bar the Plaintiff, becauſe the releaſe was made before any Duty was due; for until the Judgement was given againſt the Defendant, no Duty was due by the Baile. Paſch. 34 Eliz. in B.R. Cook. 4 par. 71. Hoes caſe.

6. If a man maketh a leaſe for years of Lands, and before the Leſſee entreth the Leſſor dieth; yet in ſuch caſe the Leſſee may enter, becauſe the Leſſee by force of the Leaſe hath preſent right to have the Tenements by force of the Leaſe: but if a man leaſe the Lands to one for years, if the Leſſor releaſeth to his Leſſee all his right before that the Leſſee hath entred into the Land, ſuch releaſe is void in Law, becauſe the Leſſee had not poſſeſſion in the Land at the time of the releaſe made, made, but onely a right to have the ſame Lands by force of the ſame Leaſe. See Litt. ſ. 107. Cook. 5 par. 124. in Saffyns caſe.

7. A man poſſeſſed of a houſe and half Acre of land for 5000 years, by his Will deviſed the ſaid houſe and land to A. his Father for term of life; and after his deceaſe, the remainder of the ſaid houſe and land to B. Siſter of the Deviſor, and to the heirs of the body of the ſaid B. and made A. his Executor, and died. A. took upon him the execution of the Will, and entred. B. took husband. The husband and wife, at the requeſt of A. did grant, ſurrender, releaſe, aſſigne, and yeild up to A. the ſaid houſe and land, with all their right, intereſt and term in the premiſes, Habendum pro & durante reſiduo termini dicti 5000. annorum tunc venturum. A. demiſed the houſe and land to C. for forty years: the husband died: the wife took another husband. A. died. The wife and the ſecond husband entred into the houſe and land. The Queſtion was, becauſe the intire Term ſub modo was in A. the Father, If the ſaid grant and releaſe made unto the ſaid A. being in poſſeſſion of the whole term, might bar B. becauſe ſhe had but a poſſiblity, and not any intereſt or right in poſſeſſion, reverſion or remainder. In this caſe (amongſt other things) it was reſolved, I. That ſuch a poſſibility (as in the principal caſe) might be extinguiſhed by grant or releaſe to him who is in poſſeſſion. 1. Becauſe it is of a future intereſt of a Chattel, which may more eaſily be determined then a Freehold. 2. Becauſe it is a Maxime in Law, That every right, title or intereſt either is preſenti, or in futuro, by the joyning of all who may claim any ſuch right, title or intereſt, may be barred: and in this caſe both parties conſent to it, the one in releaſing, and the other in accepting of it: and therefore the right of B. in this caſe is extinct, and the intereſt of A. which was determinable by his death, is by the releaſe made abſolute during all the reſidue of the term. 3. Becauſe the whole intereſt of B. the Siſter did accrue by the Deviſe, and the aſſent of the Executor did execute it, and the death of A. was but a means to reduce the ſame into poſſeſſion; and the Law always reſpects the original act, and therefore this poſſibility may be releaſed. II. It was reſolved, That this poſſibility might be releaſed, becauſe it was a common poſſibility, and not a poſſibility remote. III. Reſolved, That when there is incertainty in the perſon, no releaſe can be made; but in this caſe the perſons were certain, and therefore the releaſe was good. Cook. 10 par. 48. Lampitts caſe.

8. The caſe in Treſpaſs was, A. deviſed Land to I. D. his baſtard-ſon, and to the heirs of his body, the remainder to R. D. his Couſen and heir, and his heirs, and deviſed the Land to E. his wife for 15 years, if ſhe lived ſo long. A. died. E. married with R. D. the heir of the Deviſor, and they two entred, and had poſſeſſion, and continued in poſſeſſion. I. D. the firſt Deviſee, releaſed to R D. all his right and intereſt in the ſaid lands; and afterwards, notwithſtanding his releaſe, he entred. The Queſtion in this caſe was, Whether R. D. be in after this eſtate determined, as Tenant at ſufferance, and what poſſeſſion he had; and whether a releaſe to him being but Tenant at ſufferance, be good to veſt the eſtate in him. It was reſolved, That he was in poſſeſſion but as Tenant at ſufferance, for in reſpect of his reverſion he had no colour to enter, and he came to the poſſeſſion by colour of a Leaſe made to the wife, which was determined before the releaſe made; ſo as he had not any title to hold the poſſeſſion but as Tenant at ſufferance. 2. This releaſe being made to him being Tenant at ſufferance, is not good to veſt any eſtate for want of privity between them; and a releaſe unto him, as to him who had the reverſion, is void, becauſe he had not any poſſeſſion; and an eſtate cannot be veſted in him in the reverſion by ſuch means. Trin. 4 Jac. in B.R. Butler and Duckmanton caſe. Cro. 2 par. 169.

More, Poſſeſsion.

1. IN Treſpaſs the caſe was, A Leſſee for years of ten Acres of Land, paying 20 s. Rent, the Leſſee is ouſted of parcel, yet he pays all the Rent to him in the Reverſion, the Leſſor having notice of the entry: the Queſtion was, Whether this protects the Reverſion, ſo as nothing is gained by the entry but the intereſt of the Leſſee, and ſhall be no Diſſeiſin. It was ſaid, It ſhall be no Diſſeiſin; and that ſo long as the particular Tenant continues his poſſeſſion, ſo long is the Reverſion in the Leſſor: for in ſuch caſe as to the Leſſor, the Leſſee ſhall be always deemed in poſſeſſion by force of the Leaſe; and the reaſon why the Leſſee ſhall be adjudged in poſſeſſion of all as to the Leſſor, is, becauſe the Leſſor cannot have notice of the alteration of the poſſeſſion; for when the Leſſee by his own act or ſufferance doth a thing in alteration of the poſſeſſion of which by common intendment the Leſſor cannot have and take notice, there the Law will not prejudice the Leſſor. 2. If it ſhould be a Diſſeiſin, a great miſchief would follow; for if a Diſcent ſhould be, it would take away the entry of the Leſſor, and yet no fault in him, becauſe in common preſumption the Leſſee always continues Tenant. It was the opinion of Coke and Houghton Juſtices, that in the principal caſe it was a Diſſeiſin; for it could not be denied but that the Leſſee was out of poſſeſſion, and then it follows of neceſſity that the Leſſor muſt be out of his poſſeſſion: and if in the principal caſe no Rent had been reſerved, then the Reverſion had been deveſted by the entry, for there had been no act done to hinder the knowledge thereof; and although the Rent reſerved be all paid, yet if he had expreſs notice thereof, the Reverſion had been deveſted. Dodd Juſtice held contrary, that it would be miſchievous if it ſhould be a Diſſeiſin. Quere. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. The Lady Platts caſe. Brownlow 1 par. 230.

2. In Debt for Rent, the Caſe was, G. S. Father of the Plaintiff, made a Leaſe for years reſerving twenty Marks Rent at two Feaſts, ſolvend. eidem G. S. & heredibus ſuis, ad Terminos prædict. and doth not ſay per æquales portiones. G. S. died; the Plaintiff his heir brought Debt for the whole twenty Marks, pretending the ſame to be all unpaid at each Feaſt, and declares that the Rent did grow due to him ut Hæres. It was reſolved in this caſe, becauſe the plaintiff entitles himſelf to this Rent as heir, but makes no title at all to himſelf in his Declaration, onely in it he ſays he is ſon and heir of G. S. the Leſſor his Father; but it is not alleadged in the Declaration, that the Action was brought by him as heir, as he ought to have done: wherefore it was holden that it was not good, for he ought to have ſhewed how he came to the reverſion; and in pleading a man ought to ſet forth how he comes to poſſeſſion, or the reverſion of a thing. Mich. 8 Jac. in B.R. Smith and Naſams caſe. Bolſtr. 1 par. 48.

3. Husband and Wife the Executrix of I. S. brought Trover and Converſion againſt I. D. for Goods of the Teſtator, and obtained a Verdict. In arreſt of Judgement it was moved, the Declaration was of a joynt poſſeſſion of goods of the Husband and Wife, and damages were given to the Husband and Wife, whereas the Goods properly belong to the wife only as Executrix. And 2. The Declaration doth not ſet forth how the wife came to the poſſeſſion of the Goods. It was reſolved, That the poſſeſſion of the Wife as Executrix, was alſo the poſſeſſion of the Husband, and ſo the damages may concern them both. 3. That it being but a poſſeſſory Action onely, it is not neceſſary to ſhew how the poſſeſſion of the Goods was gained. Mich. 23 Car. B R. Fremling and Clatterbooks caſe. Styles 48.

4. C. brought an Action upon the Statute of Winchester of Robbery againſt the Hundred of L. for being robbed of 160 l. after a Verdict againſt the Hundred. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that the Action did not lie for the party that brought, for that it appears that the money was taken out of a Port-mantle, which was carried by the Poſt-Boy, and that the Plaintiffs hand onely was upon one end of it. It was the opinion of the Court, That it was Robbery of the Plaintiff, and is all one where the ſervant is robbed in the preſence of the Maſter; for there the Goods ſhall be ſaid to be in the poſſeſſion of the Maſter. Hil. 1651. in B.R. Croſtthwayt and the Hundred of Lowdens caſe. Styles 319.

1. NOte: A remote Poſſib lity is never intended by Law; and therefore where A. was Tenant in taile, th: remainder to B in taile: B. grants all his Eſtate to C. for the life of A. this Grant is void, becauſe it is impoſſible that it ſhould take effect: and whereas in that caſe, it was objected that A. might enter into Religion, and become Profeſt, whereupon the Grantee might enter, and enjoy the Land during the natural life of A. It was reſolved, That that was a forreign poſſibility, and not probable or imaginable in Law; for a Poſſibility which makes a Remainder good, muſt be Potentia propinqua, and not Potentia remota. Cook. 2 par. 51. Sir Hugh Chomleys caſe.

2. If a Leaſe be made for life, the Remainder to the right heirs of I. S. this is good, for that by common poſſibility I. S. may die during the life of the Tenant for life; and until he die, his heirs are in him. But if at the time of the limitation of the Remainder there be no ſuch perſon as I.S. but during the life of the Tenant for life I. S. is born, and dies, the heir ſhall never take it. 2 H. 7. 13. accordingly. So likewiſe upon a Fine levied to R. he grants and renders to I. and F. his Wife, the Remainder to G. the ſon of I. in taile, the Remainder to the right heirs of I. and in truth at the time of the Fine levied, I. had not any ſon named G. but after had iſſue a ſon named G. and then died. In that caſe it was holden, that G. could not take the Remainder in taile, becauſe he was not born at the time of the Fine levied; and the Law doth not expect that he ſhall have a ſon after named G. for that is improbable, and a remote impoſſibility. 10 E. 3. 46. ibidem

3. If the Anceſtor marrieth his heir apparent within the age of conſent, and dieth, the infant being ſtill within the years of conſent, the Lord may take (if he will) the infant into his poſſeſſion; and if the infant be detained from him, he may recover him in a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward: and this is in reſpect of the Poſſibility that the infant may diſagree to the marriage: but if at the years of conſent he agree to the marriage, neither the King nor the Lord ſhall have the marriage, becauſe then it is a marriage ab initio, and there needs no other marriage. Cook. 1 par. Inſtit. 80. accordingly.

4. H. poſſeſſed of a houſe for 31 years, deviſeth the profits thereof to I. durante viduitate, and afterwards deviſeth the Term to R. and dieth. I. by the aſſent of the Executors, enters, and purchaſeth the houſe in Fee of H. who covenants that the houſe ſhall be free from all former bargains, and binds himſelf in an Obligation for performance of the Covenants. In debt brought upon the Obligation for performance of Covenants, the Plaintiff for breach aſſignes the Deviſe to I. and afterwards to R. and that after I. entring that covenanted had married O. upon which R. entred: the Queſtion was, If R. at the time of the making of the Covenant, having onely a poſſibility, the Covenant did extend unto it, or not. It was reſolved in that caſe, That the Covenant did extend to that poſſibility, and that the poſſibility for the purchaſe had eſſence, and might be forfeited. Trin. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Rot. 1974. Hamington and Rudyards caſe. Vouch in Cook. 10 par. in the end of Lampitts caſe.

5. A man ſeiſed of a Houſe and Wharf holden in Burgage, deviſed the ſame to his Wife and her heirs upon Condition, that the Wife by the advice of learned Counſel, ſhould aſſure the ſame in convenient time to certain charitable uſes, (which were indeed prohibited by the Statute of 32 H. 8.) It was reſolved in that caſe, That although the uſes were by the ſaid Act prohibited, yet if the Condition be not performed by the Wife, ſhe ſhall forfeit her Eſtate, becauſe they might have been ſetled by the advice of Counſel, and by purchaſing an Incorporation and a Licence to ſettle the Land thereupon. Cook. 1 par. 24. Porters caſe.

6. In Ejectione firme, the Caſe was, I. B. and E. his Wife, Tenants in taile of the Gift of Sir J. Foſter, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband. I. B. having iſſue by his Wife F. B. 6 E. 6. levied a Fine to the King with proclamation. The King, anno 7. of his Reign, granted the Land to F. Earl of Hunt. and his heirs. 6 Ma I.B. died, & E. enters. F. Earl of Hunt. died ſeiſed of the Reverſion, which deſcended to H. Earl of Hunt, who by Indenture betwixt him and E. reciting that E. held the Lands in taile of the Gift of Sir H. Foſter, the Remainder expectant to the right heirs of the Earl of Hunt. confirms to E. all her Eſtate, Title, &c.

Cro. Habend. & tenend. to the ſaid E. and the heirs of the body of her, and the ſaid I. B. begotten, with warranty to the ſaid E. and the heirs of her body, and the body of I. B. begotten, againſt him and his heirs. E. 29 Eliz. dies. F. enters, and hath iſſue three ſons, viz. Sir Hen. B. Sir John B. and F. B. and dies. 41 Eliz. Sir Hen. B. Covenants to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf, and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to Sir John B. his brother, and the heirs males of his body, and afterwards dies without iſſue male, his wife enſient with a daughter named Barbara, married to Wolſtan Dixy. Sir John B. died, his iſſue entred, and let to the defendant. Sir Wolſtan Dixy entred in the right of his wife, and let the lands to the plaintiff. Whether the plaintiff had any title, or not, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid for the defendant, That the Fine with proclamation had barred the eſtate taile with I. and the heirs of E. claimed; and being barred as heir of the body of his father, he can never claim that eſtate; and that by the Confirmation to E. nihil operatur to her, nor to the heirs of her body, and the body of I. B. her husband, becauſe he in the reverſion had but a poſsibility to have it after the death of I. B. without iſſue; and a poſsibility cannot be transferred over to another. On the other ſide it was ſaid, When E. entred within the five years after the death of him who levied the Fine, ſhe was abſolute Tenant in taile, and was in of her former eſtate: and although that the eſtate taile was barred by the Fine, yet the Confirmation being by Indenture, revived the eſtate taile; and by this Confirmation, he in the reverſion hath excluded himſelf to claim the land againſt his Confirmation; for he may exclude himſelf of an eſtate. And whereas it was ſaid, that the Earl of Hunt. which confirmed the eſtate of E. had but a poſsibility, that was denied, for he had it as in right of his reverſion, if his Confirmation had not barred him; and if he hath but as a poſsibility, yet that might be well transferred by Confirmation or Releaſe. The Court doubted of the caſe, and afterwards by means of the Court, that matter was compounded: but the Court inclined to be of opinion, that the Confirmation was good, and created a good eſtate in E. deſcendable to her heirs. Paſch. 11 Car. in B. R. Baker and Willis caſe. Cro. 1 par. 342, 343, 344.

7. Treſpaſs the caſe was, Sir George Manox ſeiſed of twenty Meſſuages holden in Burgage in L. deviſeable, erected a School houſe in W. in Com. F. and by his Will, 33 H. 8. deviſed thoſe Tenements to G. B. and R. A. and four others who he made his Executors, Habendum to them, their heirs & aſſignes, upon condition, that his executors and feoffees, their heirs and aſſignes, ſhould pay out of the profits of the ſaid houſes, 47 l. per annum, to certain charitable uſes, or to finde a School-maſter there, &c. and to pay to an able Clerk there to help the Children, in teaching them there, 26 s. 8 d. and if any part thereof remained undone, then he deviſed them to W. M. his ſon, and the heirs males of his body, to perform the truſts and purpoſes aforeſaid: and if he failed, then he deviſed them to the Mayor and Commonalty of L. upon the ſame Conditions, and 35 H. 8. he died. The Deviſees entred, but none of them paid the ſums. R. A. died. E. A. was his heir, and entred into his part, and performed not the truſts: the heir of Sir George Manox entred for the Condition broken. E. A. entred upon him, and purchaſed the other parts of the Deviſees, who bargained and ſold them to him upon the truſts he ſhould perform the Will of the ſaid Sir G. M. and E. A. being in poſſeſſion, a Fine ſur Releaſe was levied to him, and he died ſeiſed. Afterwards the Mayor and Commonalty entred, upon whom the heir of E. A. entred; and the Mayor and Commonalty re-entred, and made the Leaſe, upon which the Action was brought. There were three Queſtions in the caſe, 1. If it were a Condition or Limitation appointed by the Will: 2. Admitting it a Limitation, and that it may be good to the heir of Sir George M. whether ſuch Limitation may be good to the Mayor and Commonalty, being but a poſsibility: 3. Whether there being a good title to the Mayor and Commonalty, they not having entred, but ſuffered five years to paſs. And in this caſe it was reſolved, 1. That the Fine with proclamations, and the five years paſſed, hath barred the plaintiffs eſtate. 2. That it was a void Limitation to the Mayor and Commonalty, being a poſsibility upon a poſsibility. Hill. 15 Car. in B.R. The Mayor and Commonalty of London and Alſords caſe. Cro. 1 par. 417.

8. If a man hath iſſue two ſons, and is diſſeiſed, and the eldeſt ſon releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor by Deed with Warranty, and dieth without iſſue, and afterwards the father dieth: this is a lineal Warranty to the younger ſon for the poſsibility, for that the younger ſon might have enjoyed his title to the Land by the eldeſt ſon, in caſe the eldeſt ſon had ſurvived his father. Otherwiſe it is where the younger ſon deceaſeth, and dieth without iſſue; for the eldeſt ſon can by no poſsibility convey his title to the Land from the Father through the younger ſon. Cook. 1 par. Inſtit. 271.

9. A poſsibility cannot be upon a poſsibility by conſtruction of Law; and therefore if Lands be given to a man and two women, and the heirs of their two bodies begotten, they ſhall have a joynt eſtate for life, and ſeveral inheritances. 7 H. 4. 16. Cook. 1 par. Inſtit. 25.

10. A Leaſe was made to Husband and Wife for their lives, the remainder to the Executors of the ſurvivor of them: the Husband granted the term, and died. It was holden that the ſame ſhould not bar the Wife, becauſe he had but a poſſibility, and not an intereſt. Hill. 17 Eliz. in B. R. Popham adjudged.

11. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for divers years, deviſeth the profits thereof to one for life, and after his deceaſe, to another for the reſidue of the years, and dieth: the Deviſee entreth with the aſſent of the Executors; and after he in the remainder during the life of the Deviſee, aſſignes it to another; and afterwards the firſt Deviſee dieth. It was reſolved in this caſe, That although that during the life of the firſt Deviſee, the ſecond Deviſee had no eſtate that he could aſſigne over, for the Deviſe to the firſt Deviſee was upon the matter of all the term, if he ſhould ſo long live; yet the ſecond Deviſe was not void, for the poſſibility that the ſecond Deviſee might out her the firſt: but yet it was holden that the plaintiff could not in that caſe aſſigne the ſaid poſſibility over. Cook. 4 par. 66. in Fulwoods caſe.

Poſſe Comitatus.

1. A. Brought an Action of Debt againſt B. for a great ſum of money; Proceſs continued till they were outlawed, and a Capias utlagatum was awarded againſt him. The plaintiff moved the Court, that the Sheriff might be commanded to execute the Writ: whereupon the Writ was delivered to the Sheriff in the open Court. The Sheriff anſwered that he would do his endeavour to execute it; but he ſaid, that the Defendant kept his houſe ſo, that he could not come at him. It was the opinion of the Court, That in ſuch caſe the Sheriff might take with him the power of the County, and break his houſe, and take him out; and ſo they ſaid it had been adjudged in the like caſe. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Hare and Curſons caſe. Goldesbr. 79.

2. If Waſte be committed in a Cloſe or Wood ſparſim, and the Waſte be found, in that caſe the Plaintiff ſhall recover the whole Cloſe or Wood, and the treble value ſhall be recovered by Fieri facias, or by Elegit, and not by Capias, becauſe a Capias lies not upon the original: but the Sheriff may in ſuch caſe take the power of the County to ſtay the Tenant from doing of Waſte upon an Eſtrepment. Trin. 8 Jac. in C.B. Bedel, and Bedels caſe. Brownlow 1 par. 140.

Præmunire.

A Præmunire was brought for the Queen and P. againſt Doctor Matthew Dean of Chriſt-Church in Oxford, and others, becauſe they did procure the ſaid P. to be ſued in the City of Oxford before the Commiſſary there in an Action of Treſpaſs by Libel according to the Eccleſiaſtical Law: in which ſuit, P. pleaded ſon franktenement, and yet they proceed, and P. was condemned and impriſoned: the Queen after withdrew her ſuit. The Queſtion was, If the party might proceed in it. See 7 E. 4. 2. The King ſhall have Præmunire, and the party grieved his Action See Book Entries 427. In a Præmunire, the words are, ad Reſpondendum tam Domino Regi, quam A. B. and ibid. 429. Ad Reſpondendum tam Domino Regi de Contemptu, quam diſt. A. B. de Damnis. But it was the opinion of the whole Court, That if the Queens Attorney will not further proſecute for the Queen, the party cannot maintain this ſuit; for the principal matter in the Præmunire is, The Converſion, and the putting of the party out of the protection of the Queen; and the damages are but acceſſary; and then the principal being releaſed, the damages are gone: and the Court in that caſe ſaid, That the Preſidents in the Book of Entries are not to be relied upon, for there is not any Judgement upon any of the pleadings there; but they are good directions for pleadings, and ſo to be uſed, but not otherwiſe. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. Preſcription.

What perſons, and ſeiſed of what eſtates, may preſcribe, and what not: In and for what things a Preſcription, and in and for what not: What ſhall be ſaid a good Preſcription, what not; and the difference betwixt Cuſtome and Preſcription.

1. A Copyholder of certain Lands called C. parcel of a Mannor, alleadged, Quod infra Manerium prædict. talis habetur, nec non à toto tempore cujus contrarii Memoria hominum non exiſtit, talis habebatur Conſuetudo, in quod quilibi tenementes prædictorum tenturum vocat. C. had uſed to have Common in ſuch a place, parcel of the ſaid Mannor. It was reſolved in this caſe, That a Copyholder in his own name cannot preſcribe for the weakneſs and baſeneſs of his eſtate; but if he will preſcribe, he ought to preſcribe in the name of the Lord of the Mannor, viz. That the Lord of the Mannor, and all his Anceſtors, and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he had, have had Common in ſuch a place for him and his Tenants at will, &c. But when a Copyholder claimeth Common, or other profits in the ſoyle of the Lord, he cannot preſcribe in the name of the Lord, but there the Copyholder is to alleadge that within the Mannor is ſuch a Cuſtome, &c. Cook. 4 par. 31. accordingly. Gatewards caſe.

2. In Treſpaſs the Defendant pleaded that the cuſtome of the Town of S. is, That every inhabitant commorant and reſident within any ancient Meſſuage, by reaſon of his commorance and reſidence, have uſed to have Common in the place where, &c. time out of mind, for all Cattel commonable; and ſhewed, that he was an inhabitant in the Town of S. in an ancient Meſſuage there, and ſo juſtified. It was in this caſe reſolved, That the juſtification was not good, for that this preſcription to have Common ratione commorancie, was void for divers cauſes. 1. Becauſe no man can have an intereſt in any Common in reſpect of a houſe in which he hath not any intereſt, but an habitation only. 2. Every Common may be ſuſpended or extinguiſhed; but this Common is of ſuch a nature, that it cannot be extinguiſhed; for ſo ſoon as he who hath the Common removes, the new inhabitant ſhall have it. 3. That the Law gives no remedy or Action for him who claims ſuch Common by preſcription. And, 4. If ſuch Common ſhould be allowed, no Judgement could be had of Waſtes; which would be a great inconvenience. Cook. 6 par. 60. Gatewards caſe. Trin. 28 Eliz. in B.R. Coſtars and Wingfields caſe. Goab. 81. accordingly.

3. It was a Queſtion, If a Keeper of a Park for life might preſcribe in him and his Predeceſſors to have ſuch profits, appendants or incidents to his Office, or not. And it was the opinion that he was not enabled to make ſuch preſcription, becauſe he hath not any intereſt in the Office in perpetuity, nor there never was any eſtate of inheritance in the ſaid Office; and a man cannot preſcribe in the appendant, unleſs he may in the principal: and no man can preſcribe, unleſs he can ſay, that he and his Anceſtors, or Predeceſſors, ac omnes illi quorum Statum ipſe habet in tali, &c. Trin. 7 E. 6. Dyer 70. Iſhams caſe.

4. A Copyholder in Fee claimed Common of Eſtovers at all times of the year, reaſonably to be taken in the Wood and ſoyle of a ſtrange Mannor; and the preſcription was in this Mannor, viz. Quod infra Manerium, to which he is a Copyholder, talis habetur Conſuetudo, &c. Quod Quilibet cuſtumarius ejuſdem tenement. and did not ſay, Ejuſdem Manerii, &c. habuit & habere conſuevit communem tanquam pertinent ad tenementa prædict. It was adjudged by the Court to be no good preſcription. Hill. 21 Eliz. Dyer 363.

5. In an Action upon the caſe for diſturbing him of his Common, the Plaintiff declared, That A. ſeiſed of certain Lands for life, the remainder to B. in taile, to which Common was appendant, that A. and B. demiſed the Lands to him for years. It was ſaid in this caſe, that Leſſee for life cannot preſcribe; and he, and he in the remainder, cannot preſcribe together, and he in the remainder cannot have Common. It was ſaid by Popham, That the preſcription within both was well enough, for that all is but one eſtate, and the Leaſe of both. Quere, for Wray chief Juſtice conceived that the preſcription was not good. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Hauxwood and Husbands caſe. Lens 177.

6. A Preſcription to have all wild Swans, which are feræ naturæ, and not marked, nidificant and frequentant, within ſuch a River, or a Creek, is not good. So is ſuch a preſcription for a Warren in ſuch a Mannor; for although they be nidificant within the Mannor, yet he cannot have them jure privilegii, but ſo long onely as they are within ſuch place. But if the preſcription be alleadged in this manner, viz. That within ſuch a Creek there hath been time out of minde a Game of Wild Swans, not marked, nidificant, &c. and that ſuch an Abbot, and all his Predeceſſors, &c. have always uſed to have, and took to their own uſe ſome of the ſaid Wild Swans, and their Signets within the ſaid Creek: ſuch a Preſcription may be good; for albeit Swans are Royal Fowls, yet by this way a man may preſcribe in them. Cook. 7 par. 18. The caſe of Swans.

7. In an Action upon the caſe, the plaintiff declared, that A. ſeiſed of the Manor of D. did preſcribe that he had all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had in the Mannor, an uſage to have Libertatem foldagii & curſum ovium, in the Town of D. for meliore paſturatione ovium ſuorum; and that the Inhabitants of the ſaid Town every ſecond year, left their lands to lie foreſts, and preſcribed that the Tenants of the Lands within the ſaid Town might erect Hordels in their Lands with licence of the Lord of the ſaid Mannor, and not otherwiſe: and that the ſaid A. let the ſaid Mannor to the Plaintiff, and that the Defendant erected the Hordels upon his lands without licence, ſo as the profits of his Foldage was impaired by it. It was objected that the Preſcription was not good, becauſe it was againſt Law to abridge the ſubject of the profits of his own lands. But it was the opinion of the whole Court, That the Preſcription was good; for it doth not extend, but to reſtrain the Tenant to erect Hordels, and doth not extend to take away the whole intereſt of the Owner in his lands. See 5 E. 1. Preſcription 55. 1 H. 7. 24. And note, in that caſe a Preſcription is alleadged in a ſtranger, and not in a Tenant. Mich. 25 Eliz. in B. R. Punſany and Leaders caſe. Leon 14.

8. In an Action upon the caſe, the Plaintiff declared, that he was ſeiſed of an ancient Meſſuage in T. and preſcribed that he and all his Anceſtors, Owners of the ſaid Meſſuage, had uſed time out of minde, &c. to erect Hordels in aperta platea of T. juxta Meſſ. prædict. every Market-day, to make Penns there for ſheep; and for ſuch penning of ſheep, he, &c. have uſed to take divers ſums of money of ſuch perſons who would pen their ſheep there; and that the Defendant had broken down his Hordels, per quod proficium ſuum inde amiſit. It was objected, That the Declaration, and ſo the Preſcription, was not good, becauſe it is too general, viz. to erect Hordels in aperta platea, not ſhewing in whoſe lands, whether in his own lands, or in the lands of another: for although that Fiſhers in the Sea may preſcribe to ſet Stakes in the lands of others for to dry their Nets; yet that is becauſe it is pro bono publico: but the Preſcription here is onely for a private gain; which cannot be in the land of another. There were other points in the caſe: but the Court was of opinion, That the Preſcription was good; and a Market is as well for the Commonwealth as a Fiſhing. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Ferms caſe. Leon 108, 109.

9. Errour brought to reverſe a Fine levied upon a Plaint in a Writ of Covenant in Exceter: the Plaint was, Quod tenent. convent. de duobus Tenementis: and becauſe the word (Tenement) did not comprehend certainty, for that it may extend to whatſoever lieth in Tenure; the Court was of opinion that it was erroneous. 2. Errour was, becauſe that they claimed to levy a Fine by Preſcription; that alſo was not holden to be good. See 44 E. 3. 37. they of Exeter can preſcribe to have conuſans; but that ought to be by ſpecial Charter of the King, by expreſs words. And it was ſaid that it was adjudged in Banbery and Birds caſe, where a Fine levyed in Cheſter by Preſcription was reverſed; afterwards in the principal caſe the Fine was reverſed; but chiefly for the firſt Errour. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Sted and Courtneys caſe. Leon 188.

10. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in a Replevin, where the Defendant is Farmor of the Manor of F. of the poſſeſſion of St. Johns Colledge in Oxon, layed a Preſcription in him, and his Tenants and Farmors, to diſtrain for all Amerciaments in the ſaid Mannor; and ſhewed, that the Plaintiff in the Replevin was preſented by the Homage, for not repairing a houſe, being a cuſtomary Tenant, according to a pain impoſed upon him at a former Court, for which he was amerced by the Steward 10 s. and being found for the Avowant, Errour was brought, and aſſigned for Errour, that there was not any Preſcription layed in the Avowry for the Lord to amerce the Tenants: and of common right he cannot do it; for ſuch Amerciament is Extortion, and he cannot be his own Judge; and therefore he ought to enable him to diſtrain by Preſcription. 2. Here is no Offence, for a Copyholder is not bound to repair by the Common Law, if it be not by Preſcription; for he cannot have houſe-bote upon the lands as a Termor may, if it be not alleadged a Cuſtome. 3. Holden that a Steward cannot aſſeſs Amerciaments if it be not by Preſcription, but a Steward may aſſeſs Fines for Contempts in Court. Mich. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Blunt and Whitacres caſe. Leon 242.

11. Treſpaſs by the Kings Farmor for breaking a Wood, and cutting down 200 l. Loads of Wood, and carrying it away: The Defendants plead that they were Copyholders of 11 Acres of lands, parcel of the Mannor adjoyning to the ſaid Wood; and ſet forth, that within the Mannor was this Cuſtom; That every Tenant of the ſaid 11 Acres, &c. have uſed and accuſtomed per ſe, vel per ſervientes ſuas per eorum preceptum ſuccid. capere & aſportare subboscum in dict. Bosco in quo, &c. pro reparatione prædict sepium ieter prædict. Boscum; and the said 11 Acres, quandoque, eadem sepes & defensiones in decasu extiterint; and shewed, that at the time of the Trespass the Hedges were in decay, and so justified. It was said that the Prescription was not good: 1. This customary land is contiguè adjacens to the Wood; and of common right the making of the Hedges doth appertain to the Owner of the Wood: and it is no more but to take the Woods of the land of another adjoyning to my land, to make the Hedges of the land in which the Wood groweth; which cannot be a good Prescription, for it sounds in charge, and not to the profit of him who prescribes. Quere: for the Case was adjourned, and not resolved. Mich. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Leigh and Okeleys case. Leon 313.

12. In an Action upon the case, the Plaintiff declared, that L. parcel of the Mannor of E. in the County of S. was ancient Demesn of the Crown of England, and that all men and Tenants of ancient Demesn ought to be acquitted of Toll in all places within the Realm, for them, their Goods and Chattels; and that Queen Eliz. anno 19. of her Reign, commanded all Mayors, Bayliffs, &c. to permit and suffer the men and Tenants within ancient Demesn to be quit of Toll, Murage, and other exactions thorowout the whole Realm. One shewed, that he was an inhabitant of the Town of L. and such a day carried his Goods to Yarmouth in the said County; and the Defendant, not ignorant of the premises, took and carried away a Cable of the Plaintiffs Goods to his damage, &c. The Defendant pleaded by protestation, that L. was not ancient Demesn; and by protestation, that the Tenants in ancient Demesn ought not to be quit of Toll: That the Town of Yarmouth was an ancient Borough, and that they have had time out of minde an Officer called a Water-Bayly; and that time out of mind they and their Predecessors have had and taken Toll of the Tenants and Inhabitants of L. for any of their Goods brought there to merchandize with: and if it be not paid, they have used time out of minde to distrain for it by their Water-Bayly: and said, That the Plaintiff such a day brought to Yarmouth 2000 l. weight of Cable-Ropes to sell, for which there was due for Toll 6 d. for Murage 6 d. and for Tronage 4 d. and the Defendant being Water-Bayly, demanded of the plaintiff the same sums, which he refused to pay; for which he took the said Cable Nomine districtionis for the said Tronage, &c. In this case two things were objected against the Defendants plea: 1. That the Defendant hath not set forth in himself any authority to demand the Duty. 2. That the Prescription to have Toll of the Tenants in ancient Demesn, cannot be good, because it cannot have a lawful beginning; for the Tenants in ancient Demesn are quit of Toll by the common Law, and such Tenants have an inheritance in such liberties, which the King by his Grant cannot take away. To which it was answered as to the first point, That to shew the authority to demand it, is not necessary, for that the Prescription is not upon Demand to distrain, for the Officer hath not any authority to demand it, for they ought to demand it who are to take the thing demanded, and those are the Bayliffs and Burgesses; and then when their Water-Bayly doth it, it is as much as if it had been done by the Corporation. To the second point it was said, That the plea is, That the Defendant take Toll onely for those things which were brought by Sea by Merchants, and not otherwise; and Tenants in ancient Demesn are not discharged of Toll for all things, but only for such as arise out of their Tenements, and are bought for their Tenements and Families there, and their sustentations, or for the manurance of their lands: and the Defendant justified not onely for Toll, but for Tronage, which their privileges doth extend unto: and therefore the justification in this case was good: afterwards Judgement was given, Quod Querens nihil capiat per Billam: for the Justices were all clear of opinion, That the Tenants in ancient Demesn should pay Toll for their merchandizes. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Ward and Knights case. Leon 231.

13. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry pleaded, That A. was seised of a Messuage and twenty Acres of Land, and that always those, &c. have used to have Common in the place where, &c. for all their Cattel commonable in this manner, viz. If the land be sowed by the assent of the Commoner, then no Common till the Corn be mowed; and when it is mowed, then Common again till the land be sowed again by assent of the Commoners. It was said that this Prescription was against right, so as a man cannot sow his land without the leave of another. But the Court held the Prescription to be good; for by the Law of the land, the Owner of the land cannot plow the land where another hath Common: but in this case here is a benefit to each party, as well for the Owner of the land against the Commoner, as for the Commoner against the Tenant of the land, for each of them hath a qualified interest in the land. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Hawes and Mollineux case. Leon 73.

14. In an Action upon the case for not scouring a Ditch which ran betwixt the house of the Defendant, called the Bell in Maidstone, and an other man, mants, Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Errour was brought, and the Errour aſſigned was, That the Plaintiff doth preſcribe, That all the Inhabitants of the Bell, &c. had uſed to ſcoure the Gutter, &c. and it was in this form, viz. That the Defendant & omnes aliis tenuram illam prius habentes, mundare debuere, & conſuevere talem foſſatam; whereas it ought to have been, Quod ipſi & predeceſſ. ſui de tempore cujus contrarium, &c. or that ſuch a one, and his Anceſtors or Predeceſſors, whoſe Eſtate the Defendant hath, &c. 2. Becauſe the Preſcription is uncertain; for it is that All Tenants; which extendeth to Tenants in Fee, in taile, for life or years; and the Preſcription being the ground and foundation of the Action, ought to be certain. It was the opinion of the Juſtices, That the Exceptions and Errours were well aſſigned; and for theſe cauſes the Judgement was reverſed. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B.R. John Joyces caſe. Godb. 54.

15. In Treſpaſs for hunting 30 Hares, and 300 Conies in his Warren, and taking and carrying them away: the Treſpaſs was layed with a Continuando from ſuch a time to ſuch a time. The Defendant juſtified, becauſe he had Common in the place where is a Meſſuage for 240 ſheep; and that he, and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath, have uſed at ſuch time as the Common was ſur-charged with Conies, to hunt, kill, and carry away them, as to his Meſſuage appertaining: upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was the opinion of the whole Court, That the Preſcription was a void Preſcription, becauſe a man cannot make ſuch a Preſcription in the Free-Warren, or Freehold of another man. 2. Becauſe a man cannot preſcribe to hunt, kill, and carry away his Conies as pertaining to his Meſſuage. Hill. 9 Jac. in B.R. Sandford and Havels caſe. Godb. 184.

16. Note: A difference was taken between things which were in prender, and things which were in render: as if a man have Eſtovers in Woods to be taken every other year, if he omit to take them every other year, he cannot take them the third year: but of things which lie in render it is otherwiſe; and the caſe was, That one preſcribed for eight Loads of Wood to be cut and taken as appertaining to a Meſſuage. It was holden by the Court, that the Preſcription was not good; for the Preſcription ſhould be layed for Eſtovers to be imployed upon repairs of the ſaid Meſſuage, or to be ſpent in it: for a man cannot preſcribe to come and cut down my Wood, for that is as much as I who have the Freehold can do. But it was holden, That to preſcribe to have Common every other year, may be good, although he doth not ſhew what time of the year it begins: and it was ſaid, That if a man hath Common of Paſture in divers Cloſes, and parcels of Ground where he hath ſome lands of his own; there, and in all other caſes where one is to preſcribe, he need not make his title to every peece, but to ſay that he hath Common in loco in quo, &c. inter alia, and need not to ſpeek of the reſt of the Land in the reſidue of the ſaid Field, becauſe he hath Land of his own. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Brounlow 1 par. 35.

17. In Treſpaſs, the Defendant juſtified for an Amercement ſet in the Sheriffs turn: Exception was taken to it, becauſe the Defendant juſtified by vertue of a Precept to him granted, and did not ſhew at what place; and alſo he preſcribes for the Turn to be held, and doth not ſhew any or what eſtate, or before whom. It was the opinion of the Court, That a Preſcription for a Turn or a Hundred, by a Que Eſtate, was not good, becauſe a Hundred is not maynotable, but lies in grant; and he ought to have ſaid, That the King, and all they that were ſeiſed of the ſaid Hundred, have had, and from the time, &c. But a Preſcription by a Que Eſtate for a thing incident to a Mannor, is good; and the Court was of opinion that it was not good, if it were not ſhewed before whom the Turn was held. Paſch. 9 Jac. in C. B. Darney and Hardingtons caſe. Boulow 1 par. 198.

18. See Lib. 1. title Cuſtome, page 537. where it is ſaid by Coke Chief Juſtice, That one Preſcription may be pleaded againſt another, where one might ſtand with the other: as it was adjudged in Wright and Wights caſe, where the Copyholder of a Biſhip preſcribed, That all Copyholders within the Mannor had been diſcharged of Tythes; but not where one Preſcription is againſt another, as where one preſcribes to have Lights, and the other preſcribes to ſtop them. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Hughes and Keimes caſe. Godb. 183.

19. In Debt the Plaintiffs declared, that Graveſend and Milton were ancient Towns adjoyning to the River of Thames; and preſcribed, That the inhabitants of thoſe Towns have had time out of minde an ancient Paſſage from thence to London, and have uſed to make by-Laws for the Government of that Paſſage, and have provided Watermen and Rowers for the ſaid Paſſage, and to take of every Paſſenger and his Fardel 2 d. and that Queen Eliz. by her Letters Patents incorporated the inhabitants of Milton and Graveſend by the name of Portreeve, Jurats, &c. and that they had enjoyed the ſaid Ferry without interruption; and that 37 Eliz. a Conſtitution was made by them, That no Water-man ſhould ply any Fare or Paſſenger till the Barge had received ſo many of their Paſſengers by which they might receive 4 s. at the rate of 2 d. apiece; and that if the Tilt-boat, or any other Water-man received any Paſſenger before fore the Barge be ſo furniſhed, that he ſhould pay to the Portreeve, Jurats, &c. for every Paſſenger ſo received 2 d. and aſſigned the breach of the Conſtitution, that the Defendant had received ſo many Paſſengers before the Barge was furniſhed: and upon Nihil debet modo & forma, it was found for the Plaintiffs: and in this caſe, which was argued by the Juſtices in open Court, Judgement was ſtayed for theſe cauſes: 1. Becauſe by the Preſcription the Barge hath not any precedence nor pre-eminence, but equal liberty is as to all Water-men to carry what Paſſengers they could; and then, if the Preſcription was not ſuch, then it could not be made ſuch by the Grant of the Queen, or by the by-Law or Conſtitution; for this is the liberty of the Subject, which cannot be abridged, or reſtrained by them. 2. Becauſe the Inhabitants of Milton and Gravesend are incorporated by the name of Portreeve and Jurats, (Poſſeſſors of Ships) (which words are omitted) ſo as the by-Law is not made by the ſame name by which they are incorporated. 3. Becauſe the Conſtitution is not purſued; for that is, That if any Water-man carry any Paſſenger, willing to go by the Barge, that ſuch Water-man ſhall pay, &c. and it is not averred that the Paſſengers which the Defendants carried were willing to go, and be carried by the Barge. 4. Becauſe the Conſtitution is not good, becauſe it is that no Wherryman ſhall carry any Paſſenger before the Barge ſhall be full diſmiſt; and that is not good; for it may be the Barge will not paſs to London at all that Tyde; and it ought to be averred that the Barge paſſed in convenient time after it was furniſhed. The Judgement was ſtayed. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. The Mayor and Jurats of Gravesend and Edmunds caſe. Brownlow 2 par. 177, 178.

20. A Pariſhioner did preſcribe to pay the tenth part of the Corn for modus Decimandi, and for the Hay alſo that grew upon the Head-lands. It was holden by the Court, That the Preſcription was not good, becauſe the tenth part is due for the Corn. But ſuch a Preſcription for the Corn, and after-rakings, was good, with an averment that they are ſponte manus voluntarie. Mich. 2 Jac. in B. R. Parrey and Chanetrys caſe. Noy 15. Quere, for that Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Rot. 250. Eggard and Adams caſe, it was holden contrary.

21. In a Replevin for taking his Cattle in five Acres of Land, the Defendant avowed as Bayliff to I. S. and ſhewed, That I. and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate time out of minde had uſed to have Herbage and Paſturage in the ſaid five Acres when it was not ſown. It was objected that the Preſcription was not good, and that it was not like to Common, for that was a profit to be taken by the mouths of Cattel, but here the Preſcription is to have the Land it ſelf: for if a man lets the Herbage of the Land, the Land it ſelf paſſeth; and a Pracipe quod reddat lieth of Paſturage or Herbage, but not of Common. But the opinion of the whole Court was, That the Preſcription was good, for that it might have a good beginning by grant; and if it may be good by grant, it may be good by Preſcription. Paſch. 19 Jac. in C. B. Sir George Sparkes caſe. Mich. 6. and 7. See Pitt and Christ caſe. Mich. 45. accordingly.

22. A. Libelled againſt B. in the Spiritual Court for the Tythe of a Park: B. to have a Prohibition, ſhewed that he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had in the Park, had held this as a Park until 11 Eliz. at which time it was diſ-parked, and that time out of minde the Occupiers had uſed to pay to the Vicar of the Pariſh a Buck in Summer, and a Doe in Winter, in lieu and ſatisfaction of all Tythes due to the Vicar. It was ſaid that this was not a ſufficient cauſe to grant a Prohibition, becauſe now the Park is deſtroyed, and ſowed, and ſo the Preſcription failes, for that was annexed to the Park. 2. Becauſe the Tythe of Corn doth appertain to the Parſon, and not to the Vicar: and Hawkins and Collins caſe was put, where the Preſcription was to pay to the Vicar a certain thing in lieu and ſatisfaction of all Tythes due to the Parſon; and in that caſe a Prohibition was denyed. Hill. 18 Jac. in C. B. Rot. 641. Reynolds and Poules caſe. Mich. 1. and 44. Eliz. 57. the ſame caſe.

23. In a Prohibition the Plaintiff declared, that for ten years together he held and occupied 100 Acres of Land, and ten Acres of Wood lying within the bounds of the Pariſh of S. in a Park there called Sugar Park, and that he, and all the Occupiers of the ſaid Park, time out of minde have uſed to pay to the Parſon of S. yearly 4 l. in full ſatisfaction and diſcharge of all Tythes of the ſaid grounds; which 4 l. the Parſon had accepted. It being found for the Plaintiff, it was moved in ſtay of Judgement, becauſe it was not layed to be antiquus Parcus. See 6 E. 6. Dyer. Ilchester caſe. 2. The Preſcription was layed in the Occupiers, not in the Owners, nor by way of cuſtome in the place. It was reſolved by the Court, That this was no matter of intereſt and inheritance, but in point of diſcharge; and the Preſcription amounts to this, That the Occupiers or Pariſhioners have been time out of minde diſcharged of all Tythes by payment of 4 l. per annum: for every Modus Decimandi is a diſcharge of the natural Tythe, and ſo works by way of diſcharge. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Shelton and Montagues caſe. Hob. 116.

24. In Treſpaſs the Plaintiff declared that the Defendant entred his Land, and did cut down and carry away two Loads of Graſs in the Plaintiffs ſoyle, ſoyle, in a certain place of ground in which the Treſpaſs was ſuppoſed to be done, to ſtrow the Floor of the Church, and did not ſay that it is the ſame Treſpaſs. It was holden Errour: but the Court was clear of opinion, That the Preſcription for cutting of Graſs to ſtrow the Church was good, becauſe it was but in the nature of an Eaſement. It was objected in that caſe, That the Inhabitants of a Town might preſcribe to have an Eaſement over the Freehold, or in the Freehold of a ſtranger, but not a profit apprender: but becauſe the Plaintiffs Land lay near to the Church, the Court conceived the ſame to be but an Eaſement, and the Preſcription good. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Bonds caſe. Mayſh 17.

25. Note: It was holden per Curiam, that a Preſcription to have Common for all his Cattel commonable, is not good; for thereby he may put in as many Beaſts as he will: but a Preſcription to have Common for his Cattel commonable, levant and couchant, is a good Preſcription: and ſo it was adjudged in Sayes caſe. Paſch. 17 Car. Mayſh 83.

26. In a Quo Warranto he claimes liberty of free Warren in R. The Defendant pleaded that he was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of R. whereof the place R. was parcel; and that he, and all his Anceſtors, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he hath in the ſaid Mannor, have had time, &c. liberty of free Warren in all the ſaid Mannor, and within the Demeaſns thereof, Ita quod nullus fugabit any Game of Warren within the ſaid Mannor and Demeans thereof, ſine licentia of the Defendant; and iſſue being taken that he had not free Warren within the ſaid Mannor and Demeans thereof, it was found for the Defendant. It was moved that the plea was not good to preſcribe to have Warren in the ſaid Mannor, and the Demeaſns of the Mannor: for although a man may preſcribe to have it in his own Demeaſns, yet he cannot preſcribe to have it in the Lands of others as Freeholders, nor ought he preſcribe to have it pertaining to his Mannor. See 5 Aſſi. 5. It was reſolved, That a Preſcription to have free Warren in his Mannor is good, as well in the Lands of the Freeholders, as in the Demeaſns; for being by Preſcription, it is intended that this liberty was before the Creation of the Freeholders, whoſe Eſtates were extracted out of the Demeaſns after the beginning of this Preſcription. Quere, the caſe was not reſolved. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. The King and Sherringtons caſe. Cro. 1 par. 217.

27. In Action upon the caſe, the Plaintiff declared that he was Leſſee for years of a Cloſe in St. Martyns, and the Defendant was Occupier of another Cloſe there, called the Yard, near adjoyning to the ſaid Cloſe of the Plaintiff; and ſaid, That in the ſaid Pariſh there was a cuſtome, Quod omnes Occupatores of ſuch a Cloſe of the Plaintiffs, time out of minde had, and uſed to have, for them and their ſervants, quandam viam, tam pedeſtrem quam equeſtrem, at all times of the year, for all Carts and Carriages from the Plaintiffs Cloſe, in vel ultra the Yard, ad vel in a place called the Leyſtall in St. Martins, & ſic retroſum, from the Leyſtall in vel ultra the Cloſe called the Yard, to the Plaintiffs Cloſe; and alleadged that the Defendant ſuch a day and year erected a houſe ex tranſverſo viæ prædict. that he might not uſe his way: being found for the Plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of Judgement, That ſuch a cuſtome within a Pariſh alleadged for an Occupier of ſuch a Cloſe to have a Way, &c. is not good; but he ought to preſcribe in him who hath the inheritance; and a Cuſtome in a Pariſh cannot be applyed to a Cloſe in a Pariſh: and of that opinion was the whole Court. And it was holden by all the Juſtices, That Inhabitants may alleadge a Preſcription for a Way to a Church or Market, being matter of neceſſity, or in matters of diſcharge, as a Modus Decimandi; but not in matter of profit, or charge in another ſuit. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 13 Car. in B. R. Bakers and Breremans caſe. Cro. 1 par. 302.

28. Errour to reverſe a Judgement in C. B. in an Action upon the caſe, where the Plaintiff declared, that A. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of F. and that he and his Anceſtors time whereof, &c. had a Fold-Courſe for his and their ſheep, not exceeding 300. in 70 Acres of Land in F. every year, from 14 days after the Corn was carried away, to continue to our Lady-day, when the Lands not ſown again; and that he let to the Plaintiff 75 Acres, parcel of the Mannor, with the Fold-courſe for five years, and the Defendant diſturbed him of his Fold-courſe. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, That there is a Cuſtom within the ſaid Town, That any one may encloſe any part of his Lands lying in the Common Fields, and therefore he encloſed his Lands: it was thereupon demurred. It was adjudged that the bar was not good, becauſe he doth not traverſe the Preſcription in the Declaration: and he cannot plead a preſcription againſt a preſcription, but he ought to anſwer the preſcription alleadged in the Declaration. It was moved that the Declaration was not good, becauſe a Foldage being appurtenant to a Mannor, cannot be divided and annexed to part of it: but that Exception was over-ruled; for being in the nature of a Common certain, it might be divided and annext to parcel of the Mannor. The Judgement was affirmed. Mich. 6 Car. in B. R. Spooner and Days caſe Cro. 1 par. 312.

29. Treſpaſs for cutting down of Trees, the Defendant juſtifies by Preſcription to have Eſtovers, for that he was ſeiſed of a Houſe and Land in Fee, and preſcribed to have Eſtovers for the repairing of the ſame houſe, or for the building of a new houſe upon the ſame Land: upon which it was demurred, becauſe it was no good Preſcription; for it ought to be reaſonable and uſual, which is to repair ancient houſes, but not to build new. But all the Court held that it was a good Preſcription, for that a man may grant ſuch Eſtovers at this day; and by the ſame reaſon there may be a Preſcription for them. Paſch. 2 Jac. in B. R. The Counteſs of Arundel and Sterres caſe, Cro. 2 par. 25.

30. Treſpaſs for taking and carrying away 30 Loads of Thorns in a place called the Common Waſte, the Defendant ſaid that he was ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage and three Acres of Land, &c. and that he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate, &c. have uſed time out of minde, &c. to cut down, and take omnes ſpinas creſcentes upon the ſaid place, to expend in the ſaid houſe, or about the ſaid Lands, as pertaining to the ſaid houſe and Lands. The Plaintiff ſhewed that I. S. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of C. whereof, &c. and granted licence to him to take the Thorns, and thereupon he cut them, and carried them away. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the Lord might not cut down any Thorns, nor licence any other to cut them; for that this Preſcription excludes the Lord: but if he had claimed Common of Eſtovers onely, then if the Lord had firſt cut down the Thorns, the Commoner might not take them: and in this caſe it was ſaid, That it was reſolved in Kenricks caſe, That one may preſcribe to have the ſole Paſturage in ſuch a place from ſuch a time to ſuch a time againſt the Owner of the ſoyle who ſhall not meddle therewith during the term. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Dowglas and Kendals caſe. Cro. 2 par. 256.

31. In an Action upon the caſe for laying of Loggs in the High-way, whereby the Way was ſtreightned, and the Plaintiff riding upon the Way, ſtumbled upon the Logs, and much hurt him: the Defendant did preſcribe, that the inhabitants of ſuch a Town time out of mind had uſed to lay Loggs in waſte places of the Way before their houſes and doors for their fuel, leaving ſufficient paſſage for Carts, horſe and foot; and that the Plaintiff riding improvidently upon the Way, turned his horſe upon the Blocks and Loggs, and ſo fell. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the Plaintiff having a ſpecial damage, that the Action did lie, although the Nuſance was a common Nuſance, and that a Preſcription to make a Nuſance was not good. See Cook 5 par. 71. in Williams caſe. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Fowler and Sanders caſe. Cro. 2 par. 416.

32. In Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe, and depaſturing it with equis, bobus, & vaccis, with a Continuando from 8 Maii to 25 Junii, the defendant pleaded that the place where was 1000 Acres of Land, and that he was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of S. & he, & all whoſe Eſtate, &c. have had time whereof, &c. Paſture there for two Gueldings every year from the firſt of May, until the Graſs there grown be cut and made into Hay, as to his Mannor appertaining; and juſtifies the putting in of the two Gueldings to uſe the Paſturage, and their continuance there till 20 June, anno ſupradict. It was ſaid, That this Preſcription was not good to claim it in the name of Paſturage; alſo he claims it appertaining to the Mannor, and doth not ſay that the Gueldings were levant and couchant; alſo it is unreaſonable to have Gueldings go in ſtanding Graſs. It was the opinion of the Court, That being in ſo great a quantity of Land, the going of two Gueldings cannot defoule it, and that it might be claimed by the name of Paſturage, without averment that they were levant and couchant: but becauſe the Treſpaſs is layed with a continuando from 8 Maii to 25 Junii, and he juſtifies onely to 20 Junii, and anſwers nothing to the four days; and becauſe it was laid to be with equis, bobus & vaccis; and he juſtifies for two Gueldings onely, and anſwers nothing to the bobus & vaccis: for theſe incureable faults in pleading, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Sir John Thorneil and Laſſells caſe. Cro. 2 par. 27.

33. In an Action upon the caſe, the Plaintiff declared that he was poſſeſſed of a Cloſe in W. called Green Cloſe, and B. was poſſeſſed likewiſe of another Cloſe there, called white Cloſe, and that omnes poſſeſſores of the Defendants Cloſe time out of mind uſed to make the Fences, and the River of Avon which runs betwixt the ſaid Cloſes, ſo as the plaintiffs Cattel ſhould not come into the Defendants Cloſe; and ſhewed that for want of fencing, the plaintiffs Cattel went out of his own Cloſe into the Defendants Cloſe, and from thence into the Cloſe of I. D. who ſued and recovered againſt him in Treſpaſs. Upon Not guilty it was found for the plaintiff. It was objected, that 29 E. 3. and the Book of Entries 140. are, That a Preſcription, Quod omnes terram tenentes uſed to incloſe, was a good Preſcription: but it was reſolved in the principal caſe, That Omnes terram poſſeſſores, was not a good Preſcription; for that may be for years, or at will, and none may charge for matter of profit; but he ought to preſcribe in a Tenant of the Freehold, or in him that hath the inheritance: and the Court ſaid, that there was a difference between Terram tenentes, & poſſeſſores: for the firſt implyed a Fee-ſimple, becauſe it is alledged reparare debet & ſolet; but not the laſt. Hill. 20 Jac. in B. R. Holbech and Warners caſe. Cro. 2 par. 665.

34. A Preſcription that the Pariſhioners ſhall eat their Graſs, and make it into Cocks, and ſet out the tenth Cock for the Parſon, was adjudged a good preſcription and bar againſt the Parſon who ſueth for tythes of after-paſture, or for tythe of the ſecond Verture. Paſch. 4 Jac. in B. R. Green and Auſtens caſe. Cro. 2 par. 116.

35. In a prohibition the ſurmiſe was, that the Abbot of B. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Rectory of N. which was appropriate to the Abby time out of minde, and was ſeiſed in Fee of a Cloſe M. in G. in the pariſh of N. and had the ſaid Cloſe, and took the profits thereof in the right of all tythes within the Hamlet of G. The Defendant pleaded that the Abbot was ſeiſed of that Cloſe as parcel of ſuch a Farm, and traverſed that he took the profits thereof in lieu of tythes in the ſaid Hamlet. It was found for the plaintiff; and it was moved in ſtay of Judgement, that the ſurmiſe was not good; for he ſhewing that he was ſeiſed in Fee, it ſhall be as parcel of his Glebe, and cannot be in recompence of tythes: but he ought to have ſhewed that it was given in ancient time in recompence of tythes, or that he and his predeceſſors time out of minde, &c. had the Occupation of that Cloſe, and took the profits thereof in lieu of tythes. But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court; for it is a better form to ſay, that he was ſeiſed in Fee; for it is ſo ancient, that it cannot be ſhewn when, or by whom it was given. It was adjudged for the plaintiff. Mich. 16 Jac. in B. R. Moore and Batlocks caſe. Cro. 2 par. 57.

36. The Lord of the Mannor of P. did preſcribe that he, and all his Anceſtors, and all thoſe, &c. in the ſaid Mannor have had a Court-Baron there from three weeks to three weeks before his Steward; where it had been uſed to enquire and preſent all Treſpaſſes in the common Fields of the ſaid Mannor, and to puniſh them by amercement: and that at a Court holden before I. S. his Steward, it was preſented that the Defendant committed a Treſpaſs in the common Fields, for which he was amerced 10 s. for which an Action was brought. Upon Non debet found for the plaintiff, it was moved in arreſt of Judgement, that the preſcription to have a Court-Baron before his Steward was not good: and of that opinion was the whole Court; for it ought to be Coram Stallatoribus. But the Court was of opinion, That peradventure he might have preſcribed to have a Court to be holden before his Steward, but not a Court-Baron: the Judgement was arreſted. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Sir William Armys and Appletofts caſe. Cro. 2 par. 582.

37. In an Action upon the caſe, the plaintiff ſhewed, that he was ſeiſed of an ancient Meſſuage and Lands to the ſame belonging in P. and that within the Pariſh-Church of P. time out of mind there was, and yet is, a little Chappel in the North part of the Chancel, called the Parſons Chancel, and that the plaintiff, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtates, &c. have uſed to repair and ſuſtain the ſaid Chancel, and have uſed for him and his family to ſit in the ſeats of the ſaid Chancel, and to bury there the perſons dying in the ſaid Meſſuage, and that none other during all the ſaid time without their licence have uſed to ſit there, or to be buried there; and that the Defendants premiſſorum non ignari, malitioſe impediverunt him to enter & ſit in the ſaid ſeats. The Defendants pleaded that the Earl of Northumberland was ſeiſed in Fee of the Honour of P. and that the ſaid Chappel was parcel of the ſaid Honour; and that the Defendants being ſervants of the ſaid Earl, and reſident within the ſaid Honour, did divers times in the time of Divine Service ſit in the ſeats of the ſaid Chancel by the command of the Earl: upon which plea it was demurred in Law. Exception (amongſt other things) was taken to the Declaration, becauſe he preſcribes to have that liberty appertaining to his houſe, and doth not ſhew that it is an ancient houſe, for otherwiſe he cannot preſcribe thereunto. And, 2. It was ſaid that the Allegation of the diſturbance was ill, without alleadging a ſpecial diſturbance how he was diſturbed. But the opinion of the Court was againſt both the Exceptions: as to the firſt, there is a difference when one preſcribes to have an Office, and the profits thereunto, there he ought to ſhew it to be an ancient Office; but when it is ſuppoſed that he is ſeiſed in Fee of a capital Meſſuage, and time, &c. it is therein included, that it is an ancient Meſſuage, and ſo might have ſuch a priviledge: and for the ſecond, it is ſufficient to alledge a general diſturbance, as it is uſual in caſe of a Fayr or Market; and Sir John Harveys caſe was vouched, where he preſcribed to have to his Mannor of R. a burying place, and ſeats in the Church of H. and the preſcription adjudged good; where for a diſturbance to bury he brought his Action. Trin. 18 Jac. in B. R. Dawney and Dees caſe. Cro. 2 par. 607, 606.

38. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of Timber-tree, the Queſtion was, If a Copyholder for life might preſcribe to cut down Timber-trees growing upon his Copyhold: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That ſuch a preſcription was void, becauſe it was a preſcription againſt Reaſon: but by way of uſage for reparation of his Copyhold, it was holden that a Copyholder might cut Timber-trees: and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in Lutterell and Woods caſe, in the Com. Pleas, and 21 E. 4. 29. uſage and cuſtome to turn their Plow upon the Head-land not ſowed with corn, corn, is good; but it is there ſaid that a preſcription againſt Reaſon is not good; 2d, that none ſhall put his Cattel into his land before the Lord do put his Cattel in the ſame, is void; for if the Lord will never put in his Cattel, the Tenants by this ſhall loſe the profits of their own Lands. See Litt. 46. 5 *H.*7.9. and 10. 22 *E.*4.8. It was adjudged in the principal caſe to be a void preſcription. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. the Earl of Northumberland and Wheelers caſe. Bolſtr. 1 par. 153.

39. A man preſcribed to have Pot-water out of a River, and the Jury found that he ought to have it paying 6 d. yearly. It was adjudged that he had failed in his preſcription; and it was holden in that caſe, that if he doth not pay the money, that the ter-tenant might diſturb him in taking the Pot-water; which is all the remedy which he hath. Cook. 5 par. 78. Greys caſe.

40. Note: There is a difference betwixt Cuſtome, Preſcription and Uſage, viz. Cuſtome and Preſcription are in the Right, but Uſage is in poſſeſſion: Cuſtome is properly applyed to a place certain, as to a Country, Town, Hundred, and runs with the Land, as Gavelkind: preſcription hath reſpect to a perſon certain, which by intendment may have continuance for ever: Uſage differs from them both, for it may be made particular, as to a Hundred, and perſons which may not have continuance for ever, as to inhabitants of a Town to have a Way: Tenant for life cannot preſcribe, yet he ſhall have benefit of an Uſage.

41. In a Quo Warranto, for that the Defendant without warrant within the Foreſt of N. within the Manor of C. had a park conſiſting of 100 Acres of paſture, 100 Acres of Wood within his park, and killed the Kings Deer coming into the ſaid park: the Defendant pleaded that his Grandfather was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage, 100 Acres of Land, 200 Acres of Meadow, 300 Acres of paſture, and 100 Acres of Wood in C. called the Mannor of C. within the bounds of the Foreſt; and that he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtates he had in the ſaid Lands, have held and had the ſaid 100 Acres of paſture, &c. incloſed, with all the Franchiſes and Liberties of a Park, and have kept Deer there, and have uſed ad venandum, fugandum, accidendum, capiend. & aſportand amues & omnimodas damas in eodem parc. de tempore in tempori exiſtentes. Et quod Nullas Forreſtarias Domini Regi pradict. Foreſta, vel aliqui alii perſonæ intromittander ad fugandum venandum in pradict. parco ſine licentia of his ſaid Grandfather, and that the ſaid park and Lands was come to the Defendant in tailo: the point in Law was, If the Defendant can preſcribe to have a park in the Kings Foreſt in ſuch manner as he pretendeth; for the Foreſt of the King is priviledged for wild beaſts to reſt in; and it is contrary to the nature of his Royal priviledge and Franchiſe of his Foreſt, to have his wild beaſts deſtroyed. The Court inclined to opinion, That a Subject may have a park within a Foreſt by preſcription or grant, but then it ought to be ſo incloſed, that the beaſts of the Foreſt enter not into the park: which if it be not ſo done, it is a forfeiture of the liberty of the park: but they conceived that this power of killing the Kings Deer which wandred into the ſaid park out of the Foreſt, was not good; for in this caſe it is claimed he may not enter into the park ad venandum, fugandum, and cechaſe them; which they may do in the Lands of any other Subjects lying within the Foreſt. Quere of the preſcription, for it was not reſolved. The King and Sir John Byrons caſe. Bridgeman 23, 24, 25.

Preſentation.

OR,

Preſentment to Churches and other Livings.

1. Preſentation, What it is; and the difference between it, and Collation, and Nomination; and where a Preſentment ſhall be good, and by whom, and where not; and the form of a Preſentation.

PReſentment, or Preſentation to a Church or other Living is, where any man, who hath title to give any Benefice Spiritual, nameth the Perſon to the Biſhop to whom he will give it, and ſuits a Writing to the Biſhop for him: Or, Preſentation is the Nomination of a fit or able Perſon to the Biſhop or Ordinary of the Diocels where the Church is, to be admitted and inſtituted by him to the Church which is void. Nomination and Preſentation are upon the matter all one; for he who hath the Nomination of the Church ſhall be accounted the Patron, and have a Quare Impedit Preſentare ad Eccleſiam. Ve. 14.H.4 11.17.E.3.64.Ve Lib.1. Title Advowſon. Diviſio.6.Sect.3,4,5,& 6.

2. If an Abbot hath the Preſentation, and another hath the Nomination, and the Abby is ſurrendred to the King, he that hath the Nomination ſhall have all, and ſhall be ſaid the Patron; in that it ſhall be ſaid to be an undecent thing that the King ſhall nominate to a Subject in ſuch a Caſe. ve. 1. Car. in B. R. in Dickenſon and *Greenhawes Caſe. Poph.*158.

3 Now the form of a Preſentation runs uſually in this manner, viz. Reverendiſſimo in Chriſto Patri, & Domino, Domino W. permiſſione divina Eboracenſi Archi-Epiſcopo, Angliæ Primati & Metropolitano, ejuſve in abſentia vicario ſuo in rebus ſpiritualibus generali. Pranobili T. S. Baro de P. & inhabitatus Patronus Rectoria Eccleſia Parochialis de H. ſalutem in Domino ſempiternam. Ad Eccleſiam Parochialem de H. prædict' veſtra Diœceſis nuda per mortem T. A. ultimi Incumbentis ibidem vacantem, & ad meam Præſentationem pleno jam ſpectantem, Dilectum mihi in Chriſto T. H. Sacræ Theologiæ Profeſſorem Paternitati veſtræ præſento (or Commendo) humiliter ſupplicans, ut prefatum T. H. ad dictam Eccleſiam admittere, inſumque in Rectorem ejuſdem Eccleſia inſtituti & induci facere cum ſuis juribus & pertinentiis univerſis, ceteraque omnia & ſingula peragere & ad implere in hac parte qua ad veſtrum munus Epiſcopale pertinere videbuntur dignemini cum favore. In cujus rei Teſt. &c.

4. One hath the Nomination to an Adwowſon, and another the Preſentation; if he name his Clerk, and he who ſhould preſent, preſents another Clerk to the Biſhop; he that hath the Nomination ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat ipſum præſentare, although he hath but the Nomination; for that otherwiſe he ſhould be without remedy. And upon the ſame reaſon it is, That upon a diſturbance to one to preſent to a Priory or Chauntry donative of the King, or a Biſhop, or the like, a Quare Impedit lieth, and the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat ipſum præſentare; and yet thoſe words are not proper in ſuch Caſes; but the reaſon is, becauſe there is no other Writ by which the party might have right done unto him; and rather then he ſhall be without remedy, the Law permits that Writ to be uſed. *Ve.*F B.33. &c.

5. B. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Ordinary, and C. the Incumbent, who was in of the Preſentation of the Queen; upon pleading there was a Demurrer, and before the ſame was diſcuſſed B. was outlawed at the Suit of J. S. in an action of Debt; then C. reſigned his Benefice, and the Queen preſented him again, whereupon he was Inſtituted and Inducted: Then B. brought a Writ of Errour in the Kings Bench, and reverſed the Outlawry; and now he brought his Scire facias, to execute the firſt Judgment againſt C. who pleaded all this matter in Barre: It was in this Caſe much inſiſted upon, that the Preſentee by his Outlawry had forfeited his Preſentation to the Queen, and that being once veſted in her could not be reverſed. But the opinion of the Court was, That in regard the Defendants reſignation was by practiſe, that this his reſignation ſhould extort the Execution from the Plaintiff; but that by reverſal of the Outlawrie, the Plaintiff ſhould have his Preſentation again: Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. M.31.Ely in Ca.1.B. Beverley & Cornwallis Caſe. *Goldesbr.*104.105. *Ve. Leon.*63. the ſame Caſe, but not there adjudged.

6. The Vicaridge of T. in the County of S. came to the Queen by Lapſe: The Ordinary of the Diocels collated A. to the Vicaridg Afterwards the Queen preſented B. who brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop and the Incumbent, depending with ſuit: A. procured by covin and fraud a Preſentation from the Queen, without making mention of the pleaſure of the Queen to reverſe the firſt Preſentation it was the opinion of the Juſtices, That in regard of the covin and fraud, the ſecond Preſentation was not good; but if it had not been for the covin, the ſecond Preſentation had been good in Law, and been the revocation of the firſt. 17. Eliz. Dyer 339.

7. The King had title to preſent to a Church by reaſon of Wardſhip; the King Preſented under the Great Seal, and His Clerk was Admitted, Inveſted, and Inducted; and afterwards He Preſented another under the Seal of the Court of Wards, who brought a Quare Impedit; and whether the firſt Clerk Preſented ſhould be removed, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged that the firſt Preſentation was good; for that a Preſentation by him under any of his Seals was good; and the Court held, That the Quare Impedit did not lie. And in this Caſe it was holden, That a Preſentation under the Great Seal, to a Church parcel of the Dutchie of Lancaſter, was good: Alſo the King may Preſent by Word if the Ordinary be preſent; for that a Preſentment is but a Commandment to the Biſhop. 8. The Caſe was, A. and B. his Wife preſented to a Church, to which they had no right; the Husband died; the Queſtion was, Whether the Preſentation did gain any thing to the Wife? It was holden by the Juſtices, That it did not; for that the Preſentation was but a Commendation only, and the act of the Husband only, and it was not like an Entry into Land. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. 2. Who may Preſent to Benefices with Cure, who not; and what Perſons are capable of ſuch Preſentations, what not: For what cauſes the Ordinary may refuſe the Party Preſented, for what not: Of Preſentation for Lapſe; and by whom, and where, after the ſix moneths incurred, the Patron may Preſent, where not.

1. AN Alien born ſhall not Preſent in his own right; but if he purchaſeth an Advowſon, and the Church doth become void, after office found that he is an Alien born, the King ſhall preſent: But an Infant under age may preſent in his own name and right; and if he doth not Preſent within ſix moneths after the Church ſhall fall void, Lacheſs ſhall come upon him. 8 E. 4. 4. 9 H. 6. 5. 17 E. 4. 9. 33 E. 3. Quare Imp. 46.

2. A Feme Covert cannot Preſent by her ſelf; but her husband ſhall preſent; and he may Preſent either in his own name without naming the Wife, or in his and his Wifes name. 31 E. 5. Quare Imp. 146. 3 H. 7. 14. But the Wife of the King is a Perſon ſole, and exempt from the Perſon of the King, and ſhe is of ability to preſent unto any Church or Advowſon; and in a Quare Impedit brought by her Plenary by Inſtitution of another, is no good barr againſt her, no more then it is in the Caſe of the King. 18 E. 3. 32. 24 E. 3. 35. acc.

3. If a Villain purchaſe an Advowſon, and the Church doth become void, the Lord ſhall preſent; for upon ſuch purchaſe the Lord may come and claim the inheritance of the Advowſon; and upon that claim the Intereſt of the Advowſon ſhall be veſted in the Lord; and upon the Avoydance the Lord in his own name and right ſhall preſent; But if the Lord of a Manor to which an Advowſon is appendant, or ſeiſed of an Advowſon in groſs. It was holden in that Caſe, M. 8. Jac. in Co. in Walters Caſe; That the ſame is no Enfranchiſement or Manumiſſion of the Villain: and ſo it was ſaid, That if the Leſſor doth Preſent his Leſſee for years to an Avoydance, the ſame is no ſurrender of his Term, although that the Leſſee accepteth the Preſentment. See Eliz. in Co. B. Topſells Caſe. Godbt. 173.

4. Guardian in Socage ſhall not preſent to an Avoydance of a Church in the name and right of the Heir, becauſe he cannot account for the Avoydance, for that he cannot make any profit of it; for that would be Simony, and ſo make his Preſentment void. 8 E. 2. 5. An Abbot having an occaſion to go beyond the Sea, made another Abbot his Procurator, to Preſent to ſuch Benefices as become void during his abſence: That Abbot Preſented in the name of him who made him his Procurator, to one of his own Advowſons which fell void. It was holden in that Caſe, That the right of the Advowſon did not paſs by ſuch Preſentation: But yet it was holden to be an uſurpation to the ſame Advowſon by him who went beyond Sea, to the Church. Ve. 17 E. 3. 60. 7 In a Quare Impedit the Caſe was, A. was ſeiſed of an Advowſon in groſs holden of the Queen in Chief, and aliened the ſame without Licence, the Church became void, the Leſſee preſented; The Queen brought a Quare Impedit without Office found; the Queſtion was, If the Queen without Office ſhould preſent: In that Caſe it was agreed by the whole Court, That if the Alienation had been by Deed only, that there the Queen without Office found ſhould not have preſented; for by ſuch an Alienation by matter of Fact, no Scire facias ſhould iſſue forth without Office found of the Alienation; But by an Alienation without Licence by matter of Record, a Scire facias lieth before Office; And in ſuch Caſe the King ſhall have the Mean profits from the time of the Scire facias; but in the firſt Caſe from the time of the Office found. M. 29. *Eliz. in Co. 8 If a man be Ante Natus, born in Scotland before the Union, he is capable of a Benefice in England, and ſo if he be born in Flanders, Spain, or any other Kingdom, friends and in League with the King of England. See Cook in Calvins Caſe, &c. And ſuch Incumbent ſhall maintain an Action real, perſonal or mixt, for any thing concerning the Gleab or the poſſeſſion of his Church, as Prior Aliens here may, he have done; for although he be an Alien born out of the Kings Dominions, yet he bringeth his Action not in his own right, but in the right of his Church; not in his Natural, but in his Politique Capacity. 40. Ed. 10. Cook 1. part. Inſtitutes 129. M. 8. Jac. in Co. B. Dr. Stations Caſe, &c.

9 A. ſeiſed of the Manor of D. to which an Advowſon was Appendant, the Church became void, and A. preſenteth I.S. to the Biſhops Ordinary of the place, who refuſed to admit him to the Benefice: Thereupon A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop, who pleaded, That upon his Examination of him, he found him to be Schiſmaticum inveteratum, and for that cauſe by the Law of the Church to be Perſonam inhabilem & minime idoneum ad occupandum aliquod Beneficium cum cura animarum, by reaſon whereof he refuſed to admit him to the Benefice being void: It was adjudged by the whole Court in this Caſe, and afterwards affirmed in a Writ of Error brought in the Kings Bench, That the plea of the Biſhop was inſufficient, becauſe he ſhewed generally that he was Schiſmaticus inveteratus, which was altogether uncertain, and the ſpecial Crime and Cauſe of his Refuſal ought to have been alledged by the Biſhop that the party might anſwer thereunto, ſo that he might either traverſe the Cauſe, or take Iſſue thereupon. Cook 5. part 58. Specots Caſe.

10 The Biſhop of Norwich refuſed to admit a Clerk becauſe he was a common haunter of Taverns, and a player at unlawful games: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That they were no ſufficient cauſes of Refuſal; for although they were offences prohibited by the Laws of the Realm to ſome perſons at certain times Mala prohibita, yet they were not Crimes which were Mala in ſe, for which a Clerk was to be refuſed, or to be deprived in caſe he was admitted. 9. Eliz. Dyer 254. But if a Clerk preſented be Miſcreant, Turk, Heretick, Perjur'd perſon, Baſtard, Villain, Outlawed, illiterate, or a meer Lay-man, and the particular crimes be ſet forth, theſe are good Cauſes for the Biſhops Refuſal of him upon a Certificate thereof made. See 5. H. 7. 19. 11. H. 7. 7. &c.

11. If the Patron doth preſent one, and the Biſhop upon Inquiry doth find that he hath Plurality, this is no Cauſe of Refuſal, becauſe it is at the peril of the Incumbent if he keep other Livings two moneths, that both Benefices are void, but that is nothing to the Biſhop; But if the Preſentee be a Villain, the Biſhop may refuſe him, but notice muſt be given to the Patron thereof, be he a Lay or a Spiritual perſon. See 14. H. 7. 18. &c.

12. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That whatſoever are ſufficient Cauſes of Deprivation of an Incumbent, the ſame are ſufficient Cauſes for the Biſhop not to admit a Clerk to a Benefice. Pſac. 7. Iac. in B. A. Auſtins Caſe adjudged, &c. But if the Ordinary ſhall refuſe the Clerk he preſented for any of the Cauſes before alledged, he muſt give notice to the Patron of ſuch his Cauſe of refuſal, That the Patron may preſent another fit Clerk unto the ſame Church; For, if no Notice be given, and the 6. Moneths paſs, the Lapſe ſhall not run to the Biſhop or Ordinary, for that he ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong in not giving Notice thereof to the Patron. See 15. H. 7. 8. 12. Eliz. Dyer 293. 15. Eliz. Dyer 327. &c.

13. An Incumbent was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted into a Benefice with Cure of Souls, in the time of King Ed. 6. and afterwards in the time of Queen Mary he was deprived, becauſe he was a married man, and a favourer of the Religion on foot in the time of King Ed. 6. and the Church being void by his Deprivation, another man was Inſtituted and Inducted in the time of Queen Mary into the ſame Church; and afterwards in the time of Queen Elizabeth, the laſt Clerk was deprived, and the firſt Sentence of Deprivation in the time of Queen Mary adjudged and declared to be void: It was Adjudged in that Caſe, That the Deprivation of the firſt Incumbent was good, and ſtood good until the ſame was afterwards declared to be void, and till then the ſecond Clerk was lawful Incumbent; But when the Sentence of Repeal came, and made void the firſt Deprivation, then was the firſt Incumbent in again by force of his firſt Preſentation, Inſtitution and Induction. Cook 4. part 102. Winſors Caſe.

3. Where and When Lapſe ſhall incur, When to the Biſhop, When to the King; And where their Laches of preſentment ſhall prejudice them; And where, after the ſix moneths paſt, the Patron may Preſent, notwithſtanding the Lapſe incurred.

1 IF the Patron doth not Preſent his Clerk to the Biſhop within ſix moneths after the Church doth become void, then ſhall the Lapſe run to the Biſhop, and he ſhall Preſent for the default of the Patron a Clerk of his own; and his Preſentation is called Collation; and if the Biſhop ſhall ſurceaſe his time, which is likewiſe ſix moneths, then the Metropolitan, viz. the Archbiſhop of the Province, ſhall Collate his Clerk; and if he ſhall ſurceaſe to Collate within the like time, then the King, who is the Supreme Ordinary of all the Diocels of England ſhall Preſent his Clerk to the Church. See Doctor & Student 126. b. Coke part 15. in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical perſons.

2. If the Church become void by the death of the Incumbent, the ſix moneths ſhall be accompted from the time of his death, of which the Patron is to take notice at his peril, and preſent his Clerk accordingly; and ſo it is, If the Church do become void by Creation, viz. by making the Incumbent Biſhop, or by Ceſſion; But if the Church do become void by Reſignation, which is the Act of the party Incumbent himſelf, and which Reſignation of neceſſity muſt be made to the Biſhop or Ordinary: Or by Deprivation, which is the Act of the Law, there although the ſix moneths do incur before the Patron doth preſent; Yet the Biſhop or Ordinary ſhall not Preſent, unleſs the Biſhop upon the Reſignation or Deprivation had given Notice to the Patron of the ſame Avoidance; for in ſuch and the like Caſes, the ſix moneths ſhall be accompted from the time of the Notice given to the Patron of the Reſignation or Deprivation. See 16. Eliz. Dyer 327. 18. Eliz. Dyer 293. 18. H. 7. 49. in Kelloway.

3. If the King be Patron, and doth not preſent his Clerk within ſix moneths to the Church: In that Caſe the Ordinary de jure ought not to preſent for Lapſe, but he ought to ſequeſter the Profits of the Church until the King will Preſent; But if the Ordinary do in ſuch Caſe Collate his Clerk, and afterwards the King Preſents his Clerk to the Ordinary, the King ſhall not remove the Clerk of the Ordinary without a Quare Impedit: And if the King have Title to Preſent by Lapſe for the defaults of the Ordinary and Metropolitan; and notwithſtanding the Kings Title, the Patron doth preſent his Clerk, who is Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted by the Metropolitan this ſhall bind the King, and the King cannot remove the Incumbent without a Quare Impedit brought, for by the Induction the Church was full; and although Nullum tempus occurrit Regi, yet in that Caſe he ſhall not remove the Incumbent without a Quare Impedit. See 14. H. 7. 21. per Curiam.

4. If the Kings Tenant be ſeiſed of an Advowſon, and Preſents, and afterwards the Church doth become void, and the Tenant dyeth, and the King ſeizeth the Advowſon; In that Caſe, If the Church do become void in the life of the Tenant, and ſix moneths paſs, and the Ordinary doth not preſent for Lapſe in the life of the Tenant, the King in ſuch Caſe ſhall preſent, for by the ſeizure he was ſeized, and then Nullum tempus occurrit Regi. See 18. E. 3. 21. acc.

5. A man held Lands of the King, and a Manor and Lands to which an Advowſon was Appendant of a common perſon, and dyed, and the Manor and Advowſon were ſeized unto the Kings Hands, and afterwards the Church did become void; and afterwards it was found by Office, That the Tenant was but Tenant for life of the Advowſon, and Livery was made of the Lands cum exitibus, yet in the Caſe it was holden by the whole Court, that by the Livery the Advowſon did not paſs out of the King, but the King ſhould preſent, and in that Caſe a Writ to the Biſhop was awarded for the King. 24. E. 3. 27. 29. E. 3. 81. acc.

6. The King ſhall preſent to his Free Chapels (in the default of the Dean) by Lapſe, in reſpect of his Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction; and ſee, that Fitzherbert in that Caſe ſaith, That the King doth preſent as Supreme Ordinary. Co. 5. part. 14. in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical perſons.

7. The King had Title to preſent for Lapſe, and the Patron uſurped upon him and preſented his Clerk, who was admitted, Inſtituted, Inducted and dyed: It was Adjudged in that Caſe that the King had loſt his Preſentment, and ſhould not have the ſecond Preſentation; and Nullum tempus occurrit Regi is to be intended when the King hath an Intereſt certain and permanent, and not when his Intereſt is ſpecially limitted, for that time is the ſubſtance of his Title. Co. 7. part. Bikerviles Caſe.

8. If the King be deceived in his Preſentation, or miſtaken in his Preſentation, his Preſentation is void; void; and ſo when the King hath not Title to Preſent by any means, and he Preſents ratione Lapſus, his Preſentation is void. Coke 6. part. in Greens Caſe. acc.

9. In a Quare Impedit the Caſe was: H. being qualified took two Benefices above the value of 8. l. whereby the firſt became void, and ſo remained two years, whereby title of Lapps devolved to the Queen, and before Preſentment made by the Queen the Patron did preſent A. who being Inſtituted and Inducted, did refuſe to pay 38. l. 1. s. due to the Queen for the Tenths, which being certified by the Biſhop into the Exchequer, the Church by the Statute of 26. H. 8. became, ipſo facto, void; Wherefore the Biſhop being Patron in the right of his Biſhoprick, preſented I. S. againſt whom the Queen brought a Quare Impedit; It was Adjudged in this Caſe, That the Writ did lye, for that the Recuſancy to pay was his own Act: But it was holden, That if the Incumbent who was preſented dies being preſented by Uſurpation upon the Lapps to the Queen; yet the Rightful Patron ſhall preſent again; But when the Incumbent doth Reſigne, and makes the Church void by his own Act, viz. by his Refuſal, as in this Caſe; this may be by Colluſion, and then may a ſtranger Preſent upon the Title of the Queen, and ſo the Queen deprived of her Lapps. M. 30. Eliz. in Coke, B. The Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe. Owen 5. & 89. 90.

10. A Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop and the Incumbent upon default; The Plaintiff made Title, and had a Writ to the Sheriff, where it was found that the Church remained void two years, ſo the Lapps devolved to the Crown, and was now full of the Collation of the Biſhop: In that Caſe it was holden that the Plaintiff ſhould have damages but for half a year, becauſe he ſhould remove the Clerk and have a Writ to the Biſhop, It was ſaid, It was not fully within the Rule Nullum tempus occurrit Regi, for the Patrons Title continues till the Lapps executed; ſo the Kings Title is not waſted in him peremptory. Tr. 7. Eliz. Dyer 241. Watſons Caſe.

11. In a Quare Impedit it was found by ſpecial Verdict, That A. was ſeiſed of the Manor with the Advowſon appendant, and Preſented W. M. who was admitted and Inducted: A. bargained and ſold the Manor to F. B. the Church voided by the death of M. 2. Feb. 89. the Queen preſented F. S. by theſe words, per mortem naturalem ultimi Incumbentis illiem vacant & ad noſtram Preſentationem jure prerogativæ Coronæ noſtræ ſpectant. who 16. Feb. was Inſtituted by Letters of Inſtitution, per Dominam Reginam veram & indeputatã ut dicitur Patronem, and then conveyed the Manor to the Plaintiff, and S. dyed, and that the King preſented I. D. in theſe words, ad noſtram preſentationem ſive ex pleno, ſive per Lapſum temporis, ſive alio quocunq; modo ſpectant: It was adjudged in that Caſe. That the Advowſon remained Appendant notwithſtanding the Queens Preſentation of S. for there was no colour of title to the Queen to preſent no Lapps, for the Preſentation and Inſtitution were all in the ſame moneth wherein the Avoidance was, and uſurpation by the Queen it was not, becauſe the Preſentation did ſuppoſe a Right where none was, and ſo was void. Then the Preſentation of S. being void, It was but a Collation of the Biſhop which makes no diſſappendency, nor ſo much as a Plenary, but the Church remains void; but the Patron may bring his Quare Impedit, and if the Biſhop do receive his Clerk, the other is out Ipſo facto. Hill 1. Jac. in Co. B. Gawdy and the Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe. Hob. 301. 32.

4. Where a Common perſon cannot Revoke or Vary from his firſt Preſentation; And where, and in what Caſes the King may Revoke or Repeal his firſt Preſentation, and in what Caſe not.

1. NOTE, The better opinion of the old Books hath been taken to be, That a common perſon cannot Revoke, Repeal, or make void his firſt Preſentation, becauſe he hath put it out of himſelf, and hath given to the Biſhop power to perfect what was by himſelf firſt begun. See 31. Eliz. Quare Impedit 185. 17. Eli. Dyer 348. Fitz. N. B. 34. But if the King do preſent to a Church, and the Clerk be admitted and Inſtituted, yet the King may before Induction Repeal or Revoke his firſt Preſentment by preſentment of another Clerk to the Biſhop; and the very Preſentment of the ſecond Clerk without any more ſignification thereof to the Biſhop, is in Law a Repeal of the firſt. See Coke 1. part Inſtitutes 560. 25. Eliz. 47. Robt. Kelſeys Caſe, acc. See 8. Jac. in Co. B. before Waters Caſe, See 17. El. Dyer 337. The Caſe of the Vicarage of Tatton before, and ſo it was alſo adjudged. M. 4. Jac. in *Co. 2. If the King hath cauſe to preſent by reaſon of Lapps, or otherwiſe, and preſents I. S. to the Biſhop, and before I. S. be Inducted the King dyes, and the ſucceſſor King without Reciting or making mention of the Preſentment of his Predeceſſor, preſents I. D. to the ſame Church; It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the demyſe of the King did determine the firſt Preſentation; For that the Preſentation was but a power given to the Ordinary, which was countermandable and revocable, and by the Preſentment of him

I. S. had neque Officium, neque Beneficium. 2. In that Caſe it was Reſolved, that the firſt Preſentation was Repealed, although it was not recited by the King, and was not within the Statute of 6. H. 8. cap. 15. that the King ought to Recite the ſame, for that the ſaid Statute went to Loſſes, and did not extend to Preſentations to Churches. M. 8. Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber, Calvert and Kitchins Caſe.

3. In a Quare Impedit betwixt Wright and the Biſhop of Norwich, the Queſtion was, if the King hath Title to preſent for Lapſe, and preſents, and his Clerk is admitted and Inſtituted, but not Inducted, and dyeth before Induction; If now the King ſhall preſent for the ſaid Lapſe, becauſe the Church was not full againſt the King: It was Reſolved in that Caſe by all the Juſtices, That the King might Repeal ſuch Preſentment before Induction, and that the King might preſent de novo. Tr. 32. Eliz. in Coke Pr. Wright and the Biſhop of Norwich Caſe. Leon. 156.

4. A man before the Statute of 21. H. 8. had a Diſpenſation from the Pope for a Plurality, and at the time of the making of the Statute of 28. H. 8. had one Benefice with Cure of ſouls of the value of 8. l. and within a year after the making of the Statute of 28. H. 8. cap. 16. he obtained a Confirmation to hold and enjoy the effect of his Diſpenſation: It was the opinion of Monſon and Manwood, Juſtices, that the firſt Benefice was void by the Statute of 21. H. 8. and that the Statute of 28. H. 8. did not reſtore him to the ſame without a new Preſentation, notwithſtanding that the Statute of 28. H. 8. made the Bulls of Diſpenſation made by the Pope, good for one year, and that the Chancellor of the Augmentation might make a new Diſpenſation to him; But it was the opinion of Dyer, Juſtice, as the Statute of 21. H. 8. made the Diſpenſation void, ſo the Statute of 21. H. 8. did reſtore him to the Benefice without a new Preſentation; for when two Statutes are croſs in appearances one to the other, and no Clauſe of Non obſtante is contained in the Statute, ſo as one may ſtand with the other, ſuch a Conſtruction ſhall be made of them, that both of them may take effect; And in that Caſe it was agreed, That the King before Induction of the Clerk may Revoke his Preſentation; but otherwiſe it is of a common perſon, and ſo it was adjudged in the Exchequer Chamber, and alſo, If the Church be void by Reſignation, and upon the Statute of 21. H. 8. for that no Notice is given to the Patron of the Lapſe incurred to the King, yet he ſhall not Preſent, becauſe his Prerogative ſhall do no wrong. 18. Eliz. Dyer 348. Weſtons Caſe.

More Preſentation.

1. IN an Ejectione firmæ brought by R. Incumbent of the Church of D. It was found by Verdict that the King was the true Patron; And that one W. entered a Caveat in the life of the Incumbent, lying in extremity, viz. Caveat Epiſcopus ne quis admittatur niſi convocatus; the ſaid W. the Incumbent dyed, N. a ſtranger preſented one M. who was Admitted and Inſtituted; afterwards W. preſented one G. who was Inſtituted and Inducted; and afterwards R. procured a Preſentation from the King, who was Inſtituted and Inducted: In the Spiritual Court it came in Queſtion, who had beſt Right to the Church; and there ſentence was given, that the firſt Inſtitution was void by reaſon of the Caveat, and then the Church being full of the ſecond Incumbent, the King was put out of his poſſeſſion, and ſo his Preſentment was void: But in this Caſe it was Reſolved for R. the Preſentee of the King. 1. Becauſe that this Caveat was void being in the life of the Incumbent. 2. That the Church upon the Inſtitution of M. was full againſt all but the King, and then the Preſentation of G. was void, by reaſon of the ſuper Inſtitution, and therefore no Obſtacle in the way to hinder the Preſentation of R. And in that Caſe it was holden by the Juſtices, That if the ſecond Inſtitution be void, the Sentence of the Spiritual Court cannot make it good, for that the Spiritual Court ought to take Notice of the common Law, which ſaith, Eccleſia eſt plena, & conſulta upon the Inſtitution. M. 15. Jac. in B. R. Rones Caſe, Hobt. 133.

2. In a Quare Impedit the Caſe was, A. Vicar of the Church of I. being a Benefice with Cure, above the value of 8. l. 11. Jac. took a ſecond Benefice with Cure, and was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted, whereby the firſt Benefice became void, and continued void for two years, and ſo the Title devolved to the King to preſent: The Defendant pleaded the general Pardon of 21. Jac. and that A. was not a perſon excepted, nor the Cauſe of Lapſe excepted; And that A. being Incumbent, reſigned the Benefice of I. to I. D. who preſented the Defendant, who was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted before the Quare Impedit brought: On the part of the King, The Exception of the Pardon was ſhewed, wherein all Titles of Action of Quare Impedit, other then ſuch Actions and Quare Impedit which the King hath, or may have, Ratione Lapſus incurred, Ultra three years paſt, for or concerning any Benefice whereof any Incumbent was, or the laſt day of the Parlia-

Parliament ſhould be in actual poſſeſſion by the Preſentation of any Patron, or Collation of any Ordinary; and traverſed, that the Vicarage of I. became void by the Reſignation of A. upon which the Defendant did demur in Law: [illegible] Queſtions in this Caſe were: 1. The Church continuing void by Lapſe for divers years, Whether the ſucceeding King might take advantage of the ſaid Lapſe, Or whether he was barred by the Statute of 25. E. 3. cap. 1. It was urged, That the King had not this as his proper Right, or as his proper Advowſon, but in the right of him who had the Inheritance; And that the Statute of 25. E. 3. extended to all Succeſſors and Heirs of King E. 3. and that none of them might Preſent to a Church in anothers Right; But as to that Point, It was holden by the Court, That the Title of the King was not bound by that Statute, and that he might Preſent to a Church fallen in the time of his Predeceſſor. The ſecond Point was, Whether A. was Incumbent and might Reſign, and that reſted upon the general pardon of 21. Jac. and upon the Statute of 21. H. 8. of Pluralities: It was urged, That the Church was not abſolutely void by the Statute of 21. H. 8. but voidable quoad the Patron; and that till he preſented, the other remained Incumbent; and ſo he continuing ſo for two years, and being in poſſeſſion, the general Pardon of 21. Jac. eſtabliſhed him in his Poſſeſſion: But it was Reſolved by the greater part of the Juſtices in the Exchequer Chamber, That the Church was abſolutely void in facto & jure, by taking of the ſecond Benefice, and the Patron at his peril ought to take Notice thereof, and Preſent within ſix moneths, otherwiſe Lapſe ſhould incur; and it was ſaid, That that appears by the pleading, which is, That by the Admiſſion, Inſtitution and Induction to the ſecond Benefice, Prima Eccleſia vacavit de perſona Incumbentis, & vacans continuavit; and it was holden by the Juſtices, That the general words of a Pardon ſhall not inure to make a Diſpenſation, and the Church being once void ſhall not be full without a new Preſentation, Admiſſion and Inſtitution: And it was ſaid, That the Exception in the Pardon did not extend to A. for it extended to thoſe only who were Incumbents, and not to ſuch Incumbents as were in by Uſurpation, or by wrong, or were removeable by a Quare Impedit; Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. M. 9. Car. in Co. B. Rots. 441. The King and the Biſhop of Canterbury, and Pryſt's Caſe. Cro. 1. H. 258.

3. Quare Impedit brought, ad preſentandum ad Eccleſiam de W. It was moved that the Writ might be amended; for his Title of Preſentation is ad Vicariam of the ſaid Church, and not Paſonage: The Court doubted of it at firſt, becauſe it was an Original Writ; for the words ad preſentandum ad Eccleſiam always intend right of Advowſon of the Parſonage; but when the Title is to the Vicarage only, there it is ad preſentandum ad Vicariam. See 15. El. Dyer 323. Yet afterwards, becauſe it appeared that the party was a Purchaſer, and that that miſpriſion happened by the default of the Clerk, who did not purſue his Direction, It was Ordered, That it ſhould be amended. Tr. 3. Car. in Co. B. Turner and Palmers Caſe.

4. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt B. and C. and the Biſhop of London, of the Church of D. and ſhewed that I. S. was ſeiſed of the Manor to which, &c. and preſented C. and after Let the Manor to which, &c. to the Plaintiff; and that the Church became void by the Reſignation of C. C. entituled himſelf to it by Preſentation, as to an Advowſon in groſs, and traverſed the Appendancy: B. pleaded as perſon imperſoned of the Preſentation of the King, and pleaded that I. S. per quandam pecuniæ ſummam betwixt him and I. D. preſented the ſaid C. and pleaded the Statute 31. Eliz. of Simony, which makes the Preſentation, Inſtitution and Induction void; ſo it belonged to the King to preſent, who preſented the ſaid B. the Defendant, and traverſed that the Church became void by the Reſignation of C. It was Objected that the Plea was not good, becauſe the Preſentation being the principal, which being confeſſed and avoided, cannot be traverſed; But it was the opinion of the Court, that the Plea was good; and being alledged that the Church was void per mortem vel Reſignationem, or otherwiſe, it ought to be confeſſed or traverſed; for that is the cauſe of his Preſentation, and the Iſſue ought to be taken, Si vacaverit per mortem, vel per Reſignationem, for the Preſentation, Admiſſion and Inſtitution are but conducing to the Reſignation: It was Reſolved, that Judgment ſhould be given againſt C. for the Plaintiff, he relinquiſhing his Plea, and Confeſſing the Action; and upon the Demurrer that Judgment ſhould be given for the Defendant, which was done accordingly. Hill. 22. Jac. in Co. B. Sir Gregory Fenner and Nicholſons Caſe. Cro. 1. part 44.

5. In a Quare Impedit by the King againſt the Biſhop of N.L. and his Wife Patron, and S. Incumbent, the Declaration was grounded upon the Statute of 31. Eliz. of Simony; upon a Simonical agreement between L. and his Wife, and S. who was preſented upon this Agreement, that preſently after his Preſentation he ſhould make a Leaſe of part to C. and of other part to the ſon of C. and ſhould for her pay to the Son of C. 10 l. and that S. was preſented accordingly: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Preſentation of S. was meerly void, and the Party ſo preſented was utterly diſabled by the Statute of 31. Eliz. cap. 6. to take the ſame Benefice again to which he was preſented by Simony, and made thereby utterly uncapable to have another Preſentation to the ſame Benefice. M. 13. *Jac. in B. Preſentments in Courts.

1. A Man brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt I. L. Clerk, and Declared that the ſaid Clerk and his Predeceſſor, time out of mind had uſed to ſay Divine Service, and adminiſter the Sacraments to him and his Servants and Tenants, at his Chappel within his Manor, every Sunday throughout the year: It was adjudged, That an Action upon the Caſe did not lie in this Caſe; but his Remedy was for the default of the Service to ſue in the Spiritual Court; But it was ſaid, That if the Chappel were private for him and his Servants, within his Manor, there a private Action upon the Caſe upon a Preſcription, was maintainable by the Lord of the Manor; but the ſame being publique for all his Tenants within the Manor, they might complain in the Spiritual Court, and it ſhould be there redreſſed. 2. It was Reſolved, That for a common Nuſance in the high way a man ſhould not maintain an Action upon the Caſe, for then every man might be troubled in infinitũ, But if any particular perſon after the Nuſance tryed had a more particular damage, there for ſuch Injury the party ought to have a particular Action upon the Caſe; and for common Nuſances that they ſhould be reformed in the Leet. Coke 5. part 73. Williams Caſe.

2. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if a man have Cony-berries in his own Land, which increaſes to ſo great a number that they deſtroy his Neighbours Lands adjoyning; his Neighbour cannot have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him that owneth the Cony-berries for that he may kill them, being feræ naturæ, and he who owneth the Cony-berries hath no propriety in them; and he ſhall not be puniſhed for the hurt that they do: In that Caſe it was ſaid, That for erecting of a Dove Coat the Lord might puniſh the party upon a Preſentment in the Leet; but Quære the Caſe, for that 16. Jac. in B. R. in Dewel and Saunders Caſe in B. R. it was Reſolved to the contrary. Coke 5. part 104. Boulton. Caſe.

3. In Action upon the Caſe, the Caſe was, That a Copyholder in Fee did preſcribe to have Common in B. and he alledged that the Defendant put his Cattel into his Common, and that they had deſtroyed the Common, ſo that he could not have any benefit of the Common. Upon Not Guilty the Jury found that for the putting of his Cattle he was not guilty, but as to the feeding and conſuming of the graſs he was guilty: In this Caſe theſe Points were Reſolved. 1. That the Action upon the Caſe did lye, and the ſubſtance of the Verdict was to be reſpected, and not the Circumſtances; and although it is not found that the Defendant put in his Cattle, yet if his Cattle eſcape and ſtray there, and deſtroy the Common, Action upon the Caſe lyeth, for the deſtruction of the Common is the Subſtance and cauſe of the Action. 2. Reſolved, That the Commoner ſhall have an Action for conſuming of his Feeding and Paſture, for it is a damage and wrong to him; And a Commoner may take the Cattle of a ſtranger damage feaſant there; And therefore, If he ſhall not have an Action, all the feeding might be taken and depaſtured by Cattle, or might be detained and kept there with a ſtrong hand, and the Commoner might diſtrain them damage feaſant; for after the cattle have conſumed the Common they may eſcape, and every Commoner might ſurcharge the Common: But it was Reſolved, That for every petit feeding the Commoner ſhould not have an Action, but the depaſturing ought to be ſuch, quod communiam habere non potuit, ſed totum proficuum ſuum amiſit; but the Tenant of the Soyl may have an Action. Coke 9. part 112, 113. Robt. Marrys Caſe.

4. In Treſpaſs, the Defendant juſtified, That the Plaintiff was a common Baker, dwelling in T. and that it was preſented in a Leet in T. That he ſold Bread againſt the Aſſiſe in locis Vicinis, whereupon he was amerced, and the Amercement aſſerred to 10*s.* and that by a Precept in Court he did diſtrain the Plaintiff: In this Caſe the Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff, becauſe it doth not appear that the Offence was committed within the Juriſdiction of the Leet, which ſhall not be preſumed unleſs it be pleaded; and the Plea here is abſurd, for it is ſaid that he was amerced without ſaying What. Paſc. 14. Jac. B. R. Wilton and Hardingtons Caſe. Heb. 129.

5. The Steward of a Leet being in Court, did ſay to the Defendant who was Reſident within the Precinct of the Leet, That he muſt be ſworn for the Queen to make Preſentments at the Court, To which the Defendant Replyed, in ſaying, I ought to be ſworn, Toulye: It was agreed by the Court in this Caſe, That this was a Miſdemeanor, for which the Defendant was fineable; for every Leet is the Queens Court, and a Court of Juſtice to which Reſpect and Reverence ought to be given, and theſe words are in great contempt of the Court; and it was ſaid by Popham Chief Juſtice, That if any man miſdemeaned himſelf himſelf in the Leet in any outragious manner, The Steward might commit him, Paſc. 36. Eliz. in B. R. The Earl of Lincoln and Fiſhers Caſe. Owen 113.

6. In a Replevin the Defendant did avow as Fermor of the Manor of B. to St. Johns Colledge in Oxford, and layed a Preſcription in him and his Fermors to diſtrain for all Amercements in the ſaid Manor, and ſhewed that the Plaintiff in the Replevin was preſented by the Homage for not repairing a Houſe, being a Cuſtomary Tenant, according to a fine impoſed upon him at a former Court, for which he was amerced by the Steward to 1 s. And alſo at the ſame Court he was amerced by the Steward for not Ringing his Hoggs to 3. s. 4. d. for which Amercements he did diſtrain; And upon Nihil dicit Judgment was given for the Tenant to have Return; Whereupon Errour was brought, and the Errour aſſigned was, That there was not any Preſcription layed in the Avowry for the Lord to amerce the Tenants, and of common right he cannot do it, for the Lord cannot be his own Judge, and therefore he ought to enable himſelf to diſtrain by Preſcription: Alſo the fine is layed to be aſſeſſed by the Steward, whereas it ought to be by the Suitors, for they are Judges, and not the Steward: It was holden by the Court, That the Steward may aſſeſs a Fine for a Contempt, but not amerce; if not by Preſcription; Alſo it was holden, That the Lord of a Manor cannot aſſeſs an Amercement for a Treſpaſs done to himſelf or to his Lands, but otherwiſe it is of a common Treſpaſs done in the Land of another; but for a Diſtreſs he ought to preſcribe. Paſc. 33. Eliz. in B. R. Blunt. and Whittons Caſe. Leon. 241.

7. The Steward of a Court Leet impoſed a Fine jointly upon A. B. and C. chief pleaders, becauſe they refuſed at the ſaid Court Leet to pay pro Certo Letto, 10 s. to the Lord, for which the Lord diſtrained and avowed: It was in this Caſe amongſt other things Reſolved, 1. That the Fine ought to have been aſſeſſed upon them ſeverally and not jointly. 2. That the Lord could not diſtrain for Head-ſilver, or pro certo Letto, becauſe the ſame is againſt right, and for the Private of the Lord, the which he could not have without a Preſcription; and therefore as he ought to preſcribe in the Principal, ſo he ought in the Diſtreſs. 3. That for an Amercement in a Court Baron, the Lord cannot diſtrain without a Preſcription; but for a Fine, or an Amercement in a Leet, a Diſtreſs is incident of common Right. Coke 1. part 41. Godfreys Caſe. Coke 8. part 38. Greiſleys Caſe, acc.

8. Note, It was holden by all the Juſtices, That if a man ſetteth out his Tythe Corn, and afterwards taketh it away; the Parſon may ſue him in the Spiritual Court for the ſame, Or he may bring his Action of Treſpaſs againſt him; But if the Parſon ſue in the Spiritual Court a ſtranger for taking away the ſaid Tythe which were ſet forth, that the ſame is a Præmunire in the Parſon. Hill 6. Jac. in Co. B. Brownl. 1. part. 30. acc.

9. Note, by the Juſtices, That it was Reſolved, Paſc. 4. Jac. That when any Eccleſiaſtical Judge doth uſurp upon the Temporal Law, becauſe the Intereſt or cauſe of the Subject is drawn ad aliud examen, that is, when the Subject ought to have his Cauſe ended by the Common Law, whereunto by birth right he is inheritable, he is drawn ad aliud examen, to be decided by the Eccleſiaſtical Law; That the ſame is an Offence contra Coronam & Dignitatem Regiam; and the ſame (as the Caſe may be) is a Præmunire: And it was Reſolved, That although the High Commiſſion be the Court of the King, yet their Proceedings are Eccleſiaſtical; and if they uſurp upon the Temporal Law, the ſame is an Offence, and within the Statutes of Præmunire, as appeareth by the very Act of 1. Eliz. which never intended to take away the Offence of Præmunire, but expreſſly provided for it. See Coke 12. part. 38. in the Caſe of Præmunire.

10. In all Caſes when the Cauſe originally belongs to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, and cognizance and ſuit is proſecuted there; (although in truth the Cauſe, (all Circumſtances being diſcloſed) belongs to the Kings Court, and to be determined by the Common Law) Yet in that Caſe no Præmunire lies, but only a Prohibition; But although the Cauſe originally may appertain to the Cognizance of the Eccleſiaſtical Judge, Yet if he ſue for it in the Nature of a Suit, which doth not belong to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, there a Præmunire lyeth.

11. A. ſued a Præmunire againſt a Parſon, who by Citation convened him into the Eccleſiaſtical Court, and there Libelled againſt him for taking of Tythes which were ſevered from the 9 parts: In that Caſe the Parſon was condemned, and had Judgment, That he ſhould be out of the Kings protection, and ſhould forfeit all his Lands, Goods and Chattels, and ſhould ſuffer Impriſonment, and ſhould alſo pay damages to the party, as it was adjudged. 17. H. 8. in Spilmans Reports, Turbervilles Caſe: But it was holden by the Court, That when the Cauſe originally belongs to the Cognizance of the Eccleſiaſtical Court, although that hold plea of any incident to it, which belongs to the Common Law, there Prohibition lyeth, and not Præmunire.

12. In a Bill of Præmunire Preſented againſt the Biſhop of N. the matter was this: Within the Town of Thetford, in the County of N. time out of mind, &c. there had been a Cuſtom, That all Eccleſiaſtical Cauſes ariſing within that Town ſhould be determined before the Dean of that Town, who had peculiar Juriſdiction in it, and that none of the ſame Town ſhould be drawn in plea in any other ſpitiual Court for Eccleſiaſtical Cauſes; and if any be againſt the ſaid Cuſtom drawn in ſuit before any Eccleſiaſtical Judge, and it be preſented before the Mayor of the ſaid Town, ſuch party ſhall forfeit 6. l. 8. d. And that ſuch a one ſued in the Conſiſtory of the Biſhop for a thing ariſing within the ſaid Town, which was preſented before the Mayor, for which he had forfeited 6. l. 8. d. The Biſhop cited the Mayor to appear before him at his houſe at H. in the County of S. and upon his appearance Libelled upon all the matter, and injoyned the Mayor upon pain of Excommencement to annul the Preſentment: It was Objected, That aſwell the Preſentment as the Cuſtome was void, and that the Biſhop had not drawn the party ad aliud examen, nor was it contra Coronam & Dignitatem Regiam; But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That be the Cuſtom and Preſentment good or not, yet this is a Temporal thing determinable at the Common Law, and not examinable in the ſpiritual Court; and therefore, That the Biſhop had incurred a Præmunire, and thereupon Judgment was given againſt the Biſhop, that he ſhould be out of the Kings Protection, and ſhould forfeit his Lands, Goods and Chattels, to the King, and be impriſoned ad voluntatem Regis. 13. Upon a ſpiritual Verdict in Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, A. was indicted of a Præmunire upon the Statute of 13. Eliz. afterwards he made a Gift in tayle of the Land, and was afterwards attainted by Verdict, and had Judgment: It was afterwards found by Inquiſition upon a Commiſſion out of the Exchequer, that A. was ſeiſed in Fee of the Lands at the time of the Offence committed, and that afterwards the Queen by Letters Patent granted the Lands to I. S. 1. The Queſtion was, Whether an Attainder in a Præmunire ſhall have Relation to the Offence for the forfeiture, or only to the time of the Judgment. 2. Admitting it relate to the Offence, Whether the Patent after Inquiſition by Commiſſion under the Exchequer Seal, (no Office being found under the great Seal) be good by the Statute of 18. Eliz. which makes a Patent upon valuable Conſideration good, notwithſtanding there be not an Inquiſition under the great Seal: The firſt Point the Juſtices did not Reſolve, being a Caſe of difficulty; for the ſecond Point, Reſolved, That nothing veſted in the King till Office found; for the Freehold being in the party offending at the time of the Attainder, cannot be deveſted out of him but by Office under the great Seal; and it was ſaid that this Caſe was out of the Statute of 18. Eliz. and therefore upon this Point Judgement was given for the Defendant. Hill in 1. Gar. in B. R. Groſs and Gayers Caſe. Cro. 1. part 323.

14. If a Tenant in taile be attainted in a Præmunire, he ſhall forfeit the Land but during his life; and although the Statute of 16. R. 2. is, That ſuch perſon ſhall forfeit to the King all his Lands, Tenements, Goods and Chattels; yet that muſt be intended of ſuch eſtate which he may lawfully forfeit, and that is the Land in tail, but during his own life; and it was Reſolved, That the Statute of 16. R. 2. doth not take away the Statute of Donis, but he ſhall forfeit all his Fee-ſimple Lands Goods and Chattels. 7. H. 4. 20. Simon Beverleys Caſe, and ſo it was Adjudged, Hill 21. Eliz. in Trudgins Caſe. Coke 1. part Inſtitutes 130. acc. Coke 11. part 63. in Doctor Foſters Caſe. acc.

15. Note, It was the Opinion of the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, That if one Spiritual perſon doth ſue another Spiritual man in the Court of Rome for a matter ſpiritual, where he might have Remedy before his Ordinary, viz. the Biſhop of the Diocеſs within the Realm, that he incurreth the danger of a Præmunire, it being Contra Ligeanciæ ſuæ debitum, & in contemptum Domini Regis, & contra Coronam & Dignitatem ſuam; as if he wanted Juſtice, or Juſtice was not executed in the Eccleſiaſtical Courts within the Realm. Coke 5. part. in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical perſons. 23. 24.

16. By the Statute of 25. E. 3. Cap. 22. A man attainted in a Præmunire is by expreſs word out of the Kings Protection generally; It is ſaid, That that extended only to a Legal Protection, for the Parliament could not take away the Protection which the Law of Nature giveth unto him, and therefore notwithſtanding that Statute, the King may Protect and Pardon him; and although by that Statute it was enacted, that it ſhould be done with him as an Enemy, by which words a man might have ſlain ſuch a perſon until the Statute made 5. Eliz. cap. 1. Yet the King might Protect and Pardon him. Coke 7. part 14. in Calvins Caſe.

17. The King brought a Prohibition againſt the Prior of W. That where the King had recovered in a Quare Impedit, the Defendant ſent one to Rome with an Appeal, and ſued there to avoid the Judgement, againſt the Statute of Præmunire; and upon Not guilty pleaded, it was found againſt the Defendant, and thereupon Judgment was prayed for the King upon the new Statute, viz. 27. E. 3. cap. 1. in Caſe of Præmunire; But it was Reſolved, That the King could not have Judgment, becauſe the Judgment ought to be conformable to the Original, and this Suit was not brought according to the Statute, but by a Writ of Prohibition at the Common Law. 30. E. 3. 11. Coke 9 part 74. in D. Anſleys Caſe.

Prerogative. See before Title King.

1. IN many Caſes the King who claimeth by a Subject, ſhall be in better caſe in reſpect of the Dignity and Prerogative incident by the Law, to the perſon of the King; then the ſubject himſelfe, by whom he claimeth; As if the King be ſeiſed of a rent ſeck by attainder of Treaſon or by grant he ſhall diſtrain for the ſame rent, not only in the land charged, but in all his other Lands, and yet the ſubject by whom he claimeth ſhall not diſtrain for the ſame: And if the King purchaſeth a Seignioric of which land was holden by poſterioritie, the King ſhall be in better condition then the ſubject from whom he claimeth, and ſhall have the Priority. Coke. 5. part. 56. in Knights Caſe.

2. A. Seiſed of Lands holden in Capite made a feofment thereof to the uſe of his brother for life, the remainder to his Eldeſt Son in tail, the remainder to the younger in tail, with diverſe remainders over by Covin, to deceive the King of his Ward, and dyed; Office found the Covin; the Eldeſt Son before Livery died without Iſſue, the youngeſt Son within age. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, that although the Covin was found by office, yet the King ſhould have but the third part of the profits. 2. That the younger Son within age ſhould not be in Ward, becauſe the Covin did not extend to the youngeſt Son, and the King had once advantage of the Statute, after the death of A. the Father, and the younger Son claimes by force of a remainder. Coke 5. part. 165. Mights Caſe.

3. Tenant in taile of diverſe houſes and other Lands holden in Capite in fee, by Indenture made leaſes of the houſes whereof he was ſeiſed in taile for years not warranted by the Statute of 32. H. 8, and died without Iſſue, the reverſion diſcended to his general heires who were in Ward of the King: Office found that he died ſeiſed of an Eſtate in taile of the houſes, and that they deſcended to the ſaid general heires; It was Reſolved in this Caſe. That the King by his Prerogative in privity of the heires in taile, ſhould avoid the ſaid leaſes, during the time that the heires were in Ward. Coke. 7. part 7. The Earle of Bedfords Caſe.

4. If the Tenant of the King dieth ſeiſed of diverſe Manors, and it is found by Office that he died ſeiſed of one: In Dower brought againſt the heire of full age, he ſued a Circumſpecte agens: It was Reſolved, that in that caſe it extended to no more then was found in the Office, for this Writ is in the Nature of an Aide Pryer, and the King hath no right to ſeize more then is found in the Office. But it was Objected, that it ſhould be allowed as well as if the Heir was within age, for that by the Statute of Prærogativa regis the Wife may be endowed in Chancery: It was anſwered, that by the Statute of Bigamis. Cap. 4. Aide ſhall not be granted of the King in that Caſe: and that before the Statute of Prærogativa Regis, the King nor other Lord could not endow the Wife, if the Heir were of full age; becauſe he is not then Guardian; and the Statute of Prærogativa Regis giveth power to the King to endow the wife in ſuch Caſe, if ſhe will, and not otherwiſe; The Court in the principal Caſe, diſcharged the Tenant from ſuing to the Queen, and gave him day to plead an iſſuable plea. Coke 4. part. 16, 17. Ann Bedingfields Caſe.

5. Grandfather, Father, and Son, the Grandfather ſeiſed of a houſe holden in Capite, and of other Lands holden in Gavelkind, and of other Lands in Socage, deviſed part of his Lands to the Son in taile, and the other part of his Lands for the advancement of the other his Grand-children, and dyed ſeiſed, the Son within age, all the Grand-children being alive: It was Reſolved in this caſe. 1. That when by will He deviſed the ſame to his Son, that in ſuch Caſe, the ſaving in the Statutes of 32. and 34. Hen. 8. gave to the King the ward & Primer ſeiſin; and therefore the King ſhould have the third part of the whole. 2. Reſolved, That the King ſhould have the third part out of every ſeveral part, ſo as the charge ſhould be equal, and ſhould not lie upon one onely. Cook. 4. part 133. Matthew Menes Caſe.

6. It was found by Office, that I. S. by Licence of the King did Marrie to the Kings Neiſe, and that certain Lands diſcended to the ſame Neiſe, and that her Husband had Aliened the Lands without the Kings Licence to another, and for that cauſe the Lands were ſeiſed into the Kings hands. The Allience in that caſe came into the Chancery, and ſhewed the matter, that he Married the Neiſe with the Licence of the King; and that the Lands diſcended to Her after the Marriage. It was awarded in that Caſe, That the Allience ſhould have reſtitution of the Lands out of the Kings hands; and by that caſe. It appeareth, that the Wife being Married with the Kings Licence, She was Enfranchiſed during the Coverture; and when the Title of the King and of a ſubject doth Concurre, the Kings Title ſhall be preferred. Cook. 4. part 75. in the Commanalty of ſadlers Caſe.

7 If the King make a leaſe for years rendring Rent upon Condition to be paid, for non payment of the Rent, the King ſhall take advantage of the Condition without any demand of the Rent, it being a thing undecent and againſt the Dignitie of the King to wait upon his Subject, or to demand any thing of him, and this is by Reaſon of a perſonal Prerogative annexed to the perſon of the King, and not in reſpect of the Nature and Quality of the rent, for that remaines the ſame whether it be paid to the King, or to a Common perſon. Coke. 4. part. 73. Boroughs Caſe.

8 Note in all Caſes when the King is party the Sheriff (if the door be not open) may after notice given of the Cauſe of his coming, and requeſt made to have the doores open, break open the houſe of the partie either to take, or make other executi n of the Kings proceſſe, if he cannot otherwiſe enter into it, but ſo he cannot do in the Caſe of a Subject: and for Felonie, or ſuſpition of Felonie, the Kings Officer may break the houſe to take the Felon, becauſe in every Felonie the King hath an Intereſt, and where the King hath an intereſt, the Writ is Non omittas propter aliquam (aliam) Libertatem; and therefore the Liberty or Priviledg of an Houſe, ſhall not hold out, againſt the King. Coke. 5. part. 91. in Semoyes Caſe.

9. A Common Recovery in a Writ of Entre againſt I. S. of the Manor of D. was drawn and endeavoured to be ſuffered wherein the Tenant prayed an aid of the King by reaſon of a warranty of the King whereby he warranted that Land and granted to make recompence upon Eviction, and this Aide prayer was inſtead of a voucher: and although the Kings Attorny had a warrant from the King to enter into the Warranty, and prayed that the Defendant might Count; & the demandant, petit Cer ſus Dominum Regem; Yet becauſe that ſuch a Courſe had not been ſeen, nor any Preſident ſhewed that ever any ſhould Count againſt the King as Vouchee, and for that this Courſe was deviſed, to bar a remainder exp ctant upon any eſtate taile in the King, therefore the Court would not ſuffer the ſaid Recovery to paſſe, for that the King ſhall never render in value upon Voucher, but in ſuch caſe, they ought to ſue to the King by Petition to have in value, and not by way of Voucher. Mich. 3. *Car. in Co. Priviledge.

1. What it is, Where, and for what Perſons, and in what Courts; And in what Courts Priviledge ſhall be, or may be demanded and allowed; And in what not.

1. Priviledge is an Immunity, Liberty, or Franchiſe, claimed, belonging, or granted to ſome Office, Perſon, Town, place or Manor, by Preſcription, Cuſtome, or by the Kings Grant, or his Letters Patents; It is Quaſi Lex privata, or Beneficium perſonale, which in ſome Caſes Extinguitur cum perſona.

2. See 11. E. 4. Fenny, Sergeant at Law, being impleaded in the Kings Bench by Bill; he pleaded That he was a Sergeant at Law, and that all Sergeants at Law have uſed, time out of mind, to be impleaded in the Court of Common Pleas by Original Writ; and claimed his Priviledge, and the Priviledge was allowed. See in Tr. 6. E. 6. Dyer 71. and See 28. H. 8. Dyer 24. acc.

3. A. Servant of Sergeant Hedley, uſually attending upon him, was Arreſted by a Proceſs out of the Court of Marſhalſea; and he obtained a Writ of Priviledge out of the Court of Common Pleas, Reciting, That Sergeants at Law which are attending in that Court, and their Servants ordinarily waiting upon them, ought to enjoy the priviledg to be ſued in that Court; which being delivered to the Steward of the Cou t of Marſhalſey he would not allow thereof, ſuppoſing Sergeants at Law ought not to have ſuch Priviledges for them & their Servants: It was the opinion of the whole Court, that he ought to have the Priviledge; for they are properly attending at this Bar, and Sergeants only are to attend at the Common Bench, and ſhall be impleaded there and not elſewhere, and ſo it was Adjudged in Martyn, Sergeant at Law's Caſe, who was Arreſted in London at the Suit of the Biſhop of Winchester, and others, and had a Writ of Priviledge, Reciting, That Sergeants at Law were to be attendant to the ſaid Court, ex officio plus quam alibi; and therefore it was commanded that they ſhould ſurceaſe their Suits in London againſt the Sergeant. M. 3. Car. in Co. B. Sergeant Hedleys Caſe. Cro. 1. part 59, 60.

4. A. Clerk of the Chancery was ſued in the Common Plea, in Debt to the Outlawry, he ſued a Superſedeas to the Sheriff quia improvide, and afterwards ſued a Writ of Priviledge directed to the Juſtices of the Common Pleas, reciting the Priviledge of the Chancery

Chancery, requiring them to ſurceaſe; But the Priviledge was diſallowed, becauſe the Court was ſeiſed of the Plea by the Act of the Defendant himſelf; for inaſmuch as he ſued the Superſedeas quia Improvide, he had attorned the Juriſdiction of the Court, for every Superſedeas quia Improvide, recites an appearance in Court; but if he had not ſued forth ſuch Writ, notwithſtanding Exigent was awarded, the Priviledge ſhould have been allowed him. Paſc. 24. H. 8. Dyer 33, 34.

5. A. Receiver General of the Queens Revenues of the Crown in the County of W. being ſued to the Exigent in an Action of Debt in the Common Pleas, brought a Writ of Priviledge out of the Exchequer, directed to the Juſtices of the Common Pleas, in hæc verba, viz. Quia datum eſt nobis intelligi. That A. B. and his Wife, Edmundum Hunt generoſum, Receptorem noſtrum generalem revenc. Coronæ noſtræ, in Com. W. coram vobis per nomen E. H. nuper de London generoſum trahant in placitum, Quo minus ideo E. H. nobis de revenſionibus predict. ſatisfacere valeat in noſtri damnum, & revenſionum predict. ſolutionis retardationem; Nos volentes Prærogativam noſtram ſervare illæſam, Vobis Præcipimus ne placitum predict. nec aliquod aliud placitū verſus predict' E. H. ad ſectam aliorum quorumcunque tenenc'. &c. But this Writ of Priviledge was not allowed by the Court; by which it appeareth, That a Receiver ſhall not have the Priviledge of the Exchequer, allowed in a Suit brought againſt him in another Court. M. 16. Eliz. Dyer in Co. B. 328. Hunts Caſe.

6. Laſſels was taken in Execution upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum out of the Kings Bench at the Suit of the Lord Dacres, by the Sheriffs in London: Thereupon a Writ of Prærogative iſſued out of the Exchequer to have his body there, the Teſte of which Writ bore date before the Arreſt, and the return thereof was before the Capias; The Sheriffs of London brought the body of Laſſels into the Exchequer, and returned the Cauſe of the detainer of it, and upon ſhewing that the Priſoner was indebted to the Queen 100. l. the Priſoner by the Court of Exchequer was committed to the Fleet, as well for the Execution to the Lord Dacres, as for the debt due to the Queen, which he confeſſed in Court; Afterwards a Habeas Corpus came to the Warden of the Fleet to have the body of Laſſels at a day in the Kings Bench; at which day the Warden of the Fleet brought his body, and in his return ſhewed all the ſpecial matter; whereupon the Priſoner was remanded to the Priſon of the Fleet. Paſc. 3. Eliz. Dyer 197. Laſſels and the Lord Dacres Caſe. See Coke 1. part, Inſtitutes 131. and ſee that ſo it was adjudged in M. 5. Car. in the Exchequer: In the Lady Sands Caſe.

7. P. a Clerk of the Chancery married a woman who was Executrix to her Husband: In Debt brought againſt them in the Common Pleas; The Husband brought a Writ of Priviledge to have removed the Action; But the Writ was diſallowed by the Juſtices, and the Defendants ruled to anſwer there, becauſe the Wife was joint [illegible] the Husband and ſhe could not [illegible] Action with ledge, and therefore not the Husband. See 34. H. 6. 29. 35. H. 6. 3. acc. And although the Book 27. H. 8. 20. was Objected, where the Caſe was, That a man brought an Action againſt the Husband, and at the Pleas returned he and his wife were Arreſted into an inferiour Court veniendo to Weſtminſter, and there the Priviledge was granted: It was ſaid by the Lord Dyer that the reaſon of that Caſe was, becauſe the Wife came in that Caſe in aid of her Husband to follow the Suit. M. 24. Eliz. in Co. B. Poles Caſe. Godbt. 10. See Dyer 377. The ſame Cate.

8. I. S. brought Debt againſt Sir Simon Fanſhaw and his Wife as Executrix to another, and ſued them to the Exigent, at the return of the Exigent Sir Simon came voluntarily into the Exchequer, and prayed his Priviledge, becauſe he was an Officer of the Exchequer: It was a Queſtion in this Caſe, If he ſhould have his Priviledge, or no, for two Cauſes: 1. Becauſe he is ſued meerly for conformity and neceſſities ſake. 3. Becauſe he demands his Priviledges at the Exigent: It was Objected, That he ought to have his Priviledge, and ſome Preſidents were ſhewed, as Paſc. 44. Eliz. in the Exchequer: James Aſhtons Caſe, who was ſervant to the Lord Treaſurer. See Ethrington and Aſhtons Caſe. Noy 68. adjudged, &c. and 21. Jac. Rott. 1211. Stantons Caſe. In both which Caſes the Husband and the Wife were ſued in the right of the Wife, and the Husband had his Priviledge, and ſo it was ſaid; It was Reſolved Hill 8. Jac. in the Exchequer in Watts and Glovers Caſe; But in the principal Caſe the whole Court was of opinion, That the Defendant ſhould not have his Priviledge, becauſe the Action was brought againſt him in Auter droit, viz. in the Right of his Wife as Executrix; but no Judgment was entred in that Caſe. Tr. 17. Car. in Co. B. Levett and Sir Simon Fanſhaws Caſe. Wilſh. 149.

9 A man brought an Action upon the Caſe of Trover and Converſion in the Exchequer: the Defendant pleaded that the Plaintiff had an Action depending for the ſame Trover in the Kings Bench: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Bill brought in the Exchequer ſhould abate, becauſe a man ſhould not be twice puniſhed for the ſame Cauſe: And Secondly, It was Reſolved, That although the firſt Action was in another Court, yet the Plea was good, becauſe it did not appear by the Pleas, whether the Plaintiff or Defendant was priviledged in the Court of Exchequer; and then by the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas. Cap. 4. which provides that No Common Pleas ſhall be holden in the Exchequer. Co. 5. part 26. Sparries Caſe. 10. A.

10. A. an Accomptant in the Exchequer to the King, was ſued in the Court of Kings Bench: Southerton Baron came into Court with his Book of Accompt the Accomptant, and that the Suit in that Court might be ſtayed: It was ſaid by Williams Juſtice, That the ſame ought not to be granted upon the prayer and Averment of the Baron only, but the ſame ought to be upon the plea and prayer of the party himſelf; and he ſaid, That in many Books it is adjudged, That without pleading and prayer of the party himſelf it could not be: Whereupon the Court demanded of Man the Secretary, How the Preſidents were; Man anſwered the Court, That by all the Preſidents, upon the Prayer and Averment of a Baron only, and without any Plea of the Party, the Court had uſed to grant the Priviledge: And ſo in the principal Caſe the Priviledge was granted by the Rule of the Court without any Plea or Prayer of the Party. M. 10. Jac. in B. R. Bolſt. 2. part 36.

11. In the Caſe of Priviledge by Priority of Suit, the Caſe was, Sir Edw. Waterhouſe was arreſted by Latitat, at the Suit of Ingram, upon a Bond of 1000 l. for the payment of 1000 l. the mony being for Land ſold to him; After the Latitat awarded the mony was brought into the Kings Bench; but before the return of it an Attachment iſſued in London againſt Sir Ed. Waterhouſe, for which he was Arreſted for divers Debts due by him, in which he ſtood bounden for D. Waterhouſe: It was prayed that the Kings Bench having the Priority of Suit, the mony might ſo be taken out of Court for Ingram the Plaintiff there: On the other ſide, on the behalf of the Creditors in the Attachment it was prayed, that the mony might not be delivered out of Court before the debts to be recovered againſt him in London be paid or ſatisfied, or he put in ſufficient Security to anſwer them their debts there recovered: It was ſaid by Williams Juſtice, That the Law and Courſe of this Court is, That if a Latitat do firſt iſſue, and an Attachment afterwards, that this Court had uſed to have the Priviledge, and are not to ſtay their proceedings by a ſubſequent Attachment; But the Court ſaid and were of Opinion, That if it be ſo as the Court is informed, that Sir Edw. Waterhouſe ſtood indebted to others ſums of mony borrowed before for him, and not paid, this 1000 l. they ſhall have to pay thoſe debts, and adviſed the matter to be examined; and the mean time ſaid it was in the power and diſcretion of this Court to keep the mony ſtill there until the Recovery in London had againſt him be ſatisfied; and not make this Court a means to ſtrip and ſtop others of their proceſs and juſt Debts. Tr. 10 Jac. in B. R. Ingram and Sir Edward Waterhouſes Caſe. Bolſt. 1. part 217, 218.

12. A Clerk of the Kings Bench ſued an Officer of the Common Pleas; he in the Common Pleas claimed his priviledg, but could not have it granted unto him; For it was ſaid by the Court, That it is a general rule, That where each of the perſons is a perſon [illegible] privilege, he who firſt claims it, viz. the Plaintiff, ſhall have it. As if an Attorney of the Common Pleas ſueth one of the Clerks of the Kings Bench, yet he of the Kings Bench ſhall not have the priviledge although the Kings Bench be the more high Court, becauſe the other is Plaintiff, and firſt claimeth it. M. 24. Eliz. in B.R. Godb. 81.

13. A man made a contract with another man when he dwelt in London; after the Contract made he went from the City of London and dwelt in the Cinque Ports; and being afterwards impleaded in the Kings Bench, he prayed his priviledge of the Cinque Ports, which is, That thoſe of the Cinque Ports ſhall not be ſued elſwhere but in the Cinque Ports, as the Book of 12. El. 4. is: The Court ſaid that that was true for any matter or cauſe ariſing in the Cinque Ports; but if a man enter into an Obligation of 1000 l. here, and then go and dwel in the Cinque Ports, perhaps to the intent that the Obligee might loſe his debt, It was adjudged, That the defendant ſhould not have the priviledge. M. 29. Eliz. in B.R. Godb. 90.

14 A. was ſued in an Action of Battery in the Common Pleas; upon Not guilty pleaded, it appeared, that the defendant and others had th own daggers at the plaintiff, and maimed him in an outragious manner; wherefore the Court adviſed the Jury to conſider as well of the fear they put him into of his life, as of the Mayhem, and give damages accordingly: The Jury being gone from the Bar, the defendant cauſed the plaintiff to be arreſted in the Kings Bench for a Battery done to him by the plaintiff before, and this was ſhewed to the Court, for which the Court was grievouſly offended with A. for they ſaid, that when a man is ſued here he ought ſafely to come and go by the priviledge of this place, without vexation elſewhere: A. ſaid he did it out of ignorance: But the Court ſaid, Ignorantia Iuris non excuſat, and commanded A. to releaſe the plaintiff of the arreſt; and alſo the Court impoſed a fine upon A. for his contempt, which he was enforced preſently to pay in Court; and the plaintiff was diſcharged of and from the arreſt. M. 29. Eliz. in Co. B. Leas Caſe. Goldesbr. 33. 34.

15. Note: A Writ of Priviledge was ſigned by all the Juſtices of the Common Pleas for G.V. a Clerk under the Cuſtos Brevium to free him from being a Souldier, reciting, That it is the Cuſtom and Priviledge of the Court, that neither the Attorneys nor Clerks of the Court ſhall be preſſed for Souldiers, nor elected to any other Offices ſine voluntate ſua, but ought to attend the ſervice of the Court: And the like Priviledge was granted to a Clerk of the Kings Bench. Tr. 1. Car. in Co. B. Venables Caſe. Cro. 1. part 8.

16. Note, It was agreed and Reſolved by the Juſtices, ſtices, That all Proceedings in an Inferiour Court, after a Writ of Priviledge delivered out of this Court are void, and Coram Non judice, and if they do award Execution thereupon, this Court will diſcharge the party out of Execution. M. 9. Jac. in Co. B. Brownlo. 2. part 101.

17. In Treſpaſs brought in the Kings Bench againſt the Defendant in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli: The Treſpaſs was layed to be done in Cornwall; The Defendant in abatement of the Action, ſet forth the Charter of King E. 1. granted to the Stannery Court, inabling the Stannery workers to plead there, and there to be impleaded in the Stannery Court, and there prayed the benefit of that Priviledge, and to have the matter tryed there: It was Reſolved, That this Court was to hold plea of this notwithſtanding their Charter; and the party being here in Cuſtodia, the Plaintiff may declare againſt him in what manner he will, and his coming in here is not inquirable, and if one be here in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli, he is not to be fetched away, and if he ſhould not anſwer here being in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli, none then could have remedy againſt him; wherefore it was ruled that the Party ſhould Anſwer. Hill 10. Jac. in *B. 2. Priviledges of the Univerſities, Parliament, London; The Crown, Embaſſadours, Clergy, and of other Perſons and Places: Where granted and allowable; Where, And of divers other things concerning Matters of Priviledge.

1. DEbt upon an Obligation made C. in the County of S. The Defendant pleaded the Priviledge of Cambridge, granted to them by Queen Elizabeth, for Scholars, Batchellors, Maſters, and their ſervants, upon Contracts made within the Univerſity; and ſhewed that the Bond was made in Cambridge, and that he was a Servant of the Scholars, viz. Bailiff of Kings Colledge within the Univerſity, and inhabiting within the Town of Cambridge, and precincts of the Univerſity, and therefore a Priviledged perſon of the ſame; But upon the Reading of the Count, It ſeemed to the Court, being a Bailiff of the Colledge, that he was not capable of that Priviledge. Tr. 13. Jac. in Co. B. Carrel and Pasks Caſe. Brownlo 1. part. 75.

2. In a Replevin, The Defendant made Conuſans as Baily to the Lord Peters, and ſhewed, That the Lord Peters was ſeiſed of the Manor of W. in the County of Eſſex, and had within the ſaid Manor a Leet of all Reſiants in W. and that the Plaintiff for not coming to the ſaid Leet was amerced, and for the Amercement he made Conuſans; And Iſſue being joyned upon the Preſcription, The Jury found that the Lord Peters, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtates, &c. have had a Leet ut ſupra; But further ſaid, That the Wardens and Scholars of New Colledge in Oxford were ſeiſed in Fee of the Manor of the Rectory of W. called Romans-Fee in W. and that they and all thoſe whoſe Eſtates, &c. have had a View of Frank pledge of all Inhabitants and Reſiants within the ſaid Manors called Romans-Fee, ſemel in anno in feſto Commemorati nis Pauli tenend. And that the Plaintiff was a Reſiant within the ſaid Manor; ſo the point intended was, Whether the Plaiutiff was a Reſiant within another Leet within the ſaid Manor, and ſo chargeable to two Leets; and whether one may have a grand Leet of all Inhabitants within the Town, and another an inferiour Leet of ſome of the Inhabitants within the ſame Town: The Court upon the opening of the Verdict, held, That foraſmuch as the Verdict hath found the Iſſue verbatim to be preciſely for the Avowant, as he pleaded it, the finding of the other matter is not material; So as the matter in Law came never in debate; and Judgment was given for the Avowant. Hill 1. Car. in Co. B. Eve and Grights Caſe. Cro. 1. part 54.

3. Ejectione firmæ of a Meſſuage in Oxford; The Defendant being Principal of Glouceſter Hall, pretended, that he being a Scholar, and a priviledged perſon, ought to be ſued before the Vice-Chancellor in Oxford, Secundum morem Univerſitatis, according to the Charters granted to the Univerſity; By which they had Conuſans of all Contracts, Covenants, Leaſes (excepting Free-hold:) It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Vice-Chancellor had not Juriſdiction, nor might hold plea in this Caſe at Bar; for that in this Caſe the Plaintiff ſhall recover poſſeſſion, and have a Writ of habere facias poſſeſſionem; and thereby he who hath a Freehold may be put out of poſſeſſion; But if the Action had been an Action of Covenant, or upon a Contract in which he ſhould have recovered damage, only there it had been otherwiſe, and the Priviledge might have been allowed. M. 3. Car. in Co. B. Hall ys Caſe. Cro. 1. part 62.

4 D. being ſued in the Kings Bench prayed his Priviledge, becauſe he is a Commoner in Exeter Colledge in Oxford, and brought Letters under the Seal of the Chancellor of Oxford, certifying the Priviledge, which Certificate was, That D. was a Commoner, as appeareth by the Certificate of Dr. Prideaux, Rector of the ſaid Colledge. The Certificate was by the Court diſallowed, becauſe it was not certified that he was a Commoner there upon the knowledg of the Chancellor; for a Certificate that another did certifie him was held not to be good in this Caſe. The Declaration came in Hill. 2. Car. A new Certificate was procured and returned in the Vacation, and he prayed his Priviledg in Eaſter Terme, it was objected, that after Imparlance he came too late to pray his Priviledg, and it is not that at the time of the Action brought he was a Commoner in Exeter Colledg, but that now he is; and he ought to have ſaid, that at the time of the Action brought, and now, he is a Commoner; But notwithſtanding theſe Objections the Priviledg was granted Per Curiam. Paſ. 3. Car. in B. R. Fryer and Dewes. Godbert. 404.

5. The Caſe in the Admiralty, between Samuel Pallagii, and the Spaniſh Embaſſador, was this. Samuel Pellagii had taken at Sea, Jure Belli, a Spaniſh Ship and 16 Chaſts of Sugar; He came into England & ſold to ſome Engliſh Merchants them, againſt whom, and the ſaid Samuel, the Spaniſh Embaſſador libelled in the Court of Admiralty for the ſaid Sugars: Samuel Pellagii pretended that he was an Embaſſador, ſent to the State of the united Provinces to Treat, and they did Treat with him; after which he did take the ſaid Spaniſh Ship; and whether this was taken as a lawful prize, was the queſtion in the Court of Admiralty; This caſe was referred to the Judges at Law, for their opinion therein: To whom it appeared, that this Pellagii was a Jew who took the Spaniſh Ship, The Spaniſh Embaſſador deſired that he might be tried by the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 15. The Civilians ſhewed what Priviledges he had as an Embaſſador to the King of Morroco, and that jure natura he ought not to be puniſhed for Criminal matters, as upon penal Statutes. But it was Reſolved, that if he offend contra jus gentium, then he might be proceeded againſt as a Pirat; wherefore the Juſtices Certified to the King their opinion, that he could but be tried here as a Pirate: Whereupon Pellagii prayed a Prohibition to the Admiralty. A ſentence there being given for the Spaniſh Embaſſador: But the Prohibition was denied by the whole Court, for that then there was no remedy for him. M. 13. Jac in B. R. Samuel Pellagii and the Spaniſh Embaſſadors Caſe Baſil. 3. part. 28. 29.

6. A member of Parliament ſhall have Priviledge of Parliament, not only for himſelfe and his ſervants but for his Horſes and other goods diſtrainable, and Priviledges of Parliament doth hold in all Caſes, except it be in Treaſon, Felony and breach of the Peace: See the Priviledges of Parliament. Coke 4. part. Inſtitutes. Title Parliament. 24. 25.

7. Debt was brought upon an Obligation, the Condition was, that if A. would render him ſelfe to an arreſt in ſuch a place, &c. The defendant pleaded, that by Priviledge of Parliament thoſe of the Parliament & their ſervants ought not to be arreſted by the ſpace of 40 daies before the Parliament, nor ſitting the Parliament, nor 40 daies after. And ſets forth, that A. was a ſervant to ſuch a man of the Parliament at ſuch a time ſo as he could not render himſelfe to be arreſted; upon which it was demurred: It was the opinion of the whole Court for the plaintiff: for that A. might render himſelfe: and then let it be at their peril, if they will arreſt him. 1. Tr. 4 Jac. in Co. B. Jackſon and Kirtons Caſe. Brownlo. 1. part. 91. 92.

8. Clergy men, or men of the Church, have the Priviledg, that they ought not appear at the Sheriffs tourne, or at the Leet, without there be great Cauſe, and if they be diſtreined to come to them, they may have a Writ out of the Chancery for their diſcharge: and all Clerks within Orders, although they have not Benefices, yet they have the like Priviledges; the reaſon is; to the end they may attend their function. See F. B. 160.

9. Note; It was ſaid by Coke, Chief Juſtice, That by Priviledge Prieſts were not to be arreſted by the Common Law, and that he had ſeen a Report in the time of Queen Mary grounded upon the Statutes of 50. E. 3. cap. 5. & 1. H. 2. cap. 15. concerning the arreſting of them in Holy Church; which Statutes are but an affirmance of the Common Law, and the maintenance of the liberties of the Church; in which Caſes, it was holden, that eundo, redeundo, morando for to Celebrate Divine Service, the Prieſt ought not to be arreſted, nor any who attended him in it; and that in ſuch caſe, the party grieved might have an Action upon the ſaid Statute of 50. E. 3. againſt him who arreſted him, for that when any thing is prohibited by an Act of Parliament, although that Act doth not give an Action, yet an Action lieth upon it. Tr. 10. See Jac. Coke 11. part. 100. acc.

10. In Debt, the plaintiff declared; That I. S. was bounden in a Recognizance to him of 200 li. before the Mayor and Aldermen of London in Interiori Camera de Guildhall London; upon which Recognizance the plaintif heretofore brought a ſcire facias before the Mayor in Exteriori Camera, and he had Judgment to recover; upon which recovery he had brought his Action; upon this the defendant did demur in Law, becauſe in ſetting forth the Recognizances, he hath not alledged, that the Mayer of London hath authority by preſcription, or grant for to take Recognizances and if he hath not then it is void: and the Statute of Weſt. cap. 49 cannot be taken to extend to Recogniſances taken in London. 2. Becauſe the Recognizance was taken in Interiori Camera, and the Court was holden in Exteriori Camera; and therefore not purſuant: But the opinion of the whole Court was for the plaintif: For the Court ſaid, we know, That thoſe of London have a Court of Record, and every Court of Record hath an Authority incident to it, to take Recognizances for all things which concern cerne the juriſdiction of the ſaid Court, and which do ariſe by reaſon of matters there depending; to admit that the Court had not Juriſdiction to take Recognizances: yet becauſe that in the Scire facias upon it, the defendant did not take advantage of it, the the ſame is not void, but voidable: and the party in impleading hath admitted of it. It was adjudged for the plaintiff. Hill. 29. Eliz. in Co. B. Hollingſhead and Kings Caſe. Leon. 284.

11. Tenant in taile after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct in the reſpect of the privity of his eſtate hath theſe Priviledges incident to his eſtate which the Law alloweth not to a bare Tenant for life: as 1. He is diſpuniſhable for waſte. 2. He ſhall not be compelled to attorn. 3. He ſhall not have aid of him in the Reverſion. 4. Upon his alienation, no writ of Conſimili Caſu lieth. 5. After his death no writ of intruſion lieth. 6. He may join the Miſer in eſpecial manner in a Writ of right. 7. In a Precipe brought by him, he ſhall not name himſelfe Tenant for life. 8. In a Precipe brought againſt him, he ſhall not be named Tenant for life; But yet ſuch a Tenant hath but 4. Qualities agreeable to an eſtate for life. For 1. If he maketh a feoffment it is a forfeiture of his eſtate. 2. If an eſtate in taile, or in Fee deſcendeth to him, his former eſtate is drowned. 3. He in the revertion ſhall be received, upon his default, and 4. An Exchange between him and Tenant for life is good. Coke 11. part. 8. in Bowls Caſe. Coke. 1. 1. part. Inſtitutes. 27. and 28.

12. Tenant in taile after poſſibility granted over his eſtate; In that caſe, the graunter was forced to attorne in a Quid juris clamat; becauſe by aſſignment of his eſtate that Priviledg was loſt. M. 29 Eliz. Events Caſe. 2. Judg Vouch. in Coke. 11. part. 83. in Bowls Caſe.

13. If there be Tenant for life the reverſion over in Fee, if waſte be committed by Tenant for life, if after the waſte, he in the Reverſion granteth over his Reverſion, although that he taketh back the whole eſtate againe, yet his Priviledge as to have, an Action of Waſte is diſtroyed; and ſo it is, if he grant the Reverſion to the uſe of himſelfe, and his wife, the waſte is puniſhable; becauſe the eſtate of the Reverſion continueth not but is altered; and the Action of waſte, for the waſtes done before, which conſiſted in privity is gone. Coke 1. part. Inſtitutes. 53. acc.

14. An Attorny of the Court of the Kings Bench was elected Tithing man of the Town of F. in which Town the Cuſtome was pretended to be; That every one ſhould be Conſtable or Tithing man according to their ſeveral houſes and he having purchaſed ſeven houſes in the ſaid Town was in a Leet there choſen Tithingman. He brought a Writ of Priviledg to be diſcharged; becauſe he was an Attorney of this Court; It was prayed, That the Writ might not be allowed, for although in truth Attornies and Clerks in Courts have ſuch a Priviledg to be diſcharged when they are generally elected; yet when there is a ſpecial Cuſtome that they ſhall be elected Courſes that Cuſtome ought to be preferred before ſuch Priviledg. It was the opinion of the Court, That it cannot be a good Cuſtome, becauſe of their attendance here, they ſhall not be compelled to attend ſuch an Office; Alſo it cannot be a good Cuſtome. For then a Woman Inhabitant of the ſaid Town in one of the ſaid houſes it might be her Courſe to be a Conſtable, which the Law doth not permit; and ſo it was adjudged, That this Cuſtome could not prevaile againſt a perſon who by his Office is to attend here in Court, whereupon it was Ordered, That he ſhould be diſcharged. M. 10 Car. in B. R. Prowſes Cro. 1. par. 183.

15. A. Juror did ſurmiſe at the barre, That he was a Tenant in Ancient Demeſne, and had his Charter in his hand; and by reaſon thereof prayed to be exempted from being one of the Jury, and to be diſcharged by Priviledge: But the Court did not regard it, but caſt him to be ſworn, for that he might have his remedy againſt the Sheriff who returned him; and in that caſe it was ſaid, That if he had made default and loſt Iſſues, he might ſhew his Charter in the Exchequer, upon the Amercement eſtreated, and there he ſhould be diſcharged. Paſc. 31. Eliz. in Co. B. Mills & Snowballs Caſe. Leon. 207.

16. Information by Sr Thomas Walker, Chiefe Butler of the King, againſt Frances H. widdow for the detaining of Priſage; and ſhewed, That the King was ſeiſed in Fee of the Ancient duty called Priſage, which is of every ſhip of all merchants Aliens or Denizens containing 10 Tunns of Wine, to have for Priſage one Tunne: and if it contained 20 more, viz. unum ante dolcum, and the other deorſum: and ſhewed, That 28. No. 5. Ja. with two ſhips laden which wines of the goods of G. H. the defendants husband did arrive in the Port of London: and that in theſe two Ships were 24 Tunne of Wine; and afterwards two other Ships did arive, whereupon 8 Tunnes of Wine was required of the defendant, and that She not ignorant of the premiſſes, ſeeking the Kings diſinheritance refuſed to deliver them: The defendant for plea ſaid, That true it is, that the four ſhips which cannot did arrive in the Port of London, two of which Ships did arive in the life of her husband, and two after his death, and that her husband was poſſeſſed of theſe goods ut de bonis proprijs, and made her his Executrix and died: and pleaded the Charter of diſcharge of Priſage, made 6 mencii. 1. E. 3. to the Maior, Cominalty, and Citizens of London; viz. Quod de vinis Civium nulla priſa fiat; ſed perpetuum inde eſſet quieti abſque hoc, that theſe were her own goods, but only as Executrix of her late husband, with an averment that her husband was Civis et Liberhomo de Civitate London: Upon which plea, it was demurred in Law; the Queſtion in this Caſe was, if this Priviledg did lie, for the wife, as it was pleaded; This Caſe was very long depending and learnedly debated; and many Presidents and Books Cases on both sides shewed and produced. But at last it was the opinion and resolution of the whole Court, That in the Principal Case G. H. was a compleat Citizen in every respect, and so continued till his death; and that these wines remaining in the hands of his wife the defendant were bona Civium; and so within the Charter of discharg, to be freed from the paiment of Prisage. Pasc. 9. Jac in B R. Rott. 163 The Kings and St Thomas Walter, and Frances Hangers Case. Bulst 3. part. 1. to 26.

17. Debt upon an escape by an Attorny of the Common pleas by Attachment of Privilege, against the Deputy Marshal of the Kings Bench, The defendant pleaded his Privilege, viz. that he was deputy Marshall, and he ought not to be sued in other Court then in the Kings Bench, according to the Ancient Customs and Jurisdiction of that Court, upon which plea the plaintiff demurred: It was adjudged in this Case, that the defendant should not have his Priviledg, and the reason was, because the plaintiff was an Attorny, and ought to have his Priviledg in the Common Pleas; and because also that Court was first possessed of the suit; and the possessory shall be preferred, because melior est possessio possidentis. As to the Attendance of the Clerk was more necessary, then of the defendant, for that he may exercise his Office by a Deputy, which an Attorny or a Clerk cannot do; also the Office of the one, viz. of an Attorny is Opus Laboris, but the Office of the other is Officium Labri for that he may command the service to be done by another, and he is also to deal in Gives, Irons, and such like, and so the Office of an Attorny or Clerk of a Court is to be preferred before a Deputy Marshal of an Inferior Court; wherfore it was adjudged, That the defendant should Answer over. Tr. 7 Jac. in Co. B. Guy and St George Reynels Case. Brownl. 2. part. 267.

Privies and Privities.

Privies, or Privitie is, where a lease, or other estate is made to one to hold at Will for years for life, or if a Feoffment be made by one to others; in all these Cases, because such estates and things have passed between the said parties, they are called Privies in respect of strangers, between whom no such dealings or such like Conveyances have been made.

2. A. Leased his Land to B. for years rendring rent; the Lessee assigned over his Terme. A. brought an Action of Debt against B. for the rent behind after the Assignment; It was Objected that the Action did not lie, because the Land is the debtor and not the person, but in respect of the Land; and a difference taken between personal and real Contracts, as if a man sell his goods for mony to be paid at a day certain, although that the goods are taken away by one who hath right to them before the day, yet the seller shall have an action of debt in respect of the Contract; But if a man maketh a lease for years rendring rent, if before the day the Land be evicted by an ejectione title, the lessor shall not have an Action of debt in respect of the Contract, because it is a Real Contract and shall follow the nature of the Lands, and the rent is issuing out of the Land, and the person is not the debtor, but in respect of the Land. But in the principal Case it was Resolved, That the Action was maintainable in respect of the privity between the Lessor & the Lessee; And in this case it was Resolved, That there are three manner of Privities. 1. Of estate only, as if the lessor grant over his reversion, or if the Reversion escheate between the grantee, or Lord by Escheat or the lesser is privity in estate onely, and so between the Lessor Assignee. 2. Of Contract only is a personal privity and extends only to the person of the lessor and to the person of the lessee, as in the principal case after the assignment this privity doth remain between them, although that the privity of estate be removed, because the lessee by himself cannot prevent the lessor which the lessor hath against him by his own Contract; 3. Of an Estate and contract together as between the lessor and lessee as himselfe: and it was agreed in this Case, That if Lord and Tenant be, and the Tenant maketh a feoffment in Fee in that case, betwixt them, for arrearages due as well before the feoffment as after, without notice there is privity only as to the avowry. Coke 3. part. 23. Walkers Case.

3. Lessee for years assignes over his estate, the lessor by deed indented and enrolled bargains, and sels the reversion to another, the bargainee shall not have an Action of debt against the lessee, because there is no privity betwixt them, but in that case it was adjudged, that the lesser himselfe might have an Action of Debt against the lessee, for the rent due after the Assignment. T. 36. Eliz. in B. R Hugle and Glovers Case.

4 A. made a Lease for years, of three Acres of Lands to C. rendring Rent; C. Assigned all his estate in one Acre to another, A. suffered a common recovery to the use of B. in Fee, who brought an Action of Debt against the first Lessee. It was adjudged in that case, that the Action did well lie against him, for in as much as in that case the Lessee had assigned his estate but in part of the Land, and remained possessed as to the residue, the Action is maintainable against the Lessee for the whole Rent, for that there was not only privity of Contract betwixt them, but also privity of estate, and Contract together. 21. Eliz. Brome and Heres Case vouched, in Coke 3. part. 23. in Walkers Case.

5 Debt

5. Debt brought against two Administrators for Rent behind, after the death of the Intestate, they pleaded that before the Rent was behind one of the Administrator had assigned all his interest unto I.S. of which the plaintiff had notice, & accepted of the Rent by the hand of the Assignee before the day on which the Rents in question was due: It was adjudged in that Case, that the privity of contract as to the Action of Debt, was determined by the death of the Lessee, and therefore after the assignment debt did not lie against the Administrator, and in that Case it was adjudged, That when the Lessor hath Election to charge the Lessee or Assigner, there if he accept the Rent of the assignee he hath determined his Election, and shall not have Debt against the Lessee for Rent due after the Assignment. 41. Eliz. In Co. B. Marrow and Turpins Case adjudged.

6. The Case was, a Prebendary made a lease for years rendring Rent, and the Lesse died. The executors of the Lessee assigned over the Terme, and the successor of the Prebendary brought an Action of debt against the executors for Rent due after they had assigned the estate over. It was the opinion of three of the Justices, that the Action would not lie. But Popham Chiefe Justice held the contrary, for that the successor is privy to the Contract of his predecessor: So the Executor to the Contract of the Testator. Hill. 42. Eliz. in Co. B. Overton and Siddals Case. Goldsbr. 120.

7 Error of a Judgment in S. in debt upon a lease for years by the Assignee of a reversion; 3. Errors were Assigned: 1. For that the Court is holden by vertue of Letters Patents of Queen Mary, and the process is awarded per Consuetudinem Curiæ, which cannot be. 2. Because the Action is brought supposing a demise in S. of Lands in D. in another County: whereas it ought to be brought in the other County, being brough. upon the privity of estate, and not upon the Contract, the plaintiff being an Assignee of the Reversion; for it was said, That where the Action is brought by the Lessor upon the privity of Contract, it may be brought where the demise was made, although the Land be in another County. But where it is brought by one as Assignee of a Reversion it ought to be brought in the County where the Land lies, and not where the lease was made. 3. Because he claimes by grant of a Revertion, and doth not shew that it was by deed, and without a Deed or Fine, the Reversion cannot pass: For the 1. and 3. Errors principally the Judgment was reversed. Tr. 4. Car. in B.R. Long, and Nether Cokes Case. Cro. 1. part. 101.

8. Error of a Judgment in Co: B. The Error assigned was because Debt was brought in London by C. an Assignee of I.S. of a Reversion of Land in the County of S. upon a Lease for years of Land made in London rendring 10li per an. at the Middle Temple Church London, supposing the Lease to be made in the Parish of St Mary Bow London for two years rent behind, after the Assignment of the Reversion and attornment thereunto, whereas the Action ought to have been brought in the County of S. where the Land lies: It was [the opinion of the Court in this Case, that for as much as the privity of Contract is gone by the Assignment of the Reversion, and the attornment, and the rent followes the Land the plaintiff being entituled thereunto onely by reason of having the Land: therefore the Action ought to be brought in the County where the Land lies, and not elsewhere; the Judgment was Reversed. Pas. 6. Car. in B R. St Stephen Bard, and Cudwores Case Cro. 1. part. 133.

9. Covenant: whereas by Indenture. Testamentum existit, That the Executor of the defendant demised such a Messuage with a Garden in the Parish of St Martins in the Fields adjoyning to the plaintiffs house to the Testator for 21 yeers, the Testator Covenanted for him his Executors and Assignes, that he would not erect any building in the said Garden, to the prejudice of the parties lights: and the plaintiff assigned in facto, that such an Assignee of the Testator had erected a house in the said Garden to the prejudice of &c. The defendant pleaded that the Lessee assigned over his Terme to one I.S. who entred and paid his Rent to the plaintiff, and the plaintiff accepted him for his Tenant; whereupon it was demurred. It was objected, that the Covenant did not lie against the Executor of the Lessee; for he having assigned over his Terme, and the Lessor having accepted the Rent, the privity of Contract is determined, especially it being a Contract which concernes an Act to be executed upon the Land. But it was the opinion of the whole Court, that in as much as it was an expresse Covenant, that he shall not build, it shall binde him and his Executors, and no assignment nor acceptance of the Rent by the Lands of the Assignee shall take from him the advantage of suing him or his Executors upon an Expresse Covenant; No more, then if a Lessee had bound himselfe in an Obligation, to pay his Rent, his assignment over of his Terme and the acceptance of the Rent by the Lessor by the hands of the Assignee shall not take from him the advantage of the obligation, as it was adjudged in Bret and Camberlands Case. Pasc. 6. Car. in B. R. Batchellor and Gages Case. Car. 1. part: 136.

10. The case was, D. and another were Lessors for years by demise of the plaintiffs rendring Rent. D. assignes over his part to M. one of the defendants, the other Lesse makes his Will and thereby makes P. the other defendant his Executor, the rent is behind after the Assignment and after the death of the other Lesse, and for this Rent Debt was brought against the defendants, viz. against M. the assignee, and P. the ſecutor of the other Leſſee; It was urged, that here the defendants have devided poſſeſſions and divided Intereſts, the one of them by an aſſignment, the other as executors, and therefore they ought to be ſeverally charged with ſeveral Actions; It was the opinion of the Court, that the Action of debt is alwaies joyned upon the demiſe, the which Continues ſtill the ſame notwithſtanding any alteration made by the Tenants, and here the Court was cleere of opinion that the Action was well brought, and Judgment was given for the plaintiff, the Bailiff of Ipſwich, and Martin and Parkers Caſe. Trinit. 14. Jac. in B. R. Bulſtr. 3 part. 211.

11. The Caſe upon a Demurrer was, That the defendant being endebted to C. who died Inteſtate, adminiſtration of his goods was committed to I. S. who brought Debt and had Judgment and died before Execution. The Adminiſtration of the goods of the firſt Inteſtate was Committed to the plaintiff, who ſocke a Scire facias upon that Judgment, upon which it was demurred whether it lay or not. It was obj cted, that the duty is as a debt due to the Inteſtate, and being turned into a Judgment, the ſecond adminiſtrator ſhou'd have a ſpecial Scire facias to execute it. But it was the opinion of the Court that the Action was determined, for default of privity, and therefore he is put to begin againe. Paſc. 1. Jac. in B. R. Yare and Goughs Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 4.

12. When Lands and warranties deſcend to two Coparceners, and they make partition, and one of them is impleaded, he ſhall not vouch alone, but ſhall pray in aide of his fellow, and ſo ſhall put themſelves in repreſentation of one heire and then vouch together: but if one Coparcener alieneth his part, and maketh default upon aide prayer, the privity is deſtroyed, and the other ſhall vouch alone; ſo if two Coparceners be, and one of them alieneth with warranty, and comes in as vouchee, now he ſhall pray in aide of his fellow, and either have pro rata upon the Leſſor, or vouch over with him upon the Warranty paramount. per. Hob. Juſtice in Sir Henry Rolls and Oſborns Caſe. Hob. 25. 26.

13. In Homage Auncetrel Continuance of blood on the Lords ſide is not alwayes neceſſary; For an Abbot, Prior, Biſhop, or the like may be Lord by Homage Anceſtrial, but yet there ought to be privity of ſucceſſion time out of minde in one and the ſame politique bodie, for if that body be once diſſolved, though a new one be founded of the ſame name, and all the poſſeſſions be granted to them, yet the Homage Auncetrial is gone and determined; But yet if a Prior and Covent be tranſlated (concurrentibus his quæ in lege requiruntur) to an Abbot and Covent, or to a Dean and Chapter; in that Caſe, becauſe the privity is preſerved, the Homage Auncetrial doth remain, for although the name be changed, yet the body is never diſſolved, but in effect doth continue ſtill. Coke. par. 1. Inſtitutes 102.

14. If Lands be let to a man for life, the remainder for life, the remainder in Fee and the Tenant for life alieneth in Fee, and he in the remainder for life make continual claime before the dying ſeiſed of the alienee, and afterwards the alienee dieth ſeiſed, and then he in the remainder dieth before any entry made by him; In this Caſe he in the remainder in Fee ſhall take advantage of the continual claime made by the Tenant in remainder for life, and may enter upon the heir of the alienee becauſe the right of entre which the Tenant for life in remainder had gained by his entre ſhall go to him in the remainder in Fee in reſpect of the privity of the eſtate; and ſo it is alſo of him in the Reverſion in Fee in the like caſe, becauſe he is alſo privie in eſtate. Coke 1. part. Inſtitutes. 252.

15. Husband and Wife are ſeiſed of Lands to the uſe of them and the heires males of the bodie of the husband, the remainder in Fee to another, the husband acknowledgeth a Fine of the Land in Fee, and a Stranger Recovers the Land againſt the Conuſees, who voucheth the husband only and he voucheth over the Common vouchee, and Judgment and ſeiſin are given, the wife being ſtill alive; It was adjudged that this recovery ſhould bind the remainder, for that here was a Lawful Tenant to the Precipe; and although that the husband who had the eſtate taile was vouched only, and not the wife who had a joint eſtate with him, yet it was holden that he coming in as vouchee comes in privity of the eſtate taile, and not of any other eſtate and then the recovery in value gives recompence, both to the eſtate taile which the husband hath, as alſo to the remainder, or becauſe although by the fine the eſtate taile as alſo the eſtate of the wife, and of the remainder were all diveſted or diſcontinued, yet the husband as vouchee ſhall be in Judgment of Law in of his eſtate taile; and that in reſpect of the privitie. Coke. 3. part. 6. in Coppledicks Caſe.

16. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee holden in ſocage deviſed the ſame to his baſtard daughter and her heires and died, the daughter within age by deed made a Feoffment of the ſaid Lands and died without Iſſue within age; and it was reſolved in this Caſe, that where Lord and an infant Tenant are, and the infant maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and executes the ſame by livery of his hand and dieth without heire, that the Lord ſhall not take advantage of the eſcheat in that caſe and in that caſe, it was further reſolved. 1. That privies in blood inheritable, as general heir, ſpecial heir, or as general or ſpecial heir, ſhall take advantage of the Infancy of his Anceſtor, and may enter upon a Feoffment made by their Anceſtors. 2. Reſolved, that privies in eſtate (if not in ſpecial Caſes) ſhall not take advantage of the Infancie of another, as if two Jointenants be in Fee with in age, and the one maketh Feoffment of his moyetie and dieth, the ſurvivor cannot enter for the Infancy of his Companion, for by the Feoffment the Jointure was severed so long as the Feoffment remained in force, and the Heir of the Feoffor shall have non fuit infra ætatem, or shall enter into the Moity; But if they both joyn in the Feoffment, a joynt Right remains in them, and there if one dieth the Right shall survive, and the Survivor shall have the Right as from the first Feoffor. 3. Resolved, That Privies in Law as the Lord by Escheate shall never take advantage of the Infancy, because he is a Stranger to him; and when an Infant dyeth without Heir, the Feoffment is unavoidable. 4. It was Resolved, That if the Estate of the Infant had been upon a Condition to be performed by the Infant, and the Condition had been broken, during his minority, that the Land had been lost for ever: And Lastly it was Resolved in the principal Case, That forasmuch as it doth appear that the Feoffment made by the Infant was executed by Attorney, that the same was void; and that the Land should Escheate to the King. Coke 8. part 42. Whittinghams Case.

17. If a man be Outlawed in a personal Action, &c. and brings his Writ of Error, If he at whose Suit he was Outlawed will plead against him a Release of all Actions personal, this seems to be no Plea, because in the Action he shall recover nothing in the personality but only to reverse the Outlawry; But yet in that Case a Release of the Writ of Error is a good Plea; for although the Plaintiff in the Writ of Error is to recover or to be restored to nothing against the party, Yet forasmuch as the Plaintiff in the former Action is privy to the Record, a Release of Error to him is sufficient to bar the Plaintiff of the Suit and vexation by the said Writ of Error. Coke 1. part Institutes 289.

18. In a Writ of Errour to reverse an Outlawry, the Case was, W. I. seised in the Fee of the Manor of S. in the County of K. had Issue H. I. who was Indicted of Felony, 18. Eliz. and 19. Eliz. the Record of the Incictment was brought into this Court, and thereupon 20. Eliz. H. I. was Outlawed: W. I. dyed seised. H. I. entred into the Manor and Land as Son and Heir; and being seised of the same, conveyed the same to B. who brought a Writ of Errour to reverse the Outlawry of H. I. and whether the Feoffee of the Land might maintain a Writ of Errour to reverse an Attainder of Outlawry, was the Question: It was Objected in this Case, That it is not always necessary that he who brings the Writ of Error be party to the Record; but if he be grieved by the Record, that in that Case he shall have a Writ of Error: as a Scire facias is a Judicial Writ founded upon a Record, and hath as much in Privity as Error, and yet a Stranger to the Record shall have it: And 16. H. 7. The Heir of the Purchaser brought a Scire facias to execute a fine, and it was allowed, because he was the party grieved; and Tr. 34. Eliz. Sharrington and Worsleys Case was avouched, which was, Sharrington did recover against Worsley in Debt, who aliened the Land to Charnock: Afterwards an Elegit was awarded upon the Roll, and Charnock brought Error, and it was admitted good, and Sharrington forced to plead to it; But in the principal Case, the Opinion of the Court seemed to be, That the Writ of Error brought by the Feoffee to reverse the Attainder would not lye; For if the Feoffee should bring a Writ of Error and reverse the Judgment he must restore the Heir in blood, and none can do that but he who is privy in blood, and that is the Heir, and not the Feoffee: And Note, It hath been adjudged, That an Executor could not reverse an Attainder by Outlawry in felony, because it doth restore the blood; and in this Case it was said, The Case of Sharrington and Charnock, was to reverse the Execution, and not to reverse the Judgment: The principal Case was not now Adjudged but Adjorned. Pasc. 3. Car. in B. R. Brookers Case. Godbt. 375.

19. Note, It was Resolved in Coke 9. part, in Margaret Podgers Case (amongst other things) That if Lessee for years, or a Copy-holder be ousted, and the Lessor or Lord disseised, and the Disseisee levieth a Fine, and five years passe, that the Lessor or Lord are barred by the first Saving of the Act of 4. H. 7. because they may presently have a new Action, and recover the Land, and if five years pass before entry or claim, they shall be barred: And in that Case, It was also Resolved, That a meer stranger of his own wrong cannot enter in the name of him who hath right to avoid the Fine without a Commandant precedent, or Assent subsequent within the five years: But he who hath the Reversion, or the Lord of the Manor, may enter in the name of the Lessee, or his Copyholder, as well for the saving of their Inheritances as the particular Estates, because that they are Privies in Estate, and that they may do without Request precedent, or Assent subsequent, and the same is a lawful Entry within the Statute. Coke 4. part 106. in Margaret Podgers Case.

20. Husband and Wife by Indenture make a Lease for years by the words Demise, and the Lessee Covenants for him, his Executors and Administrators, that he, his Executors, Administrators or Assigns, to build a brick Wall upon the Land Demised; The Lessee assigns over his Term, and for not making the Brick Wall, a Writ of Covenant was brought against the Assignee: In this Case these Points (among others) were Resolved. 1. That when a Covenant extends to a thing in esse parcel of the Demises, the same shall bind the Assignee although he be not bound by express name; but when the Covenant extends to a thing which is not in esse at the time of the Demise made, that shall bind the Lessee, his Executors and Administrators, but not the Assignee. 2. Resolved, That if a man Demiseth a Stock of Cattle, or any other goods perſonal for a time, and the Leſſee covenanteth for him and his Aſſignes, at the end of the Term to leave ſuch Stock or goods, or ſuch a price for them, and the Leſſee aſſigne and grant the Cattle, &c. This Covenant ſhall not bind the Aſſignee becauſe it is a perſonal Contract only, and there wants Privity; but the ſame ſhall bind his Executors and Adminiſtrators. Coke 5. part 17. Spencers Caſe.

21. Note, It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That if a Rent be reſerved upon a Gift made in Frank-marriage, that the ſame is void during the four Degrees; but afterwards the Reſervation ſhall be good: And in ſuch Caſe, If the Donor grant the Reverſion over, and the Donee in Frank-mariage returns: Now in this Caſe he ſhall pay his Rent to the Grantee, for that he hath loſt the Privilege of Frank-marriage, viz. the Acquittal: and alſo there is no Privity betwixt the Grantee and the Donor. Paſc. 25. Eliz. in Co. B. In Webb and Potters Caſe. Godb. 19.

Procedendo.

1. Where, and in what Cauſe, and in what Action, and when, Procedendo ſhall be Awarded; And where, and in what not.

1. NOte, by all the Juſtices of both Benches; That if any Officer, Clerk, or Attorney of any of the four Ordinary Courts of Juſtice at Weſtminſter, who ought to be attendant to the Court be arreſted in London, or in any other place at the time of his Attendance, he ſhall have a Writ of Priviledge with a flat Superſedeas in it; in which Caſe the no Procedendo ſhall be awarded to the inferior Court, if he may purſue in the Court where he is attendant. Hill 12. Eliz. Dyer 288.

2. A Writ of Right was brought in the Court of Ancient Demeſne, and the Plaintiff made Proteſtation to ſue there in nature of a Writ of Right at the Common Law; The Tenant joined the Miſe upon the mere Right, and upon that removed the Record by Accedas ad Curiam; but the opinion of the Court was, that that was no Cauſe, and therefore a Procedendo was awarded to the Bailiffs. Hill 2. Ma. Dyer 112. Sir Humphrey Staffords Caſe.

3. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Defendant prayed in Aid of the Queen, becauſe the Reverſion, after the Term which he claimed, was to the Queen by Attainder of the Earl of Northumberland, and the Aid was granted, and in the Chancery the Defendant prayed Search for the Queen: After long Argument it was Reſolved, That he ſhould not have Search, for that no damage ſhall be to the Queen; and it was ſaid by the Court, that it had not been ſeen, That Search ſhould be in the Aide-prayer upon only a Petition of Writ; and thereupon a Procedendo was awarded, but not to proceed to Judgment, Regia inconſulta. M. 15. Eliz. Dyer 320.

4. Treſpaſs was brought againſt two: The Defendants ſeverally claimed to have Common in the place where an Appendant to the Manor of D. whereof they were ſeveral Tenants, which Manor was holden of the King as of his Dutchy of Lancaſter, by Knights Service, and which was in ward to the King by the Nonage of the Heirs, which Wardſhip the King had granted to one of the Defendants under the great Seal of the Dutchy, rendring 20 l. per annum; and he prayed in Aid of the King, and had Aid by the words Penes Dominum Regem: And afterwards a Procedendo was granted out of the Chancery in the Name of the King, and not ut Dux Lancaſtriæ, directed to the Juſtices of the Common Pleas, ad Procedendum in Loquela, ſed non ad judicium, Rege inconſulto: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of both Benches, That by the Nonage of the King, E. 6. of Lands of the Dutchy was good, and not voidable by the Nonage of the ſaid King; becauſe they paſſed from his perſon as King, and not as Dutchy, and therefore the Procedendo awarded in the name of the King and not Dutchy was good; for by the Name of King the name of Dutchy was drowned, and he might not be a Sovereign and a Subject. M. 4 Eliz. Dyer 209.

5. Dower brought by Eliz. M againſt N. and others, who vouched to Warranty as Tenants for life; T. M. as Son and Heir of her Husband the Demandant, being within age, and in Ward to the King, by reaſon of Ward of one I. S. alſo within age, and in Ward of the Queen by reaſon of a Tenure in Capite; and ſhewed the Deed of the Husband of the Demandant of the Demiſe for life, with Warranty againſt him and his Heirs, and prayed in Aid of the King, and had it: and now came a Procedendo in placito predict. ac in redditione juſticii in eodem placito cum ea cæteritate, &c. The Court doubted what to do; but after good advice judgment was given for the Demandant, that ſhe ſhould recover againſt the Tenants, and they over in value againſt the Heirs: Afterwards a Writ of Error was brought, and Errour aſſigned only in a Diſcontinuance meane betwixt the removing of the Record for the Aid, and the Procedendo; but the Errour was not allowed, becauſe the parties had no day in Court. M. 9. Eliz. Dyer 256. Michael and Netherlacs Caſe.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe brought in London becauſe the Defendant called the Plaintiffs Wife Whore;

Where, and the Defendant removed the ſame into the Kings Bench by Habeas Corpus, It was moved for a Procedendo, becauſe the Action was maintainable in London for the ſame words, and not at the Common Law: But the Procedendo was denyed by the whole Court; and it was ſaid, That ſuch Cuſtome to maintain brabling words was againſt Law. Tr. 41. Eliz. in B. R. Coke 4. part 18. Oxford and Croſſes Caſe. See M. 9. Car. in B. R. Harts Caſe. Cro. 1. part 155. acc.

7. An Act of Common Councel was made in London, That if any Citizen, Freeman or Stranger, put any Broad-Cloth to ſale within the City before it be brought to Blackwell Hall to be viewed and ſtretched, and Hallage be paid for the ſame, viz. for every Cloth 1. d. that he ſhould forfeit for every Cloth 6. 1. 8. d. And it was Ordained, That for that the Chamberlain of London have an Action of Debt; and becauſe the Defendant broke the Ordinance Debt was brought in London; and after that it was removed per Corpus cum Cauſa into the Kings Bench, and afterwards upon long debate and advice, a Procedendo was awarded, For it was Reſolved, That divers Statutes being made for the making of woollen Clothes, and to avoid deceit in them; That ſuch an Ordinance being made for the better Obſervation and Examination of the ſaid Laws, and to prevent frauds, was good and allowable by the Law, and the Procedendo was awarded. M. 33. Eliz. in B. R. Coke 5. part 62. The Chamberlain of London's Caſe.

8. In Dower, the Caſe was, Grand-father, Father and Son; the Grand-father held of the King, the Father took a Wife, the Grand-father dyed; the Father had Iſſue and dyed before Office found, and before any Entry; and afterwards an Office was found for the King, that the Grand-father was ſeized, and dyed ſeized, and held of the King, who had Iſſue the Heir within age, by force of which the King ſeized the Ward, and committed him durante minore ætate. The Wife of the Father brought a Writ of Dower againſt the Committee: In this Caſe it was holden, that the Wife ſhould have her Dower againſt the Committee, and ſhould not be endowed in the Chancery, for that the King had nothing after he had committed the Heir, but that Livery ſhould be ſued by the Heir out of the Kings Hands: And it was ſaid, that in this Caſe, the Committee ſhould be Guardian in fact, and therefore the Action ſhould be brought againſt him, and he ſhould have Aid of the King; and ſo the King ſhall be made Party to ſave his own Right, which he hath by the Graunt quamdiu in manibus noſtris fore Contingeris: and when the Aide was granted, the Wife ſhall ſue forth a Procedendo out of the Chancery, and there the Right of the King ſhall be ſaved; and before the Procedendo be granted, ſhe ſhall be ſworn in the Chancery as if ſhe had been Endowed in the Chancery; But if ſhe have no Right, the King will grant a Procedendo in that Caſe. Poſt. 1. H. 7. 17, 18, and 19.

9. In an Action upon the Caſe for words, viz. Thou art a Whore, and a Two-penny Whore: Upon a Habeas Corpus, a Procedendo was awarded by one of the Juſtices, becauſe he was informed it was a good Cauſe of Action in London by the Cuſtome, for they puniſh ſuch perſons there by Cutting and Whiping: It was now moved for a Superſedeas; It was prayed that no Superſedeas might be granted, for that an Action lies there for the words; and it is an offence puniſhable at the Wardmote Enqueſt, and there puniſhable; ſo being puniſhable there, it was reaſon ſhe ſhould have her Action there: And Tr. 8. Car. was vouched where ſuch a Cauſe being removed by Habeas Corpus, a Procedendo was awarded; It was the opinion of all the Court but Barkley, Juſtice, that no Superſedeas be granted; But whereas it was alledged, That by the Statute of 21. Jac. that after a Procedendo is granted that no Superſedeas ought to be awarded, the Court denyed that, for when a Procedendo unduly, or Improvide emanavit, the uſe is to grant a Superſedeas. M. 13. Car. in B. R. Bower and Coopers Caſe. Cro. 1. part 350. See Oxfords Caſe before contr.

10. Note, If the Judges of any Court (as well of Record as other) do delay the party Plaintiff or Defendant, and will not give Judgment for him when they ought to do it: In ſuch Caſe the party grieved may have a Writ de Procedendo ad judicium, directed to ſuch Judges or Juſtices, and thereupon an alias and Pluries, if they will not proceed to give Judgement; and after that an Attachment (if they pleaſe) directed to the Coroners, returnable into the Kings Bench or the Common Pleas. See Fitz. N. B. 153. acc.

11. In Debt the Caſe was, a Plaint of Debt being affirmed in Norwich, an Habeas Corpus was awarded to bring the body and Cauſe before the Lord Popham, Chief Juſtice, bearing date the 19th. day of June, which was the laſt day of the Term, and he thereupon accepted Bail; After the Bail accepted and filed, Procedendo was awarded, Dated the laſt day of the ſaid Term; and thereupon they proceeded, and Judgment was given: And whether the Sheriffs were diſcharged or charged with the Priſoner, was the Queſtion: It was Reſolved, That the Sheriffs are diſcharged; for when a Writ of Habeas Corpus is returned, and Bail accepted, although they be not filed, yet the Priſoner is diſcharged, and his Sureties alſo in the inferiour Court; and although afterwards a Procedendo bearing date the ſame 19th. of June, (as of neceſſity it muſt, being a Judicial Proceſs to bear Teſt ſome days within the Term) Yet the Sureties and Sheriffs are diſcharged, and he may proceed againſt the Party as if he had not been impriſoned, and not otherwiſe. Tr. 5. Jac. in *B. 12. A Bayliff ſhewed that a Leaſe was made to F. his Maſter for life, the remainder to the King in Fee, and prayed in aide of the King. The plaintiff in the Chancery prayed a Procedendo. It was ruled in that Caſe, that a Procedendo ſhould not be granted without examination of the Kings Title. 8. H. 7. 11.

13. If the Chaplain of a Chauntry being an Aſſiſe of Novil diſſeiſin againſt another Chaplain for Lands, and the defendant claimeth the ſame Chauntry by the Kings Collation, and prayeth in aide of the King. If the defendant cannot ſhew title the Chancery for the King, the plaintiff may have a Procedendo directed to the Juſtices of the Aſſiſe, that they proceed to the taking of the Aſſiſe, notwithſtanding the allegation made of the Kings Collation, and he may ſue the like Writ, where the defendant doth pray in aide of the King in an Aſſiſe by the Kings grant, and hath it granted, if he cannot ſhew matter in the Chancery which proves the Kings title, the plaintiff may have Procedendo, Fitz. N.B. See in the Writ de Procedendo ad Judicium. acc.

14. In a prohibition to ſtay proceedings in the Court of Requeſts, the Caſe appeared to be is that Bond was entred into for the paiment of mony upon the payment of which the Teſtator did promiſe to deliver up the Bond to be cancelled, the mony was paid, but the Bond not delivered up, the Teſtator died, Afterwards the Obligor ſued in the Court of Requeſts againſt the Executor for reliefe in equity, and to have the Bond delivered up, the Executor ſuggeſted that he knew nothing of the payment of the mony being no waies privy thereunto, and Prayed a Prohibition, for that he had no remedy to be relieved at the Common Law, in regard, that this promiſe made by the Teſtator to deliver up the Bond was a perſonal Aſſumpſit, and therefore moritur cum perſona. In this Caſe a Procedendo was granted unto him to proceed in the Court of Requeſts, there being juſt Cauſe for him there to proceed in that Court in the Caſe. Tr. 9. Jac. in *B. R. Proces.

What Proces ſhall iſſue forth in ſeveral Actions; and upon what, and againſt whom. To whom directed, and the returne of them.

1. ONe of the Pannel was ſworn, and all the reſt of the Jurors were challenged by the defendants; he that was ſworn choſe one to him to try the Poles, afterwards the enqueſt remained for want of Hundredors and the plaintiff ſuggeſted to the Court that there were not Freeholders ſufficient within the Hundred, and therefore prayed preces to the next Hundred, but that was denied by the Court, but of that they muſt be Certified by the returne of the Sheriff. Hill. 28. H. 8. Dyer. 25.

2. In Debt brought againſt the Lord Colham they were at Iſſue, and a Venire facias was returned, ſerved, and proces continued againſt the Jury, till Diſtringas; The plaintiff preceiving the Array to be queſtuable, becauſe no knight was returned upon the Venire; he prayed a Venire facias de Novo; but the Court denied to grant it, becauſe that no other better writ could iſſue forth then the firſt. M. 10. Eliz. Dyer. 265.

3. The Citizens of Yorke, being Incorporated by King Richard the Second by the name of Mayor, Sheriffs and Citizens; They did now preſcribe, that forrain bought and forrain ſold have time out of mind wares been ſaleable by the Mayor Sheriffs and Citizens, whereas before the yeer of Rich. 2. They were Mayor, Bayliffs, and Citizens, and being at Iſſue upon the Preſcription, a Venire facias was prayed to the Sheriff of the County, which the Court granted for that the Officers of the City were Citizens. M. 11. Eliz. Dyer. 280.

4. The plaintiff upon Iſſue joyned in an Ejectione firmæ ſuggeſted to the Court, that the Sheriff and the Leſſor of the plaintiff who was named in the Declaration were Coſens, and ſhewed how Coſens, and thereupon prayed a Venire facias to the Coroner it was the opinion of the Court, that that was a Challenge for favour, and not a Principal challenge, to have a Writ to the Coroners; and it was ſaid that the Leſſor is no more party to the Writ then the Maſter is in whoſe right conuſans is made in a Replevin by his Bayliff. See 9. 1. p. 22. Coke. 1. part. Inſtitutes 158. Paſc. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 300.

5. A. was Outlawed in London at the Suit of one, but the Exigent was delivered to the Plaintiffs Attorney, ſo as at the day the Exigent was not returned; upon which Teſtatum fuit in Curia for the Queen, that he was Outlawed, and a Writ prayed and directed to the Sheriffs of London (according to the Cuſtome) and not to the Coroner (who is the Mayor) to certifie the Court of this Outlawry, which was certified accordingly; and in a Writ of Covenant by A. this Outlawry was pleaded in diſability of his perſon: It was the opinion of the Court, That it being upon a Teſtatum which is certified according to the Cuſtome, that it was good enough being for the Queen; but in the Caſe of a common perſon it was not holden to be good, unleſs the Exigent had been returned. M. 15. Eliz. Dyer 317. See 5. M. Dyer 223. Coke 8. part 126. acc.

6. A Venire facias was awarded to the Coroners, whereas it ought to have been awarded to the Sheriff; and ſo the Jurors were returned by one who had not Authority: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Tryal was inſufficient, and not remedied by the Statute of 22. H. 8. 12. Eliz. But it was holden in that Caſe, that if the Venire facias had been awarded, Ex aſſenſu partium, then it had been good enough, for that Conſenſus tollit Errorem. See Goodwyn and Franklyns Caſe, vouch. in Coke 5. part 36. in Baynhams Caſe. M. 22. Eliz. Dyer 367. acc.

7. In Detinue, De tribus pixidib & una biga cartis ſcriptis; Upon a Certiorari directed to the Coroner, They returned that the Defendant was Outlawed, and returned the Exigent verbatim; upon which Return the Defendant was moliſted in his body, and alſo in his goods, and thereupon prayed Remedy in Banco, to be diſcharged of the Outlawry; and in this Caſe it was Reſolved by the Juſtices, 1. That Proceſs of Outlawry did not lye in a Writ of Detinue of Charters. 2. Reſolved, That the Return of the Outlawry by the Coroners was not a ſufficient Record againſt the party to make him Outlawed; For although that the Coroners give the Judgment of Outlawry, and make a ſhort remembrance in a Book thereof; Yet the keeping of the Record doth not belong to the Coroners, but the Return of the Outlawry ought to be by the Sheriff; and therefore in this Caſe the Outlawry was reverſed without any Writ of Error brought, and a Writ of Reſtitution granted of the Goods of the Defendant. Paſc. 5. Eliz. Dyer 223. Proctors Caſe. and See Coke 1. part Inſtitutes 128. That before the Defendant can diſable the Plaintiff, the Outlawry ought to appear of Record, and the Judgment after Quinto Exactus given by the Coroner in the County, is not ſufficient until the Exigent be returned; and Note, That it was Adjudged, Tr. 44. Eliz. in Co. B. in Mere and Dolburies Caſe, That the taking out a ſuperſedeas is an appearance of Record, and although that it be not delivered to the Sheriff before the Quinto Exactus, yet it ſhall avoid the Outlawry.

8. An Array made by the Predeceſſor of the Sheriff was challenged and Quaſhed for Coſenage: It was the opinion of the Court, That it is now in the Election of the Plaintiff, to have a new Venire facias, either to the Coroners or to the new Sheriff, and the Tryal being between the Vouchee and the Demandant: It was holden by the Court that the ſame was out of the Statute of Jeofails, the ſame not being between the parties to the Writ. M. 2. Eliz. Dyer 189.

9. In a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of S. and the Incumbent, a Verdict before the Juſtices of Aſſiſe was for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given before them, and a Writ to the Metropolitan awarded, and for Damages a Fieri facias to the Sheriff: The Defendant by Error removed the Record into the Kings Bench, and had a Superſedeas to the Metropolitan made in the Common Pleas; afterwards the Plaintiff ſued forth a Scire facias to have Execution, becauſe the Defendant did not aſſigne Errors, and thereupon the Defendant Aſſigned two Errors. 1. Becauſe it was found by Enqueſt of Office that the Incumbent was in of the Preſentation of A. who was named in the Writ. 2. Becauſe damages were adjudged for half a year, whereas it appeared the Preſentation was not deraigned within ſix Months. Notwithſtanding theſe Errors, the Judgment was affirmed; and upon a Suggeſtion that the Writ of Error was brought before the Damages were levied, Damages were Aſſeſſed by the Court, and a Writ of Execution awarded to the Guardian of the Spiritualities, Sede vacante of the Metropolitan. Tr. 6. E. 6. Dyer 72.

10. A. Condemned in the Exchequer for a debt to the Queen, and Committed to the Fleet, was afterwards condemned in Debt in the Kings Bench at the Suit of a Subject; and being brought to the Bar by Habeas Corpus he was committed again to the Fleet at the Suit of the Subject. The Gaoler by the command of the Lord Treaſurer of the Exchequer, ſuffered the Priſoner to go into the Country with a Keeper, to get his Debts to pay the Queen; upon which the Subject brought Eſcape againſt the Gaoler: It was adjudged that the Action did not lie; for that the Kings Bench had not Authority to commit him to the Fleet, for the Marſhalſey is the upper Priſon, and ſo the Priſoner was never in Execution there for the party; But if he had been in Execution, no Command, although of the Queen her ſelf, is a ſufficient Warrant to diſcharge the Gaoler. M. 3. Eliz. Dyer 297.

11. In a Quare Impedit the Plaintiff recovered; and had a Writ Sede vacante of the Biſhop to the Guardian of the Spiritualties to admit his Clerk, which is no; returnable, and before Execution of the Writ a Biſhop was Created: It was a Queſtion in that Caſe, if the Authority of the Guardian of the ſpiritualities in that Caſe did ceaſe, and this being ſuggeſted to the Court by the party, and that nothing was executed; a new Writ was awarded to the Biſhop which might be made returnable if the party pleaſed. Paſc. 18. Eliz. Dyer 350.

12. Blower being a meer Lay-man within the age of 24 years was Inſtituted and Inducted into a Benefice with Cure, a ſtranger ſued a Citation out of the Delegates to deprive him; depending which Suit, W. brought Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop and Blower, and had Judgment by default at the Grand Diſtreſs; and a Writ was awarded to the Metropolitan (quia Epiſcopus fuit pars) to remove Blower, and to admit the Clerk of W. which was executed, and one G. was Inducted: Afterwards the Biſhop and Blower brought a Writ of Deceit in Co. B. againſt W. becauſe they were not ſummoned by the Summoners, who appearing being examined upon their Oaths denied any ſufficient Summons, propter brevitatem temporis; and this Matter W. pleaded in Bar of the Writ of Deceit; and W. pleaded alſo in Bar the diſability of Blower, and the Sentence of Deprivation in the Court of Delegates: It was holden by the Court to be no good plea, for that the Incumbency was not in queſtion, but the Diſturbance only; and for that cauſe it was adjudged that the firſt Judgment was void, and Blower the Plaintiff was reſtored to what he loſt. M. 20. Eliz. Dyer 354. Blowers Caſe.

13. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop of Cact. the Biſhop of Lincoln, and the Incumbent, they made default at the Grand Diſtreſs; Whereupon the Plaintiff made title, and had a Writ to the Biſhop, and a Writ was awarded to inquire of the damages, of the Plenarty, and at whoſe Preſentation, and of the time of Vacancy, and of the value of the Church per ann.; all which Points were returned by Inquiſition: In this Caſe Judgment was given for the Plaintiff that he ſhould recover the Preſentation; and the Plaintiff thereupon had a Writ to the Biſhop of Lincoln, and damages to the value of the Church for half a year. Tr. 7. Eliz. Dyer 241.

14. A. Attorney of the Common Pleas ſued forth an Attachment of Priviledge againſt K. in Treſpaſs, returnable at a day certain; After the ſaid Writ awarded, the Defendant was condemned that Terme in another Writ of Priviledge in Treſpaſs, at the Suit of the ſaid A. and Judgment given, and a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum was awarded to the Sheriff of Middleſex, returnable after the firſt day: At the firſt day upon return of the firſt Writ, the Sheriff returns two Capi Corpus, one by vertue of the firſt Writ, the other ad ſatisfaciendum, and brought in the body accordingly; and thereupon the Defendant was Committed in Execution to the Fleet: But a Quare was made in that Caſe: If the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum was well awarded or not, becauſe it was ſaid, No Capias, nor Proceſs of Outlawry did lye upon a Suit by Attachment of Priviledge. M. 3. Eliz. Dyer 192 acc.

15. In a Recovery had againſt I. S. in B R. in an Action upon the Caſe, for turning a Water-courſe from a Mill: I being found for the Plaintiff, a Writ of Inquiry of Damages iſſued, and the Plaintiff had a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and thereupon an Exigent, and the party was Outlawed, and the Outlawry was returned; The Defendant gratis rendred himſelf to the Priſon of the Mushelſey, and upon a Suggeſtion of Errors had a Scire facias againſt the Plaintiff; and then aſſigned two Errors. 1. That no day was given to the Plaintiff when the Writ of Inquiry of Damages was awarded; But as to that, becauſe the Court could not correct their own Errors, the Writ abated. 2. Error was, becauſe no Capias did lye in the Original, and then a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum did not lye, and that was holden to be Error; for in this Action he ſhould have had an Exigi or Scire facias: and for that Error the Judgment was reverſed. M. 3. Eliz. in B. R. Bannes Caſe. Dyer 195.

16. At the Pluries Replegiare the Sheriff returned in the Common Pleas, Catalla clongata & quod nullum aliud breve &c. for which Cauſe Withernam was awarded, and according to that Writ the Sheriff returned, that the Plaintiff found Pledges de proſequend. &c. and that he took ſix beaſts in Withernam, which he had delivered to the Plaintiff quoſq; and that he had attached the Defendant: Both appeared; And the Plaintiff declared of a taking and detaining of the Cattel, and the value of them: They were at iſſue upon the Property; It was ſaid that the Defendant ſhould not gage deliverance, but that the Plaintiff ſhould do of the Cattel taken in Withernam: Note, in this Caſe, becauſe it is apparent by the Return (quod nullum aliud breve) That no Plaint is before the Sheriff; for the firſt Replegiare gave him authority only, and not the Alias nor Pluries, for the Parties had day in Bank upon the Replevin without a Pone, &c. It was doubted in this Caſe, If the Plaintiff had not appeared, if he ſhould be Nonſuited, as if it had been upon the Replevin: And it was alſo doubted, if upon ſuch default the Defendant ſuggeſting a Propriety, he ſhould have a ſpecial Writ to have the Cattel again which were taken in Withernam, and that Return ſhould be awarded of the firſt: And it was the opinion of the Preignotaries, that it ſhould be awarded of the firſt, to the end the Plaintiff might have a ſecond Deliverance. M. 3 Eliz. Dyer 189.

17. A Pluries Replg. iſſued out of the Chancery returnable in Banco, at the Suit of I. S. for certain goods taken in London by I. D. late Mayor of London, and others: The Sheriffs returned the Writ, the effect of which Return was, That there is a Cuſtome within within the City, That Quandocunque aliqua bona vel catalla per Legem terræ replegiabilia ibidem capta fuerint, quod tunc ea debent & conſueverunt Replegiari tantummodo per Miniſtros Dict. Civitatis, pro tempore exiſtent, virtute Querelæ in Curia Domina Regina, & progenitorum ſuorum coram Vic. ejuſdem Civitatis levat & non per Breve Regina extra Cancellaria, which Cuſtom was confirmed by Parliament, 5. E. 3. and that they were ſworn to obſerve the Cuſtomes without breaking of them, and therefore they could not, nor ought to execute the ſaid Writ: It was the opinion of the Juſtices of both Benches, That this Return was inſufficient: Whereupon another Pluries Repleg. was awarded to the Sheriffs that now were, and Proceſs awarded to Attach the late Sheriff for the Contempt: ſee That by the Common Law before the Statute of Marlebridge, Cap. 21: The Sheriff could not make a Replevin without a Writ: Note at length the Plaintiff in the principal Caſe had deliverance of his Cattel; and in that Caſe it is made a Quare, If the Defendants had day in Court to plead upon the Pluries Replegiare. M. 8. Eliz. Dyer 246, 246.

18. Note, That in all Actions Quare vi & armis a Capias lyeth; and where Capias lyeth in Proceſs, there after Judgment Capias ad ſatisfaciendum lyeth, and there the King ſhall have a Capias pro fine: But at the Common Law, Upon a Judgement for Debt or Damages, the body of a man was not to be taken in Execution by Capias, but the party was to have execution only of his Goods and Chattels, or of the Profits which grew upon his Lands, viz. either by a Levari facias to the Sheriff; viz. commanding the Sheriff, Quod de bonis & Catallis Levari facias, or by a Fieri facias: But in Debt againſt the Heir upon an Obligation made by his Father, Execution was of the Land which the Heir had by diſcent from his Father by the Common Law: And in an Accompt at the Common Law, the Proceſs was only diſtreſs infinite, until the Statute of Weſtm. 2. cap. 11. by which Statute Capias was given in an Accompt: But at the Common Law, the body, Lands, and Goods of the Accomptant of the King, were liable to the Kings Execution; for Theſaurus Regis eſt vinculum pacis & bellorum Nervi; and therefore the Law gave the King full remedy for it. Coke 3. part 12. Sir William Herlerts Caſe. Plo. Com. 321. acc.

19. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That at the Common Law for Raviſhment of a Ward, the Guardian might have an Action of Treſpaſs, in which the Plaintiff ſhould recover Damages, and the Defendant ſhould pay a Fine to the King, and be Impriſoned; and ſuch Action lay as well againſt a Feme Covert, as againſt a Feme ſole; but no Writ of Raviſhment of Gard lay at the Common Law: And therefore where a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward was brought upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 35. againſt Huſband and Wife, It was holden by Coke and Walmſley Juſtices, that a Feme Covert was not within the ſaid Statute, becauſe ſhe is diſabled to ſatisfie, and that the Goods and Lands of the Husband who is innocent, are not liable by that Statute to anſwer for a Raviſhment made by his Wife; and the Law will not intend ſo ſevere a puniſhment for the not doing of that, whom the Law it ſelf eath diſabled: And it was ſaid by them, That the Plaintiff might have had his Action of Treſpaſ at the Gommon Law againſt thoſe who Raviſhed the Heir; or a Writ de Valore Maritagii againſt the Heir himſelf. Coke 9. part 72. in Dr. Haſtics Caſe.

20. A man was Outlawed upon a Judgment in Debt; he brought Error, and the Judgment was affirmed, and upon that within the year a Capias Utlagatum is awarded, and the Defendant taken, and ſuffered to eſcape before the Return of the Writ: In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That if at the Common Law a man hath Judgment in Debt, and after Judgement Outlaws the Defendant; the Plaintiff was at end of his Suit as to any Proceſs for himſelf, for he could not have a Scire facias, nor other Execution upon the Judgment, but was put to his new Original; and although a Capias did not lie before the Statute of 25. E. 3. in Debt, yet if the party was taken upon a Capias Utlagatum, at the Kings Suit, he ſhould be in Execution for the Plaintiff if he wou'd. 2. Reſolved, That if Judgment be given in Co. B. and removed by Error, and Judgment affirmed within the year, they may award a Capias, or a Fieri facias, and the Plaintiff ſhall not be put to a Scire facias, although it be in another Court. 3. Reſolved, That when a man is taken by a Capias Utlagatum, he ſhall be in Execution preſently after the Arreſt, if the party will, although that the Court doth not put him in Execution for the party. Coke 5. part 88. Garnons Caſe.

21. Judgment was given in Co. B. againſt Sir William Fiſh, and after the year and day a Capias was awarded, where there ought to have been a Scire facias firſt, and the cupon he was taken: Whereupon he brought Error in B. R. where the Judgment was affirmed, but the Execution was reverſed becauſe the Execution was not Warrantable, the Proceſs being erroneous. And out of the Kings Bench another Execution was awarded by Sicut alias, within the year of the affirmance of the Judgment in B. R. It was moved in that Caſe, That the Execution was erroneous, becauſe he ought to have a Scire facias, becauſe the year is paſt after the Judgment in the Common Pleas; and although the Court be changed, yet the Plaintiff ought to have the ſame Proceſs for Execution, as he ought to have in the firſt Court: And when the firſt Proceſs was reverſed for Error, then he cannot have a Sicut alias, but he ought to have a new Original; and therefore a Super ſedeas was prayed, and that Sir William Fiſh might be delivered out of Execution: It was the opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe; That if the Court of Common Pleas award erroneous Proceſs, that this Court cannot award a Super ſedeas, but the party is put to his Error here; And it was the further opinion of the Court, That if Error be brought within the year of the Judgment in Co. B. and the Judgment be affirmed, the Plaintiff ſhall have a Capias although the Judgment be affirmed two years after the bringing of the Writ of Error, for he ſhall take the ſame Execution in B. R. as in the Common Pleas, and the altering of the Court makes no difference in it Paſc. 3. in B. R. Sir William Fiſh and Wiſeman's Caſe. Godb. 371, 372.

22. In Treſpaſs, upon Not Guilty pleaded, the parties were at Iſſue: And the Record of the Niſi Prius was Graves-end Lane, where it ſhould have been Grays-Inn Lane, and thereupon the Plaintiff was Non-ſuit; It was prayed a Venire facias de Novo; And 9. Jac. Farthing and Dappers Caſe was vouched: Where in an Action upon the Caſe, the Pies Roll was ſix weeks, and the Record of the Niſi Prius ſix Months, and the party was Non-ſuit, and Venire facias de Novo granted: It was the opinion of Ley Chief Juſtice, That the party cannot have a Venire facias de Novo, if the Non-ſuit be Recorded; But if the Venire facias varieth from the Record, there can be no Non-ſuit, becauſe there is no Record upon which the Non-ſuit ſhould be, and the Niſi Prius was proſecuted without Warrant: At length, a Venire facias de Novo was granted in the principal Caſe per Curiam. Tr. 21. Jac. in B. R. Young and Eaglesfields Caſe. Godb. 328.

23. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made by W. C. H. the Defendant pleaded Not guilty, and made Challenge, and prayed a Venire facias to the Coroners, becauſe the Sheriff is Coſen to the Leſſors Wife, which Challenge is not a principal Challenge, but for favour; And after Trial and Verdict it was amended in an Arreſt of Judgement, becauſe it was miſ-tryed; And in this Caſe it was ſaid, That Miſ-conveyance of Proceſs is where one Writ is awarded in the place of another, to an Officer which of right ought to execute that Proceſs, and he returns it, this is helped after Verdict by the Statute: But if a Writ be awarded to an Officer who ought not to execute that Proceſs, and he return it that is a Miſ-Trial, and not helped by the Statute. Tr. 1. Jac. in Co. B. Craddocks and Fames Caſe Brownlo. part 134.

24. Certain Goods of a Subjects of the King of Spain were forfeited upon the High-Sea, and afterwards were brought here into England, and there ſold to Sir John Watts; the Goods were Attached in the hands of Sir John, by Proceſs out of the Admiralty, and then a Libel was exhibited againſt the Goods in the hands of Sir John, and Sir John was not made a Party to the Suit; and thereupon Sir John Watts prayed a Prohibition, in as much as they were bought in open Market; and by this Suit in the Admiral-Court, the property of the Goods will be drawn into Queſtion there, The Suit was proſecuted there by Alfonſo de Valaſco the Spaniſh Embaſſadour; a Prohibition was granted, and the rather, becauſe Sir John Watts was not made there a party to the Suit. M. 9. Jac. in Co. B. Sir John Watts Caſe. Brownlo. 2. part 29.

25. In an Action of Battery A. Capias pro fine iſſued forth againſt the defendant pro rege, and alſo a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum returnable the ſame terme, at one and the ſame returne. As to the Capias pro fine, the Sheriff returned Cepi Corpus, and as to the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum; Non eſt inventus, and for this Contrariety of Returne, the Sheriff was amerced. But then it was moved by the Councel of the Sheriff, that the awarding of the Capias pro fine was utterly void, for that the fine was pardoned by Parliament, and it is enacted, that all proces awarded upon ſuch fines ſhall be void, and then the Capias pro fine being void, it matters not how, or in what manner it be returned, for that the Court ſhall not reſpect ſuch proceſs, nor any return of it, and then the Court not having any reſpect to that return, there is not any Contrariety, for the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum is only returned, and not the Capias pro fine: It was ſaid by the Court in this Caſe: That if the Sheriff in ſuch Caſe, takes the party by a Capias pro fine, upon that taking he is in execution for the party, and if the Sheriff let him go at large he ſhall anſwer for the eſcape; and in this Caſe, the Capias pro fine was well awarded, and the Court ought to regard it, and the defendant lawfully taken by it, and after in execution for the party, and afterwards when the pardon came and enacted ut ſupra, although that the proces be made void thereby, the ſame ought to be meant as to the intereſt of the King to the fine, but not as to the execution of the party, but the Sheriff ſhall Anſwer for that. Paſ. 29. Eliz. in *B.R. 26. Error of a Judgment in B.R. upon an Aſſumpſit, where a verdict and Judgment was for the plaintiff, the error aſſigned was, that the Iſſue was joyned Tr 3. Car. Venire facias beares date 4. Maii which was before the Iſſue joyned, ſo the trial thereupon was ill, and upon a Writ of Certiorari upon Diminution alledged to certify the Venire facias and Diſtringas, they being certified the Writ of Venire facias was of the date. 4. May which was Eaſter Terme, but the Error was not allowed by the Court, for the Court ſhall intend that there was another Venire facias, and the Roll awarding the Venire facias being good, the miſdating of it is no Cauſe to ſtop Judgment; the Judgment was affirmed. M. 3 Car. in the Exchequer. More and Hoſſys Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 64.

27. Debt brought for 10 pounds upon the Statute of 5. Eliz. cap. 9. The Caſe was, an Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt the plaintiff, upon which Action they were at Iſſue, and the defendant was to be a witneſs for the plaintiff in that Caſe, at a Trial at Glouceſter: and to that purpoſe procured a ſubpena out of the Common pleas, to the defendant to teſtifie in the ſaid Cauſe; and ſhewed the ſubpena to the defendant, and left a note with her of the day and place of her appearance, and delivered her 12 pence towards her expences and charges, and promiſed her, if ſhe would come at the ſaid day and place to teſtifie, he would give her ſo much more pro oneribus & expenſis ſuis as ſhe ſhould reaſonably require, which ſumme ſhe accepted, but did not come to teſtifie although ſhe was required: It being found upon Nihil debet for the plaintiff, divers exceptions were taken to it by the defendant. 1. Becauſe the Proces was not ſerved upon the defendant as the Statute requires, but a note only thereof, and it being a penal Law, it ought to be taken ſtrictly. 2. There was but 12 d delivered to the defendant, at the time of the ſerving of the proces, which was no reaſonable ſumme for coſts and charges according to the diſtance of the place, and therefore the promiſe that he would give her after ſufficient for her charges was void. And 3. The party who ſhall recover by force of this Statute, ought to be grieved and damnified, and in this caſe the plaintiff hath not averred that he was damnified for her not appearance. For the firſt point the Court was cleere againſt the defendant, becauſe it is the common courſe to put divers in one proces, and to ſerve Tickets, or to give notice to the firſt perſons that are ſummoned, and to leave a Ticket, and to leave a Label or a Ticket with the party, and to deliver the Writ to the laſt party to be ſerved; To the ſecond point, the opinion of the Court was, that the Acceptance ſhould bind the defendant, but if ſhe had refuſed it, ſhe had not incurred the penalty of the Statute; But for the third point, the Court was cleer of opinion, that the Action would not lie for want of averment; that the plaintiff was damnified by the not appearance of the defendant: and ſo it was adjudged, that the plaintiff *Nihil Capiat per billam. 28. In Exceptione firma after verdict, exception was taken, that the Venire facias was awarded for trial before the appearance and declaration, to try the Iſſue in the ſame Action, which cannot be good: But the Court held it to be amendable: For the Roll is the Warrant of the Venire facias, which being variant from it, the Teſte thereof ſhall be amended, to be ſubſequent to the Iſſue joyned, and whereas the Teſte was 23 Jan. which was Sunday: and ſo not dies juridicus, it was held alſo, that it ſhould be amended, for it was but the default of the Clerk in miſawarding of the proces, which is helped by the Statutes of 32. H. 8. and 18. Eliz. Paſc. Jac. in B R. Cro. 2. part 64. 65.

29. Error of a Judgment in Norwich: where in an Action of Debt, the Record was Attachiatus fuit where it ought to be ſummonitus eſt; It was ſaid that in regard the defendant had pleaded, and a verdict and judgment is given, this is not to be aſſigned for Error, for it is but want of an Original, which is helped after Verdict by the Statute of 18. Eliz. But it was Reſolved that this was not helped by the Statute, for the Statute is intended of the want of Original Writs which are ſued out of the Chancery; but extends not to proces which is in the nature of an Original Writ; and it hath been ruled, that the want of Bils upon the File in the Kings Bench (which is in the Nature of an Original Writ) is not aided by the Statute, and ſo it was Reſolved, that the want of this ſummons which ought to have been, was not helped by the Statute; and for that Cauſe the Judgment was reverſed. Hil 9. Jac in B. R. Pratt & Dixons Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 108.

30. Error of a Judgment in an Action of Trover: The Action was brought in the time of Queen Elizabeth, and the parties were then at Iſſue, and a Venire facias returned. Afterwards in the time of King James, an Habeas corpora was awarded with a Tales, which recited Quod habeas Corpora Juratorum ſummonit in Curia nuper Regina, and becauſe the Jurors were never ſaid to be ſummoned in Curia Regina (for the Venire facias is the firſt proces which is not any ſummons) it was therefore holden to be Error, and the Judgment was reverſed although the Error was in a Judicial proces, for that the one proces ought to warrant the other, which was not done here, for it cannot warrant this Tales. 1. M. 3. Jac. in B R. Sir Francis Knowles, and Bechingſhaws Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 88 89.

31. Note. In a ſuit in the Star Chamber by the Kings Attorney againſt W. It was agreed that a Proceſs ad audiendum Juſticium in that Court is not holden to be ſufficiently ſerved by leaving it at the houſe, though the wife and ſervants know it, but it ought to be a perſonal ſervice of him, or elſe he being at home, or proved by an Affidavit to have knowledg of it. But if a Proces be left at a houſe, one Terme, for a hearing at another Terme, ſo there be a convenient diſtance of time, It ſhall be preſumed a good ſervice of proces; upon a preſumption of notice of it. See Worceſters Caſe. Hob. 195. Acc.

32. In an Action of Treſpaſs, the Treſpaſs was layed to be 9. Jac. the defendant Juſtified by virtue of a Warrant 10. Jac. and takes a Travers abſque hoc that he was guilty before the Warrant made, and did not ſay before and after. It was adjudged the Traverſe was not good, per Curiam. So in an Action of Treſpaſs, of a Treſpaſs done 1. Maii, the defendant pleaded a Releaſe to him. 1. Junii with a Traverſe abſque hoc that he was guilty after the firſt of June, it was holden that the day of the Treſpaſs is not material, and he ought to have Traverſed abſque hoc that he was guilty before or after. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, that when proces is directed to three, or any of them to arreſt one, and two of them did do it, and arreſted the party that the proces was well executed: becauſe this is for the ſervice of the King to execute the proces. Tr 14. Jac. in *B R. That if the Fieri facias be ſerved for part, a Capias may be awarded for the reſidue; but where a Fieri facias is executed for all, there a Capias after doth not lie; and it was holden that the party ſhall have but one execution with ſatisfaction againſt both parties. M. 22. Jac. in *B. 34. A defendant was convicted in the Star-Chamber for divers miſdemeanors, and a Fine and Impriſonment impoſed upon him, and dammages to the plaintiff; it was prayed, that proces might go out of that Court to levy the dammages upon the goods and lands of the defendant this Caſe was referred to the conſideration of the Judges and Barons, and by them all it was fully reſolved, that no proces could, or ought to be made, neither for the dammages nor for the Coſts of the plaintiff, for the Court hath not any power or Juriſdiction to do it, but only to keep the defendant in Priſon till he pay them: For, for the fine of the King, that Court cannot make any proces for the leavying thereof, but may eſtreat the ſame into the Exchequer, which hath power by Law to make forth proces to the Sheriff to levy the ſame: But if a man be convicted in the Star-Chamber for Forgery upon the ſtatute of. 5. Eliz. in that Caſe, for the double Coſts and dammages, an Engliſh Bill ſhall be made, directed to the Sheriff, reciting the Conviction and the Statute for the leavying of the coſts and dammages upon the goods, chattels, and lands of the defendant, for the Statute hath given power to that Court to give Judgment for the Coſts and dammages, and ſo by conſequence the Court in ſuch Caſe hath power to grant Execution. 1. Hill. 7. Jac. in Cam. Hall and Rotherams Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 54. 55.

36. Error, to reverſe a Judgment given in the Marſhals Court, the exception taken was, that there was a diſcontinuance of the proces, and ſo there ought to have been no Judgment, and that there was a diſcontinuance appeareth: The continuance was ad proximam curiam, and it appeares upon the Return of the Venire facias, that that was no Court day, for it was the 23 day of the Moneth, whereas Friday, on which day the Court was holden, was not the 23 day: It was the opinion of the Court, that where there is a Diſcontinuance, the Court hath not power to give Judgment, the Judgment was reverſed. M. 23. Car. in *B.R. Proofe.

1. WHen a thing is beyond the time of memory, a man is not compellable to prove the Commencement thereof. As where a Prior and his ſucceſſors have been Parſons Impropriators of a Church time out of mind, proofe of the commencement thereof, and whether it was by appropriation, or union, is diſpenſed with, becauſe by intendment no proof can be made thereof. Coke. 11. part. 10. in Pridle and Nappers Caſe.

2. The Maſters and Cloth-workers of Ipſwich brought debt for 3 pounds, 13 ſhilling and 4 pence againſt D. and declared that the King had Incorporated porated them by the ſame name, and had granted them by Charter, Quod nullus exerceat autem ſive occupationem in aliqua ſhoppa, domo, ſive Camera infra villam prediſt; or a Cloth-worker or Tailer, Niſi ante eos vel duos eorum probationem fecerit quod Apprentiz. fuit per ſpacium annorum &c. It was a Queſtion in this Caſe, what proof ſhould be ſufficient for the party; It was agreed in that Caſe, that the proof cannot be upon oath, for that ſuch a Corporation cannot adminiſter an oath to the party, and then the proof muſt be by Indentures and witneſſes, and perhaps the Corporation will not allow of any of them, for which the party hath no remedy againſt the Corporation, but by his Action at the Common Law, and in the meane time he ſhould be barred of his Trade, which was his maintenance: and therefore it was holden by the Juſtices in this Caſe, that the Charter was void becauſe of theſe words, viz. Niſi ante eos, vel duos eorum probationem facere, &c. Paſc. 12. Jac. in B.R. The Cloth-workers of Ipſwiches Caſe. Godbit. 253. 254.

3. Note, It was holden by the Juſtices, if mony be to be paid upon proofe made, there it ſhall be made upon the trial, but if it be to be paid within three moneths after proofe, there proofe muſt be firſt made; but if it be upon proof before A. then proof being made before A. this extending proof ſhall tie the party: When a Bond is to be paid upon proof, this is intended of a Legal proof by Law, if it be layed generally to be paid upon proof, if it were by proof before two Juſtices, this ſhall be intended a ſufficient proof when the Action ſhall be brought upon the Bond, and if the defendant ſaith, that due proof was not made, then they ſhall ſay that before the two Juſtices &c. It was proved by Teſtimony before them, and then the Judg ſhall judg whether it be a ſufficient proof or not. Paſc. 14. Jac. in Co. B. Brownlo. 1. part 33.

4. A man was bound to pay to the plaintiff 100li within ten daies after his Return from Jeruſalem, the plaintiff proving that he had been there; and the plaintiff after 10 daies brought his Action without making any proof that he had been there; and if it were good, or that he ought to make proof of that before he brings his Action, was the Queſtion; and if he ought to make proofe, then what manner of proof: It was ſaid, that when a thing is true, and is not referred to any certain or particular manner of proof, as before, what ſhall be done, or how the proof ſhall be made, the party may bring his Action; and the other party may take Iſſue upon the doing of the thing which ought to be proved; and there trial of that ſhall be ſufficient; and in this Caſe, it was ſaid, That if any proof ſhould be, it ſhould be within 10 daies, which cannot be made by Jury in ſo ſhort a time; although it be agreed, that when a man ſpeaks of proof generally, it ſhall be intended of proof by Jury, becauſe that is the moſt high proof. Coke 6. part. 10. in Gregories Caſe. But in the principal Caſe, it was agreed by all the Juſtices, that the plaintiff need not make any other proofe, but only by the bringing of his Action: Then Exception was taken that the plaintiff had not averred in his Replication, that he was at Jeruſalem, but generally, that ſuch a day he returned from thence, and a man may returne from a place when he was not at the ſame place, as if he had been neer the place, or in the skirts of Jeruſalem; and upon that the Caſe was adjourned. Hill. 3. Jac. in Co. B. Sturgis and Deans Caſe. Brownl. 2. part 57.

5. Debt againſt A.D. Executor of J.D. upon a Bond of the Teſtator, the Condition whereof was whereas A.D. Son of the ſaid I.D. was bound Apprentice to the plaintiff for eight years, if he during that Terme waſted or Conſumed any of the plaintiff wares or goods, then if I.D. or his Executors within three Moneths after due proofe thereof made, either by the confeſſion of the ſaid A.D. or otherwiſe, and notice thereof given to the ſaid I.D. or any of them ſhould render him ſatisfaction of all ſuch monies as ſhould be duly proved to be conſumed, that then &c. The defendant pleaded, that the plaintiff before the Action brought had not proved, that the ſaid A.D. had conſumed &c. The plaintiff replied, that the ſaid A.D. had within the ſaid Terme, ſince ſuch a day, conſumed 400li of the plaintiffs Wares, and that the ſaid A.D. had by a Writing under his hand confeſſed the ſame: and that ſuch a day and place, he gave notice to the Defendant, that the ſaid A.D. had conſumed &c. that 400li and ſhewed him his Confeſſion under his hand: upon which the defendant did demurre in Law. It was ſaid that the plaintiffs Replication was not good, for that the proof ought to be by Action brought, and trial at the Common law againſt A.D. the Apprentice, or upon Confeſſion of the Apprentice upon an Action brought againſt him, and that the Law eſteemes not of any proofe, but of that which is upon Record: But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, that although generally proof is to be intended by a trial by Jury; yet it may be in another manner according to the Intent of the parties; and proof in this Caſe being referred to the Confeſſion of the parties, it is ſufficient if he confeſſe it under his hand, it it be true; but if it be not true, it cannot bind the defendant, but prima facie, it is a good proof, and the defendant having demurred upon it, it is confeſſed that he made ſuch proof: wherefore the Replication was holden good; and it was adjudged for the plaintiff. Mich. 10. Jac. in B.R. Gold and Deaths Caſe. Cro. 2. part 381.

6. Debt

6. Debt upon an Obligation, conditioned. Whereas I. S. was Apprentice to the plaintiff, who at any time during his Apprentiſhip imbezelled or conſumed any of his Maſters goods, if the defendant within three Moneths after proof thereof made, by confeſſion of the ſaid I. S. or otherwiſe, and notice thereof given ſhould make ſufficient recompence for all things ſo imbezelled, that then &c. The defendant pleaded, Quod nulla probatio facta fuit by Confeſſion of I. S. or otherwiſe, that he had imbezeled any goods, The Plaintiff replyed, ſuch a day Probatio facta fuit, and that the ſame day the Plaintiff gave Notice thereof to the Defendant, and that he had not ſatisfied &c. The Defendant demurred, becauſe it is not alledged that he imbezelled de facto ſo much, and without that there is not a ſufficient breach; for the Condition is, If he imbezil, and it be ſufficiently proved, ſo it is not ſufficient to ſay that proof was made, but that he ought to alledge de facto, that there was ſuch an Imbezelling; alſo it is not a ledged how the proof was made, which ought to be in this Action: For the Defendant hath three Moneths after proof and Notice, to make ſatisfaction; and of that opinion was the Court, and therefore Judgment was given for the Defendant. M. 16. Jac. in B. R. Lee and Fydges Caſe. Cro. 2. part 488. See Hill 15. Jac. in Co. B. Crookbay and Woodwares Caſe. Hob. 217.

7. A. brought Aſſumpſit againſt Sir Arthur Ingram, and declared that I. S. was indebted to her 160. l. and that ſhe told the Defendant that ſhe would Arreſt him for it; whereupon the Defendant upon Conſideration, That ſhe would at his Inſtance forbear, did promiſe to pay her ſo much as ſhe ſhould prove due unto her by the ſaid I. S. and that thereupon ſhe did forbear, and although 160. l. were due, and ſhe could well prove it, yet the Defendant hath not paid it: Upon Non Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, It was moved that the Conſideration was inſufficient, becauſe there is no years for forbearance proved nor provided, for it might be for a minute: There was no Judgement, for the Caſe was compounded. Hill 15. Jac. in Co. B. Turdley and Sir Arthur Ingrams Caſe. Hob. 219.

8. Action upon the Caſe upon a Promiſe: Two were in controverſie about a Wager for Running; It was ſaid, that the Wager was got by deceit; the other ſaid, Give me a ſhilling, and if you can prove that this was gotten by me by deceit, I will give you 5. l. for it; and upon this he took the ſhilling, and the other brought an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit for the 5. l. and layed de facto, that he had gained it the ſame Wager by deceit: It was adjudged in that Caſe, that the proof of this deceit in the ſame Action brought for the 5. l. was a ſufficient proof; and the difference was taken where the proof was general, and where with a reference to time, and to perſon, where the ſame is general, that the ſame ought to be by Jury; for that is optima probatio: M. 33. Eliz. in B. R. Cragge and Griffins Caſe. Bolſtar. 3. part. 56.

9. Error brought upon a Recovery had in an Action Popular, brought by Bill in the Court at Ludlow upon the Statute of 5. Ma. Cap. 5. It was aſſigned for Error, that the plaintiff ought by the Statute of 18. Eliz. have ſued by Original Writ, or by Information, and not by Bill for it was adjudged, that where the defendant ſued by Bill upon the Statute of 23. H. 6. of Sheriffs, that it was adjudged that it did not lie: 2. That the recovery was not in ſuch a Court as was intended by the Statute, for the Courts of Records inteſted by the Statute, Propter excellentiam, ſhall be intended the four Courts at Weſtminſter: and in that Caſe it was ſaid, that if a man ſpeak generally of proofe, It ſhall be intended of Proof by Jury. Coke 6. part. 20. Gregories Caſe.

10. In debt upon a Bond, the Condition was, That if he paid to the Obligee ſo much within ſix months after his return from Venice, proving this; He proved it under the hand of the Duke of Venice, yet it was holden by the Court to be no ſufficient proof, but the ſame ought to be by Jury. M. 29. Eliz. in Co. B. Glemman and Browns Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. part. 56.

11. Note, it was ſaid by the Chief Juſtice, that if divers perſons do Seal a Deed, and but one of them acknowledg the Deed, and the deed is thereupon enroled, that this is a good enrolment within the Statute, and may be given in evidence, as a Deed enroled, at a trial: and it was then ſaid and alſo agreed, that if a Deed do expreſſe a Conſideration of mony upon a purchaſe made; yet that is no proof upon a Trial that the monies expreſſed were paid, but it muſt be proved by Witneſſes. Mich. 1653. in B. R. Thorne and Madiſons Caſe. Styles. 462.

Prochyn Amy, and Prochyn of Blood.

1. ERror of a Judgment in Durham: The Error aſſigned was, becauſe in an Ecclione firma, againſt T. S. the Father, and I. S. his Son, the Father appearing by T. C. his Atturny, and the ſaid I. S. the Son per eundem T. C. proximum amicum ſuum who was admitted per Curiam, pro eodem I. S.

ad proſequendum, and pleaded Not guilty, whereas he ought to have been admitted to plead by his Guardian and not by Prochyn Amie, and the admittance ought to have been ad defendendum, and not ad proſequendum. It was the opinion of the Juſtices, that it was erronious; for a Guardian and Prochyn Amie are diſtinct; and a Guardian, or Prochin Amie may be admitted for the plaintiff: The Prochin Amie was never before the Statute of *Weſt.*1. Caſe. 47. and he is appointed In Caſe of neceſſity, where an infant is to ſue his Guardian, or to be Eſſoined, or that the Guardian will not ſue for him; and for theſe cauſes he may be admitted to ſue by Guardian, or Prochin Amie, where he is to demand, or gain: But when he is to defend a ſuit in an Action Real, or Perſonal, it ought alwaies to be by Guardian, and the Guardian ought to be admitted by the Court, wherefore it was the opinion of the Court, that the admittance of the defendance, per proximum amicum was erronious, and eſpecially ad proſequendum. The Judgment was reverſed. *Tr.*20. Jac. in B.R. Simpſon and Jackſons Caſe. *Cro.*2. part. 641.

2. Three Brothers are: a feme ſole holds lands of the Eldeſt brother by Socage, and afterwards taketh the middle brother to husband, and dieth, their Son being within the age of 14 years: It was a Quere. 21. Eliz. in the Common Pleas, who ſhould have the Guardian ſhip of the Land as Prochin Amie; of the eldeſt, the eldeſt, or the youngeſt; and at length it was Reſolved, that the eldeſt ſhould have it, becauſe he was next of Blood.

3. A Writ of Accompt was brought againſt Guardian in Socage, and it was challenged, becauſe it was not ſhewed in the Writ nor Count, that he was Prochin Amie; but the Challenge was not allowed. 20. 22. E. 3. 11.

4. Note, that he who is next Jure repreſentationis, ſhall inherit, and not he who is next Jure propinquitatis; and therefore, if a man hath Iſſue two Sons A and B, and dieth, B hath Iſſue two Sons, C and D, and dieth, C hath Iſſue a Son, and dieth; A purchaſeth Lands in Fee and dieth without Iſſue, the Son of C ſhall inherit him, and not D, although that D be next Coſin, Jure propinquitatis; becauſe the Son of C is next Jure repreſentationis: But if a Leaſe had been made to A. the remainder to his next of blood in Fee, in that caſe D ſhould take the remainder, becauſe he is more nere of blood, to take by purchaſe. See 30. Aſſ. 47 Acc.

5. In a Raviſhment of Ward, the Caſe was: A ſeiſed in Fee, his Son and heir of the age of two years; his Wife took another Husband, and by him had Iſſue a Son; the Queſtion was, whether the uncle on the party of the Mother, or the youngeſt Son of the halfe blood, ſhould have the Guardian-ſhip of the Enfant within age: See, it is left a Quere, and not Reſolved. *Mich.*41. Eliz. in Co. B. Swan and Gatelaids Caſe. Owen 128.

6. A Woman had Iſſue two Sons, by two ſeveral Husbands, the ſecond husband deviſed Lands to the Woman, for life, the remainder to the next of kin of the woman: It was a doubt who ſhould have the Land; the better opinion ſeemed to be, that the younger Son ſhould have the Lands by the remainder, for that the one was no more nere of Blood to the Mother, then the other; but the Eldeſt was the more worthy of blood, and then it is uncertain by the Words who ſhall have it; but the intent which is alwaies to be taken in deviſes, ſhall be taken for the younger Son; becauſe he is the Iſſue of the Deviſor. See Perkins Sect. 508. 3c. Aſſ. Deviſe. 9 30. Aſſ. 47. acc. and ſee *Paſc.*25. Eliz. A Caſe in the Exchequer Chamber, which was this; Three Brothers were: the youngeſt purchaſed Lands, and deviſed it to his Sons in taile, and if he died without Iſſue, that then it ſhould remain to the next of Kin of the Linage of his Father; the younger brother then having Iſſue, a Son, the Queſtion was, who ſhould have the remainder, and upon great advice it was adjudged, that the Son of the eldeſt ſhould have it, becauſe he was next of the Linage, for Linage ſhall be taken in a Lineal deſcent, and the moſt worthy. See 15. Eliz. Dyer. 333. Acc.

7. A man was ſeiſed of a Manor, by diſcent of the party of his mother, and enfeoffed a Stranger of a Meſſuage parcel of the ſame, to hold of him and his heires by certain ſervices, before the Statute of Donis Terrarum, and died without heir of the party of the Mother; and there ſome would have had it, that the ſeignorie ſhould diſcend to the heirs, on the party of the Father, becauſe it was newly created by the ſaid Feoffor; But the rule given by Barriſord is, that it ſhall diſcend to the heires on the party of the Mother only, and for want of ſuch heir, that it ſhall eſcheat; for this ſeignorie, which he hath reſerved by his own Feoffment is due, by reaſon of the right which he hath in the Tenance, and the right of the Tenantrie ſhall diſcend to the heires on the party of the Mother. 5. Prohibition.

Prohibition.

Where upon a ſuit in the Spiritual Court for Tithes, a Prohibition will lie, and ſhall be granted, and where not: And where in Caſe, where a* Modus Decimandi *is alledged, where not.

1. A Man had payed for the Tythe of a Cloſe for 60 years together but 12 pence to the Parſon or Vicar; The Parſon afterwards Let to Farme his Rectory, and the Farmer ſued in the Spiritual Court for Tithes in kind; where the party pleaded the payment of 12 pence for the Tithes; which the Judg of the Spiritual Court refuſed to allow of: It was upon that Caſe granted, that a prohibition ſhould be awarded, and was awarded accordingly with an averment in the ſurmiſe, that the Spiritual Court would not allow of the plea. Hill. 7. E. 6. Dyer. 79.

2. A prohibition was ſued forth upon the Statute of 2. E. 6. upon a ſuit within ſeven years, within the Spiritual Court, for the Tithes of Wheat, growing in 60 Acres of Barren ground, which was improved: Upon Iſſue joyned, whether the 60 Acres were fructueſa, & non ſterilis. It was found by verdict, that for 30 Acres of them they were barren, and for the reſidue, it was found, that the party had payed tithes of Wool and Lamb; It was the opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, that becauſe he brought his ſuit of wheat, whereas he ought to have had ſuch Tythes as he had before for 7 years, that the Writ would lie. M. 2. Eliz. Dyer. Pels and Sanderſons Caſe. 170. 171.

3. Lands were in the hands of an Abbot and of his Farmors, time out of mind, but with Tithe Lamb and Wool. The Abby came to the Crown by the Statute of 31. H. 8. of diſſolution; the Parſon ſued to have Tithe of Hay and Grain in kind; It was holden, that by the word, diſcharged, in the Statute, the Lands were diſcharged of payment of Tithes in Kind; and in that Caſe a Prohibition was awarded. Paſc. 18. Eliz. Dyer. 349. the Parſon of Pekirks's Caſe.

4. A Religious Colledg to which a Rectory was appropriate, and other Lands of the ſaid Colledg came to King Hen. 8. by the Statute of 1. E. 6. The King conveyed the Rectory to A, and the Lands parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Colledg to B. A. ſued the fermer of B. for Tithes in kind of the Lands, who brought a Prohibition againſt A. and ſhewed the Statute of 31. H. 8. concerning diſcharge of Tithes, and alſo ſhewed unity of Poſſeſſion of both, at the time of both Statutes, and in this caſe it was Reſolved, that the Prohibition did not lie, for that this Colledg did not come to the King by the Statute of 31. H. 8. but by the Statute of 1. E. 6. and the branch of diſcharg of Tithes in the Statute of 31. H. 8. did not extend to any Colledge, which came to the King, by the Statute of 1. E. 6. 2. It was reſolved in this Caſe, that a general allegation of unity was not ſufficient within 31. H. 8. but that ſuch an unity as ſhould make a diſcharge of Tithes within that Statute, ought to be a lawful and perpetual unity, time out of mind &c. Coke 2. part. The Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe.

5. A parſon did Libel in the Spiritual Court, againſt a Pariſhioner for Tithes of ſuch Lands within his Pariſh; the defendant ſurmiſes, that he and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath, in the Lands out of which the Tithes are demanded, have uſed to pay every year 5 ſhillings to the Pariſh Clark of the ſame pariſh, for all the Tithes out of the ſame place; it was ſaid, that the preſcription was not good, for a Pariſh Clark is not a parſon incorporate, nor hath ſucceſſion; but if he had preſcribed, that they uſed to pay it to the pariſh Clark to the uſe of the Parſon, perhaps it might be good; In this Caſe, it was agreed by the Juſtices, that of common right the parſon is not bound to find the pariſh Clark; But if the Parſon be tyed to find ſuch a Clark, and ſuch a ſumme of mony hath been uſed to be paid to the pariſh Clark, in diſcharge of the Parſon, and Tithes; the ſame had been a good preſcription, and ſo by way of Compoſition good. But the Court held, that Tithes were to be paid to Spiritual perſons; and a Pariſh Clark is but a Layman: and therefore no prohibition would lie; and afterwards a Conſultation was awarded by the Court. Hill. 30. Eliz. in B. R. Savel and Woods Caſe.

6. The Caſe was. A. Parſon of L. libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tithes, the defendant ſhewed that the Cuſtome of the Town of L. is, that the parſon ſhall have for his Tithes the tenth Land ſowed with any manner of Grain, and he ſhall begin his reckoning alwaies at the firſt Land which is next to the Church &c. the parſon ſhewed, that the defendant by fraud ſowed every Tenth land which belonged to the parſon (ut ſupra) very ill, and with ſmall quantity of grain, and did not dung, and manage it as he did the other nine parts; by means whereof, whereas every other ninth Land of them, yielded eight Cocks, the tenth yielded but three Cocks; and for this matter the Parſon (confeſſing the Cuſtome) libelled in the ſpiritual Court and prayed Tithes in kind; The defendant prayed a Prohibition upon the Parſons confeſſion of the Cuſtome. But it was the opinion of the Court, that the Cuſtome was againſt common reaſon, and ſo voide; and therefore a Prohibition upon it was denied: But the Court was of opinion, that if the Cuſtome had been good, there the Parſon muſt have had his Action upon the Caſe. Paſc. 30. Eliz. in B. R. Stebbs, and Goodlacks Caſe. Leon. 99.

7. A. Parſon of North-lyme libelled againſt I. S for Tithes in Kind of certain paſtures. The defendant to have a Prohibition ſurmiſed, that he is inhabitant of South-lyme, and that time out of mind &c. every Inhabitant of South-lyme having paſtures in North-lyme, hath paid Tythes in kind unto the Vicars of South-lyme, where he is not reſident; and the Vicar hath alſo time out of mind, paid to the parſon of South-lyme, for the time being, two pence for every Acre: It was the opinion of the Court in this caſe, that this is not a ſufficient ſurmiſe to have a Prohibition; for that upon this the matter of Modus Decimandi ſhall never come in Queſtion, but only the right of Tithes, if they belong to the Parſon of North-lyme, or to the Vicar of South-lyme; and he might have pleaded this matter in the Spiritual Court, becauſe it toucheth the right of Tithes: and alſo the preſcription is not reaſonable: and therefore the Prohibition was denied, and a Conſultation awarded: 30. Eliz. in B.R. Gatefield and Penns Caſe. Leon: 128.

8. A. Mr. of the Rolls Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt B. and C. his ſervant, for Tythes parcel of a Rectory whereof A. was Farmor to the Queen: It was moved, that againſt the Queens Farmor a Prohibition did not lye; But as to that it was holden by the Court, That a Prohibition doth lye againſt the Queens Farmor: Exception was taken to the ſurmiſe upon the Prohibition prayed, becauſe the ſaid A. had Libelled againſt the ſaid B. and C. his ſervants ſeverally, and now they both had made a joint Surmiſe; whereas they ought to have severed in their Surmiſes; and ſuch was the opinion of the Court: and for theſe Cauſes the Prohibition was denyed. Paſc. 26. Eliz. in B. R. Sir Gilbert Gerrard and Sharringtons Caſe. Leon. 186.

9. A Parſon Leaſed all his Gleab Lands for years, with all the Profits and Commodities, rendering 13. l. 4. d. pro omnibus exactionibus & demandis; and afterwards he Libelled againſt the Leſſee for the Tythes thereof, and the Leſſee upon that Surmiſe obtained a Prohibition: It was after moved for a Conſultation, and a Conſultation was awarded; for Wray Chief Juſtice ſaid, That Tythes are not things iſſuing out of Lands, nor any ſecular duty, but ſpiritual; and if the Parſon doth releaſe all demands in his Lands, his Tythes are not thereby extinct, and a Conſultation was granted. Tr. 31. Eliz. in B. R. Stiles and Millers Caſe. Leon 300.

10. The Leſſee of the Earl of Hertford prayed a Prohibition againſt the Vicar of L. to ſtay a Suit in the Spiritual Court for Tythes, becauſe the Lands were parcel of the Foreſt of B. whereof the King was ſeiſed in Fee in jure Coronæ, and he and all his Predeceſſors held it diſcharged of payment of Tythes, and after granted it to the Earl of Hertford in Fee, and ſo he ought to hold them diſcharged: The Court doubted whether the Parentee might have ſuch priviledge; Or that it be only a priviledge annexed to the Crown during the time the Land was in the Crown; but at laſt a Prohibition was granted de bene eſſe, unleſs cauſe were ſhewed by a day certain. M. 3. Car. in Co. B. Morant and Cumings Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 67.

11. Prohibition upon the Statute of 2. E. 6. becauſe he ſued for Tythes of Heath and barren ground within ſeven years after the Improvement: The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 50. E. 3. cap. 4. and that at another time a Prohibition was granted, and a Conſultation thereupon, and therefore he ſhall not have another Prohibition: It was ſhewed, That the Conſultation was not upon the ſubſtance of the Prohibition, but becauſe he did not prove by two witneſſes the ſuggeſtion within ſix moneths; the firſt Queſtion was, Whether by the Statute the ſuggeſtion ought to be proved by Witneſſes; as to that it was Reſolved, That it ought, as well as a Preſcription de modo Decimandi, or a Diſcharge of Tythes, or any other ſuggeſtion. 2. Reſolved, That it was not within the Statute of 50. E. 3. for that is intended where Conſultation is granted upon the ſubſtance of the Suggeſtion, and not where it is granted upon the inſufficiency of the form of the Suggeſtion, or in the proceeding thereupon: Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, eſpecially as this Caſe is, becauſe it is a Collateral Cauſe, out of the ſuggeſtion, and no Cauſe of Conſultation at the time of the Statute made. Hill 6. Car. in B. R. Stroad and Hoskins Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 151.

12. A Prohibition was prayed to ſtay a Suit in the Spiritual Court upon a Sentence in Ireland, for Tythes of Fiſh taken in the Sea; becauſe Fiſh in the Sea or great Rivers are feræ naturæ, and not Tytheable; and alſo becauſe the Sea is not within any Pariſh, and ſo no Parſon can ſay it is within his Pariſh: But the Prohibition was denyed by the Court; For Jones Juſtice, ſaid, That for Fiſhes in Ireland Tythes were ever paid, and in Cornwall they pay Tythe for Fiſhing in the Sea, and they pay it to the Parſon of the Pariſh where they are Landed: And it is a Cuſtom in Yarmouth that Tythe ſhall be paid for Herrings. Tr. 8. Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. part 192. See Hill 9 Car. in B R. the ſame Caſe, but not reſolved Ideo quære, if Tythes ſhall be paid if it be not by Cuſtome.

13. A Suggeſtion was made to the Court, that the Cuſtom was, That for Tares cut or mowed before they be ripe and given to plough Cattel, Tythes ought not to be paid; and another Custome for Headlands sowed with Corn, used to be fed with plough Cattel, or mowed and cut for that purpose, that the Owners should be discharged of Tythes; and upon that Suggestion, grounded upon speciall Customs, the Court granted a Prohibition. Hill 10. Car. in B R. Meare and Thornams Case. Cro. 1. part 285.

14. A Parson Libelled in the Spiritual Court for the Tythes of young Trees planted in a Nursery upon purpose to be rooted up and to be sold to be planted in another Parish; and a Prohibition was prayed, because they were of the Native of the Land, and Tythes should not be paid of them no more then of Coal, or of Stones digged, or for wood spent in the House for fuel: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That forasmuch as he made a profit of such young Trees, Tythes should be paid for them when he diggs them up and sells them in another Parish; the Prohibition was denyed per Curiam. Hill 14. Car. in B. K. Gibs and Wyborns Case. Cro. 1. part 378.

15. In a Prohibition, to stay a Suit for Tythes, the Plaintiff shewed, that he was seized in fee of three Acres of Meadow in the Parish of S. and that within the Parish there is a Custome, That every one seized of any Meadow within the same Parish have used time out of mind to cut down the grass growing upon a such Meadow at their own proper costs, and to Tedd and shake it abroad, and to gather it into round Rows, and put it into smal Cocks. Et post primum circumlationem inde, the 10th Cock inde to set forth for the Parson in satisfaction of all Tithes, as well of the first Moweth, as of the second Moweth; of that Meadow for the same years: and alledged de facto, that he did so, and that the defendant sued him for the Tithes of the after Moweth; It was objected, that this prescription was not good, because there is no more given to the Parson then he ought to have; But it was adjudged, that because it was alledged, that he at his own costs had tedded and shaked it abroad, and made it into Cocks, so it was a greater Labor and charge then the Law appoints, and the Parson hath the benefit of that Labour; that it was a good discharge, and the Prohibition allowed. Pasc. 2. Jac. in B.R. Holl and Fettyplaces Case. Cro. 2. part 41. and so it was adjudged. Pasc. 37 Eliz. in B.R. in Awbrey and Johnsons Case. And it was said, that without especial Custome, no Tithes shall be paid for Hay of the after Moweth: for that the Rule of Law is, that Tithes shall be paid ex annalis renova alibus simul & semel. See Hill. 16. Jac. in Ci. B. Hide and Ellis Case. Heb. 150. adjudg. acc.

16. Prohibition by the Plaintiff in the Spiritual Court, to stay his own suit, for he suing for Tithes in the Court of N. by virtue of a Lease made by the Vicar of F. for three years, the defendant claimed to be discharged of Tithes by a former lease, and composition by deed; It was the opinion of the Court, that the plaintiff himselfe might have a Prohibition to stay his own suit, for they are not to medle with the trial of Leases or real Contracts, although they have Juridiction of the Original Cause viz. for Tithes. M. 11. Jac. in B.R. Wotts and Clysions Case. Cro. 1. part. 352.

17. Upon a Reference in Cu. B. for a Prohibition; the plaintiff laid by his Prohibition, and the Ecclesiastical Court proceeded to sentence, afterwards the party appealed, and two Termes after the other dissolves the Prohibition. It was the opinion of the Court, that in regard he had surceased his time, and suffered the sentence to passe, that he now should not have the benefit of the Prohibition; and a difference was taken where a Prohibition was granted, and the party not serving it, sentence of excommunication is pronounced in default of answer there upon the matter, he may have the benefit of his Prohibition; but not where there is a sentence definitive. Tr. 15. Jac. in B R Cro. 2. part. 429.

18. A Prohibition was prayed to the Spiritual Court upon a suggestion, That the parson Libelled for the Tithes of a Mill which was erected upon Lands discharged of Tithes by the Sature of 31. H. 8 Cap. 13. of Monasteries. But it was denied by the whole Court, for de Molendino denovo erecto non fuit prohibitio. Tr. 15. Jac. B.R Cro. 2. part. 429. acc.

19. A Parson sued for substraction of Predial Tithes upon the Statute of 2. E. 6. in the Spiritual Court, the defendant made a suggestion, that for such a Farm upon which the Tithes did arise, there was a Custome that when the Tithes of the Land was set forth, that the owners of the said Lands had used time out of mind, to take back 30 Sheafs of the Tith Corne, and shewed, that he was owner of the said Farme, and that according to the Custome after the Tithe was set forth, that he did take back 30 Sheafs thereof, and prayed a Prohibition in this case: It was the opinion of the Court, that it ought to be averred, that the Farme was a great Farme, for otherwise it would be the impoverishing of the Church, and would take away a great part of the profit of the Parson: and if there were but 30 Sheafs in all, that the owners should not have them, for then the Custome should be unreasonable; But day was given to shew cause, why the prohibition should not be awarded. M. 11. Jac. in Co. B. Fuckr and Sir Charles Chardishes Case. Godbit. 234.

20. A Parson did Covenant and grant by deed with one of his parishioners, That in Consideration of 6 pound 13 shillings 4 pence per annum to be paid unto him, that parishonor should be discharged of all Tithe, upon condition to be void upon default of payment. Afterward the parson against his grant did sue the parishioner in the spiritual Court for Tithes in kind; A prohibition was prayed upon this matter? But the Court would not grant it, becauſe that the Original, viz. Th: Tythes, do belong to Spiritual Juriſdiction: But it was ſaid, That the Pariſhioners might have an Action of Covenant againſt the Perſon, upon the deed in the Temporal Court. M. 26. Jac. in B.R. Barnwell and Pleſſies Caſe. Godb. 273.

21. A man granted Lands parcel of his Manor to a Parſon in Fee by Deed to be quit of Tithes, and the Parſon with the aſſent of the Ordinary grants to him that he ſhall be quit of Tithes of his Manor for that parcel of Lands, If he or his Aſſigns be impleaded in the Spiritual Court for the Tithe of his Manor, or of any parcel of the ſame, he and his Aſſigns may have a Prohibition upon that Deed; and if the Deed were made before time of Memory, and the party had continued ſo to be quitted of Tithes of the Manor, the ſame is a real Compoſition, and ſhall bind the Parſon and his Succeſſors; and if the Parſon afterwards ſueth for Tithes in kind, a Prohibition will lie by. Hobart. Mich. 16. Jac. in Co. B. Cowper and Andrews Caſe. Hob. 41, 42.

22. A. Sued in the Spiritual Court for all the Tithes of the ground of one B. who prayed a Prohibition upon a Surmiſe, That the Queen was ſeized of two parts of the Tithes, and granted them to one W. and ſo conveys them to another, to whom he had paid for thoſe two parts; The Parſon prayed a Conſultation for the Third part, but it was denyed by the Court, becauſe a Conſultation cannot be granted but according to his Libel: and therefore it was holden that he muſt Libel de novo for Tythe of the third part. Hill. 13. Jac. in Co. B. Hoskins Caſe. Hob. 115.

23. Upon ſurmiſe to have a Prohibition, It was ſurmiſed, That there was a concord and agreement between the Lord Chandois, who was ſeiſed of the Manor of B. in the County of Wilts, and the defendant Parſon of B. That the Lord Chandois and his Farmers of his ſaid Manor ſhou'd pay unto the ſaid Parſon ſo long as he ſhould remain Parſon, ſuch a ſum of money in ſatisfaction of all his Tithes, and that in conſideration thereof they ſhould hold the ſaid Manor diſcharged of Tithes. It was ſaid, That upon a Demurrer in that Caſe it was adjudged, that a Prohibition would not lye, and that a Conſultation was awarded. Hill. 13. Jac. in B. R. Hawles and Byfields Caſe. Hob. 176.

24. A. Parſon of S. did Libel againſt B. in the ſpiritual Court for Tythe of Lambs, and ſaid there was a Cuſtom there, that all lambs ingendered, fallen, and bred upon any one Tenement or Living in the ſame Pariſh, although they belonged to ſeveral owners, they have been caſt and reckoned together as if they were but one mans, and the Tenths or Tythe Lamb of them ſo counted together have been paid for Tithe: and in this caſe a Prohibition was granted; becauſe all Cuſtoms againſt common right are tryable by the Common Law; and alſo becauſe the pretended cuſtom was unreaſonable, and againſt Law; for by this means it might fall out, that ſome one might have but one lamb, and that might be taken for Tythe, and he that had more ſhould pay nothing at all. M. 18 Jac. in Co B. fol. 603. Barker and Packers Caſe. Hob. 329.

25. In the Caſe of a Prohibition, the Caſe was, That a Parſon Libelled in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for the Tithe of Cattel; and the plaintiffe in the Prohibition alledged, That thoſe Cattel of which Tithe was demanded, are for his Dairy and for the Plough: It was holden by Winch. Juſtice, who only was preſent in Court, That the Parſon ſhall not have Tythe of ſuch Cattel; but if he breed up Cattel to ſell, it is otherwiſe. Tr. 20. Jac. in Co. B Winch 33. acc. M. 1. Jac. in Co. B. Baxter and Hopes Caſe. acc.

26. In the Principal Caſe it was alledged by the Plaintiff in the Prohibition, That time out of mind the Pariſhioners had uſed to pay a half-penny for the Tythe of a Calf, and 1. d. for a Cow; and that upon a day limitted they uſed to bring this to the Church, and to pay this to the Vicar, and that now the Vicar had libelled in the ſpiritual Court to compell them to bring it home to his houſe: It was ſaid that that was no occaſion for a Prohibition, for they agree in the Modus, but vary in the place of payment, and that is no matter of Subſtance, and for that reaſon no Prohibition will lye. Ibid.

26. In a Prohibition the Caſe was, A Libell was againſt the Plaintiff in the ſpiritual Court for Tythes; the Plaintiff upon a ſuggeſtion there made that there had bin a Modus of 2. s. for all Tythes obtained a Prohibition; upon Iſſue Joined, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit, becauſe he could not prove his Modus, & a Conſultation awarded; Afterwards a Sentence paſt there againſt him againſt the Modus; he appeals unto another Court upon the ſame Libel, there he ſuggeſts a new Modus of 2. s. for Tythe Gorn and Hay, and thereupon he prays a new Prohibition upon the Statute of 50. E. 3. cap. 4. It was the opinion of the Court, That the Appeal being in the ſame Cauſe, ſhall not be cauſe to make us to grant a new Prohibition, after a Conſultation duly granted, for the great inconvenience that might enſue; wherefore the Prohibition was denyed. Paſc. 14. Jac. Biggs Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. part 182.

27. A man Libelled in the ſpiritual Court for the Tythe of Neck-wooll of 800. Sheep, which the Defendants had cut and converted to their own uſes; The Defendants anſwered there, that they uſed between Michaelmas and Allhollantide to cut the head, neck and ears to preſerve their Sheep from vermin, therby to make the Fleece the better, & that they were to pay the tenth Sheep at ſhearing time; but not to pay any of theſe Neck-fleeces being of no value, which plea they there refuſed, and gave ſentence againſt him: This in it ſelf the Court thought to be no ground for a Prohibition; but afterwards becauſe it appeared in the ſuggeſtion, they uſed to wind up the other Fleeces at their own charge; Prohibition was granted by the Court. M. 14. Jac. in B. R. Foſſe and Parkers Caſe. Bulſtr. 3. part 242, 243.

28. A. Libelled in the Spiritual Court for the Tythe of Roots of Copps wood rooted up, the Court awarded a Prohibition in this Caſe; For the Roots ſhall be privileged as well as the Branches: And in this Caſe it was holden, That Tythes ſhould not be paid for Quarries of ſtone, nor for brick of Clay. M. 15. Car. in B. R. Skynners Caſe. Noſh. 58.

29. A Parſon Libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tythes: It was moved after Sentence upon a Suggeſtion of a Modus Decimandi; It was the opinion of the Court not to grant it after ſentence: The difference is where the party pleads the Modus, where not; for if he plead it there, notwithſtanding Sentence; a Prohibition hath been granted contrary, where he doth not plead it. M. 15. Car. in B. R. Marſh. 73.

2. Where a Prohibition ſhall be granted to the Eccleſiaſtical Courts; to ſtay their Proceedings in Cauſes: Which are Tryable at the Common-Law, and in what Suits; And for what Cauſes, what not.

1. SUit was in the Spiritual Court, for theſe words, viz. Thou art a forſworn Knave, for thou maideſt a falſe Accompt when thou were Churchwarden; The Defendant prayed a Prohibition, ſuppoſing the diſcuſſing of the Perjury to belong to the Temporal Court: But upon opening of the matter, the Court was of opinion a Conſultation ſhould be granted, becauſe the perjury was ſuppoſed to be committed about his execution of his Office of Church-Warden, which doth belong to the ſpiritual Juriſdiction; But if it had been ſuppoſed to have been committed concerning a Feoffment or other Temporal Act, Prohibition would lye. M. 40. Eliz. in Co. B. Brown and Lothers Caſe. Goldſbr. 113.

2. One Libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tythe of Billet, Faggot, and Talwood, and averred it came of Birch, Maple, and Haſel: A Prohibition was ſued ſurmiſing that they came of Oak, Aſh, Elm; It was ſaid that in the Spiritual Court if one Libel for wood of one nature, and it is found of another nature, yet Judgment ſhall be given there for the Plaintiff: But the Court ſaid that was abſurd; And vouched Molins Caſe, where one Libelled for Billet and Faggot generally, without ſhewing of what wood they were made, and upon pleading it appeared that part was Tytheable, and part not, and a Prohibition was awarded; and ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in one Lancs Caſe: And the opinion of the Court was in the principal Caſe, he ought to have pleaded the ſpecial matter to have had a Conſultation, viz. How many of them were Haſel, &c. which becauſe he had not done the Prohibition ſtood good. Hill 43. Eliz. in Co. B. Goldſbr. 127.

3. In a Prohibition the Caſe was, The Farmer of a Parſonage ſued in the Spiritual Court for Saffron, againſt the Vicar: The Vicar pleaded, that time out of mind, the Vicar and his Predeceſſors have had the Tythe of all Saffron within the Pariſh, The Plaintiff pleaded that the Land where the Saffron was growing this year, for forty years paſt had been ſowed with Corn, whereof the Parſon and his Predeceſſors had the Tythe: It was the opinion of the Court in regard the ſpiritual Court would not allow of the Plea there, that the Prohibition ſhould ſtand. Hill 43. Eliz. in B. R. Beaufield and Feeles Caſe. Goldſbr. 149.

4. Note, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That if a man ſueth in the Spiritual Court for Defamation, the matter ought to be wholly Spiritual and Eccleſiaſtical, as for calling him Hereticque, Adulterer, Schiſmatique, &c. 2. Reſolved, That if the Defamation be or concerneth any thing which is determinable at the Common Law; there the Spiritual Court ſhall not have a Juriſdiction of it. 3. Reſolved, That he who ſues in the Spiritual Court for Defamation, although that the matter be meer Eccleſiaſtical; yet he cannot ſue there for damages; but the Suit there ſhall be for puniſhment, pro ſalute animæ: But yet if a man ſueth in the Spiritual Court for laying violent hands upon a Clerk, if the party will redeem his penance, and agree to pay to the party damnified a certain ſum of money, there for ſuch ſum, the Suit ſhall be in the Spiritual Court. Tr. 25. Eliz. in B. R. Palmer and Thorps Caſe. Co. 4. part 20.

5. It was Reſolved and Adjudged in Co. B. That in all Caſes depending between party and party in the Spiritual Court, where the Suit is only pro ſalute animæ vel Reformatione morum, as for Defamation, laying violent hands upon a Clerk, and the like: In ſuch Caſe the Kings pardon is in Bar of the Suit, becauſe the Suit is not to recover any damages, but to inflict puniſhment upon the Offendor; But if one Libelleth there for Tythes, or for a Contract of Matrimony, or for any thing wherein the Plaintiff hath an Intereſt, there the King cannot pardon it, neither before nor after the Suit. 2. Reſolved, although the Suit be for the King, yet when ſentence is is given, and Coſts taxed for the party, the Kings Pardon ſhall not diſcharge them, although the pardon had been before the Sentence. 3. Reſolved, That although the party appeal, ſo as the Sentence to divers purpoſes is ſuſpended, yet by the firſt Sentence the party hath an Intereſt in the Coſts, which cannot be diſcharged by the Kings pardon. Tr. 20. Jac. in Co. B. Coke 5. part 51. Halls Caſe. Tr. 2. Car. in Co. B. Baldry and Packards Caſe. Cro. 1. part 33. acc.

6. The Marqueſs of Winchester by his Will in writing deviſed divers Manors to his reputed Son; and further deviſed that divers Manors ſhould be ſold, and bequeathed divers Legacies, and Plate to them: This Will was indeavoured to be proved in the Prerogative Court; and becauſe it appeared by Circumſtances that the Marqueſs was not of ſound memory at the time of the making of the ſaid Will, a Prohibition was prayed, which was granted by the Court; and the reaſon was, becauſe the Will concerning the Land and the Goods were mixed together, ſo as if they proceeded there concerning the Goods, the ſame did prevent the Tryal at Law for the Land; and for that cauſe the Prohibition was granted: For a Will of Lands ſhall be tryed at the Common Law. Coke 6. part 23. the Marqueſs of Winchesters Caſe. See there, 34. Eliz. in B. R. Lloyd and Lloyds Caſe adjudged, acc.

7. Note, it was Reſolved by the Court: That if an Orphan of London under the government of the Mayor and Aldermen ſue in the Spiritual Court, for any goods, money, or Legacy, in the Will of their Anceſtors, that in ſuch Caſes, a Prohibition lieth, becauſe that the Government of Orphans of London does appertain to the Mayor and Aldermen of London, and they have the juriſdiction of them: and in that Caſe, it was agreed, that if a Lord of a Manor hath probat of Wills within his Manor, if any in ſuch caſe prove the will in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, that a Prohibition lieth. Paſc. 35. Eliz. in B R. Coke 5. part. 73. The Caſe of the Orphans of London.

8. A Prohibition was prayed to the Spiritual Court, becauſe a ſuit was there for ſpeaking theſe words, viz. He was a Cuckold and a Wit-al; which is worſe than a Cuckold, and that I.S. had layen with the defendants wife: And it was ſaid, that theſe words were words only of Spleen, and Prohibitions uſually granted in ſuch Caſes: But it was the opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe; That although theſe ought not to be any ſuit there for the firſt words, they being too general; yet they being coupled with a particular, ſhewing that the wife committed ſuch an offence with ſuch a particular perſon, the words be not now words of Spleen, and uſual diſcourſe, but it was a defamation ſutable in the Spiritual Court: and the prohibition was denied. M. 4. Jac. in Co. B. Eaton and *Aylo*ffs Caſe. Cro. 11. part. 78.

9. The Adminiſtrator of F. was ſued in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, to make diſtribution of ſome part of the perſonal eſtate, to the ſiſter and heir of the Intestate; a Prohibition was prayed; upon a ſurmiſe, that by the Law of the Land, the Adminiſtration being committed the Ordinary hath no power to intermedele with making diſtribution of the goods of the Inteſtate to the Children or kindred: It was much inſiſted upon, that the Prohibition was not allowable, for that the uſual courſe hath alwaies been for the ordinary after debts paid, to give order for the diſtribution of part of the goods to the wife, and part to the Children: But it was Reſolved, that prohibition ſhould be granted; for the Adminiſtrator is only chargeable, and the ordinary hath nothing to meddle with it after that the Adminiſtration is Committed: and divers Preſidents were ſhewed of ſuch prohibitions, viz. M. 10. Jac. in Co. B. Swifts Caſe: where an Adminiſtratrix was bound in a bond of 200 pounds to the Ordinary to make true Adminiſtration, and to exhibit a true Inventory and to make a perfect accompt, and to diſtribute the ſurpluſs age after all debts and legacies paid at the appointment of the ordinary: and ſhe being ſued before the Biſhop of G. to make ſuch diſtribution: upon advice of the Court a Prohibition was granted. Hill. 2. Car. in Co B. Levannes Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 146. acc.

10. A man ſued in the Spiritual Court for defamation for theſe words; thou art a drunkard and a drunken fellow: It was inſiſted upon, that a Prohibition did not lie in ſuch caſe, becauſe the Spiritual Court as well as the Temporal Court might meddle with the puniſhment of Drunkenneſs; But a Prohibition was granted by the Court, for theſe words do not concern any Spiritual matter, but meere Temporal, and are but convitium temporale, and a common phraſe of brawling, for which no ſuit ought to be in the Spiritual Court. Prohibition was granted. M. 8. Car. in B. R. Bushold and Starrs Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 207. 221. acc.

11 Prohibition was prayed to ſtay a ſuit in the Spiritual Court for theſe words viz. He is a Cuckoldly knave, and preſidents ſhewed, that for ſuch like words Prohibitions had been granted: But the Court was of opinion that in this Caſe the words were properly to be examined in the Spiritual Court, and that to be puniſhed being pro reformatione morum; and it is a diſgrace to the husband as well as to the wife; becauſe he ſuffers and connives at it; It was then ſaid, that the ſuit was in the Arches, which is the Arch-Biſhops Juriſdiction and the Words were ſpoken at T. in the Dioceſs of the Biſhop of London; But becauſe the Court was informed, that there hath been been for a long time a Compoſition betwixt the Biſhop of London, and the Biſhop of Canterbury, that if any ſuit be begun before the Arch-Biſhop, it ſhall be alwaies permitted by the Biſhop of London, and ſo it is quaſi a general Licence, and ſued with the Biſhops aſſent: For both theſe cauſes the Prohibition was denied. Hill. 9. Car. in B. R. Cobbets Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 147.

12. Suit was in the Spiritual Court for calling the wife Welch Jade and Welch Rogue. The defendant appealed to the Court of Audience, and in the appeal mentioned the former words, and in the Libel was interlined viz. And a Welch Thiefe, whereupon Prohibition was granted, becauſe for the words Welch Thiefe action lay at the Common Law. But it was after ſhewed, that (Welch Thiefe) was not in the firſt Libel, nor in the appeal at the time of the Appeal, but was interlined after by a falſe hand; which was found to be ſo upon examination in the Spiritual Court, and ordered to be expunged: and it was ſhewed that the words Welch Jade were expounded in the Spiritual Court, and ſo known to be a Welch Whore. It was the opinion of the Court, that for theſe cauſes no Prohibition ſhould be granted. For that our Law gives credence to them therein, and eſpecially after two ſentences: But a conſultation was awarded: Welch Whore being a ſpiritual cauſe and examinable there. Paſc. 12. Car. in B. R. Pew and Jeffories Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 329.

13. The Husband prayed a Prohibition to the Eccleſiaſtical Court at S. becauſe his Wife ſued him there to be ſeparated from him propter ſævitiam; and ſentence was there given for the Husband againſt the Wife, and he was enforced to pay all the Coſts for his Wife: Afterwards ſhe appealed, and becauſe the Husband would not anſwer the Appeal againſt him, and pay for the tranſmitting of the Record he was excommunicated, and therefore prayed a Prohibition; the Court conceived it to be a hard Caſe, that he ſhould be inforced to ſpend his money againſt himſelf; and therefore would adviſe of it, but ordered to ſtay their proceedings in the mean time. M. 1. Car. in Co. B. Greeves Caſe. Cro. 1. part 11.

14. A. had Iſſue by B. his Wife two Sons, C. his eldeſt, and D. the younger, and dyed; C. within the age of fourteen years took E. to Wife, and at full age they lived together, & habuerant carnalem copulam, & Cogniti & reputati pro viro & Uxore palam: Afterwards C. put away E. and married F. leaving E. and had Iſſue by her G. C. dyed. F. publiſhed that ſhe was the lawful Wife of C. and that her Son G. was mulier: D. ſued in the ſpiritual Court to reverſe the marriage between C. and F. F. prayed a Prohibition: In that Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That if C. and F. had had Iſſue, and had been unjuſtly divorced, as long as the Divorce ſtood in force the Iſſue had no remedy by the Common Law. 2. Reſolved, That when the Spiritual Court ſhall have Juriſdiction, it behoveth that the Cauſe be ſpiritual. 3. Reſolved, That when the whole Cauſe is originally Spiritual, yet if after in the Spiritual Court they proceed to try a temporal Conuſance, or that which is tryable at the Common Law, that in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition ſhall be awarded. See Coke 7. part 44, 45. in Kenas Caſe. See before S. 8.

15. I. brought a Prohibition againſt the Churchwardens of H. in the County of S. for that they ſued him in the Spiritual Court for certain mony impoſed upon him without his conſent, for repair of the Church; That the Church-wardens with the aſſent of the greateſt part of the Pariſhioners, juxta quantitatem & qualitatem poſſeſſionum & reddituum infra dictam parochiam, agreed to make a Taxation for the repair of the Church, and Notice thereof was given in the Church; at which day the Church-wardens and the greater part of the Pariſh made a Tax, viz. Every Occupier of Land to pay for every Acre 4. d. I. dwelt in another Pariſh, and averred that the Pariſhioners of every Pariſh ought to repair their Church, and not the Church of another Pariſh: Upon which the Defendant demurred in Law: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That a Conſultation ſhould be awarded; For it was Reſolved, That the ſpiritual Court had Conuſant. de reparatione Corporis ſive navis Eccleſiæ; and it was Reſolved, That although I. did dwell in another Pariſh, yet for that he had Land in the ſaid Pariſh in his own poſſeſſion, he in Law was a Pariſhioner of H. But when there was a Fermor of the ſame Land, the Leſſor which received the Rent ſhould not be charged, but the Inhabitant is the Pariſhioner, and the Receipt of the Rent doth not make the Leſſor to be a Pariſhioner. M. 32. Eliz. in B. R. Coke 5. part 66. Jefferys Caſe.

16. In a Prohibition, the Plaintiff ſurmiſed, that his Father dyed ſeized of ſuch Lands which deſcended to him as Heir, and that the Defendant by Libel in the ſpiritual Court had ſuggeſted, That he made a Will and deviſed thoſe Lands to his Executor to ſell, and made the Defendant Executor, who ſued in the ſpiritual Court to have Probate thereof, whereas re vera he made no Will, and being at Iſſue whether he made a Will or not, the Plaintiff was Non ſuit; and yet it was moved, that the Defendant was not to have a Conſultation, for that it is not ſhewed that the Teſtator had goods, and then there was no cauſe of Probate, for a Will of Land needs not be proved: The Court agreed theſe Caſes, for it appears there was not any cauſe of Eccleſiaſtical ſuit, But in this Caſe it appears he hath cauſe of ſuit to prove the Will for the Goods; for otherwiſe he cannot have an Action for them: A Conſultation was granted Quoad the goods. Mich. 5. Car. in *B. 17. A Prohibition was prayed upon the Statute of 23. H. 8. for ſuing for a Legacy of 10. l. in the Prerogative Court, whereas the parties did dwell in another Diocels; but becauſe the Will was proved in the ſpiritual Court, and the Suit in the ſame Court where the Probate was, and there Sentence was given for the Legacy; and an Appeal upon this Sentence to Court of Delegates, where it was affirmed, and coſts taxed, and Execution granted upon Sentence; and till after the Sentence in the Appeal no endeavour was made to ſtay the Suit by the Statute, the party having ſo long allowed the Juriſdiction of the Court: It was adjudged, that the party came too late to have a Prohibition. 18. Note, It was holden by the Court, That if a Biſhop, Parſon, or other Eccleſiaſtical perſon, do cut down Trees upon the Lands, unleſs it be for Reparations of their Eccleſiaſtical Houſes, or ſuffer to be done any Dilapidations, they may be puniſhed for the ſame in the Eccleſiaſtical Courts, and a Prohibition will not lye in that Caſe; and yet for ſuch Waſtes done they may be puniſhed at the Common Law if the party pleaſe. 19. A woman Leſſee for years had Iſſue two Daughters, one married to A. the other to B. A. had Iſſue four Daughters; B. had alſo Iſſue: The woman deviſed Legacies to the children of A. out of the Rent reſerved upon the Leaſe of the Land, and made B. her Executor, and dyed: A. required B. in behalf of the children to pay the money to him to imploy for the benefit of the children, which B. refuſed; and thereupon he ſued him in the Spiritual Court, and there ſentence was given: B. the Executor moved for a Prohibition; he alledging for the ground of it, That he was Executor, and chargeable in Accompt for the money: But becauſe he came after Sentence, and alſo after he had appealed to the Court of Delegates, and after a ſentence there alſo againſt him, Prohibition was denyed by the Court. 20. In a Prohibition prayed, the Caſe was, A. lying ſick made his Will; And afterwards ſaid to his Executors named in the Will: I Will that B. ſhall have 20 l. more if you can ſpare it; the Executors anſwered Yes, but No Codicil was made of the ſame Legacy; A Suit was in the Spiritual Court for the Legacy: The Executor prayed a Prohibition; It was doubted in this Caſe, whether the Spiritual Court might give remedy to the perſon for the Legacy, for the ſame not being annexed to the Will by a Codicil it was but fidei Commiſſum; and ſo the doubt was, Whether the Spiritual Court might hold plea of it; for if they cannot hold plea of it, a Prohibition lyeth, although this Court hath not power nor juriſdiction of the thing it ſelf; the Court would adviſe of the Caſe. 21. The Pariſhioners had uſed time out of mind to chuſe the Pariſh Clerk of the Church of St. A. in Cant. and the old Clerk being dead, they choſe a new Clerk, and he had a Prohibition; and afterwards he was ſued again in the Spiritual Court; and the Parſon by force of a new Canon, choſe another man for Clerk: upon which the Clerk choſen by the Pariſhioners was ſued in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for ſetting of Bread upon the Communion Table, and ſinging in another Tune then the other Clerk did, and was deprived by Sentence there; and a Prohibition de Novo was prayed, for although the laſt Sentence there was not directly for uſing of the Office of a Clerk, yet by the matter contained in the Libel it was drawn into queſtion there; and it was ſaid that by the Suit in the Spiritual Court they would examine whether he was a lawful Clerk or not: It was the opinion of the Court that he ſhould have a Prohibition; for that the Canon is againſt the Common Law, and the Office of Clerk is a Lay-Office, and the Deprivation of the Ordinary of him was void in Law. 22. Sprat Sub-Deacon of Exeter did Libel in the Spiritual Court againſt N. H. 8. doth licence ſpiritual perſons to ſue for Penſions in the ſpiritual Court: But it was agreed in that Caſe, That he which hath ſuch a Penſion doth bring a Writ of Annuity for the ſame (as he well may) and declare upon the Preſcription, he cannot afterwards ſue for the ſame by the name of a Penſion; and if he doth, in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition will lye. 23. D. Wells ſued Hye in the ſpiritual Court for Defamation ſaying that he Lyed: The Plaintiff prayed a Prohibition; It was ſaid againſt the Prohibition, That where there is no Writ given for the party grieved in the Temporal Court, there the Spiritual Court ſhall have Juriſdiction: And in this Caſe there is no Writt given by Law; and See F. R. 51. Falſarius is to be puniſhed in the ſpiritual Court; and Boles Caſe. S. to his Oath concerning the Covin: In this Caſe a Prohibition was granted quoad, the examining of him upon his Oath, for although the original Cauſe belongs to their Conuſance, yet the fraud and covin is crimina', and the avowing of it to be bona fide is puniſhable both in the Star-Chamber, and by the penal Law of fraudulent gifts, and therefore not to be extorted out of him by Oath: And what ſhall be Covin, or not Covin, reſts not in them to judge. Tr. 12. *Jac. The Judge of the Prerogative Court, upon granting of Adminiſtration took a Bond of one S. that the Adminiſtrator ſhould diſpoſe of the Surpluſage of the goods, after debts and Legacies paid, according to the direction of the Court: The Inteſtate having left a Wife to whom Adminiſtration was committed, did find a Surpluſage in her hands, and did ſentence her that ſhe ſhould give certain Portions to the kindred of her Husband, not being his children: It was the clear opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That whereas the Statute of 21. H. 8. appoints the Adminiſtration to be granted, and that the Ordinary ſhall take ſureties for the Adminiſtration of the goods of the dead, that the Ordinary may not impoſe any other Condition upon the Bond; and although the Ordinary will pretend that the true Adminiſtration in the Act is to be intended and extended, as well to the diſpoſition of the Surpluſage, as to debts and Legacies; yet that is not under their Judgment, for they muſt take their Bond according to the Law; and the meaning & expoſition of the ſtatute & of the Bond are to be adjudged by the Courts of the Common Law: and upon this a Prohibition was awarded. Hill. 13. *Jac. 29. 30. Two men being Inhabitants of a Town, sued a Prohibition upon the Statute of 23. H. 8. cap. 9. because they being Inhabitants where such a Prebend and his Predecessors, time whereof, &c. had used to hold plea of Causes Ecclesiastical, the Defendant sued them before the Ordinary concerning Defamation: The Defendant pleaded, That the Cause is Ecclesiastical, depending in the Prebends Court; the inferiour Judge there requested the superiour Judge to assume it: Upon this bar it was demurred; for that it was not shewed that the Cause was Ecclesiastical, so as the Court might judge whether it were fit to be removed. 2. For that it was in a Peculiar to be removed before the Ordinary, and so out of the Statute, and no cause of a Prohibition: It was the opinion of the Court upon view of the Statute, That the Statute extends to Suits as well out of the peculiar Jurisdiction as out of the Diocess; The Court held the Bar to be good; and also, that a Prohibition brought by two cannot be good, where the griefs be several; and therefore Consultation was awarded. M. 5. Car. in B. 31. Prohibition because the Defendant sued there in the Consistory Court of Chester before the Commissary for a Mortuary, after the death of *I. Whether this be a just cause of Prohibition, Mortuaries being only tryable in the Spiritual Court? 2. Whether a Consultation shall be granted without answering the Prohibition? The Court was divided in opinion concerning these two Points: Wherefore it was Ordered that the Defendant should plead or demur, and then the Court would give Judgment upon the Record before them. M. 7. Car. in *B. 32. Prohibition prayed upon the Statute of 23. H. 8. cap. 9. For that the Bishop of C. having a Commendatory within his Diocess, Libelled for Tythes in the Court of the Arch-Bishop of York; and pendant the Suit dyed, and the Executors of the Bishop revived the Suit: The Question was, if a Suit being lawfully begun in the Arch-Bishops Court, shall afterwards be prohibited as Illegal: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That it would be hard to grant a Prohibition in such Case; for pendo, that they in the Arch-Bishops Court have examined their witnesses, so as the Cause is Causa conclusa, and they would not hear any more Examinations, but are ready to give sentence, the intent of the said Statute is not that such Cause should be remanded, whereby the Plaintiff should lose his costs of Suit: The Prohibition was denyed *per Curiam. 33. 34. A. the Executor of B. had a Prohibition against I. S. and the Case was, That one Agnes Salter devised that the Testator and three others should sell certain Lands, and dispose the money to the Defendant and three others equally; the Land was sold accordingly, and the Defendant sued the Executor in the spiritual Court for the fourth part of the money: It was the cleer opinion of the Court, that neither the Land nor money was Testamentory, as this Case is, for it was not Assets to debts, but a sum arising of Land, and appointed to Spiritual uses in way of equity; and that Court cannot hold plea of a Legacy in Equity, but only where it is a Legacy in Law, in Deed; the Prohibition allowed. Tr. 17. *Jac. 35. In a Prohibition the Case was, In the County of W. there was a Parish called A. and a Parish Church there; there was also in the same Parish a Chappel called B. and a Precinct called Castle B. the Inhabitants whereof did resort to the Chappel, and there Married, Christned, and received Sacraments, and had Church-wardens there, but buried not there, but at A. The Church of A. being in decay, the Parishioners of B. were taxed towards the Reparation with the Parishioners of A. and obtained a Prohibition upon a Surmise, that theirs was a Chappel Parochial, and that they alone time out of mind had used to repair that, by reason whereof they had been discharged of the Reparation of the Church of A. and yet in their Prohibition they confessed they were within the Parish of A. On the behalf of the Parish of A. two Sentences were shewed in the Ecclesiastical Court, whereby the Parishioners of the Chappel were sentenced to pay towards the Reparation of the Church of A. and five Sentences on the contrary on the behalf of the Chappel, but all of them disannulled by Appeal: It was the opinion of the Court in this Case, That a Consultation should be granted; for though the Surmise were matter of Fact, and tryable by Jury, yet it is in the discretion of the Court to deny a Prohibition when it appears to them that the Surmise is not true, and especially in this Case, when the delay of Reparations may turn to the decay of the Church; and it is apparent to the Court that they were to all purposes part of the Parish of A. and therefore the Commoners were lyable to the Reparations with the rest; and they might resort to the Church of A. to bury, which was the mother Church. Tr. 12. Jac. in *Co. 36. One was presented ex Officio in the Ecclesiastical Court for not frequenting of his Parish Church; he pleaded that this was not his Parish Church, but that he had used to frequent another Parish Church, and because they in the Spiritual Court would not receive his plea, the Court was moved for a Prohibition: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That they in the Ecclesiastical Court have not any power to intermeddle with the Precinct of any Parish Churches, nor are they there to judge which shall be said to be a mans Parish Church; Wherefore a Prohibition was granted. Tr. 9. Jac. in B. R. Bolstr. 1. part 159.

37. In a Prohibition prayed, the Case was, A. was Presented, Instituted and Inducted into the Parish Church of S. Afterwards B. drew him into the Spiritual Court, questioning him for some matters, as touching the validity of his Induction: It was the opinion of the whole Court, that in this Case a Prohibition ought to be granted, for that this is directly within the Statute of 45. E. 3. cap 3. for here the very title of Patronage comes in question with the determination of which they ought not there to intermeddle; also matter of Induction and the validity thereof is determinable at the Common Law, and not there by them in their Court; and therefore to prohibit their proceedings, there in this Case, a Prohibition was granted. M. 8. Jac. in B. R. Holts Case. Bolstr. 1. part 179.

38. In a Prohibition upon a Libel in the Spiritual Court, where the Suit was for Tythe Apples, In discharge of which he pleaded there an Award, which was, That he was to pay so much for the Tythe; which plea they refused, thinking this to be void: The Court in this Case denyed to grant a Prohibition; for when the Original begins in the Spiritual Court, although afterwards a matter happens in Issue which is tryable by our Law, yet this shall be tryed there by their Law; as if one do sue there for a Horse devised to him, The Defendant doth there plead, That the Devisor did give his Horse to him in his life time; this is tryable by our Law, yet the same shall be tryed there: But if they will judge in Common Law matters otherwise then we do, in such Cases we will prohibit them: The opinion of the whole Court was, That his plea of an Award there pleaded, and by them refused, was no ground for a Prohibition. Pasc. 11. Jac. in B. R. Parker and Kemps Case. Bolstr. 2. part 227, 228.

39. In a Prohibition to the Spiritual Court, in Case of Tryal of the validity of a Lease: It was said that the Civil Law will not allow of a Lease, unless it have Tradition; and therefore the same is not to be tryed there, but they are to be prohibited to draw the matter ad aliud examen: In the principal Case, One said there that he had a Lease, the other said, that he had another Lease, this is tryable there, but if they will goe about there to try the validity of Leases, they are to be prohibited; A difference was taken where a Temporal matter is the main thing, and where but accessory, a matter at Common Law comes there in question upon a matter there tryable, the original matter being meer spiritual; and accessarily a temporal matter happens in debate, this is there tryable, otherwise it is, where originally the matter is not tryable there; if they proceed, they are to be prohibited. In the principal Case the Prohibition was granted. M. 12. Jac. in B. R. Clifton and Oats Case. Bolstr. 2. part 183.

40. A Woman being Administratrix of the goods of her husband being called before the ordinary to make an Accompt for the goods and personal estate of her Husband; She made an Inventory thereof, and in this she put all the goods her Husband had, and herein she did mistake her selfe, and did put in some goods which her Husband the Intestate had given away, and disposed of in his life time, to a younger child: In the Accompt, she shewing them a deed of gift made by the Intestate her husband, to those goods in particular to his daughter, they being in her Custody, and this plea of hers as to those goods they did reject; It was the opinion of the Court, that a Prohibition should be granted as to those goods; with an exception of debts: in regard this deed of gift was there pleaded before Sentence given for the rejecting of that which is contained in the deed of gift, they are to be prohibited: and a Prohibition quoad that was awarded accordingly: Hill. 1. Jac. in *B.R. 42. Sir John took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of his wife; They in the Eccleſiaſtical Court would make him accompable for the Jewels and the mony, and to put them into the Inventory: a Prohibition was prayed: the Court differed in opinion about it, ſome being for it, and ſome againſt it, why it ſhould not be granted was, becauſe the mony received upon the truſt is in Law the monies of the truſtees, and the wife hath no remedy for it but in Court of equity, and therefore the husband ſhould have it as adminiſtrator. The reaſon why it ſhould be granted was, becauſe here the truſt was executed, and when the wife had received the mony, and by the receipt the husband had gained property therein as husband, therefore he ſhould not be accompable for it, and further the Eccleſiaſtical Court ſhould determine the truſt of which they have no Juriſdiction, for they have not a Court of equity: The Court moved, that in Chancery they ſhould move for a Prohibition to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, for that in equity the mony did belong to the wife. Tr. 15. Car. in *B. Where, and in what Caſe, and for what Cauſe Prohibitions ſhall be granted to the Court of Admiralty for ſtay of their proceedings in that Court, and in whoſe and in what Caſes, not.

1. IT was moved for a Prohibition, for that the ſuit was begun in the Admiral Court upon a Charter party made beyond ſea, upon the Land: And a Prohibition was granted, though it be for a thing made in Park, or in any other place beyond the ſea, if it be not upon the Main ſea; But if the defendant there admit the Juriſdiction of the Court, and ſuffer ſentence, then the Court will not upon a bare ſurmiſe grant a Prohibition after the Admittance of the party himſelfe, if it be not of a thing which appeareth within the Libel, that is, that the Act was not made within the Juriſdiction of the Seas: Paſc. 11. Jac. in *Co. 2. Prohibition prayed to the Admiralty: for that Violet libelled in that Court againſt Blague, ſuppoſing him to be in a ſhip at Anchor at Lime houſe: The libel was in the Nature of a Detinue at the Common Law. And becauſe it is in Corpore Comitatus, and not in the Admirals Juriſdiction, a Prohibition was awarded: And a Caſe was cited in 13. Jac where a ſhip lying at Anchor at blackwal was broken by another ſhip, and thereupon a ſuit being commenced in the Admiralty a Prohibition was granted per Curiam and ſo it was in the principal Caſe. M. 16. Jac. in *B.R. 4. A

4. A Frenchman had his ſhip taken by a Dunkirk upon the Sea, and before it was brought infra præſidia of the King of Spain it was driven by a Contrary wind to Weymouth in England, and there the Dunkirk ſold the ſhip and goods to one in Weymouth; The French man having notice that the goods were there libelled in the Admiralty againſt the Vender of the ſhip and goods, ſhewing that it was taken by Pirecy and not by Letters of Mart as was pretended; The Court inclined in this Caſe to grant a Prohibition, for that whether the Dunkirk tooke it by Letters of Mart, or not, was not material, the ſale being upon the Land and infra Corpus Comitatus; But becauſe, there was ſome miſdemeanor in the Vendee the Court would not award a Prohibition, but awarded that he ſhould have convenient time given him by the Court of Admiralty to find out the ſeller to maintain his Title, and in the mean time give Caution in the Admiralty, that if it be found againſt him, to reſtore the ſhip. Tr. 17. Car. in B. R. Merſh. 110.

5. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, that if one be ſued in the Admiralty Court for a thing alledged to be done upon the high ſea within the Juriſdiction of the Admiralty, and the defendant plead to it, and confeſſe the thing to be done, and after ſentence is given; That in ſuch Caſe the Court will be aviſed before they grant a Prohibition upon a ſurmiſe that it was done infra Corpus Comitatus againſt their own confeſſion, unleſſe it can be made to appear to the Court by matter in writing or other good matter, that this was done upon the Land; and although the admitrance of the party cannot give a Juriſdiction to the Court, where it of right hath none, for that it will be an encroachment upon the common Law; yet when the Court ſhall be informed that this is meerly for vexation and delay, if a Prohibition ſhall not be ſued till after ſentence, the Court in ſuch Caſe will grant no Prohibition. Hill. 8. Jac. Coke 12. part. 77. 78.

6. Many Poor Mariners ſued I. S. the Maſter of a Ship, for wages in the Admiral Court, Judgment there was given againſt I. S. he prayed a Prohibition and ſuggeſted that the Contract was made at London in England; The Prohibition in this Caſe was denied, becauſe he had not ſued his Prohibition in due time viz. before the Judgment given in the Court of Admiralty, and for that they are poor Mariners, and may not be delayed of their wages ſo long, and beſides they may all join in one libel there, but if they ſue here, they muſt bring ſeveral Actions; and therefore in diſcretion the Court denied the Prohibition; Paſc. 19. Jac. in Co. B. Poor Mariners and Jones Caſe. Winch. 8.

7. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Admiralty, the cauſe was for taking of a Recognizance in which the principal and his ſureties, his heires goods, and lands were bounden; and it was in the nature of an Execution at the common Law, and thereupon they in the Admiralty made out a Warrant to arreſt the body of the defendant: It was objected that they could not take a Recognizance; and by the Civil Law if the party render his body, the ſureties are diſcharged, and execution ought to be only of the goods, for the ſhip is only arreſted, and the libel ought to be againſt the ſhip and goods only, and not againſt the party, and his body cannot be taken in Execution; and therefore the Prohibition was prayed: This caſe was argued by the Civilians in open Court, wherein much was ſaid of the Juriſdiction of the Court of Admiralty and of their power: In this caſe it was agreed by Coke Chief Juſtice: That the cuſtomes of that Court ought to be allowed; and the Cuſtome of the Civil Law is, that in no caſe the ſurety is chargeable when the principal is ſufficient: But he agreed that they might take the body in execution which are for the moſt part Maſters of ſhips and Marchants who are tranſcuntes: and if they could not arreſt their bodies they might perhaps many times looſe the benefit of their ſuits; and ſo he inclined to opinion that the Prohibition would not lie; but the Caſe was not Reſolved, but adjourned. M. 10. Jac. in Co. B. Greenway and Barkers Caſe. Godb. 26.

8. In a Prohibition the Caſe was. A Maſter of a ſhip gave mony to B. to buy ſayles Cloaths for him, who bought ſuch Cloathes of I. S. in the pariſh of St Katherins neer the Tower of London. I. S. delivered the Cloathes in the ſhip which was in the River of Thames adjoyning to St Katherines, and becauſe the mony was not paid, I. S. ſued in the Admiral Court: In this caſe a Prohibition was granted by the whole Court, becauſe the contract was made on the Land and infra Corpus Comitatus, and becauſe the Admiral hath not Juriſdiction but of contract made ſuper altum mare. M. 7. Jac. in Co. B. Leigh and Barleys Caſe. Owen. 122. 123.

Where

Where and in what Caſes and for what Cauſes Prohibitions may be granted to ſtay proceedings in the Court of High Commiſſions, Courts of Councel at York, Marches of Wales, Court of Requeſts, and in other inferior Courts; and where and for what Cauſes not.

1. DIvers Articles were preferred before the High Coommiſſioners againſt Edwards: that he knowing that Dr Walton was trained up in Learning in the Univerſity of Oxford, and deſervedly took upon him the Degree of a Dr of Phyſick, of purpoſe to diſgrace the ſaid Doctor, and to blemiſh him in his Reputation, wrot many uncharitable Letters to ſeveral perſons, and to the Dr himſelfe, & therein taxed him of inciviliy, and diſhoneſty, and want of skill and Judgment in his Art and profeſſion; and alſo publiſhed in a letter, that the Father of the ſaid Doctor Walton (being late Biſhop of Exeter, and a Reverend Prelate of England) was ſubject to the diſeaſes of the French-pox, and Leproſy; upon which Articles, they required him to anſwer upon his Oath: and to ſet down what he meant, by certain inſignificant words mentioned in the ſaid letters; and for ſaying that he had gotten on the Hip of a Commiſſioner for Clauſes Eccleſiaſtical in the Dioceſs of Exeter; which words he ſpake to diſgrace him, and in him the whole Commiſſion Eccleſiaſtical in thoſe parts: For theſe Cauſes and their proceedings upon theſe Articles, a Prohibition was prayed: It was in this Caſe Reſolved by all the Juſtices; That the Articles were temporal concerning Dr Walton in his profeſſion of Phyſick, and ſo touched a temporal perſon and a temporal matter; and therefore a Prohibition did lie. 2. Becauſe it is for defamation, which ought to begin before the Ordinary, becauſe it is not ſuch an Enormious offence which is determinable before the High Commiſſioners. 3. It was reſolved, That the Eccleſiaſtical Judg cannot examine a man upon Oath upon the intention and thought of his Hart; and where a man is to be examined upon Oath it ought to be upon Acts, not words or intentions. 4. In this Caſe it was reſolved, that the High Court ſhould not have Conuſance of any ſcandal to themſelves; and for theſe Cauſes a Prohibition was directed to the Court of High Commiſſion. M. 6. Jac. Edwards Caſe. Coke Select Caſes 9. and 10.

2. It was moved for a Prohibition to the High Commiſſion, becauſe they would proceed there in a Caſe of incontinency: The Court denied to grant the Prohibition, becauſe the Court conceived they would not hold plea in ſuch a caſe, and adviſed the party to ſuggeſt this matter to them there; and if the would not allow of it, then the Court would grant a Prohibition, and ſuch was the opinion of the whole Court. Paſc. 10. Jac. in B.R. Bolſt. 1. part. 188.

3. Articles were exhibited before the High-Commiſſioners againſt I.P. that ſhe was aiding & aſſiſting to Sir H. in the years 1621. 1623. until Sept. 1624. to have familiar acquaintance with the Vicountes Purbeck, with whom he committed Adultery, and that ſhe was chiefe agent for their meeting at unſeaſonable times by and through her private Lodgings, by means whereof they took their opportunities to Commit Adultery, for which offence ſhe was by the Commiſſioners (7. Feb. 1627.) ſentenced to be guilty of Bawdry, & fined 200*l* to the King, & enjoyned to make penitential acknowledgment, and to be impriſoned till ſhe found ſureties for all the doing of all this ſentence. I. P. prayed a Prohibition, for that by the general pardon, 21. Jac. ſhe was pardoned for theſe offences, committed in the ſaid years; & avers ſhe was not guilty of any ſuch offence ſince the ſaid general pardon: In this Caſe, the Court granted a Prohibition, for although the time after the pardon is mentioned in the ſentence, yet it was for offences before the pardon. 2. Admitting that part of the offences were ſince the pardon, yet the fine being intire, and both the time before and after involved together, a Prohibition ought to be; and alſo becauſe ſhe is ſentenced to be impriſoned until ſhe find ſureties to performe the whole Order which is not warrantable: for although by the ſtatute of 1. Eliz. they may aſſeſs fines, or impriſon for an offence, yet they can neither commit any to priſon for the fine, nor till the party find ſureties to perform their order, but they ought to Certify the fine into the Exchequer: See there divers preſidents: where the party was cited before the High Commiſſioners for Adultery & Prohibitions were granted. Tr. 4. Car. in B.R. Iſabel Peeles Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 80.

4. A Prohibition was prayed to the Councel at York to prohibit them for holding of pleas in matters not there determinable by them; as in caſes of replevin & Avowries upon the ſame, the Court was cleer of opinion, that they could not there hold plea of a Replevin, nor of Avowries, theſe being determinable by the Common Law, whereupon a prohibition was granted to ſtay their proceedings in ſuch a Cauſe. Paſc. 8. Jac. in B.R. Baker and Dickenſons Caſe. Bolſt. 1. part. 110.

5. The Lady Throgmorton was committed by the Biſhop of London & other Commiſſioners under their hand until farther order ſhould be taken for her Enlargment; ſegement; The Cauſe of her Commitment, ſhe being brought by Habeas Corpus to the Barre, was 1. For that ſhe had done many evil Offices betwixt Sir James Scudamore and her Daughter the Lady Scudamore wife of the ſaid Sir James, to make a ſeparation betwixt them; & after ſentence before the Commiſſioners for divers contemptuous words againſt the Court; ſaying that ſhe neither had Law nor Juſtice: It was reſolved by the Court, for her detayning of the wife and her endeavouring to make ſeparation, no ſuit could be before the High Court commiſſioners, becauſe for the detaining of the wife there is remedy at Law, and for ſuch offence they cannot impriſon: & for the words it doth not appear that they were ſpoken in Court. 2. It was reſolved, that that Court is no Court of Record, for they proceed according to the Civil Law; for none ſhall be Committed for a miſdemeanor in Court unleſſe the Court be of Record. Tr. 8. Iac. The Lady Throgmortons Caſe. Coke 12. part. 69.

6. In a Prohibition it was moved for a Queſtion, if the Court of Common Pleas might grant a Prohibition when no plea is dependent in the Common Pleas; It was objected, that it hath not Juriſdiction to hold plea without an Original, unleſſe it be by Priviledge of an Atturney or Clerk of the Court, or when there is an Action depending there for the ſame cauſe: and in ſuch caſe, the Prohibition ought to recite. Quod cum tale placitum pendet &c. the defendant pendente placito, hath ſued in the Spiritual Court. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, that the Court of Common Pleas may award a Prohibition, although that no ſuit be there pendant for this, that the Common Pleas is the principal Court of Common Law; and it belongs to the Juriſdiction of the Court to determine all Common Pleas; and if the Eccleſiaſtical Court encroach upon the Juriſdiction of the Common Pleas of any thing againſt the Common Law of the Land, they may grant a Prohibition and that without an Original Writ. M 6. Iac. in the Caſe of Prohibitions. Coke 12. part. 59.

7. A ſuit was before the Councel of York: which was a Replevin in Engliſh granted by the Preſident and Councel, there; A Prohibition in that Caſe was granted out of the Common Pleas, for that at the Common Law no Replevin ought to be made but by Original Writ directed to the Sheriff, and the Statute of Marlebridg Cap. 21. and Weſt. 1. cap. 17. hath authorized the Sheriff upon Plaint made to him to make a Replevin; and the ground of the Prohibition in that Caſe, was; becauſe the King by his Inſtructions never made the Preſident nor Councel Sheriffs nor could grant them power to make a Replevin againſt Law, but the ſame ought to be by the Sheriff. See Lock and Bells Caſe. Vouch Hill. 6. Iac. in the Caſe of Prohibitions. Coke Select Caſes. 31.

8. Sir Bethel Knight Sheriff of the County of York, as executor of one Stephenſon who had made him and another his Executors, preferred an Engliſh Bill before the Councel of York againſt Chambers and others, in the Nature of an Action upon the Caſe upon a Trover and Converſion in the life of the Teſtator of goods and chattels to the value of 1000li, and becauſe the other would not joyn with him, he pretended that he had not any remedy at the Common Law, and therefore prayed remedy in equity there: In that caſe a Prohibition was granted, and that for theſe cauſes. 1. Becauſe there was an expreſs limitation in their Commiſſion, that they ſhould not hold plea between party and party, unleſſe both parties or one of them, tanta paupertate ſunt gravati, that they could not ſue at Common Law; and in this caſe the plaintiff was a Knight and Sheriff of the County. 2. Becauſe by that ſuit the King was deceived of his Fine, which he ought to have had, viz. 200li. 3. Becauſe there ignorance appeared in that ſuit viz. That one Executor had no remedy at the common Law, becauſe the other would not joyn in ſuit with him: whereas every one Learned in the Law knoweth, that ſummons and ſeverance lieth in any ſuit brought as Executors, and the Prohibition was allowed to be good. Sir Bethel Knights Caſe. Coke Select Caſe ibid. 31. 32.

9. A preferred his Bill before the Vice-Chamberlain of Cheſter againſt B. who dwelt in the ſame County, and A. who inhabited at London, both being Executors to one to whom A. was indebted by Bond, (which Bond was put in ſuit in the Court of common Pleas at London) and the Bill did concern an Agreement that the Teſtator had promiſed that one I. S. ſhould aſſigne a leaſe of Tithes to the plaintiff in conſideration of his entry into the ſaid Bond; He which inhabited in Cheſter anſwered, order was made there by the Vice-Chamberlain that proceſſe ſhould be awarded to him that dwelt at London, and an Injunction there was granted to ſtay the proceedings at common Law. In this caſe; Notwithſtanding that the Contract was made in the County Palatine and the priviledg followed the perſon who alſo dwelt there. Yet a Prohibition was granted, for it was reſolved that the Court of Cheſter had not power in this caſe; but it belonged to the Court of Chancery of England. Hill. 10. Iac. in Co. B. Griggs Caſe. Hutton. 29.

10. E. who was the Wife, and C. who was the daughter of I. B. Principal of St Mary Hall in Oxford Libelled in the Vice-Chancellors Court at Oxford againſt W. the Wife, for calling her Bawd, and old Bawd (which is termed the action of injury) the daughter for theſe words viz. ſcurvy Whore and Jade, and ſtriking her. The defendant prayed ſeveral Prohibitions. The Agent for the Univerſity ſhewed the Charter of the Univerſity of 14. R. 2. and 14.

Hen.

*Hen.*8. whereby it was granted unto them, that they might enquire of all Treſpaſſes Injuries and pleas and other Crimes (except Pleas of Freeholdor) where a Scholar, or any of ther ſervants or Miniſters ſunt una partium, cognitionem & correctionem inde habeant ſecundùm eorum ſtatuta vel conſuetudines vel ſecundum legem Regni Anglia &c. which Charters were confirmed by act of Parl. 13. Eliz. It was much debated at the Bench if a Prohibition in this Caſe ſhouldbe granted, becauſe the parties pleas there were with men which were not parties priviledged there, and the defendant who is a Schollar there doth not deſire the Priviledg: But the Court at laſt agreed; That foraſmuch as the Charters are, That the Univerſity ſhall have Conuſans of thoſe pleas where una pars eſt Scholaris, and ſo thereby the parties being enforced to ſue there; that no Prohibition ſhould be granted: But the Cauſe remanded. *Tr.*3. Car. in Co. B Wilcocks and Parſels Caſe. *Cro.*1. part. 52.

11. In an Ejectione firmæ, The defendant being Principal of Glouceſter Hall in Oxford, pretended that he being a Schollar there and a Priviledged perſon, ought to be ſued before the Vice-Chancellor there, juxta moremuniverſitatis, according to their Charters; and ſhewed, that they had Conuſans of all ſuch Contracts, Covenants, Quarrels, and this being a perſonal action, they ought to have Conuſans thereof; and a Preſident was ſhewed. 22. E. where a plea of Covenant was brought in the Court of the Vice-Chancellor there, by reaſon of a Contract made: The Contract was in the principal Caſe, that he ſhould enjoy for ſuch a houſe in Oxford for a year: It was the opinion of the Court upon view of the Charters, that the Vice-Chancellor had not any Juriſdiction, nor could hold pleas thereof, for that in this action, he ſhall recover poſſeſſion, and ſhall have an Habere faciat poſſeſſionem, and thereby he who hath a Freehold may be put out of poſſeſſion, and it is not like the preſident which is ſhewed, for there it is only an Action of Covenant, wherein the plaintiff ſhall only recover damages; but here the poſſeſſion; wherefore a Prohibition was awarded. M. 3. Car. in Co. B. Hollyes Caſe. *Cro.*1. part. 62.

12. A Prohibition was prayed to the Councel of the Marches of Wales for that upon a Bill there from a ſuppoſed Riot, they proceeded and gave ſentence and damage againſt the defendant to 1000 pounds, where by their inſtructions they ought not to hold plea of Damages of debt above 50 pounds; It was objected, that they might hold plea of Riot, or miſdemeanors as the Star-Chamber did; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, that although the Star-Chamber of late had uſed to decree damages to the party, the legality thereof not being queſtioned, it being a ſupreme Court: it doth not therefore follow that other Courts do aſſume to themſelves the ſame Juriſdiction; and the Act of 34. *H.*8. by which the Court of Wales is eſtabliſhed doth not warrant them to do more then formerly had been uſed to be done; and whether it was ſo before cannot be ſhewed; A Prohibition was granted. *Hill.*14 Car. in B.R. Powel and Sheeres Caſe *Cro.*1. part. 381.

13. A Prohibition was prayed to the Councel of the Marches of Wales, becauſe the party was ſued there for a Legacy above the value of 50 pounds, viz. for 100 pounds. It was ſaid that there inſtructions were to hold plea of Legacies of any ſumme; The Court doubted, whether ſuch inſtructions ſhould be good to warrant their proceedings, becauſe Cauſes teſtamentary and Legacies are ſueable in the Spiritual Court, and not elſewhere; for they cannot warrant that which is not according to Law; It was not reſolved but adjorned. M. 16. Car. in B. R. Sir Henry Williams Caſe. *Cro.*1. part. 432.

14. I. S. Seiſed of Lands in Fee makes a leaſe for life, and afterwards levies a fine of all his Lands with an indenture to lead the uſes of the fine which was to the uſe of I. D. for 15 yeares, and after to the uſe of himſelfe for life, with a Power by a Proviſo, for him to make Leaſes for 21 years or three lives in poſſeſſion; This leaſe being queſtioned before the Councel of Marches by a Bill there to have ſtay of the Execution of the power; a Prohibition was thereupon prayed, which was granted by the Court: for they all agreed, that this terme of 15 years is preſently ſubject to the power, by the Proviſo of him in the remainder, and that this power doth iſſue out of the whole eſtate, and that the firſt leſſee ſhall have the rent reſerved during the 15 years limitted to him, ſo as thoſe matters are determinable at Common Law. A Prohibition was awarded. *Pa.*12. Jac. in B.R. Fox and Prickwoods Caſe. *Cro.*1. part. 349.

15. In a Quare impedit, the Caſe was. Sir T. Hutton, preſented one R. his Clerk to the Biſhop of Cheſters Ordinary, who refuſed him, whereupon he complained to the Arch-Biſhop of York, who ſent a Monition to the Biſhop to receive his Clerk, or elſe to appeare before him and anſwer, who did neither; whereupon the Arch-Biſhop inſtituted him, and by his warrant the Clark was Inducted; One K. preſented by the King ſued in the Court of Delegates, ſuppoſing the Inſtitution by the Arch-Biſhop was void, and by conſequence meant to avoid the Induction, being as he ſuppoſed without warrant, and the reaſon was, becauſe the Arch-Biſhop did inſtitute here in London in time of Parliament. A Prohibition was prayed, and granted by the Court in this Caſe, for ſince by the Induction which is a temporal act and triable at common Law the Church is full, it is not to be avoided but by a ſuit of Quare impedit at the Gommon law, and not to be undermined by alledging inſufficiency in the Inſtitution in the Ececcleſiaſtical Court, for that may come in Queſtion upon the trial of the Induction at Law, which will not be good if the Induction were not good; And it was holden in this Caſe, that though this Advouſon and Church were in the County of Lancaſter, and a Quare impedit, and alſo a Prohibition might be brought there: Yet the opinion of the Court was, that this Prohibition might be granted alſo in this Court, becauſe the title of the Advouſon is not here queſtioned, but the intruſion upon the common Law (whereof this Court hath the general care) is to be reſtrained, the Prohibition was awarded. Tr. 22. Jac. in Co. B. Sir Tymothy Huttons Caſe. Hob. 15. 16.

16. Note, It was agreed by the whole Court, that if the deviſee of 500 pound ſue in the Marches of Wales for this legacie, that in that caſe a Prohibition is grantable. For although the Court of common Pleas had no power to hold plea of that, yet becauſe the thing is only triable in the Eccleſiaſtical Court a Prohibition may be granted to reduce that to its proper Court; And although the Inſtructions of the Court of the Marches be to hold plea of all things, where there is no remedy at the Common Law; yet this is to be underſtood of matters in equity, and not to take the Juriſdiction from the Spiritual Court, for the King may not do that by his Letters Patents. Paſc. 22. Jac. in Co. B. Good and Goods Caſe. Winch 78.

17. Note, it was agreed per totam Curiam in the caſe of one who was an Adminiſtrator durante minore ætate of an infant: That the Court of Marches of Wales have no authority to enforce ſuch an Adminiſtrator to accompt before them; but only the Eccleſiaſtical Court; and if they do intermeddle with ſuch things, that this Court may grant a Prohibition. M. 22. Jac. in Co. B. Bubles Caſe. Winch. 103.

18. A Prohibition was prayed to the Dutchy Court, for proceeding there in a matter after a verdict and Judgment at the Common Law in an action of Treſpaſs: It was reſolved by the whole Court, that after a verdict and Judgment given in an action of Treſpaſs, the matter ought not to be brought into any Engliſh Court: for that is reſtrained by the Statute of 4. H. 4. Cap. 23. And here the Judgment was given in a Court of Record, and therefore not to be diſſolved by any Decree in the Court of Dutchy or in any other ſuch Court: and the Court ſaid, that never any Decree was made in that Court, in caſe where a Judgment was given in a Court of Record. Mich. 22. Jac. in B. R. Wright and Fowlers Caſe. Bolſt. 2. part. 284.

19. A Prohibition was prayed againſt the Warden of the Court of Stannaries in the County of Cornwall and one A. for that they procured an Order and a Decree for the payment of a Summe of money unto them without any Bill and ſummoning of the defendant to appear, or without any anſwer or ſentence of Court; ſo their proceedings were Coram non judice; and it was ſaid, that all their proceedings there ſummarily and de plano without any formall Courſe were illegal, and the Kings Courts may take notice where they proceed irregularly, and ſhall controul them, & preſerve the Juriſdiction of the Court; the Court ordered that a Prohibition be granted comprizing in it all the matter aforeſaid; which was done accordingly. M. 9. Car. in B. R. Adams and the Wardein of the Stannaries Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 421.

20. G. prayed a Prohibition to the Court of Requeſts, for that in an Action of Trover for divers goods after Verdict and Judgment in B. R. and affirmed in a Writ of Error; the defendant ſurmiſed matter of Equity that he was ſurpriſed in his Trial and had not his Witneſſes there; the queſtion being upon ſale by Commiſſioners upon the Statute of Bankrupts. The Court granted a Prohibition and ſaid, that ſo they would always doe when ever any exhibited Bills there after Verdict and Judgment. M. 16. Car. in B. R. Calmadies Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 432.

21. In debt, the defendant exhibits his ſuit in the Court of Requeſt, and there the plaintiff in that Court denied, that the debt was paid; and the Court of Requeſt awarded an injunction, and upon information of it the Court awarded a Prohibition, to inhibite the ſuit there. Hill. 7. Jac. in Co. B. Reade and Fiſher. Caſe. Brownl. 1. part. 197.

22. Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Requeſts, for that an Adminiſtratrix ſues in that Court, complaining that ſhe had taken Adminiſtration of her Husbands goods, thinking that he was out of debt, unleſs for ſmall ſums which he owed to Labourers, and that ſhe did pay thoſe debts, and ſo miniſtred the goods; and that afterwards debts were brought againſt her upon Specialties, and ſhe prayed an Injunction there, and had it; this matter being ſhewed to the Court, a Prohibition was granted per Curiam. Paſc. 17. Jac. in B. R. Fobbins Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 331.

23. D. had divers Creditors; all of them, but C. the Plaintiff, did give him two or three years day of payment; the Plaintiff would not agree to this, but would have his money preſently, or bring his Action for recovery of it: D. petitioned the Court of Requeſts, and prayed them to Order him to yield to the time of payment limitted by the other Creditors, they moved him thereunto, which he refuſed to do, but ſaid that if he would give him preſent ſecurity to pay him in ſome reaſonable time which he ſhould give him, he would be ſatiſfied, otherwiſe he would forbear no longer: Afterwards D. procured an Injunction from the Court to compel him to ſtand to the time limitted by the other Creditors; a Prohibition was prayed on the behalf of C. the Plaintiff, againſt which was objected; the Priority of Suit in the Courts of Requeſts; But it was Reſolved by the Court, that this Priority of Suit made nothing in the Caſe; for when the Suit is in the Kings Bench, another Court, as the Court of Requeſts, cannot grant an Injunction to ſtay the proceedings here; and where the Court of Requeſts hath the Priority of Action, this Court upon cauſe ſhewed may grant Prohibition to ſtay their proceedings in that Court: The Prohibition was granted. Hill. 7. Jac. in B. R. Crwe and Drapers Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 19.

24. In a Prohibition the Caſe was, G. Leſſor for years, rendring Rent to him with condition of Re-entry for not payment; the Leſſee ſows the Land, and afterwards aſſigns the Intereſt of his Term for one year to R. the Defendant and Plaintiff in Chancery to be ſaved harmleſs of a Bond of 60. l. which he was bound in with the Leſſee: The Rent was behind, and being demanded, not paid; the Leſſor enters for the forfeiture, and after in commiſeration of the Leſſee, grants the Corn upon the Land to a third perſon to the uſe of the Leſſee and his benefit: R. the Aſſignee of the Leſſee preſers his Bill in the Court of Requeſts againſt the Leſſor, Leſſee, and Aſſignee of the Corn, and ſuggeſts a Combination betwixt them to make a forfeiture of the Leaſe, and ſo to defeat him of the Corn: In their anſwer all the Allegations were denyed upon Oath; yet without further proceedings, or any proof made of the matter, the Court there made a Decree againſt the Leſſor and the other Defendants: G. moved for a Prohibition, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, that they would not examine the matter here after a Decree there paſſed, notwithſtanding that the Judges erred there in their proceedings (which the Court held they did in this Caſe) in point of Equity: But the Court ſaid, that if they will intermeddle with any matter of Law, in ſuch Caſe they will grant a Prohibition; But in this Caſe as it ſtood, although there was a miſtake by them of the matter of Equity, yet they would grant no Prohibition, and ſo the Prohibition was denyed. M. 11. Jac. in B. R. Glaſcock and Rowleys Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part 142, 143.

25. In a Prohibition prayed to the Court of Requeſts the Caſe was, A Feme ſole poſſeſſed of a Term, conveyed the ſame over in truſt from her, and covenanted with I. S. with whom ſhe did intend to marry, that he ſhould not meddle with it, and for that purpoſe took a Bond of him: They Inter-married, The Court was of opinion he may intermeddle with it, but he ſhall not have it, and by Equity cannot aſſign it by reaſon of the Covenant before marriage; But if he do, It was the opinion of all the Judges, that a Prohibition will not lye in the Caſe; for that it is matter only for Equity; But if they in that Court do Decree Demiſit, or Non Demiſit, Aſſignavit, or Non, &c. then they exceed their Juriſdiction, and in ſuch Caſe a Prohibition lyeth. Paſc. 17. Car. in B. R. Marſh. 118.

26. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Requeſts, upon Suggeſtion that one Executor ſued another, the Bill being in nature of an Accompt; and it was ſaid that an Accompt doth not lye but by Writ. 2. Becauſe they had given damages there in the Accompt, whereas no damages are to be given in Accompt. 3. Becauſe they had ſequeſtered others Lands, which is againſt Law: Upon view of the Bill It appeared to the Court that it was a Bill only of Diſcovery againſt Truſtees, who were about to defeat an Enfant, and by a Confederacy to break a Truſt; Wherefore a Prohibition was denyed as to that matter; But as to the Decree for Sequeſtreating others Lands, a Prohibition was granted. Tr. 17. Car. in B. R. Marſh. 102.

27. A Bill was preferred in the Court of Requeſts for moneys due upon Accompt; It was moved that the Bill was no other but in the nature of debt upon Accompt, for which a Court of Equity hath no Juriſdiction; for by ſuch means the King ſhould loſe his Fine: Againſt the Prohibition it was ſaid, That the Defendant had Exhibited a croſs Bill, and ſo affirmed the Juriſdiction, and he ought to have demurred to the Juriſdiction; and alſo it was ſaid, that the Suit there was for divers Wares delivered by a Chandler of a countrey Town, and to prove the delivery of them he had no Witneſſes: it was the opinion of the Court that a Prohibition ſhould be granted, for it was but an Action of debt upon an Accompt, and the Court ſaid that if he had no Witneſſes to prove the delivery of the Wares, then he could have no releif alſo in the Court of Requeſts. Tr. 17 Car. in B. R. Grubs Caſe. Ibid. 102.

28. An Orphan of London did Exhibit a Bill in the Court of Requeſts againſt another for a diſcovery of part of his eſtate; the Defendant prayed a Prohibition upon the cuſtome of London, That Orphans ought to ſue in the Court of Orphans in London: But it was the opinion of all the Juſtices againſt that, becauſe that although the Orphans had that priviledge, yet if they conceived it more ſecure and better for them to ſue in the Court of Requeſts they might waive their priviledge of ſuing in the Court of Orphans in London, for quilibet poteſt renunciare juri pro ſe introducto, and this Caſe is the ſtronger, becauſe the Court of Orphans in London did conſent to this Suit in the Court of Requeſts: The Prohibition was denyed by the Court. M. 17. Car. in B. R. Ibid. 107.

29. A Prohibition was prayed to a Court Baron, and alſo an Attachment of the Steward for deviding of Actions to bring the ſame within their Juriſdiction, to defeat the Common Law; as alſo for refuſing to ſuffer the Defendant to put in any Attorny for him then one of the Atturneys of that Court: For theſe Cauſes the Court awarded a Prohibition, and ordered the Steward to ſtand committed, till he had anſwered Interrogatories concerning that miſdemeanor; For it was ſaid, That an Atturney at common Law is an Atturney in every inferiour Court. M. 17. Car. in B. R. Darcyes Caſe.

1. WT. Parſon of S. in Eſſex, ſued W. M. before the High Commiſſioners for giving unreverent ſpeeches to the Miniſter, and for carrying his Corn on Holy-days, and for not ſuffering the Parſon and his Pariſhioners to come thorow his Yard in Rogation weeks, and not giving them a Repaſt as uſually he had done: It was Reſolved by the whole Court, after a long debate in this Cauſe, That the High Commiſſioners cold not deal with ſuch inferiour Offences, but they were to be left to the proper Dioceſan, who is to reform the ſame; and therefore a Prohibition was granted by the Court to the High Commiſſioners to ſtay their proceedings. M. 45. Eliz. in *Co. 3. Note, By the Juſtices, where a man deviſeth that his Executors ſhall ſell Land, and of the monies raiſed ſhall give ſuch Portions to his Daughters; that the ſame is not a Legacy, becauſe it is given out of Land, and an Action of Accompt lyeth for the ſame; And therefore, If Suit be in the ſpiritual Court for ſuch Portion, a Prohibition ſhall be granted. M. 5. *Ma. 4. A Parſon ſued in the ſpiritual Court for Tythe of Aſpe, and a Prohibition was awarded, for it was ſaid that it had been adjudged in that Court, That Tythes ſhould not be paid of Aſpe; nor if a man cut down Trees for Houſeboot, Hedgboot, Cartboot, &c. Tythes ſhall not be paid of them. Hill. 43. Eliz. in *Com. 5. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That if a Conſultation be once granted, no new Prohibition ſhall be afterwards granted upon the ſame Libell; But if it be apparent matter that the firſt was unduly granted, In ſuch Caſe a New Prohibition may be granted; and that upon the Statute of 50. E. 3. which extends to the ſpiritual Judge only, for the Admiral is out of that Statute. Tr. 11. Jac. in *Co. 6. In the Caſe for a Prohibition the Caſe was, S. was preſented to the Vicarage of P. the Biſhop refuſed him, and admitted one I. S. to the Parſonage of P. at the preſentment of the Lord St. John: S. ſued the Biſhop for Contumacy per duplicem querelam; the Biſhop ſaid Non habetur talis Vicaria, upon which matter he ſued a Prohibition: Now for a Conſultation it was ſaid that Prohibition did not lye, for a Vicar is but he qui gerit vicem Parſonæ, ſo as the ſame is a ſpiritual matter, which ought to be tryed in the ſpiritual Court; and alſo the Libel is to have Admiſſion and Inſtitution, and the other matter ariſeth by their Plea, Quod Rectoria de P. eſt Eccleſia cum cura animarum, abſque hoc quod habetur talis Vicaria, and Suit is but an incident to the principal matter: In this Caſe a Conſultation was granted by the Court, quoad Inſtitutionem of S. only; but that they ſhould not further proceed. Tr. 31. in *B. 7. In a Prohibition, for that the Defendant ſued in the ſpiritual Court for Tythe wood; The Party did ſurmiſe that the Lands were parcel of the Priory of C. and that the owner and his Succeſſors, time out of mind, held the Lands diſcharged of Tythes, and ſo held them at the time of the Diſſolution: The other party traverſed it; whereupon they were at Iſſue if the Biſhop held the Land diſcharged Tempore Quo; Exception was taken to the Suggeſtion, that here is nothing elſe then a Preſcription De modo Decimandi, for here is not ſet forth any diſcharge, as Compoſition, unity of poſſeſſion, Priviledge, &c. It was the opinion of Wray, chief Juſtice, that although the eſpecial manner of the Charge be not ſet down, yet the Court ſhall take it by a lawful means as Compoſition, or otherwiſe: It was found for the Plaintiff in the Prohibition. M. 33. Eliz. in *B. 8. In a Prohibition the Plaintiff declared, That whereas *P. was was Objected, That here was no cauſe of a Prohibition, a Suit being for the money and Dower, for that the agreement upon the Communication was not any cauſe, nor doth it appear that it was performed: But a Prohibition was granted, for the Wife cannot have both money and Dower, for that was not the meaning of the Deviſor and here is Modus & conventio, which alters the Laws Agreement; the Prohibition was allowed Paſc. 33. Eliz. in *B. 9. Note, It was agreed by the Court, That where a Will doth contain in it Lands and Goods, the Court ſhall not grant a Prohibition for the whole in the generality; But if in ſuch a ſpecial Caſe it be alledged, That the party who made the Will was then de non ſana Memorie, a Prohibition ſhall be there granted for the whole. P. 12. Jac. in *B. 10. A. Parſon of H. brought a Prohibition againſt W. and declared, reciting the Statute of 18. Eliz. of Clergy; whereas he was Parſon, &c. and was Indicted, 13. Jac. at the Aſſiſes for Man-ſlaughter, and for the death of one S. and convicted; and at the next Aſſiſes he was allowed his Clergy, but was not burnt in the hand becauſe of his Orders, but by judgment of the Court was enlarged and delivered out of priſon, by force of which Judgment he was purged and acquitted of the Felony, That the Defendant pretending him to remain ſtill convicted, and thereby deprived of his Benefice, and that the Church was void; and that the Patron had preſented him to the Church, drew him in plea before the Chancellor of London, from whence it was appealed to the Judge of the Audience, and from thence to the Delegates; and thereupon he had his Prohibition; and yet the Defendant did proſecute him in the ſpiritual Court, whereupon the Defendant demurred, and Judgment was given by all the Judges for the Plaintiff, that he ought not to be queſtioned now in the ſpiritual Court for this Man-ſlaughter, and a Prohibition awarded: See the reaſon in the Caſe at large upon the Statute of 18. Eliz. of Clergy. Tr. 16. Jac. in *Co B. 13. In a Caſe for Defamatory words, in the ſpiritual Court ſentence was given againſt the Plaintiff, who appealed to the Arches, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and 12. d. coſts; then came the general Pardon, and the Defendant did appeal to the Delegates, and there the ſecond Sentence was affirmed, and greater coſts given; and the Defendant did plead the general pardon, and they would not allow that: It was moved for a Prohibition, It was agreed by the Court in this Caſe, That although this Suit and Sentence is only to make the party to deny the words, and confeſs the fault in ſome publique place, yet it is in effect, as if it were meerly at the Suit of the King for reformation, and this is a new invention which they have found out to take away the benefit of the pardon of the King; and therefore for that the Prohibition was granted: But the Court ſaid, That for the coſts taxed by the Delegates, they were not taken away by the Pardon, although the firſt offence was; but becauſe this Suit was not only to quaſh the Sentence for the Offence, but alſo for the coſts; and theſe new Coſts were aſſigned for the unjuſt vexation; they might proceed as for them, but not for the firſt Offence. Hill 22. Jac. in Co. B. Eliz. Davies and Hawkins Caſe. Winch. 125.

14. A Libel was in the ſpiritual Court for the Tythes of Pilchards taken in the Sea: The party prayed a Prohibition upon a Surmiſe that the cuſtome there is, That the Owner of the Fiſher-boat hath one moity of the Fiſh, and the Fiſherman the other moity, and that the Owner hath uſed to pay the Tenth of his moity in diſcharge of all: This by the Court was holden to be a good Surmiſe to have a Prohibition, for by the Common Law the Parſon cannot have the Tythe of Fiſhes taken in the Sea, becauſe it is not within any Pariſh. See 22. Jac. in B. R. Holland and Heals Caſe. Noy 108.

15. Note, It was holden by the whole Court, If ſentence be given in the ſpiritual Court, and Coſts taxed, and the Defendant brings an Appeal; Yet if the Suit did not appertain originally or properly to them, a Prohibition ſhall be awarded as well to the Coſts as to the principal Suit: Notwithſtanding that the Statute of 32. H. 5. cap. 7. ſayes, That the Eccleſiaſtical Court ſhall compel the Appealant forthwith to pay Coſts. See Noy 137. acc.

16. In the Court of Requeſts. 1. G. borrowed money of the Teſtator of S. and gave a Term, whereof he was poſſeſſed for ſecurity by Indenture with a Proviſo of Redemption; and ſhewed in his Bill that there was a verbal agreement between them, that if the money were not paid at the day, the Teſta or ſhould take the profits growing upon the Land, and if the profits amount to the value of the ſum of money, that then he ſhould have his Term again, and ſet forth that he had reaped the profits accordingly, which ſatisfied him, and yet he kept the poſſeſſion of the Term; and by his Bill prayed that he might accompt for the profits: A Prohibition was prayed, which was granted by the Court; and it was ſaid, That although the truſt is contrary to the Indenture, yet ſuch an averment was good, notwithſtanding ing the Proviſo; And it was ſaid that the profits received ſhould be Aſſets, and if it ſhould be rekived in the Court of Requeſts, there ſhould be a Deo-Davit againſt the Executor. M. 4. Car. in Co. B. Goſſe and Skiptons Caſe. Hetley 117.

17. A Prohibition was prayed to the Prerogative Court, upon a Surmiſe that they did endevour to Baſtardize one who was Legitimate; but that Surmiſe was not true, but the Suit there was, Whether Letters of Adminiſtration were well granted or not: The Caſe was this. A. had a wife called B. who dyed, Afterwards he took a ſecond wife called B. alſo, and then dyed Inteſtate: B. the ſecond Wife took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of her Husband deceaſed: The Son of A. ſued in the Prerogative Court to Repeal thoſe Letters of Adminiſtration upon pretence that the firſt wife was yet alive: In this Caſe the Court delivered theſe Poſitions for Law, viz. 1. That one ought not to ſue in the Eccleſiaſtical Court to Baſtardize an Iſſue, but at the Common Law. 2. Where the Court hath granted Letters of Adminiſtration to one that ought to have them, they ought not to Repeal them there in that Court. 3. Where ſuit is there for Lands and Goods, a Prohibition may be there as to the Lands, but they may proceed there as to the Goods. 4. That where a thing is tryable in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, and there is alſo a matter incident to it, which is tryable at the Common Law, there a Prohibition ſhall not be granted. 5. If the Common Law and Civil Law differ concerning the Legality of a thing, if they do proceed there, a Prohibition lies, becauſe the Common Law ſhall be preferred; and in the principal Caſe the Rule was given, That a Prohibition ſhould be granted, and the other party ſhould demur upon it, ſo as it might be debated, whether it were grantable or not. Paſc. 22. Car. in B. R. Bettiſworth and Bettiſworths Caſe. Styles 10.

18. A Parſon Libelled in the ſpiritual Court for Tythes, and for the ſubſtraction of them, upon the Statute of 2. E. 6. The Defendant alledged a Diſcharge by reaſon of Priviledge within the Statute of 31. H. 8. and had a Prohibition; upon which they were at Iſſue, and it was found againſt the Defendant; upon which a Conſultation was awarded for the Parſon; in the ſpiritual Court, the ſentence was, That he ſhould recover ſingle Damages, & ulterius, that he ſhould recover duplicem valorem, which alſo were put in certain: Upon this Sentence, It was the opinion of the Court, That a ſpecial Prohibition ſhould be awarded, becauſe they exceeded in giving damages, contrary to the Statute, for although the Sentence be not expreſly, that he ſhall recover treble damages, yet the ſentence doth amount to ſo much, if joyned together; and a ſpecial Prohibition reciting the whole matter, was awarded accordingly. M. 11. Jac. in Co. B. Baldwyn and Girreys Caſe. Godb. 245.

19. Two men were bounden with I. S. as his Sureties in an Obligation; One of the Sureties was ſued upon the Bond, he exhibited an Engliſh Bill in the Court of Requeſt againſt the Defendant being the other Surety, to have Contribution, and a Prohibition was awarded, becauſe by entring into Obligation it became the debt of any of them, and the Obligee had his election to ſue which of them he pleaſed, and to take execution againſt him; and it was ſaid in this Caſe, that if one Surety ſhould have contribution againſt the other, it would be a great cauſe of Suits, wherefore Prohibition was granted; and ſo it was ſaid it had been adjudged in the like Caſe, viz. in Sir William Woorwoods Caſe. Hill 11. Jac. in Co. B. Wormleighton and Hunters Caſe. Godb. 243.

20. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Requeſts becauſe a man ſued there by Engliſh Bill for money which he had layed out for an Infant within age, for his meat, drink and neceſſary Apparel, and ſets forth in his Bill that the Infant being within age did promiſe him to pay the ſame: A Prohibition was granted, becauſe it was ſaid he might have his Action of debt at the Common Law for the ſame Quere; for a difference was taken when the Aſſumpſit is made whileſt he is within age, and when he comes of full age; for if he maketh a promiſe when he cometh of full age, or enter into a Bond for neceſſaries which he had whileſt he was within age; the Law is now taken to be, the ſame ſhall bind him. M. 11. Jac. in Co. B. Rearſlie and Cuffers Caſe. Godb. 219.

21. A man was preſented in the Eccleſiaſtical Court for working, viz. carrying of Hay upon a Holy day, viz. St. John Baptiſts day, in the time when the Miniſter prayed, and Service was at the Church; It was ſaid that the Church had Authority to appoint Holy-days; and therefore if ſuch days were not kept Holy but broken, the Church might puniſh the parties for the breaking thereof in the ſpiritual Court; But yet the Court granted a Prohibition. 1. Becauſe this is out of the Statute of 5. E. 6. by the words of the Act it ſelf, becauſe it was for neceſſity: And 2 The Court ſaid this was a Holy-day by Act of Parliament, and therefore it doth belong to the Judges of the Common Law to determine whether the ſame was broken by doing ſuch work upon that day or not: A Prohibition was granted. M. 11. Jac. in Co. B. Wheelers Caſe. Godb. 218.

22. A Feme Covert Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt her Husband, for that he threatned her, and beat her, and in the end of her Libel prayed allowance of Alimony; a Prohibition was prayed, becauſe the Suit there was for a force, which was not tryable in that Court: and 11. H. 4. 88. was vouched, where a Clerk ſued in the ſpiritual Court for a Battery, and becauſe an Action of Treſpas and Aſſault did lye at the Common Law, a Prohibition was awarded; and and damages are not to be given in the ſpiritual Court: But in the principal Caſe the Court agreed, That no Prohibition ſhould be, becauſe the wife cannot have any remedy at the Common Law againſt her Husband for beating of her, for ſhe is ſub virga viri; and alſo becauſe the Suit there is but by way of Enducement to have a Divorce Cauſa Metus. See 31. E. 3. to Prohibition 8. M. 11. Jac. in Co. B. Sir Tho. Seymors Caſe. Godbt. 215.

23. A Prohibition was prayed to the Court of Requeſts becauſe they held plea there of an Attornment, for the Complaint there was, to compel a man to Attorn upon a Covenant to ſtand ſeized to uſes: It was obſerved, that there were three Cauſes in the Bill wherefore Prohibition ſhould be granted, which were reduced to three Queſtions. 1. If a Copy-holder payeth his Rent, and the Lord maketh a Feoffment of the Manor? if the Copy-holder ſhall be compelled to Attorn? 2. If a man be ſeized of Free-hold Lands, and Covenants to ſtand ſeized to uſes, If in ſuch Caſe Attornment be needful? 3. If a Feoffment be made of a Manor by Deed, If the Feoffee ſhall compel the Tenants to attorn in a Court of Equity? for all which Cauſes it was the opinion of the Court, That the Tenants ſhall not be compelled to Attorn; for upon a Bargain and ſale, and a Covenant to ſtand ſeized to uſes, there needs no Attornment: And the Court ſaid, It was uſual in ſuch Caſes to grant Prohibitions to Courts of Equity, and eſpecially if the matter hath been once determined in the Courts of Common Law. See 12. E. 3. title Prohibition: A Prohibition was awarded to the Chancery. M. 11. Jac. in *Co. 24. Note, Upon a demand of the Juſtices of their opinions in what Caſe the Ordinary in Cauſes Eccleſiaſtical might examine the party Ex Officio, upon his Oath: It was Reſolved by them. 1. That the Ordinary cannot conſtrain any man, Eccleſiaſtical or Temporal, to ſwear or anſwer to Interrogatories as ſhall be Adminiſtred unto them, but they ought to deliver the Articles to him upon which he is to be examined, to the intent he may know whether he ought to anſwer unto them. 2. That no man, Eccleſiaſtical or Temporal, ſhall be examined upon ſecret thoughts of his heart, but ſomething ought to be done or ſpoken by him upon which he is to be examined; and if in ſuch Caſes Examination ſhall be by them, ex Officio, a Prohibition lyeth. See Coke 12. part 26. Baſtr. 26. Tr. 10. Eliz. Leighs Caſe there vouched, and M. 18. Eliz. Dyer, Hynds Caſe, who becauſe he would not ſwear Commiſſionariis Eccleſiaſticis ſuper articulos proufura; for that cauſe he was committed by them to the Fleet, but he was delivered by the Court upon a Habeas Corpus, per Curiam.

25. Sir Anthony Roper was drawn before the High Commiſſioners for a Penſion out of a Rectory Impropriate, of which Sir Anthony was ſeized in Fee: The High Commiſſioners tenuunced him to pay it, which he refuſed, upon which they committed him to priſon: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, that by the Statute of 1. Eliz. the High Courts had not authority in ſuch Caſe to puniſh or to impriſon the party, for they have not power to determine meum & tuum, as Penſions, Tythes, Legacies, Marriages, Divorces, Probates of Teſtaments, and the like; for that this would diſſolve the Court of the Ordinence, which is ſo neceſſary in many Caſes to the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, that without them Juſtice cannot be executed; and they have only power to commit for Crimes enormious, and have not power to commit him who deteins Penſions, Tythes, Legacies, &c. And if they hold plea of points of particular Intereſt, that in ſuch Caſe Prohibition doth lye to the Court of High Commiſſion: And in the principal Caſe, upon a Habeas Corpus brought, Sir Anthony Roper was ſet at liberty. M. 5. Jac. Coke 12. part 45, 46 Sir Anthony Ropers Caſe.

26. The Wife ſued her Husband before the High Commiſſioners for maintenance: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That a Prohibition in that Caſe before granted was maintainable, for that it was not any enormity nor offence within the Statute of 1. Eliz. but a neglect of his duty, and a breach of his vow of Maintenance; alſo if ſuch Caſes ſhould be allowed, the party ſhould be defrated of his Appeal, and for that ſuch Suit belongs to the Court of the Ordinary. Tr. 6 Jac. Coke 12. part 50, 31. Marmaduke Lingdales Caſe. See Tr. 17. Car. in B. R. Sir Edward Powels Caſe. Marſh. 80. adjudged accordingly: In which Caſes it was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the ſaid High Commiſſioners might charge Land with a Rent as well as grant Alimony out of it, and a Prohibition was awarded.

27. A man Libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tythe within the Pariſh of C. The Defendants ſaid, That the Tythes were within the Pariſh of A. The Parſon of A. came in pro intereſſe ſuo; and thereupon they in the Spiritual Court proceeded to ſentence, which was given againſt the Plaintiff there: He came now and prayed a Prohibition, and the Queſtion was, If in ſuch a Pariſh, or in ſuch Pariſhes, we are tryable by the Law of the Land, or by the Law of the Church? It was the opinion of the Court, that it hath always been taken, that it is tryable by the Common Law; It was ſaid that the Pope had not diſtinguiſhed Pariſhes by his Canons, but only ordained that Tythes ſhould be paid within the Pariſh. Tr. 28. Eliz. in B. R. Stranſham and Collingtons Caſe. Leon 2. part.

28. Gerrard, Maſter of the Rolls, preſented Charterton Biſhop of Cheſter, to the Church of Bangor; To which Church alſo one I. S. preſented his Clerk, by by which ſeveral preſentments the Church became Litigious: The Arch-Biſhop of York being Ordinary of the Place, awarded a jure Patronatus, &c. depending which, the Arch-Biſhop admitted Chatterton, for which I. S. Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt the Arch-Biſhop; for that the ſaid Arch-Biſhop, dicto Epiſcopo plus æquo faviens admiſit dictum Epiſcopum, pendent the Jure Patronatus, in which Caſe by the Law of the Church the Admittance was void; The Biſhop upon this matter came and prayed a Prohibition, and had it, becauſe the right of the Patronage came in debate: Afterwards came I. S. and prayed a Conſultation, becauſe he medled not with the right of the Patronage, but only with the wrongfull Admittance; To whom it was ſaid by the Court, That the Awarding of the Jure Patronatus is not a thing of neceſſity, but at the will of the Ordinary, and for his better Inſtruction; But if he will at his peril take Notice of the right of the Patronage, he may receive which of the Clerks he will, without a Jure Patronatus awarded, and before any Verdict given upon it the Arch-Biſhop was ſatisfied of the right of the Plaintiff in the Prohibition to the Patronage, and thereupon admitted his Clerk: It was the clear opinion of the whole Court, That the Prohibition ſhould ſtand, and the Conſultation was denyed. Paſc. 26. Eliz. in Co. B. Leon. 2. part. Gerrards Caſe.

29. A. Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt B. for Subſtraction of Tythes, the Defendant in the ſpiritual Court pleaded that he had divided the Tythes from the nine parts; the Plaintiff made addition to his Libel, and ſaid, That preſently after the pretended Diviſion, in fraudem Legis he took and carried away the ſame Tythes, and converted them to his own uſe; and thereupon he obtained a Sentence in the ſpiritual Court to recover the Treble value according to the Statute of 2. E. 6. The Defendant ſuggeſted to have a Prohibition that he had divided his Tythes, and that the Plaintiff ought to ſue him there for the double value, and not for the treble value; and that after ſentence the Parſon ſhall not ſue for them there, but at the Common Law: It was holden by the Court, That this diviſion made was not a diviſion according to the Statute of 2. E. 6. but was a fraudulent diviſion, and therefore the ſame is out of the Statute; But in this Caſe it was Reſolved, that the Plaintiff in this Caſe could not ſue in the ſpiritual Court for the treble value; and becauſe he did ſo, a Prohibition was awarded. Tr. 44. *Eliz. Property.

1. Who, and in what Goods, Chattels, or other things a man ſhall be ſaid to have Property, in what not; And where, and by what Act the ſaid Property ſhall be altered or changed; By what act the Property ſhall be loſt; And of the Writ de Proprietate probanda; And where it lyeth, where not.

1. A Servant took and carried away his Maſters goods, againſt whom his Maſter brought an Action of Treſpaſs: It was ſaid that the Book of 2. E. 4. 4. was, That Treſpaſs in that Caſe would not lye againſt the Servant; But it was the opinion of the whole Court, and ſo Reſolved, That the Servant hath neither general nor ſpecial Property in his Maſters goods, and he ſhall have no Action of Treſpaſs if they be taken away, and therefore Treſpaſs lyeth againſt him if he take them: And if he do imbezil them it is Felony, as it was adjudged in 3. H. 7. 12. M. 30. Eliz. in Com. B. Bloſſes Caſe. Goldsbr. 72.

2. A man ſeized of a Wood, granted to another 100. Cords of Wood to be taken by the Aſſignment of the Grantor, and before Aſſignment, the grantee granted that over; If it was a good grant before Election was the Queſtion? It was the opinion of the Court that it was not grantable over for that no Property was veſted in him before the Aſſignment, and if the Grantee dye before Aſſignment the grant is void, and his Executors if he dye ſhall not have it. M. 40. Eliz. in Co. B Goldsbr 71.

3. If a man do gage Goode in pledge for 40 l. borrowed upon them, and afterwards the Debtor is condemned in 100. l. theſe goods ſhall not be taken in execution until the 40. l. be paid, becauſe the Property of the Goods is in the Gagee and not in the Gager, and the Creditor hath an Intereſt in them, 21. E. 4. 10. and ſo it is, If a man bail goods to one in pledge, and afterwards he is Outlawed, the King ſhall not have thoſe Goods before the party be ſatisfied; If a Leaſe be made to one for years of goods, and after after he is attainted of Felony, the King ſhall not have theſe goods gaged in leaſe till the Leaſe be ended; and See 13. R. 2. A Termer is diſtrained for Rent behind, afterwards he is attainted for Felony done before the Diſtreſs taken: It was the opinion of the whole Court that the King ſhall not have this Diſtreſs as a forfeiture, unleſs he do ſatisfie the party who diſtrained. See Bolſtr. 3. part 17. in the Caſe of Sir Thomas Waller and Hanger. Hill 11. Jac. for theſe and other Caſes upon this ground.

4. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was; The Husband was poſſeſſed of a Term in the right of his Wife, and made his Will, and thereof made his wife his Executrix; and by his Will he deviſed the Term to his Wife, ſhe took upon her the Execution of the Will, and entred generally into the Land; and ſhe once confeſſed and declared theſe words, viz. That her Husband had done very liberally with her, and had given her all that he had; There were neither Debts nor Legacies to be paid: Afterwards the wife dyed Inteſtate, and afterwards Adminiſtration was committed to one of the goods of the Husband not Adminiſtred, and alſo of the goods of the Wife: The Queſtion in this Caſe was, whether the Wife took this Term as Executrix, or as Legatee; Some of the Juſtices were of opinion, that theſe words declared by her, viz. My Husband hath given all to me, did amount to an Agreement to have the Term of a Legatee or Deviſee, and it was ſaid, That the property of goods could not be in abeyance, but they muſt be in the Executor, Adminiſtrator or Ordinary: But the opinion of Coke was, that ſhe had the Term firſt as Executrix, and afterwards ſhe had it as Legatee, for it could not be otherwiſe; and by her general entry ſhe firſt had it as Executrix; and when a perſon hath two rights to a thing, it was ſaid, That the Law ſhall judge the party in by the beſt Right, And therefore it was the opinion of the whole Court in that Caſe, That in regard that there were no Debts nor Legacies to be paid, that the wife ſhould have the Term as a Legatee; and ſo the Term did belong to her Adminiſtrator, and not to the Adminiſtrator de bonis non. &c. of the Husband. Tr. 7 Jac. in Co. B. Rot. 2718. Hellam and Leas Caſe. See Brownlo. 2. part 132. acc.

5. Debt for Rent; the Plaintiff declared upon a Leaſe made to the Defendant at Will, to be holden from Mich. for as long as both parties ſhould agree, rendring rent; upon Nihil debet, the Jury found, That I. S. had Iſſue a Son and a Daughter, and deviſes that his Son ſhall have his Land at the age of 24. years, and gives 40. l. to his Daughter to be paid at her age of 21. years; and further deviſes, That his Executor ſhould have the overſight of all his Lands and moveable goods, till the ſeveral ages aforeſaid, and made the Plaintiff his Executor and dyed: They find that the Plaintiff made the Leaſe before mentioned, and that the Son dyed, but do not find at what age; and find that the Leſſee continued the poſſeſſion from Mich. for one year or more; and find that within that year the Daughter entred, and that the Defendant attorned Tenant to the Daughter: In this Caſe Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff, for the opinion of the Court was, that the Plaintiff took no Intereſt in the Land by the Will; for the overſight and doing of his Land ſhall be intended in the right of the Heir, and to his uſe. 1. M. 3. Jac. in Co B. Carpenter and Collins Caſe. Brownlo. 1. part 88.

6. The Queen ſeized in Fee, made a Leaſe for years to one who was Outlawed at the time of the Leaſe made, rendring Rent, and afterwards the party was Outlawed again, and before ſeizure came out a general Pardon of all Goods and Chattels forfeited: In this Caſe it was holden by the Court, 1. That a man Outlawed was capable of a Leaſe from the Queen as Fermor to the Queen; and that the pardon with reſtitution was ſufficient to revive the Term forfeited by the ſecond Outlawry. 2. That a man Outlawed and pardoned had property in his goods. M. 30. Eliz. in the Exchequer, Knowls and Powels Caſe. Owen 116.

7. In Treſpaſs, the Plaintiff declares that he was robbed of 20. l. and that he purſued the Felon with Hue and Cry to ſuch a Town, who diſcovered the Felon to the Conſtable of the Town, who thereupon apprehended the Felon, and found the 20. l. about him, and took and detained it in his poſſeſſion: The Defendant confeſt the taking of the 20. l. ut ſupra; but becauſe the Town was of no ſtrength he carried the 20. l. to the next Town, and as he was going upon the High-way he was robbed of it: It was the opinion of Williams Juſtice, that although the taking of the Felon was juſtifiable, yet he is to keep the money at his peril, and becauſe he hath not he is liable to Action: But the Court conceived in this Caſe, That the Plaintiff ſhould have brought Trover and Converſion, and not Treſpaſs; and therefore the Caſe was deferred till the next Term to be argued upon the general Iſſue. M. 3. Jac. in B. R. Wilgrave and Skynners Caſe. Owen 120.

8 In a Replevin the Caſe was, The Lord Windſor was poſſeſſed of certain Sheep, and by Will deviſed them to Eliz his Daughter for her advancement in marriage, and made his Will, and his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; The wife took to Husband I. S. who leaſed the Sheep with a Ferm by Deed for eleven years; and it was agreed betwixt the parties, that the Leſſee ſhould keep ſo much of the Rent reſerved upon the Leaſe, to buy therewith ſo many ſheep over, ſo as the whole Stock of the ſaid Sheep upon the ſaid Ferm ſhould amount to 1000. ſheep; and the Leſſee did covenant to yield and render to the ſaid I. S. at the end of the Term 1000. ſheep between two years ſhorn and four years ſhorn: I. S. afterwards granted to A. who married the Daughter, the ſaid 1000. ſheep to have them after the Term: The Term expired I. S. ſold them to B. who brought them away: A. pretending that the grant of the ſheep to him was good ſeized them: The Queſtion is in whom the property of the goods was; It was the cleer opinion of the Court, That the grant made by the ſaid I. S. of the ſheep during the Terme, was void; for that I. S. during the ſaid Term had not in the ſheep neither a generall property nor a ſpecial property, nor alſo after the Term; But if after the Term expired the Leſſee will not deliver to I. S 1000. ſheep, he is put to his Action of Covenant againſt the Leſſee; and in that Caſe the Leſſee was bound to deliver at the end of the Term not the ſaid ſheep, but ſuch a number of ſheep; and it was ſaid in that Caſe, That if I let certain ſheep to one for two years; upon that Leaſe ſomewhat remains in me, but that cannot be ſaid a Property, but rather a poſſibility of a Property, which cannot be granted over; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, M. 29. Eliz. in Co. B. Wood and Foſters Caſe. Leon. 42.

9 In an Action upon an Aſſault and Battery; upon not guilty pleaded, the Caſe was, That the Plaintiff hired of the Defendant a Gelding for 4. s. for two days, to ride from Graveſend to Nettlebed in the County of Kent; the Plaintiff being by vertue thereof poſſeſſed of the Gelding rod out of his way to a place called B. towards London, Of which the Defendant having notice, he came with his ſervant upon the way to the Plaintiff, and required him to deliver him the Gelding, and thereby to be poſſeſſed himſelf of the Gelding, laid hands upon the Plaintiff, and took him from horſe-back, and would have taken the Gelding from him; whereupon the Plaintiff did maintain his poſſeſſion: In this Caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for the Battery is confeſſed, and that it aroſe from the misbehaviour of the Defendant; for the plea in Bar ſaith, that the Plaintiff had hired the Gelding for two days, and that they in that time diſturbed the Plaintiff of his poſſeſſion of the Gelding and thruſt him off his back, which was not lawful for them to do; for what ever the intent of the Plaintiff was, It was agreed by the Court that the Defendant could not juſtifie the ſeizing and taking away of the Gelding from the Plaintiff within the time for which he had hired him; for that during that time he had a ſpecial property in the Gelding againſt all men; and if the Plaintiff had miſuſed the Gelding, the Defendant in ſuch Caſe might have had an Action upon the Caſe againſt him: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 7. Jac. in B. R. Lee and Askinſons Caſe. Cro. 3. part 236.

10. Treſpaſs brought againſt the Defendant for fiſhing in ſeperali piſcaria of the Plaintiff, and declared that the Defendant piſces ipſius cepit; It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, becauſe the Plaintiff declared of taking of piſces ſuos, they being fera natura: It was the opinion of the Court that the Judgement ſhould be affirmed, and the difference is, where a man brings Treſpaſs for taking piſces ſuos, or Lepores ſuos, that Action will not lie; But if he bring Treſpaſs for fiſhing in his ſeveral piſcary, as in this Caſe; or for breaking his Cloſe and taking Lepores ſuos, there the Action will lye. Tr. 25. Car. in B. R. Child and Greenhills Caſe. Marſh. 48.

11. Trover and Converſion was brought againſt Husband and Wife of Sheaves of Corn, and the Plaintiff did declare that they did convert thoſe ſheaves ad uſum ipſorum, viz. of the Husband and wife: It was the opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good. 1. Becauſe it was uncertain, being of Sheaves of Corn, not expreſſing what Corn it was: And 2. It was not good being layed that the Converſion was ad ipſorum uſum; for that the wife had no property in them during the life of her Husband; Quere, for Jones Juſtice ſaid, That there might be a Converſion by the wife to her own uſe, if ſhe bake the Corn into bread and eat it. M. 14. Car. in B. R. Hodges and Symſons Caſe.

12. One was choſen to be Clerk of a Pariſh, and was put in and continued Clerk there for three or four years, but was not ſworn: Now a new Parſon put him out and ſwore another in his place, the Clerk ouſted prayed a Writ of Reſtitution: It was the opinion of the Court, That the new Parſon could not lawfully put him out, becauſe they ſaid it was a temporal Office, in which the party had a poſſeſſion and property: But they would not grant a Writ of Reſtitution, becauſe they conceived the Clerk had his remedy at Law; but if he was never ſworn in the Office they would award a Mandate to ſwear him Clerk. Tr. 17 Car. in B. R. Marſh. 101.

13. Treſpaſs for digging the Plaintiffs Cloſe, and killing 18. Conies there; the Defendant as to all the Treſpaſs, but the killing of 2. Conies, pleaded not guilty; and as to them he pleaded, that the place &c. was a great Heath in which he had Common of Paſture, and that he found the Conies eating the graſs, and that therefore he killed them, as was lawful for him to do: In this Caſe the Queſtion was, What intereſt the party who had the Freehold, had in things which were fere naturæ, which were upon the Freehold: It was the opinion of the Court, That in this

Caſe

Caſe although that Conies were feræ naturæ, yet when they are in the ſoil of the party they are reduced unto ſuch a property by reaſon of his poſſeſſion; That an Action lieth either for taking or killing of them. See 7. H. 6. 38. If a Beaſt which is feræ naturæ go out of any Park, the owner of the ſame hath loſt the property of it; upon which Caſe Brook in the abridging of the Caſe collects, that he had a property in it whileſt it remained in his poſſeſſion; and See 10. H. 7. 6. where it is holden that Accompt lyeth for things feræ naturæ: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, and that the Defendant the Commoner could not juſtifie the killing of the Conies. M. 29. Eliz. in Co. B. Conyes Caſe. Godb. See Coke 5. part 104. Bouſtons Caſe ſeems contrary.

14. If a man hath Heir-Looms which by cuſtome have gone from Heir to Heir with the Houſe: It was holden, that the Heir hath ſuch an Intereſt and a property in ſuch Heir-Looms, That if a deviſe be made by Will of ſuch Heir-Looms that the deviſe is void in Law, becauſe the Law ſhall prefer the ancient Cuſtome before the deviſe. See Coke 1. part, Inſtitutes 185.

15. Trover and Converſion of a Hawk, called a Ramiſh Hawk, ſuppoſing him to be poſſeſſed of that Hawk ut de bonis propriis, and that he caſualiter amiſit, and that it came to the Defendants hands, and that he knowing it to be the Plaintiffs Hawk, being required had not delivered it, but converted it to his own uſe. Upon not guilty found for the Plaintiff, It was moved that the Declaration was not good, becauſe he doth not ſhew that it was a Hawk reclaimed and made Tame, for a Ramiſh Hawke is ſuch a one which liveth inter Ramos, from which it was inferred that it was feræ naturæ, and then if it flye away and have not animum revertendi, Occupanti Conceditur; and although the words of the Declaration was de bonis propriis, that did not help it, for that the party had but a right of poſſeſſion, and not of property, and if it be it is but a qualified property: The Judgment was arreſted. Paſc. 15. Car. in B. R. Sir Martin Lyſter and Hones Caſe. Cro 1. part 390, 391. See Marſh. 12. the ſame Caſe. See Coke 7. part 17. in the Caſe of Swans; Of what Beaſts and Birds a man may have property.

16. Note, It was adjudged in the Common Pleas, That if a man have Coney-borows in his own Lands which increaſe in ſo great a number that they deſtroy his neighbours Land adjoyning; that his neighbour cannot have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him who makes the Coney-borows, for ſo ſoon as the Coneys come in his neighbours Land he may kill them, for that they are feræ naturæ, and he who maketh the Coney-borows they being out of the Lands, hath no property in them. Coke 5. part 164. Bouſtons Caſe.

17. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if Tenant for life or years cut down Timber Trees, or pulleth down the Houſes; that the Leſſor ſhall have the Timber, or Timber-trees, for the Leſſee hath them but as things annexed to the Lands, and when they are ſevered from the Lands, the property of them is to the Leſſor, and the Leſſee hath but a ſpecial property in them, but the Leſſor hath the general property in them becauſe they are his Inheritance; and if a Houſe fall by wind in the time of the Leſſee for life or years, or in the time of the Tenant in Dower, or by the Curteſie, the particular Tenants have a ſpecial property in the Timber to re-edifie the ſame Houſe for habitation; but ſuch particular Tenants cannot ſell the Timber ſo fallen down, becauſe that the general property thereof is in the Leſſor. Coke 11. part 79. 81. Lewis Bowls Caſe.

18. In Treſpaſs the Defendant pleaded, That R. L. was ſeized in Fee, and demiſed to T. S. and M. P. (excepting Trees of 21. years growth, if not decayed) for their lives, and Covenanted to ſtand ſeized de tenis prediſt. to the uſe of R. L. in tail &c. and the Defendant as ſervant to R. L. entred and ſold Trees: It was adjudged in this Caſe (amongſt other points) 1. That the Trees, notwithſtanding the Exception, did remain parcel of the Inheritance, and are not Chattels, but ſhall diſcend to the Heir. 2. That in this Caſe if there had been no Exception, the general property and intereſt of the Trees was in the Leſſor, and the Leſſee had but a particular intereſt in them, and that the Leſſor might ſell them without licence of the Leſſee, to take effect after the Leaſe determined; and that Tythes ſhall not be paid of them becauſe they are parcel of the Inheritance. Coke 11. part 46. Richard Lyfords Caſe.

19. A made a Leaſe of his Lands for years, excepting the woods; and afterwards the Leſſor granted the woods to the Leſſee: The Queſtion was, if now the wood was ſo annexed to the Land, that by Leaſe of the Land the wood ſhould paſs as a thing annexed to it; Or if the wood did remain as an Intereſt diſtinct and ſevered from the Land: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That a Leſſee for life or years hath a ſpecial Intereſt or property in the Trees, as things annexed to the Lands, ſo long as they are annexed to the Land; But if the Leſſor or another ſevereth them from the Land, the property and Intereſt of the Leſſee is determined, and the Leſſor may take them as things annexed to his Inheritance; and if a man makes a Leaſe for life, and afterwards gives away the Trees, and the Leſſor dyeth, the donor cannot take them becauſe at the time of the gift the Leſſor had a property in them annexed to the Land. Coke 4. part 62. Harlakendens Caſe. 1. Ma. Dyer 91. Martyns Caſe.

20. Tenant for life, the remainder for life, the remainder in Fee; Tenant for life committeth Waste in cutting down Trees, and afterwards he in the remainder for life dyeth: It was adjudged, 1. That now the Impediment being removed, an Action of Waste is maintainable for the waste done in the life of him in the remainder for life: And 2. It was Resolved, That when the Trees are cut down, the property thereof belongs to him in the remainder in Fee. Coke 5. part 76. Pagets Case. See 1. Ma. Dyer 91. Martyns Case.

21. In Trover and Conversion of 200. Loads of Timber, 200. Loads of Stockwood, the Case was, Tenant for life without impeachment of waste, excepting voluntary waste: He in the Reversion bargaine and sells the Timber-Trees growing upon the Land to the Plaintiff; Tenant for life cuts down the same and selleth them to the Defendant: And whether the Bargainee of the Trees shall have Trover and Conversion against the Vendee of the Tenant for life, the Tenant for life being alive, was the Question: It was said, That he shall not sue for during the life of the Tenant for life, although the Lessor or he in the Reversion hath a generall property, yet he hath no authority to sell them, the Tenant for life having a particular interest in them; and his sale being void, his bargaine hath no interest to maintain the Action. Tr. 7. Car. in B. R. Waller and Sands Case. Cro. 1. part 297. See Lyfords Case, and Bowles Cases.

22. King Hen. 8. made a Lease for years to I. S. of Brettons Ferm, and certain Lands in Sevenock, excepta & reservata grossis arboribus & bosco ibidem crescentibus & existentibus: Afterwards King Ed. 6. granted the Reversion, and also the Trees and woods, to the Duke of Northumberland in Fee, who made a Lease to Culpepper for years, as well of the Lands as of the Trees and woods, without Impeachment of waste; and afterwards by the Attainder of the Duke the Fee came to Queen Mary, who granted the same to Southwel in Fee, who sold the same to D. in Fee, and bound himself in a Bond to save D. and the premisses harmless against Culpepper, for or concerning any interest or title to be made to the premisses; Afterwards Culpepper claimed the Trees, and cut down some of them: The matter in law in this Case was, if the great Trees and woods were as a Chattel in the King, or the Patentee of the Lordship did remain as parcel of the Land, notwithstanding the Exception or Reservation out of the Lease of Coltherst, and if the property of the Trees were in Culpepper presently by the word Demise or Lease without any word of grant; Or whether he might take them if the words without impeachment of waste had not been in the Lease. See 27. H. 6. Statham, That the Lessee without impeachment of Waste, shall not recover damages upon a stranger who cuts down the woods, but for trespass in the Lands and the branches; but Statham himself was of a Contrary opinion; It was the opinion of the Justices, that the property of the Trees remained in the Duke; and that the words in the grant to Culpepper absque impetione vastis made not any property of the Trees to be in him, for that in Trespass brought he should only recover damages for the Trespass only upon the Lands, and not the Trees: But for insufficiency of pleading Judgment was given against the plaintiff. Pasc. 2. *Eliz. 23. An Extenti facias was directed to the Sheriff upon a Statute Staple; The Sheriff extended the Land, and sold the goods, and returned the extent into the Chancery. A Writ of Prerogative Iland, That the Sheriff should first levy a debt of 1001i upon the Lands and goods for the King: The Sheriff upon that Writ returned the especial matter into the Exchequer: It was the opinion of the Justices, that if he would not mend his returne, that he should be amerced; For it was holden by the Court that before Liberate, the propertie of the goods were not in the Conusee: and therefore the King was to be first satisfied. M. 3. E. 6. Dyer by Stringfellowes Case. 24. A man out of the market bought Cattel which were stolen, and gave 5 shillings in hand to have his election to refuse them in the market which was to be holden the next day: and then in the open market he agreed to have the Cattel, and payed the rest of the mony for them, and the Cattel were duly tolled; It was the opinion of the Justices, that notwithstanding all this, yet by such Sale, the propertie of the goods was not altered; because the agreement shall relate to the Contract, which was made out of the market. Pasc. 1. Ma. Dyer. 99. See Pasc. 9 Jac in Co. B. Frogmers Case a Judge. acc.

25 Certain Cattel which were stolen were driven in the night time by the Theife into a Franchise which had waife and estray: the Theife and the Cattel fell amongst Travellers, who suspecting they were stolen goods told him they would have him to go with them with the goods to the Town; the Theife waived the goods there and fled, whom the Travellers pursued but could not apprehend him; and in the mean time the Cattel strayed into another Franchise which also had waifes and strayes; and there remained for a year and a day: no suit nor claim being made by the owner; the question was which of the Franchises should have the goods; It was the opinion of Catlyn Chiefe Justice, that without seisures the property of the goods was not changed by the waiver: and therefore the Lord of the Franchises should ſhould not have them: but upon the waiver, the property of the Cattel was in the Queen. *M.*18.*Eliz. Dyer.*348.

26. If a man buy goods in open market; this ſale ſhall bind all ſtrangers as well as the Seller: But that ſale in a market overt, ſhall not bind him who hath right to the goods, if the ſale be by fraud, or if the vendee hath notice that the property of the goods was belonging to another.33.*H.*6. Coke 3. part. 78. in Treynes Caſe.

27. Note, it was reſolved, that if plate be ſtolen, and ſold openly in a Scrivenors ſhop upon the market day, that that ſale doth not change the property of the plate, but the party ſhall have reſtitution of it, for that is not a market overt for plate: But if the ſale had been in a Goldſmiths ſhop the property is altred; but contrary if it be ſold in the Warehouſe or behind a hanging or behind a Cupboard upon which the plate ſtood: and every ſhop in London is a market overt for ſuch things which for the Trade of the owner are there put to ſell.*Hill.*31.*Eliz. 28. Debt brought againſt an Adminiſtrator, who pleaded fully adminiſtred; The Jury found that certain Obligations made by the Teſtator to the value of 100li were forfeit, and that the Adminiſtrator took in the ſaid Bonds, and gave his own Bond for the debt; and retained the mony in his own hands; It was the opinion of the Juſtices that this mony ſhall not be Aſſets, becauſe the property is changed by giving his bond for the ſame, and it is as if he had payed the debt with his own goods. But if he gave his promiſe for parts, and give his Bond for the reſt, it is not good for that part for which he giveth his promiſe, but for ſo much only as he hath given his Bond for; and that is good though the bond be made to a ſtranger with the appointment of the Debtor, and alſo before the debt due, for that by this, the firſt debt is gone. Hill. 30. *Eliz in Co. 29. If a man be diſſeiſed, and during the diſſeiſin the diſſeiſor Cutteth down Trees, graſs, or the Corn which is ſowed upon the Land, and carrieth the ſame away, and the diſſeiſee doth entet, he ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſs, vi & armis, againſt the diſſeiſor, for the Trees, graſſe, corn; for after entry the Law doth ſuppoſe, that the Freehold did alwaies remain and continue in the Diſſeiſee; and ſo it is, if the Feoffee, or Heire of the diſſeiſor, or if the ſecond Diſſeis or doth cut and carry away Corn: or if the ſecond diſſeiſor doth himſelf ſow the Land after the regreſſe the diſſeiſee may take the Corne; for the regreſs of the diſſeiſee hath relation, as to the property of the Corn, to continue the Freehold in the Diſſeiſee abinitio: But yet if the Diſſeiſee doth take them they ſhall be recouped in damages as to the Diſſeiſor. Coke 11. part. Liſords Caſe. in fine.

30. Note, that in many Caſes, The Law giveth a certain time before the property of goods ſhall be altered or changed: As in Caſe of Eitrey: if the owner, proclamations being made, do not claime the ſame within a yeer and a day the ſame is forfeited: and ſo in Caſe of wreck of the Sea: and the year and day in caſe of wreck, ſhall be accounted from the taking or ſeizure of them as wreck: for although the property of them is veſted in the Lord before ſeizure, yet till the Lord ſeizeth, and taketh it into his actual poſſeſſion, it is not notorious who claimeth the wreck, nor to whom the owner ſhall repaire to make his claime: and to ſhew to him his proofe: and if it be wreck doth belong to the King, the party may have a Commiſſion to hear and determine it, and if the wreck doth belong to another then the King, then if the owner cannot ſatisfie him who claimeth the wreck by his Marke or Coquet, he may bring his Action at Common Law, and prove the ſame by verdict. Coke 5. part. 107. in Sir Henry Conſtables Caſe.

31. In Trover and converſion of a gelding, the Caſe was, one A. ſtole the Gelding from the plaintiff, and ſold him to the defendant in open market by the name of B. and it was entred in the Toll book, that B. ſold him; the Queſtion was if this alteration of his name ſhould make any alteration of the property although the ſale was in market overt. It was the opinion of the Juſtices, that this was no good ſale to barre the plaintiff, and they grounded their opinion upon the Statute of 2. and 3. *Ma. Cap.*7. which provides, that no property of ſtolen goods ſhall be altered, unleſſe the name and ſirname of the party be written in the Toll book: and it was the opinion of the Juſtices, that it ſhould be in the market and walked there for an houer together, or otherwiſe the propertie is not altered. *M.*30. Eliz. Gibbs and Baſils Caſe. Owen 27.

32. A man cannot claime propertie in goods by his Bailiff or ſervant: becauſe that if the claime be falſe, he ſhall be fined to the King for his Contempt, which the Lord cannot be unleſſe he claime it himſelfe, for nemo pro alieno delicto punitur: And if the defendant in a Replevin claimeth property falſlie, if it be found againſt him in a Proprietate probanda, he ſhall be fined and impriſoned. Ste 11.*H.*4.4.Coke 1. part. Inſtitutes 145. Coke 8. part. 60. in Beechers Caſe.acc.

33. At the Pluries Replegi: the Sheriff returned that the defendant claimed property, and thereupon a Proprietate probanda iſſued forth; It was a Queſtion:

on if notwithſtanding they might proceed in Banco, It was the opinion of the Court that they might, for it may be that the plaintiff had Cauſe to have the poſſeſſion of the Cattel, as a Gage, or for that the Cattel were let to the plaintiff to manure his Land. See 21. H. 7. 14. 1. Mar. Dyer. 173.

34. Note, when the Sheriff comes to make a Replevin of Cattle, if the defendant claimes property, then at the returne of that Writ, another Writ de proprietate probanda ſhall Iſſue to the Sheriff, by which he is commanded that taking with him Cuſtodes placitorum &c. he ſhall enquire of the property, and if it be found that the property was to the plaintiff, then a Redeliverance ſhall be made to the plaintiff and an Attachment againſt the defendant to anſwer for the Contempt and unjuſt detayning the Cattel of the plaintiff. If the defendant in the Replevin in Court claimes the property, if it be found againſt him, the plaintiff ſhall recover the value of the Cattel and his damages: and if the defendant plead in abatement of the Writ that the property is in the plaintiff and in another, and the plaintiff confeſſe it, by which the Writ ſhall abate, and Returno habendo be awarded, yet the plaintiff may have a new Replevin. See Brownl. 1. part. 167. 168. &c.

Protections.

1. Where it lieth, in what Caſes and in what Actions it is allowable; and in what not; by whom and for whom to be Caſt: and by whom to be diſſallowed, and how long to endure. And of other matters Concerning Protection.

1. ONe who was a Priſoner in the Fleet, at the ſuit of Common perſon in Execution was thought to be a fit perſon to ſerve the Queen in her Warres; It was moved to the Court, if he might be diſmiſſed out of Execution, by a Protection quia moratur ſuper ſalva Cuſtodia: It was the opinion of the Juſtices that he could not, and it is there a Quere. If the keeper ſuffer ſuch a Priſoner, at the command of the King, to goe to ſuch ſervice with a Baſton; if the ſame ſhall excuſe him againſt the party at whoſe ſuit he is in Execution; and by the ſtatute of 1. R. 2. Cap. 12. It ſeemes it ſhall not. Tr. 5. Ma. Dyer. 162. Coke 12. part. Inſtitutes. 130. &c.

2. A Protection cannot be caſt for any Officer of the Receit, or for any other officer of a Court of Record whoſe attendance is neceſſary for the Kings ſervice, or for the Adminiſtration of Juſtice. See 7. H. 43. Coke 1. part. Inſtitutes. 130.

3. A Protection may be caſt, either by a ſtranger or by the party himſelfe; For, an enfant, Feme Covert, Monke, or any other may Caſt a Protection for the Tenant or defendant: and See there, the difference when a ſtranger caſteth it, and when the Tenant or defendant caſteth it himſelfe, for the defendant or Tenant caſting it, he muſt ſhew cauſe wherefore he ought to take advantage of the Protection; but a ſtranger needs not to know the cauſe, ſave only that the Tenant or defendant is thereby protected. Coke 1 part. Inſtitutes 131.

4. A Protection cannot be caſt for the Demandant or Plaintiff, becauſe the Tenant or Defendant cannot ſue a Re-Summons or Re-attachment; for the Demandant or Plaintiff that ſued out the Summons or Attachment, muſt ſue forth the Re-Summons or Re-Attachment. Co. 1. part. Inſtitutes 139.

5. The King by his Prerogative might have granted Protection to his Debtor, that he might not be Attached nor ſued, but the King taketh him into his Protection until he hath paid the Kings debt; But now by the Statute of 21. E. 3. cap. 19. It is Enacted, That the Creditor ſhall have an Action againſt the Kings debtor, and ſhall have Judgment againſt him notwithſtanding ſuch Protection; But he ſhall not have Execution againſt the Kings Debtor who hath ſuch Protection, unleſs he take upon him to pay the debt which the Kings Debtor oweth to the King, and then he ſhall have Judgment and Execution againſt the Kings Debtor for both debts. See Paſc. 21. Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir Edward Cokes Caſe. Golbt. 190, 191.

6. Note, That although the Voucher, Tenant by Reſceit, Prayer in aid, Garniſhee, be no parties to the ſuit or Writ, yet before they appear a Protection may be caſt for them, becauſe when the Demandant grants the Voucher, or Reſceit, in Judgment of Law they are made privy; and although the Demandant doth counter-plead the Reſceit or Voucher, yet if it be adjudged for them, and ſo they made privy in Law, a Protection may be caſt for them; and ſo it is of the Garniſhee, a Protection may be caſt for him at the day day of the Return of the Scire facias, Coke 2. part Inſtitutes 131. acc.

7. If the King ſendeth I. S. into his Service into the wars beyond the Seas, or into the Marches of Scotland, and he is there detained and kept priſoner; In that Caſe I. S. ſhall have a ſpecial Protection, reciting the whole matter; and in the end of the Protection ſhall be this Clauſe, viz. Theſe Preſents not not to be of force after the delivery of the ſaid R. from the ſaid Impriſonment. F. R. See Protection. acc.

8. Note, It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, when the King by the Common Law cannot in any manner make a grant, there a Non obſtante of the Common Law, againſt the reaſon of the Common Law, will not make the grant good; but when the King by the Common Law may lawfully make the grant, but the Common Law doth require that he be inſtructed that he be not deceived; there a Non obſtante ſupplying it ſtands with the reaſon of the Common Law, and ſhall make the grant good; and therefore if the King grant a Protection in a Quare Impedit, or Aſſiſe with a Non obſtante of the Law to the contrary, this grant is void; for by the Common Law Protection doth not lye in any of theſe Caſes, for loſs may accrue to the Plaintiff by ſuch great delay; and therefore the Non obſtante cannot help when the King by the Common Law cannot grant it for the reaſon aforeſaid. Coke 4. part 35. in Bryons Caſe.

9. In an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin a Protection is not allowable, nor yet in a Certificate upon an Aſſiſe, becauſe the Aſſiſe is feſtinum remedium, to reſtore the Diſſeiſee to his Free-hold, whereof he is wrongfully and without Judgment diſſeiſed; and in this Action the Defendant ſhall not be Eſſoined, nor pray in aid of any but only of the King, nor vouch a ſtranger nor any party to the Writ, unleſs he will immediately enter into the Warranty; nor ſhall the Paſel demur for the non-age of the Defendant or the Tenant. Coke 1. part, Inſtitutes 131. Coke 8. part 58. in Sebu Webbs Caſe.

10. Although a Protection be allowed by the Court for a year, Yet if it be Repealed by Innoteſcimus, the Re-ſummons or Re-attachment ſhall be granted upon the Repeal within the year, for remoto inpellimento, &c. And if after a Protection is allowed by Innoteſcimus, the Defendant tarry in the Country without going to the Service; or otherwiſe repair from the ſame Service, upon Information the ſame to the Lord Chancellor, he ſhall repeal the Protection in that Caſe by another Innoteſcimus; But a Protection ſhall not be avoided by a baſe averment of the party, becauſe the Record of the Protection muſt be avoided by matter of as high a Nature. Coke 1. part, Inſtitutes 131. acc. See Stat. 13. R. 2. cap. 16.

11. A Habeas Corpus iſſued out of the Common Pleas to the Steward or the Marſhal of the Kings Houſe, who made the Return of it. Quod Domina Regina per Literas ſuas Patentes ſuſcepit in protectionem ſuam I. B. and his Sureties; and further by her ſaid Letters Patent voluit, that if any perſon ſhould arreſt, or cauſe to be arreſted the ſaid I. B. or any of his Sureties, that then the Marſhal of her Houſe, or his lawful Deputy, might arreſt every ſuch perſon, and detain them in priſon until ſuch perſon ſhould anſwer for the Contempt before the Privy Council; and that one W. S. cauſed one I. D. one of the Servants of the ſaid I. B. to be arreſted; and upon this Return the ſaid W. S. was diſcharged; and becauſe the ſaid parties after the ſaid W. S. was diſcharged, cauſed him to be arreſted again. an Attachment was awarded againſt them; Out of which Caſe Obſerve, That the Kings Protection in that Caſe was not allowable. M. 30. Eliz. in Co. B. Searles Caſe. Leon. 70.

12. Debt upon an Obligation, The Defendant coſt a Protection, upon which the Plaintiff did demur: It was ſaid, That the Protection was not good, for the Defendant is let to bail, and ſo is intended always in priſon, for ſo the Record makes mention, and then the Protection quia moratur in partibus Zealand is againſt the Record, and the Court ought to give credit to Records; Alſo the words of the Record are, That the Defendant K. is imployed in Obſequio noſtro, which is no Cauſe of Protection, for the uſual form (and ſo is the Law) is, that ſuch a one is imployed in Negotio Regni, for the defence of the Realm; for if the King will give Aid unto another Princes Subjects imployed, he ſhall not have Protection: Afterwards it was ſhewed that there was variance betwixt the Bill and Declaration, and the Protection, for the Bill is againſt I. K. Gent. and the Protection is I. K. only, but the Court held the ſame to be no material Variance. M. 31. Eliz. in B. R. Osborn and Kirtons Caſe. Leon. 185.

13. No Protection, either Quia Profecturus, or Quia Moratur, ſhall endure longer then a year and a day next after the Teſt or Date of it; and therefore if a Protection doth bear date 7. Januarii, and hath allowance pro uno anno, the Re-ſummons, Re-attachment, or Re-garniſhment, may be ſued 8. Januarii the next year. See Coke 5. part 107. Coke 1. part Inſtitutes 13. & 254. acc. See Hob. 139. acc. And See 39. H. 6. 40. by Moil and Hob. 153. in Colt and Glovers Caſe, That if a Protection be granted for leſs then a year it is void.

14. A. being under Protection was brought by Habeas Corpus by one to the Common Pleas But who deſired to have him charged in Execution by reaſon of a Capias Utlagatum after Judgment for his debt: It was was said in this Case, That because the Capias Utlagatum was the Kings Suit in the first place, and but in the second degree for the Subject, that the King might discharge it; But a Protection will not do it, especially not being delivered or made known to the Coroners. Hill. 13. Jac. in Co. B. Sir Thomas Sherleys Case. Hob. 115.

15. Upon a Capias Utlagatum the Sheriff returned, that the party which was Arrested had a Protection from the Lord Stafford who was a Lord of Parliament: It was the opinion of the Justices, that the Return was not good; for the Protection of a Lord of the Parliament is not good in a Capias Utlagatum which concerned the King, and day was given to the Sheriff to mend the Return. M. 19. Jac. in Co. B. Winch. 24.

16. The Protections, Quia Profecturus (which concerns Servicrs in wars) and Quia Moraturus, which concerns Councel, as the Kings Embassadour or Messenger, pro negotiis Regni being for the publique good of the Realm, private mens Actions and Suits must be suspended for a convenient time, for justa publica anteferenda privatis; and the cause of granting of such Protections must therein be specified, that it may appear to the Court that they are granted pro negotiis Regni; And such Protections are not allowable only for men of full age, but for men within age, and for women as necessary Attendants upon the Camp; viz. Quia Lotrix, seu Nutrix, &c. Coke 2. part, Institutes 130.

17. A Protection, as well Moraturus as Profecturus must be to some place out of the Realm, and must be to some place certain, as super Salva Custodia Calicia, &c. and not to Carlile, or Wales, or the like, which are places within the Kingdom; But it may may be to Ireland, or Scotland, because they are distinct Kingdoms; and so to Calice or Aquitain: But a Protection granted to one until he returned out of Scotland in 1. E. 3. 25. was disallowed because of the uncertainty: So a Protection Quia Moratur super altum Mare. will not be good for the uncertainty of it.

18. A Scire facias brought why Execution should not be awarded upon a Judgment, the Defendant pleaded that the King 7. Octob. an. secund. of his Reign, did take him into his Protection for a year, and did grant to him that during that time he should be free from all manner of Plaints but Dower, Quare Impedit, and placita coram Justiciarii Itinerantibus; It was said, That this Protection was not warrantable for three Causes. 1. Because it was after the purchase of the Scire facias, and before the Return; and a Protection depending Suit is not allowable, although it mention that the party is to go a voiage with the Kings Son. 20. H. 6. 3. because it doth not specifie any particular Cause; Quia Moratur, or Quia Profecturus? And 3d. Because the Kings Bench is greater then a Justice in Eyre: The Court was of opinion in this Case, That for these Causes there was no colour of allowing the Protection. Hill 3. Car. in B. R. Baster and Murrays Case. Godbt. 366.

19. A Protection directed to one Court, shall not serve in another Court. 20. H. 6. 25. Coke 8. part 68. in Trollipps Case.

20. In Debt a Protection was cast Quia Profecturus est super mare, with I. S. the Kings Admiral: It was the opinion of the Court and Justices, that the Protection was not allowable; For the Court said, You never saw That a Protection was allowed if the party was not out of the allegiance of the Kingdom; as in Gascoyne, France, &c. But the Sea is within the allegiance of the King as of his Kingdom of England, and the Protection was disallowed. 6. R. 2. Protection 46. See the like 8. R. 2. Protection 125. where a Protection was cast, Quia Profecturus est versus partes Scotiæ in munitione Castri Carlile, and because Carlile was within the Realm the Protection was disallowed.

Protestation. See Title Pleadings and Demurrer.

Proviso.

Proviſo.

1. Where and in what Caſe it ſhall make a Condition, where not; and how it ſhall be Conſtrued in Deeds and other Conveyances.

1. NOte, It was ſaid for Law, that the words (Proviſo ſemper) put on the part of the Leſſee upon the words of the Habendum, makes a Condition; but contrary on the part of the Leſſor, as it is Covenanted in the Indenture, that the Leſſee ſhall do the Reparations, Proviſo ſemper that the Leſſor ſhall find the great Timber, the ſame is not a Condition; no more it is when it comes amongſt other Coveyances: Upon the part of the Leſſee, as it is Covenanted after the Habendum & Reddendum, that the Leſſee ſhall ſcour the Ditches, or the like, Proviſo that the Leſſee ſhall carry the dung thereof to ſuch a field, the ſame is not a Condition to forfeit the Leaſe for not performance of the ſame; contrary if the Proviſo be put immediatly after the habendum 35. *H.*8. Condition. 185.

2. When the Proviſo depends upon another ſentence, or hath reference to another part of the deed, it never makes a Condition, but a qualification or limitation of the ſentence or part of the deed unto which it referres: as where the Biſhop of York made a leaſe for years rendring rents Proviſo, that in time of vacation, the Rent ſhall be paid to the Chapter: It was adjudged in that Caſe that the Proviſo was not a condition, but a forſpeiſe which was annexed to the thing given 14. Eliz. Dyer. 312. Eyres and Ormes Caſe.

3. A man deviſed lands for yeares; Proviſo, and it is Covenanted betwixt the parties, that the leſſee ſhall not alien: It was adjudged in that Caſe, that it was a Condition by force of the Proviſo and a Covenant alſo. See 26. Eliz. Simſon and Titterels Caſe. Veuch in Cook. 10. part, in the Lord Cromwells Caſe: And ſee there, that the Proviſo being a Condition, ought to doe the proper office of a Condition, and that is to make the eſtate Conditional, and therefore in what place of the deed ſoever it is put, the ſame having the force of a Condition, ſhall have reference to the eſtate, and ſhall be annexed unto it.

4. A. Made a leaſe to B. of a Farme. Except the wood, and Covenanted with the Leſſee that he ſhould take all manner of underwood; Provided alwaies, and the Leſſee Covenanted, that he would not cut down any Timber trees. In this caſe it was ſaid, that the Proviſo was but in the nature of a Declaration with what trees the Leſſee ſhall not meddle becauſe it depended upon the Covenant of the Leſſor, and it is generall, viz. that he may cut any underwood, Provided that he do not cut down any manner of timber trees: At the beginning, the Court much inſiſted upon it, that it was a Condition: But yet at laſt ſaid, it was well put in that he ſhould not cut down any Timber trees, and therefore it was but a Declaration with what wood he ſhould not meddle, although in truth it was of ano her thing then was comprſed in the thing before; and then the adding of the Proviſo to ſuch a Covenant, ſhall not make the Proviſo of another nature then it was before the Covenant made or if no Covenant had been made of it; and upon that reaſon, it was adjudged; that it was not a Condition. P. 17. Eliz. in B. R. Pepall and Hammgtons Caſe. Pop. 117.

5. The Earl of Pembroke, granted the office of Lieutenantſhip of the forreſt of C. to Sir Maurice Barkley, and the heires males of his body and in the deed of grant were theſe words viz. Provided alwaies, and the ſaid Sir Maurice doth Covenant and grant, that it ſhall be lawfull for the Earl his heires and aſſignes to have the preheminence of the Game. Provided alſo, that Sr Maurice doth Covenant and grant with the Earl that neither he the ſaid Sir Maurice nor his heires ſhall cut down any Timber trees: It was reſolved in this Caſe by all the Juſtices, that although the Proviſo was coupled with an expreſſe Covenant of the grantee, and every Condition ought to be created by the words of the grantor, yet it was ſaid that the word Proviſo in this Caſe was a Condition, although it was intermixed with the words of Covent. In this Caſe Popham Chiefe Juſtice ſaid, That the word (Proviſo) ſhould be taken, ſometimes for a Condition, ſometimes for a Covenant, ſometimes for an Exception, ſometimes for a Reſervation, ſometimes for an Explanation; as if a man take Lands, Proviſo, that the leſſee ſhall not allien with out the aſſent of the leſſor, upon paln of forfeiture, here it is a Condition: 2. If I have two Manors, both of them named Dale, and I leaſe my manor of Dale, Provided you ſhall have my manor of Dale in the occupation of I. S. there, the Proviſo is an Explanation; 3. If a man leaſeth a houſe, and the leſſee Covenants, that he will repaire it, Provided alwaies the leſſor is contented to find great Timber, that it is a Covenant. 4. If I leaſe you my meſſage in D. Provided, I will have a Chamber in it my ſelfe, this is an Exception of the Chamber. 5. If I make a leaſe rendring rent, at ſuch feaſt as I. S. ſhall name. Provided that the Feaſt of St Michael ſhall be one, here the Proviſo is a Reſervation. 36. Eliz in B. R. The Earl of Pembroke, and Lord Barkleys Caſe. Goldesbr. 130. Popb. 116. 117. acc.

6. In Covenant: the plaintiff declared, that he demiſed to the defendant certain Romes in Bear Alley, from &c. 1614 to 1626. rendring 6li 15s 4d rent. Provided, and upon condition, that the defendat ſhould gather the Rents of other the plaintiffs Tenants in Beare-Ally reſerved, mentioned in a ſchedule, and pay the ſame within 20 daies after every Quarter day, and it was agreed that the defendant ſhould retain the reſt of the benefit of the ſaid Rooms over and above the ſaid Rent of 6li 15s 4d per an. for his paines in gathering up the ſaid Rents and ſhewed, that the Rents mentioned in the ſchedule did amount to 19oli per an. and that the defendant had not paid the ſaid Rents; but did not ſhew, that the defendant had gathered them: It was much inſiſted upon, that the words Proviſo &c. ſhould make a Covenant; But the opinion of the Court was that it was not a Covenant, but a Condition annexed to the ſtate which determined it, by not Collecting and paying of the Rents; and it ſhall not be intended that it ſhould be a Covenant to enforce him to gather and pay them when peradventure he cannot collect them: It was adjudged for the defendant, and that the Action of Covenant brought did not lie: M. 4. Car. in B. R. Gerry and Reaſods Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 91.

7. Note, It is holden by Hinde, in Plow. Com. 33 and 34, That the Word Proviſo, not other words make a Condition, unleſſe the words be reſtrictive, as that he ſhall not do ſuch an Act; for if the words doe not reſtrain, they are rather Limitations then Conditions; and therefore if Lands be given in taile upon Condition that if he dieth without iſſue that the Donor may enter, the ſame is not a Condition, for thus nothing is reſtrained. Or if it be upon Condition, that if the leſſee doth Commit waſte, that then he ſhall enter, the ſame is not a Condition, becauſe that nothing is done thereby, but that which the Law gave before; but if it had been that if he had recovered for Waſte for part, that he might enter in the whole, otherwiſe it is, for that that is reſtrictive: and See Plo. Com. Beiteſbrins Caſe agrees that, for there land was let to husband and wife for life, the remainder to their eldeſt Son: Proviſ. ſi ipſe inhabitare velit; and becauſe the ſame is not Compulſative, but gave the party a free Election, therefore in that caſe he conceived that the words were not properly a Condition. See 27. H. 8. Dockwrays Caſe. acc.

FINIS.

Quare Impedit.

Quare Impedit, What it is, where it lyeth, and of what, and by whom, and against whom, where upon a Preſentation, Collation, or other Diſturbance by Uſurpation, or otherwiſe; and where not.

1. Quare Impedit, is a Writ, and it lies when a man hath Right or Title to any Advowſon of a Church Dignity, or any other Promotion ſpiritual; & another man who hath no Right or Title, doth diſturb the true Patron, to preſent his Clerk, or other perſon to ſuch Advowſon, Dignity, or Spiritual Promotion; but preſenteth his Clerk to the Biſhop, to be Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted to the ſaid Church, or other Dignity: Then upon ſuch diſturbance, the lawful Patron, or he who hath Right to preſent, may have this Writ.

2. If a man hath a Chauntry which is donative by Letters Patens, and he giveth the ſame to another, who is diſturbed by another, or another doth Preſent; he who is diſturbed ſhall have a Quare Impedit of that Donative; and the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat ipſum preſentare to that Donative. If a man be diſturbed to Preſent to a Parſonage, then the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat preſentare ad Eccleſiam; for that the word Eccleſia intends a Parſonage. If it be to a Vicarage, ad Vicariam. If it be to a Prebend, then the Writ is, Quare Impedit preſentare ad Prebendam. See Fitz. Nat. Brev. acc.

3. If a man hath a Donative Chauntry, which is of the nature, that one name another his Clerk, and that the other ſhall Inſtitute and Induct him; there if he who hath Nomination be diſturbed, he ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and if he do recover, he ſhall have a Writ to enſtall and induct him into the poſſeſſion; but then ſuch Writ muſt be Quare Impedit Preſentare, and not Nominare ad Eccleſiam, as it is holden 14 H. 4. 11.

4. The Biſhop of Coventry, Patron of two Prebends, granted the next avoydance alterius eorum primo vacante. The Dean and Chapter confirmed the Grant; the Biſhop dyed, a Prebend became void, the Grantee brought a Quare Impedit: But it was holden, That the Writ was to be brought where the Cathedral Church was, and not where the body of the Prebend was. Mich. 3 Mar. Dyer 194.

5. The King preſented to a Prebend, ratione Temporalium Epiſcopi ſede vacante, and before Inſtitution, the King repealed his Preſentment; and notwithſtanding this, the Clerk was Inſtituted and Inſtalled by the Dean and Chapter; and afterwards the King reciting that the Preſentee was in Canonice inſtitutus ſua preſentatione, ratified and confirmed the Preſentation, and he dyed Incumbent, but in the mean time he was created a Biſhop. It was adjudged, That in that caſe, the King ſhould have the Preſentation again, notwithſtanding his Confirmation; and if he were diſturbed therein, he might have his Quare Impedit preſentare ad Prebendam, &c. Trin. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 292.

6. Quare Impedit was brought de Vicaria de T. in the County of Worceſter, parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Colledge of Weſtm. and the Queſtion was, whereas 2 E. 6. a Leaſe was made of all Heriditaments ſcituate and being in T; if thereby the Advowſon of the Vicarage did paſs: And it was holden, That it did paſs; for although that an Advowſon be not viſible, nor lyeth in Livery, yet in a Writ of Right of Advowſon brought, it ſhall be put in view; and the Church ſhall be put in view: and therefore a Quare Impedit will a fortiori lye of it. Paſch. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 323.

7. The Vicarage of Tatton in the County of S. came unto the Queen by Lapſe; The Ordinary of the Diocels collated A. to the Vicarage. Afterwards the Queen preſented B. who brought a Quare Impedit preſentare ad Vicariam, againſt the Biſhop and the Incumbent; depending which ſuit, A. by covin and fraud, obtained a Preſentation from the Queen, without making any mention of the pleaſure of the Queen to revoke or repeal the firſt Preſentment: In that Caſe, It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the ſecond Preſentation had been good, and a Repeal of the firſt, if it had not been by covin: and ex hoc Nota, That Quare Impedit preſentare ad Vicariam, was admitted good. Hill. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 339.

the Dean and Chapter of Norwiches Caſe acc.

8. A Quare Impedit was brought of the Church of B. the Defendant pleaded, that there was no ſuch Church in the County where the Writ was brought; and upon that, Iſſue was joyned. It was the opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, That if there was any Church within the County known by the name of B. it was ſufficient to maintain the Writ. See 31 H. 6. 18. A Parſon had an Annuity by preſcription of a Vicar: And afterwards King Edw. the 3. when the Vicar dyed, preſented J. S. a Parſon, to a Parſonage, and ſo were all his Succeſſors preſented as Parſons. In that Caſe it was holden, That now the Defendant might be charged as Parſon with the ſaid annuity, for that his Vicarage was turned into a Parſonage; and in that Caſe, if thereafter were a diſturbance upon a Preſentation to it, the Parſon might maintain a Quare Impedit Preſentare ad Eccleſiam, as to a Parſonage, and not ad Vicariam, Cook 6. Part, 65, 66. in Sir Moy's Finches Caſe.

9. A. Executor of J. S. who was Grantee of Preſentation of an Arch Deaconry in the County of D. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield, and declared of a Preſentment and Diſturbance, in vita Teſtatoris, & quod Eccleſia vacavit, & adhuc vacat. The Defendant pleaded [full of an Incumbent] before the Writ brought, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. In ſtay of Judgment it was moved, If a Quare Impedit did lye of an Arch-Deaconry, for that it is but a Function or Dignity. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That a Quare Impedit would lye of an Arch-Deaconry: And 2. That it would lye by an Executor for a diſturbance done in vita Teſtatoris. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Sale and the Biſhop of Lichfields Caſe, Owen, 99. See Leon, 205.

10. A Church-Parochial may be Donative, and exempt from Ordinary Juriſdiction, and a Reſignation may be made to the Patron, and it may be viſited by Commiſſioners appointed by the Patron, and not by the Ordinary; and a Quare Impedit lyeth of a Church, Prebend, Chauntry, or Chappel Donative, and no lapſe ſhall incur to the Ordinary; but if the Patron of the Donative doth preſent unto the Ordinary, and his Clerk is admitted and Inſtituted, now the ſaid Church is made preſentative, and ſhall never be Donative again, and then lapſe ſhall incur to the Ordinary, as to Benefices Preſentable; and then upon a Diſturbance, the Quare Impedit ſhall be, Preſentare ad Eccleſiam: But a Preſentation to ſuch a Church Donative by a ſtranger, and Admiſſion and Inſtitution upon it, is meerly void. Cook, 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 344.

11. A Quare Impedit will lye for diſturbance to Preſent to a Church in Wales: for ſee Paſch. 14. E. 3. Fitz. Title Juriſdiction 24. The King brought a Quare Impedit for a Church in Wales, and good. See 14 H. 4. and ſee 7 H. 6. 35. A Quare Impedit doth lye in C. B. of a Church in ancient Demeſne, although it concerns the poſſeſſion in ancient Demeſne; becauſe they cannot there write to the Biſhop; and the Common Law being as ancient as their Priviledges there, will not endure that by pretence of Priviledge, there ſhould be a failer of Original Juſtice or Right; Set Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cox and Barnſleys Caſe. Hob, 48. acc. See Cook 5. Part, in Aldens Caſe acc.

12. Note, There is Advocatio Mediatatis Eccleſia, and Medietas Advocationis Eccleſia; Advocatio Mediatatis Eccleſia is, where there be two Patrons of one Church, and each of them hath right to preſent a ſeveral Incumbent; the one, to one moyty of the Church, the other to the other moyty: And in ſuch Caſe, If an uſurpation, or other diſturbance be upon any one of them, or he be diſturbed in his Preſentment, he ſhall have a Quare Impedit preſentare ad Mediatatem Eccleſia. But Mediatas Advocationis is, where two Coparceners be of an Advowſon, and they make Compoſition to preſent by Turns, here each of them in truth hath but a right to the moyty of the Church, for that there is but one Incumbent of the ſame, and if one of them be to bring a Writ of Right upon an uſurpation, the Writ muſt be de Mediatate Advocationis Eccleſia: But if any of the ſaid Coparceners at her Turn be diſturbed in her Preſentment, ſhe may bring a Quare Impedit upon the ſaid diſturbance, and the Writ ſhall be Quare Impedit preſentare ad Eccleſiam; for that the Writ is grounded upon the Right of the Parſonage. See 33 H. 6. 12. and 36. Odmyſells Caſe acc. and yet though the Writ be general, Preſentare ad Eccleſiam, yet muſt the Count and Declaration be ſpecial, according to his Title, and ſo it is holden. Cook 5. Part, 102. in Winſors Caſe.

13. Note, 33 H. 6. 12. and 36. by Priſot, a man cannot have a Quare Impedit de Advocatione Mediatatis Eccleſia, or de Mediatate Advocationis, for if two have an Advowſon in common, or joyntly, and one Preſents, the other hath no remedy; becauſe that the Preſentment is but a perſonal thing, which is entire: And if two Patrons make a Conſolidation or union of two Churches, if one be diſturbed, he muſt have a Quare Impedit, quod permittat ipſum preſentare ad Eccleſiam, and not ad Advocationem Mediatatis, or de Mediatate Advocationis Eccleſia. But if there be two Patrons of two Churches adjoyning, and the Incumbent of one Patron demandeth Tythes in the Spiritual Court of the Incumbent of the other, and the one of the Patrons ſueth a Writ of Indicavit, which is in the nature of a Prohibition, to ſtop the proceedings of the other; there, becauſe the right of the Patronage cometh in Queſtion. In that Caſe, the Patron of the Clerk prohibited, may have and maintain a Writ of Right, de Advocatione Decimarum, in this form, viz. Precipe A. quod reddat B. Advocationem Decimarum, medietatis, tertiæ, quartæ partis, unius Carucatæ terræ, and the Writ will well lye. See Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes, 364. 38 E. 3. 13. Doctor and Student, lib. 2. cap. 25. 38 H. 7. 19. Br. Droit de Reſte 8.

14. A. ſeized of two parts of an Advowſon, and B. of the third part, A. preſented one, who dyed; afterwards he preſented again C. who was deprived 1 Mar. becauſe he was a Favourer of the Religion in the time of E. 6. B. preſented D. who afterwards is deprived, and C. reſtored: The Church voided by the death of C; B. preſented, and A. brought a Quare Impedit, and it was adjudged it did not lye: And in this Caſe it was agreed, That if two have Title to preſent by turns, and the one Preſents, and his Clerk is Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and afterwards deprived for crime, hereſie, or any other cauſe, yet he ſhall not Preſent again, but the ſame ſhall ſerve for his turn, becauſe that the Church was full, until the ſentence Declaratory came, and becauſe that the ſame was but voidable: But when the Admiſſion and Inſtitution are meerly void, the ſame ſhall not ſerve for a turn: But in the principal Caſe, although that the Clerk of B. was Parſon for the time to all purpoſes, yet when the ſentence came, C. was Incumbent again by force of his firſt Preſentment, and then when he dyed, the Defendant B. preſented in his turn: But if C. had dyed before the ſecond ſentence, or had not reverſed it, B. had had his Turn. Note, in this Caſe, the Writ was Preſentare ad Eccleſiam, and the Count was, de Advocatione duarum Partium, &c. and good. Cook 5. Part, 102. Winſors Caſe.

15. A. brought a Quare Impedit, and Declared, That the Earl of O. was ſeized in Fee of the Advowſon of O. and preſented D. who was Inſtituted and Inducted; and afterwards he Granted primam & proximam Advocationem, to the ſaid A. and then ſhewed, that the Preſentation of B. was void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. of Pluralities, not being a perſon qualified; and then ſhewed the Grant of primam & proximam Advocationem to him; and averred, That the Church now void, was the next avoidance: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Quare Impedit did not lye. Another reaſon ſeemed to be, That the Advowſon did not paſs, becauſe it was a thing in action only, Paſch. 3 Mar. Dyer, 130. Agards Caſe. See 11 Eliz. Dyer, 283. acc.

16. The next avoidance of a Church was Granted to three, Habendum eis & uni eorum conjunctim & diviſim; the firſt preſented the third, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; and upon a Quare Impedit brought, it was adjudged, That his preſentation was good: But it was ſaid, That if the Biſhop had refuſed his ſole Preſentment, peradventure he might have failed in his Quare Impedit; for that as it ſeems, the ſeverance in the Habendum is void in Law. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 304.

17. J. S. and Eliz. his Wife, brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of Exeter, and Declared, That A. was ſeized of the Mannor of T. to which the Advowſon of the Church of T. was an Appendant in Fee, and by Will deviſed the ſaid Mannor with the Apurtenances, to the ſaid Eliz. for the Term of her life, and dyed; and that the ſaid Eliz. entred into the Mannor, and was thereof ſeized for life, and took to husband the ſaid J. S. and that they preſented to the ſaid Church J. D. who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; and that afterwards, the ſaid Church became void by the death of the ſaid J. D; and ſo it appertained to the Plaintiffs to preſent, and that the Biſhop did diſturb them. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That the Quare Impedit brought by the Husband and Wife in their joynt names, was good, and did well lye. Cook 5. Part, 57. Specotts Caſe.

18. F. and the Counteſs of Northumberland his Wife, Sir Thom. Cecil, and D. his Wife, William Cornwallis, and L. his Wife, and the Lady Davis, Daughters and Heirs of the Lord Latimer, brought a Quare Impedit againſt Hall, and others, who pleaded the Releaſe of Cornwallis, pendant the Writ. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Writ brought by the ſeveral Husbands, and their Wives, in which their names was, was well brought. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Releaſe pleaded, ſhould go in Bar of Cornwallis only, and that the Writ ſhould ſtand good as for the others. 3. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That a Preſentment alledged in the Grantee of the next Avoydance, was a good Title for the Grantor and his Heirs in a Quare Impedit, Cook 5. Part, 97. The Counteſs of Northumberlands Caſe.

19. If Coparceners make partition in the Chancery to Preſent by Turns, and afterwards a ſtranger doth uſurp in their ſeveral turns, yet afterwards when their turns come, every one of them may have a Scire facias upon this partition, againſt the ſtranger, when his turn cometh, to ſhew wherefore he ſhould not Preſent, notwithſtanding the uſurpation aforeſaid: But if ſuch Partition be of Record, then they ſhall be put to their Writ of Right by reaſon of this uſurpation. But if Coparceners make compoſition to preſent by turns, and a ſtranger doth uſurp, and Preſenteth in the turn of one of them, yet if they will, they may joyn in a Quare Impedit againſt the ſtranger, notwithſtanding that Compoſition; and after Compoſition to Preſent by turns, if they do Preſent in Common, they may well do ſo. See 16 H. 7. 8. Fitz. Nat. Br. 36. acc.

20. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of W. and the Warden and Scholars of Merton Colledge in Oxford, and Declared, how that the Predeceſſor of the Warden, was ſeized in jure Collegii, of ſix acres of Lands, to which the Advowſon was Appendant in Fee, and Preſented; And that afterwards J. S. was ſeized of the ſaid ſix Acres, to which &c. in Fee, and dyed ſeized; after which, it deſcended to G. Son and Heir, and afterwards the Father was attainted by Parliament, for which the King ſeized the ſaid ſix Acres; and being ſo ſeized, the Church became void; for which the Predeceſſor of the Defendant Preſented by uſurpation upon the King; and that afterwards the Act of Parliament was annulled, and G. the ſon was reſtored, and that he entred into the ſix Acres, and was ſeized in Fee, and thereof enfeoffed the Plaintiff, and that then the Church voided, and ſo he ought to Preſent: Upon which the Defendants did demur in Law. In this Caſe it was adjudged, that the Quare Impedit brought by that Plaintiff, would not lye, and thereupon a Writ was awarded for the Defendants to the Biſhop, without making any Title. Mich. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 24. Sir John Danvers Caſe.

21. A Church was void by the taking of a ſecond Benefice, upon the Statute of 21 H. 8. of Pluralities and Lapſe, devolved to the Queen, who Preſented A. who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; and afterwards the Queen preſented B; A. dyed: The Patron brought a Quare Impedit againſt B. and counted of the Avoidance and Lapſe, ut ſupra; and that the Queen preſented A. who was Admitted and Inſtituted, and that the Church was now void by the death of A. The Queſtion was, Whether this was ſufficient or not, without ſaying Inducted: And it was holden that it was, becauſe that the Plaintiff alledged, that the Church was void by the death of A. which implyed an Induction, and then it was revocable. 20 Eliz. Dyer, 360.

22. A Joynt-Tenant, or a Tenant in Common, ſhall not have a Quare Impedit for the Advowſon which they have in Joynture, or in Common, in Caſe one of them preſents alone, againſt his Companion that ſo preſents: But if two Coparceners cannot agree in their Preſentation, the eldeſt Siſter ſhall have the firſt Preſentation, and ſo ſhall he have who hath her Eſtate, and if either of them be diſturbed by the other Coparcener, either of them ſhall have a Quare Impedit againſt the other Siſter. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 34. acc.

23. At the Common Law, If depending a Quare Impedit againſt the Ordinary, for refuſing the Patrons Clerk, and before the Church was full, the Patron had brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop; and depending the ſuit, the Biſhop had admitted and Inſtituted a Clerk of another. In this Caſe, if Judgment was given for the Patron againſt the Biſhop, the Patron might have had a Writ to the Biſhop, and removed the Incumbent that came in pendente Lite; and therefore it was ſaid, it was good policy to bring the Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop as ſpeedily as might be. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitutes, 344.

24. The Queen brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of London and Scot: The Caſe was, A. was ſeized of an Advowſon in groſs, holding of the Queen in chief, and alienes the ſame by Fine, without licence; the Church became void, the Conuſee Preſented: The Queen without Office found, brought a Quare Impedit: It was a Queſtion, if the Queen without Office found, ſhould Preſent. It was agreed by the whole Court, That if the alienation had been by Deed only, that there without Office found, ſhould not have preſented; for upon ſuch alienation by matter of Fact, without licence, no Scire facias ſhould Iſſue without Office found of the Alienation: but upon an alienation without Licence by matter of Record, a Scire facias lyeth before Record: And it was ſaid, That in the laſt caſe, the Queen ſhall have the mean profits from the time of the Scire facias Returned; but in the firſt from the time of the Office found. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen, and the Biſhop of London, and Scots Caſe. Leon, 40.

25. The Queen brought a Quare Impedit againſt M. and Counted, That William Lord Say was ſeized of the Manor of B. in the County of H. to which the Advowſon of the Church was appendant, and Preſented one C. and afterwards dyed ſeized, having Iſſue two daughters, viz. Mary, married to the Earl of Eſſex, and A. married to the Lord Mountjoy, who made partition, and the Manor of B. was allotted to Mary for her part: Afterwards the Earl and Mary dyed, having Iſſue F. who married the Marqueſs of Northampton: Afterwards a fine was levyed of the ſaid Manor by the ſaid Marqueſs and his Wife, by which the ſaid Manor was rendred to the ſaid Marqueſs for his life, the Remainder to F. his Wife in Tail, the Remainder to King Henry the eight in Fee: The Marqueſs was attainted of Treaſon, the King ſeized the Manor, afterwards F. dyed without Iſſue, after which the Church became void in the ſeizin of the Queen, and ſo it belonged to her to Preſent. The Defendant confeſſed the whole matter till the Attainder; and further pleaded, That after the ſaid Attainder, Queen Mary leaſed the ſaid Manners, with the Advowſon to R. and W. for 40 years, if the Marqueſs ſhould ſo long live, who were poſſeſſed accordingly, and in their poſſeſſion, the Church became void; to which avoydance one T. did preſent the Defendant, who upon his Preſentment, was Inſtituted and Inducted. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, upon the firſt opening of it, againſt the Defendant, becauſe he had not ſet forth in his Plea, that he had any Intereſt in the Advowſon; And it was ſaid, That the Patron himſelf could not have had ſuch a Plea if he had been party to the Writ, and therefore not the Incumbent; and it is no good pleading in any Action, to diſcover in Pleading any wrong, diſſeiſin, or uſurpation: But at length all the Judges were agreed in this Caſe, That Judgment ſhould be given againſt the Queen; and the Lord Anderſon delivered the reaſon of their Judgment; for here is not bare uſurpation pleaded againſt the Queen, but alſo an Eſtate, ſcil. a Leaſe for years in the Advowſon derived from Queen Mary, and that the Avoydance upon which the Action is brought, falleth within the ſaid Term, ſo as the Queen who is Plaintiff, is enconuted with a Leaſe of her Anceſtor, againſt which ſhe cannot make any Title to Preſent, without ſpecial matter: and therefore it was adjudged, That the Quare Impedit brought by the Queen in this Caſe, did not lye. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and Middleton's Caſe. Leon, 44. to 49.

26. The Queen brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of York and M. and Declared upon a Preſentment made by King Henry the 8. in the Right of his Dutchy, and ſo Conveyed the ſame to the Queen by deſcent: The Defendant pleaded, That he and his Predeceſſors have collated to the ſame Church; and M. pleaded the ſame Plea: Upon which there was a Demurrer. It was Objected, That by theſe Collations, the Queen was put out of poſſeſſion, and put to her Writ of Right of Advowſon. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Plea of the Defendants was not good; for a Collation cannot gain an Uſurpation, or a Plenarty againſt the King, or put the King out of Poſſeſſion: And the Opinion of the Court alſo was, That the Writ was good, notwithſtanding the want of the clauſe in it, Ratione Dotatus. Paſch. 33 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and the Biſhop of York's Caſe. Leon, 226, 227.

27. In a Quare Impedit by L. againſt H. the Iſſue was, If T. L. the Father of the Plaintiff did enfeoff the Plaintiff of the Manor of F. to which the Advowſon was Appendant: It was found, That the Abbot of S. was ſeized of a Capital Meſſuage and an hundred Acres of Lands in F. and that there was a Tenancy holden of the ſaid Capital Meſſuage, time out of minde, by the name of the Manor of F. and that the Advowſon was Appendant to it, and conveyed the Meſſuage and Advowſon to the King by the Diſſolution, and from the King to the ſaid T. L. who ſo ſeized without Deed, did enfeoffe the Plaintiff, and made Livery and Seiſin upon the Demeſnes, and that the Plaintiff made a Deed to S. It was the Opinion of the Court, That here was a ſufficient Manner to which an Advowſon might be Appendant; and in Law, the Advowſon is Appendant to all the Manners, but properly to the Demeſnes; and therefore by Attornment after, in the principal Caſe of the Freeholder, the Advowſon did paſs included in the Livery: And the Grant of the Advowſon made mean between the Livery and Attornment was void: and a Writ to the Biſhop was granted for the Plaintiff. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Long and Hemmings Caſe. Leon 207.

28. If a ſtranger doth uſurp upon my Tenant for life, and afterwards the Tenant for life doth confirm his Eſtate in Fee, and the ſtranger doth preſent two or three times, and then the Tenant for life dyeth, and then the Church doth become void; I ſhall have and maintain a Quare Impedit, for the Statute of Weſtm. 2. cap. 5. being made to ſuppreſs wrong doings, ſhall be taken largely; as it was adjudged Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 1030. in the Lord Stanhopps and Williams Caſe: Where the Caſe was, That a Prior did grant the next Avoydance, and the Grantee ſuffered an uſurpation; and it was adjudged, That the Prior himſelf might have had a Quare Impedit, and been aided by the Statute of Weſtm. 2. and ſo was the Law there taken to be for every Leſſor, upon an uſurpation had upon his Leſſee. See 45 E. 3. by Finchden acc.

29. If an uſurpation be had upon a Biſhop or Abbot, Sede Vacante, this uſurpation ſhall not prejudice the Succeſſor, but he ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and thereupon ſhall remove the Incumbent, and ſhall Preſent: But if ſuch uſurpation had been in the time of his Predeceſſor, this ſhould have put the Succeſſor out of Poſſeſſion, if the ſix moneths were paſt. See 9 E. 3. 16. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 34. acc.

30. If the Patron of a Benefice be Outlawed, and the Church become void, ſo as the time of Preſentment is come to the King, in regard of the Outlawry, and a ſtranger doth uſurp upon the King, and ſix moneths paſs, and the King brings a Quare Impedit, and removes the Incumbent: Now is the Advowſon recontinued to the rightful Patron, and the uſurpation, whilſt the Title was in the King, did not gain the Inheritance of the Advowſon Advowſon out of the rightful Patron, but that he after the Outlawry reverſed, or pardoned, might Preſent, if the Church did become void. See 22 Aſſ. p. 33.

31. In a Quare Impedit brought, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That all uſurpations ſhall binde the Biſhops who ſuffer them, but not their Succeſſors, for that it is within the Statute of 1 Eliz. which reſtrains Alienations and Grants made by Biſhops, &c. But where the Biſhop ſuffers an uſurpation in the right of his Biſhopprick, it ſhall binde himſelf during his time; But if he be Purchaſer of an Advowſon, and ſuffers an uſurpation, that ſhall not binde his Succeſſor. Mich. 21 Jac. in C. B. Dalton and the Biſhop of Ely's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 673.

32. At the Common Law, If an uſurpation had been upon an Infant, or a Feme Covert, they had been thereby put out of poſſeſſion, and could not have maintained Quare Impedit, but were put to the Writs of Right of Advowſon; and that was as well where the Advowſon came to them by deſcent, as by purchaſe, and they were not helped by the Statute of Weſt. 2. as appeareth 1 E. 3. Fitz. Quare Impedit 43. and 35 H. 6. 60. The reaſon thereof was, becauſe the Incumbent came in by Judicial act of the Ordinary, ſcil. by Admiſſion and Inſtitution, and it was preſumed that the Ordinary would not do, or conſent to any act to be done, in wrong to the Patronage of the Church: But yet at the Common Law, If one had uſurped upon the poſſeſſion of the King, and his Clerk had been Admitted and Inducted, it ſhould not have put the King out of poſſeſſion, but that the King might have recovered his poſſeſſion by a Quare Impedit, for that the King was not bound by the Plenarty. See 18 E. 3. Quare Impedit, 151. Cook 6. Part, in Boſwel's Caſe. But ſee Paſch. 25 Eliz. in C. B. It was holden, That by two uſurpations, the King might have been put out of Poſſeſſion, and put to his Writ of Right of Advowſon, and a Grant by him made of his Advowſon after two uſurpations void. See 51 E. 3. 46. and ſo it was adjudged, Mich 13 Jac. in C. B.

2. Where Quare Impedit lyeth againſt the Heir, Executor, the Queen, where not; where againſt the Ordinary, and what Acts by him ſhall make him a Diſturber, or what not; Where, and for what Cauſes the Writ ſhall abate, what not: Where it lyeth againſt the Incumbent ſole, and where the Patron muſt be named in the Writ; and what Pleas are good in Bar of it, what not.

1. IN the time of E. 3. there was two Pariſh Churches in J. in the County of S. one called S. Martins, which was appendant to the Manner of J. the other All Saints, which was an Advowſon in groſs; and there were ſeveral Patrons of them; and both of them being void, the Church of All Saints, by conſent of the Ordinary and Patrons were united, and upon the union it was Ordained, That the Patrons and their Heirs ſhould preſent by Turns, and that the Patrons in groſs ſhould have the firſt Preſentment, and ſo alternis vicibus: The Patron in Groſs, granted his Patronage to the uſe of himſelf for life, the remainder to his Wife for life, the remainder to his right heirs, and dyed; the other Patron preſented twice together, and dyed, ſo as he uſurped upon the Tenant for life; Afterwards the Husband and Wife dyed, and at the next Avoydance, the Heir of the Patron in groſs Preſented, and he was diſturbed, and brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Heir of the Diſturber, and the Writ was, Quod permittat ipſum preſentare ad Eccleſiam de J. without ſaying Sancti Martini de J. upon which it was demurred; In this Caſe, it was a Quære, If the Right here ſhall be adjudged in as a Purchaſer, or by deſcent; for if by Purchaſe, it ſeemed to the Court he was without remedy; And in this Caſe it was agreed, That the Advowſon of S. Martins did remain appendant for every ſecond turn, and that there was no moyties betwixt them, as in Caſe of Joynt-Tenants or Tenants in Common: But for the other point, the Juſtices all agreed, that the Writ was good, without ſaying Sancti Martini in J. becauſe there was after the union but one Church there. Paſc. 4 Eliz. Dyer 259.

2. Quare Impedit brought by B. againſt the Biſhop of Carliſle; and the Plaintiff declared of a Preſentation made to one T. by an Abbot and Co-

vent, in the time of Hen. 8. and made Title by a Grant of the next avoidance, and shewed, That the Church was void by the Deprivation of T. generally; The Bishop entituled himself for lapse, because that T. was deprived, because he was no Minister, but a Lay-man, and also did not read the Articles according to the Statute of 13 Eliz. And in this Case the Issue was, Whether notice were given by the Ordinary to the Patron, of that Deprivation, or not. and if it was a good notice; for if it was not, the Ordinary by his Presentment was a Disturber, and the Quare Impedit brought against him would lye. It was Resolved in that Case, That the Ordinary in Case of not reading the Articles, must give Notice thereof to the Patron, and the notice must be certain and particular, that the party hath not read the Articles; and general notice, that he is unexpible of the Benefice, is not sufficient; nor is intimation thereof given in the Church sufficient, but it must be to the Patron himself; and because such par ticular notice of the not reading of the Articles, was not given by the Ordinary to the Patron, It was holden in the principal Case, That by the Presentment the Ordinary was a Disturber, and the Quare Impedit was well brought against him. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 348. Bacons Case. But Note, That if a Clerk be refused by the Ordinary for Inability, Illiterature, or for any other cause, whereof notice ought to be given to the Patron; If the Patron doth dwell in a far and remote County, so as he cannot easily be found out by the Ordinary, In such Case, if the Ordinary make the Inability of the Clerk, or cause of his refusal to be known, by an Intimation fixed upon the Door of the Church, that in that case it is sufficient; and then if the six moneths incur and the Ordinary collate for lapse, the same shall binde the Patron, and a Quare Impedit will not lye against the Ordinary upon such Collation. See 16 Eliz. Dyer, 327. acc.

3. The Bishop of Coventry was Patron of two several Prebends, and Granted the next avoydance alterius eorum primo vacante, to J. S. which Grant was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter; the Bishop dyed, One Prebend became void, and the the Successor Presented; J. S. the Grantee brought his Quare Impedit within the six moneths, and two years after, Issue was found for J. S. the Plaintiff, as also the Avoydance plenarty, and that the Writ was brought within the six moneths, and the Bishop dyed: And it was holden, That the Quare Impedit was well brought, because the Successor Bishop by his Presentment, was a Disturber; and it was also adjudged, that the Writ was well brought, where the Church was. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 194.

4. One had the Nomination, and an Abbot had the Presentation to a Church, afterwards the Possessions of the Abbot came to the King, afterwards the King Presented without any Nomination. It was holden in that Case, That a Quare Impedit upon a Disturbance did lye against the Incumbent alone, for that the King cannot be a Disturber. Pasch. 32 H. 8. Dyer, 48.

5. The only Question in the Case was, If in the Case of a common person, a Quare Impedit did lye, against the Ordinary and the Incumbent only, without naming the Patron in the Writ: And it was adjudged, That it did not, but that the Writ should abate; the reasons were, 1. Because the Patronage should be recovered against him who had nothing in the Patronage. 2. Because at the Common Law the Incumbent could not plead any Plea which did concern the right of the Patronage, and therefore it was against all reason that he only should be named in the Writ, who could not defend the Patronage: But the Statute of 25 E. 3. enableth the Incumbent to plead against the King, and to defend his right, although he claims nothing in the Patronage; and by the equity of that Statute, he shall plead against all common persons. And Note, This difference in that Case was agreed by the Court, viz. That when the Inheritance or Intereſt of the Patron in the Patronage, is to be devested by the Judgment in the Quare Impedit, there the Patron ought to be named in the Writ; but when the Inheritance is not devested by the Judgment, but the Presentment only recovered, there the rightful Patron needs not to be named in the Writ: But in Case where the King Presents without Title, and his Clerk be Instituted and Inducted, there in that Case a Quare Impedit may be brought against the Bishop and the Incumbent only, and that for necessities sake, because it doth not lye against the King; and a Quare Impedit brought by the King against the Incumbent alone is good, without naming the Patron in the Writ. Cook 7. Par. 25, 26. Holls Case.

6. Note, Whereas in the Case of 32 H. 8. before; That the King came to be a disturber, yet see Br. 4 E. 6. 410. That in such case, the Bishop must be named in the Writ, for that the Incumbent could not come into the possession of the Church, but by the Admission of the Bishop, and the Bishop may be an especial Disturber: And see, That it is good policy upon every Presentation by usurpation, or otherwise, to bring a Quare Impedit as speedily as may be, and so it is good policy to name the Bishop in the Writ, for then he shall not collate for lapse of the Church, to remain void during six moneths; neither shall the Metropolitan collate if the time come to him for the same lapse: for that it is a Rule, That the Metropolitan shall never collate for lapse, but when the immediate Ordinary Ordinary might have collated for lapſe, and hath ſurceaſed his time; and in ſuch caſe the Ordinary cannot collate, becauſe he is made party to the Writ. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 344. And ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. in Lancaſter and Lowes Caſe.

7. Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment had in C. B. in a Quare Impedit: The Error aſſigned was, That this Quare Impedit is brought againſt the Incumbent without naming the Patron; and it is averred, that the Patron is alive, and therefore Judgment ought to have been given againſt the Plaintiff: and Cook 7. Part, 25. Halls Caſe was vouched to that purpoſe. To this it was anſwered, That peradventure this might have been a good Plea, if he had pleaded it in the Common Plea, and had relyed upon it without pleading over, ſo as the Plaintiff might have anſwered thereunto: But this cannot be aſſigned now for Error, for it is only to the Writ, and proves the Writ abateable, and it is not abated in facto, and nothing ſhall be aſſigned for Error concerning the Writ, but that which proves it to be abated in facto: but in regard he doth not rely thereupon, but hath pleaded over in bar, and ſo hath relinquiſhed his Plea to the Writ, he ſhall not now take advantage of it: But the Court was of Opinion, That becauſe the Patron was averred to be alive; and he was not made a Patron upon the Writ: therefore it was the Opinion of the Court, That (notwithſtanding for other matters alledged in the Caſe, the Judgment ſhould be affirmed) yet the Entry of the Judgment for that cauſe only ſhould be ſtayed. Mich. 2 Jac. in B. R. Sir George Savill and Thorntons Caſe. Cro. 2 Part, 650. 651.

8. If the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit after appearance be Nonſuit, diſcontinueth his ſuit, or be made a Knight, this being his own act, ſhall abate the Writ, and is peremptory; but otherwiſe it is, if the Writ do abate for form, miſnomer, &c. 40 Eliz. Cook 7. Part, 27. Sir Hugh Portmans Caſe. See Cook, Part, Blackamores Caſe acc.

9. A Quare Impedit was brought, and the Writ was, ſuam ſpectat Donationem, and the word [ad] was omitted. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Writ ſhould be amended, and ſhould not abate. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Brooksbyes Caſe, Goldesb. 78.

10. If two Tenants in common, or Coparceners be of an Advowſon, and a ſtranger uſurps upon them, ſo as their right is turned into action, and they bring a Quare Impedit, and ſix moneths paſs, and then one of the Plaintiffs dyeth, the Writ ſhall not abate, but the Survivor ſhall recover, otherwiſe there ſhould be no remedy to redreſs this wrongful uſurpation, but they muſt joyn in the firſt Writ; ſee if the Writ be brought by one of them, the Writ ſhall abate. See 10 Eliz. Dyer, 279. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitutes. 198. &c.

11. A man brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of York, and A. C. for diſturbing him to Preſent to the Church of L. which belonged to him: The Biſhop pleaded, That J. S. the Incumbent dyed 1 Jan. 12 Jac. and the Church remained void, and he Preſented J. C. for lapſe, and claimed nothing but as Ordinary, and the Incumbent confeſſed the Plaintiffs Title, and pleaded the Collation of the Biſhop of him to the Church. The Plaintiff by Replication ſhewed, That after the death of J. S. and before the ſaid firſt day of January, viz. 29 Maii 1615. he Preſented J. N. to the Church, and the Biſhop refuſed him; and that afterwards the Biſhop did collate A. C. to the Church. It was the Opinion of the Court, That now he hath abated his own Writ, becauſe the Action was brought before the Cauſe of Action, and no diſturbance can be before the Writ be brought. Mich, 15 Jac. in C. B. Birkhead and the Biſhop of Yorks Caſe. Hob. 197, 198.

12. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt Richard Biſhop of Lincoln, Ordinary, and the Incumbent; the Incumbent pleaded, That at the day of the Writ brought, there was no ſuch Richard Biſhop of Lincoln, in rerum natura. It was by the Court holden to be a good Plea to abate the Writ. Trin. 16 Jac. in C. B. Blunt and Hutchinſons Caſe. Winch. 73.

13. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of Gloceſter, and C. and counted upon a Diſturbance to Preſent 1 Nov. The Defendant pleaded, That 1 Maii before the ſaid 1 Nov. he himſelf was Preſented to the Church by the Queen, the which Preſentment came to him by lapſe; upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden by the Court, That in that Caſe the Plea was inſufficient, for the Plaintiff counted upon a Diſturbance to him 1 Novemb. and the Defendant entitleth himſelf to an Incumbency 1 Maii after; in which anſwer, the Diſturbance ſet forth in the Count, is not anſwered by Traverſe, nor confeſſed, nor avoided: Then it was moved for the Queen, that ſhe might have a Writ to the Biſhop, for that the Title of the Queen is confeſſed. But the Opinion of the whole Court was againſt that, for that it appeareth that the Title of the Queen was once executed, ſo as nothing remains in the Queen; and now when the Defendant hath loſt his Incumbancy by ill Pleading (as he may) as well as by Reſignation, or Deprivation, yet the ſame ſhall not turn to the advantage of the Queen; for where the Queen Preſents for lapſe, and her Clerk is Inſtituted and Inducted, ſhe hath no more to do, but the Incumbent muſt ſhift as well as he can for the holding of it; afterwards the Plaintiff had a Writ to the Biſhop.

Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Arundel and the Bishop of Glocesters Case. Leon. 194.

14. A Quare Impedit by the Queen against the Bishop of Cant. and the Bishop of C. and F. and one H. and Counted that J. A. was seised of the Advowson of B. and was Outlawed in Debt; during which Outlawry the Church voided, so as it belonged to the Queen to Present, the Bishops pleaded, that they claimed nothing but as Ordinaries: F. pleaded, That King E. 4. ex Gratia speciali, &c. in Consideration of Service, did Grant to the Lord Hastings, the Castle and Barony of Hastings, and that he habuerat omnia Bona & Catalla residentium & non residentium, & aliorum quorumcunque hominum, de & in Castro, Baronia, villa, &c.; and derived the same to the Earl of Huntington as Heir; and pleaded, That the said Earl so seized, and the said A. B. so seized, That the Church became void during the Outlawry, and that the said F. usurped, and Presented the said H. And it was averred, That the said Church of B. at the time of the Grant, was within the Precinct and Franchise aforesaid: The Question was, If upon the Grant of King E. 4. to the Lord Hastings, of Omnia Bona & Catalla, the Presentment to the Church should pass or not. It was Objected, That this Title of Presentment was a Chattel in the King; and if such a Title come to the King, they shall pass by general words of omnia Bona, &c. But it was the Opinion of Anderson Chief Justice, That this Title to Present cannot pass by the general words, omnia Bona & Catalla, &c. for they do not extend to Rights, or things in action; for such things which are commonly known, shall pass by such general words: and by Grant of goods, Chattels real will not pass; and a man cannot be said to have a Chattel, but where he is possessed of it; and in this case, there was no Possession of it, but only Jus Presentandi, which did not pass by the Grant, and so the Queen had a good Title to Present; and the Quare Impedit would not lye. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and the Archbishop of Cant. and Fane and Hudson's Case. Leon. 201, 202.

15. H. Presented K. his Clerk to the Bishop of Chester, who refused him. He complained to the Archbishop of Y. who sent Monition of the Bishop of C. to reject the Clerk, who would not; whereupon the Archbishop Instituted R. and he was Inducted: The Bishop of C. and K. who was Presented by the King, sued in the Delegates, to avoid the Induction of R. whereupon H. prayed a Prohibition: The Court was of Opinion, That a Prohibition ought to be granted; for since by the Induction the Church is full, it is not to be avoided but by a suit in a Quare Impedit at the Common Law: But yet it was said by the Court, that he could not pray a Prohibition, in regard his Quare Impedit was depending, because then of his own showing, the Quare Impedit must abate, for the Church is full of his Presentation: but he must make his surmise, that the Church being full, they seek to avoid it, without mentioning his Quare Impedit. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Sir Timothy Hutton's Case. Hob. 15.

16. A Tenant for life of a Manor, to which an Advowson was Appendant, the Remainder to B. in Fee, the Church became void: A. Presented J. D. who was Inducted, and did not read the Articles, for which he was deprived by Sentence Declaratory before the Bishop, but no notice was given to the Patron of this Deprivation: A. dyed, the Queen Jure Prerogativæ, Presented W. B. who was Instituted and Inducted; J. D. died, B. who was the Tenant in Remainder in Fee, Presented J. G. the Plaintiff, who thereupon entred into the Rectory. In this Case it was Resolved (amongst other things) That if the Queen by her Letters Patents mistaketh her Title, as if she hath Title to Present, in respect she is very Patron, and she Presenteth ratione Lapsus, that such Presentation is void, à fortiori, when the Queen hath not Title to Present by any means, and the Presents (as in the Case at Bar) ratione Lapsus, it is meerly void; and in such Case, although the Bishop doth Admit, Institute, and Induct the party, yet the Church doth remain void, and the right Patron is not put to a Quare Impedit to remove such Incumbent. Cook 6. Part, 29. Greens Case.

17. A man was Admitted, Instituted, and Inducted into a Benefice with Cure, of the value of 8 L. Afterwards the King Presented him to the Church of S. which was also a Benefice with Cure, and he was Admitted and Instituted: The Bishop of C. granted him Letters of Dispensation for Plurality, which was confirmed by the King; and afterwards he was Inducted into the Church of S. and afterwards the Queen did Present by reason of Lapse W. to the first Benefice, who was Admitted, Instituted, and Inducted. It was adjudged, That the Dispensation granted to A. came too late, he being Instituted into the Church of S. and that the first Benefice was void by the Institution of him into the second, and then the Dispensation to him for Pluralities came too late, the same being a Dispensation recipere & retinere; for the Church being full by his Institution, he could not receive that which he had before; and he could not receive that which he could not receive. Cook 4. Part, 79. Digby's Case.

18. Quare Impedit by the Queen against the Bishop of P. A. Patron, and C. Incumbent, and Counted ratione Lapsu for taking of two Benefices; The Defendant pleaded in Bar, That E. Baronets of Montcagle, in her Widdowhood, reteined C. to be her Chaplain, acc. to the Statute of 21 H. 8. and he having the Benefice of C. obtained a Diſpenſation, with a Confirmation of the Queen for a Plurality, and afterwards he accepted of the Benefice of G. without that that the firſt Church of C. by taking of the Benefice of G. was void: The Queen Replyed, That before the ſaid C. accepted the Benefice of G. the ſaid Baroneſs took to husband the Lord Compton, and ſo was Covert of Baron; and afterwards the ſaid C. accepted the Vicarage of G. and was thereunto Inducted; upon which the Defendant did demur in Law. It was Reſolved againſt the Queen in this Caſe, viz. That the Chaplain after the inter-marriage might receive the ſecond Benefice for the Retainer of the Chaplain was not countermanded by the Inter-marriage, and it is not requiſite that ſhe be a Widdow, at the time of the Chaplains acceptance of the ſecond Benefice, and the power to purchaſe Licenſe for Plurality, is annexed to the Retainer; and the Reteiner was not determined by the Inter-marriage. It was adjudged againſt the Queen. Cook 4. Part, 217. Aſtons Caſe.

19. A Quare Impedit was brought by divers Plaintiffs; the Defendant pleaded a Releaſe made by one of the Plaintiffs depending the Writ of Quare Impedit. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame Releaſe ſhould go but in Bar of that Plaintiff only; and that the Writ ſhould ſtand good from the others: And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That in all caſes of a thing entire and in the realty, as Preſentation to a Church, Guard of the Body, &c. the releaſe of the one ſhould enure to the benefit of the other. See Cook 5. Part, 79. The Counteſs of Northumberlands Caſe.

20. B. brought a Quare Impedit againſt C. and had Judgment to recover: The Queen brought a Scire Facias upon the ſaid Judgment, and ſhewed, that after the ſaid Judgment, B. was Outlawed in an Action general, and the Scire facias iſſued ad reſpondendum Quare Regina ſhould not have execution of the Judgment by reaſon of the ſaid Outlawry. It was Objected in this Caſe, That the Scire facias did not lye for the Queen, for that Writ runs only in privity of the Record upon which it is grounded, to which Record the Queen is a ſtranger; and by Outlawry in an Action perſonal, no Action real ſhall eſcheat, and therefore the Scire facias being in the nature of a Quare Impedit, upon which it is grounded, or at leaſt a mixt Action, ſhall not be forfeited: Alſo it was ſaid, that in this Caſe, nothing was in the Record to entitle the Queen, but all the matter upon which a Writ to the Biſhop is prayed for the Queen, is out of the Record: And in this Caſe the Outlawry is not ſufficiently alledged; for that he ought to have made mention of the Exigent, and of all the proceedings, and of the Judgment of the Coroners, and for defect of that, no Title is given to the Queen: But as to the Scire facias, all the Judges agreed, That upon the matter the Writ lay well enough, and that it was good diſcretion in the Court to grant ſuch a Writ: And it was ſaid in that Caſe, That if two Coparceners be of an Advowſon, and they make Compoſition to Preſent by Turns, and afterwards one of them dyeth, her heir within age, and Ward to the King; the Church voideth, and the King is diſturbed in the Preſentment, he ſhall have a Scire facias upon ſuch Compoſition, although he be a ſtranger to it. In the principal Caſe, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Preſentment did belong to the Queen by reaſon of the Outlawry. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Bevely and Cornwallis Caſe. Leon. 63.

21. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt J. D. G. W. Clerk, and the Biſhop of L. of the Church of O. The Caſe was, G. Earl of H. was poſſeſſed of the Church of O. to which the Advowſon of the Vicarage was Appendant for 15 years; and by Deed granted to the Plaintiff the next Avoydance of the ſaid Vicarage, cum primo & proximo vacare contigerit, by any means whatſoever, if it ſhould happen to be void during the ſaid Term of years in the ſaid Rectory of O. granted to the ſaid Earl by the ſaid Biſhop of Oxford. The Defendants pleaded, That after the ſaid Grant made, the ſaid Earl being poſſeſſed of the ſaid Rectory, dyed inteſtate, and Adminiſtration of his goods granted to H. now Earl of H. who afterwards ſurrendred his Term in the ſaid Rectory to the Biſhop of Oxford, which he accepted; and that the Biſhop deviſed the ſaid Rectory with the appurtenances to one J. D. one of the Defendants, for his life, and that afterwards the Vicarage became void; upon which Plea the Plaintiff did demur: The ſole Queſtion in the Caſe was, If by the ſaid ſurrender the Grant of the ſaid next Avoydance was void. It was adjudged in that Caſe, that notwithſtanding the ſaid ſurrender, that the ſaid J. D. ſhould have the next Avoydance, becauſe the ſaid Limitation was no more then what the Law ſaid; for if Tenant for years grant an Avoydance, the Law ſhall imply this Limitation, if it void during the Term. 2. Becauſe the Grantor ſhall not derogate from his own Grant, and the Grant of every one ſhall be taken ſtrong againſt the Grantor, and moſt beneficial for the Grantee: And 3. Becauſe the Term for the benefit of the Grantee, hath in ſome reſpect continuance; as if Leſſee for years grants a Rent-charge, and afterwards ſurrenders for the benefit of the Grantee, the Term hath continuance, although rei veritate it be determined. 23. A Quare Impedit was brought by the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of the University of Oxon, for disturbing of them to Present to the Church of D. and they counted, That A. was seized of the Mannor of D. to which the Advowson of the Church of D. was appendant, and Presented B. and dyed; the Mannor, and the Advowson descended to C. his son and heir; and that he being so seized, at the Assizes holden 29 Maii, 8 Jac. was Indicted for not repairing to Church, and that afterwards Proclamation was made according to the Statute of 3 Jac. and because he did not render his body to the Sheriff at the next Assizes holden 16 Aug. 8 Jac. he was a Recusant convict, and that the Church then became void; and for that cause, it did appertain to them to Present by the said Statute of 3 Jac. The Defendant pleaded in Bar, That C. the son and heir of the said A. before the Conviction, viz. 20 Junii, 8 Jac. Granted the next Avoydance to him, and afterwards B. the Incumbent dyed, and he Presented the now Incumbent, who was Admitted, Instituted, and Inducted, and the Incumbent pleaded the same Plea, and traversed the appendancy; upon which the Plaintiff did demur. In this case it was objected, That the Grant was good, because C. was not a Recusant convict, but only Indicted of Recusancy. But it was Resolved, 1. That by the express words of the said Act, of 3 Jac. C. was disabled; for the words are, Every person that shall be a Recusant convict, so long as he shall be a Recusant convict, should be disabled from the beginning of the said Parliament; and such person C. remained, and such retrospect Acts of Parliament have had, and had been approved and allowed of in Law. 2. It was Resolved, that the Plaintiffs in their Counts needed not to have averred, That C. remained a Recusant convict, for that when once the Presentation hac vice was vested in the University, although afterwards he conformed himself, or dyed, yet the University should Present. Cook 10. Part, 54. 58. The Case of the Chancellor, Masters, and Scholars of Oxford.

24. In a Quare Impedit of the Church of W. against the Bishop of P. and W. B. Clerk, the Plaintiff counted, That T. C. was seized of the Mannor of W. to which &c. in Fee, and Presented F. T. his Clerk, who was Instituted and Inducted; and afterwards he levied a Fine of the Mannor, to which &c. to the use of himself for life, and after to the use of the Plaintiff for life, and dyed; after which F. T. was deprived; by which Deprivation the Church became void, and remained void, and so he ought to Present, and the Defendants did disturb: The Defendants pleaded; That they gave notice of this Deprivation to the Patron, and that after the notice, the Church did remain void by six months, according to 28 days to the month; whereupon the Bishop did Collate. In this Case it was adjudged, That the Computation of the six months should be according to the Kalender, for that Tempus semestre in the Statute shall be intended half a year, and when Computation is doubtful, it is good to determine the same by him who hath right, and to give him the longest time that may be, that he may not lose his Right: And therefore it was Resolved, That the Plea in Bar by the Defendants was not good, and that the Quare Impedit by the Plaintiff was well brought. Mich. 4 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part. 62. Catesbyes Case.

25. Quare Impedit by the Lady C. of the Church of W. against the Bishop of Ely and Thompson: and counted, That Sir Tho. C. father of the Plaintiffs Husband, was seized of the Advowson in gross, and Presented M. and dyed seized, and that it descended to the Plaintiffs Husband, who granted the same to E. and others, to the use of the Plaintiff for Joynture, and after to the use of himself in Tail, and after dyed so seized, that the Church voided by the death of M. and so she ought to Present: The Bishop dyed pendant the Writ. The Defendant pleaded, That he was Persona Impersonata of the Church, Ex Presentatione Regis, and shewed that the Plaintiffs husband was seized of the said Advowson in gross, and also of the Mannor of P. holden of the King in Capite, and dyed; the Plaintiffs husband being his Son and Heir within age, and that an Office was found, whereby the Tenure and Discount were found, whereupon the King was seized, and Presented the said T. the Defendant, who was Instituted and Inducted, absque hoc, That the Plaintiffs husband granted the said Advowson to E. and others. The Plaintiff said, Quod Non habetur Tale Recordum de Inquisitione, upon which it was Demurred. It was said, That this Traverse of the Inquisition is not good, for that there never shall be a Traverse upon a Traverse, but where the Traverse in the Bar takes from the Plaintiff the Liberty of his Action, but when the Inducement is made, and concluded with a Traverse; and such was the Opinion of the Court: And it was Resolved, That for as much as two Titles are comprised in the Bar for the King; that in the Replication they ought both to be answered: and it is not sufficient to Traverse the Inquisition; but the Plaintiff ought to answer both to the Tenure and to the Descent. But in this case, because the Defendant did not rely upon them, but made them only Inducements to the Traverse of the Grant, which is the Plaintiffs Title, that Title ought to be maintained, and not to Traverse the Inducement to that Traverse; wherefore it was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 13 Car. in C. B. The Lady Chidley and Thompsons Case. Cro. 1. Part, 74, 75.

26. Quare Impedit by A. againſt the Biſhop of Ex. and W. for the Church of B. the Plaintiff conveyed to himſelf the Advowſon in Tail, and then ſhewed that he Granted the next Avoydance to J. S. and others, and that the Church voided by the death of C. the Incumbent, and that J. S. and the others Preſented J. N. who was Inſtituted, &c. and dyed, and ſo it belonged to him to Preſent: The Defendants pleaded in Bar, That before this Preſentment, the Plaintiff brought a Quare Impedit againſt this Biſhop, the Defendant of the ſame Church, and conveyed himſelf Title in Tail, and that the Church became void by the death of C. and that he Preſented J. N. who dyed, and ſo it belonged to him to Preſent: and averred, That it is the ſame Plaintiff, the ſame J. N. and the ſame Avoydance, and the ſame diſturbance; whereupon both Actions are brought, and that the firſt Action depends, not diſcontinued, and demands Judgment of this later Writ purchaſed, hanging the firſt Writ. The Plaintiff replyed, That after the bringing of the firſt Original, he ſtill ſeized in Tail, Preſented H. C. to the Biſhop, who refuſed him, which is the Diſturbance, upon which he now Declares; without that, that it is the ſame diſturbance upon which the former Actions were brought. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this Quare Impedit brought now by the Plaintiff, ought to abate; for although there muſt be a Diſturbance for to maintain the Action, yet the principal ſuit is to recover the Advowſon and Preſentation, and there was a Diſturbance laid in the former ſuit, ſo as new Diſturbance betters not the Caſe for the Plaintiff; and the Nature of a Quare Impedit, is to be final, upon Nonſuit, or Diſcontinuance; but this way were to defeat that, for the Plaintiff not bating his former ſuit, might bring infinite Quare Impedits, which were an intollerable vexation againſt Law: And therefore in this Caſe it was adjudged, That the Plaintiffs Writ ſhould abate: But it was holden, againſt ſeveral perſons, a man might have as many Quare Impedits as he would. Trin. 14 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Bedford and Wilſons Caſe. Hob. 137, 138.

27. The Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of Cambridge, brought a Quare Impedit againſt A. B. and C. and claimed the Preſentation to the Church of D. becauſe that B. being Patron of the ſaid Church at the time of J. the laſt Incumbent, was a Popiſh Recuſant Convict: All the Defendants pleaded: but A. pleaded (the reſt relying upon the ſame Title) That B. was ſeized of the Manner of H. to which &c. in Fee, and that he was a Popiſh Recuſant, but for the non-payment of 20 l. a moneth, he ſaid, That by Inquiſition it was found, That B. was ſeized of the ſaid Manner, to which &c. and that the Commiſſioners upon the ſaid Inquiſition, did ſeize two parts of the ſaid Manner into the Kings hands, and that the King by his Letters Patents under the Exchequer Seal, did grant the ſaid two parts, with the appurtenances, and all the profits thereof, to the ſaid A. for 21 years, ſi tam diu &c. and that then the Church became void, by reaſon whereof he Preſented the Defendant C. abſque hoc, that B. was Patron of the Church at the time of the Avoydance as the Plaintiffs dictated. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That upon the ſaid Plea it did appear, That the Title to the Avoydance did appear to be for the King, and that there were no words in the Kings Grant to A. to carry the Advowſon; and yet the Court would not award a Writ to the Biſhop for the King, being no Party to the Writ, except his Title was clear: Whereupon the Plaintiffs were demanded by the Court, why a Writ to the Biſhop ſhould not be adjudged for the King: The Defendants thereupon did confeſs, That ſuch Writ ought to be awarded: Whereupon Judgment was given for a Writ to the Biſhop for the King, and that he ſhould remove C. the Incumbent, and that the Biſhop ſhould admit Idoneam Perſonam ad Preſentationem Regis. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. The Chancellor, &c. of Cambridge, and Walgraves Caſe. Hob. 126. 128.

28. Note, upon the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 7. pro Clero, when a Biſhop or other Ordinary hath given a Benefice of Right devolute to him by time; and after the King Preſents, and takes ſuit againſt the Patron, who perhaps will ſuffer that the King ſhall recover without Action tryed in Deſcent of the Ordinary, or Poſſeſſor of the Benefice: In ſuch caſe, and in all other like caſes, where the Kings Right is not tryed, the Biſhop or Ordinary ſhall be rejected to counterplead the Title taken for the King, and to have his anſwer, and to ſhew and defend his right upon the matter, although he claim nothing in the Patronage; and the particular cauſe of this Law is, for the Releaſe only of the Ordinary that hath Collated by Lapſe, and of the Clerk that is ſo collated, that they may both plead to the Title againſt the King; for the King not being bound by lapſe of time, if the Common Patron ſuffered a lapſe, and the Biſhop collated lawfully; yet if the King pretending himſelf Patron brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Ordinary and the Incumbent, there was no means to ſave themſelves, ſince they could not deny the Kings Title, and maintain the Patrons in whoſe default the lapſe took place; but the Statute gives remedy in ſuch caſes by expreſs words, by counterpleading the Title of the King. See by Hob. Chief Juſtice, in the Caſe of Sir Will. Ellis, againſt the Biſhop of York and Taylor. Hob. 318, 319.

3. More, Wherein a Quare Impedit, upon a Recovery had, or Title made; a Writ to the Biſhop, either to admit the Clerk of the Plaintiff, or of the Defendant ſhall be made, where not; and where, and in what caſe the Writ to the Biſhop ſhall be awarded to the King, and where and in what caſe it ſhall be awarded to the Biſhop, and where to the Metropolitan.

1. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Archbiſhop of Cant. the Biſhop of Lincoln, and the Incumbent, they made default at the grand Diſtreſs, and upon that the Plaintiff made Title, and had a Writ to the Biſhop, and the Writ was awarded to enquire of the damage, of the Plenarty, and at whoſe Preſentation, and how long time the Church had been void, and of what value the Church was by the year; all which points were returned upon the Inquiſition: and accordingly the Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover the Preſentation; and thereupon he had a Writ to the Biſhop of Lincoln, and damages, to the value of the Church for half a year. Trin. 7. El z. Dyer, 241.

2. A. a Lay man, and within the age of 24, was Inducted into a Benefice; a ſtranger cited him out of the Delegates, to deprive him; depending which ſuit, W. brought a Quare Impedit againſt A. and the Ordinary, and had Judgment by default at the grand Diſtreſs; A. and the Biſhop brought a Writ of Deceit, for that they were not ſummoned: W. pleaded in Bar, the Deprivation of A: But it was holden no Plea, for that the Incumbency was not in queſtion; wherefore it was adjudged, That the firſt Judgment ſhould be void, and the Plaintiff reſtored to his Benefice; and to that purpoſe, he had a Writ to the Biſhop. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 352. Blomers Caſe.

3. A man Recovered in a Quare Impedit, and had a Writ to the Biſhop to Admit his Clerk, and before he was Admitted, a ſtranger brought another Quare Impedit againſt him who Recovered, and againſt the Patron and the Incumbent, and thereupon had a Non Admittas of him who Recovered. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, That notwithſtanding the Non Admittas, yet the Biſhop ought to Admit the Clerk of him who Recovered, otherwiſe the Judgment ſhould not be executed, and Lapſe might incur. See 18 E. 4. 7. per Curiam.

4. In a Quare Impedit, if the Defendant doth not appear at the Grand Diſtreſs Returned againſt him, the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ to the Biſhop without making Title, 10 H. 6. 8 ex. to the Biſhop, 3. 33 H. 6. 1. acc. and if the Defendant maketh Default after Appearance, the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ to the Biſhop: But if they have day by continuance, and then the Defendant maketh default, a Petit Cape only ſhall iſſue forth, 2 H. 4. But ſee 24 E. 3. upon Default of the Defendant, the Plaintiff ſhall have a Writ to the Biſhop, and a Writ to enquire of the Damages.

5. Note, It is holden by Gaſcoign in 7 H. 4. 35. That a man ſhall never have a Writ to the Biſhop, where the Preſentee is in, and his right continues; but Holts there holds the contrary; For if a Clerk be Inſtituted to a Church, and J. pretending a Right to the ſame Church, doth bring a Quare Impedit, and it is found for the Defendant, that he hath right, yet his Preſentee ſhall have a Writ to the Biſhop, and he ſhall have a general Judgment, and recover his damage for the Diſturbance. 7 H. 4. 35. acc.

6. The Biſhop of Coventry &c. Patron of two Prebends, granted the next Avoydance, Alterius eorum primo vacant, the Dean and Chapter confirmed it; the Biſhop dyed, one Prebend became void, the Succeſſor Preſented; The Grantee brought a Quare Impedit within the ſix moneths, and two years after the Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff, and the Plaintiff had Judgment, and had his Election, to have a Writ to the Biſhop, or unto the Metropolitan to remove the Clerk. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer 194.

7. In a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of S. and the Incumbent, a Verdict paſſed for the Plaintiff, and thereupon Judgment was given before them, and a Writ was awarded to the Metropolitan, and a Scire facias to the Sheriff for damages: The Defendant brought a Writ of Error, and had a [illegible] to the Metropolitan. Afterwards the Plaintiff brought a Scire facias to have execution, becauſe the Defendant did not aſſigne Errors: Afterwards the Defendant aſſigned Errors; one was, becauſe damages were adjudged for half a yeer, whereas it appeared the Preſentation was not deraigned within ſix moneths: Notwithſtanding which, the Judgment was affirmed, and a Writ of Execution awarded to the Guardian of the Spiritualties, Sede Vacante of the Metropolitan. Mich. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77.

8. In a Quare Impedit the Plaintiff Recovered, and had a Writ to Admit his Clerk, Directed Decano & Capitulo, Guardians of the Spiritualties, Sede vacante Epiſcopi, which was not returnable; and before the Writ was executed, a Biſhop was created; created: It was a doubt whether the authority of the Guardians of the Spiritualties to execute the Writ did ceaſe: But it was at laſt the Opinion of the Court, That becauſe that nothing was done in the ſaid Writ, the Plaintiff might have a new Writ to the new Biſhop, if he pleaſed. Paſch. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 350.

9. A Patronage was purchaſed from the Queen in Fee, the Church became void by taking of a ſecond Benefice, the Incumbent not being qualified, and the ſame remained void two years; the Queen Vice Coronæ Preſented the Lapſe, and her Clerk dyed Incumbent; the Purchaſor Preſented within the ſix moneths, alſo the Queen Preſented generally, and her Clerk was Inducted: The Purchaſor brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Queen and the Ordinary, who pleaded the Queens Title, ut ſupra, upon which there was a Demurrer, and pendente lite, the Incumbent reſigned, and the Queen Preſented again, and her Clerk was Inſtituted and Inducted; And afterwards Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and he had a Writ to the Biſhop, commanding him to remove the Clerk; and if the laſt Preſentee of the Queens being in by ſix moneths, might be removed, was the Queſtion. It was Objected, That the Clerk could not be removed, becauſe he was not Party to the Writ; but the Court denyed that for Law, but that the Incumbent might be removed, although there were twenty Incumbents who came in pendente Lite. Paſch. 21 Eliz. Dyer, 364.

10. A Quare Impedit is depending betwixt two ſtrangers, If it appear in debate of the Cauſe, either by Pleading, or Confeſſion of the Parties to the Court, that neither of them hath right, but that the Preſentation doth belong to the King, the Court may, nay they muſt award a Writ for the King to the Biſhop, and that without Prayer on the part of the King; for the Court and Judges are of the Kings Counſel: But this muſt be where the King's Title appears ſo clear, in allegatis & probatis to the Court, as it is certain and infallible both againſt Plaintiff and Defendant. See Hob. 163. in the Caſe of Colt, and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield: and ſee before, Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Rot. 649. The Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of Cambridge, and Walgraves Caſe, adjudged acc.

11. Note, It was Reſolved per Curiam, That without making Title to a Perſonage, a man may ſhew as Amicus Curiæ, falſe Latine, or other matter appearing within the Writ; for that is no Pleading, but remembring the Court of that which they ſhould take knowledge of Ex Officio; and one Plea, which in effect is the general Iſſue in a Quare Impedit; viz. Ne diſturbavit per, every Defendant may plead, without more, becauſe it doth defend but the wrong wherewith he ſtands charged, and leaſe the Plaintiffs Title not controverted, but in effect confeſſed; who may therefore upon that Plea, preſently pray a Writ to the Biſhop, or maintain the diſturbance for damages: And in a Quare Impedit, both Plaintiff and Defendant are Actors the one againſt the other, and therefore the Defendant may have a Writ to the Biſhop as well as the Plaintiff; but this he cannot have without Title appearing to the Court: and therefore if the Defendant never appeareth, yet the Plaintiff muſt make a Title for forms ſake, and ſo muſt the Defendant if the Plaintiff be Nonſuit. Hobart 163. acc.

12. In the Caſe of a Quare Impedit, between Winſcomb and Pulleſton, It was Reſolved, That Judgment ſhould be given for the King; and thereupon it was prayed, That a Writ might be awarded to the Biſhop for the King; againſt which it was Objected, That it was repugnant to the Record, in that Pulleſton the Defendant pleaded himſelf Parſon, no Perſonne; and in the end of his Plea ſaid expreſly, That the King Preſented him, and that he was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted at the Kings Preſentation, before the Writ brought, ſo that by the Record it appears, That the King hath the effect of that for which the Writ is required: Yet becauſe it was affirmed by the Councel of Pulleſton himſelf, That the Church was not full, but that his Plea in that part was untrue, the Court entred into conſideration of the Cauſe; But at laſt it was agreed by the Juſtices, That the Writ ſhould be awarded to the Biſhop for the King, either ex Officio, as being a part of the Kings Judgment, and no way miſchievous, or elſe upon a ſurmiſe of the King. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Winchcomb and Pulleſtones Caſe. Hob. 193, 194.

13. Error brought to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. in a Quare Impedit; The Writ was brought there againſt the Archbiſhop, the Biſhop, and three other Defendants: The Archbiſhop pleaded, That he claimed nothing but as Metropolitan; The Biſhop pleaded, That he claimed nothing but as Ordinary; the three Diſturbers made Title: Judgment there was given for the Plaintiff. Error brought, and one Error amongſt other was, becauſe the Plaintiff here had Judgment, and Breve Metropolitano granted to him, where it ought to have been Breve Epiſcopo. It was urged the difference to be where the Archbiſhop, and Biſhop be Defendants, and claim nothing but as Ordinary, there it ought to be Epiſcopo, but ſi Epiſcopus eſt pars, there it ſhall be Brevi Metropolitano. See Cook, 6. Part, 48. in Roſwels Caſe. It was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, That if the Metropolitan be no party, and the Ordinary is a party, he may have his Writ Metropolitano, and the joyning them both in

In the Quare Impedit, ſhall not at all hurt the matter; And therefore it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That in the Principal Caſe, the Plaintiff had his Election to have the Writ to the one or to the other; and therefore that the Writ awarded Metropolitano, was good; and the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 365. Grange and Dennys Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 174, 175, 176.

4. More, Where, and what Damages ſhall be recovered on a Quare Impedit, and where, and what not. And if the King ſhall recover damages, if not; and where, where not.

3. ERror of a Judgment in a Quare Impedit: the Judgment being for the Plaintiff, and the value of the Rent being found to be 80 l. per ann. and a Writ of Error being brought, and the Judgment affirmed, it having depended a year and more, the Court was moved, That according to the Statute of 3 H. 7. cap. 10. which appoints Damages and Coſts to be allowed where Writs of Error be brought to delay Executions; The Court awarded, That the Defendant in the Writ of Error, ſhould have Damages for a year, during which time, the Writ of Error was depending, according to the value of the Church found by the Verdict; ſo they awarded him 8 l. beſides Coſts, Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 103. See, Where in a Quare Impedit, the value of the Church was found to be 100 l. per ann. and a Writ of Error was brought, in which the Judgment was affirmed; yet becauſe the Defendant in the Writ of Error had obtained a Writ to the Biſhop, and his Clerk was Admitted and Inſtituted, and had alſo gotten the Poſſeſſion, until he was removed by a Writ of Reſtitution, the Court mitigated the Damages, and would give but 60 l. for the damages, and 20 l. for coſts. Mic. 7 Car. in B. R. The Earl of Pembrock and Eccles Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 125.

2. Error brought of a Judgment in the Grand Seſſions in the County of P. in Wales, in an Aſſize of Darein Preſentment: The Principal Error inſiſted upon was, That the Verdict was not good, and the Jury had not well enquired, becauſe they did not finde when the Church became void, but ſaid in their Preſentment, Quod tempus ſemeſtre modo tranſivit, which might be long before the Writ brought. But the Opinion of the Court was, that the Verdict was good, and it is not neceſſary to finde when the Church became void; but modo tranſivit, ſhall be intended, that the ſix moneths paſſed pendant the Writ, which is only enquirable in reſpect of the damages; and when here the value of the Church is enquired of, and found of the value of 80 l. and that the Defendant is found to come in ex Preſentatione of one other of the Defendants, ſo that the Patron and the Incumbent are not named in the Writ, although, that the Defendant may be in by ſix moneths by the ſame Patron which was named before in the Writ brought, he ought to be removed; And the Judgment is for 40 l. which is for the moyty of the value, and therefore the Enquire and the Judgment are good. The Judgement was affirmed. H.11. 8 Car. in B. R. Cort and the Biſhop of S. Davids Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 249. 253.

3. Note, The Writ of Quare Impedit, is a mixt Action, in which Summons and Severance doth lye; and although inclusivè the Preſentment may be recovered thereby, yet damages therein are principally reſpected; and therefore, If Husband and Wife be ſeized of an Advowſon in the right of his Wife, if the Church become void, and the Husband be diſturbed in his Preſentation, he may have a Quare Impedit in his own name, without naming the Wife in the Writ: for although the Preſentment be recovered thereby, yet for the diſturbance, which is a Perſonal wrong, damages are to be recovered, which ſhall go the Husband; and therefore if the Husband do bring a Quare Impedit upon ſuch a diſturbance made to him in his Preſentment to the Avoydance; a Releaſe of all Actions perſonally by the Husband, is a good Bar. See 22 H. 6. 27. 50 E. 3. 13. 28 H. 6. 9. acc.

4. Note, In a Writ of Darein Preſentment, or Quare Impedit, Damages ſhall be recovered, Si tempus ſemeſtre tranſierit per impedimentum alicujus; Ita quod Epiſcopus Eccleſiam confœrat, & verus Patronus ea vice Preſentationem ſuam amittat, adjacentur Damna ad valorem Eccleſiæ de duobus annis; Et, ſi tempus ſemeſtre non tranſierit, ſed diſtrationatur Preſentatio infra Tempus prædictum & tunc adjacentur damna ad valorem Medietatis Eccleſiæ per unum annum: And although it is ſaid that the King ſhall Count to his damages in a Quare Impedit, yet the King ſhall not recover damages, becauſe he is not within the clauſe of the Statute of Weſtm. 2. which giveth the damages. Cook 6. Part, 51. in Boſwell's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 59. Specots Caſe.

5. Husband and Wife brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of E. and Declared, That A. was ſeized of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon was appendant, and demiſed it to the Wife for life, and that they Preſented J. S. who dyed, and ſo it dig did belong to them to Present: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff Presented one, who was Scismaticus inveteratus, whereof he gave notice to the Plaintiff; whereupon the Court gave Judgment, viz. Ideo Consideratum est, That the said Husband and Wife, Recup reat versus prædict. Episcopum suam Presentationem ad Ecclesiam prædict. & habeant Brev. Episcopo Cant. totius Angliæ Primat. loci illius Ordinario, eo quod prædict. Episcopus est pars, & idem Episcopus in misericordia. After a Writ of Enquiry of the value of the Church was awarded, and upon that Judgment was entred again, viz. That the Plaintiff should have a Writ to the Bishop, ut supra; & quod recuperet versus prædict. Episcopum damna, & prædict. Episcop. in Curiam. Upon this Judgment, Error was brought: The Error assigned was, That the Bishop was twice amerced, which he ought not to be by Law. It was answered, and Resolved, That he was but once amerced; for the Judgment in the Kings Bench was but a recital of the first, and so to give Judgment of all the damages, and not a new Judgment. But if it were admitted that the later Judgment were erroneous, yet the first Judgment is good, and perfect in it self, and shall not be impeached by an Error in the second Judgment; for the first Judgment was the Judgment which is in a Quare Impedit at the Common Law: for before the Statute of Westm. 2. the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit, did not recover damages, and the Plaintiff after the Statute, may take the Judgment at the Common Law, and leave the benefit of the Statute, if he will; for which cause the Court gave Judgment, that the Judgment should be affirmed. See Cook 5. Part, 59. Specots Case. Hill. 32 Eliz. in B. R.

5. More, Quare Impedit.

1. NOte, If a Quare Impedit be brought against three, one of them may appear before his Companion, and Process shall be continued till Distress against the rest, and the Plaintiff in the mean time may count against him that appears in the Simul cum: And if he who appears, pleads non Impedivit, the Writ may presently be awarded to the Bishop, but there shall be a Cessat executio, until the Plea between the Plaintiff and the other Defendants be determined: And if the Bishop appeareth, and claimeth nothing but his Ordinary, the Writ ad admittendum Clericum shall be awarded to the same Bishop upon the Judgment: But if the Bishop make Title and Claim to Present, then the Writ ad admittendum Clericum, shall be awarded to the Metropolitan of the Province: The death of one of the Plaintiffs doth not abate the Writ. If the Plaintiff recover in a Quare Impedit, he shall recover damages; and if a man do recover in a Quare Impedit, and dyeth, the Heir shall not sue forth Execution, because it is not a real Action. And Note, That the Plaintiff in his Count is to make mention of the last Incumbent, otherwise his Writ shall abate. See Brownlow 1. Part, 158.

2. Note further these Rules concerning Quare Impedit. 1. That the Husband alone, but in the Right of his Wife, may without his Wife, bring a Quare Impedit, but not an Assize of Darein Presentment, for that he shall recover nothing but his Presentation and damages, and if the Wife dyeth pendant the Writ, the Writ shall not abate. 2. That if a Writ of Quare Impedit be brought, and the Writ is, Quod permittat Nominate ad Ecclesiam, the Writ shall abate, for that there is no such Writ in the Register, but the Writ must be Presentare ad Ecclesiam. 14 H. 4. 11. and 1 H. 5. 2. 3. That a Quare Impedit for an Advowson in Wales, must be brought in the next English County. 4. In this Action of Quare Impedit, Judgment shall be given in this Action upon the Issue tryed, at the Assizes; and in this Action the Jury are to enquire of the three points, viz. of the Plenarty, Value of the Church, and of the last Presentation. 5. In this Action of Quare Impedit, Admission, Institution, Ability, Plenarty, shall be tryed by the Certificate of the Ordinary; but whether the Church be void by Resignation, or whether the Patron hath Presented his Clerk, or not, shall be tryed by Jury at the Common Law. 6. In a Quare Impedit, Protection doth not ly for the Defendants, because of the danger of the Lapse; Nor shall Consusans of Pleas be granted in a Quare Impedit, because the Inferiour Court cannot Write to the Bishop to admit the Clerk; nor shall a man have Aid in a Quare Impedit for the danger of the Lapse. 7. In the Count in a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff must lay a Presentation from him from whom he deriveth his Title, or under some from whom he claimeth, otherwise it is not good. See for these Rules, Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 35. H. 6. 38. 13 E. 3. Tit. Protection. 15 E. 3. Tit. Consusans. 9. H. 7. 15. 5 H. 7. 96. Brev. Tit. Aide, 120. and Brownlow, 1 Part, 158.

3. Note, According to the last Rule above, That a man (Regularly) shall not have a Quare Impedit, unless he may alledge a Presentment in himself, or in one of his Ancestors, or in some other by whom he claims the Advowson, and that in his Count; yet the same hath some Exceptions, for if at this day a man by the Kings Licence make a Church Parochial, which shall be Presentable, &c. if he be disturbed to Present, he shall have no other other Writ for the Recovery thereof then a Quare Impedit, and that without alledging Preſentment in any perſon for that Writ being the moſt uſual Writ, ſhall not be altered for any ſuch ſpecial Caſe: But if a man recover an Advowſon by a Writ of Right againſt another, where the Church is void, he ſhall Preſent; and if he be diſturbed, he ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and alledge a Preſentment in him againſt whom he recovered, without alledging any other Preſentment. See Fitzh. 33. acc.

4. Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of St. Aſaph, who juſtified for Lapſe: The Plaintiff replyed, That before the ſix moneths expired, he Preſented to the Biſhop one B. a Maſter of Arts, and a Preacher allowed, &c. The Defendant by Rejoynder ſaid, That the Church by which the Preſentment in the Action is brought, is a Church with Cure of ſouls, and that the Pariſhioners there are Homines Wallici Wallicam loquentes Linguam, & non aliam, for which cauſe he refuſed him, and gave Notice to the Plaintiff of ſuch Refuſal, and of the cauſe of it; upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That the Rejoynder was not good, for that the Defendant had departed from his Bar; for in the Bar, he entitles himſelf by reaſon of Lapſe; and in the Rejoynder he confeſſeth the Preſentment of the Plaintiff, and pleads his Refuſal of his Clerk, and the cauſe of it. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was a Departure: But Judgment was given for the Plaintiff upon another point in the Caſe. See Librum. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Albany and Biſhop of Aſaphs Caſe. Leon. 31.

5. Quare Impedit by the Queen againſt the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, the Biſhop of Chicheſter, and the Incumbent; and Counted, That A. was ſeized of the Advowſon, and was Outlawed in an Action perſonal, at the ſuit of J. S. The Patron pleaded in Plea, and the Incumbent the ſame Plea by himſelf in Bar. The Queen demurred in Law, in this manner, viz. Quod ſeperalia placita per dictos, &c. placitus &c. Dicta Domina Regina neceſſe non habet, nec tenetur per Legem terræ reſpondere. It was the clear Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Demurrer ought to have been ſeveral, upon the Plea of the Patron upon it ſelf, and upon the Plea of the Incumbent by it ſelf. Hill. 3 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen and Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe. Leon. 139.

6. A. B. and C. Executors of J. S. Brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of Coventry, &c. and M. the Incumbent, Quod permittat Preſentare ad Archidiaconatum of D. which was void, Et ad Preſentationem Teſtatoris in vita ſua, & nunc in retardationem Executionis Teſtamenti, did belong to the Executors. It was ſaid, That a Quare Impedit did not lye of an Archdeaconry; but that was Over-ruled by the Court: But the Court was of Opinion, That in this Caſe the Writ ſhould abate, for that the diſturbance to the Teſtator cannot be ſuppoſed new matter, in retardationem Executionis Teſtamenti. But the Juſtices agreed, That the Executors might have a ſpecial Writ upon their Caſe for their ſaid Diſturbance. Trin. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Smalwood, anp the Biſhop of Coventry, &c. Caſe. Leon. 205.

7. Quare Impedit, The Plaintiff Counted, That A. was ſeized of the Advowſon, and granted the next Avoydance to the Plaintiff, and B. and that the Church became void; and during the Avoydance, B. releaſed to the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That the Releaſe being after the Church became void, was of no effect, but utterly void; and that in the Principal Caſe, the Releaſe being void, B. ought to have joyned with the Plaintiff in the Action. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Brookbyes and Wickhams Caſe. Leon 167.

8. In a Quare Impedit by the Queen, the Caſe was, A. being qualified, took two Benefices, above the value of 8 l. and after took a third Benefice, above the ſaid value, whereby the firſt became void, and remained void for two years: The Patron did Preſent A. who being Inſtituted and Inducted, refuſed to pay to the Queen her Tenths, by which by the Statute of 26 H. 8. the Church was ipſo facto void, and the matter was certified into the Exchequer: The Biſhop being Patron in the Right of his Biſhoprick, did Preſent the Defendant; againſt whom the Queen brought the Quare Impedit. It was adjudged for the Queen, That the Quare Impedit did lye; for the Recuſancy to pay the Tenths was his own act, and is a Reſignation; and this ſhall not hinder the Queen of the Lapſe. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Rott. 2299. The Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe. Owen, 5.

9. In a Quare Impedit, the Iſſue was, If the Advowſon was Appendant to the Mannor of D. in groſs; The Jury found that it was Appendant, and further found, That the Queen had Right and Title to Preſent, for that ſhe had Preſented at the two laſt Avoydances. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if it appeareth upon the Pleading, that the King hath Title to Preſent; The Court ſhall award a Writ to the Biſhop for the King: But here in this Caſe, there doth not appear any Title for the Queen upon the Pleading, but only upon the Verdict, ſo as the one party or the other may anſwer it; And becauſe in this Caſe the Jury have found for the Plaintiff, the Title found for the Queen ſhall not be reſpected, and it was ſurpluſage in the Jury to finde it, for it was out of their Iſſue, and their charge. Trin. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Norwood and Dennis Caſe. Leon. 323.

10. In a Quare Impedit, the Iſſue was, If A. by Covin between him, and B. and C. did R ſigne into the hands of the Biſhop: In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That if the King hath Title of Lapſe, and a Reſignation be made by fraud, and one Admitted, this ſhall not take away the Kings Title; for if the Kings Title appear upon Record, then ſhall go out a Writ to the Biſhop for the King; but otherwiſe it is upon matter of Evidence, The King ſhall loſe his Preſentation, as well by Reſignation, as by death, where he hath Title to Preſent by Lapſe, and doth not; except the Reſignation be by fraud. Trin. 6. Jac. in C. B. and the Biſhop of Chicheſters Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 161.

11. In a Quare Impedit, The Plaintiff Counted, That R. B. was ſeized of the Parſonage of Horley, to which the Advowſon of the Vicarage was belonging; and that the Vicarage became void by the death of A. and that it was in the Kings hand, by reaſon of the Wardſhip of the ſon of R. B. who Preſented J. S. and then conveyes the Parſonage to J. D. in Fee; who 1 Jan. 1601. granted to F. the next Avoydance of the Vicarage, who granted it to the Plaintiff, and that J. S. dyed, and ſo he ought to Preſent: The Defendant as Parſon impariſonee of the Vicarage, ſaid, That King Hen. the 8. was ſeized of the ſaid Parſonage of Horley, to which the ſaid Advowſon of the Vicarage, &c. and Deviſed a Deſcent of it from Hen. 8. to the Queen, who Preſented J. S. and that by his death, King James Preſented him, who was Inſtituted and Inducted; and Traverſed, That R. R. was ſeized of the Rectory, ad quam &c. It was found by Verdict, That J. D. and his Wife were ſeized to them, and the Heirs of the Husband of the Rectory of Horſham, and 10 Maii 31 H. 8. did give the ſame Rectory to King Henry the 8. and to his Succeſſors; and that the ſaid King being ſeized of the Rectory of Horley, to which &c. by his Letters Patents 31. of his Reign, in Conſideration of the ſaid Rectory of Horſham, by the ſaid J. D. and his Wife, Granted to the ſaid King and his Succeſſors, gave to the ſaid J. D. and his Wife, the ſaid Rectory of Horley: and that 26 July, 31 H. 8. and not before, J. D. and his Wife acknowledged the ſaid Deed, which was afterwards duly Enrolled: The Queſtion was, That although the Deed to the King was not Enrolled, nor acknowledged at the time of the Grant, made by the King. If the Inrollment of it afterwards ſhould make it a good Grant, ab initio. It was the better Opinion of the Court, That although the Grant was not compleat, nor perfected, for want of Inrolment at the time of the Grant of the Rectory of Horſham, yet when the Inrolment came, it ſhould take effect neither from the Inrolment of it, nor by it, but by the firſt act between the parties; and that it ſhould binde to all purpoſes, ab initio: And ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, who came in under the Kings Title, Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Nevdl r, and the Biſhop of Wintons Caſe. Hob. 222. Brownlow, 1. Part, 163. the ſame Caſe.

12. A. brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of London for the Church of B. and claimed by Grant of the next Avoydance, made to him by J. G. The Defendant pleaded an Uſurpation by Queen Mary upon a Deprivation, and Plenarty of her Clerk by ſix moneths: The Plaintiff pleaded a Recovery by a Quare Impedit, upon a Non ſum Informatus by the Patron, againſt the Queen. It was holden in this Caſe, That if the King upon Uſurpation doth Preſent, and his Clerk be in by ſix moneths, If the Patron brings a Quare Impedit againſt the Kings Clerk, and recover by Non ſum Informatus, this ſhall remit the Patron to his Ancient Right; but otherwiſe it is, If the King do Preſent by Title in the Caſe of Deprivation, there the Patron muſt have ſix moneths after Notice. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 12 Jac. in C. B. Auſten and the Biſhop of Londons Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 165. See Bulſtr. 3. Part, 38, 39, 40. the ſame Caſe.

13. Error brought by the King, of a Judgment given in a Quare Impedit, in the Common Pleas againſt the King: Where the Queſtion only was, If a double Uſurpation upon the King, doth ſo put him out of Poſſeſſion, that he ſhall be forced to his Writ of Right: And it was adjudged in C. B. againſt the Opinion of Anderſon Chief Juſtice, That he was put to his Writ of Right. Now upon this Writ of Error brought, it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of the Kings Bench, That the Judgment given in the Common Pleas, ſhould be reverſed: And the reaſon of their Judgment was, Becauſe the Right of Patronage, and the Advowſon it ſelf being an Inheritance in the Crown upon Record, the Law will ſo protect it, that no force or wrong done by a ſubject, ſhall deveſt it out of the King; for there is a Record to entitle him, but there is no matter of Record againſt him: For a Preſentation by a ſubject, is but matter in fait, the which although it be mixed with that Judicial Act of the Biſhop, with Inſtitution, yet it ſhall not prejudice the King, being only grounded upon the wrong of a Subject. Trin. 4 Jac. in B. R. The King and Matthewes Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 166. See Cro. 2. Part, 53. The King and Biſhop of Wintons and Champions Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 53.

14. Quare Impedit by A. B. and C. againſt the Biſhop of P. and Yates. The Plaintiffs Count That

That W. W. was ſeized in Fee of the Advowſon of the Church as in groſs, and being void, Preſented E. B. who was Inſtituted in the time of Queen Eliz. and that, he ſo ſeized, the ſame deſcended to R. W. his ſon and heir, who dyed ſeized without Iſſue, and the Advowſon deſcended to his three ſiſters, E. F. and M: F. took to husband E. Dryden, who dyed ſeized of that part of the Advowſon pro Indiviſo, with the other two Siſters, which deſcended to Sir John Dryden his ſon (and ſo conveyes the deſcent to the other Siſters) and that by the death of the ſaid E. B. the laſt Incumbent, it belonged to them to Preſent; The Biſhop claimed nothing but as Ordinary: P. pleaded, That he was Parſon Impariſonee of the Preſentment of the King; and that before W. W. had any thing in the Advowſon, Queen Eliz. was ſeized in Fee of the ſaid Advowſon, Jure Coronæ, in groſs; and Preſented one J. E. who was Inſtituted and Inducted: That the Queen dyed, and the Advowſon came to King James, who Preſented the Defendant. The Plaintiff replyed, That the Church being void by the death of E. B. they Preſented, and Traverſed, That J. E. was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted. It was found for the Plaintiffs, and Judgment given: Whereupon Error was brought by Y. and the Error aſſigned was, Becauſe the Plaintiffs Traverſe the Admiſſion, Inſtitution, and Induction of J. E. upon the Preſentation of the Queen, whereas they ought to have Traverſed the ſeizin of the Queen, and not the Admiſſion, &c. But it was adjudged, That the Traverſe was good, and well taken, and that the ſeizin of the Queen ought not to have been Traverſed; and the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Sir John Dryden, and others, and the Biſhop of Peterborough and Yates Caſe. Cro: 1. Part, 423.

15. Note, It was holden by the whole Court, but Walmeſley, Where the Grant of an Advowſon was pleaded, after the Statute of 27 H. 8. to one to the uſe of an other in Tail, That Ceſtuy que uſe needs not ſhew this Deed of Grant; becauſe the Deed belongs to the Grantee, and not to him; but yet he ought to expreſs that it was granted by Deed. See Poph. 277. Eſcotts Caſe. Hill. 6 Jac. in B. R. The Earl of Huntington, and Sir Anthony Mildmays Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 217.

16. In a Quare Impedit for a Diſturbance to the Church of F. in the County of D. the Plaintiff entituled himſelf by Grant of the next Avoydance; and ſhewed, That A. the Incumbent was created Biſhop of O. in Ireland, and that afterwards the King Granted to the ſaid Biſhop to retein the ſaid Church for ſix years, in Commendam; the Incumbent dyed, whereby the Church became void, and thereupon the Plaintiff Preſented. In this Caſe it was agreed by the whole Court, 1. That the Plaintiff was to be barred, for that he hath not in his Declaration ſufficiently entituled himſelf. 2. It was holden, That when the Incumbent was created Biſhop, and the King Preſents, or grants that he ſhall hold it in Commendam (which is Quaſi a Preſentation); If the Grantee of the next Avoydance doth not then Preſent, he hath loſt his Preſentation; for he ought to have the next Avoydance, and he cannot have any other. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 22 Jac. in C. B. Woodley and the Biſhop of Exeter, and Manwarings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 691.

17. In a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff Counted, That the Defendant being Parſon of the Church in Queſtion, was Preſented to another Benefice, and Inducted 15 Aprilis, by which the other Church became void: The Defendant ſaid, That he was Qualified at ſuch a day, which was after the 15. day of April, without that, that he was Inducted the 15 of April. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was no good Traverſe; for he ought to have ſaid generally, without that, That he was Inducted before the day at which he is alledged to be Qualified; for if a man Declares of a Treſpaſs done 1 Aprilis, and the Defendant pleads a Releaſe 1 Feb. he ought to ſay without that, That the Treſpaſs was made after the Releaſe: by Periam Juſtice. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt.

18. Note, In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, A man recovered in a Quare Impedit, and had a Writ to the Biſhop to Admit his Clerk, and he did Admit and Inſtitute his Clerk; but he could not procure Induction; It was holden in that Caſe, That he had no remedy to have Induction, but by Suit in the Spiritual Court; and if a Prohibition be granted to ſtop the Suit there, a Conſultation ſhall be awarded; for when the Biſhop hath Admitted the Clerk, and Inſtituted him, he hath done all that the Common Law requires him to do; and for the Induction, the ſame is to be by the Archdeacon, for which he hath no remedy but in the Spiritual Court. Paſch. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt, acc.

18. An Aſſize of Darrein Preſentment was brought againſt the Patron, Ordinary, and Incumbent, for the Church of G. in the County of N. the Jury appeared at the Bar; the Ordinary made default, the other Defendants pleaded an abatement of the Writ; That the ſame Plaintiff had before brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Defendants for the ſame Church; which Writ was returned, and that they did appear to defend it. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Plea in abatement of the Writ was good; for a Quare Impedit is a Writ of a higher nature then a Darrein Preſentment; for it is for the right, and for the Poſſeſſion: and if he againſt whom an Aſſize of Darrein Presentment is brought, brings a Quare Impedit, the Assize o Darrein Presentment shall abate, Register, 30. acc. See 10 E. 3. Statham. Darrein Presentment. 3. If a man have a Quare Impedit, and also an Assize of Darrein Presentment of one and the same Advowson, the Darrein Presentment shall abate. The whole Court agreed, The Plea was good in abatement of the Writ, and awarded that the Assize should abate. Mich. 15 Jac. in C.B. Andrews and Hackers Case. Hutton 3.

19. Quare Impedit brought by George Sherley Baronet, against Underhill and Barsey, for Presenting to the Vicarage of the Church of Nether-Elington, and Counted of a Nomination as Appendant to the Church of Elington. It was found for the Plaintiff at the Assizes o. Warwick, and Judgment there for him, and a Writ to the Bishop awarded. Error was brought, and it was, to remove the Record which was between George Sherley Knight and Baronet; and the truth was, That Sir George is not, nor was named Knight, in all the Record. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the word Knight is part of the name, and so no Record was removed. Another error was assigned, that the Judgment was, Quod recuperet Presentationem suam ad Ecclesiam predict. whereas it ought to be, Quod recuperet Presentationem ad Vicariam Eccles. & valorem Vicaria Eccles. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was but the misprision of the Clerk, and therefore Ruled it to be amended. Mich. 18 Jac. in C. B. Sherley and Underhill's Case. Hutton 41.

20. In a Quare Impedit, the Case was this: A. and B. were Patrons of an Advowson, to which they used to Present by Turns; A. Presented according to his Turn, and his Clerk dyed; B. Presented in his Turn also, and his Clerk was Deprived; After which A. granted his Advowson to L. the Plaintiff in Fee, and then the Bishop without any Notice, Collates J. S. to the Church, who dyed: The Question was, If L. the Patron should Present, or B. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff L. because that notwithstanding the Church was void by deprivation, yet the Patron might transpose his Advowson over. Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. Leek, and the Bishop of Coventry's Case. Owen, 131.

21. The Case was, The King was seized of a Mannor, to which an Advowson was Appendant in Fee, the Church voided, and a Stranger Presented his Clerk, who was in by six monethis: The King granted the Mannor, with all Advowsons to it, to B. the Incumbent dyed: It was holden by the Justices, That in that Case, the Grantee might Present, for the Advowson was always appendant, and the Inheritance thereof did pass unto the Grantee, and was not made disappendant by the usurpation, as it would have been in the Case of a Common person, for the King cannot be put out of possession: But in that Case it was holden, That the Patentee could not have a Quare Impedit of the first Disturbance, for that the Presentment did not pass to him, being a thing in Action, not being mentioned in his Grant; And therefore it was holden, If the Patentee bringeth a Quare Impedit of the second Avoydance, he must make his Presentment by the Presentment of the King, not making mention of the usurpation. Mich. 14 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 3. Part, 28.

22. A man brought a Quare Impedit, and after Judgment, had a Writ to the Bishop of N. and an Alias upon that; and at the Return of the Alias, the Bishop Returned, That after the awarding of the first Writ, and before the Return of the Alias, the Queen had Presented the same Defendant by her Letters Patents, who is Admitted, Instituted, and Inducted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Bishop, as well for his contempt in not Returning the first Writ, as for his ill Return made upon the Alias, that he should be amerced 10 l. and so he was amerced 30 l. and a new Writ awarded to the Bishop, to admit the Clerk of the Plaintiff. Hill. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Moore, and the Bishop of Norwiches Case. Leon. 3. Part, 136. Goldes. 3. & 34. the same Case.

25. The Queen brought a Quare Impedit against the Bishop of London, and Scot; the Case was this: A. seized of an Advowson in gross, holden of the Queen in chief, alliened the same by Fine, without Licence of the Queen, the Church became void, the Conusee Presented: The Queen without Office found, brought a Quare Impedit: It was agreed by the whole Court in this Case, That if the allienation had been by Deed only, that the Queen without Office found, should not have the Presentment; for upon such an allienation, by matter in fait, no Scire facias shall Issue, without Office found of the allienation: But upon an Allienation without Licence by matter of Record, a Scire facias lyeth before Office. It was then moved, If the Queen being entituled to Present, ut supra; If a Pardon to the Conusee of all Allienations without Licences, and Intrusions; If the Estate of the Incumbent were thereby confirmed: But the Court did not Resolve the point. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. The Queen, and the Bishop of London, and Scots Case. Leon, 3. Part, 195.

24. The Queen recovered in a Quare Impedit, against the Bishop of Glocester, and one S. in which Quare Impedit, the Bishop pleaded, quod ipse nihil habet, nec habere clamat in Ecclesia predict. nec in advocatione ejusdem, nisi Admissionem, Institutionem, &c. And afterwards the Bishop and the Incumbent brought a Writ of Error; and if the Writ of Error brought by the Biſhop and the Incumbent joyntly, was well brought, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid by ſome, That the Biſhop had no cauſe to bring a Writ of Error, for that he had diſclaimed in the Church, and the Patronage of it; Alſo the Writ in the cloſe of it was, Ad grave damnum Epiſcopi, whereas the biſhop could not be grieved by the Judgment, becauſe he had nothing in the Church. It was the Opinion of Wray Chief Juſtice, That the Biſhop ſhould joyn for Conformity of Law, and for privity of Record, and that the Biſhops plea is not ſo ſtrong as a Diſclaimer; for in caſe of Diſclaimer, the Judgment is, That the party ſhall take nothing by the Writ: But in caſe of the Biſhop here, the Judgment is, Quod Querens recuperet poſſeſſionem ſuam verſus dictum Epiſcopum ad Eccleſiam prædictam: Afterwards the Writ of Error was awarded good. Trin. 29 Eliz. in B. R. The Queen and the Biſhop of Glouceſters Caſe. Leon, 3. Part 198.

the

25. Note by Cook Chief Juſtice, That it hath been adjudged, That if a Church be void, and a Stranger without the privity of the after Incumbent, procures the Patron to Preſent, and gives unto him any ſum of money for his Preſentation, although that the after-Incumbent is not ſubject to that Symoniacal Contract, yet in as much as he comes in by a Symoniacal Preſentation, the Church is void, and it doth belong to the King to Preſent: So it is where the Incumbent makes a Symoniacal Contract with the Friend or Wife of the Patron, and the Patron knows not thereof, and the Incumbent is Preſented thereto by means of him who made the Symoniacal Contract, he is within the Statute of 31 Eliz. and the King may Preſent: And it was ſaid, That the Incumbent who is once Preſented, Admitted, and Inſtituted by a Symoniacal Contract, is a perſon diſabled to enjoy that Benefice, although he obtains a Preſentation de novo from the King; for that the Statute hath diſabled him to have it during his life. Mich. 13 Jac. The King, and Cole and Sayes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 385. Hob. 90. acc.

26. In a Quare Impedit the Caſe was, Parkinſon Patron of the Advowſon of the Church of D. the Church being void, did contract with a Stranger, That for 10 l. per annum to be paid unto Parkinſon, during the life of Kitchin, that he would Preſent Kitchin to the Church, which was done accordingly. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That although Kitchin knew not of the Contract, nor was any ways agreeing or conſenting to the ſame, yet he came in by Symonie; for the Statute ſhall be conſtrued ſurely againſt Symonie and Symoniſts, and the very Preſentation, Admiſſion, and Inſtitution of Kitchin in that Caſe, were adjudged void. Mich. 8. Jac. in the Exchequer, Calvert and Kitchins Caſe.

27. If a man purchaſe the next Preſentation or Avoydance, and doth not mention in certain what perſon he intendeth to Preſent, when the Church doth become void, he may Preſent any perſon whatſoever, who is capable of the Benefice: But if a man purchaſe the next Avoydance or Preſentation, or the ſame be Granted to him to Preſent J. S. by name, be it Son, Kinſman, or Friend of the Patron; It was adjudged, Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. in Winſcomb and Pullſtones Caſe, That the ſame is Symonie, and that the Clerk Preſented, comes in by Symonie, and the Patron ſhall loſe the Turn, and the King ſhall Preſent. And in that Caſe it was ſaid that it was adjudged, That when the Teſtator did contract by Symonie, that his Executors ſhould Preſent another man to the ſame Church, being void at the time of the contract, and the Teſtator dyed, and the Executors did Preſent him accordingly; that ſuch Preſentation was void, and within the Statute of 31 Eliz. Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. Fremdu and Engliſhes Caſe.

28. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, A. was ſeized of the Prebend of N. in the Collegiate Church of S. Mary of S. to which the Advowſon of the Vicarage of S. was Appendant: A. made a Leaſe of ſeveral parts of the Prebend, in the Concluſion of which Leaſe were theſe words, Cum omnibus Commoditatibus, Emolumentis, Proficuis, & Advantagiis eidem Prebend. ſpectand. ſeu aliquo modo pertinend. The Queſtion in that Caſe was, Whether the Advowſon of the Vicarage did paſs by this Caſe. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, and ſo after judged, That the Advowſon of the Vicarage did not paſs; for all the words before do imply things gainful, which is contrary to the nature of an Advowſon, and words in Grants ſhall not be conſtrued to an unuſual and an unreaſonable ſenſe. Mich. 16. Jac. in C. B. London, and the Collegiate Church of S. Mary Southwell. Hob. 303, 304.

29. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, A. ſeized of a Manor with an Advowſon appendant, Preſented B. who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted: Afterwards A. ſold the Manor to which the Advowſon was Appendant, to J. S. the Church became void by the death of B. The Queen (the Church being void) Preſented J. D. by theſe words, per mortem naturalem Incumbentis ibidem vacant. who upon the ſame Preſentation, was afterwards Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, by Letters of Inſtitution, per Dominam Reginam, veram & indubitatam Patronam: J. D. dyed, The King Preſented R. in theſe words, Ad noſtram Preſentationem, ſive ex pleno jure, ſive per lapſum temporis, ſive alio quocunque modo ſpectant. The Queſtion was, Whether notwithſtanding all this matter, the Advowſon did remain Appendant or not. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, and ſo after adjudged, That the Advowſon did remain appendant, notwithſtanding the Queens Preſentation of J. D. for it appeared, That there was no colour of Title for the Queen to Preſent; No Lapſe, for the Preſentation and Inſtitution were all in one moneth, wherein the Avoydance was; and it was no Uſurpation by the Queen, becauſe the Preſentation ſuppoſed a right, where none was, and ſo was void; for the Queen meant to do no wrong, and ſo the Preſentation of R. upon the ſame reaſon was void; and then the Preſentation of J. D. being void, It was but a Collation of the Biſhop, which makes no diſappendancy. Hill. 17 Jac. in C. B. Gawdy, and the Biſhop of Canterbury, and Rones Caſe. Hob. 301.

28. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was: The Queen Preſented to a Parſonage, which was void by the taking of another Benefice by S. the Defendant. The Defendant to enable him to have two Benefices, pleaded, That he was the Chaplain of Sir James Croſts, Comptroller of the Queens houſhold, who by the Statute of 21 H. 8. might have two Chaplains, and might qualifie them to take two Benefices. To which it was Replyed, That the ſaid Sir James Croſts had two other Chaplains, which are qualified to have two Benefices, who are alive, ſo as he is the third Chaplain, who could not be qualified by the Statute. To which it was anſwered, That one of thoſe two Chaplains was removed, and diſcharged by the ſaid Sir James Croſts to be his Domeſtical Chaplain, ſcil. Capellanum familiarem; and he hath now but two Chaplains, of which the Defendant was one: Upon which it was Demurred in Law. There were three points in the Caſe. 1. If a qualification ſub ſigillo be ſufficient within the Statute, without the Signature or Name of Sir James Croſts. 2. When two Chaplains are qualified, and one is removed out of the Service, If he might qualifie another by the Statute, the party being alive who was qualified. 3. Whether he remain his Chaplain during his life, notwithſtanding ſuch removal. In this Caſe it was adjudged for the Queen. For the firſt point, becauſe the Defendant S. was not qualified, ſub Signo & Sigillo of Sir James Croſts, but only ſub Sigillo: And the words of the Statute are, under the Signe and Seal of the King, or other, their Lord or Maſter, &c. which words [or other, their Lord or Maſter] ſhall be referred to Signe and Seal, which is limitted to the King. To the ſecond point, They agreed the Law to be clear, That after he hath retained as many as by Law he may retain, and they are ſub Signo & Sigillo certified and eſtabliſhed to be his Chaplains, and by reaſon thereof, have qualification for two Benefices, although that afterwards they are removed for diſpleaſure, or otherwiſe; yet during their lives, their Maſter cannot take other Chaplains, which may be qualified by the Statute; for ſo every Baron might have Chaplains ſans number, which was not the meaning of the Statute. 3. Reſolved, That although the party was removed from being Domeſtical ſervant of the Family, yet he did remain his Chaplain at large, and ſo a Chaplain within the Statute. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. The Queen, and Savages Caſe. Godbolt, 41, 42.

Quare non Admisit.

Where it lyeth, and for whom, and againſt whom; in what Court, and in what County: and what ſhall be a good Plea in Bar in it, what not.

Quare non Admiſit, is a Writ, which lyeth, Where a man hath recovered his Advowſon or Preſentment, in a Writ of Right of Advowſon, Quare Impedit, or other Action; and hath a Writ to the Biſhop to Admit his Clerk, and the Biſhop doth refuſe to Admit him; then he may have this Writ either out of the Chancery, or out of the Court of Common Pleas: In which Writ, it is requiſite to make mention of the Recovery. And Note, That this Writ muſt be brought in the County where the refuſal is. 38 H. 6. 14. Cook 7. Patt, in Bulwards Caſe.

2. Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Ordinary, Patron, and the Incumbent; and Iſſue being joyned, and tryed for the Plaintiff. and Judgment given before the Juſtices of Nſi Prius, a Writ was awarded to the Biſhop to Admit the Plaintiffs Clerk, and afterwards the Record was ſent into the Common Pleas, and a new Writ was awarded to the Biſhop to admit the Clerk returnable in the ſame Court: Upon which Writ, the Biſhop returned, That, depending the Quare Impedit, a Title was found by Office for the King, by reaſon of the minority of the Plaintiff, being the Kings Ward, and that by reaſon thereof the King Preſented, and that the Church was full of his Preſentment, ſentment, for which cauſe he could not execute the Writ. It was a Queſtion if the Biſhop might make ſuch Retorn; and, If it ſhould be good or not. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ſhould not be eſtopped to make the Retorn of the Kings Title, becauſe he is not party, nor privie to the Verdict, nor to any plea of Plenarty. And it was holden in that Caſe, That if the Retorn of the Biſhop be falſe, the Plaintiff may have a Quare non Admiſit againſt the Biſhop, and thereby he ſhall recover his damages. Paſch 9 Eliz. Dyer, 260. Baſſetts Caſe. 24 E. 3. Fitzh. Quare Impedit, 15.

3. If a man recover upon a Quare Impedit, a Church in Devon, and he hath thereupon a Writ to the Biſhop, and he delivereth the Writ to the Biſhop in the County of Middleſex, and he there refuſeth to admit his Clerk; and thereupon a Quare non Admiſit was brought againſt the Biſhop in the County of Devon. It was Ruled in that Caſe, That the Writ ſhould abate; becauſe the Writ ought to be brought in the County where the refuſal was. Mich. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 40.

4. King E. 1. Preſented his Clerk to a Benefice within the Province of York, who was refuſed by the Archbiſhop, for that the Pope by way of proviſion, had conferred the Benefice on another. The King thereupon brought a Quare non Admiſit: The Arch-Biſhop pleaded, That the Pope had long time before provided to the ſaid Church, as one having Supream Authority in that Caſe, and that he durſt not, nor had power to put him out, who was by the Popes Bull in poſſeſſion: It was adjudged, That for this high contempt againſt the King, in refuſing to execute the Kings Writ, the whole Biſhoprick was ſeized into the Kings hand, and loſt during the Kings life. Cook 5. Part, 12. in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical perſons.

5. In a Quare non Admiſit, brought by the King againſt the Biſhop of Exeter, the Caſe was, The Church became void, and debate was betwixt A. and B. concerning the Right of Preſentment: After which, the Biſhop did Collate. The King brought a Quare Impedit againſt A. and recovered. In that Caſe it was ſaid, That the Biſhop could not countervail the Title of the King, nor diſſeiſe the recovery; and therefore becauſe he refuſed to admit the Kings Clerk, the Temporalty of the Biſhop was ſeized into the Kings hand. See 23 E. 3. 22. acc.

6. Note, It is a good Plea in a Quare non Admiſit brought for the Biſhop, to ſay, That the Church is litigious, or that there is a Quare Impedit depending of the ſame. See 20 E. 3. Quare non Admiſit, 10. and there Quare non Admiſit 9. It is a good Plea for the Biſhop, that he did not preſent for Lapſe.

7. If a man have Judgment, and a Writ to the Biſhop to Admit, and the Biſhop refuſeth to Admit the Plaintiffs Clerk; the Plaintiff upon this refuſal, may have a Writ of Quare non Admiſit: But if the Defendant doth reverſe the Judgment in a Writ of Error, and afterwards the Plaintiff, in a Quare Impedit, brings the Writ of Quare non Admiſit; The Defendant in ſuch caſe may plead Nul tiel Record: And Note, That by the Reverſal of the Judgment given in a Quare Impedit, the Judgment given in a Writ of Quare non Admiſit, is alſo reverſed. Cook 8. Part, 142. in Dr. Druries Caſe.

8. If a man hath recovered in a Quare Impedit, and hath had a Writ to the Biſhop to Admit his Clerk, and the Biſhop hath Admitted, and Inſtituted the Clerk, but the Archdeacon will not Induct: It hath been ſaid by ſome, That the Plaintiff hath no remedy, but by ſuing of the Archdeacon in the Spiritual Court: For if he ſhould bring a Writ of Quare non Admiſit againſt the Biſhop, It is a good Plea for the Biſhop to ſay, That he Admitted the Clerk, and ſent his Letter to the Archdeacon to Induct him, 38 H. 6. 15. But the Opinion of M. Fitzherbert in his Nat. Brev. in that caſe is, That if the Archdeacon will not Induct the Clerk, that the Clerk ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Archdeacon in the Temporal Court, becauſe the Induction is a Temporal Act. See Fitzh. Nat. Brev. acc. in Title Quare non Admiſit.

Quarentine.

1. QUarentine is, where a man dyeth ſeized of a Meſſuage and Lands, and immediately after the death of the Husband, the Heir, or he who ought to have the Lands, will put the Wife out of the Meſſuage; then the Wife ſhall have a Writ called Quarentina habenda, directed to the Sheriff, and retornable within two or three dayes, ſpeedily to put her into poſſeſſion: For that by the Statute of Magna Charta, cap. 7. The Wife ſhall remain in the Capital Meſſuage after the death of her husband, by the ſpace of forty dayes: See Fitzh. Nat. Brev. 161. It was a Quære in 19 H. 6. 4. made by Newton, If the Woman ſhall not, have meat and drink for that ſpace of forty dayes, becauſe the Statute doth not extend unto it. But the words of the Writ in the Regiſter are, Habeant rationabilia Eſtoveria, de Bonis maritorum; and ſee the Statute of Glocester, cap. 4. There are Eſtovers in Vivet & Veſtura, which have been conſtrued ſtrued to contain meat, drink, and habitation; Therefore Quere, If ſhe ſhall not have ſuch Eſtovers during the forty dayes.

2. In a Writ of Dower brought by the Wife of J. S. the Defendant pleaded, That the Demandant entred into parcel of the Lands after the Dar-rein Continuance: The Plaintiff ſaid, That ſhe entred for her Quarentine. In that Caſe it was holden, That the Entry of the Wife was lawful; But then it was holden, That ſhe muſt ſhew the time of the death of her husband, and that it was within the time of the forty dayes. Mich. 6. E. 6. Dyer, 76.

3. If the woman marrieth within the forty dayes, ſhe ſhall loſe her Quarentine; See 1 Mar. Dyer, 97. and ſee 5 Mar. Dyer, 161. It is a Quere, If a woman who hath Quarentine, may defend her poſſeſſion with force.

4. See Mich. 6. E. 6. Dyer, 76. in Caſe of Quarentine, The Wife muſt not depart from the houſe upon her husbands death, and Return when ſhe will for the reſt of her dayes; but by the Statute of Magna Charta, the woman muſt continue in the poſſeſſion of the houſe for the whole ſpace of forty dayes.

Quare Incumbravit Eccleſiam.

1. THis Writ is an Original Writ, as appeareth by 17 E. 3. 74. by Shard, and doth not lye, but where the Plaintiff recovereth by Judgment of the Court; Neither doth it lye until the party hath ſued the Writ of Ne Admittas to the Biſhop: For if the Biſhop do incumber the Church before the Writ of Ne Admittas ſued, the Party in ſuch Caſe ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and not a Writ of Quare Incumbravit. But if the Biſhop after the Ne Admittas delivered unto him, do Admit his Clerk, for whom it is found by jure Patronatus, yet the other party ſhall have a Quare Incumbravit againſt him, and in the Writ he ſhall recover his damages. 21 E. 3. Quare Incumbravit, 3.

2. Note, That after the Writ of Ne Admittas delivered, and the ſix moneths be paſt, the Biſhop may Preſent his own Clerk for Lapſe, and ſhall not be charged by Quare Incumbravit for that Preſentation; but he cannot Admit the Clerk of another man after the ſix moneths paſt, for that ſhall be againſt the Writ of Ne Admittas delivered unto him. Alſo, If the Biſhop do Preſent the Clerk of the other Party after the ſix moneths, who had Preſented unto him before, that Preſentment maketh Title to the party; and therefore although it be after the ſix moneths, it ſeems that then the Quare Incumbravit lyeth for the Plaintiff. See 2 E. 3. 50. & 55. acc.

3. Note by Popham Chief Juſtice, That the courſe to ſtop Strangers from Preſenting pendente Brevi, is, After a Quare Impedit is depending, to ſue a Ne Admittas to the Biſhop; and if the Biſhop then Admits the Clerk of any other hanging that Suit, and the Plaintiff recovers, he ſhall have a Quare Incumbravit, and thereby removes any that comes in pendant the Writ, by whatſoever Title he comes in, and ſhall force him who hath right to recover by Quare Impedit: But if he ſues not ſuch a Writ of Ne Admittas, if then the Incumbent of a ſtranger ſhould come in by good Title, pendente Brevi, he ſhall bar him in a Scire facias, and ſhall hold it. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Lancaſter and Lewes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 93. by Popham.

Quid Juris Clamat.

1. Quid Juris Clamat is a Writ, and lyeth, Where a man granteth the Reverſion of Lands which another man holdeth of him for Tenant of life to another man, and his heir, by Fine levyed in the Kings Court of Record, and the Tenant who holdeth the land for life, will not Attorn to ſuch Grant, then the Grantee may have this Writ againſt him, and thereby compel him to Attorn to the Grant; and this Writ muſt be brought againſt thoſe who are Tenants of the Land, the day of the Note levyed, and againſt no other.

2. If he in the Reverſion will levie a Fine of his Reverſion unto another, upon a Writ of Covenant ſued forth againſt him in the Common Pleas: This Conuſans ſhall be taken in the Common Pleas; but the Fine ſhall not be engroſſed, until the Tenant for life hath Attorned: And ſuch Fine is ſaid to be Engroſſed, when the Chirographer maketh Indentures of the Fine, and delivereth them to the party to whom the Conuſans is made, and then the Fine is ſaid to be Engroſſed: And after that, the Conuſee ſhall not have a Quid Juris Clamat againſt the Tenant for life: But the courſe is, When he in the Reverſion, upon the Writ of Covenant ſued againſt him, makes the Conuſans of the Reverſion by Fine, that upon that, the Conuſee ſhall have the Quid Juris Clamat againſt against the Tenant for life, and if the Tenant be weak, or that he cannot travel to the Court, then he may ſue a Dedimus poteſtatem, directed to the Juſtice, to take his Conuſans, &c. and to certifie the ſame into the Common Pleas. See 22 H. 6. 57. Cook 5. Part, in Toyes Caſe.

3. Upon a Quid Juris Clamat, The Jury found, and gave a privie Verdict over night, and the next day in open Court they altered their Verdict, and found for the Plaintiff, and both Verdicts were Returned upon the Poſtea by the advice of the Juſtices of Aſſize and upon which of the Verdicts Judgment ſhould be given, was the Queſtion: And at laſt the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the latter Verdict ſhould ſtand in force, and not the firſt; and Judgment was given, Non quod Querens recuperet Seiſinam, ſed ſequatur pro Seiſina ſi voluerit, & quod etiam ſuis Ingroſſetur ſi voluerit. Mich. 4. Eliz. Plow. Com. 210. Saunders and Freemans Caſe. Dyer, 209. the ſame Caſe.

4. A man made a Leaſe by Indenture for years, and further Granted, That if the Leſſor alienes the Reverſion, or dyed within the Term, that then the Leſſee ſhould have Fee; the Leſſor levyed a Fine, the Conuſee brought a Quid Juris Clamat againſt the Leſſee, ſuppoſing him to be a Termor only, and he claimed Fee, and for that cauſe Judgement was given againſt the Termor, That he ſhould forfeit his Term, and that the Conuſee might enter, and the Fine ſhould be engroſſed if he pleaſed; and the Juſtices held, That the Condition in that Caſe was repugnant. 6 R. 2. Pleſmatons Caſe, vouch in 4 Mar. Dyer, 209.

5. Note, In a Quid Juris Clamat brought, the Tenant claimed Fee in part, and Attorned for the other part, and yet the whole Fine was Engroſſed without any exception: And yet it was ſaid, That 28 E. 3. in a per quæ Servitia, it was found; That one of the Tenants, Non Tenuit; and the Fine was Engroſſed for the Reſidue only. Paſch. 4 Mar. Dyer 212.

6. In a Quid Juris Clamat, brought by Francis Windham, the Caſe was this, The Lady Greſham was Tenant for life of the Manner of B. in Norfolk, the remainder to R. R. in Tail, the Reverſion to W. R. in Fee; R. R. levyed a Fine of his Remainder, to Francis Windham, and his Heirs; and before the Engroſſing of the Fine (ut oportet) he brought a Quid Juris Clamat againſt the Lady Greſham; who pleaded, That R. R. the Conuſor, at the time of the Fine levyed, had but an Eſtate in Tail, in the Remainder, and ſhewed how, and demanded Judgement thereupon, if ſhe ſhould be compelled to Attorn: Upon which the Plaintiff Demurred. And it was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That before the Statutes of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. it was a good Plea; yet now after the ſaid Statutes (which make the Fine after the Engroſſing, and Proclamation) a Bar of the Eſtate Tail, although that the Quid Juris Clamat ought to be brought before the Engroſſing, and by conſequence, before the Eſtate Tail be barred; and that it doth not appear at the time of the Quid Juris Clamat brought, that it ſhall be a Fine at the Common Law, or a Fine with Proclamations. Yet it was adjudged, That ſhe ſhould Attorn. Mich. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Juſtice Windham, and the Lady Greſhams Caſe. Vouch. in Cook 3. Part, 86. in the caſe of Fines.

7. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, A Tenant for life of the manor of D. the Remainder to B. in Fee; B. and her husband levyed a Fine, 10 Eliz. of all the Demeſnes of the ſaid Mannor, by certain quantities of Acres, which included all the Demeſnes, who Granted and Rendered the Demeſnes to J. S. for 50 years, rendring Rent, and Granted the Reverſion to the Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of B. the Wife; and in the Indentures which lead the uſe of the Fine, it is agreed, That the Husband and Wife ſhould have Egreſs and Regreſs into the ſaid Mannor, to hold Courts upon the ſaid Demeſnes; and it was averred, That the Demeſnes and Services were known, and called by the Mannor of D. 16 Eliz. another Fine was levyed by the ſaid Husband and Wife, of divers other Mannors of the ſaid B. the Wife, excepting the Mannor of D. (in which Fine ſo many Acres were contained, as was ſufficient to paſs the ſaid Demeſnes) to the uſe of the ſaid Wife for life, the Remainder to Sir Moile Finch, her eldeſt ſon, in Tail, with divers Remainders over: 19 Eliz. J. S. made his ſon, of the age of three years, his Executor, and dyed; Adminiſtration during his minority, was committed to C. Afterwards 23 Eliz. the ſaid Husband and Wife levyed another Fine of the ſaid Mannor of D. and of divers Acres, ſufficient to paſs the ſaid Demeſnes, to the uſe of the ſaid Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Wife, until the Husband, with the aſſent of the Wife, in Writing, declare to what other uſes, and then to ſuch uſes, C. aſſignes to E. for ten years; A. dyed, E. entred; the Husband and Wife by Writing, declares the uſes to F. and G. and their Heirs: who Eject E. and enfeoff H. and J. unto the uſe of the Wife for life, the Remainder to her younger ſon in Tail; the Wife dyeth, the Rent is behinde; the younger ſon Diſtreins for the Rent, and the Leſſe of Sir Moyle Finch, the eldeſt ſon of the Wife, brought the Replevin: And in this long Caſe, many points were reſolved (See Librum) amongſt which were theſe, 1. (Reſolution 9.) That becauſe that E. the Leſſee had but an Intereſt of a Term during the life of A. that no Attornment could be by him to the Fine; and to the diſtinction of the uſes, there needed no Attornment; for when Attornment cannot be, or is not requiſite to the Fine, which is the root, no Attornment is required to the Declaration of the uſes, which are but the branches. 2. (Reſolution 10.) That when a Reverſion is ſettled in any in Judgment of Law, and he hath not poſſible means to compel the Tenant to Attorn, there no Lacheſs is in him, and he ſhall avow, and have an Action of Waſte, without Attornment. 3. (Reſolution 11.) That in the principal Caſe, there was no Lacheſs in the Conuſee to have Attornment, although he had recited the particular Eſtates in the Fine; for preſently after the Conuſans, and before the Fine engroſſed, the Reverſion paſſed to the Conuſee, & eo inſtante, it is executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes; ſo as it was impoſſible to have a Quid Juris Clamat, nor other remedy, to compel the Tenant to Attorn; and for as much as by the execution of the poſſeſſion, to the uſe, the benefit of the Conuſee to have Quid Juris Clamat is taken away; it is but reaſon that the Act of Parliament ſhould not turn to the prejudice of any: And an Act in Law, ſhall not prejudice any one. Cook 6. Part, 63. to 68. Sir Moyle Finches Caſe.

8. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, made a Leaſe thereof to A. and B. for their lives, and dyed: The ſon granted the Reverſion to C. to which A. one of the Joynt-Tenants Attorned, and afterwards ſurrendred to him all his Intereſt, and dyed: C. entred. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That his Entry was lawful, and that he ſhould be Tenant in Common with B. and in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Attornment of A. did veſt the reverſion in the Grantee, becauſe the Eſtate was entire, and Attornment is a lawful Act, becauſe it doth not give an Intereſt, but only preſerves a Grant; and it was ſaid, That if the Reverſion of two Tenants for life, or the Rent or Seignory of two Joynt-Tenants be granted by Fine, there in a Quid Juris Clamat, quem reddit reddit, &c. the one ſhall not be admitted to Attorn without his Companion, becauſe that the Plaintiff ought to have a Joynt Attornment in the ſame manner as he demands it, and alſo becauſe the one ſhall not prejudice the other; and upon a general Attornment in a Court of Record, the Leſſee ſhall loſe all advantages which are not claimed of Record. 2. Reſolved, That if the Tenant having notice of a Grant, Attorn for part, it ſhall be a good Attornment for the whole; becauſe Attornment is but a Conſent, which cannot be apportioned nor divided. Cook, 2. Part, 67. Tooke's Caſe.

9. Chidley brought a Quid Juris Clamat, and had Judgment againſt the Defendant: And the Plaintiff had made a Warrant to his Attorney for receiving of his Attornment, and the Defendant would have Attorned, but would not do his fealty: Divers Preſidents were ſhewed, That he ought to be ſworn in Court; and the Entry of a Judgment in a Quid Juris Clamat is, That he did Attorn, and fecit fidelitatem, and ſo he was ſworn in Court. And ſee 37 H. 6. 4. If he refuſe to Attorn being in Court, he ſhall be committed for contempt, and that was ſaid to be an Attornment; but Priſot ſaid, That notwithſtanding that, he ſhould not have an Action of Waſte, or arraign an Aſſize, without an expreſs Attornment. See Paſch. 3 Car. in C. B. Chidleys Caſe. Hatton, 89.

10. See, That a Dedimus Poteſtatem was Granted to receive an Attorney for the Defendant in a Quid Juris Clamat, although no Preſident could be found for it, and it was allowed of by the Court, by reaſon of the weakneſs of the Defendant, who could not appear in perſon, without danger of his life. 4 Mar. Dyer, 135.

Quod

Quod ei deforceat.

Where, and in what Caſe it lyeth, and by whom, and againſt whom; and in what not: Where upon Recovery by default, and upon what default: Where and in what County to be brought. Voucher in it; And what ſhall be a good bar in it; What not.

1. IF Tenant in Dower, Tenant by the Curteſy, or Tenant for life, had loſt by default, they were without remedy at the Common Law, becauſe they could not have a Writ of Right. But now ſince the Statute of weſt. 2. cap. 4. all of them may have a Quod ei deforceat. And it is now agreed, That if a Recovery by default be had againſt Husband and Wife, Tenants in Frankmarriage, or Tenants for Term of their lives, they ſhall have Quod ei deforceat upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 350.

2. If a Woman loſeth by default, and afterwards taketh Husband, ſhe and her Husband ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat. But if Tenant in tail loſeth by default, and dyeth, his Heir in that Caſe ſhall not have a Quod ei deforceat, but a Formedon, for that is his Writ of Right, and none ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat, but he that loſeth. But in a Precipe brought againſt Tenant in tail, he dyeth appear, and afterwards departs in deſpight of the Court, he ſhall loſe his Land, and yet he ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat, for that the Recovery is by his default, becauſe he did not appear when he was demanded. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 156. acc.

3. If Tenant for life make default in a Precipe, whereupon he in the Reverſion is received, and pleads to Iſſue, and it is found againſt the Tenant by Receipt, and Judgment is given for the demandant; in that Caſe the Tenant ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat; for although that there is a Verdict given, yet the Judgment is given upon the default 33 E. 3. Quod ei deforceat. 17. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 351.

4. If Lands be given to two, and to the Heirs of one of them; now all the Fee is not meerly knit, and executed for the advantage of the Survivor of them, having a regard to him, for he ſhall not be puniſhed for Waſte, but having a regard to ſtrangers, the Fee is executed. And therefore if a Recovery be had againſt them by default, the one ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat, and the other, ſcil. he who hath Fee ſhall have a Writ of Right. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 9, 10. acc.

5. A Quod ei deforceat in the nature of a Writ of Right, was brought in the County of M. in Wales, the Tenant joyned the Miſe upon the meer Right; and upon that a Jury by Venire facias was returned, and 32 appeared, and before Verdict, the Demandant was Non-ſuit; upon which, final Judgment was given, Quod teneat retineat terram illam ſibi et hæredibus in pace verſus petentem et hæredes ſuos imperpetuum. And afterwards the Demandant brought a new Quod ei deforceat in the nature of a Writ of Right againſt the ſame Tenant for the ſame Land, who pleaded the final Judgment in bar, upon which the Demandant did demur, and Judgment was given againſt him; and upon the latter Judgment he brought Error. And in this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That although the Statute of Rutland, made 12 E. 1. provideth, That the Tryal in Wales of a Writ of Right, ſhall be by 12. common Jurours, yet Judgment final ſhall be given there; for although that manner and dignity of the Tryal be altered, yet the ſame Judgment doth remain as was before. 2. Reſolved, That if Judgment final be given in a Writ of Right, where it ought not to be, the ſame ſhall bind untill it be reverſed by Error. 3. That if the Tenant after the Miſe joyned, maketh default, Judgment final upon that default, ſhall not be given. But a Petit Cape ſhall iſſue forth, becauſe peradventure he may ſave his default. Trin. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Penvins Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 85.

6. Leſſee for the life of another man, the Remainder to him in tail; in this Caſe the Eſtate tail is not executed, but yet he ſhall have a Quod ei deforceat, quod clamat tenere ad terminum vitæ ſuæ, if he loſe the Land during the life of Cestuy que vie. See 7 H. 5. 2. acc. Where ſee if Land be granted to one for life, the Remainder for years, the Remainder to the firſt Tenant for life in Fee, there the Fee is executed, ſo as if he loſe by default he ſhall have a Writ of Right, and not a Quod ei deforceat, by Manwood Juſtice. P. 18. 17 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 2.

7. A Quod ei deforceat was brought againſt two: they appeared and plead ſeveral Pleas, and the Iſſues were found againſt both of them, and they brought a Writ of Error thereupon in the Kings Bench. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Judgment was erronious, and that the Writ of Error did well lye. But Barkley Juſtice ſaid, That if in a Writ of Right brought by two, the Miſe is joyned but in one Iſſue where there are ſeveral Iſſues, the Judgment ought to be ſeveral. Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. Gwyn and Gwyn Caſe. Godbolt, 448.

8. If a Recovery had bin had againſt Tenant for life, before the Statute of weſt. 2. he was at the Common Law without remedy, becauſe he could not have a Writ of Right in reſpect of the meanneſs of his Eſtate. And therefore at the Common Law. If a Woman Leſſee for life of a houſe had loſt by default, and had after that taken Husband, and the Recoveror had let the houſe to the Husband and Wife for their lives, in that Caſe the Wife could not have bin remitted, becauſe her Eſtate was remedileſs. But ſince that Statute, in ſuch Caſe, the Wife ſhall be remitted, becauſe ſhe may now regain her Eſtate by a Quod ei deforceat. For when an Act of Parliament, or a Cuſtome doth alter the reaſon or cauſe of the Common Law, thereby the Common Law it ſelf is altered. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 356. acc.

9. Note, whereas divers hold Opinion, That upupon a Recovery had by default in an Action of Waſte againſt Tenant in Dower, or Tenant by the Curteſy, a Quod ei deforceat doth not lye, becauſe the default is not the cauſe of the Judgment, for notwithſtanding the default, there goeth out a Writ to enquire de Waſto facto et quod Waſtum prædict. it the Defendant fecit, ſo as the Defendant may give Evidence, and the Jurours may find for the Defendant, That no Waſte was done. As in an Aſſiſe, although it be awarded by default, the Tenant or Defendant non amittat per d faltam. Nevertheleſs, others do hold the contrary, becauſe that although in the Writ of Waſte, Judgment is not given only upon the default; yet the default is the principal, and the cauſe of the awarding of the Writ of Enquiry, as an incident thereunto. And the Law hath a reſpect alwayes to the firſt and Principal thing from whence it takes the firſt riſe and beginning. Quære the Law. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 355. acc.

10. Error brought of a Judgment in Wales in a Quod ei deforceat, three Errors were aſſigned. 1. Becauſe the Writ being general, the Count is, that he deforced him of a Meſſuage, 20 Acres of Land, 30 Acres of Meadow, &c. and 20 Acres Jampna et Bruaria, which ought to have bin ſhewed in certainty; but the Court held, that Jampna et Bruaria are not intended of Lands of ſeveral ſorts, but of one and the ſame Land, which is Heath ground, upon which Geeſe and Furze are growing. 2. Becauſe he pleaded, he hath majus jus tenendi tenementa prædict. then the Plaintiff, and doth not ſay, ſibi et hæredibus ſuis, and becauſe he did not ſhew the certainty of the Eſtate, therefore it was not good: but the Court diſallowed of that Error, becauſe it ſhall be intended, That he had not a leſs Eſtate then Fee, and if he were but Tenant for life, it was at his peril ſo to plead, for that would be a forfeiture of his Eſtate. 3. Becauſe the Venire facias had not 19 dayes between the Teſte and the return of it, that alſo was diſallowed, becauſe in Wales, their proceſs is de die in diem in one and the ſame Seſſion. H ll. 5 Car. in B. R. Griffith and Jenkins Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 128.

11. Error of a Judgment in the Grand Seſſions in Wales, in the County of M. in a Quod ei deforceat in the nature of a Writ of Right. The Defendant ſaid, That he had majus jus then the Plaintiff, upon which they were at Iſſue, and at the day the defendant made default, and a Petit Cape awarded; at the return of which J. S. appeared, and prayed to be received, becauſe the Feoffment was made to the uſe of the Defendant and his Wife, for the life of the Wife, the Remainder to the ſaid J.S. and his Heirs. The Demandant counterpleads that Receipt, traverſing the Feoffment, and thereupon Iſſue was joyned. At the day of the Return of the Venire facias, J. S. did not appear, but F. his Son and Heir prayed to be received by his Guardian, he being within age, and ſaid that J. S. his Father was dead, and prayed that the paroll might demur for non-age, the Demandant counterpleads his Receipt, taking Iſſue as before upon the Feoffment. At the day, the Tenant by Receipt made default, and a Petit Cape awarded, and at the day he did not ſave his default, and thereupon Judgment was given againſt the Tenant by Receit. In this Caſe, amongſt other Errors aſſigned, one was, becauſe the Judgment was given upon the default of the Tenant by Receipt upon his default, whereas the Judgment ought to be againſt the Tenant to the Action. And this the whole Court held to be a manifeſt Error, and therefore the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Kiſſin and Vaughans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 190, 191.

12. Error of a Judgment in the Grand Seſſions in Wales, in the County of P. where G. and his Wife brought a Quod ei deforceat, and made Proteſtations ſequi breve iſtud in forma brevis de quod eis deforceat ad comm. legem ſecundum Statutum de Rutland, and demanded a Meſſuage and Lands in R. quæ clamant tenere ſibi et hæredibus of the Wife, in jure uxoris, and ſaid, That T. B. was ſeiſed in Fee, and thoſe Lands after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes, to Feoffees, to the uſe of the ſaid Wife, and the Heirs of her body, and that they entred and took the Explees within 20 years laſt paſt. The Defendants demanded Judgment of the Writ, becauſe it is a Writ formed upon the Statute of weſt. 2. made 13 E. 1. by which Statute it is provided Quod quicunque tale breve intulerit, debet in brevi ſuo mentionem facere de Statutum quem clamat habere in Tenementis prædict. which is not done in this Writ; and thereupon they demanded Judgment of the Writ, and it was adjudged there, That the Writ ſhould abate, upon which, Error was brought. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Writ of Error was well brought. For it is given by the Statute of Rutland 12 E. 1. and although the Statute of Weſt. 2. gives an eſpecial Writ of Quod ei deforceat in ſpecial Caſes, where Tenant for life, in Dower, or in tail, loſe their Lands by Recovery by default, and in ſuch Caſes the Writ makes mention of their Eſtates, yet this doth not take away the Statute of Rutland made 12 E. 1. which gives the Quod ei deforceat. And therefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff in the Writ of Error, that the Judgment ſhould be reverſed, and that the Writ ſhould ſtand, and the Tenants plead thereunto. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Griffith and Lewis's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 121.

Quod Permittat.

1. A Quod Permittat lyeth where a man hath Common of Paſture for his Cattel, and he is diſturbed by a ſtranger, that he cannot uſe his Common, then he may have this Writ; and the Writ runs in this manner, that he permit B. to have Common of Paſture in N. for 100 ſheep, &c. and vide 27 H. 8. 12. by Fitzherbert, that it lyeth always of Common, be it certain or uncertain, and not a Precipe. But a Precipe lyeth for Paſture for 20 Beaſts. And ſee there, That a Precipe will not lye againſt the Tenor of the Common, no more then againſt the Tenant. Yet Shelley there ſayes, That 3 E. 3. is contrary, That a Precipe lyeth againſt a Tenor, which is denyed by Fitzherbert. 27 H. 8. 12.

2. Tenant in tail may have a Quod Permittat. See 4 E. 3, 48. Quod Permittat 7. And ſee 20 E. 3. Quod Permittat 6. where it is ſaid, That this Writ is in the Nature of a Mordaunceſter.

3. If a man buildeth a Wall, or a houſe, or any thing which is a Nuſance to another's Freehold, and dyeth, he to whoſe Nuſance it is ſhall have a Quod Permittat againſt his Heir that did the Nuſance; and if a man levyeth a Nuſance to the Freehold of another, and he to whom the Nuſance is done, maketh a Feoffment in Fee of the Land, and he who did the Nuſance maketh a Feoffment of his Land, there is a Writ of Quod Permittat which lyeth for the Feoffee of him to which the Nuſance was levyed againſt the Feoffee of the other Land. See Fitzh. Nat. Br.

4. A Parſon of a Church ſhall have a Quod Permittat of Common in the right of his Church, and it ſhall be in the Nature of an Aſſiſe of Mordaunceſtor, becauſe he hath the Inheritance in the Common in the right of his Church. But if a Nuſance had bin done in the time of the Predeceſſor by a Diſſeiſor, no Writ of Quod Permittat did lye againſt the Diſſeiſor, or his Heir by the Predeceſſor, before the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 24. and the reaſon thereof was, becauſe there was no ſuch Writ in the Regiſter. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 406, 407. acc.

5. See 34 E. 1. Br. Title Demand. a Quod Permittat did lye of a Fair or Market, and it did lye where the Father did levy the Fair or Market unto the Nuſance of another, it did lye for the Heir of him to whoſe Nuſance it was, againſt the Heir of him who did the Nuſance.

6. A. levyed upon his own Freehold a houſe ſo near the Curtilage of the houſe of J. S. quod domus illa ſuper-pendet magnam partem, viz. 3. pedes Curtilagii J. S. And afterwards A. conveyed his houſe to B. and B. conveyes his houſe to C. who brought a Quod Permittat againſt B. and declared That the Water did fall and deſcend from the ſaid houſe to the Nuſance of his Curtilage and houſe. And if a Quod Permittat did lye by the Feoffee, or not, was the Queſtion. It was objected, It did not lye, becauſe he to whom the wrong was done, had conveyed a Way over his houſe, and ſo the wrong by that means was remedileſs, for he ſhall take the Lands in the ſame Plight as the ſame was conveyed to him. But it was Reſolved by the Court. 1. That the Diſtilling and falling down of the Water in the time of the Feoffee, was a new wrong. So as a ſuffering of a wrong by the Feoffor, or his Feoffee to continue to the prejudice of another, ſhould be puniſhed by the Feoffee of the houſe to which the Nuſance was done. And if it be not reformed after requeſt made, That a Quod Permittat lyeth by the Feoffor againſt the Feoffee, and thereby he ſhall recover his damages. 2. In that Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Feoffee might abate the Nuſance as the Feoffor himſelf might have done, and alſo that the Feoffor of the houſe to which the Nuſance was done, might abate the Nuſance before that he had any ſpecial prejudice. Trin. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 5. Part, 101. Penruddock's Caſe.

7. In a Quod Permittat the Plaintiffs declared, That the Defendant erected upon his Freehold an houſe ſo near to the Plaintiffs houſe, quod magna pars ejuſdem Domus ſuper-pendet the Meaſure of the Plaintiff in breadth 17 Inches, and in length 17 Inches ad nocumentum liberi Tenementi ſui, and to his damages of 100l. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Plaintiffs need not to ſhew forth in their Declaration how they came to the Eſtate in the houſe to which the Nuſance was done. It was objected in this Caſe, That the Plaintiffs ought to have have alledged a Nuſance certain, ſcil. that the Rain did fall from the houſe new erected, upon the Plaintiffs houſe, by reaſon whereof he loſt his light, and his houſe was ſo ſpoyled with the Rain, that he could not remain in it. But it was Reſolved, That the Plaintiffs in the Declaration needed not to alledg any ſpecial Nuſance, becauſe in that Caſe the Defendant had erected the new houſe, which hung over part of the Plaintiffs houſe, ſo as of neceſſity, the Rain which fell, muſt fall upon the Plaintiffs houſe. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff might have abated the Nuſans; and then he ſhould not have an Action for it. For that it is a good Plea in an Aſſiſe, or a Quod Permittat, That before the Writ brought or elſe dependant the Writ, he hath abated the Nuſance. And note, That in this Caſe it was adjudged, That the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 24. which giveth the Quod Permittat againſt the Allience of him who levyeth the Nuſance, doth not extend to the Allience of the Alliance. Cook 8. Part, 53. Batters Caſe.

8. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt one, Quare exaltavit Stagnum, per quod ſumpra tum fuit inundatum; The Defendant pleaded Not Guilty. The Jury found Quod erexit Stagnum; and if erectio and exaltatio be all one, then the Defendant may find that the Jury is Guilty. And thereupon Judgment was given for the Plaintiff where it ought to have bin for the Defendant. For it was ſaid, That Erigere Stagnum eſt de novo facere, Exaltare, eſt treſſum majoris altitudinis facere; De exaltare, eſt ad priſtinam altitudinem adducere, Proſternere ſtagnum eſt penitus Tollere. Note, It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices in this Caſe, That erigere is de novo facere, et exaltare eſt ad majorem altitudinem attollere. Note, an Exception was taken by the Court, That the Aſſiſe of Nuſance ought to be brought againſt the Tenant of the Freehold; and it is not ſhewed, That the Defendant was Tenant of the Freehold. And in this Caſe it was agreed, That if the ſtopping were by the Tenant, then an Aſſiſe lay. If it were by a ſtranger, then an Action upon the Caſe againſt him, but for a common Nuſance, no Action lay, but the ſame ought to be preſented in the Leet, or Turn; And in this Caſe, it was holden, That a Writ of Error ſhall follow the nature of the firſt Action: And then becauſe one of the Plaintiffs in the principal Caſe in the Writ of Error, had Releaſed, That the ſame ſhould be a bar to his Companions. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Giles's Caſe. Godbolt. 58, 59.

9. A. brought a Quod permittat againſt B. and after Imparlance, the Defendant demanded the view. It was Ruled by the Court, That he might have it. See 34 H. 6. 9, 10. and the view was de Tenementis prædictis, and it was holden by the Court, That it was well, aſwell of the Lands to which the Nuſance was, as of the Lands which was the Nuſance. And the view in this Action is but for 15 dayes. Hill. 16 Jac. in C. B. Brook and Groves Caſe. Hutton 28.

10. An Aſſize was brought againſt the Defendant, becauſe that Levavit quandam domum ad nocumentum, &c. The Plaintiff ſhewed that he had a Windmill, and that the Defendant had built the ſaid Houſe, ſo as it hindred his Mill; The Jury found, That the Defendant Levavit Domum, and that but two feet of it did hinder the Plaintiffs Mill, and was ad Nocumentum. It was a Quere how the Judgment ſhould be. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Judgment ſhould be, That but part of the houſe ſhould be abated: Yet it was ſaid by ſome, That the Aſſize is ſuch a Writ as extends to the whole houſe, and therefore that the whole houſe ſhould be abated, according to the Writ: But a difference was taken by the Court betwixt Erexit and Levavit; for Erexit is, but when parcel of a Houſe is ſet up, ad nocumentum; but Levavit is, when an entire houſe is levied from the ground: And Hobart Chief Juſtice ſaid, That if the Defendant had not levyed the houſe ſo high by two yards, it had been no Nuſance; and therefore he ſaid, That he conceived, That the Writ was well anſwered, and that but part of the houſe ſhould be abated. Quare. The Caſe was not Reſolved, but the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That that only ſhould be abated which was ad Nocumentum, &c. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Traherns Caſe, Godbolt. 233.

11. An Action upon the Caſe was brought for a Nuſance, for building the Defendants houſe ſo near the Plaintiffs, that a part of it ſuperpends; and the Plaintiff in conveying his Title, ſhewed a Leaſe for years made to him, if the Leſſor did ſo long live, and did not aver the life of the Leſſor, but ſaid, That by vertue of that demiſe, the Plaintiff hath been, and thereof was poſſeſſed. It was holden by the Court, that it was ſufficient. Paſch. 11 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow, 1. Part, 5.

12. Treſpaſs, vi & armis, for entring his Warren, digging his Soil, and chaſing and taking of his Conies: as to all but the entring the Warren, and chaſing the Conies, Not Guilty; and as to them, he pleaded a ſpecial Juſtification, viz. That he had Common there, time out of mind; and becauſe the Plaintiff ſtored the Burrows there with Conies, and made new holes, by reaſon of which, the Defendants Sheep fell therein, the Defendant with a Ferret did chaſe the Conies, and ſtopped up the holes with the earth digged out: Upon which the the Plaintiff demurred. The Queſtion was, Whether a Commoner might drive out Conies which ſurcharged the Lands? It was ſaid, That he could not, for that the Freehold and Poſſeſſion of the Land is in the Ter-Tenant only, and a Commoner hath only the graſs of the Land, and that not abſolutely, but only to take it with the mouths of his Cattel; and therefore in 12 H. 8. 2. and 27 H. 8. 10. 13 H. 8. 16. the Expreſs in a Quod permittat is alledged, in taking the graſs with the mouths of his Beaſts; for which alſo ſee 22 Aſſ. 48. 10 E. 4. 4. 46 E. 3. 23. and Paſch. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Belly and Langhorns Caſe was vouched, That the Lord may uſe his Soil as he pleaſeth; and as this Caſe is, That the Commoner, although Tenant of the Land, could not kill the Conies, or take them with his Ferret; for a free Warrein in ſuch a Precinct, is a charge upon the Land, of what kinde ſoever it comes; and if the Conies come out of the Precinct, then may the Commoner juſtifie the killing or taking of them: As it was adjudged in Hardyes Caſe, in C. B. and in Old and Comes Caſe, 29 Eliz. Trin. 11 Jac. in B. R. Carroll and Bakers Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 217.

13. Note, The Makers of the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 24. knew well, That the party injured by the Nuſance, although the wrong doer did it in his own ground, yet might the party grieved (although he had but Eſtate for years) enter, and abate, and demoliſh the Nuſance, were it houſe, to all other Nuſance, not only when it was in the wrong doer, but in the hands of the Alienee. But this Statute of Weſt. 2. doth give the Tenant of the Freehold as ſpeedy a remedy by Law as the Aſſize of Novel Diſſeiſin, which was accounted Preſtinum remedium, and yet if the wrong doer reform the Nuſance before the Aſſize, or Quod Permittat brought, the Action will not lye. But if the party hath any particular loſs by the Nuſance, he ſhall recover his damages in an Action upon the Caſe. See Cook 2 Part, Inſtitutes, 406. &c.

Quo Warranto.

1. Quo Warranto is a Writ which lyeth where a man uſurpeth, and taketh to hold Franchiſes or Liberties, without Licence of the King; then ſhall the King have ſuch a Writ againſt the Party, to come before his Juſtices, and to ſhew by what Right or Title he claimeth to hold ſuch Franchiſes and Liberties.

2. In a Quo Warranto, the Information was, That where the Defendant was ſeized of a Mannor, and of a Houſe within it, That he claimed to have a Court, or view of Frank pledge, infra Meſſuagium prædictum, and it was further, viz. That ſine aliqua conceſſione, ſive authoritate, uſurpavit Libertates prædictas. The Defendant pleaded, That non uſurpavit Libertates prædictas infra Meſſuagium prædictum modo & forma. It was ſaid, That the Plea was not good for many cauſes; for that the natural anſwer to every Quo Warranto, is either to claim, or diſclaim, and here he doth neither of them; and the ſpecial matter in the Information ought to be anſwered, and not the general to be pleaded, as it is here. 2. Becauſe he ſaith, non uſurpavit infra Meſſuagium prædictum; whereas he ought to have ſaid, infra Manerium prædict. 3. He ought to have ſaid, Non uſurpavit Libertates prædictas, nec earum aliquam. 4. It is not good, Becauſe he ſaith, Non uſurpavit infra Meſſuagium prædictum; for although it were ſufficient for us to ſay to make an Iſſue, Quod uſurpavit infra Meſſuagium prædictum, becauſe if he hath uſurped upon any part of the Mannor, uſurpavit infra Meſſuagium prædict. yet it is not good for the Defendant to anſwer ſo; for although he hath uſurped in any part of the Mannor, although not in Meſſuagium prædict. it is ſufficient for the Plaintiff. It was ſaid in this Caſe by the Court, That a Quo Warranto contains but two things. 1. It is demanded Quo Warranto he claims ſuch Liberties. 2. It chargeth him with a tortious uſurpation of them: The Plea was adjorned: But the better Opinion of the Court ſeemed to be, That in the principal Caſe, he hath anſwered to the uſurpation of them; but he doth not anſwer, nor ſhew by what Title he claimeth them: And in this Caſe it was ſaid, That in a Reading upon the Statute of Quo Warranto it was holden, That a Quo Warranto doth not lye of the claim of a thing which cannot be claimed, as to claim Felons goods, or to pardon Felons; for that thoſe are things which lye prope ly

in point of Charter. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Gervaſe Cliftons Caſe, Godbolt, 91. 92, 93.

3. A Quo Warranto Iſſued againſt B. to know Quo Warranto he held a Leet; To which he pleaded, That he was ſeized of ſuch a Meſſuage, and that he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he hath in the ſaid Meſſuage, have uſed alwayes to have and hold a Leet there within the Meſſuage. It was a Queſtion, If this Preſcription, that is, to have a Leet appendant to a ſingle Meſſuage was good or not. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That for as much as by reaſonable intendment it might be that this houſe was the ſeat of that Mannor, and that the Lord granted the Mannor with the Leet, that the Preſcription was good. Mich. 27 Eliz. Dalves Caſe vouch. in Brownlow 2. Part, 217. in Griffits and Coopers Caſe.

4. An Information was upon a Quo Warranto againſt B. and S. why they claimed to have certain Liberties; B. diſclaimed in all, and ſo Judgment was for the King; S. alſo diſclaimed in all, but only in one; and that was, to hold a Court Baron; and for maintenance of that, he ſhewed; That Sir Henry Nevil was ſeized of an ancient Mannor, of which Mannor the Mannor of N. was parcel, and conveyes to him an Admittance to the Mannor of N. in 4 Eliz. and of two ſeveral parcels of Lands called Lakes, and Aylworths, and ſhews, that Meſſuage, and ſeven Acres of Lands, Cuſtomary Lands, uſed to be demiſed, were conveyed to him by the ſaid Sir Henry Nevil, Tenendum ſecundum conſuetudinem Manerii. The ſole Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether S. by this Plea had well entituled himſelf ſo to the Mannor of N. as that he might juſtifie the keeping of a Court Baron. This Caſe was argued by all the Juſtices at the Bench; And it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That in the principal Caſe, the Defendant S. had not a Mannor, and therefore could not have ſuch a Court Baron as was incident to a Mannor; and all the Juſtices clearly declared againſt this Court Baron, and the Defendants keeping of it, he having made himſelf no good Title thereunto by his pleading; and therefore he ought by the Judgment of the Court upon this Quo Warranto brought againſt him, to be ouſted of the Court Baron by him kept, and Judgment was given for the King in the Quo Warranto. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. The King and Staffertons Caſe. Bolſtrode, 1 Part, 54, 55, 56. See Cook 11. Part, 17. and 18. Nevill's Caſe. See Kellaway, 138. acc.

5. In a Quo Warranto for uſing Waifs, Eſtreys, and Felons goods in L. the Defendant claimed Wait and Eſtrey by Preſcription; and for the Felons goods he pleaded, That J. late Abbot of S. licitè habuit & gavifus fuit infrà L. predict. Bona & Catalla Felonum ad uſum ſuum proprium, and pleaded the Statute of 27 H. 8. That all Monaſteries under 200 l. per annum were given to the King, in as ample manner as the Abbots had them, and that the Abby of S. was under the value of 200 l. per annum, and pleaded the Statute of 31 H. 8. cap. 20. by which all Priviledges, Franchiſes, &c. which the Abbots had, and uſed lawfully, ſhould by the ſaid Act, be revived in the King: By force of which, the ſaid King Hen. 8. was ſeized of the ſaid Franchiſes, to have the goods of Felons in L. and ſo ſeized, and ſeized of the Mannor of T. in L. parcel of the poſſeſſions of the ſaid Abby, granted the ſaid Mannor of T. to J. S. in Fee, Et tot, tanta, talia hujuſmodi eadem, & conſimilia Libertates, Franchefias, &c. quot, qualia quanta, & quæ dictus nuper Abbas habuit, five gaviſus fuit; Et eo Warranto clamat Libertates, Franchefias, tanquam ad Manerium prædict. ſpectan. & pertinent. In this caſe theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That a man cannot have goods of Felons by Preſcription or uſage, but may have them by the Kings Charter. 2. That when the King grants any Priviledges, Liberties, or Franchiſes, which were in his hands, as parcels of the Flowers of his Crown, as Bona Felonum, Waif, Eſtrey, &c. that if they come again to the King, they are drowned in the Crown, and if they were before appendant to poſſeſſions, the appendancy is now extinct, and the King is ſeized of them in the Right of his Crown. 3. That if the King grants to J. S. and his Heirs, Catalla Felonum, within the Mannor of D. and afterwards J. S. grants to the King and his Succeſſors, the Mannor of D. with the Franchiſes, and the King by his Letters Patents grants to J. N. and his heirs the ſaid Mannor, and further grants to him and his heirs, tot, talia, tanta, eadem, & conſimilia, Privilegia, Libertates, &c. quot, qualia, quanta, & quæ, the ſaid J. S. had; That in a Quo warranto brought againſt J. N. he cannot plead the Grant in ſuch general manner, but he ought ſpecially to plead the firſt Charter made of the Felons goods, and the re-Grant. 4. If the King graut to J. S. the Mannor of D. and his heirs, and within the Mannor, to have Waif, Eſtray, Bona Felonum, &c. dicto Manerio ſpectant, That in a Grant, theſe words (dicto Manerio ſpectant) do not refer to Goods and Chattels which lye in Charter, and cannot be appendant, yet they ſhall paſs, although they were never demiſed nor uſed with the Mannor. 5. In the principal Caſe, becauſe the Defendant conveyed to himſelf a Title to the Mannor by Feoff, which is pleaded without Deed, and doth not convey to him Title to the goods of Felons, which cannot paſs without Deed, that therefore the goods and Felons ſhould be ſeized into the Kings hands. 1 Cook 9. Part, 25, 26. to 29 The Abbot of Strata Marcellas Caſe.

6. In a Quo Warranto brought againſt the Mayor and Communalty of London, the Caſe was, That a Grant was made to the Mayor and Communalty, that the Mayor for the time being ſhould have plenam & integram Scrutinium gubernationem, & correctionem omnium & ſingulorum Myſteriorum, without granting to them any Court. In that Caſe it was holden, That the ſaid Grant did not give them any irregular, or abſolute power, to correct or puniſh any of the ſubjects of the Kingdoms at their Wills and Pleaſures, but that ſuch a Grant is good for ſearch, by which diſcovery may be made of Offences, and defects, which may be puniſhed by the Law in any Court. Hill. 28 Eliz. The Mayor and Communalty of London's Caſe; Vouch. in Cook 5. Part, 119. in Dr. Bonhams Caſe.

7. Note, In the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Marcella before, It was Objected, That it did not appear by the claim of the Defendant, what Eſtate the Abbot had in the Franchiſes, but generally, Quod licite habuit, & gaviſus fuit, and ſo peradventure he might have them but by Leaſe for years, or for life; But it was thereunto anſwered, and Reſolved, That a general having and enjoying of them, ſhall be intended of a having and enjoying in Fee-ſimple, and that in ſuch a Caſe, a particular eſtate or Intereſt ſhall not be preſumed, unleſs it be eſpecially ſhewed. See Cook, 4. Part, ibidem.

8. A Quo Warranto, againſt the Biſhop of Durham, why he claims to have Bona & Catalla Felonum, and of ſuch as ſtand mute. It was ſhewed in the behalf of the Biſhop, That Durham was a County Palatine, and had Jura Regalia, and by reaſon of that, he claimed thoſe Priviledges. It was urged againſt him, That by Grant of Bona & Catalla Felonum, the goods of perſons who ſtand mute, do not paſs. It was agreed, That in Caſe of a County Palatine, who holds tam Libere per gladium, pront Rex Coronam; and ſo holds the Biſhop his County Palatine, tam libere &c. and he hath Jura Regalia, and ſo all theſe, ſcil. Bona felonum, and the goods of thoſe which ſtand mute. But it was agreed in this caſe, That a man cannot preſcribe to have the goods of Felons, nor of Traytors, becauſe Preſcription only is for matter in fait, but a man may preſcribe in a County Palatine: 12 Eliz. Dyer, 289. and ſo by conſequence, to have all the Incidents belonging to a County Palatine. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Biſhop ought not to be called in queſtion by a Quo Warranto, to ſhew his Priviledges in this Caſe. Paſch. 12 Jac. in B. R. Sir Jerome Bowes and the Biſhop of Durhams Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 226, 227.

9. A Quo Warranto againſt Briggs, to ſhew by what Warrant he claims to have a Forreſt: He put in his Plea, and claimed to have a Forreſt, and a Court of Swanny mote; and ſhewed, That K. H. 2. was ſeized of Clecar, which extended it ſelf into 21 Towns, and by Letters Patents 30 H. 2. did grant this Forreſt R. Clifford; afterwards the ſame came to the Earl of Shrewsbury, and ſo by mean Conveyances, it came to Oliver Briggs, who dyed ſeized, and from him it did deſcend, and come to the Defendant; who pleaded all this matter, which the Kings Attorney General had confeſſed to be true: This Caſe being argued by the Juſtices in open Court, It was agreed by them. 1. That a Juſtice Seat is incident to a Forreſt, and none can have a Juſtice in Eyre but the King. 2. Such a Grant in the hands of a ſubject, is a Chaſe; and not a Forreſt: A ſubject may have a Swanny mote Court, but he cannot have a Juſtice Seat. 3. This Charter never had any allowance, nor any manner of uſage hath been of this Forreſt for 500 years; and if there be a Charter before time of memory, it cannot be pleaded without an allowance. 4. Reſolved, That notwithſtanding the confeſſion of the Attorney general, yet that Judgment ſhould be given, and entred for the King; for if a man claim any thing, and doth not ſhew any uſage of it, Judgment ought to be given for the King; and in this Caſe the Defendant doth not ſhew any uſage of it, nor any confirmation of the Charter to be made; and this is matter of Law, and not matter of Fact, and the Attorney general ought to confeſs only matters of Fact, and leave matters of Law to the Judges. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That upon the Defendants here Diſclaimer of a Juſtice ſeat, that Judgement muſt needs be given againſt him for the Forreſt; for he cannot have a Forreſt without a Juſtice ſeat: Wherefore Briggs the Defendant ſeeing the Opinion of the Court, the matter was no more moved. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. The King and Briggs Caſe, Bolſtrode 2. Part, 295, 296. See Popham 150. the ſame Caſe.

10. In a Quo Warranto againſt the Mayor and Bayliffs of Maidſtone. It was Ordered by the Court, That they ſhould have day to plead, till a fortnight after Trinity Term; they failed of pleading at the day: Whereupon Judgment was entred in the Roll, and a Writ of Seizin awarded, and Execution thereupon: Afterwards by a private Order of the Judges, in the Vacation, It was Ordered, That the Judgment ſhould be ſtayed; and the truth was, It was never entred among the Rolls of the Court, and therefore it was prayed, That the Judgment might not be filed: It was said, That by the Judgment, the King was entituled to have the Franchises, and that he should not lose them; and 15 E. 4. 7. was put, that if the Defendant doth not come, the Franchises shall not be seized into the Kings hands, Nomine districtionis; and if the party who oweth the Franchises doth not come during the Eyre, he shall forfeit such Franchises; and so here in this case: and it was said further in this Case, That this was a Judgment of another Term, and Execution awarded upon it; and the King by awarding of Execution, hath averred, That Judgment is given and entred. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the entring of a Judgment in a private Roll, was but as a Memorandum: And it was further said by the Court, That if a Judgment be pronounced here, and be not Entred, the Judges may alter it the next Term; and in the mean time, that the Defendants Plea shall be Recorded. Trin. 2 Car. in B. R. The Mayor and Bayliffs of Maidstones Case. Popb. 180.

11. In a Quo Warranto against the Corporation of Maidston, for claiming Liberties in the Vilage and Parish of Maidstone (in which a House called the Mote, wherein Sir Humphry Tuston dwelt, and a great house called the Archbishops Palace, which was conveyed to Sir Anthony Astly were scituated) A Judgment was entred by Disclaimer by consent of all parties, Virtute vel pretextu Literarum Patent. gerent. dat. Anno 17 Jacobi Regis; but because Gerent. Dat. 17 Jac. Regis, were in the Margin, and by a stroak made cross the words, the Clerk had omitted them in the Ingrossing of the Judgment which was entred upon Record, Anno 2 Car. Regis: It was moved, that those words might be interlined, and the Record amended, being omitted by the negligence of the Clerk; which was much opposed by Sir Humphry Tustons and Sir John Astleys Council, That the Record could not be amended, being in another Term, much less in another year, especially in the Kings Case; and when none of the Statutes of amendments extends to a Quo Warranto, or suits, where the King is party: But notwithstanding all this, It was holden by the Court to be amendable by the course of the Common Law, as well in another Term, as in the Term in which it was ended; and being meerly a Misprision of the Clerk by misreading of the Paper book, and by examination of all circumstances, it is no more then when a special Verdict is misprisented, which may be amended and rectified by the Notes of the Clerk of the Assizes; Whereupon by the Rule of the Court, the Record was amended. Mich. 4 Car in B. R. Sir Humphry Tuston, and the Mayor and Bayliffs of Maidstones Case. Cro. 1. Part, 102.

12. In a Quo Warranto for claiming a Leet, and a Court Baron from three weeks to three weeks, infra Manerium, de W. & D. and to have Bona & Catalla Felonum, and divers other Liberties; the Defendant disclaimed in all but the having of a Court Baron within his Mannor of W. and for that said, that J. S. was seized of the Mannor of W. whereof the Mannor of D. and the Mannor of S. within the said Mannor of W. were parcel, and demised, and demisable, time out of minde, by Copie of Court Roll, according to the Mannor of W. and that Mannor of D. is, and had been known, as well by the name of the Mannor of D. as by the name of a Messuage, twenty Acres of Customary Land, and twenty shillings Rent; and that J. S. granted it by Copie to the Defendant in Fee, by the name of a Messuage, &c. by reason whereof he held there a Court Baron. 1. It was moved, If a Quo Warranto did lye of a Court Baron; It was holden by the Court, that it did: for it is a matter of Right to hold Courts, and to administer Justice, which if any doth without Right, a Quo Warranto lyeth against him, to shew by what Title he holds it: But if he entitles himself to a Mannor, then he needs not to shew that he is to have a Court Baron, because it is an incident to it. But it was holden by all the Court, That a Copyholder cannot hold a Court Baron to have forfeitures, and hold Pleas in a Writ of Right; for it is Oppositum in Objecto, That a Tenant at Will should hold a Court. Fleming Chief Justice held, That he might hold a Court only to admit Copyholders, but all the other Judges denyed it and afterwards it was adjudged for the King, and that the Defendant should be ousted of the Court Baron. Quo Minus.

What persons shall have the Priviledge of the Exchequer, to sue by Quo Minus; and what shall be a good Count in it, and what matter good to abate the Writ, what not.

1. IN the Exchequer, the Queens Fermor brought a Quo Minus, and in his Count, entituled the Queen to the Reversion of his Term by the Grant of his Lessor, such was Sir Rich. Sackville, of the Reversion to the Duke of Northumberland, with his Attornment to the said Duke, and after after the Duke granted it over to Edw. 6. in Fee, by Deed enrolled, and did not alledge expreſly, That Sir Rich. Sackvile granted the Reverſion by Deed, but generally, Quod conceſſit Reverſionem in Feodo, ad quam quidem conceſſionem idem Querens ſe inde attornavit. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, That in this Caſe the Count was good, without laying per chartam, or by producing the Deed in Court, becauſe the Fermor was a ſtranger to the Deed of Grant, and he did not convey any Title to him under it. See 2 Eliz. Dyer, 174.

2. J. S. Receiver General of the Revenues of the Crown, being ſued in the Court of Common Pleas, to the Exigent, brought a Writ of Priviledge out of the Exchequer, directed to the Juſtice of the Common Pleas, & Sociis ſuis, in his verbis, viz. Quia datum eſt nobis intelligere, quod J. H. Gener. & Uxor ejus Edmundum Hunt Generoſum, receptorem noſtrum Reverſionum Generalem Coronæ noſtræ, coram vobis per nomen E. Hunt, nuper de London Generoſ. trahunt in placitum, Quo Minus idem E. H. nobis, the receptoribus prædict. faciſfacere valeat ut tenetur, &c. Vobis præcipimus ne placitum prædict. verſus prædict. E. Hunt, ad ſectam quorumque tenentis; but notwithſtanding this Writ, the Priviledge was diſallowed by the Court, Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 328.

3. A man brought an Action of Trover and Converſion in the Exchequer; The Defendant Pleaded, that the Plaintiff had an Action depending in the Court of Kings Bench for the ſame Trover. It was Reſolved, That in that caſe, the Bill in the Exchequer ſhould abate. 2. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That although the firſt Action was in another Court, yet the Plea was good, for that it doth not appear by the Plea, that either the Plaintiff or Defendant have Priviledge in the Exchequer, and then by the Statute of Articuli ſuper chartas, it is provided that no common Plea ſhall be in the Exchequer. Mich. 33 Eliz. in Scaccario, Cook 5. Part, 62. Sparries Caſe.

4. Where a Prior is Debtor to the King, an ought to have Tythes of another Spiritual Parſon he may ſue for the ſubſtruction of the Tythes in the Eccleſiaſtical Court, or in the Exchequer, Cook 5. Part 16. in the caſe of the Eccleſiaſtical Law. In 38 E. 3. 20. A Prior Alien, Fermor of the King, was indebted to the King for his Ferm; and being ſued for the ſame in the Exchequer, he ſhewed to the Court, That there was a Parſon who held a portion of Tythes, which was parcel of the poſſeſſions belonging to his Ferm, and that the Parſon withheld the Tythes from him, ſo as by reaſon thereof he could not pay the King his Ferm, without having of the Tythes which were in the Parſons hands: And upon this a Quo Minus iſſued out of the Exchequer, at the ſuit of the King and of the Prior, againſt the Parſon, for the paying of thoſe Tythes to the King; and there it is ſaid by Shipwith, That of that which may concern the King, and may turn to his advantage, and may haſten his buſineſs, whether the ſame be Temporal or Spiritual, the Court of Exchequer ſhall have Juriſdiction of it. 38 E. 3. 20. acc.

5. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court amongſt other things, That if a ſum of money be promiſed to be paid at ſeveral days, an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit lyeth for not payment at the firſt, although no Action of Debt lyeth, until all the dayes be paſt; and Note further, That in that Caſe it was holden, That if the Debtor of the King ſueth by Quo Minus in the Exchequer, the Defendant ſhall not wage his Law for the benefit of the King.

See the Priviledge of Parſons to ſue by Quo Minus in the Exchequer, in Paſch. 21 Jac. in the Court of Wards, in Sir Edw. Cooks Caſe, Godbolt 289. and vouched Lib. A. Title, Debt to the King, Sect. 14.

Raviſhment of Ward.

Raviſhment of Ward; by whom, and for whom, and againſt whom it lyeth, and what ſhall be recovered in it; What not.

1. THe Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, did not lye by the Common Law for Guardian in Knight Service, but the ſame was given by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 35. And by the Equity of that Statute, Guardian in Soeage ſhall have a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, as Guardian in Knight Service. See Fitzh. Nat. Br. 140.

2. At the Common Law, and before the making of the Statute of Merton, cap. 6. The Law gave the Lord ſeveral Remedies, if his Ward were taken away, detained, or Married, viz. 1. An Action of Treſpaſs wherein he ſhould recover damages only. 2. A Writ of Right of Ward, wherein he ſhould recover the Cuſtody of the body and Lands, but if the Ward were married, then was the Lord driven to his Action of Treſpaſs, Quare ſe intruſit Maritagio non ſatisfacto; and that was, where he entred and intruded upon the Lord, either before or after his full age. But if the Heir himſelf entred into the Land after he came of full age, and married himſelf, there at the Common Law, the Writ de valore Maritagii did lye againſt the Heir. See Cook 9. Part, 74. in Dr. Huſſeyes Caſe.

3. There are two ſorts of Raviſhments of Ward, ſcil. in fact, and in Law. Raviſhment in fact, is when one taketh and carryeth away the Ward. Raviſhment in Law is, as if the Ward enters into Religion; and for ſuch Raviſhment, the Soveraign of the Religious houſe ſhall anſwer, for that his admiſſion of him is a Raviſhment in Law. See Litt. 45. But in that Caſe the Lord ſhall loſe the Wardſhip of the Land, becauſe the Heir being Civilly dead, the Land by Act in Law ſhall diſcend to another who ſhall be in Ward, or elſe pay Relief. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 133.

4. If a man or a Woman marry a Ward to his or her Daughter, or any other perſon, this is a Raviſhment in Law: So it is if a man procureth a Ward to go from his Guardian. Or if one Raviſh a Ward, or eject the Lord to the uſe of a ſtranger without his privity, if the ſtranger agree thereunto; in all theſe Caſes they are eſteemed Raviſhers in Law. See 8 E. 3. 52. 30 E. 3. 6. 38 E. 3. 18. acc.

5. The Father may have a Raviſhment of Ward, Quare filium ſuum et hæredem rapuit, cujus Maritagium ad ipſum pertinet, but that is at the Common Law, but the Father cannot have a Raviſhment of Ward of his Son upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 35. becauſe that Statute is intended only and principally of Guardian in Knight Service.

6. In a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, the Jury ſhall enquire. 1. Of the value of the Marriage. 2. Of the age of the Ward. 3. If he be married or not. Of the two firſt, the Jury muſt give a direct Verdict, but for the other they may give a Conditional Verdict; as to ſay, Whether he be married or no, they knew not; and if he be married, then they aſſeſs damages. But although the Verdict may be Conditional, yet the Judgment muſt be abſolute. But yet the Plaintiff in the Writ of Raviſhment, if he pleaſeth may have Judgment to recover the Marriage, and the leſſer damages, and have Execution of the body. Or if the Sheriff returneth that the Heir is married, then may the Plaintiff upon the Judgment have a Scire facias for the greater damages, and have Judgment to recover them. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 440.

7. If a man be Guardian in the right of his Wife, although the Wife dyeth, yet the Husband ſhall have the Wardſhip of the Heir, becauſe it is a thing veſted. But if a Guardian marrieth the Heir after the age of 14 years, and after the Heir is taken by a ſtranger, in that Caſe the Guardian ſhall not have a Raviſhment of Ward, becauſe he hath had the value and effect of his Marriage before. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 142. acc.

8. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. for raviſhing of his Ward, and the Writ was Contra pacem, without the words vi et armis. It was ſaid by Dodderidge Juſtice, That the Plaintiff had his Election, either to bring his Action at the Common Law, or his Action of Raviſhment of Ward upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. And in this Caſe, Caſe, it doth appear, That here is an Action upon the Caſe brought only, for the taking and detaining of the Ward, ſo as he cannot preſer him in Marriage, and he ſaid upon this ſpecial matter, the Action upon the Caſe did lye, without the words vi et armis. 2. In this Caſe it was ſaid, That a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward ought to be brought in the Common Pleas. But yet a man may bring a Writ of Raviſhment in the Kings Bench, and if the Defendant be in the Cuſtody of the Marſhal of the Marſhalſea. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Shortridge and Hills Caſe. Godbolt. 426.

9. Raviſhment of Ward was brought upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 35. againſt Husband and Wife, and others. The Jury found, That the Wife was guilty of the Raviſhment, but not the Husband, and aſſeſſed Coſts and Damages, and the Jury further found, That the Heir maritatus exiſtit, and that he was of the age of 16 years at the time of the Marriage, and found the value of the Marriage to be 800 l. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That by the Common Law for the Raviſhment of a Ward, an Action of Treſpaſs lay againſt the parties in which the Plaintiff ſhould recover Coſts and damages; and that ſuch Action of Treſpaſs did lye aſwell againſt a Feme Covert, as againſt a Feme Sole. But no Writ of Raviſhment of Ward did lye at the Common Law. 2. It was holden by Walmeſly and Cook Chief Juſtices, That a Feme Covert was not within the Statute of Weſt. 2. becauſe ſhe is diſabled to ſatisfy, and the Goods and Lands of the Husband who is innocent, are not lyable by the Statute to anſwer for the Raviſhment done by his Wife, and the Law will not intend ſo ſevere a puniſhment for the not doing of that, which to do the Law hath diſabled the party, and the Plaintiff in the Principal Caſe might have had his remedy by Action of Treſpaſs at the Common Law againſt thoſe who committed the Raviſhment; or a Writ de valore Maritagii againſt the Heir himſelf. 3. It was Reſolved, That when an Action is brought upon the Statute, that the Plaintiff cannot have his Election to have his Judgment at the Common Law, nor on the contrary part, becauſe he ought to have Judgment purſuant to the Original Action, which is the foundation and ground of his Suit. 4. It was Reſolved, That in the Principal Caſe, the Verdict was inſufficient for the incertainty who procures the Heir to be Married, viz. the Raviſher, or a ſtranger; nor when he was married, if before the Raviſhment, or after it, and doubtful and ambiguous Verdicts are void. 5. It was Reſolved, That a man in a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward brought upon the Statute, ſhould recover damages. And it was ſaid in this Caſe, That for the Judgment, the Statute being in the diſjunctive, ſcil. abjuret regnum, vel habeat perpetuam priſonam; that it was in the Election of the Judges of the Court, to give which of the ſaid Judgments they pleaſed. Cook 9. Part, 72, 73. Dr. Huſſey's Caſe.

10. If a Ward be raviſhed within age, and a Writ of Right of Ward be brought, in that Caſe, the Defendant may plead, That the Ward is come of full age, pendant the Writ, for that Writ is to demand the body of the Ward. But of a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward, there it is no Plea, That the Ward is come of age; but the enquiry in Raviſhment of Ward is, Whether he were married, or came of full age, as inferring, that though he were not married, yet if during the Marriage he were come of full age, that the Raviſher ſhould anſwer the value, becauſe the Guardian now cannot have his Marriage. See Book Entries, Tit. Raviſhment of Ward. 18. And ſee Cook, Book Entries, Tit. Raviſhment, ult. where the Raviſher was, condemned in the value of the Marriage, when the Ward dyed unmarried, and within age after the Raviſhment, becauſe the Guardian loſt the Marriage.

11. One brought a Writ of Ward againſt A. and demanded R. Son and Heir of J. as his Ward. A. came in, and ſaid, That ſhe claimed nothing in the Ward but Nurture; and in Court ſhe tendred R. to the Plaintiff, who did refuſe him becauſe he was Married. A. anſwered he was not married by her: the Plaintiff Replyed, he was married in her Ward, after ſhe became deforceor, for which time, ſhe was to anſwer. Unto which it was ſaid for her, That inaſmuch as ſhe came lawfully to the poſſeſſion of the Ward, and did tender him at the firſt day, ſhe could not be counted a Deforceor, and ſo ſhe was not amerced. But yet in that Caſe there was Judgment by agreement, That ſhe ſhould yield the Ward, and 20 s. but becauſe ſhe was not contra bona fide poſſeſſor, ſhe was to anſwer only for her own act; for her poſſeſſion from the beginning being lawful, and without wrong, could not be wreſted to the wrong which was done by others, and therefore ſhe was not charged for the Raviſhment, nor with damages for the Marriage. See 8 E. 3. 45. acc.

12. Note, If my Tenant by Knight Service dyeth his Heir within age, I am preſently in the poſſeſſion of the body, without ſeizure. And therefore the Treſpaſs at the Common Law, nor the Writ of Raviſhment now, doth not renounce the property or poſſeſſion of the Ward, but doth puniſh only the Temeraria Occupatio, and gives the Plaintiff damages according to his hurt, be it by abuſe, or marriage of the Ward, and if another take away the Ward from the Raviſher, the firſt Raviſher can have no Action against the second, but the Guardian may have an Action against them both, and shall recover against them both for their several Ravishments. And it was said, That if one Ravish my Ward, and take him out of my possession by wrong, and after that another takes him from him, and marries him, or he marrieth himself during his Non-age, That in this Case I shall and may by Writ of Ravishment brought against my first Ravisher, recover not only damages for the taking him away, but also for the value of the Marriage. See by Hobart, in More and Hussey's Case. Hob. 99.

13. A. brought a Ravishment of Ward against B. and counted that J. S. Auncester of the Enfant, whose Heir he is, was seized of Lands in Fee, and held the same of the Bishop of Winton in Socage, and dyed, his Heir within the age of 14 years, and that the Custody of the Enfant did belong to him as Prochin Amy, by force of which he seised him, &c. The Defendant said; That the Land was holden of him by Knight Service, absque hoc, that it was holden of the Bishop; upon which Issue was joyned. The truth of the Case was, That all the Land discended, was holden in Socage; and the Opinion of the Court was prayed, if that matter should trench to the Issue as joyned. The Court was of Opinion, That it did not, for if all be holden in Socage, it is not material if part of it be holden of another, so it be holden in Socage. Pasc. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Samford and Wards Case. Leon. 111.

Rape.

1. RApe, properly taken, is, when a man hath carnal knowledg of a Woman by force, and against her Will; and the word Rapere to Ravish, signifieth legally as much as Carnaliter cognoscere, which cannot be expressed in legal proceedings by other words. The offence is called Rape, and the Offendor is called a Ravisher.

2. Rape was Felony by the Auncient Law of the Nation; which see, Mirror of Justices 37. And see there 83. and 147. the Pleadings then in an Appeal of Rape. But see that afterwards by the Statute of West. 1. cap. 13. That was taken away, Imprisonment was imposed upon the Offender for two years, if the party had not to satisfy the King withall for the Offence, and to recompence the party who was Ravished. See Star. West. 1. cap. 13. See after that by the Statute of West. 2. and divers other later Statutes, Rape was again made Felony. And therefore if the Lord had Ravished his Nief or Bond-woman, she might have had an Appeal of Rape against her Lord, as at this day she may have. See Cook 2. Part, Institutes 184. acc.

3. J. S. who was a Scot, was Indicted in the Kings Bench of the Rape of a Girl who was but of the age of 7 years, and no more; and the Indictment was quod ipsam felonicè rapuit, et carnaliter cognovit. He pleaded, Not Guilty, upon which a Jury was returned, and then he prayed his Tryal per medietatem linguæ, but that was denyed by the Court, and also it was then too late after the general Issue pleaded. Upon the Evidence of divers Ancient Matrons, he was found Guilty. But the Court doubted, Whether a Rape could be of a Child of that age, but if she had bin 9 years of age, or above, then they conceived it might be a Rape, for at such age she might be endowed. Quære legem. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 304.

4. An Appeal of Rape was brought by E. L. against R. P. and divers Exceptions were taken to the Count in the Appeal. 1. That it is Quod tali die anno et Parochia eam rapuit et defloravit, et carnaliter cognovit, without saying felonicè. 2. Because it was not averred in fact, That the Plaintiff did not assent to the Rape, neither before nor after the fact done; for in such Case the Appeal is given to the Woman by the Statute of West. 2. cap. 34. but otherwise, it is given to the King by Indictment only, the Exceptions were not Resolved by the Court. Trin. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 201. Ellen Lambs Case.

5. A Bill of Conspiracy was preferred against the Defendant for a Conspiracy to Indict the Plaintiff of a Rape; And the Plaintiff alledged in his Bill, That an Indictment was preferred against the Defendant before the Justices of Assise and Nisi Prius in the County of N. and did not lay it to be before Justices of Oyer and Terminer, and Goal-delivery. In that Case it was holden by the Court to be a good Exception, because Justices of Assise and Nisi Prius have not power to take Indictments. But afterwards upon view of the Bill, because it appeared that the principal thing tryable in this Court, was the Conspiracy, the Bill was retained. And in this Case it was said and agreed, That in Conspiracy the matter must be layed to be done falsò et malitiosè; and if it be in Case of a Rape, it must be layed that there was recens prosecutio of it, it, otherwiſe it would argue a conſent; and therefore in the principal Caſe, becauſe the Defendant did not prefer an Indictment of Rape in convenient time after the Rape ſuppoſed to be done, but concealed the ſame for half a years time, and then would have preferred an Indictment againſt the Plaintiff for the ſame Rape; the Court was of Opinion, That the Indictment preferred was falſe and malitious. 6. Note, where the Wife conſents to a Raviſher, having Iſſue a Daughter, and the Daughter entreth into the Land by force of the Statute of 6 R. 6. cap. 5. and after a Son is born, the Son ſhall never deveſt the Land which was veſted in the daughter by purchaſe for the forfeiture. See 9 H. 7. 25. 5 E. 4. 6. Cook 1. Part, 95. in Shelbyes Caſe, acc.

7. Note, That by the Statute of [Rich. 2. greater puniſhment is inflicted, both upon the party Raviſher, and the party Raviſhed, then was before, if ſhe conſent to the Raviſhment; for that in ſuch Caſe, both the Raviſhed, or the Raviſher, are diſabled to challenge Inheritance, Dower, or any other Eſtate in the Land; but in ſuch Caſe, the next of bloud may enter into [the Lands; and alſo the Husband of her who conſents to the Raviſhment; Or if ſhe hath no Husband, her Father, or next of bloud ſhall have an Appeal of Rape in ſuch Caſe, wherein no wager of Battel ſhall be allowed. And if a Woman be Raviſhed by her next of kin, and conſenteth to him, and hath neither Husband nor Father, the next of kin to him ſhall have the Appeal; for he hath diſabled himſelf by the Rape, whereby he becomes a Felon. Rationabili parte, Rationabilibus Diviſis, and Rationabili parte Bonorum.

1. THe Writ de Rationabili parte is a Writ of Right which lyeth only betwixt Privies in bloud; as betwixt Brothers in Gavelkind, betwixt Siſters and other Coparceners, as Nephews, Neeces, and it lyeth only of Lands in Fee ſimple. As if the Anceſtor ſeiſed of Lands in Feeſimple, maketh a Leaſe thereof for life, having Iſſue divers Daughters, and the Tenant for life dyeth, and one of the Daughters entreth into the whole Lands, and diſforceth thereof her other Siſters, they may have and joyn in this Writ de Rationabili parte, and thereby they ſhall recover their proportions of the Lands againſt their other Siſter. But if they ſue this Writ againſt a ſtranger who deforceth them after the death of their common Anceſter; in ſuch Caſe, the Writ ſhall abate; for againſt a ſtranger they ought to ſue an Aſſiſe of Mortdaunceſter, or ſuch other Writ (as their Caſe ſhall require) of the Seiſin of their Anceſter. See Fitzh. Nat. Brev. 10.

2. Note, That in this Writ de Rationabili parte brought, the parties cannot joyn Iſſue to be tryed by Battel, becauſe it is a Writ which lyeth in privity, and between Privies in bloud; betwixt whom Battel doth not lye. But yet if one [Coparcener doth claim the Land by a Feoffment from their Anceſtor in Fee, if the other Coparcener will deforce her, and put her out of the Land; in that Caſe ſhe may have a Writ of Right againſt the Coparcener which deforceth her, in which Writ ſhe may joyn the Miſe by Grand Aſſiſe, or by Battel, becauſe in that Caſe ſhe doth not claim the Land as Heir to her Anceſter. See Plow. Com. 306. acc.

3. De Rationabili [Diviſis is alſo a Writ of Right, and properly lyeth where two men have Lands in divers Towns or Hamlets, ſo as the one is ſeiſed of the Lands in one Town, and they do not know the bounds of the Towns or Hamlets where the Lands do lye, nor which is the Land of the the one, which the Land of the other; then this Writ lyeth for the one against the other. And this Writ may be directed to the Sheriff of the County, and is in the nature of a Commission unto him, commanding him, That he make Division and Partition of the Lands betwixt the parties by metes and Bounds. See Fitz. Nat. Br. acc. And see tha this Writ also lyeth, and shall be where two Lords are of Wasts adjoyning, that this Writ shall be directed to the Sheriff to make Division of it betwixt the Lords; and such Division made of the Waste by the Sheriff, shall bind the Lords for ever. See 29 E. 3. 58. acc.

4. De Rationabili parte Bonorum is, where the Wife after the death of her Husband, cannot have the third part of her Husbands goods after his Debts paid, and funeral expences performed. And therefore by the Statute of Magna Charta she may have this Writ against the Executors of her Husband for her reasonable part of the goods. It hath bin a Question, If this was due by the Common Law or by the Custome only of the Countries and places. See 30 H. 6. Fitz. Tit. Responder 95. A woman brought a Writ for the moyety of the goods, and counted upon the Custome, but not speaking of any Town, or that it was the Custome of the Realm. See 39 E. 3. 9. Detinue was brought by the Heir, and he Declared, That the Heir by the Custome ought to have the reasonable part of the goods of his Father, who dyed Intestate, and it was holden good. See 31 E. 3. A Woman did demand the moyety of her Husbands goods, because he had no Children, and counted upon the Custome of the Realm. But see 21 H. 6. 1, & 2. It seemeth it is due by Custome, and not per Legem terræ. And see Mich. 18 and 19 Eliz. in B. R. a Writ was brought and allowed there; notwithstanding that Exception was taken to it, That it was maintainable by the special Custome of London. 3 E. 3. Debt. 156. there the Count is, by the Custome of the Town of Northampton. And see 7 E. 4. 20. Exception was taken, because the Plaintiff did not Count, that the Custome did continue. But for the determination of this Question, Whether it be due by Law or Custome. See Cook 2. Part, Institutes 33. out of Bracton. Lib. 2. fol. 61.

5. Note, That the Administrators of a man that dyeth Intestate, or Executor of any, after the Debts paid, and Will performed, ought not to take any thing of the Testators to their own use, but ought to divide the same to the Wife and Children of the Intestate, or Testater, and that by the words of the Statute of Magna Charta, viz. salvis uxori et Liberis suis rationabilibus partibus suis. Cook 2. Part, Institutes 33. acc.

6. A. brought a Writ de Rationabili parte Bonorum against B. and counted of the Custome of the Town of Nottingham, and shewed all specially, and the Conclusion was, That he detayned particulariter goods of the party Plaintiff, which appertained to him as his part and portion. Upon Non Detinet pleaded. It was found, That the Plaintiff was entituled to this Action many years before the Statute of 21 Jac. and that he had not brought his Action within the time limitted by the said Statute. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff for these reasons, 1. Because that this Action is an Original Writ, and is not mentioned in the Statute of 21 Jac. and although the Issue is Non Detinet, yet it is no Action of Detinue, for a Writ of Detinue lyes not for money, unless it be in bags, but a Rationabili parte Bonorum lyes for money in pecuniis numeratis, because Statutes are not made to extend to those Cases which seldome or never happen, as this Case is but to these which frequently happen. Also this Statute takes away the Common Law, and shall not be extended to Equity; and upon these Reasons, the Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff. Trin. 6 Car. in C. B. Sherwin and Cartwrights Case. Hutton 109.

Recognizances.

Recognizances.

1. Who, and before whom; and who hath power to take Recognizances: Where taken, shall be good; Where not. And what shall be said to be a good Recognizance; when taken, what not: and by whom it may be acknowledged, by whom not.

1. A Man made a Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute Merchant before the Mayor of Chester; and it was supposed, That the said Mayor had not Authority to take Statutes by the King as the City of London and other Cities had. The Conusor made a Feoffment of the Land to a stranger, and afterwards the Conusee sued forth Execution upon the Statute, and thereupon the Feoffee of the Conusor brought an Audita Querela. Trin. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 35.

2. A Recognizance was made to Sir Nicholas Bacon Knight, Keeper of the Great Seal, and two others. And it was acknowledged before the said Sir Nicholas Bacon. It was demanded of the Justices, if it were good or not. It was the Opinion of the Court, That as to Sir Nicholas Bacon it was void, and to the other two it was good enough. Pasc. 5 Eliz. Dyer, 221.

3. A. seised of a house in London, took a Wife, and afterwards acknowledged a Recognizance to the Chamberlain of London according to the Custome for Orphanage money: And afterwards he acknowledged another Recognizance before the Recorder and Mayor of the Staple to B. B. sued out Execution upon his Recognizance, and had a Liberate, but it was not Returned; and upon that the Sheriff delivered the said house to B. The Successor of the Chamberlain sued Execution upon his Recognizance, and had an Elegit to a Serjeant at Mace, immediate Officer to the Court, and had the moyety of the said house delivered to him in extent. The Recognizor dyed, his Wife had the house delivered to her for her Dower, and dyed. The Chamberlain assigned his Interest over to F. and B. assigned also his Interest to F. the Heir of the Conusor demised the house to the Plaintiff, and the Defendant under the Title of F. entred. In this Case (amongst other points), It was Resolved, That the Successor of the Chamberlain of London, should have the said Recognizance. For although the Corporation of Chamberlain be a sole Corporation, yet it was by Custome. And the Custome which had created and made him a Corporation in Succession, had enabled the Successor to take such Recognizances made to his Predecessor. And it was said, That the Custome was a reasonable Custome, for his Executors or Administrators ought not to entermeddle with such Recognizances which by the Custome are taken in his Corporate Capacity, and not in his private Capacity. Cook 4 Part, 65, 66. Fulwood's Case.

4. In a Scire facias to have Execution of a Recognizance; the Case was, A special Supplicavit for the Peace was directed out of the Chancery to A. and B. Justices of the Peace, and to the Sheriff of the County to take a Recognizance of L. M. and N. for the Peace and good Behaviour. And the Commission was to A. B. and the Sheriff et cuilibet eorum. The Supplicavit was delivered to the two Justices who took a Recognizance from L. and M. and N. could not be found. The Sheriff was afterwards out of his Office. The new Sheriff made Return, That M. and N. non sunt inventi in balliva mea. And Returned, That A. and B. had taken a Recognizance of L. as appeareth, per quandam Schedulam huic annex. in hæc verba, &c. The Question in this Case was, That the Dedimus being directed to the two Justices, and the Sheriff, and being delivered to the two Justices, Whether the other Sheriff could certify it, and if a Record taken by one, can be certified by another. It was said by Lee Chief Justice, That when a Recognizance is put to a writing or Note of Remembrance thereof taken before Commissioners, it is immediately a Record. One takes notes of a Recognizance and dyeth: He to whose hands the Notes are come, may certify the same; and he said that in the Principal Case, the Sheriff might Return the Writ or Commission ex Officio, and also Return, Quod executio istius brevis patet in quadam Schedula &c. But it was the Opinion of Haughton and Dodderidge Justices, That the Record did not come duly into the Chancery, and so it was not any Record upon which there could be any prosecution for the King. The Questions in this Case, they said were two. 1. If the Sheriff, as this Case is, might make the Return; and they held, That he could not. For when the party delivers the Commission to the two Justices, the Sheriff cannot entermeddle with it, for then the Justices ought to return the Recognizance by vertue of that Commission. See 21 H. 7. 20. acc. and they held, That the Supplicavit and the Recognizance was not well returned by the new Sheriff, but it ought to have bin by the other Commiſſioners. There was no Judgment g ven, but the Caſe was adjourned, becauſe Lea Chief Juſtice was very ſtrong in Opinion againſt the other Juſtices. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Leonard's Caſe. Godbolt, 355.

5. A man was bound in a Recognizance for his good Behaviour. And it was ſhewed, That he was Arreſted by a Conſtable for ſuſpition of a Felony, and that he eſcaped from him. To which he pleaded, Not Guilty. Exception was taken, becauſe it was not ſhewed, That a Felony was committed, which might cauſe ſuſpition of the party. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That it needed not. For although no ſuch Felony was committed, and although the Arreſt by a Conſtable were tortious. Yet it was holden, That the Recognizor had forfeited his Recognizance by making an Eſcape, which was a Miſ-behaviour. Paſc. 26 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 222 acc.

6. In Debt upon a Recognizance, The Plaintiff declared upon a Recognizance taken before the Lord Hobart Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas, which was taken by him at Sergeants Inn in Fleet-ſtreet out of Term, and layed his Action in London. The Queſtion was, Whether the Action ought to be layed in Middleſex where the Recogniſance is Recorded, or in London, becauſe the entry of the Record is, That the Recognizance was acknowledged before the Lord Hobart ut ſupra. In this Caſe it was agreed. 1. That the ſeveral Judges may take Recognizances out of Term in any part of England. 2. That although it was not a perfect Record before it was entred upon the Roll, yet when it is entred, it is a Recognizance from the firſt acknowledgment, and binds the perſon as a Recognizance from that time. 3. That it might be in London, as the firſt and more worthy part of the Act. And it was further Reſolved, That a Scire facias upon ſuch a Recognizance ſhall be directed to the Sheriffs of London, and not to the Sheriffs of Middleſex. And a Preſident was cited upon a Judgment given in the Common Pleas at Hertford Term, and the Records brought to Weſtminſter. Yet the Scire facias went to the Sheriff of Hertford, and not to the Sheriff of Middleſex, becauſe by the Record it appeared, That the Judgment was given at Hertford. But if the Entry of the Record were general, that the Recognizance was taken before the Lord Hobart, then it ſhould be intended it was taken in open Court, and then the Action was to be brought in Middleſex. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Hall and Winkfields Caſe. Hob. 195.

7. A. B. and C. were jointly bound in a Recognizance to the Plaintiff, viz. A. in 120 l. and B. and C. in 60 l. et utreque eorum. That if the Plaintiff ſhould bring Debt of 60 l. againſt A. before Octob. Hill. following in the Common Pleas, that he within eight dayes after warning, ſhould appear by himſelf, or by his Attorney, and if he were condemned, that he ſhould ſatisfy the Debt, or elſe render himſelf to the Priſon of the Fleet, there to remain quouſque, &c. and the Plaintiff layed de facto, that he brought Debt of 60 l. in the Common Pleas againſt A. and it was ſo far proceeded in the Action, that the Plaintiff ſhould recover his Debt of 60 l. and 5 l. for Coſts, and that he ſued forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciend. againſt A. and that he had not paid the condemnation, nor rendred his body. Upon which the Defendant demurred, becauſe the Action was brought only againſt C. whereas it ought to have bin brought againſt him and B. for the words are uterque cognovit. But it was Ruled by the Court, That foraſmuch as both of them appeared at the day of the Return. Et taliter in eadem Curia proceſſum fuit, that the Plaintiff recovered, it was ſufficient, being but a conveyance to the Action, and collateral. Another Exception was taken, becauſe the Plaintiff had not ſhewed, That he gave warning of the Action brought. It was holden by three of the Juſtices, That it was a material Exception, becauſe it is a Condition precedent, which ought to be firſt alledged to be performed, wherefore for that cauſe, Judgment was entred for the Defendant. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Hargrave and Rogers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 98.

8. In the Exchequer, the Caſe was this; F. before the Statute of 23 Eliz. was always a Recuſant and for money lent by him to S. ſome before the Statute, and ſome after, he took a Recognizance in the name of the Defendants and others, and alſo a Grant of a Rent-charge by Deed Indented, with Condition of Redemption. And took ſeveral other Recognizances for the performance of Covenants, in the names of other, all which ſaid Recognizances did amount to 20000 l. but were to the uſe of F. and to B. at his diſpoſition. The Statute was made 28 Eliz. by which it was enacted, That for default of payment of 20 l. a Moneth, the Queen by proceſs out of the Exchequer, might take, ſecure, and enjoy all the Goods, &c. and two parts of the Lands of the Recuſant; F. was convict of Recuſancy, and did not pay the 20 l. a Moneth. The Queſtion was, if the King ſhould have the benefit of theſe Recognizances. It was objected, That if they had bin acknowledged to F. himſelf, they ſhould not have bin forfeited, for that the Statute ſpeaks only of Goods, and debts are not included within the word [Goods]. 2. The Recognizances are for the performance of Covenants of Rent-charge, which favours of the realty, and ſo not included cluded within the intent of the Act which extends only to goods. 3. If any forfeiture did accrue to the King in this Case by the Act, it was by reason of the word (Goods), but here F. had not any goods, but only a meer Truſt and Confidence, which is nothing in conſideration of the Law. But it was Reſolved by all the Barons, and other the Juſtices. 1. That if the Recognizances had bin acknowledged to the party himſelf that they were given to the King within the word (Goods) and they were Chattells perſonal, and Chattells perſonalls were given to the King by the Act. 2. Becauſe aſwell the Recognizances, as the Rent-charge were made for the payment of money; and when Recognizances are forfeited, they are but Chattels perſonal. And 3. Here was Covin apparent in this Caſe, for when he was a Recuſant, at all times after the Statute of 23 Eliz. It ſhall be intended, That he took thoſe Recognizances in other mens Names, with an intent to prevent the King, and to defeat him of the levying of the forfeiture, and an Act done by Covin in the Caſe of the King per Obligatum, ſhall be equal to acts done by Covin de Directo to the party himſelf. And in this Caſe it was holden, That although one of the Recognizances was taken before the Statute of 28 Eliz. was made, yet it being to his uſe, it ſhall be in the nature of a Chattel in him; and although F. was not convict till 41 Eliz. that was not material, for at all times before that he was ſubject to a forfeiture for his Recuſancy. 2. Execution upon Recognizance, and what manner of Execution ſhall be awarded, and how and by whom Executed; Where Diſcharged.

1. AT the Common Law, when a common perſon ſued one upon a Recognizance, or had a Judgment for Debt or Damages, he could not have the body of the Defendant, nor his Lands, except in ſpecial Caſes in Execution, but he was to have Execution only of his Goods and Chattells, or of his Corn, or of other the like profits which grow of the Land. By which the Sheriff was commanded, Quod de terris et catallis. A Levari facias &c. Or he might have had a Writ called Fieri facias, which was only de bonis et catallis, both which Writs were to be ſued within the year after the Judgment, or the Recognizance acknowledged, and if he had not the one or the other within the year, the Plaintiff or Conuſee was put to his Action of debt. But by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 45. a Scire facias was given. And by the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 18. cum debitum fuerit recuperatum Elegit was given of the moyety of the Land, which was the firſt Act which ſubjected Land to the Execution of a Judgment or a Recognizance. Cook 3. Part, 12. Sir William Herberts Caſe.

2. The Tenor of a Recognizance taken in Chancery, came from thence into the Common Pleas by Mittimus to the intent to have a Scire facias upon it out of the Common Pleas. But the Opinion of the Court was, That a Scire facias ſhould not Iſſue forth upon the Tenor, but an Original Action of Debt, and then the Plaintiff might declare upon the Tenor. Paſc. 22 Eliz. Dyer, 369. See 5 Eliz. Dyer, 217. acc.

3. In Debt upon an eſcape, the Caſe was, A. did acknowledge a Recognizance in the Chancery, and the Plaintiff had a Scire facias, and two Nihils returned. Afterwards he had a Judgment Quod recuperet debitum, and a Levari facias came to the Sheriff to levy the ſame, who returned Nulla bona. Afterwards he took forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum to the Sheriff, who took the party in Execution, and afterwards ſuffered him to eſcape, upon which the Action was brought. The point was, Whether a Capias doth lye upon a Recogniſance acknowledged in Chancery. It was Objected, That a Capias did not lye of a Recognizance taken in Chancery, and 14 Eliz. Dyer, 306. Pattenhams Caſe was vouched to be ſo. But it was anſwered, That as this Caſe is, the Action did well lye againſt the Sheriff. For preſently after the Recognizance acknowledged, it is a Judgment preſently, and ſo a Judgment upon Record. And where a Debt is upon Record, there by the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 17. the party may have a Capias. But admitting the proceſs was erronious, and a Capias be miſ-awarded, by which the party is taken in Execution, yet it is a lawful Execution, and the Sheriff is not to diſpute the Authority of the Writ, or Court, and ſo it was adjudged. Trin. 31 Eliz. in the Exchequer, in Ognell and Paſlant Caſe. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Weaver and Cliffords Caſe. Bollſtr. 2. Part, 62. to 65.

4. Sir George Griffy now Barronet, was bound in a Statute Merchant of 1000 l. before the Mayor of Coventry to J. S. and upon a Certificate made by the Mayor into the Chancery, J. S. took out a Capias againſt Griffy by the name of George Griffey Eſquire, as he was named in the Statute, Whereupon Writs of Extent were made into the Counties of D. and S. which are executed and Returned. It was now prayed, That all might be amended. But it was denyed by the Court, and he was willed to ſue a new Writ out of the Chancery upon the firſt Certificate, ſcil. Capias Corpus Georgii Griſley Milit. et Baronet, qui per nomen Georgii Griſl y Armiger r.cognovit &c. See Paſc. 14 Jac. in C. B. Sir George Griſley Caſe. Hob. 109.

5. A man made a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, That the Feoffee re-enfeoff the Feoffor for life, the Remainder to his eldeſt Son and his Heirs. Afterwards the Feoffor entred, and took the profits without the aſſent of the Feoffee, and made a Leaſe for years. The Feoffee acknowledged a Statute. Afterwards the Feoffor made another Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his ſecond Son in tail, with divers Remainders over, and dyed, the Feoffee enfeoffed the eldeſt ſon. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the Feoffer by his entry and taking of the profits without the agreement of the Feoffee, was a Diſſeiſor, becauſe he took upon him without title as owner of the Land. 2. When the Feoffer made a Leaſe for years by Deed Indented, he had diſpenſed with the Condition during the Term, ſo as during the Term, he could not take advantage of it. 3. Reſolved, That when the Feoffee acknowledged a Statute, the ſame was not any diſability in him, or any cauſe for the Feoffer to re-enter, for that the Feoffee having but a right, the poſſeſſion in the hands of the Diſſeiſor, was not ſubject to the Statute, and then when the Feoffer entred, and made a Feoffment over, he had extinct the Condition, and ſo when the Feoffee enters, and enfeoffed the eldeſt Son, it was good, and he had a good eſtate. Cook 2. Part, 59. Julius Winningtons Caſe.

6. Two were bounden jointly and ſeverally in an Obligation, both of them were ſued ſeverally, and condemned, and were ſeverally taken in Execution, and afterwards one of them eſcaped, and the other brought an Audita Querela. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That it did not lye. For although there ſhall be but unica executio, yet that ſhall be intended an Execution with ſatisfaction, for he ſhall have both their bodies in Execution, and the body is not a ſatisfaction, but a pledg only for the Debt. Cook 5. Part, 86. Blunfields Caſe. And ſee there, where the Conuſors of a Statute Staple was taken in Execution, and eſcaped, yet his goods and Lands upon the Statute were extended, becauſe the Action which the Plaintiff hath againſt the Sheriff for the Eſcape, is not any ſatisfaction for the Debt. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Linares Caſe.

7. A. and his Wife levyed a Fine to J. S. of a Rectory, who granted and rendred a Rent-charge of 30 l. iſſuing out of the Rectory, to A. for life, to begin after the death of his Wife; Proviſo, That it ſhould not extend to charge the perſons of the Conuſees, but to charge the ſaid Rectory only, during the life of A. and rendred the Rectory to A. and his Wife, during the life of the Wife, the remainder to J. D. and his Wife, in Tail, the remainder to the right heirs of the ſaid J. D; A. acknowledged a Statute, according to the Statute of 23 H. 8. to B. the Wife of A. dyed, thoſe in the remainder outed A. Releaſed the Rent to him in the remainder; The Rent upon the ſaid Statute is extended and delivered, and for the Arrearage of it, Debt brought by B. againſt J. D. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, 1. That the Rent was lyable to execution preſently, by the Recognizance acknowledged, by the Statute of 13 E. 1. to which Statute, the Statute of 23 H. 8. did refer: So if a man hath a Judgment to recover Debt or Damages by that, the rent which he hath of any Eſtate of Freehold is lyable to it, and although that after Judgment he releaſe it, yet the party ſhall have Execution of the moyty of it by Elegit by the Statute of weſt. 2 cap. 18. 2. It was Reſolved, That it ſhould be had, That the Act of the Conuſor, ſhould Bar the Conuſee, who is a ſtranger to the Releaſe of his Execution of the Rent, no default being in him. 3. It was Reſolved, That the Action of Debt did not lye, ſo long as the Extent endured; for ſo long hath the Rent continuance, although the Freehold of it be determined. Cook 7. Part, 38. 39. Lillingtons Caſe.

More Recognizance.

1. A Scire facias upon a Recogniſance for the Peace, taken 9 May, 9 Car. Exceptions were taken to it. 1. Becauſe it was Gardavit Pacem, where it ought to have been Conſervavit Pacem; but that exception was diſallowed by the Court. 2. Becauſe the Recognizance was, That he ſhould appear at the next General Seſſions for the ſame County, and he did not ſhew the day of the next Seſſions. It was objected, That for that cauſe it was ill; for he ought to aſcertain the Court when the next Seſſions was, and ſo, That the breach of the Peace was before the ſaid Quarter Seſſions. But the Court was of Opinion, That if the breach was before the date of the Recognizance, and before the next Seſſions, it was ſufficient. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Griffiths Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 283.

2. Error of a Judgment in the Common Pleas, brought by the Bayl; The Error aſſigned, was in the Execution againſt the Bayl, That no Capias was awarded againſt the Principal. It was ſaid, It was a Queſtion ſtirred in the Common Pleas, Whether an Execution might be in the Common Pleas against the Bayl, though no Capias was against the Principal; and that Hobart Chief Justice there, was of Opinion, That it might, because the Recognizance by the Bayl in the Common Pleas, differs from the course of Bayl in the Kings Bench, for that the Recognizance is in a sum certain: But all the other Justices there held, That That it is all one in the Common Pleas, and in the Kings Bench: That a Capias against the Principal ought to be taken forth, and returned, Non est inventus; otherwise, no Scire facias ought to be against the Bayl; for if that the Principal be taken by the Capias, or that he render himself to Prison upon the Judgment, no Execution ought to be against the Bayl; and of that Opinion was the whole Court here in the Principal Case. Mich. 13 Car. in B. R. South and Griffiths Case. Cro. 1. Part, 345, 346.

3. One was bound in a Recognizance by the Chief Justice, to appear in the Kings Bench; the Court was moved to have his appearance respited, in regard he was Arrested in the Interim at the suit of another, and Imprisoned, so as he could not appear. It was said, That if a man be bounden in a Recognizance to appear in a Court of Record, if before the day of his Appearance, he be arrested at the suit of the King, and before the day of his Appearance he is Imprisoned, this shall discharge his Recognizance; but if he be arrested at the suit of another, and imprisoned, by reason of which he cannot keep his day, by this he hath broken his Recognizance: The whole Court did enclint, That in the Principal Case he should be discharged, because that he was before the day Arrested and Imprisoned. See Littleton 436, 437. where Imprisonment shall excuse appearance to make continual Claim. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Baldr. 1. Part, 170.

4. A. brought Trespass against B. for taking of his goods: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff 5 Jac. did acknowledge a Recognizance of 100 l. to pay at Mich. next, at which day he did not pay it, and that two years after, the Recognizance was extended upon his goods, because the money was not satisfied at the day, nor at any time after: The Plaintiff replyed, That the money was paid, ann. 6 Jac. and prays it may be enquired of the County, &c. and upon Tryal, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in arrest of Judgment, That there was no Issue joyned; for an Issue ought to be joyned upon a thing alledged by the party, but here the Plaintiff alledges payment a year after the day, on which the Defendant alledges a default in payment, and joyns Issue upon his own saying, whereas he ought to have stayed until the Defendant had rejoyned to his saying. But it was the Opinion of all the Justices, That it was an Issue joyned. Note, The Plaintiff after had Judgment, for although the Issue be not as good as it should be, yet the imperfection is helped by the Statute of 18 Eliz. And Note, That in this Case it was said, That although payment simply is no Plea in avoidance of a Recognizance, yet it was the Opinion of all the Justices, That after Issue joyned and Tryed, advantage cannot be taken of it. Records.

Where a Record may be removed out of one Court to another; Where by Writ, or Certiorare; where by the Justices, or others; where removed by Certiorare, and remanded to the Inferiour Court by Mittimus; and where it is not removed by default in the Certiorare, & è contra.

1. THE Transcript of a Fine in the time of Hen. 4. was by the Ancestor removed out of the Treasury into the Chancery, and came into the Common Pleas, by Mittimus to have a Scire facias to execute the same, and the Ancestor dyed; and the Question was, If there needed to be a new Certificate of the Fine out of the Chancery, or if the Court might award upon that Fine a Scire facias to execute it: And it was the Opinion of the Court, That without a new Mittimus, the Heir should not have a Scire facias; for that by the death of the Ancestor, the authority given to the Justices, de Banco, by the Mittimus is determined. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 29.

2. Debt was brought upon a Counter Bond, to save harmless the Plaintiff of an Obligation against A. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff was not damnified: The Plaintiff shewed, That A. recovered against him upon a Plaint in London; They were at Issue upon Nul tiel Record. Note in that case, The Court did not write to the Inferiour Court of London, to certifie the Record, but gave day to the Plaintiff to have the Record in Court, sub periculo; where at the day, the Plaintiff by Mittimus out of the Chancery, brought in the Tenor of the Record; and upon that Certificate of the Tenor, the Plaintiff had after Judgment. Mich. 3. Eliz. Dyer, 187.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit, and the Defendant had Judgment for Coſts, upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. Upon a Writ of Error brought, the Record was removed into the Kings Bench: Afterwards, the Defendant brought an Original of Debt for the Coſts, in the Common Pleas. It was adjudged, That the Action did well lye: It was holden in that caſe, That the Court of Common Pleas could not write to the Kings Bench to certifie the Record, becauſe it was a higher Court; but in ſuch caſe the Record ſhall be certified into the Chancery by Certiorare, and from thence come in Banco by Mittimus: But in that caſe, if the Record had been in an inferiour Court, it was holden, That the Court of Common Pleas might have written to the Inferiour Court to have certified the Record. Paſch. 28. Eliz. Dyer, 32.

4. Note, A Certiorare was awarded out of the Kings Bench to the Cuſtos Brevium, an Officer of the Common Pleas, to remove the Record of a Fine levyed in the time of Queen Mary (whereas before nothing but the Tranſcript was removed by the Writ of Error, and Error found and adjudged in it) to the intent to have the Record of the File taken off the File, and to be cancelled in the Kings Bench; and Preſidents were ſhewed of the like, whereupon the Certiorare was allowed by the Court. But ſee there, where another Certiorare was directed to the Chief Juſtice of the Common Bench for the removing of a Record of Niſi Prius, upon a Verdict there; and an Attaint brought upon that Verdict in the Kings Bench, there the Certiorare was diſallowed by the Court, and denyed, there being no Preſident of ſuch Removal: But there muſt be a Certiorare out of the Chancery, and the Record brought in by Mittimus. Paſch. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 275. Bourn and Ruſſel's Caſe.

5. In an Aſſize, the Tenant pleaded an Outlawry in the Plaintiff, and demanded Judgment, but did not ſhew the Record of it: The Plaintiff pleaded Nul Tiel Record, and day was given to the Defendant to have the Record in Court: At the day, the Tenor of it was brought, by which it appeared, that there was variance in the day of the Return of the Exigent, and in the place where the Outlawry was pronounced, and the Plaintiff brought alſo the Tenor of the revoking and annulling of the Outlawry; and this was brought in by Mittimus, and this was after Iſſue was joyned: Yet becauſe of the variances aforeſaid, the Court was of Opinion, That it was a Failure of the Record, and the Defendant adjudged a Diſſeiſor. Mich. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 188.

6. Note, it was ſaid by Cook, That the Chancellor, or any of the Judges of any of the Courts of Record at Weſtminſter, may bring a Record out to another without a Certiorare, becauſe one Judge is ſufficiently known to another, as 5 H. 7. 31. where a Certificate was by the Chancellor alone; See 11 H. 4. acc. But that other Judges of baſe Courts cannot do, nor Juſtices of Peace, as 3 H. 6. where the Certificate by Suitors was held void. Paſch. 24 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt, 14. acc.

7. A Scire facias was brought 6 H. 4. in the name of the King, at the Petition of the Prince, in Chancery, to repeal a Grant which R. 2. made of the Manor of H. in the County of Cornwall, to N. S. and M. his Wife, for their lives; At the return of the Scire facias, the Prince by his Attorney appeared, and the ſaid M. alſo, her husband N. S. being dead; and the Prince demanded, that the ſaid Letters Patents might be revoked, and that the ſaid Manor might be reſtored to him, as parcel of his Dutchy: The Record was delivered by the Chancellor into the Kings Bench, Gaſcoigne being then Chief Juſtice: Whereupon M. pleaded the Grant of R. 2. and prayed in aid of the King, and the Court gave day; and at the day the Prince brought a Protedendo in Loquela, and then M. made default; whereupon day was given to the Prince; and thereupon the Court gave Judgment, That the Letters Patents ſhould be revoked, and the Manor ſeized in the Kings hands, and ſhould be delivered to the Prince, as parcel of his Dutchy. See Cook 8. Part, 23. in the Princes Caſe; where this Caſe is brought in, to prove, That a Record brought in by the Chancellor alone, without any Certiorare, to certifie it, was allowed good and ſufficient.

8 King Philip and Queen Mary, by their Letters Patents 23 Sept. 3. & 4. of their Reigns, Granted to Mark Steward, the Office of their Serjant at Arms, attendant upon the Chancellor of England, for the Term of his life. It was found by force of Commiſſion taken before A. and B. and returned in the Chancery, that he did not ſerve in the ſaid Office of Serj. at Arms, from the 8. year of Queen Eliz. to the date of the Return of the ſaid Commiſſion, but abſented himſelf, 7 May, 2 Eliz. Mark came, and complained that he was unjuſtly removed from the ſaid Office, and ſaid, That the ſaid Queen the laſt of Nov. in the eleventh year of her Reigne, gave him Licenſe to abſent himſelf from the exerciſe of the ſaid Office, at his Will and pleaſure; and from the time of the Licenſe, the Queen did not command him to exerciſe the ſaid Office. Upon which, Iſſue was taken, and day was given, Coram Domina Regina in craſtino Aſcenſionis ad faciendum & recipiendum quid juſtè fuerit in premiſſis, and a Venire facias awarded to the Sheriff of Middleſex, returnable at the day in the Kings Bench. Note, in that Caſe, Sir Thomas Bromley, Chancellor of England, Die Lunæ poſt craſtinum craſtinum Aſcenſionis, 21 Eliz. per manus ſuas proprias (without any Writ) deliberavit Recordum prædict. coram Domina Regina in Cancell. ſua habitum, into the Kings Bench, and craſtino Aſcenſionis, the Jury appeared, and gave a ſpecial Verdict in the Caſe; upon which ſpecial Verdict, there was after Judgment given, That the ſaid Mark Steward ſhould be reſtored to his Office, Salvo Jure Reginæ. See Cook 8. Part, 99, in fine. Mark Stewards Caſe.

9. Debt in the Common Pleas upon a Judgment in that Court: The Defendant pleaded Nul Tiel Record, and upon that the Plaintiff there obtained a Certiorari out of the Chancery, to ſend the Record thither, which by Mittimus might be ſent into the Common Pleas. It was doubted whether ſuch a Certiorare was allowable, becauſe the Records of the Kings Bench ſhall not be removed out of that Court into any other Court; becauſe the Pleas there, are coram Rege: Divers Preſidents were ſhewed, that ſuch Records were by Mittimus out of Chancery ſent into the Common Pleas, Hill. 21 Eliz. Rott. 1374. Upon a Judgment in that Court, Nul tiel Record was pleaded by Mittimus out of the Chancery, it was ſent into the Common Pleas, Mich. 24 Eliz. Rott. Lee and Scargets Caſe acc. Hill. 11 Jac. Rott. 3455. in C. B. Palmer and Stewards Caſe. Hill. 11 Jac. Rott. 1715. Philips and Manings Caſe acc. Upon theſe Preſidents ſhewed, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the courſe was well allowable. Hill. 8 Car. in B. R. Latterel and Leas Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 217.

10. In a Writ of Error, the Caſe was, a Writ of Accompt was brought, and upon Iſſue joyned, Judgment was given, That the Defendant in the Accompt, ſhould accompt; Et ideo in injuria quia non primus computavit: Upon which Judgment, the Defendant brought a Writ of Error: The Queſtion was, if after that Judgment, the Writ of Error did lye, or not: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Writ of Error upon that Judgment, Quod computet did not lye before the final Judgment given; becauſe that the Record ſhall not be removed, until the whole matter of the Accompt be determined; & Judicium detur de integro; and that cannot be, until Judgment be given of the arrearages and damages. 2. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Record was not removed by the Writ of Error; for until ſuch Judgment (as before) be given, the Chief Juſtice of the Common Pleas hath not authority to ſend the Record; for that the words of the Writ of Error are, Si judicium inde redditum ſit, tunc recordare, &c. and therefore it was holden, That the Court of Common Pleas might proceed upon the Record, although that the Roll was marked, Mittitur. Cook 11. Part, 39, 40. Mitcalfs Caſe,

11. In a Writ of Error in Parliament to diſſolve a Judgment given in an Aſſize, the Parliament being diſſolved; It was moved in the Court of Kings Bench, to have Execution of the former Judgment. In that Caſe, it was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, That that was no Parliament, becauſe No Bill paſſed, nor any Royal aſſent: It was only but an Inception of a Parliament, but if any aſſent or diſaſſent had been to any Bill, then it ſhould have been ſaid to be a Seſſion, and then a Roll of it was to be made; and it was not to be tryed by a Jury whether it was a Parliament or not: It was further ſaid, That in the principal Caſe, It being a Judgment in an Aſſize, which is Feſtinum Remedium, it ought not to be delayed, but that Execution ought to be granted, for the Record was never removed; and Execution was granted in the principal Caſe. Trin. 12 Jac. Sir Chriſtopher Heydon and Godſalves Caſe. Bulſtr. 2. Part, 237.

12. In 8 Eliz. A. brought an Aſſize againſt divers Tenants of E. and recovered by Verdict; Afterwards the Tenants brought a Writ of Error in the Kings Bench, and aſſigned for Error, 1. That the Juſtices did adjorn the Aſſize by a Forrein County for Pleading, and there it was pleaded to the Aſſize, and the Aſſize paſſed for the Plaintiff, without a Writ of Reſummons of the Aſſize awarded; and alſo, becauſe no place was in the Teſte of the Habeas Corpora: The Judgment was affirmed, and now a Writ of Error was brought in Parliament, of the Judgment in the Kings Bench: In this Caſe, The Chief Juſtice brought the Record in Parliament, and alſo the Tranſcript; and after it was there examined, the Record was remanded, but the Tranſcript of the Record remained in Parliament, and upon that a Scire facias was awarded. Hill. 23 Eliz. in B. R. Dyer, 385. Whalley's Caſe.

13. A Tenor of a Recognizance by Mittimus out of the Chancery, came into the Common Pleas, It was holden in that Caſe, That upon the Tenor a Scire facias ſhould not Iſſue forth, but an Original Action of Debt. Paſch. 22 Eliz. Dyer, 369. See before.

Where

Where a Record ſhall be amended, for matter of Miſtake in it, either in words omitted, or for other defects in it, and where not; Where an erroneous Record, ſhall be accounted a Record till it be reverſed, and where no Record, if reverſed; and where by reverſal of one Record, another ſhall be reverſed, where not.

T. W. Executor of A. W. Executor of J. W. brought Debt in the Common Pleas againſt J. S. and Judgment was given, Quod prædictus J.W. recuperet; whereas it ſhould have been, Quod prædict. T. W. recuperet; and for that Error was brought: It was prayed, that the Record might be amended, for that it was the miſ-entring of the Clerk: But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That it could not be amended, becauſe the Judgment was the Act of the Court, and not of the Clerk. H. 11. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Welcomes Caſe, Goldesbr. 124.

2. A. brought a Writ of Error againſt B. upon a Judgment given in Debt, in the Common Pleas; the Error aſſigned was, for that the Original Writ was 20 l. and all the mean Proceſs were ſo likewiſe: But where the Defendant appeared to the Exigent, the Entry was, Quod defendens obtulit ſe in placito debiti decem Libras, The Court at firſt conceived, that it might be amended, becauſe it was but the miſpriſion of the Clerk: But afterwards upon view of the Record, it appeared, That no original was certified; and therefore the Court was of Opinion, That it could not be amended. H. 11. 43 Eliz. B. R. Goldesbr. 133.

3. Error in the Exchequer Chamber, of a Judgment in B. R. where, in an Action of Covenant, the Parties were at Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given; Error was aſſigned, Ore Tenus (for it was not aſſigned of Record) That the Jurors appeared, Qui Electi, Triati, & Jurati dicant ſuper Sacramentum ſuum, and the Jury found for the Plaintiff; Whereas the Entry ought to have been, Qui ad veritatem de infra contentis dicend. Electi, Triati, Jurati dicunt, &c. and the words, (Qui ad veritatem de infra contentis dicend.) were omitted: Alſo it did not appear that they were ſworn ad inquirendum: It was ſaid, That that was but matter of Form; for when the Jury finds the point in Iſſue, it appears they came ſworn ad Inquirendum; and if it were material, it is amendable by the Statute of 8 H. 6. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices and Barons (except Flemming Chief Juſtice) That it was material, and not amendable, wherefore the Judgment was reverſed. Paſch. 4. Jac in B. R. Scarro and Sapwry's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 119.

4. Error of a Judgment in C. B. in an Ejectione firmæ; The Error aſſigned was, That W. Brown of Bradfield, was returned upon the Venire facias, and Habeas Corpora, and William Brown of Metfield, who was another perſon, and not returned, was ſworn: Upon this the Defendant Demurred in Law. It was moved, That the ſame was aſſignable for Error, for that it is againſt the Record, which is, That William Brown of Bradfield was returned, and ſworn; and although it was alledged, That in truth William Brown of Metfield was ſworn, yet all the Court held, That that was not aſſignable for Error, for that he is eſtopped to the contrary, and by this means every Record might be brought in queſtion. Trin. 8. Jac. in B. R. Bowſe and Carringtons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 244.

5. Error of a Judgment in C. B. for that the Defendant being an Attorney in the Common Pleas, and ſued by Bill, appeared, and pleaded in proper perſon, and being at Iſſue, the Record of the Nſi Prius was, Quod tum prædict. the Plaintiff quum defendens appeared per Attornatos ſuos, and the Verdict paſſed for the Plaintiff, and Judgment for him, whereas the Defendant could not appear per Attornatum infra nominatum, there being no Attorney in the Record for him. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was Error; But the truth was, The Defendant appearing in proper perſon, it being but a miſ-entry of the Clerk: It was Ruled, That it ſhould be amended. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hayward and Haywards Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 265.

6. Note, It was holden by the Juſtices, That where a Record is removed out of the Kings Bench into the Exchequer Chamber, it is not any Record in Court, until the Error be determined; and if there be any miſtaking by the negligence of the Clerk, in the Tranſcript, the courſe is then to ſend for the Clerk of the Court, and to amend it in the Exchequer Chamber: But if the principal Record which remains in Court, be falſe, then to amend it, and thereupon to alledge Diminutions; and upon Certificate thereof, the Tranſcript ſhall be alſo amended, if it appear to be but the negligence of the Clerk only. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Cro 2. Part, 419.

7. Covenant, for that the Teſtator covenanted by Indenture, to pay for his daughters portion, upon marriage with the Plaintiff ſon, 4000 l. at ſeveral dayes; and for non-payment of 400 l. at one day, the Action was brought againſt the Defendants Executor: He pleaded, Non eſt factum Teſtatoris ſtatoris, and found for the Plaintiff, and Damage 420 l. Coſts 13 s. 4. d. which were encreaſed by the Court to 12 l. The Judgment upon the Poſtea was, Quod recuperet damna prædict. amounting to 432 l. de Bonis Teſtatoris, ſi tantum habet in manibus, & ſi non de propriis prædict. de Bonis propriis. But the entry of the Judgment upon the Roll was, Quod recuperet d. mna prædict. attingent ad 432 l. de Bonis Teſtatoris, &c. & ſi tantum in manibus ſuis non habent, tunc damna prædict. de Bonis Defendentis propriis, where it ought to be Miſſis prædict. It was moved, That the Record might be amended, for the entry upon the Poſtea was well, and that was the Clerks Warrant for the entring of it upon the Roll; and upon examination, it being found ſo, it was amended: But it was held, That the Record was not to be removed, but the Tranſcript thereof, and therefore it might be amended: the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Sr Bernard Greenvile, and Sir Nicholas Smiths Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 627, 628.

8. Treſpaſs for breaking his Cloſe, in the Pariſh of Pancras, abutting upon Grays-Inn-lane; the Defendant pleaded Not Guilty, and the Record of Niſi Prius was Graves-Inn-lane; wherefore by reaſon of the Miſpriſion, the Plaintiff was Non-ſuit: Now becauſe the Roll and Paper-book were good, and it was but a Miſpriſion in the Record of Niſi Prius, which was void; a new Venire was prayed: and Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Farthing and Doppers Caſe was vouched, where in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the Record of Niſi Prius was in conſideration, that he promiſed to pay ten pounds within ſix moneths, whereas the Roll was ſix weeks; And it was adjudged, That the Plaintiff being then upon Nonſuit, the Record upon advice was amended, and a new Tryal awarded: The Court ſaid, It was a good Preſident; and therefore awarded in the Principal Caſe, That notwithſtanding the Nonſuit, there ſhould be a Venire facias de novo Trin. 2. Jac. in B. R. Young and Enghefields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 670. Godbolt, 328. the ſame Caſe.

9. Debt by A. againſt B. for an Eſcape; and the Plaintiff Declared upon a Recovery in the Court of Aſhford. The Defendant Pleaded Nul Tiel Record: The Record being certified, there were divers differences in the continuances, and in the Proceſs; Yet the Opinion of the Court was, That becauſe the Plaint, Declaration, and Judgment certified, did agree with the Declaration, that Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Coxhman and Hallys Caſe. Hob 179.

10. The Court was moved for the amendment of a Record, where a Recovery was ſuffered of Lands in Sutton, in the County of York; and the Indenture of Bargain and Sale was by the right name, and ſo were the Indenture of Uſes, but the Writ of Entry was of the Mannor of Salton; and upon examination of the Parties to the Recovery, and that the Recovery is to no other uſes, then is expreſſed and mentioned in the ſaid Indenture, the Record was amended. Mich. 22 Jac. in C.B. Winch. 99, 100.

11. Error of a Judgment in Ejectione firmæ, after the Record removed, and Error aſſigned; It was prayed, That the Record might be amended, for the Entry was after the Imparlance; Ad quam diem venerunt tam prædict. Thomas, quam prædict. Samuel per Attornatos ſuos: Et prædict. Thomas defendit vim &c. & dicit, non eſt inde Culpabilis: and ſo Thomas was miſtaken for Samuel. It was the Opinion of the Court, That although the Record was removed, yet the Records were amended, it being only the default of the Clerk. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Spray and Parſons Caſe was cited to have been adjudged accordingly: Whereupon the Record was amended. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Thomas Leſſer and Samuel Worths Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 444.

12. A Quare Impedit was brought by B. againſt the Biſhop of Lincoln, and others; and the Writ was ſuam ſpectat Donationem, and the word [ad] was omitted; It was moved, That it might be amended. The Court took time to adviſe of it: But at laſt it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That it was amendable; Whereupon a Clerk of the Chancery came into the Common Pleas, and amended it. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Brocheſby, and the Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe. Goldesbr. 78.

13. In Ejectione firmæ, upon Not Guilty pleaded, and Iſſue joyned before the Juſtices of Aſſize, where the Plaintiff had declared of divers Meſſuages, and divers Acres of Lands, lying in three Villages in the County of S. at the Tryal before the Jury was ſworn: The Defendants Council put in a plea, That after the laſt continuance, viz. ſuch a day in Trinity Term, before the day of Aſſize, the Plaintiff had entred into ſuch a Cloſe, by name, containing eight Acres, parcel of the premiſſes ſpecified in the Declaration: This Plea was received by the Judges of Aſſize. Afterwards, viz. in Mich. Term, the Defendants Council moved, That they might amend their Plea, viz. to put in every Village where the land did lye into which the Entry of the Plaintiff was, becauſe it was but matter of form: Afterwards, the Record of Niſi Prius was returned into the Exchequer. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Plaintiff could not have a replication to that Plea, at the Tryal; for the Juſtices have no power either to accept a Replication upon that Plea, or to Try it, but only to Return it as parcel of the Record of Nisi Prius: And the Justices held, That the Plea being put in in the Country, could not be amended in adding the Town in certain in which the Close did lye; for that was matter of substance. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Moore and Hawkies Case. Brownlow, 1. Part, 145, 146.

14. In a Formedon, the Tenant pleaded a Fine, with Proclamations; The Plaintiff replyed, Nul Tiel Record: It was said, That the Record which remained with the Chirographer, did warrant the Plea; and the Fine which did remain with the Custos Brevium, did not warrant the Plea: Both the Records were shewed in Court, and to which of them the Court should hold, was the Question. It was found to that which was shewed by the Custos Brevium: And Fisb and Brocketts Case in Plo. Com. was vouched, where the Proclamations were reversed, because it appeared by the Record which was shewed by the Custos Brevium, That the third Proclamation was alledged to be made, 7 Junii, which was not Dies Juridicus; and yet it appeared by the Record by the Chirographer, that it was well done. But it was said by the Justices, There was no such thing in the same Case: And it was said by the Justices, That it was the Opinion of all the Justices, and Barons of the Exchequer, 26 Eliz. That in such Case, The Record which remains with the Custos Brevium, should be amended, and made according as it is in the Record of the Office of Chirographer: And the said President being shewed, It was Ordered, That it should remain as a President in perpetuam rei memoriam; because the Note which remains with the Chirographer, is principale Recordum. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt, 103.

15. In Audita Querela, the Plaintiff shewed, how that a Debt of 200 l. was recovered against him, upon which he was Outlawed. And afterwards by force of a Capias utlegatum, he was taken in Execution, and so being in Execution, the Sheriff suffered him to escape. The Defendant pleaded, That after the said Escape, and before the Audita Querela brought, the said Outlawry was declared to be erronious, and so Nul tiel Record of Outlawry, upon which the Plaintiff did demur. It was objected, That the Outlawry was not void, but voidable, and that at the time of the Escape, the Outlawry was of force, and the Sheriff shall never take advantage of Error, but shall be charged for the Escape, notwithstanding the Record be erronious. But it was adjudged, That in the Principal Case, the Audita Querela did not lye. For it was holden. 1. That when an erronious Judgment is given, and afterwards the Judgment is reversed by Error, collateral acts are thereby barred. As if A. be in Execution at the Suit of B. upon erronious Judgment; and afterwards the Judgment is reversed by Error, he may plead Nul tiel Record, but untill the Erronious Judgment be reversed, the Sheriff cannot take advantage of it; for there he cannot plead Nul tiel Record, although there be many first Error. But in the same Case, If the Plaintiff bring an Action against the Sheriff upon the escape, and hath Judgment and Execution, and afterwards the Judgment is reversed; yet because the Judgment was executed, notwithstanding the reversal of the first Judgment, it shall stand in force. 2. Resolved, That because the Judgment to avoid the Outlawry is declaratory, which declares the Outlawry to be nul, because the Exigent which is the Warrant to the Outlawry wanteth substance, there where that is so declared by Judgment of the Court, the same is void ab initio. Cook 8. Part, 142, 143. Dr. Druries Case.

16. A. had a Judgment in Debt against B. and by Deed enrolled, assigned the same to the Queen in satisfaction of a Debt due to her, with a Proviso, That if the Lord Treasurer, or the Barons of the Exchequer, or any two of them, for any reasonable cause should disallow of the Assignment, and revoke it by writing, that then the Assignment should be void. And afterwards by a Writ of Prerogative out of the Exchequer, the Lands of B. were extended, and his goods seized by the Sheriff by force of that Writ, but the Writ was not returned, three of the Barons did revoke the Assignment after the death of the Testator, because the Testator had satisfied the Queens Debt, and now the Executor brought a Scire facias to have Execution of the Judgment. And in this Case, amongst other points it was Resolved. 1. That the Execution for the Queen was good, although the Writ was not Returned. 2. That after the Execution had the Revocation came too late, for that the Queen had the end of the assignment, and the same was executed by process of Law, and when a man hath power of Revocation, and suffereth any thing to be lawfully executed by force of it, as to that he cannot make any Revocation. And see in that Case, where, by the reversal of one Record, another Record which doth depend upon it, shall be reversed, and where not. Cook 5. Part, 90. Hors Case.

17. If the Principal in Case of Felony, &c. be erroniously Attainted, either for Error in the process; or because he is out of the Realm, he is Outlawed. Yet the accessary may be attainted, for that the Attainder of the Principal stands good, untill it be reversed, and the Record of it a good Record: And so it was said it was Resolved. 2 R. 3. 12. And see the Case of 18 E. 4. 5. The Principal was erroniouſly Outlawed for Felony, and the Acceſſary taken, Endicted, Arraigned, Attainted, and Executed. And afterwards the Principal did reverſe the Outlawry, and was Indicted and Arraigned of the Felony, and found Not Guilty, for which he was acquitted. It was demanded in ſuch Caſe, Foraſmuch as there cannot be an acceſſary where there is not a Principal (and in ſuch Caſe, there is no Principal) how the Heir of the acceſſary ſhall be reſtored to his Lands which his Father had forfeited by the ſaid unjuſt Attainder. It was ſaid to that, That the Heir might enter or bring his Action for that now upon the matter by act of Law, the Attainder againſt the Father was without any Writ of Error brought annulled, for by the Reverſing of the Outlawry againſt the Principal, the Attainder of the acceſſary which dependeth upon the Attainder of the Principal, is ipſo facto, defeated and made void, Ex quo Nota, That by the Reverſal of one Record, another Record ſhall be avoided. See Cook 4. Part, 119. in the Lord Sanchers Caſe, &c.

More Records.

1. DEbt brought by an Informer tam pro Domina Regina, quam pro ſeipſo againſt the Defendant, upon the Statute of 24 H. 8. of Apparel. The Defendant pleaded an Outlawry in the Plaintiff. The Plaintiff Pleaded Nul tiel Record, and day was given him to bring in the Record, and in the mean time the Plaintiff removed the Record, and the Plea of Outlawry into the Kings Bench by Error, and there aſſigned Error, and had a Scire facias upon it, and the Error not diſcuſſed, the Defendant brought into the Common Pleas an Exemplification under the Seal of the Kings Bench, without any Writ or other Seal. It was a Quære if it ſhould be allowed now for a Record, or it he had failed of the Record. It ſeemed to ſome to be a failer. So it ſhould have bin by relation if the Record had bin reverſed, for by the reverſal it is made no Record ab initio, although at the time of the Pleading of it, it was a Record. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer, 228.

2. In Debt, the Defendant waged his Law, and having day for it in another Term, he did not appear, nor was eſſoined, but a Ne recipiatur aliquod eſſoine was entred in the Roll of Eſſoins; and yet in the Plea Roll, there it was entred, ad quem diem Defendens fecit ſe eſſoniare deviato veniendi, &c. day was given over to another Term, when the Defendant failed of his Law; whereupon the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover. Afterwards the Defendant brought Error, and before any Error aſſigned, or a Scire facias ad audiendum Errores awarded, (to prevent his Adverſary, leaſt he ſhould cauſe an Eſſoign to be entred in the Eſſoign Roll) he alledged Diminution of the Record in that point, and prayed a Certiorari to the Juſtice of the Common Pleas, to certify, If he had any ſuch Eſſoin, and he certified that there was no Eſſoin according to the truth; and then it was alledged, That his Adverſary could not alledg Diminution in that point, although he had cauſed the Eſſoin to be entred in this Term: And afterwards the Judgment was reverſed upon the ſame Certificate for the Error aforeſaid. Mich. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 330.

3. P. brought an Action of falſe Impriſonment againſt J. S. and others, for Impriſoning him at Briſtow. The Defendant pleaded, That time out of mind, there hath bin a Court holden at Briſtow every Monday before the Mayor, &c. according to the Cuſtome and Liberties of the City, and according to the Cuſtome, J. S. levyed a Plaint there againſt the Plaintiff, whereupon the other Defendants being Serjeants, were commanded to Arreſt him, which they did. The Plaintiff took Iſſue, That J. S. did levy no ſuch Plaint againſt him, and it was found for the Plaintiff. It was ſaid in ſtay of Judgment, That it ought to have bin tryed by the Record. It was Reſolved, That the matter was well tryed, for that the matter of Record was mixt with the matter of fact, Whether the Court were kept, and the Plaint levyed according to the Cuſtome, which is a matter of fact tryable by pais. And the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe was, That the levying of a Plaint is like the ſuing of an Original, which is no Record, till it be returned in Court. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. Peter and Sir John Staffords Caſe. Hob. 244.

4. In an Ejectione firme for a Farm in C. the Caſe upon the Evidence was, J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, and about 29 H. 8. This Land was ſuppoſed to be conveyed to King Henry the 8th in Fee, for the enlargement of the Honor of Hampton, but no Deed nor matter of Record was in being to prove this Conveyance, and many reaſons were uſed to prove there never was ſuch a Conveyance, becauſe there is not one ſuch named in the Act of 31 H. 8. But it proved that this Land had continued in exchange as the Land of Hen. the 8th all his life, and that it had bin enjoyed in divers Leaſes made by E. 6. and Queen Eliz. and Rent paid for the ſame. And Queen Eliz. in the 16th year of her Reign granted the ſame to the Earl of Lincoln, and under that Title the Land had bin enjoyed a long time. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That if there was a Deed by which J. S. conveyed the Land to Hen. the 8th, and that he brought into the Court of Augmentation, although it be not found nor enrolled. Yet it is a ſufficient Record to entitle the King. And it is a Record by being brought into Court, and there received to be enrolled. Paſc. 15 Jac. in C. B. Combs and Inwoods Caſe. Hutton 1.

5. A. Deed of gift of Bargain and Sale of Lands in Exchange was made by the Duke of Sommerſet to King E. 6. and it was acknowledged to be enrolled before one of the Maſters of the Chancery, and alſo before the Chancellor of the Augmentations, and delivered in Court, and there put into a Cheſt, but it was enrolled. And if it might be now enrolled, was the Queſtion, and thereby the Lands veſt in the Queen as Heir or Purchaſor. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, and the reſt of the Juſtices, That it could not be to veſt any Intereſt in the Queen. See for that Hill. 19 Eliz. Dyer, 355. But note, That in the Caſe of Combes and Inwood next before; the Book of the Lord Dyer in this Caſe was denyed to be Law; and there it was ſaid, That in that Caſe it was adjudged to be a good Conveyance. Quære.

6. Debt was brought upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff is a Recuſant convict according to the Statute of 21 Jac. cap. 5. and demanded Judgment of the Action. The Plaintiff pleaded Nul tiel Record, and a day was given to bring in the Record. The Court ſaid, That the Defendant ought to have pleaded, Judgment if he ſhall be anſwered, for that the diſability is not but quouſque, &c. It was the Opinion of the Court, That a plea in diſability of the perſon in bar is peremptory. And it was ſaid, That the Debt of a Recuſant is not forfeit to the King, as in Outlawry, but if he fail of payment of the penalty according to the Statute: And the Court ſaid, If Nul tiel Record be pleaded in bar, it is an Iſſue, and Judgment ſhall be given upon failer of it. The Court gave direction for the bringing in of the Record, That a Certiorari ſhould be directed out of that Court to the Juſtices of the Peace where the Indictment was taken, to certify the whole matter. See Paſc. 3 Car. in B. R. Hetley 18.

7. Note, In the Caſe in C. B. between Bing and Hodges. One of the Jurours was named Richard Smith in all the proceſs againſt the Jurours. And after the Tryal, it was moved in Arreſt of Judgment. For that Rice Smith was ſworn upon the Tryal, and not Richard. It was the Opinion of the Court, That ſuch an averment cannot be made againſt a Record. For then an Affidavit would overthrow a Tryal. And it was ſaid, That that which is averred by the Statute of 21 Jac. cap. 13. is when a Jurour is named by one name in one place of the Record, and by another name in another place of the ſame Record. There it ſhall be helped by this Statute by averment, that he is the ſame man. Trin. 4 Car. in B. R. Hetley 107.

Recovery, and Recovery in value.

Common Recovery; and where the ſame ſhall bar and bind the Eſtate tail, and thoſe in the Reverſion, and Remainder; and where not; and of other things concerning a Common Recovery.

1. TEnant in tail, the Reverſion in the Crown, levyed a Fine, or ſuffered a Common Recovery. It was holden, That it was a bar to the Iſſue, but no Diſcontinuance, becauſe the King is in Reverſion. Paſc. 29 H. 8. Dyer 32. But ſee now by the Statute of 34 H. 8. the Eſtate tail is ſaved.

2. A man ſeiſed of a Mannor in Fee after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes, enfeoffed divers perſons to the uſe of himſelf, and the Heirs Males of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the Remainder to divers other in tail, the Reverſion to the Feoffer and his Heirs; the Feoffer had Iſſue, and dyed, the Iſſue entred; he in the Remainder granted a Rent-charge out of the Land, and the Iſſue in tail levyed a Fine, and ſuffered a Recovery, and afterwards dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That the Recoverors, nor any that came in under their Eſtate, ſhould be ſubject to the Charge of him in the Remainder, becauſe that the Recoveror is in of an Eſtate which he hath gained under the Tenant in tail in poſſeſſion, which Eſtate ſhall not be ſubject to the Charge of him in the Remainder, and alſo becauſe the Remainder can never come in poſſeſſion after the Recovery. 2. It was Reſolved, That a Common Recovery had againſt Tenant in tail, bars not only the Remainder, and all Leaſes and Charges made by him in the Remainder, but alſo the Reverſion, and all

Leaſes

Leaſes and Charges made by him in the Reverſion, and there is no difference betwixt a Remainder, and a Reverſion as to this purpoſe. Cook 1. Part, 62, 63. Capell's Caſe.

3. Tenant in tail had Iſſue two Sons, the eldeſt had Iſſue a daughter, and dyed, his Wife privily with Child of a Son in the life of his Father; Tenant in Tail ſuffered a Recovery to the uſe of himſelf, for the Term of his life, and after his death to the uſe of J. S. for 21 years, and after to the uſe of the Heirs Males of his body begotten, and the Heirs Males of ſuch Heirs Males, and preſently after the Judgment, and before Execution, the ſame day that the Judgment was, Tenant in tail dyed, and afterwards the Recovery was Executed: And then a Son was born, the younger Son entred. It was ſaid and Objected, That in this Caſe, Execution could not be ſued againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe the Iſſue in tail could not take benefit of the recompence; for he who vouched, could not have Execution againſt the Vouchee, untill Execution were had againſt him. And it was ſaid, That in this Caſe, the Iſſue in tail was in by Title paramount the Recovery, and therefore ſhould not be bound by the Recovery. But in this Caſe (amongſt many other excellent points of Law, for which ſee the Book at large) It was Reſolved, That Execution might be ſued againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe that the right of the Eſtate tail was bound by the Judgment had againſt Tenant in tail, and the Judgment to have recompence in value, and that in favour of Common Recoveries, which are now Common aſſurances of the Land. Cook 1. Part, 106. Shellyes Caſe.

4. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in Fee. He in the Remainder by Deed Indented and enrolled, Covenanted for conſideration of bloud, and other good conſiderations, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the Remainder to the Queen, her Heirs and Succeſſors, King and Queens of England. Afterwards Tenant in tail ſuffered a Common Recovery. It was adjudged, That in this Caſe, the Iſſue in tail was barred. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That no uſe could be raiſed to the Queen upon ſuch a general conſideration without ſpecial averment, that valuable or other good conſideration was given. 2. Reſolved, That no Eſtate tail is preſerved by the Statute of 34 H. 8. but that which is created by the Kings Letters Patents, or be of the Proviſion of the King, and the Eſtate tail created by a common perſon, is not preſerved by that Statute. But when the King in conſideration of money, or other conſideration procures a ſubject to make a gift in tail to one of his Servants, the Remainder to the King, the ſame is ſaved by the ſaid Statute of 34 H. 8. but before the ſaid Statute, a Common Recovery did bar an Eſtate tail which was created by the Kings Letters Patents, although the Reverſion was in the King. Cook 2. Part, 15. and 16. Wiſemans Caſe.

5. Husband and Wife, Joynt-Tenants of a Manor, and to the Heirs of the body of the Husband, the Remainder to B. in tail, a Recovery was had againſt the Husband alone in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt in the life of the Wife with Voucher. B. in the Remainder was Attainted of Treaſon, and executed. And by Parliament, it was enacted, That he ſhould forfeit all ſuch Mannors, Lands, Tenements, Poſſeſſions, Rights, &c. which he had in Fee, or in tail, in uſe, or in poſſeſſion at the time of Treaſon committed; afterwards the Husband dyed without Iſſue of his body, the Wife dyed, the Queen granted a releaſe to C. the ſon of B. the Mannor which ſhe had by the Attaindor; and afterwards, the Queen brought a Writ of Error, againſt the Heir of the ſurvivor Recoveror, to reverſe the Recovery. In this (amongſt many other points, it was Reſolved, That as long as the Recovery ſtood in force (for it was but avoidable) he in the remainder had not any right to the remainder, in reſpect of the intended recompence, but for that the remainder was barred for the moyty; as if Tenant in tail ſuffer an erroneous recovery, and afterwards diſſeiſeth the Recoveror, and dyeth, the Iſſue ſhall not be remitted, as long as the recovery remains in force. 2. It was Reſolved, That becauſe he in the remainder had not right, this Writ of Error, which conſiſts more in privity then in Action, which is accompanied with a Right, was not given to the Queen by the general words of the Act of Parliament. 3. Reſolved, That for the one moyty, the recovery was a Bar unto the Eſtate tail, and to the remainder alſo; becauſe that by the recovery, the Joynture was ſevered, but for the other moyty of which the Wife was Tenant for life, the recovery was not any bar either to the Eſtate tail, or to the remainder; becauſe for that moyty there was not any Tenant to the Precipe; but the recovery had operation only by way of Eſtoppel, which did not binde the Iſſue in tail, which claimed per formam Doni. Cook 3. Part, 345. the Marqueſs of Wincheſters Caſe.

6. A. ſeized of Lands in Fee, levyed a Fine thereof to B. and C. and to the Heirs of B. who granted and rendred the ſame to A. and his Wife, who was not party to the Writ, or to the Conuſans, and to the Heirs of A; A. ſuffered a recovery with Voucher, in the life of his Wife, and afterwards dyed, the Wife dyed: He in the remainder brought a Scire facias, to have Execution of the remainder. It was adjudged in this Caſe, 1. That the grant and render to the Wife was not void, but voidable; though ſhe was not party to the Writ or Conuſans.

2. Reſolved

2. Reſolved, That this recovery againſt the Huſband only, ſhould not binde the remainder, becauſe between Husband and Wife there are no moyties, and the Joynture was not ſevered by the recovery againſt the Husband alone; and this caſe is as much, as if the husband had had a remainder in tail, expectant upon an Eſtate for life, in which Caſe a common recovery againſt him ſhall not binde, becauſe ſhe was not Tenant to the Precipe, nor ſeized by force of the tail; but the recovery as to the Eſtate of the Husband, took effect by Eſtoppel or Concluſion. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Rott. 276. Owen and Morgans Caſe.

7. A. ſeized of two Mannors, enfeoffed divers perſons, to the intent they ſhould render them back to A. and B. his Wife, whom he intended to marry, and to the Heirs males of the body of A. A. and B. intermarried, and had Iſſue C. A. dyed, C. in the life of B. Tenant of the Freehold, ſuffered a common Recovery, with ſingle Vouchers, to the intent that the Recoverers ſhould make a Feoffment to Uſes, and that the Wife, Tenant for life, ſhould Releaſe with Warranty, which Feoffment and Releaſe with Warranty, were made accordingly; and if the Collateral Warranty was a Bar to the Demandant, who was Heir in Tail, or was void by the Statute of 11 H. 7. cap. 20. was the Queſtion. it was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Eſtate Tail was barred by the Warranty. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That when the Heir in Tail conveyed the Lands unto another, and the Releaſe and Confirmation of the Woman with Warranty, is but to perfect and corroborate the Eſtate which the Heir in Tail hath made; ſuch a Warranty is not reſtrained by the Act of 11 H. 7. for that ſhall be intended for his benefit, and not to his prejudice. 2. It was Reſolved, That when he in the Remainder in Tail, by a common Recovery had againſt him, by his Agreement diſableth himſelf to take benefit of the Statute of 11 H. 7. after his death, his Iſſue ſhall not take benefit of the ſame, becauſe that his Father was in eſſe at the time of the forfeiture, and could not enter; and a perſon who is not in eſſe, and who had not the immediate Intereſt at the time of the forfeiture, cannot take advantage of it. Cook 3. Part, 58. Lincolne Colledge Caſe.

8. Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, the Remainder over in Tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband, levy a Fine, and a Recovery is had againſt the Conuſees, with Vouchers, in which the Husband only vouched, and Execution is had accordingly in the life of the Wife; which Recovery was to the uſe of the Husband for life, and after to the uſe of the Wife for life, and after to the uſe of the Heirs of the Husband: The Husband deviſed the Land to J. S. and afterwards dyed without Iſſue. It was in this Caſe adjudged, That this common Recovery did binde the Remainder in Tail, becauſe the Husband came in as Vouchee, and came in in privity of the Eſtate Tail, and was a lawful Tenant to the Precipe, and could not be joyntly ſeized with his Wife: But if the Husband and Wife had had a Joynt Eſtate to them, and to the Heirs of their bodies, with the Remainder over, and the Husband alone had been vouched, there it might be doubted, If the Eſtate Tail ſhould be barred, becauſe that the Wife had a joynt Eſtate of Inheritance with him. Cook 3 Part, 6. Coppledicks Caſe.

9. Land given to J. and to the Heirs males on the body of his Wife begotten, he hath Iſſue a Son, and after the Wife dyeth, and he diſcontinueth, and taketh an Eſtate back, to him, and the Heirs Females of the body of his ſecond Wife, and he diſcontinueth again; againſt which laſt Diſcontinuance, a common Recovery is had, in which the Tenant in Tail is vouched, and voucheth over the common Vouchee, and afterwards dyeth, and his three Iſſues bring ſeveral Formedons in the Diſcender, they ſhall all be barred by the Recovery; for in Judgment of Law, when he generally entreth in Warranty, he cometh in of all his ſeveral Eſtates, which ſhall be barred, in reſpect of one and the ſame recompence. See Plo. Com. in Manxells Caſe 8. acc.

10. Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder in Tail, ſuffer a common Recovery, in which they both vouch the common Vouchee. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſame ſhould not binde the Eſtate Tail, for that he in the Remainder was not Tenant to the Precipe, but in truth the Tenant for life, and the Land is recovered againſt the Tenant for life only, and the recompence cannot veſt in him in the remainder, for as much as the Land is in truth recovered againſt the Tenant for life, and he in the remainder was never ſeized by force of the Tail. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 225 Knivertons Caſe. See Mich. 42 Eliz. in C. B. Leach and Coles Caſe, in a Replevin, Rott. 1073. adjudged acc.

11. Husband and Wife ſeized of a Mannor, and to the Heirs of the body of the Husband, the Husband by Deed Indented, Bargained and Sold the Land to one in Fee, who ſuffered a common Recovery, in which the Husband alone was vouched, which recovery was to the uſe of the Husband for life, and after to the uſe of the Wife for life, and for ſix moneths after, and after to the uſe of A. in Tail, and after to the uſe of the Wife in Fee. In this Caſe (amongſt other points) it was Reſolved, That although the Husband only was vouched, and vouched over the common Vouchee,, and after the Husband dyed, That the Eſtate tail was barred by the Recovery. Cook 6. Part, 32. Fitz-Williams Caſe.

12. Tenant

12. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Tail; he in the Remainder bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in Tail, and after his death, the Remainder to the King in Fee; Tenant in Tail ſuffers a Recovery: the King granted his Remainder to Tenant in Tail, and his Heirs; Afterwards he in the Remainder bargained and ſold to B. the Remainder to the King, upon condition; another Recovery was had, and Tenant in Tail dyed without Iſſue. It was adjudged, That he in the Remainder, and all claiming under him, was barred by the Recovery. 2. Reſolved, That the common Recovery did bar the Eſtate Tail, and the Eſtate of A. in Remainder, although the Remainder was in the King; becauſe that the Eſtate Tail was not within the Statute of 34 H. 8. of the gift, or of the proviſion of the King, nor of any of his Progenitors. Cook, 2. Part, Sir Hugh Cholmleys Caſe, 15 Eliz. Jackſon and Duryes Caſe adjudged acc.

13. An Allien born, purchaſed Lands in Tail, the Remainder to a Stranger in Fee; the Allien ſuffered a common Recovery to his own uſe in Fee, all which was found by Office: The Queſtion was, If the Remainder ſhould be in him who had it before. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Queen ſhould have the Land in Fee; for there was a good Tenant to the Precipe, and then, the Remainder was gone upon the Recovery ſuffered. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 102.

14. Husband and Wife, the Wife being within age, levyed a Fine of the Lands of the Wife, a Precipe, Quod reddat was brought againſt the Conuſee, who vouched the Husband and Wife, and they appeared in perſon, and vouched over the common vouchee, and after made default, whereby a Recovery was had; and now the Wife and her ſecond Husband brought one Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine, and another to reverſe the Recovery, by reaſon of the Nonage of the Wife. The Court was of Opinion to reverſe the Fine, but they would adviſe upon the Recovery, for that the Husband and Wife appeared in perſon, and vouched over, ſo as the Recovery was had againſt them by their appearance, and not by default. Afterwards upon Examination it was found, That the Recovery was before the Fine; for the Recovery was, Quind. Trin. and the Fine was Tres Trin. the ſame Term; and ſo the Court held, That the Recovery did not take away the Error in the Fine. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Henry Jones Caſe. Goldsbr. 181.

15. A man having Iſſue three Sons, viz. A. B. and C, deviſed his Lands to B. his ſecond ſon, and his heirs, in perpetuum, paying to C. his brother 20 l. at his age of 21 years; and if dyed without Iſſue, living A. that then A. ſhould have thoſe Lands to him, his Heirs, and Aſſignes for ever, paying the ſaid ſum that B. ſhould have paid; B. enters, and ſuffers a common Recovery, with a ſingle Voucher, to the uſe of himſelf and his heirs, and afterwards deviſeth the Lands to the Wife of the Plaintiff, and her Heirs, and dyes without Iſſue, living A.. There were many points in this Caſe. 1. If B. had an Eſtate in Fee, or Fee Tail. 2. If he had a Fee, and A. only a poſſibility to have a Fee; If the Recovery ſhould bar A. or that it be ſuch an Eſtate as cannot be extirped by a Recovery. For the firſt point it was Reſolved, That it was not an Eſtate Tail in B. but a Fee. For the ſecond point, it was holden by Dodd. Juſtice, That this Recovery ſhould bar A; for he had but a poſſibility to have a Fee, and quaſi, a contingent Eſtate, which is deſtroyed by this Recovery, before it came in Eſſe, otherwiſe it would be a kinde of perpetuity, which by no means could be deſtroyed; and although a Recovery ſhall not bar, but where a Recovery in value extends thereto; yet he held, That this Recovery deſtroying the immediate Eſtate, all Contingencies and Dependancies thereupon, are bound, and a Recovery ſhall binde every one who cannot falſifie it, and A. who hath this poſſibility, cannot falſifie it: But all the other Juſtices were of Opinion, That this Recovery ſhould not binde; for he who ſuffered the Recovery had a Fee, and A. but a poſſibility if he ſurvived B. and B. dying without Iſſue in his life, no Recovery in value ſhall extend thereto, unleſs he had been party by way of Voucher; and they ſaid, That here is not any Eſtate depending upon the Eſtate of P. but a collateral and meer poſſibility, which ſhall not be touched by a Recovery: And it was ſaid by Houghton Juſtice in this Caſe, That if a man gives, or deviſeth Lands to one, and his Heirs, as long as J. S. hath Iſſue of his bodys he by a Recovery ſhall not binde him who made this gift, without making him party by way of Voucher, for a Recovery againſt Tenant in Fee ſimple, ſhall never bar a collateral Intereſt, Title, or Poſſibility. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 17 Jac. in B. R. Bell and Brownes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 590. to 594.

16. In Ejectione firme, upon the Evidence, it appeared, That Ed. Earl of S. Tenant for life of the Mannor of A. in the County of S. the Remainder to Grace Lady Chandiſh his Siſter, of two parts thereof for life, the Remainder of the third part to the ſaid Grace, and the Heirs males of her body, the Remainder over: She by Indenture ſold to the ſaid Ed. all the moyty, part and purpoſe of the ſaid Mannor, and Covenanted to ſuffer a Recovery for further aſſurance. And the ſaid Ed. ſuffers a Recovery of the moyty of the ſaid Manner, it's Vouchee of Grace. In this Caſe it was agreed by the Juſtices, That this was a good Recovery of the entire:

entire third part, and not of the moyty of the third part. 2. It was agreed, That if one hath Intereſt only in the third part of a Mannor, and ſuffers a Recovery of the moyty of the Mannor, it is good for the third part, Paſch. 4 Car. in C. B. Iſham and Morrices Caſe. Cro. 1 Part, 77.

17. A. and his Wife ſeized of Lands in the right of his Wife, by Indenture, with a Letter of Attorney, let the Land, Habendum a die datus, for the life of the Leſſee, rendring Rent: The Attorney made Livery the ſame day, ſecundum formam Chartæ, the Leſſee entred, and payed the rent, which was alwayes received; the Wife dyed, her Heir without Entry ſuffers a common Recovery; the Queſtion was, whether it was good or not. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Leaſe was void, and that the Livery the ſame day it beareth date, is void, to make it a good Leaſe. Then it was moved, That one entring without Livery, was but Tenant at Will, and cannot be a Diſſeiſor, without an intent in him to make a Diſſeiſin; but admitting it to be a Diſſeiſin, yet ſuffering a Recovery, he, and all under him, are eſtopped to ſay, he was not Tenant of the Freehold, and therefore the Recovery ſuffered, was good; and to that Opinion, the whole Court enclined. Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Bull and Wyats Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 282.

18. This Caſe was put by Mountegue, the Kings Serjant, to the Lord Chief Juſtice Hobart, of the Common Pleas, when he took his place of Chief Juſtice there, viz. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Tail, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant in Tail is attainted of Treaſon, Office is found, the King by his Letters Patents granteth the Land to A. who by Deed, bargaineth and ſelleth the Land to B; B. ſuffers a common Recovery, in which the Tenant in Tail is vouched; and afterwards, the Deed is Enrolled; And the Queſtion was, Whether this was a good Bar of the Remainder: And the L. Chief Juſtice Hobart was of Opinion, That it was no Bar of the Remainder, becauſe before the Inrolment nothing paſſed, but only by way of concluſion, and the Bargainee was no lawful Tenant to the Precipe. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Godbelt, 218.

19. Note, It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if he in the Reverſion ſuffer a recovery to divers uſes, That this is a good Recovery againſt him by way of Eſtopel; and his Heirs cannot plead, that his Father or Anceſtor had nothing in the Land at the time of the Recovery ſuffered: for they are eſtopped to ſay, that he was not Tenant to the Precipe. Paſch. 3 Jac. in C. B. Duke and Smiths Caſe, Godbolt, 147.

20. If Judgment be had or given againſt Tenant in Tail upon a feigned Action, and the Tenant in Tail dyeth before Execution, by which the Lands deſcend to the Iſſue in Tail, and then he that recovers, ſues a Scire facias out of the Judgment, to have execution thereof againſt the Iſſue in Tail, in that Caſe, if the Iſſue plead to the Scire facias, and prove the Recovery to be falſe (which was the ground of the Judgment) he ſhall thereby Bar the Demandant to have Execution of that Judgment: But it is otherwiſe when the Tenant in Tail voucheth and recovereth in value, &c. by reaſon of the intended recompence. Cook 7. Part, Inſtitutes.

21. If a man recovers in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt, againſt Tenant in Tail, upon a Voucher, and recovers in value againſt the common Voucher, and before Execution, the Tenant in Tail dyeth, and his Iſſue enters. In this caſe, the Recoveree may well enter upon the Iſſue; for the Iſſue cannot falſifie this Recovery, becauſe of the Recovery in value. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 35. acc.

22. A. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder over to B. in Fee; A. for a great ſum of money, ſold the Land to J. S. and his Heirs, and for aſſurance, made a Feoffment in Fee, and levyed a Fine to the ſaid J. S. to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. and his Heirs: And by the Indenture of Bargain and Sale, A. Covenanted to make further aſſurance, within ſeven years, as the ſaid J. S. or his Heirs, or their Counſel ſhould adviſe; and before further aſſurance was made, J. S. dyed, his Heir within age: Now by the advice of Counſel, and the friend of the Infant, it was Deviſed, That for the cutting off the Remainder, a common Recovery ſhould be ſuffered, in which the Infant ſhould be Tenant to the Precipe, and ſhould vouch the Vendor; and becauſe the ſaid Term of ſeven years was near expired, and that the ſaid Recovery is intended to be to the uſe of the ſaid Infant, and his Heirs; It was prayed, That ſuch Recovery might be received and allowed; and upon two Preſidents ſhewed, one of the Earl of Shrewsbury's Caſe, and the other of Wiſemans Caſe; The Court upon good aſſurance of people of good Credit, that it was to the uſe of the Infant, and upon the appearance of a good and ſufficient Guardian for the Infant, who was of ability to anſwer to the Infant, if he ſhould be deceived in paſſing the Recovery, and alſo upon Affidavit made by two ſeveral Witneſſes, That the ſaid intended Recovery was to the uſe of the Infant, and his Heirs; the Recovery paſſed, and was allowed. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Leon, 211.

23. Note, If an Infant Tenant in Tail, ſuffereth a common Recovery by his Guardian, the ſame is good, and ſhall binde him, becauſe he hath remedy over, againſt his Guardian, by an Action upon the Caſe, if it be to his prejudice; and ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. in Zouch and Mitchels Caſe. But if an Infant ſuffereth a common Recovery by Attorney, the ſame is void, becauſe he hath not any remedy againſt him; and ſo it it was ſaid it was adjudged, Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. in Holland and Lees Caſe.

24. Lands are given to A. and his Wife in ſpecial Tail, the Remainder to B. in Tail, the Remainder to C. in Fee; A. the Husband levies a Fine alone to D. in Fee, and dyes, leaving Iſſue; the Wife enters, ſhe is in of her Eſtate in Tail, and her Entry alſo remits B. and C. to their ſeveral Remainders, and hath put D. out of his whole Eſtate, and in that caſe the Wife may ſuffer a common Recovery againſt her ſelf, as Tenant in Tail, and vouch the common Voucher, and that ſhall Bar the old Remainders of B. and C. but not her own Eſtate in Tail; and yet it is a rare Caſe, That a common Recovery againſt the Tenant in Tail, ſhall Bar the Remainder, and not Bar the Entail; for here the Iſſues in Tail were barred before by the Fine; and yet it may be truly ſaid, That the Entail is barred by the Recovery, becauſe the Wife was ſeized of the whole Tail which was ſo barred. Per Hobart in Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. in Duncombe and Wingfields Caſe. Hob. 259.

Recuſants and Recuſancy.

Recuſants, and Recuſancy; The Expoſition of the Statutes concerning them, what they ſhall forfeit for their Recuſancy, and to whom; where the Husband ſhall forfeit for the Recuſancy of the Wife, where not; and of divers other particular things concerning Recuſants, and Recuſancy.

1. A Quare Impedit was brought by the Chancellor, Maſters, and Scholars of the Univerſity of Oxford, for diſturbing of them to Preſent to the Church of D. and they Declared, That A. was ſeized of the Mannor of D. to which the Advowſon of the Church of D. was Appendant in Fee, and Preſented D; A. dyed, the Mannor and Advowſon deſcended to C. his ſon and heir; and he being ſo ſeized, at the Aſſizes 29 Martii, 8 Jac. was Indicted for not coming to Church; and afterwards, Proclamations were made according to the Statute of 3 Jac. that he render his body; and afterwards at the Aſſizes 16 Aug. 8 Jac. he was a Recuſant Convict, and after, the Church became void, and ſo by vertue of the Statute of 3 Jac. they ought to Preſent: The Defendants pleaded, That C. the ſon and heir of A. before the ſaid Conviction, granted the next Avoydance to him, and after the Incumbent dyed, and he Preſented the now Incumbent, who was Inſtituted and Inducted, and traverſed the Appendancy: Upon which Plea, the Plaintiffs did demur in Law: It was Objected, That the Grant to the Defendant was good, becauſe C. at the time of the Grant, was not convicted of Recuſancy, but Indicted only. But in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That by the expreſs words of the Statute of 3 Jac. C. was diſabled; for the words are, Every perſon that ſhall be a Recuſant Convict, as long as he remains a Recuſant Convict, ſhall be diſabled from the beginning of the ſaid Seſſion of Parliament; and ſuch a perſon C. did remain. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Plaintiffs in their Declaration needed not to aver, that C. continued a Recuſant Convict: for when once the Preſentation pro hac vice, was veſted in the Univerſity; although that afterwards the party conformeth himſelf, yet according to that Act of 3 Jac. the Univerſity ſhall Preſent. Cook 10. Part, 54, 55, 56 The Caſe of the Chancellor and the Scholars of Oxford.

2. An Informer ſued a Recuſant for the penalty of 20 l. a moneth, for not repairing to his Pariſh Church, or to any other Church, Chappel, or uſual place of Common Prayer, and Divine Service. The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 23 Eliz. That every Recuſant being a Recuſant Convict, ſhould forfeit for every moneth 20 l. And pleaded the Statute of 28 Eliz. That every Offender againſt the Statute of 23 Eliz. ſhould pay upon ſuch Conviction, 20 l. a moneth to the King, in the Exchequer, and pleaded the Statute of 35 Eliz. That no part by the ſaid Statute, ſhould be paid to the Informer. Divers Exceptions were taken to the Information. 1. That no perſon ſhould forfeit, unleſs he were a Recuſant Convict before; and it doth not appear that the Defendant was Convict before. 2. That none can Inform upon the Statute of 23 Eliz. but the King. 3. That the Conviction ought to be by Confeſſion, or Verdict, and doth not extend to Judgment upon a Demurrer. 4. The penalty is expreſly given to the King, and therefore the Informer is excluded; and Legis poſteriores priores contrarias abrogant. But in this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That the party might be Convicted in the Indictment or Information which is preſented againſt him; and the word [Convict] ſhall be taken for Attaint, for the party can forfeit nothing, until Judgment be given againſt him. 2. Reſolved, That the clauſe of 23 Eliz. of Diſtribution, did extend to the penalty of the Recuſancy. 3. That the Statute of 28 Eliz. had not taken away the Liberty which the Informer had by the Act of 23 Eliz. because that Act did not give the penalty to any to whom it was not given before. 4. Resolved, That the Statute of 35 Eliz. did not abrogate the Statute of 23 Eliz. as to the Action popular, and the Act is not simpliciter; That all and singular the pains, shall be recovered to his Majesties use, but secundum quid, & sub modo; and it doth not extend to abrogate any Law made before. 5. Resolved, That the Statute of 23 Eliz. which gave the 20 l. a moneth, did not take away the forfeiture of 12 d. for every Sunday, but both penalties did stand and remain. Cook 11. Part, 57. to 62. Dr. Fosters Case.

3. A. B. and C. were sued in a Quare Impedit by the Chancellor, Scholars, and Masters of Cambridge, who claimed the Presentation of the Church of C. because B. being Patron of the Church at the time of the Avoydance of the last Incumbent, was then a Recusant Convict: It was found upon a Commission, that the said B. was seized of the Mannor to which the Advowson was Appendant, and was a Recusant Convict, whereupon two parts of the Mannor were seized into the Kings hands, who Leased the Mannor, with the Appurtenances, and all Profits &c. to the same belonging, to J. S. for 21 years, if B. &c. and afterwards, that the Church became void. In this Case it was holden, That although there was no intention made of the seizure of the Advowson, yet the Presentment did belong to the King, and the King alone should Present, in that there were no words in the Kings Grant to J. S. to carry away the Advowson from the King; and that notwithstanding that Grant, that the Advowson did remain Appendant to the Mannor: But notwithstanding, the Court would not Grant a Writ to the Bishop for the King, except his Title were clear: Whereupon the Plaintiffs were demanded, if they had any thing to say, why a Writ should not be Granted for the King to the Bishop; and thereupon the Plaintiffs (notwithstanding their Title made in their Declaration) did wholly Disclaim; and thereupon Judgment was given for the King, and a Writ to the Bishop to remove the Incumbent, and to admit a Clerk at the Presentation of the King. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. The Chancellor of Cambridge and Walgraves Case. Hob. 126, 127.

4. In an Information against the Husband upon the Statute of 23 Eliz. for the Recusancy of his Wife, not coming to Church: the Information was against him for 240 l. which he was to forfeit, according to 20 l. the moneth, for his Wifes not coming to Church: Upon Tryal, it was found for the King: It was moved in Arrest of Judgment, That the Statute did not extend to the Husband for her Recusancy, he himself being conformable; and it was said, that it was like to Dr Husseys Case, Cook 9. Part, 71. upon the Statute of Westm. 2. That a Feme Covert should not be within that Act, to make her husband chargeable; and it was also said, That if a Feme Covert do commit a Ryot, the Husband shall not be lyable for it: But it was Answered and Resolved by the whole Court, That upon the Argument of Dr Fosters Case, diligent consideration was had of all the Acts made concerning Recusants. In which Case it was Resolved, That a Feme Covert was within the Statute of 1 Eliz. for the forfeiture of 12 d. and in the Statute of 23 Eliz. cap. 1. for the Statute of 20 l. forfeiture for every moneths absence; and that the Husband was liable for the Recusancy of his Wife, notwithstanding his own conformity; and therefore in the Principal Case, the Rule of the Court was, That Judgment should be entred for the King; which was done, and Execution thereupon awarded for the King. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. The King and Lawes Case. Bolst. 3. Part, 87, 88.

5. Debt brought by an Informer against Husband and Wife, to answer for the Recusancy of his Wife, upon the Statute of 23 Eliz. for 11 moneths, from 3 Decemb. 21 Jac. to the day of the Writ brought; and upon the Declaration, he demanded 12 l. The Defendant Demurred upon the Declaration, and the Plaintiff Qui tam &c. and the Demurrer being entred, King James dyed in the Vacation following; It was moved, Whether the Original Writ, the Declaration, Pleading, and Demurrer upon it should abate by the Decease of the King; as an Original brought by two, where by the death of one of them it shall abate. The Court took time to advise upon it, and see Presidents; and upon view of Presidents, the Court at last Resolved, That this Writ and Declaration, and all the Proceedings thereupon should stand. Trin. 1 Car. in C. B. Farringtons Case. Cro. 1. Part, 7.

6. Error to reverse a Judgment for the King, upon an Indictment of the L. S. John for Recusancy, for his not coming to Church for two moneths, he pleading Not Guilty; It was found by Verdict, that he was Guilty for one moneth, parcel of the time, but not for the other: whereupon it was adjudged, that he cannot forfeit 20 l. The King afterwards did signifie his pleasure, That if it were erroneous, that the Judgment should be reversed: whereupon several Exceptions (see Librum) were taken to the Indictment; all which were disallowed by the Court, as not being material Exceptions; and it was doubted, Whether any Exception be good upon Conviction of Recusancy; for that the Statute of 3 Jac. is precisely, That it shall not be void, or discharged, for default of form, or other matter, till after conforming himself by coming to Church:

Church? But afterwards, becauſe the Judgment was not Ideo Capiatur, and the omiſſion thereof is apparent to the Kings prejudice, and for that upon every Conviction upon Indictments, the Judgment is Ideo Capiatur, for this cauſe the Judgment was reverſed. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R. The Marquis of Wincheſters Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 362.

7. A. M. was Indicted upon the Statute of 1 Eliz. cap. 2. for not coming to Church twelve Sundays together: The Indictment was removed into the Kings Bench, and there divers Exceptions taken to it. That the Statute is, All the Inhabitants within the Realm, &c. and it is not averred in facto, that ſhe did inhabite within the Realm; but it was diſallowed; for if it was otherwiſe, it ought to be ſhewed on the Defendants part. 2. That by the Proviſo in the Statute of 28 Eliz. it is Ordained, That none ſhall be Impeached of ſuch Offence, if he be not Indicted at the next Seſſions; and it appears, that the Offence was a year before the Indictment, and in the mean time many Seſſions were, or ought to have been. That alſo was diſallowed, for perhaps there were not any Seſſions within that time. 3. The Indictment was, That ſhe was Indicted coram A. B. & Sociis ſuis, Juſtices of Peace, and doth not name them particularly. It was anſwered, That it doth not appear that there were any other there but thoſe particularly named, and it differs from 1 H. 7. of a Fine levyed Coram A. B. & Sociis ſuis. 4. That the words of the Statute are, Ought to abide in the Church till the end of the Common Prayer, Preaching, or other Service of God, in the Diſjunctive, and the Indictment was in the Conjunctive. That Exception was diſallowed; for although the words are in the Diſjunctive, yet the Court ſaid, That a man cannot depart the Church ſo ſoon as the Service is ended, if there be Preaching, but he ought to continue there for the whole time. Mich. 3 Jac. in B. R. Ann Mannocks Caſe. Godbolt 148.

8. A. was endicted, for that he being a Recuſant convicted, departed above five miles from his abode at W. in the County of S. contrary to the Statute. The Defendant pleaded, That he informed B. C. and two other Juſtices of the Peace of the ſaid County of S. (the ſaid C. being a Deputy Lieutenant there) that he had urgent occaſions to go to London about buſineſs concerning his Eſtate, and made Oath that it was true; whereupon they by writing under their Seals, gave him Licenſe to go to L. and other places, as his buſineſs required, for ſix Moneths: by vertue whereof he went, and ſo juſtifies, upon which it was demurred. It was the Opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe. 1. That the Licenſe ought to be by four Juſtices of Peace, beſides the Lieutenant: For the words of the Statute ought to be preciſely obſerved. And it is not ſufficient that a Deputy Lieutenant be one of the four, and his aſſent ought to be by it ſelf without the other four. 2. That the Licenſe was not good, becauſe it is not pleaded to be under their hands, and it is not ſufficient to plead it to be under their Seals. 3. The Licenſes ought to ſhew the particular cauſe of the Licenſe, and not in general Terms, viz. for urgent cauſes. Judgment was entred for the King. Paſc. 11 Jac. in B. R. Maxfields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 352.

9. Information for the King and Informer, ſuppoſing that the Defendant before 31 October 9 Jac. the Defendant was a Recuſant convicted, and after his conviction, and two years before 31 Oct. 9 Jac. he conformed himſelf, and came to Church in the Pariſh of St. Dunſtans, and continued there during time of Divine Service. Notwithſtanding which, for three years after 31 Oct. 9 Jac. he had not received the Sacrament of the Lords Supper in the ſaid Church, nor any other place, but made default contra formam Statuti: So as he demanded 60 l. for every year. Upon Not Guilty found againſt the Defendant. It was moved, That the Information was incertain, becauſe no time of the Conviction is ſhewed, nor how, nor in what Court, nor before whom. It was ſaid, this had bin a good Exception, if he had demurred upon the Information, but having pleaded Not Guilty, all this is admitted, and the matter in fact is only tryable, Whether he hath received the Sacrament or not. 2. Exception, becauſe the Informer demands the penalty for three years, whereof by the Statute of 31 Eliz. No Informer can demand a penalty upon a penall Law, but by Information exhibited within a year after the Offence. But the Court held it to be well for the King, although it was not good as to the Informer. Hill. 12 Jac. in the Exchequer, Syvedale and Sir Edward Lentholls Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 365.

10. F. H. was Indicted for Recuſancy, and before Conviction, he conformed himſelf; and afterwards upon his falling back again, he was Indicted again, and ſubmitted, and was Indicted a third time for a Relapſe. It was moved to have the ſame certified into the Court of Exchequer, for that by this his Relapſe upon the Statute of 35 El. he is to loſe all the benefit which he was to have upon his former ſubmiſſion and Conformity. It was the Rule of the Court, That this his Relapſe ſhould be certified into the Court of Exchequer, which was done accordingly. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. Francis Holts Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part, 133.

11. It was found by Office, That Ed. Tredway, who was Son and Heir of Sir W. Tredway the Kings Tenant of a Mannor and Lands holden in Capite, dyed, being the Kings Ward. And that I. and E. were his Siſters and Heirs, of full age. It was further found, That to prevent to have Religious education within the Realm. L. the elder Sister without Licenſe, went to Dowey in Flanders, where ſhe remained a Recuſant profeſſed, viz. a Nun; and that by reaſon thereof, by the Statute of 3 Jac. ſhe was to take no benefit of the Lands until ſhe returned and received the Sacrament, and the Oath preſcribed by the Statute. The Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether E. the younger Sister ſhould ſue Livery of all the Lands out of the Kings hands, the eldeſt Sister being alive. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That ſhe could not, neither by the words, nor by the intent of the ſaid Statute. But that the King might retain the moyety of the Lands which belonged to the ſaid L. in his hands, untill that ſhe according to the Statute of 1 Eliz. ſhould take the Oath appointed by the Statute. Paſc. 15 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Lea 59 Tredways Caſe. See Hob. 73, 74. the ſame Caſe.

12. P. an Informer had a Verdict for the King and himſelf by Information in C. B. for 2201. for 11 Moneths abſence from the Church, againſt Sir Francis Lovell. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Information lay not in the Common Pleas, but by the expreſs words of the Statute of 28 Eliz. was reſtreyned only to the Kings Bench. This Exception took life from a conceit of Sir Ed. Cokes in Foſters Caſe, Cook 11. Part, where he ſayes, It was well obſerved, That the Statute of 28 Eliz. had reſtreyned the Informer only to the Kings Bench, and ſo he doth exclude both the Common Pleas, and the Exchequer. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Information did well lye in the Common Pleas, and that the contrary Opinion was an Error. For it is clear, That the Statute of 23 Eliz. gives the remedies upon Recuſancy, one for the Queen alone by Indictment, and that appears by the clauſe that admits ſubmiſſion before Judgment, or upon Arraignment before Juſtices of Oyer and Terminer and Goal-delivery, and Juſtices of Peace. The other by Action of Debt, Plaint, Bill, or Information, in any Court of Record of the Queen. And the Statute of 28 Eliz. was made only for the benefit of the Queen in the proper Suits by Indictment. Where, by the Rule of the Court, the Exception taken, and the conceit of Sir Ed. Coke, was rejected by the Court, and the Judgment upon the Information in the Common Pleas ſtood good. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. rott. 618. Pye and Lovells Caſe. Hob. 204, 205.

Redisseisin.

1. Redisseisin is where a man doth recover by Aſſiſe of Novel-Diſſeiſin, Land Rent, Common, or the like, and is put in poſſeſſion thereof by Verdict and Judgment of Law, and after he is Diſſeiſed again, or put out of poſſeſſion by the firſt perſon who Diſſeiſed him of the ſame Land, Rent, or Common; then lyeth this Writ of Diſſeiſin againſt him. And ſo it is if he recover any profit Apprender out of any Land, or any Office, Corody, or the like, if he be re-diſſeiſed of it, he may have a Writ of Redisseisin; and ſo one Redisseiſin after another, as often as he is Diſſeiſed. And upon ſuch a Redisseiſin committed, if it be found, the Court may commit the party to Priſon, becauſe it is a contempt which is done in contempt of the Court, and in deſpight of the Law. See Fitz. Nat. Br. 183. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 83. acc.

2. A man ſhall have a Redisseiſin, although the Eſtate of him who recovered in the firſt Action or Aſſiſe be changed. And therefore if there be Tenants in ſpecial tail, and they do recover in an Aſſiſe, and afterwards one of them dyeth without Iſſue, and after he or ſhe who ſurviveth, and is now become Tenant in tail after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, is Diſſeiſed again, he or ſhe ſhall have a Redisseiſin, for it is the ſame Freehold that they had before, for the ſame is parcel of the Eſtate tail. Cook 11. Part, 81. in Lewis Bowles Caſe.

3. In an Aſſiſe by A. where he was Redisseiſed, the Redisseiſin was found in part; and thereupon the Court was moved, If the Redisseiſin did lye, forasmuch as it is not but of part: And the Writ is, If he be Redisseiſitus de eodem tenemento, then Redisseiſin lyeth. But the Court held, That Redisseiſin lyeth of part, and that he ſhall recover damages as they are aſſeſſed by the Jury. Then it was moved, If Redisseiſin did lye in Middleſex or London, for it was ſaid, That it hath bin taken that it doth not lye there, but before Juſtices Itinerants; but all the Court held the contrary. See Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes. Juſtices Itinerants, or in Eyre, were only named for example, and becauſe Aſſiſes were taken moſt commonly before them. For although the Aſſiſe be taken in the Kings Bench, Common Pleas, or before Juſtices of Aſſiſe; yet upon a Redisseiſin, the Writ lyeth. Hill. 30 Eliz. in in C. B. Thackers Case. Goldesbr. 76. Leon. 69. acc.

4. In an Assise of Novel disseisin. A. recovered Land against B. B. Redisseised A. A. re-entred. B. Disseised him again. The Opinion of the whole Court in this Case was, That the Judgment in this Action is, not that he shall recover any Land, but double damages; and that the Defendant shall be taken and Imprisoned, and fined to the King; wherefore inasmuch as he shall recover no Land, the entry of A. into the Land cannot purge the offence and wrong which is made punishable by the Statute, and in that Case, It was holden by the Court, That if a man be Disseised, and after re-enters, and is Disseised again, that he ought to have an Assise of the last entry, and not of the first. See 27. Ass. 42. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 64. See Leon. 69. the same Case.

5. Error to reverse a Judgment given in an Assise of Novel disseisin before Justices of Assise in the County of N. The Case was, The Assise being brought the first day, the Jury being at the bar, ready to be sworn; the Defendant came and confessed the Seisin and Disseisin as the Plaintiff declared: Whereupon the Plaintiff demanded Judgment. Judgment was given, which was entred, Quod recuperet Seisinam per visum recognitorum. It was assigned for Error, because none of the Jury were sworn, nor had the view, and they were not Recognitors before they were sworn, and therefore the Judgment was Erronious. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Judgment was not Erronious. It is true, That in an Assise the Recognitors shall have the view; but yet if they have good knowledg of the Land, the Assise may be taken without the view. And a President 4 Jac. was shewed at an Assises in N. before Popham Chief Justice, where there was a Confession in the Assise, the Judgment was Quod recuperet per visum Juratorum. And see Baxter and Bartletts Case. Baxter brought an Assise of Freshforce, Nul tort nul Disseisin was pleaded, the Jury did find the Disseisin, and enquired not of the force for the King; upon which a Writ of Error was brought; and it was adjudged to be no Error, it being only the Office of the Court to enquire of this, and they not finding the force, it was better for the Defendant, for that then he was not to be taken by a Capias for the force. It was the Opinion of the whole Court in the principal Case, That the Judgment was not erronious, but well given, and the Judgment given at the Assises was affirmed. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. rot. 172. Sir Christopher Heydon, and Shepherd and Smiths Case. Bulst. 2. Part, 160, 161.

6. Red seisin doth not lye in Auncient Demesne because the proceedings in a Redisseisin is appointed by the Statutes to be made by the Sheriff, and in Auncient Demesne there is not any Sheriff, and the Bayliff who is Officer in Auncient Demesne, shall not supply the place of the Sheriff. Cook 4. Part, 65. in Fulwoods Case. See Hil. 33 H. 6. 25. Comment. on Originall Writs. 207. and 213. acc.

7. A. brought a Writ of Error against F. Son and Heir of J. P. upon a Judgment had against him in a Writ of Redisse sin at the Suit of the said J. P. and also of an Outlawry thereupon had against him for that cause, and assigned two Errors, one because the Sheriff took the Enquest in the Town, and not upon the Land according to the Statute. 2. Because the Sheriff made a Precept to one Bayliff to summon the Jury, who returned a Pannel, which was returned as parcel of the Record; and the Sheriff took the Enquest by some who were not returned by the Bayliff. To them it was said, That the Sheriff may vary from the Return of the Bayliff, and may make the return at another place, for the Sheriff himself is the person who maketh the Array, and is Judg in the Case. Gascoign said, That if the Sheriff had not made the Precept, and the Return by the Bayliff had not bin made parcel of the Record, it should have bin so, but he hath sent this Return as parcel of the Record, whereby he affirmeth the Return of the Bayliff: And if he had made process against the Jury by Habeas Corpora, and had taken the Enquest by others, it had bin Error. The Defendant in the Writ of Error pleaded, That the Plaintiff should not be admitted to assign Errors, for that after the Judgment, the Plaintiff in the Writ of Error did Release to J. P. who recovered in the Writ of Redisseisin, all Actions and demands; and although both the Errors were assigned in the Principal Record, yet by the Release he was estopped to Assign them for Errors. And because the Outlawry was good in process, yet because the Record and the Judgment are the Original of the process of the Outlawry, therefore if there be defect in the Original Judgment, the Outlawry which is depending upon it, is reversed: Whereupon the Court did reverse the Outlawry, notwithstanding the Release. See 11 H. 4. 6. Cook 8. Part, 152. in Edward Altham's Case; in which Case observe the Authority of the Sheriff, and how he shall demean himself in a Redisseisin.

8. If Husband and Wife be Disseised, and recover by Assise, and the Husband dyeth, and the Wife taketh another Husband, and they be Disseised again. They shall have a Writ of Redisseisin, although the Husband was not Disseised before: and the Writ willeth, That the Sheriff enquire, Whether they were Disseised before; and although the Husband was not, yet that is not material, because it is the right of the Wife, and she was Disseised leiſed before. But if the Wife loſeth in the Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin, and afterwards taketh a Huſband, and they do Rediſſeiſe the Plaintiff, he ſhall not have a Writ of Rediſſeiſin. See 9 H. 4. Fitzh. Nat. Br. 188. And ſee, That if a Feme Covert doth commit Rediſſeiſin, ſhe ſhall be puniſhed in a Rediſſeiſin. Cook 9. Part, 72. in Dr. Huſſeis Caſe.

Relation.

1. Of matters of Record, Deeds, Aſſurances, and Conditions in them; to what time perſons, or acts done, they ſhall be conſtrued to relate; and how and by what words in them, and certain Rules concerning Relations.

1. RElation is defined to be a Fiction of Law to make a Nullity of a thing ab initio for neceſſity ſake ut res magis valeat quam pereat. but as to Collateral Acts, the Law ſhall make no nullity of them: And in the diſtruction of a lawfull Eſtate veſted, the Law ſhall never make a fiction of it by Relation. Cook 3. Part, in Butler and Bakers Caſe, in which Caſe, ſee divers Rules concerning Relation, of which ſee ſome Caſes after.

2. The Execution of a thing which is Executory, reſpecteth alwayes the Original Act, or cauſe Executory; and when the Execution is done, it hath relation to the thing Executory, and maketh all but one act or Record, although it be performed at ſeveral times. And therefore if A. by Deed Indented, Covenanteth with B. That B. ſhall recover againſt him the Mannor of D. within a year next following; and that the Recovery and Execution thereupon to be had within the ſaid year, ſhall be had to the uſe of the Recoverer in tail, &c. and after the Recovery is had within the year, and the Execution is ſued after the year. In this Cate, it is clear, That although the Covenant is not purſued in time, according to the preciſe form thereof, yet the uſe ſhall be guided by the ſame Indentures. For variance in time ſhall not ſubvert the Original Agreement of the parties. Cook 1. Part, 99. in Shellyes Caſe.

3. A. by Indenture Inrolled, demiſed the Mannor of D. to B. and his Heirs in Fee-Farm rendring Rent with Clauſe of Diſtreſs, and upon non-payment, a Re-entry, and by the ſame Indenture Covenanted to make ſuch Aſſurances according to the intent, purport, and meaning expreſſed in the ſame Indenture: And by another Indenture bearing date the ſame day, A. Covenanted to levy a Fine of the ſaid Mannor before ſuch a Feaſt, &c. which Fine ſhould be to the only uſe, intents, effects and Conditions expreſſed in the former Indentures, and to none other: And Livery and Seiſin was made upon the ſame Indenture accordingly; and after the Fine was levyed come ceo, that B. had ex dono. A. with Releaſe and Warranty, according to the courſe of Fines. In this Caſe, It was holden by the Court, That the Rent was not extinct as touched by the Fine, becauſe that the Fine had relation to the former Indentures, Mich. 5 Ma. Dyer, 157.

4. A. Rent is reſerved to be paid out of Land at D. upon Michaelmas day, and if it be behind 40 dayes after, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Leſſor to recover. In this Caſe, the Rent ought to be tendred at D. at a convenient time before Sun-ſet, upon the laſt day of the 40 dayes. For although it be not by expreſs words, That if the Rent be behind and unpaid at D. by the ſpace of 40 dayes. Yet it was holden, It ſhall have relation to the place firſt named, and ſo the Law ſaith, That the Rent ſhall be paid the laſt of the 40 dayes, although it be not ſo expreſſed by words. See Plow. comm. Kedwelly and Brand's Caſe. 70.

5. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſans, as Bayliff to the Lord Howard, and ſhewed, That the Prioreſs of Holliwell was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Prior in Fee. And 4 Nov. 19 H. 8. by Deed enrolled, ſold to the Lord Audley the ſame Mannor, who dyed, having Iſſue a Daughter, who took to Huſband the Duke of N. who had Iſſue the Lord Howard, to whom the ſaid Mannor Diſcended. The Plaintiff in bar of the Conuſans ſhewed, That the Deed was primo deliberatum, 4. Nov. 30 H. 8. and that mean between the date and the delivery, viz. 12. Octobor, The ſaid Prioreſs Leaſed the ſaid Mannor to one A. for 99 years, and conveyed the Term to the Plaintiff, abſque hoc, That the Prioreſs Bargained and ſold the ſaid Mannor to the Lord Audley, ante dimiſſionem pradict. dict. A. fact. Upon which there was a Demurrer. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, amongſt many other points, That the averment of another delivery then the Deed doth import againſt the Deed Inrolled ſhould not be received, no more then a man may aver that a Recognizance was acknowledged at another day, for every Record imports a truth in it, and expreſs averment ſhall not be againſt it, but a man may conſeſſe and avoid it. And in that Caſe, it was ſaid and agreed, agreed, That a man ſhall not have averment againſt the purport of a Record; but againſt the operation of a Record, as not put in view, nor compriſed, partes finis nihil habuerunt: And againſt Letters Patents is Non conceſſit is a good Plea. But nultiel Record, upon Enrolment of them, is no Plea. The Caſe was adjourned. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Holland and Franklyns Caſe. Leon. 183.

6. In an Ejectione firmæ, It was found upon the general Iſſue for the Plaintiff, and four days after the Verdict given, a ſpecial matter was moved for ſtay of Judgment; of which the Court took time to adviſe of, and gave day over, and in the mean time, one of the Plaintiffs dyed; which matter the Defendant further ſhewed to the Court, to ſtay the Judgment: It was ſaid, That that was no cauſe to ſtay Judgment, for the Poſtea came in 15 Paſch. which was 16 Aprilis, at which day the Court ought to have given Judgment preſently, but took time to be adviſed; and the 19 of April one of the Plaintiffs dyed; and the favour of the Court ought not to prejudice the party, for the Judgment ſhall have retorn to the 16 of April, at which time the party was alive? And ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged in one James Caſe, who dyed the day after the Verdict, and yet the Judgment was not ſtayed, for the Court after Judgment cannot examine ſurmiſes, and they have not day in Court to plead; and in the Principal Caſe, it was a day of Grace, and no Entry is made of it. The Court ſaid, That although no Plea can be now pleaded after Verdict, yet as amicus Curiæ, one may inform of ſuch matter; and ſometimes ſuch a Judgment hath been ſtayed, as in 4 Eliz. notwithſtanding ſuch Exception; and becauſe the Verdict was a hard Verdict, and againſt the Evidence, the Court was of Opinion, to ſtay the matter for a time, and ſaid, it lay in the diſcretion of the Court ſo to do. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Iſelcyes Caſe, Leon. 187.

7. The Plaintiff recovered againſt the Defendant in an Action of Debt, and had Execution; The Defendant after the day of the Teſte of the Fieri facias, and before the Sheriff had medled with the Execution of the Writ, bona fide, ſold certain goods and Chattels, and delivered them to the buyers. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That notwithſtanding the ſaid ſale, the Sheriff might do Execution of thoſe goods in the hands of the buyers, for that they are liable to the Execution; and Execution once granted or made, ſhall have retorn to the Teſte of the Writ. Mich. 22 Eliz. in C. B. Wanſford and Sexſons Caſe. Leon. 304.

8. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was, One Bargained and ſold Lands by Indenture, 8 Julii, 2 Jac. The Deed was acknowledged 20 Julii, before a Maſter of the Chancery, 9 Octob. the Bargainor ſuffered a Judgment againſt him in the Court of Common Pleas; the 18 day of Octob. the Indenture was Enrolled in the Chancery: The Iſſue joyned, was, Whether the Bargainor was ſeized in Fee at the time of the Judgment: It was ſaid, That the Indenture being Enrolled, ſhall have Relation to the time of the Sealing and Delivery thereof, and makes the Bargainee ſeized ab initio; and then the Bargainor was not ſeized at the time of the Judgment; and of that Opinion was Crook Juſtice. But on the other part it was ſaid, That the Eſtate remains in the Bargainor, until the Inrolment, otherwiſe he could not be ſeized of the Eſtate, and till the Inrolment, the Poſſeſſion and Freehold continues in the Bargainor; for the Statute is expreſs, That nothing ſhall paſs until Enrolment; ſo that from the time of the paſſing, until the Inrolment, he remained ſeized: Then the Inrolment not being until the 18 day of October, and the Iſſue being, whether he were ſeized the fourth day of October; upon this Verdict, the Iſſue is found for the Defendant: The Court agreed, That the Inrolment of the Deed within the ſix moneths, relates to the ſealing of the Deed, and makes the Bargainee in, to avoid all Incumbrances made unto ſtrangers after the Enſealing: But conceived in the Principal Caſe, That in rei veritate, the Bargainor ſhall be ſaid to be ſeized, alwayes until the Inrolment; and nothing paſſeth to the Bargainee till the Inrolment, for it is ſo expreſſly appointed by the Statute, and it is Quaſi a conveiſion precedent, and until it be performed, nothing veſts in the Bargainee. See Cook 4. Part, Finches Caſe. That if the Bargainor makes a Feoffment, or a Fine before the Inrolment, to the Bargainee himſelf, and afterwards the Deed is Enrolled, the Bargainee is in by the Fine or Feoffment, but the Inrolment ſhall take away all Incumbrances made by the Bargainor himſelf to a Stranger, that they ſhall not prejudice the Bargainee; for the Inrolment hath relation to take away all Incumbrances. The Principal Caſe was adjourned, for that the Court would take further time to adviſe of it. Hill. 4 Car in B. R. Flower and Baldwins Caſe. Cro. 1 Part, 158.

9. A. and his Wife ſeized of the Parſonage of D. to them, and the Heirs of A. did grant the ſame to King Hen. 8. and his Heirs by Deed, 10 Maii, 31 H. 8. and then the King by his Letters Patents 21 Julii, 31. did Grant the Parſonage of S. (whereunto the Advowſon of the Vicarage belonged) to them, and the Heirs of A. in conſideration of the Parſonage of D. &c. given and granted by them to him, not ſaying by Deed, nor by what means. After 16 Julii, 32 H. 8. the Deed was acknowledged by A. and his Wife, and Enrolled, ſecundum formam Statuti. It was holden in this Caſe, That though the the Deed to the King was not acknowledged, nor Enrolled at the time of the Grant made by the King, yet the Relation of the Inrolment, and the Operation of the Law, ſhall make the conſideration true in effect, and ſufficient, as touching the Husbands Eſtate, and the King ſhall not be deceived in his Grant. Hill. 12. Jac. in C. B. Rott. 1844. Nettler, and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Hob. 222.

10. A. and B. by Indenture 3 Julii, 13 Jac. did bargain and ſell to J. S. and his heirs, the Manner of D. 4 Octob. 13 Jac. the Bargainee dyed, his heir of full age: In this Caſe it was Reſolved, the Land being holden in Capite, That his heir ſhould ſue as Livery; for it was ſaid, That this differed from all the Caſes of Recovery, Covenants to ſtand ſeized to Uſes, where the Eſtate veſts in the Heir, quaſi Heir, and never veſted in the Anceſtor, for this upon Inrolment, ſettles as between the Bargainor, and the Bargainee, ab initio, upon the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, which doth joyn all the Eſtates to the Uſes, ipſo facto, only the Statute of Inrolment ſays, That in that Caſe it ſhall not veſt, except the Deed be Enro'led; ſo if it be Inrolled, it doth veſt, not by the Statute of Inrolments, but by the Statute of Uſes. Yet in that Caſe it was agreed, That the Bargainee cannot ſell to another, until the Deed be Inrolled. Paſch. 15. Jac. in Cur. Ward. Dimocks Caſe. Hob. 136.

11. Upon a Verdict, a Rule was given by the Court for Judgment; this was upon Thurſday, upon Saturday after, the Plaintiff dyed: It was moved to have a Writ of Error, becauſe the party dyed before Judgment, and that cauſe is to have four days to ſpeak in Arreſt of Judgment, and it was moved for a Superſedeas: It was ſaid, That it was in the diſcretion of the Court to allow a Writ of Error; and although a Writ of Error was a Superſedeas in it ſelf, yet it was good to have a Superſedeas alſo: But becauſe the Writ of Error was not allowed, and becauſe no Error appeared to the Court, and for that where Judgment is entred, it ſhall relate to the Rule given, The Court Reſolved, That no Writ of Error ſhould be allowed, nor any Superſedeas granted. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. The Earl of Shrewſbu yet Caſe. Popham, 132, 133.

12. A. became Bail for B. upon a Latitat in the Kings Bench, before Judgment, the Bail let his Lands for valuable conſideration; Afterwards Judgment was given for the Plaintiff: It was a Queſtion If the Lands leaſed ſhould be lyable to the Bailment. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Lands of the Leſſee ſhould be lyable; for it was ſaid, It was like to the caſe of a Bargain and Sale of Lands, which after is Enrolled within ſix months, which ſhall relate to the beginning of the Bargain, ſo upon the Judgment given, relation is made from the time of the Bailment: But the Court ſaid, they would further adviſe of the Caſe. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Baſkervile and Brookes Caſe. Popham 132.

13. Note, In the Caſe betwixt Walter and Bould, It was a Queſtion, to what day a Judgment in full Term ſhall have Relation; whether to the Eſſoigne day, or to the day in full Term: It was ſaid, That it hath been the Opinion of moſt Lawyers and Practiſers, That a Judgment could not be given upon the Eſſoin day. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Law was otherwiſe; for they ſaid, A Judgment in full Term ſhall relate to the firſt day of the Term, which is the Eſſoin day, and all other days given, are but days of Grace; and a difference was taken, which was this; where a Judgment is given upon any default in any Record, quarto Die is the day, and this is the day of Grace, before which day no default was to be Recorded, and ſo is the Entry, Obtulit ſe quarto die: but where Judgment is given upon appearance, there the Judgment hath relation to the firſt day; and it was ſaid, That a Judgment given upon the Eſſoin day was good; and ſo it was ſaid, it was adjudged Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. in Poyners Caſe; where the Caſe was; Poyns an Infant, levyed a Fine, and in Trinity Term after, brought a Writ of Error, and prayed he might be Inſpected; and becauſe he had not his proofs there, day was given him till Octab. Mich. on which day, being the Eſſoin day, he came, and Juſtice Cook Inſpected him, de bene eſſe, and before Menſe Mich. he came of full age. It was the Opinion of the Court, That if the Inſpection ſhall be upon the day of Eſſoins, and before 4. die poſt, he come of full age, it is good: And in this Caſe it was ſaid, That if a man be bound to appear the firſt day of the Term in Court, he may appear the firſt day of Eſſoins, and then have his appearance recorded: And ſo the Court was clear of Opinion, That Judgment given in full Term, ſhall have Relation to the firſt day, which is the Eſſoin day, Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Walter and Baulds Caſe. Bulſtr. 1. Part, 33.

14. Scire facias upon a Judgment in Debt, Hill. Term, 22 Jac. againſt Bill; The Defendant being returned Ter-Tenant, pleaded a Statute acknowledged by the ſaid Bill, 22 Jan. 22 Jac. and an Extent by vertue of that Statute; and if the Judgment ſhall relate to the firſt day of Hill. Term, which was the 20 of Jan. being the Eſſoin day, or only to the 23 of Jan. which was the 4. die poſt, was the Queſtion. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Judgment ſhall have relation to the firſt day, viz. the Eſſoin day, for in Law it is the firſt day day of the Term, and all Legal proceedings have relation thereunto, and the 4. die poſt is the day of Grace; wherefore it being upon a Demurrer, it was adjudged accordingly for the Plaintiff. Hill. 2 Car. in C. B. Stanford and Coopers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 73.

15. In Trover and Converſion of goods, the Caſe was, A. and B. were poſſeſſed of the goods, and 21 Jac. were bound in a Statute to the Defendant, for a juſt and true Debt, and it being forfeited, the Defendant ſued forth an Extent to the Sheriffs of London, who extended thoſe goods (the Writ being returnable Craſtino Annunciat.) and returned the Writ and Inquiſition into the Chancery, 3 Nov. 3 Car. A. and B. became Bankrupts, being indebted to the Plaintiff, and others, 6 Nov. 3 Car. the Defendant ſued a Liberate upon the Extent, and the ſame day the goods upon Appraiſment were delivered in Extent: Afterwards 8 Nov. the Plaintiff and others, ſued forth a Commiſſion of Bankrupts againſt A. and B. The Commiſſioners ſold the goods to the Plaintiff 23 Nov. 3 Car. The point was, Whether A. and B. becoming Bankrupts after the Extent, and before the Liberate, whether the ſale made by the Commiſſioners was good: It was Objected, That it was good, and that the property of the goods did remain in the Conuſors, and by the Extent are only ſeizable into the Kings hands, but that ſhall not deveſt any property. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That thoſe goods extended before they became Bankrupts, could not be ſold by the Commiſſioners, becauſe they being extended, are quaſi in Cuſtodia Legis, ſo as the Conuſors have not any power to give, ſell, or diſpoſe of them; and although by the Extent the Conuſee hath not an abſolute Intereſt nor Property in them, until the delivery by the Liberate, and at the return of the Writ, may refuſe them for being over valued, yet that is for the advantage of the Conuſee; for the Extent is Capias in manus noſtras, and they be as goods gaged or diſtrained, which cannot be forfeited by Outlawry, or otherwiſe; and the Liberate is ſued, it hath relation to the Writ of Extent; and ſo the ſale of the Commiſſioners not good. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 3 Car. in B. R. Radley and Halſeys Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 106.

16. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, A. was Indicted of a Præmunire, upon the Statute of 13 Eliz. and afterwards made a gift in Tail of his Lands, and afterwards he was attainted by Verdict, and had Judgment: It was after found by Inquiſition upon a Commiſſion out of the Exchequer, That A. was ſeized of the Lands in Fee, at the time of the Offence committed; and that the Queen granted the Land to G. C. under whom the Leſſee of the Plaintiff claimed, and the Defendant under the Title of the Tenant in Tail. The points were, 1. Whether an Attainder in a Præmunire, ſhall have a Relation to the Offence for the forfeiture of the Lands, or to the point of the Judgment. This being a point of great difficulty, the Juſtices did not Reſolve. 2. Admitting the Attainder did relate to the Offence, If the Patent after the Inquiſition by Commiſſion under the Exchequer Seal, (no offence being found by Inquiſition under the Great Seal) be good by the Statute of 18 Eliz. cap. 2. For the ſecond Point, It was Reſolved, That the Freehold being a Stranger by the gift in Tail, at the time of the Attainder, it ſhall not be deveſted from him, and veſted in the King, without Office found under the Great Seal, which is only an Office to entitle the King; and not by an Inquiſition, by vertue of a Commiſſion under the Exchequer Seal. Therefore for this Point only, it was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. Groſs and Gapers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 123.

17. A man Bargained and Sold Lands by Deed Indented, Dat. 11 Junii, 1 Jac. Afterwards 12 Junii, the ſame year, Common was granted to the Bargainee for all manner of Cattel commonable, upon the Land; 15 Junii, the Deed of Bargain and Sale was Enrolled. It was adjudged in this Caſe, to be a good Grant of the Common, and that the Inrolment ſhall have Relation as to that, although for collateral things it ſhall not have Relation. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Ludlow and Statres Caſe. Godbolt, 270.

18. Note, That an Adminiſtrater may bring an Action of Treſpaſſe, or a Trover and Converſion of Goods of the Inteſtate taken from before the Letters of Adminiſtration granted to him, for that the Letters of Adminiſtration do relate to the time of the death of the Inteſtate, and not to the time of the Granting of them; and ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 1652. in B. R. in Long and Hibbs Caſe. Style, 341.

2. Where words ſubſequent ſhall have Relation to things mentioned before in the Premiſſes: Where they ſhall have Relation to the next precedent; And to what time an Act to be made upon a Condition, ſhall relate; And how, and to what time, place, perſon, or things, words in Deeds, &c. ſhall relate; & è contra.

1. A Man ſeized of Lands in G. and W. deviſed the Lands in G. to his younger Son, for life, and dyed; his Heir entred into the Lands in W. and was ſeized in Fee, the younger ſon being within age; the Mother as Guardian for Nurture, entred into the Lands in G. and afterwards it was agreed betwixt the Mother and the eldeſt ſon, That the Mother do Releaſe unto the elder ſon all her Dower to the Lands in W. and after the Mother do releaſe to the elder ſon, all Actions, Reals and Perſonals, ſuits, and demands, nec non totam dictam ſuam, & titulum Dotis de aliquibus terris in W. quæ vel quas, ſhe had, or ever after might have, by reaſon of any thing, from the beginning of the world, to the date of the Releaſe. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other points) that the words [quæ vel quas] do refer as well to the ſpecial word [Dowers, &c.] as to the general words [Actions and Demands.] for it was ſaid, It were againſt reaſon, that they ſhould refer to the general words, which are more remote, and not to the words of Qualification, which were nearer unto them. Cook 8. Part, 154. Altham's Caſe.

2. The Queen ſeized of the Rectory of L. had a portion of Tythes thereunto belonging; and ſhe by her Letters Patents, granted to J. S. Totam illam portionem Decimarum in L. in Com. N. cum omnibus aliis Decimis ſuis quibuſcunque in L. in diſt. Com. N. nunc vel nuper in occupatione J. S. It was holden in this Caſe, That the laſt words, Nunc vel nuper, &c. refer to the whole ſentence, and not to the latter part of it only, viz. Cum omnibus aliis, &c. 1. Becauſe the firſt words are, Totam illam portionem Decimarum; ſo as this word illam, ſheweth there ought to be ſubſequent words, to reduce into certainty what portion by the intention of the Queen, ſhall be granted, viz. Illam, which was in the occupation of I. S. and therefore this word Illam, is not ſatisfied till you come to the end of the ſentence. 2. It was holden, That theſe words, Cum omnibus aliis, couples the laſt words with the former, and makes the ſubſequent words refer to the whole ſentence. Cook 4. Part, 55. Bozom's Caſe.

3. The King granted to J. S. omnia illa Meſſuagia in Tenura J. D. ſcituate in W; and the truth was, the Lands did lye in D. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, becauſe the Grant is general, and is reſtrained to a certain Town, that the Patentee ſhall not have any Lands out of that Town, unto which the generality of the Grant refers, and that by reaſon of the word [illa]; for omnia illa Meſſuagia, muſt of neceſſity refer, as well to the Town, as to the Tenura of J. D. ſo that if either of them fail, the Grant muſt needs be void; for the word [illa] is not ſatisfied without you come to the end of the ſentence. Cook, 2. Part, 32. Doddington's Caſe.

4. Indentures of Demiſes were Engroſſed, bearing Date the 26 day of May, 25 Eliz. To have and to hold for three years, from henceforth; and the Indentures were delivered at four of the Clock in the Afternoon of the 20 day of June, 25 Eliz. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the words [from henceforth] ſhould have reference, and be accounted from the time of the delivery of the Indentures, and not from the Date; for [from henceforth] is as much as to ſay, from the making, or a Conſtitione; becauſe the confection or making of the Leaſe, beginneth by the Delivery; and the words [from henceforth] or any other words in a Leaſe, are of none effect or force, until the Delivery. Cook 5. Part, 1. Clayton's Caſe.

5. The Queen ſeized of the Mannor of D. to which an Advowſon was Appendant, demiſed the Mannor to J. S. for years, excepting the Advowſon: And afterwards, the King by his Letters Patents, granted Totum illud Manerium de D. cum pertinenciis, to J. D. in Fee, exceptis quæ in Literis riſdem Patent. excipiuntur; reciting the Letters Patents for years granted before: And further granted, Manerium prædict. & omnia & ſingula præmiſſa cum pertinenciis, adeo plene & integre, & in tam amplis modo & forma, prout omnia & ſingula premiſſa, aut aliquo modo parcella ad manus noſtras devenerant, or in manibus noſtris nunc exiſtunt. It was in this Caſe Reſolved, 1. That the Advowſon did paſs; for when the Grant of the King in general Terms refers to a certainty, it contains as expreſs certainty, as if the certainty had been expreſſed in the Grant, although that the certainty to which the Reference is, is not of Record, but lies in Averment. 2. Reſolved, That the words ſubſequent in the Grant, ſhould have relation to the the things before mentioned: And therefore, if the ſaid clauſe, adeo plene & integre, had been omitted, the Advowſon had not paſſed by the firſt clauſe of the Grant; but by the addition of thoſe words, in the latter clauſe of the Grant, it did make the Advowſon to paſſe; for by thoſe words, the Kings intention did clearly appear. Cook 10. Part, 63. Whittiers Caſe.

6. Debt upon an Obligation, to perform all Covenants, Payments, Reſervations contained in ſuch an Indenture. The Caſe was this, A man ſeized of a houſe in Fee, demiſed the ſame to J. S. for one year by Indenture, and if both parties did agree, and ſhould be content, That the Term ſhould continue for a longer time, Then to have and to hold, Demiſa pradict. to the ſaid J. S. for three years, Reddendo inde continuatim, during the ſaid Term, at four Feaſts of the year, 40 s. rent; the Leſſee entred, and occupied the houſe for a year; The Leſſor for non payment of the ſaid Rent for the ſaid year, brought Debt: The Queſtion was, If the Leſſee ſhould pay any Rent for the ſaid year, or not. It was Objected, That he ſhould not pay any Rent for the firſt year, becauſe the Reddendo depended upon a Contingent which never took effect; for the Leaſe was not continued over the firſt year. 2. The Reſervation of the Rent was, durante termino pradict. which being ſpoken only in the ſingular number, ſhall relate only to the Term of three years laſt-mentioned, and not to the Term of one year, which was certain before the Contingent. But it was Reſolved, That the reſervation of the Rent did extend to the firſt year; and the proper place of a Reſervation is, to come after the limitation of all the Eſtates; and the words [Reddendo inde] have reference, and extend to all Eſtates before; and although the future Term be uncertain, yet the firſt term, for one year, is certain; and the words [Durante termino pradict.] although it be in the ſingular number, yet it is Nomen collectivum, and ſhall refer to every Term demiſed by the Indenture. Cook 10. Part, 106. Humphry Iofilds Caſe.

7. A. Leaſed certain Lands for years, yeilding yearly the Rent of 35 l. at Michaelmas, and the Annuntiation, or within twelve days after every of the ſaid Feaſts, payable at the Font-ſtone in the Temple Church; upon condition, That if the ſaid Rent of 35 l. or any part of it, be behinde, and unpaid, and not paid by the ſpace of twelve days next after any of the ſaid Feaſts, that then the ſaid Leaſe ſhould be void. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Leſſee in ſafeguard of his Leaſe, ſhould have twelve dayes after the twelve dayes, to pay the ſaid Rent; for when the Rent is not paid at the firſt day, it is as much as if it had been reſerved upon the twelfth day after: And where it is ſaid, per pradict. ſpacium 12 dierum poſt, &c. by good conſtruction, all the words ought to take effect; ſcil. Poſt aliquod pradict. Feſtorum, ſeu dierum ſolutionis inde, and dies ſolutionis is the twelfth day of the Feaſt; and therefore the Leſſee ſhall have twelve days after the twelve days, which is dies ſolutionis poſt Feſt. and that for the more avail of the Leſſee, for whoſe benefit further time was given; and thoſe words [pradict. ſpacium 12 dierum] may ſtand in good ſenſe, ſcil. per pradict. ſpacium 12 dierum poſt pradict. 12 dies; for that is pradict. ſpacium, although it hath not beginning as the other hath. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Smith and Baſtards Caſe; Vouch. in Cook, 10. Part, 129. in Clunns Caſe.

8. If a man, who is non compos Mentis, gives himſelf a mortal Wound, and before he dyeth, he becomes ſanæ Memoria, and afterwards dyeth of the ſame wound. In this Caſe, although that he dyeth of ſanæ Memoriæ, yet becauſe the original cauſe of his death hath relation to the original act, which was the ſtroak or wound, he ſhall not be Felo de ſe. 22 E. 3. Coron, 214. Cook 1. 9. Husband and Wife ſeized of a Mannor, to them, and the heirs of the body of the Husband, by Deed Indented, Bargained, and ſold the Land to one in Fee, who ſuffered a Recovery, in which the Husband alone was vouched, which Recovery was to the uſe of the Husband for life, and afterwards to the uſe of the Wife for life, and for ſix moneths after, and after to the uſe of A. in Tail, and after to the uſe of the Wife in Fee; Provided, That it ſhall be lawful for the Husband and Wife, during their joynt lives, by any Deed or Writing ſealed, and publiſhed in the preſence of three Witneſſes, to alter or revoke any of the ſaid Uſe or Eſtates before Declared; and that at all times, from, and after, as the ſaid Husband and Wife ſhall by any ſuch Deed in Writing, expreſs or declare their minde to be, to alter &c. That then, and from thenceforth, ſuch of the ſaid Eſtates and Uſes ſhall ceaſe, determine, and be void; and that from thenceforth, the ſaid Recovery ſhall be, and all perſons ſhall ſtand and be ſeized to the uſe of ſuch, and ſuch Uſes and Eſtates, as by the ſaid Deed or Writing as aforeſaid, ſhall be Declared or Limitted only, and not to any other perſon or perſons, uſe or uſes: The Husband and Wife by Writing Indented, Sealed, and Publiſhed in the preſence of three Witneſſes, reciting the ſaid Power of Revocation, Declare, That the ſaid Recovery ſhall be to the uſe of the Husband for life, and after, to the uſe of the Wife for life, and ſix moneths after; and after to the uſe of B. in Fee, and after the Husband and Wife dye. In this Caſe (amongſt other Points) it was Reſolved, That although no uſe did ceaſe until the Writing ſealed and publiſhed, and after the ſealing and publication thereof, nothing could be added to it; yet it well ſtood with the intent and words of the parties, That the new Declaration might be in the ſame Deed; And this word [ſuch] in the Proviſo, more properly refers and extends to the ſame Writing, in which the Revocation is, then to another; for [by ſuch Writing] is as much as to ſay, by the ſame Writing, vel hujuſmodi ſcriptum; and although the clauſes of the Creation of the new Uſes, and deſtruction of the old Uſes, are all in one and the ſame Deed, yet the Law ſhall conſtrue the clauſe of deſtruction, to precede the clauſe of Limitation of the new Uſes. Cook 6. Part, 33. Fitz-Williams Caſe.

10. In the great Caſe of Quo Warranto, Cook 9. Part, The Abbot of Strata Marcellas Caſe, theſe points (amongſt other) were Reſolved. 1. That when the King grants any Priviledges, Liberties, Franchiſes, which were Priviledges, Liberties, Franchiſes, in his own hands, as Flowers of his Crown; as Bona Felonum, fugitivorum, utlagat. Waif, Eſtray, Deodands, Wreck, &c. if they come again into the Kings hands, they are drowned in the Crown: But when a Liberty, Priviledge, Franchiſe, or a Juriſdiction is erected or created by the King, they are not extinct, nor the Appendancy ſevered from the poſſeſſions, though they come again to the King; as Grant of Market, Fair, Park, Warren, &c. 2. That if the King grant to J. S. and his Heirs, Catalla Felonum within his Manner of D. and afterwards J. S. grants to the King and his Succeſſors, the Mannor; and further grants to him and his heirs, Tot, talia, tanta, eadem, & conſimilia Privilegia, Libertates & Franchiſias, quot, qualia, quanta, & qua J. S. had. In that Caſe, in a Quo Warranto brought againſt J. N. he cannot plead the Grant in ſuch manner, but he is to plead ſpecially the firſt Grant made of the Felons goods, &c. and the re-Grant. 3. When the King Grants Bona Felonum, and divers other Franchiſes, to one for life; and afterwards the King Grants, Tot, talia, tanta, eadem & hujuſmodi Privilegia to J. S. and his Heirs, Quot, qualia, quanta, vel qua, aliqui vel aliquis, habuerunt aut habuit; That ſuch a Grant with ſuch a Reference is good, and J. S. ſhall have ſuch Priviledges as the Tenant for life had; for when a general Grant doth relate, or hath reference to another Deed, it is as much in Law, as if all the other Charters or Grants had been rented; becauſe they are upon Record. Cook 9. Part, 23. &c. See Cook, 9. Part, 42, 43. The Earl of Shrewsburyes Caſe, to this purpoſe.

More Relation.

1. AN Appeal brought of Felony, if the Defendant, depending the Plea, convey away his Land, the ſame is good, and ſhall prevent the Lord of his Eſcheat. But if a man be Endicted of Felony, and afterwards conveyes away his Land, and afterwards is Outlawed, there the Land ſhall Eſchear, becauſe in the one Caſe the Outlawry relates but to the Outlawry pronounced; and in the other Caſe, it relates to the Felony committed. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 13.

2. A man Bargains and ſells his Lands to B. and before Inrolment of the Deed, Grants a Rent-charge to J. S. and afterwards the Deed is enrolled. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Grant was good, and that by the Inrollment, it ſhall be the Grant of B. and the confirmation of the other; but if the Deed had not bin enrolled, it ſhould be the Grant of the other, and the confirmation of B. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 147.

3. A man Bargains and ſells a Reverſion, and afterwards levyes a Fine to the Bargainee of the ſame, and afterwards the Deed is enrolled. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That although the Inrolment of the Deed ſhould have relation to avoid mean acts; yet it ſhould not deveſt an Eſtate which was ſetled before. Cook 4. Part, 71. Hindes Caſe.

4. A man made a Leaſe for years rendring rent at Mich. and the Annunciation: He in the Reverſion Bargained and Sold the Reverſion to a ſtranger, who thereof gave notice to the Leſſee; the day of payment came, the Leſſee paid the Rent to the Bargainor, and then the Deed was enrolled. And if the Bargainee ſhould have the Rent alſo by relation, ſo as the Bargainor ſhall be charged in accompt to the Leſſee firſt payed, was the Queſtion. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That in this Caſe the Bargainee ſhould not have the Rent. And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That if a Rent be paid to an Adminiſtrator who hath right for a time, and afterwards a Will is found, ſo as it appeareth upon the matter, that there was an Executor, and by conſequence no Adminiſtration could be, that the Rent ſhould be paid again to the Executor. Quære, becauſe it was a Chattel veſted. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Sir Robert Barker and Finches Caſe.

5. The Diſſeiſee makes a Deed Indented, purporting a Leaſe for years, and delivers the ſame to a ſtranger off from the Land, as an Eſcrow, commanding him to enter upon the Land, and there to deliver it upon the Land as his Deed to the Leſſee, who doth it accordingly. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That it was a good Leaſe, becauſe it ſhall have Relation to the ſecond delivery for neceſſity, ut res magis valeat quam pereat. See 19 Eliz. Jennings and Braggs Caſe, vouched in Cook 3. Part, 35.

6. A. C. deviſed ſome of his Lands to R. C. and others, untill 800 l. ſhould be levyed and received out of the Rents and profits of them (beſides all Charges) to be imployed for the preferment of his two Daughters, M. and E. The Son and Heir of A. conceals the Will, enters into the Lands, and enjoyes them five years, and dyes. After whoſe death, the Will being diſcovered, R. C. enters in the Lands, and raiſeth 640 l. and imployes the ſame according to the Will. The Queſtion was, Whether the profits taken by the elder Son, and which the Deviſees might have taken, ſhould be accounted parcel of the ſum of the ſaid 800 l. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved, That although the words be [untill the ſum of 800 l. ſhall be levyed, &c.] yet it is as much in Law, as if the words had bin, [ſhall or may be levyed]. And it was holden in this Caſe, That in Caſe of a Leaſe for years, or limitation of an uſe untill ſuch a ſum ſhall be levyed, it is as much as to ſay, ſhall or may be levyed: for otherwiſe great miſchief would enſue, becauſe that he in the Reverſion or Remainder ſhall not enter untill the ſame be levyed. It ſhould be in the power of thoſe who are appointed to levy it, for to defer the levying of it, and ſo exclude him in the Reverſion or Remainder from taking of the profits of the Lands for ever: and therefore it was holden, That the words ſhall have ſuch reference, and have ſuch Relation and conſtruction, that an abſurdity or an Inconvenience follow not thereupon. Cook 4. Part, 80. Sir Andrew Corbets Caſe.

7. A. by Indenture enrolled, demiſed the Manner of D. to B. and his Heirs in Fee, rendring Rent, with clauſe of Diſtreſs, and upon non-payment of the Rent, to re-enter. And by the ſame Indenture Covenanted to make further aſſurance according to the purport and true intent and meaning of the parties expreſſed in the ſaid Indenture. And after by another Indenture, bearing date the ſame day, A. Covenanted to levy a Fine of the ſaid Manner, &c. before ſuch a day, &c. which Fine ſhould be to the only uſe, intents, effects, and Conditions expreſſed in the former Indentures, and to no other uſes; and Livery and Seiſin was made upon the ſame Indenture accordingly. And after the Fine was levyed come ceo, &c. as B. habuit ex dono of A. with a Releaſe with Warranty according to the uſual courſe of Fines. In this Caſe it was Reſolved and adjudged, That the Rent was not touched or extinguiſhed by the Fine, becauſe in that Caſe the Fine had relation to the former Indentures. Paſc. 5 Ma. Dyer, 157.

8. A Feme Covert had the third part of the Land of a Termor delivered unto her by the Sheriff in Dower. The Termor did give, grant, and aſſign all the Land, compriſed in his Leaſe, to A. and Covenanted, That he had not done any act, but that the Aſſignee might enjoy it againſt every one, and he was bound in an Obligation to perform the ſaid Covenants. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That he had not forfeited his Obligation, for that the words ſhould have relation to the words of the Leſſee, viz. that he had not done any act, and it was ſaid, That the words were not abſolute; as if the Aſſignee ſhould enjoy it againſt all men. See 7 Eliz. Dyer, 240.

9. Note, It is ſaid, That Relation is a fiction in Law, and will never do a wrong, or lay a Charge upon a third perſon. And therefore if a man ſeiſed in Fee, taketh a Wife, and maketh a Feoffment, and the Feoffee granteth a Rent of 10 l. to the Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Husband, and the Husband dyeth, and the Wife recovered the moyety of the Land by Cuſtome, that in ſuch Caſe the Rent ſhall be apportioned, and ſhe ſhall diſtreyn only for 5 l. which is the moyety of the Rent; for although that the Dower be paramount the Rent by Relation, yet this Relation ſhall do no wrong. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 190. Cook 3. Part, 29. in Butler and Bakers Caſe, acc.

10. Note, That by a Feoffment of a Mannor, and Livery made, the Services do not paſs untill Attornment; but after Attornment, it ſhall have relation to paſs them ab initio; but not to charge the Tenants with the Arrerages, or with Waſte done in the mean time; and ſo it was adjudged. H ll. 14 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 508. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 310.

11. Note, That at the time of Granting a Tales, the Array muſt ſtand, for the word Tales are but words of ſimilitude, and have reference to a thing which at that time ought to be in eſſe; and therefore if the Array be quaſhed, or all the Polls challenged and drawn out, no Tales ſhall be awarded, for at that time they were not Quales: but in ſuch Caſe a new Venire facias ſhall Iſſue. Howbeit, that at the time of the citing of the Tales, the Principal Pannel did ſtand, and after is quaſhed, yet the Tales ſhall ſtand, for it is ſufficient that they were Quales at the time of the granting of the Tales. Cook 10. Part, 104. in Denbawdies Caſe.

12. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury had Catalla felonum felonum de ſe infra manerium de D. he committed Treaſon; and afterwards the King made a general Grant to the Almoner of all goods of Felons de ſe. And afterwards the Archbiſhop is Attainted, and the Hales who had a Leaſe there, became Felons de ſe, and the Queen Granted the Term. It was a Queſtion, If the Pattentee or the Almoner ſhould have the Term. It was a Quære in Dyer, in 2 Ma. Dyer, 108. But ſee, that Quære is now Reſolved in Cook 1. Part, 150. that the Pattentee ſhall have it, and that by reaſon of the Relation of the Attainder, which had relation to the Offence committed.

13. In a Mouſtrans de droit, the Caſe was. In 17 E. 2. John de malo Lacu, gave to Peter de malo Lacu, and the Heirs of his body, the Caſtle and Mannor of Mulgrave, which after came to Sir Ralph Bigod: Sir Ralph Bigod 6 H. 8. made a Feoffment thereof to W. and others in Fee, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and dyed. The right of the Lands together with the entail, and the uſe deſcended to Sir Francis Bigod. 21 H. 8. Sir Francis made a Feoffment to J. S. and others, to the uſe of himſelf and Katherine his Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies, and had Iſſue Ralph Bigod, and Dorothy, 26 H. 8. the Statute of forfeiture for Treaſon was made, 29 H. 8. Sir Francis was Attainted and Executed. Katharine ſurvived him, 31 H. 8. a ſpecial Act of Parliament was made of his Attainder and forfeiture. 6 Eliz. Ralph Bigod Son and Heir of Sir Francis and Katherine, were reſtored in bloud by Parliament, and dyed without Iſſue. Dorothy married Roger Ratcliff, and they had Iſſue Francis Ratcliff. Katherine dyed, Francis entred. 33 Eliz. all this was found by Office. 34 Eliz. Francis dyed, having Iſſue Roger Ratcliff. 34 Eliz. the Queen granted the Caſtle and Mannor to Edmund Lord Sheffeild, and the Heirs Males of his body. Roger Ratcliff brought a Mouſtrans de droit, and had Judgment in it. Whereupon Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber. There were many Queſtions moved in this Caſe; the Principal were two. 1. Whether Francis Bigod who had an Eſtate in ſpecial tail, and alſo any right of the old intail in him at the time of his Attainder: Or whether it was in Abeyance in reſpect of the Feoffment made 21 H. 8. In that point it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Feoffment gave away all the Eſtate that the Feoffor had concerning himſelf, or any benefit that he might receive thereby; but as concerning his Iſſue inheritable to that intail, and to him in the Reverſion, and for their good, there remained ſtill in him a right to that Intail by force of the Statute of Weſt. 2. for the good of thoſe that are ſaved by the Statute. 2. It was Reſolved, That this old Right of the Intail was forfeited to the Crown by the Statute of 26 H. 8. for that there was an Actual Eſtate in tail in the perſon Attainted at the time of the Attainder. 3. It was Reſolved, That their Rights were bound by the expreſs words of the Statute, there being no ſaving therein for them. 4. Reſolved, That when the Office was found, Iſſue in tail was barred notwithſtanding the remitter in that Caſe, by reaſon of the Relation of the Office. And afterwards the former Judgment given for Ratcliff was reverſed in the Exchequer Chamber. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. Rott. 96. See the Caſe argued at large, Hobart 334. and in Godbol. 314.

14. Error to reverſe a Judgment in C. B. becauſe the Judgment was there given againſt a dead man, the Defendant dying after the Niſi Prius and before the day in Bank. It was urged, That the day of Niſi Prius, and the day in Bank were all one. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Judgment given in the Common Pleas ſhould not relate to the day of the Niſi Prius, but according to the day in Bank; and if death do happen in the mean time between the day of Niſi Prius, and the day in bank; if Judgment be given, it is erronious. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Judgment given againſt the dead man ſhould be reverſed. Trin. 12 Jac. In B. R. Jourden and Dennys Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part, 241.

Releaſes

Releaſes.

1. Where a Releaſe is void for want of a poſſeſſion of him to whom the Releaſe is made, and where not; and where it is good by reaſon of Privity betwixt the Releaſſor, and Releaſſee: Where not.

1. IF a man Leaſe Lands to another for Term of years. If the Leſſor doth Releaſe to the Leſſee all his Right before that the Leſſee hath entred into the Land by force of the Releaſe, ſuch Releaſe is void, becauſe that the Leſſee had not poſſeſſion of the Land at the time of the Releaſe made, but only a Right to have the Land by force of the ſame Leaſe. But if the Leſſee entreth into the Land, and be thereof poſſeſſed by vertue of the Leaſe, then ſuch a Releaſe made to him by the Feoffor or Leſſor, is good and ſufficient in reſpect of the privity which is betwixt them; and ſo it is if the Releaſe be made to the Leſſee by the Heir of the Feoffor or Leſſor. See Litt. 109. Sect. 459. acc.

2. The Prior of St. John and his brethren made a Leaſe by Indenture to three at Will; one of the three dyed; the Leſſors in 4 H. 8. by Indenture, reciting the death of one of them, and that the firſt Indenture was ſurrendred and cancelled, made an Eſtate to the Survivors, Habendum to them and their Heirs, but made no Letter of Attorney to make Livery. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That it was void, for that by the ſurrender of the Indenture, the Eſtate at Will was determined, ſo as that now they had not any poſſeſſion, ſo as the Grant could not ennure to them as a Confirmation. It was a Quære in that Caſe, if the death of one of them did not determine the Eſtate at Will. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 296. See now Cook 5. Part, 10. in Henſteads Caſe, that the Eſtate at Will is not determined, and then a Releaſe upon ſuch an Eſtate may be good.

3. Eliz. who was great Aunt to the Earl of Devon, was married to Jo. Vyvion, both born in Marriage, and named John; the eldeſt being reputed by the Father to be begotten by one Mayo, and by him called John Mayo. E. the Wife of Vyvion dyed. The Earl of Devon dyed without Iſſue: Office found after his death, That John Vyvion the younger, was co-heir to the Earl, upon which he ſued Livery with the other co-heirs, and held Courts, and received Rents. And afterwards John the eldeſt releaſed, and granted all his Right, Intereſt, and Demand in all the Mannors, &c. to John the younger; and after the Tenants payed their Rents to John the younger as before. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That this John the younger ſhall not be taken to be Heir notwithſtanding the vulgar reputation. And 2. That neither the ſuing of Livery, holding of Courts, nor the Receipt of the Rents, had gained him any poſſeſſion, either by wrong or Right upon which the ſaid Releaſe could ennure. Trin. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 302. Vyvions Caſe.

4. Leſſee for years rendring rent, the Reverſion is Granted for life, the Remainder over in Fee, the Grantee for life releaſeth all his Right to him in the Remainder in Fee: he in the Remainder Grants the Reverſion in Fee, the Tenant for life alſo releaſeth to that Grantee. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Releaſes were void, becauſe they had not words of ſurrender. It is there a Quære, If the ſecond Releaſe ſhall not ennure as an Attornment to make the Remainder to paſs. Paſc. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 251.

5. Leſſee for years is ouſted by a ſtranger, who leaſeth the Land over for years; the firſt Leſſee Releaſeth to the ſecond Leſſee all his Right. It was holden by Martin, 9 H. 6. 41. that the Releaſe was good, and yet there was no privity berwixt them, for that in the Releaſe of a Right in a Chattel, there needs no privity. But ſee Fitz. Title Releaſe 44. upon the ſaid Caſe of 9 H. 6. That if a man be Diſſeiſed, and the Diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for years, and the Diſſeiſee doth Releaſe unto him all his Right, that the ſame is not good for want of privity. See 49 E. 3. 28. by Belk acc.

6. A man makes a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent; If the Leſſor before Entry Releaſeth to the Leſſee all his Right in the Land, that in that Caſe, although the ſame ſhall not ennure by way of enlargement of the Eſtate for want of privity; yet it ſhall extinguiſh the Rent. So if a Leaſe be made to begin at a day to come, rendring Rent, and before that day, the Leſſor doth Releaſe all his Right which he hath in the Land, the ſame ſhall not enlarge the Eſtate, but it ſhall ennure to extinguiſh the Rent in reſpect of the Privity. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 270.

7. A Copyholder in Fee of a Mannor of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtminſter, ſurrendred the Copyhold Lands out of Court by the hands of Tenants according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, to the uſe of another and his Heirs, upon certain Conditions: At the next Court the ſurrender was Preſented, Preſented, but in the Preſentment, the Conditions were omitted. He to whom the ſurrender was made, being dead, the Lord by his Steward according to the Cuſtome, admitted his Daughters and Heirs, who entred. He who made the Surrender by his Deed, releaſed to the Daughters, being in poſſeſſion. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That the Releaſe in the Caſe at bar, had extinguiſhed the Right of the Copyholder, becauſe the Hee to whom the Releaſe was made, was admitted to the Tenements, and ſo Copyholder in poſſeſſion, ſo as the Releaſe of the Cuſtomary Right did enure to them: and it was holden, That thereby the Lord was not at any prejudice, becauſe he had his Fine upon the Admittance, and they to whom the Releaſe was made, were in by Title, ſcil. by the Admittance of the Lord, and ſo the Releaſe did ariſe by way of extinguiſhment. Paſc. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Kite and Quientons Caſe. Cook 4 Part, 25.

8. A Woman hath Title of Dower, and releaſeth to him in the Reverſion, and afterwards Tenant for life ſurrendreth to him; It ſeems a good Bar, and yet the woman hath not cauſe of Action againſt him in the Reverſion, at the time of the Releaſe made; but the reaſon thereof is, becauſe that the woman hath right to the Land, and he in the Reverſion hath an Eſtate upon which the Releaſe may enure, and by the recovery of her Dower, his Eſtate ſhould be charged. See Paſch. 44 Eliz. in B. R. in Hoes Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 71.

9. A Prebend made a Leaſe for 70 years; The Biſhop, Dean, and Chapter reciting the Leaſe, confirmed Dimiſſionem prædictam, for 51 years, & non ultra: Afterwards the Prebend made another Leaſe, to begin after the determination of the firſt Leaſe: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Confirmation did extend to the whole Term, and the words [for 51 years,] came too late; and the Leaſe being for 70 years, it ſhould be repugnant to confirm dimiſſionem prædictam, for 51 years: But if he had confirmed the Lands for 51 years, the ſame had been good; for that had not been repugnant to the Confirmation: In that Caſe it was ſaid, If a Prebend makes a Leaſe for years, a confirmation may be made of the Lands for a leſſer number of years, becauſe the years are ſeveral, although the Term be one; But if a man makes a Leaſe for life, or a Gift in Tail, or in Fee, a Confirmation of the Land to the Leſſee, made for an hour to the Leſſee, is good for ever; becauſe the Eſtate of the Freehold or Inheritance is entire. Cook 5. Part, 81. Fords Caſe.

10. A man made a Leaſe for years, to begin after the determination of a Term for years then in Eſſe; the firſt years determined, the Leſſee did not enter, but he in the Reverſion entred, and made a Feoffment, and levyed a Fine, with Proclamations, and five years paſſed without any Title or Claim, made by the ſecond Leſſee for years, It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the ſecond Leſſee in this Caſe of his Term, by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines; for although that Leſſee for years hath not an Eſtate that he may levie a Fine; yet becauſe that the words of the Statute are general, and extend to all, and the words of the Leaſe [ſaving ſuch Right, Claim, or Intereſt] and he who hath a Term for years, hath an Intereſt, to whom a Releaſe may be made; and alſo, becauſe it is within the miſchief of the Statute; It was Reſolved, That his Intereſt was barred by the Fine. 2. It was Reſolved, That by the Feoffment, the ſecond Leſſee had but a Right, and when his future Intereſt commenced in the Land, then he had a preſent Eſtate in the Land, that the ſame might then be deveſted, which he might reveſt by his Entry: For if a man makes a Leaſe for years, and before the Leſſee entreth, the Leſſor dyeth; yet the Leſſee may enter, and he hath a right preſently in him, according to the form of the Leaſe, ſo as his Intereſt is accompanied with a preſent Entry, and a poſſibility to take the profits; and a Releaſe made to ſuch a Leſſee ſhall be good. Cook 5. Part. 124. Seſſins Caſe.

11. Note, That all Rights, Titles, and Actions, may by the privity of the Law, be Releaſed to the Tert-Tenant; and therefore a Right or Title to the Freehold, or Inheritance, be it in preſent, or in future, may be Releaſed in five manners. 1. To the Tenant of the Freehold in Fait, or in Law, without any privity. 2. To him in the Remainder. 3. To him ſeized of the Reverſion, without any privity; but an Eſtate cannot be enlarged without a privity. 4. To him who hath a Right only in reſpect of Privity; as if the Tenant be diſſeized, the Lord may Releaſe the Service in reſpect of the Privity only, and Right, without any Eſtate. 5. In reſpect of Privity only, without Right; as if Tenant in Tail maketh a Feoffment in Fee, the Donee after the Feoffment, hath not any Right; and yet in reſpect of the Privity only, the Donor may Releaſe to him the Rent, and all the Services, ſaving the Fealty; So the Defendant may Releaſe to the Vouchee in reſpect of Privity only; but no Eſtate can paſs by Releaſe, but to him who hath an Eſtate in privity. Cook 10. Part, 48. in Lampitts Caſe.

12. If a man Lett to another his Land for Term of years, if the Leſſor Releaſe to the Leſſee all his Right, before the Leſſee entreth into the Land, the Releaſe is void, becauſe the Leſſee had not poſſeſſion of the Land, but only intereſſe Termini, at the time of the Releaſe made; It is otherwiſe, If Tenant for life be in poſſeſſion; or if the the Leſſee had been in poſſeſſion. See before Sect. 1. and ſee Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 27. acc.

13. A. made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after to the uſes of B. in Tail, and after to the uſe of C. in Fee; with power to revoke the Uſes, and to limit new Uſes, if A. ſurvived J. S. and J. S. dyed without heir male of his body; A. renounced, and ſurrendred to B. and C. all the power and authority of Revocation, and releaſed the Proviſo, Conditions, Covenants, and Agreements, as well as the ſaid Power and Authority; and after, J. S. dyed without Iſſue male of his body. It was ſaid, That an Authority which was collateral to the Land, could not be extinguiſhed by a Fine or Feoffment, and a future Duty; as Relief could not be releaſed by Releaſe of all demands. But it was Reſolved in the Principal Caſe, That if the power of Revocation had been preſent, that it might be Releaſed; and a Caſe was taken, where any is Executory, is created by Deed, the ſame thing by the conſent of all parties to the creation of it, may be by their Deed defeated and annulled; as Warranties, Recognizances, Rent, Charges, Covenants. Cook 1. Part, 111. in Albanies Caſe.

14. Note, It is a Rule in Law, That no Right paſſeth by a Releaſe, but the Right which the Releaſor hath at the time of the Releaſe made; and therefore if there be Father and Son, and the Father be diſſeized, and the ſon (living the Father) Releaſeth by his Deed to the Diſſeiſor, all the Right which he hath, or may have, to the Land, with Warranty, and after the Father dyeth; yet the ſon may enter upon the poſſeſſion of the Diſſeiſor, becauſe he had no Right at the time of the Releaſe made, all the right being then in the Father; and therefore after the death of the Father, the ſon may enter into the Land, notwithſtanding his own Releaſe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 265.

15. If a Precipe Quod reddat be brought, a Releaſe from the Demandant to the Vouchee is good, and yet the Vouchee hath nothing in the Land; but the reaſon thereof is, becauſe that when the Vouchee entreth into the Warranty, he becomes Tenant to the Demandant, and may render in value to him, in reſpect of the privity betwixt them; but a Stranger cannot releaſe to the Vouchee, becauſe he is not in rei veritate, Tenant of the Land: And if after the Vouchee hath entred into the Warranty, and become Tenant in Law, a collateral Anceſtor of the Demandant, Releaſeth to the Vouchee with Warranty, he ſhall not plead this againſt the Demandant, for that Releaſe by a Stranger is void, becauſe there wants privity. Cook 1 Part Inſtitutes, 265. Cook 8. Part 151. in Alibams Caſe.

16. Donee in Tail maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Donor Releaſeth to him and his Heirs, all his right in the Land; this ſhall extinguiſh the Rent, becauſe the Lord muſt avow upon him, and yet the Tenant in Tail after the Feoffment hath no right in the Land; but the reaſon thereof is in reſpect of the Privity; and for that the Donor is of neceſſity compellable to avow upon him; for if he ſhould avow upon the Diſcontinuee, then it ſhould appear of his own ſhewing, that the Reverſion whereunto the Rent is incident, ſhould be out of him; and ſo by conſequence, the Avowry ſhould abate. Trin. 18 Eliz. in C. B. Sir Thomas Wyats Caſe.

17. A Releaſe to a Tenant at Will is good, becauſe between the Leſſor and ſuch a Leſſee, there is a poſſeſſion with privity; but a Releaſe to a Tenant at Sufferance (viz. who cometh to the poſſeſſion unlawfully, and then holdeth over) is not good, becauſe he hath a poſſeſſion without privity; as if Leſſee for years hold over his Term, a Releaſe to him is void: But if a man entreth into Lands of his own wrong, and take the profits of them, and ſaith he will hold them at the Will of the Owner, that doth not make him a Tenant at Will, or a Tenant at Sufferance, but a Diſſeiſor, becauſe he cannot qualifie his own wrong, and then a Releaſe to him as a Diſſeiſor, is good. Cook 1. Part Inſtit. 271.

18. A. ſeized of Lands, demiſed the ſame to B. his Baſtard ſon, and to the Heirs of his body; the Remainder to C. his Coſin, and Heir, and to his Heirs; and deviſed the Lands to E. his Wife, for fifteen years, if ſhe ſo long lived; A. dyed, E. married with C. the Heir of the Deviſor, to whom the Remainder was limitted; E. and C. entred, and continued the poſſeſſion; B. the firſt Deviſee releaſed to C. all his right and Intereſt in the ſaid Lands, and yet afterwards, notwithſtanding this Releaſe, entred, and let the Land to the Plaintiff: The Queſtion was, Whether C. be in after this Eſtate determined, as Tenant at Sufferance, and what Poſſeſſion he had, and whether a Releaſe to him, he being but Tenant at Sufferance, be good, to veſt the Eſtate in him. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, he was in but as Tenant at Sufferance; for in reſpect of his Reverſion, he had no colour to enter, and he came into poſſeſſion by vertue of the Leaſe made to E. which was determined before the Releaſe made, ſo as he had not any Title to hold the Poſſeſſion. 2. It was holden, That this Releaſe made to him being Tenant at Sufferance, was not good, to veſt any Eſtate for want of Privity between them, and a Releaſe to him as to him who had a Reverſion, was void, and an Eſtate cannot be veſted in him in the Reverſion, by this means.

Trin. 4 Jac. in B. R. Butler and Duckmantons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 169.

19. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was, A. ſeized of the Land in Queſtion, and of other Lands, by his Will deviſed the Land in Queſtion to D. his Wife for life, and to T. his younger ſon, to him and his heirs, in Fee, and the other Land was deviſed to D. for life, and to the Plaintiff and his Heirs in Fee, under this condition; If D. dyed before the Legacies were paid, then his wills they ſhall be paid by N. and T. his ſons, portion-like, out of the Houſes and Lands given them, and if either of the ſons dye before they Enter, then the longer liver of them ſhall enjoy both parts, to him and his heirs; and if both dye before they Enter, then his Executors, or one of them, to pay the Legacies, and to take the profits until they are paid, and a year after, and made D. his Wife his Executor; D. Entred, the Plaintiff N. by Deed, in the life of D. Releaſed to T. all his right, with Warranty; F. by his Will deviſed the Lands to A. his Wife, and dyed in the life of D. and before the Legacies paid, D. dyed: In this Caſe, the Queſtion was, If this Deviſe of a Fee after a Limitation, were good or not: See Cook 10. Part, 46. Lampits Caſe. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That Judgment ſhould be given for the Defendant, and that this Releaſe of N. be it a Condition, or a Limitation, it had diſcharged it; and as to him, It is an Intereſt veſted by the Deviſe, but not executed till it happen; and it was ſaid, That it was not like to an Heir in the life of the Father, for he is a Stranger, and hath no right at all, and yet his Releaſe with Warranty hinders him, and here this Releaſe is accompanyed with Warranty; and therefore the Releaſe of N. was good, and thereby he had barred himſelf. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hil. 2 Jac. in C. B. Howell and Augers Caſe. Hutton 160.

20. The Father ſeized of Lands in Fee, he, and his ſon and heir apparent, by Indenture, Leaſed Land to the Defendant for years, to begin after the death of the Father, rendring Rent unto the ſon; the father dyed, the Leſſee entred, the rent was behind, the ſon diſtreined, & the Leſſee brought Treſpaſs, and had Judgment; for the Reſervation of the Rent was held to be utterly void; for although the ſon did prove Heir, it bettered not the Caſe; but the Reſervation muſt have been to the Heir, or Heirs of the Leſſor, by that name, for that is the only word of Privity in Law, requiſite to the Reſervation of Rents; for the Heir is in Repreſentation in point of taking of Inheritance, eadem Perſona cum Anteceſſore: And although in ſuch a caſe the Rent could never be demanded by the Father, yet the Heir ſhall take it from the Father, as riſing from the Root of the Reverſion, which was his fathers; And ſo it was holden, That the Rent it ſelf, which was in the father, though not to demand, becauſe it was not yet due, yet it was ſo his, as he might Releaſe and diſcharge it by the word Rent, though not by the word Action. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Oates and Frithes Caſe. Hob. 130.

2. Where, and in what Caſes Releaſes ſhall be ſaid to Enure by way of Enlargement of an Eſtate; where by Mitter le Droit, and where by Extinguiſhment; and where, and to whom ſuch Releaſes ſhall be good, where not.

1. IF a man makes a Leaſe for life of Lands, and afterwards the Leſſor doth Releaſe to the Leſſee all his right of, in, and to the Lands, without any words more in the Releaſe, his Eſtate is not thereby entangled; But if he Releaſeth to him and his heirs, or to him, and the heirs of his body, there the Releaſe doth enure by way of Enlargement of the Eſtate of the Leſſee. Litt. 109. acc. And therefore the Caſe, That Huſband and Wife were Tenants for life, the Reverſion to three in Fee; and they in the Reverſion did Releaſe to the Huſband all their Right, and to the Heirs of the Huſband: The Queſtion was, If the Wife had thereby a Fee. It was the Opinion of the Court, That ſhe had not, but that it did enure to her only as a Confirmation of her Eſtate during her life, and it did not enure by way of Enlargement, as her Eſtate. See 19 H. 6. 16. acc.

2. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, demiſed the ſame to one A. and B. his ſon, and the Heirs of B. for 99 years, and ſo from 99 years to 99 years, until 300 years were paſt, without impeachment of Waſte, rendring Rent if it were demanded; and Covenanted, That he and his Heirs, at the end of thoſe 300 years, would make to the Heirs of the Leſſee, ſuch a Demiſe for other 300 years; but no Livery was made. The Queſtion was, That becauſe a Fee-ſimple was expreſſed in the Premiſſes of the Deed, if the Limitation for years in the Habendum were repugnant. It was Reſolved, That the Habendum was not repugnant to the Premiſſes; and in that caſe, theſe differences were agreed, when things take their eſſence and effect by the delivery of the Deed, and which things lye in Grant, without any other Ceremony, there ſuch a Limitation to one and his Heirs, Habendum, for life, or years, is void: But when to the Eſtate limitted in the premiſſes of a Deed, a Ceremony is requiſite to the Eſſence and Perfection of it, and to the Eſtate limitted by the Habendum, nothing is requiſite but only the delivery of the Deed, as in the Principal Caſe, there the Habendum might ſtand. 2. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That theſe words [to the Heirs of B.] upon the conſideration of the whole Indenture, was void; and that both the Leſſees had but an Eſtate for years, and if Livery had been made, the ſame would not change their Eſtates: Out of which Caſe, Note, That although upon Grant of an Eſtate, there be words of Enlargement in the Deed, yet thereby the Eſtate is not enlarged. Cook 1. Part, 23, 24. Baldwines Caſe.

to

3. If Tenant in Tail be diſſeized, and Releaſeth to his Diſſeiſor, it is no diſcontinuance, but the Eſtate is voidable by Claim or Action of the Iſſue in Tail; but if a Releaſe be with Warranty, it is a diſcontinuance, if the Iſſue in Tail be Heir to the Warranty: So if Tenant in Tail makes a Leaſe for life, viz. his own life, or for years, and Releaſeth to the Leſſee and his Heirs, the ſame is no diſcontinuance, although it be with Warranty: So if Tenant in Tail maketh a Leaſe for life, and afterwards grants the Reverſion in Fee, it is no diſcontinuance of the Fee, if it be not executed in the life of the Grantor. Cook 3. Part, 85. in the Caſe of Fines.

4. A. and B. two Joynt-Tenants for life, the Reverſion over in Fee; Judgment is given againſt A. in Debt, and after he Releaſed to his Companion before Execution. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That although that B. to whom the Releaſe was made, is now in by the Leſſor, and not by A. yet as to him who had the Judgment in the Action of Debt, he by his own wrong ſhall not defeat him of his Execution: But if A. had dyed before Execution, the Survivor ſhould have held the Land diſcharged. 2. It was Reſolved, When the Releaſe is made to B. and he in the Reverſion enters, and is in of his ancient Eſtate, yet as to him who had the Judgment, the Eſtate of A. did continue during his life; and in that Caſe it was put, That if Huſband and Wife, ſeized of a Rent or Common in Fee, Releaſe to the Tenant of the Land, the Rent is extinct; yet as to the Wife, it hath continuance, for that ſhe ſhall be endowed of it. Cook 6. Part, 79. the Lord Abergavenies Caſe.

5. If a man ſeized of Lands, is diſſeized by two, and he releaſeth all his Right to one of the Diſſeiſors; In this Caſe, the Releaſee ſhall hold out his Companion, becauſe the two diſſeiſors being in by wrong, and againſt Law, when one of them hath a lawful Intereſt by the Releaſe of the Diſſeiſor, the wrong vaniſheth, and is utterly extinct; for the Releaſee is ſeized per my & per tout, and is thereby capable of the whole Eſtate; and ſo is it of two Joynt Abators or Intruders, who come in meerly by wrong; for by the operation of the Law, preſently upon the delivery of the Releaſe, the whole Freehold and Inheritance is veſted in the Releaſe, and all the Eſtate which the other Abator or Intruder hath, is deveſted. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 194.

6. Three Joynt-Tenants, one for life, and the other in Fee; One of them who hath the Fee, doth Releaſe to him who hath but for life, all his Right, without more words: It was holden, That he who had for life, had not a greater Eſtate then he had before; becauſe the Releaſe ſhall go according to the Eſtate: But if the Joynt Eſtate were to them in Fee, although that one of them doth Releaſe all his Eſtate without more, he hath a Fee: and Note by Paſton, 19 H. 6. if he had Releaſed but for life, yet he ſhould have had Fee. See 19 H. 6. 17. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 263. 10 Eliz. Dyer, acc.

7. If a man levyeth a Fine of Land in ancient Demeſne at the Common Law, to another, the Lord in ancient Demeſn ſhall have a Writ of Diſceit againſt him who levied the Fine, and againſt him who is Tenant; and by that ſhall avoid the Fine, and the Conuſor ſhall be reſtored to his poſſeſſion, and Title which he had given away by the Fine: But if the Conuſor, after the Fine, Releaſe to the Conuſee in poſſeſſion, being by Deed, or confirm his Eſtate in the Land, there the Conuſee ſhall have the Land, notwithſtanding the Fine avoided; becauſe that Releaſe or Confirmation made to him being in poſſeſſion, made his Eſtate firm, and rightful againſt the Heirs of him who releaſed; and yet the Conuſor had not any right to the Land, but only a poſſibility to have the Land again, after the Writ of Diſceit brought by the Lord of whom the Land was holden. See 21 E. 4. 20. 7 H. 4. 4. Cook 10. Part, 50.

8. Note, Releaſe by way of Extinguiſhment is, when he to whom the Releaſe is made, cannot have that which is Releaſed unto him; and therefore, if there be Lord and Tenant, and the Lord Releaſeth to the Tenant all the right which he hath in the Seignory, or all the right which he hath in the Land, ſuch Releaſe ſhall enure by way of extinguiſhment againſt all perſons; becauſe the Tenant cannot have the Service, to take it of himſelf. Litt. 112, b. acc.

9. Lord and Tenant were; The Lord Releaſed to the Tenant for life, and afterwards, only to the ſon of the Tenant, that he ſhould hold the Land diſcharged; the Lord dyed, the Tenant dyed, the wife of the Lord brought a Writ of Dower; the Tenant demanded the view, and could not have it, becauſe the Seignory was in ſuſpence: But Note, in Fitz. Tit. Voucher, 120. it is ſaid, That in that Caſe, Thorp would have had the Seignory to be extinct, and that the Wife ſhould have the Rent as a Rent Seck; but all the whole Court was againſt him. 13 E. 3. br. Tit. View 96. 13 E. 3. Fitz. Tit. Voucher, 120.

10. Puttenham by Indenture, granted Land in Fee-Farm in Fee, with condition of Re-entry for non-payment, and Covenanted to make further aſſurance, and by another Indenture bearing the ſame date, he covenanted to levie a Fine, to the Uſes, Intents, Effects and Conditions in the firſt Indenture: He levyed a Fine, Sur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, &c. It was Reſolved, That the Conditions were not extinct: Hill. 5. Mar. Dyer, 157. See 34 Eliz. Clever and Childes Caſe, Vouch. in Cook 2. Part, 73. in the Lord Cromwells Caſe acc. And it was reſemblable to the Caſe of 11 E. 3. where a Releaſe was made by the Lord, to the Tenant of the Land, of all the Right in the Land and Seignory, Salvo ſibi Dominio ſuo, where it was holden, that the Tenure thereby was not extinct, but the annual Services only, and ſuch right only which he had unto the Land. Hill. 5 Mar. Dyer, 157.

11. Queen Mary having a Rent of 20 l. per annum, iſſuing out of a Mannor, of which a man and his Wife were joyntly ſeized in Fee, for a ſum of money paid by the Husband, by her Letters Patents, Gave, Granted, Remiſed, Releaſed, and Renounced to the Husband his Heirs, the ſaid Rent of 20 l. and afterwards the Husband dyed, and the Wife ſurvived; and if ſhe ſhould pay the Rent to the Heir of the Husband, was the Queſtion; and that depended upon this, If the Letters Patents ſhould in Law be taken for a Releaſe only, or might be uſed as a Grant at the Election of the Husband and his Heirs. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer in that Caſe, That it was in the Election of the Patentee to uſe the ſame as he pleaſed; and alſo it was ſaid, That it was the Intent of the Queen in that Caſe, to have the Rent to be continued, if the Patentee pleaſed; and afterwards to declare his Election, the Patentee deviſed the Rent. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 319.

12. Husband, Wife, and a third perſon, purchaſed Lands to them, and to the Heirs of the Husband and the third perſon; the third perſon releaſed to the Husband only, without the words, To his Heirs, all the Right, Title, Eſtate, and Demand which he had, or he or his heirs might have, or claim in the Land: After the Husband and Wife made a Leaſe for years, of all the Land, rendring Rent to them, and to the Heirs of the Husband; and after the Husband dyed: and for the moyty of the Rent being behinde after the death of the Husband, his Heir diſtreined the Leſſee. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, for the Heir, for the moyty of the Rent; ſcil. 1. That the Releaſe made to the Husband alone, it enures to him alone, and not to him and his Wife. And 2. That there needed not the words [his Heirs] in the Releaſe, but that the whole Moyty, State, and Intereſt which the Releaſor had, was veſted in the Husband in Fee-ſimple, becauſe he had a Fee-ſimple in the whole Land at the time of the Releaſe made, ſo as it could not enure to enlarge the Eſtate to him who had an equal Eſtate with him who Releaſed; but if the Releaſe had been made to the Wife, then there ought to have been the words in it, To her Heirs; becauſe ſhe had therein but an Eſtate for life before. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 263.

13. In Treſpaſs, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff within age, by Judgment, and Letter of Attorney, made a Feoffment to the Father of the Defendant, rendring Rent; and that after, by Indenture, he confirmed Tenementa predicta; Habendum Tenement. predict. ſibi & Hæredibus; and that his Father dyed ſeized, and that the Lands deſcended to him: Upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden by the whole Court, That upon his own ſhewing, the Feoffment was void; for being by Letter of an Attorney by an Infant, it was a Diſſeiſin: Alſo he did not ſhew the firſt Indenture, wherein the Warrant of Attorney was contained: Nor did he add, That the Defendant had any thing in the Land upon which the Confirmation might enure: Alſo he pleaded, That he Confirmed Tenement. predict. Habend. Tenement. predict. and that is not true, that the Land ſhould paſs here but where a Confirmation enures by way of Enlargement: Nor was it averred that the Plaintiff was of full age at the time of the Confirmation: and for theſe cauſes it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 109. Rugwayes Caſe.

14. Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, to perform Covenants, Grants, and Agreements contained in an Indenture of Leaſe. The Defendant pleaded the Indenture; and that after, viz. a day five year after, the Plaintiff by Deed Releaſed, ad primum diem Maii, quod eſſit in anno Domini, &c. all Covenants in the Indenture: upon which the Plaintiff did Demur. It was adjudged to be no Plea, becauſe he had not alledged, that till the Releaſe, he had not broken any Covenant; for if the Obligation be once forfeited, a Releaſe of Covenants will not diſperſe with it. Trin. 35. H. 8. Dyer, 57. Cook 1. Part, Albanars Caſe. Cook 8. Part, 154. Albans Caſe acc.

3. Releaſe

3. Releaſe of Actions reall and perſonall; Suits, Quarrells, Covenants, Duties, and Demands; how to be taken, and to what extend; and where, and in what Caſes; and to whom good, and where and in what not.

1. A Statute Merchant was acknowledged the 26 h day of July, 8 Eliz. the Conuſee made a Releaſe bearing date 25 Julii of all Debts, Actions, Demands, and Executions due by the Conuſor, uſque Confectionem præſentium, and delivered the ſame Deed of Releaſe the 27th day of the ſame July. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Statute was diſcharged, for that the day of the delivery was holden to be the day of the making of it, but if the words had bin uſque datum præſentium, the Statute had not bin diſcharged. Hill. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 307.

2. If I Releaſe unto you all Actions which I have againſt you, and another. In this Caſe notwithſtanding the joynt words, all Actions which I have againſt you alone, are releaſed, for the Deed ſhall be conſtrued moſt beneficial to him to whom the Releaſe is made, and moſt ſtrongly againſt him that made it. Cook 5. Part, 7. in Windhams Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, 56. in Knights Caſe. If two are endebted to the King, and the King releaſeth to one of them, it ſhall not diſcharge the other.

3. In perſonal Actions, one Joynt-Tenant may Releaſe all; but if the perſonalty be mixt with the realty, it is otherwiſe. As in an Aſſiſe by two, the Releaſe of all Actions perſonalls by one, is no bar againſt the other: For although an Aſſiſe is an Action mixt in the realty and perſonalty; yet omne majus trahit ad ſe minus. So in a Writ of Right of Ward of the body brought by two, the Releaſe of one ſhall not bar the other, but ſhall give his companion the whole Ward. But in an Action of Waſte brought by two, the Releaſe of the one ſhall bar the other for that in Waſte, the perſonalty is the Principal. Cook 2. Part, 62. in Tuckers Caſe.

4. A Replevin againſt ſix, one avowed, and the other five made Conuſans as Bayliffs to the firſt for an Amercement, for breaking of a By Law in a Court Leet, and Judgment was given againſt them, and Coſts and Damages. The ſix brought a Writ of Error; the Defendant in the Writ of Error, pleaded the Releaſe of one of the five in bar. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That inaſmuch as the Law did compell the Defendants to joyn in the Writ of Error, to reap no benefit, but to diſcharge them only of a Charge impoſed upon them, that the Releaſe of the one ſhould not bar the other. Cook 6. Part, 25. Ruddocks Caſe.

5. If a man Releaſeth totum Jus generally, all his Rights are thereby Releaſed; but if the Diſſeiſee Releaſe to the Diſſeiſor, omnes actiones, viz. recuperandi ſive proſequendi in judicio, thereby his Right of Entry is not Releaſed, for when a man hath divers means to come to his Right, he may Releaſe one of them in ſpecial; and yet take benefit of the other. See Litt. 150. 19 Aſſ. 3. 19 H. 6. 4. acc.

6. If the Diſſeiſee Releaſe all Actions to the Heir of the Diſſeiſor, thereby his right is gone in Judgment of Law, for when a man hath not any other means to come to his Land, but only by way of Action. If he Releaſe all Actions, by ſuch Releaſe his Right is incluſive in Judgment of Law gone, becauſe by his own act, he hath barred himſelf of all means and remedies to recover or attain thereunto. But if the Heir of the Diſſeiſor maketh a Leaſe for life, the Remainder in Fee; and the Diſſeiſee Releaſe to the Tenant for life all Actions which he hath againſt him: and after Tenant for life dyeth, the Diſſeiſee ſhall have an Action notwithſtanding ſuch Releaſe againſt him in the Remainder, for he did but Releaſe the Action, and the Act in Law will never extend the act of the party further or more largely then his expreſs words. Cook 8. Part, 152. in Altons Caſe.

7. If a man Covenant to do a Collateral thing, before the breach thereof, a Releaſe of all Actions Suits and Quarrels, is nothing worth; for before the breach, there is not any duty, nor cauſe of Action, but the breach ought to go before it, as it was adjudged 4 Eliz. in C. B. but in ſuch Caſe a Releaſe of all Covenants ſhall bar the ſame. Cook 1. Part, 112. in Chudleighs Caſe.

8. A Woman hath Title of Dower of Land, whereof one is Tenant for life, the Reverſion to another in Fee, and the Woman Releaſeth to him in the Reverſion. It is a good bar in a Writ of Dower brought againſt Tenant for life, and yet at the time ſhe had not preſent cauſe of Action againſt him, but in futuro after the death of Tenant for life. See 21 H. 7. 41. Releaſe of an Annuity to the Patron in the time of vacation is good, yet no Action lyeth againſt him, nor againſt any other till a Succeſſor be made, and yet a Releaſe ſhall extinguiſh it. See ibid. 112.

9. In Debt brought, A. became Bail for the Defendant. And before Judgment, the Plaintiff Releaſed to A. all Actions, Duties, and Demands; and and after Judgment was given againſt the Defendant, and a Scire facias ſued out againſt the Bail, who pleaded that Releaſe. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Releaſe did not bar the Plaintiff, becauſe the Releaſe was before any duty was done, for untill the Judgment given againſt the Defendant, no duty was due by the Bail. Cook 5. Part, 71. Hees Caſe.

10. Note, It was adjudged in the Common Pleas, That an Executor before probate, may Releaſe an Action, although that before probate he cannot have an Action, for the Right of the Action is in him. But if A. Releaſeth, and afterwards taketh Adminiſtration, it ſhall not bar him; for the Right of the Action, was not in him at the time of the Releaſe. And in that Caſe, it was holden, That if a man be bound to pay a ſum at a day to come, a Releaſe of all Actions before the day, bars it; yet before the day, he cannot have an Action. Cook 5. Part, 28. Middleton's Caſe.

11. In an Action brought for 10 l. The Plaintiff declared, how that he and the Defendant, 10. Feb. 7 Jac. ſubmitted themſelves to the award of J. S. who awarded, they ſhould be friends, and that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 10 l. at Midſummer following, at ſuch a place; which not being paid, the Action was brought. The Defendant pleaded in bar a Releaſe made by the Plaintiff to him of all demands from the beginning of the World, untill the 10th of April, and ſhewed the Releaſe to the Court, to which the Plaintiff demurred. In this Caſe, it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. For although the ſum awarded is not grounded upon any precedent Debt or Contract betwixt the parties, yet it lyes in demand preſently, and the Plaintiff might aſſign it by his Will, and the Executor ſhould have it, and by the Spiritual Law, Adminiſtration may be granted of it before the day of payment, if the Plaintiff dye before; yet it is not recoverable before Midſummer, nor will an Action lye for it; but it is a duty preſently by the Award: and as the Award is perfect preſently, ſo ſoon as it is pronounced, ſo are all things which are contained in the Award; and therefore it being a duty preſently by the Awards, a Releaſe of all demands did releaſe and diſcharge it; and ſo it was adjudged, Hil. 9. Jac. in C. B. Bridges and Eniots Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part, 115.

12. A man is bound in an Obligation, dat. 3 Jan. and by Releaſe dated the 2 day of the ſame month of January, Releaſes all Actions, from the beginning of the World until this preſent day, and delivered the Releaſe after he had delivered the Obligation: Cook Chief Juſtice conceived, That a Releaſe of all Actions until the date, ſhall not diſcharge the duty after; but a Releaſe uſque confectionem præſentium, diſcharges only after the date, and before the delivery: But he ſaid, that the day of this preſent time, ſhall be the day of the date, and it ſhall not be added, that it was delivered 10 years after, and it ſhall not wait upon the delivery of the Deed. Paſch. 6 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow 1. Part, 300.

13. J. N. did Covenant by Indenture with J. S. to pay him 40 l. yearly, for 20 years, and afterwards J. S. did Releaſe to J. N. all Actions, Whether the Covenant was diſcharged, was the Queſtion: It was holden in that Caſe by all the Juſtices, That only the Arrearages were diſcharged, becauſe the Covenant is Executory every year, to be executed during the Term of the 21 years, for he may have ſeveral Actions of Covenant for every time that it is behinde; for if it be behinde the ſecond year, he may have a new Action for that; for nothing ſhall be diſcharged by the Releaſe of all Actions: but that which was in Action, or a duty at the time of the Releaſe made: And therefore it was holden in the Principal Caſe, That the Releaſe ſhould extinguiſh only that which was actual at the time of the Releaſe made: And ſo Not, That a Releaſe doth not diſcharge a Covenant which is not broken. Paſch. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Gubbolt, 11, & 12.

14. Covenant brought; for that the Plaintiff by Indenture lett to the Teſtator a Houſe in Fleet-ſtreet for years; and the Leſſee covenanted to repair it well, from time to time, during the Term, and in the end of the Term, to leave it well repaired to the Leſſor, and aſſigns the breach, that he did not leave it well repaired at the end of the Term: The Defendant pleaded, That within three days after the date of the Indenture, the Plaintiff Releaſed to the Teſtator, all Debts, Duties, and Demands: the truth was, That the Plaintiff had recovered 6 l. damages and coſts againſt the Teſtator, and made an Acquittance upon the Receipt thereof, with a general Releaſe of all Actions, Duties, and Demands which was pleaded in Bar, being entred in hac verba; whereupon it was Demurred. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not any Bar, for being a Covenant future, and not in demand at the time of the Releaſe made, but to be performed at the end of the Leaſe, this Releaſe, although it be of all Demands, yet there not appearing any intent to Releaſe, it cannot therefore be any bar; but if he had Releaſed all Covenants, it had been a Bar. Hill. 4 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 577. Hancock and Fields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 170.

15. Debt upon an Obligation, conditioned for performing of an Award made by Arbitrators, who 24 Martii awarded, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff at Mich. next following, 20 l. The Defendant pleaded the Plaintiff's Releaſe of all Actions and Demands, made to him the tenth day of April. The Queſtion was, Whether by this Releaſe thus made, the payment of the 20 l. by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, were abſolutely gone or Releaſed. The whole Court conceived, That the Releaſe was no bar to the Plaintiffs Action. A difference was taken, Where an Obligation is entred for payment of money at a day to come, there it is a debt and duty preſently, and may be diſcharged by ſuch a Releaſe before the day of payment; but it is not ſo in the Caſe of an Annuity Rent, nor in an Action of Debt for non-performance of an award, and for payment of money at a day to come. No Judgment was given in the Caſe. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1222. Tynan and Bridges Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 300. See the Caſe before, Sect. 11.

16. Debt brought as Adminiſtrator, and demands 25 l. for that G. W. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for years, and 2 Jac. aſſigned the Leaſe to the Defendant, rendring yearly during the Term 50 l. at our Lady and Mich. The Defendant pleaded, That G. W. 5 Jac. Releaſed to him all Actions, Debts, Duties, and Demands before the date of that Releaſe. Upon which it was demurred. It was moved, That this duty accrued after the Releaſe, and being a future duty, was not diſcharged by this Releaſe, no more then if the Leſſor ſhould Releaſe unto his Leſſee for years, all Actions and Demands, it is no bar to the Rent which accrues yearly, becauſe every year is quaſi a new duty. But in the principal Caſe, the whole Court agreed, That forasmuch as the Leſſee had aſſigned over all his Term, reſerving this rent, it is not attendant on the Reverſion, but is only due by contract. And this Releaſe of all demands diſchargeth this contract, and all demands concerning it. Wherefore it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Releaſe was a good bar for the Rent encurred. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Witton and Eyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 486.

17. Aſſumpſit, In conſideration that the Plaintiff would lend him 7 l. and would accept of a Bond of G. M. of 80 l. and a Letter of Attorney to ſue it, and would promiſe to Releaſe unto the Defendant all Actions and Demands. The Defendant promiſed, That if the Plaintiff could not recover from the ſaid G. M. 40 l. within ſuch a time, he would pay that 40 l. unto him upon requeſt; and the Plaintiff alledged in facto the lending of the 7 l. and the acceptance of the Bond of 80 l. and that he according to his promiſe poſtea the ſame day releaſed to the Defendant all Actions and Demands, and that the Defendant had not according to his promiſe, although he could not receive from G. M. within the ſaid time, &c. (licet ſæpius requiſitus) paid to him the 40 l. The Defendant pleaded Non-Aſſumpſit, which was found againſt him. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Plaintiff by this Releaſe which he had ſhewed of all demands, had extinguiſhed his Action. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Action was maintainable, for this Releaſe is part of the conſideration, and the cauſe which gives him this Action; and although the Releaſe is general of all Actions and demands, yet that doth not diſcharge what is future, and whereof he had not any cauſe of Action at the time of the Releaſe made. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Porter and Philips Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 623.

18. If an Aſſiſe be brought againſt the Diſſeiſor and Tenant, the Diſſeiſor can make no uſe of a Releaſe of Actions real made by the Plaintiff to him, becauſe he hath nothing to do with the realty, and it is an entire Action mixt of the realty and perſonalty, but hath ſeveral reſpects to ſeveral perſons (whereas if the ſame perſon were both Diſſeiſor and Tenant), it were good. Hob. 163. in Colt and Glovers Caſe.

19. Aſſumpſit brought by Husband and Wife againſt J. S. Executor of T. S. The Plaintiff declared, That there was a communication had of a Marriage between the Wife, the Plaintiff, and the ſaid T. S. that the ſaid T. S. in conſideration that the ſaid Wife the Plaintiff, would take him to her Husband, he promiſed, that if after the Marriage, he the ſaid T. S. dyed, living the ſaid Wife, that he would leave her worth 100 l. and averred that ſhe did marry him, who dyed, and did not leave her worth 100 l. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That by the Intermarriage the Action was extinguiſhed, and thereby the promiſe was releaſed, and of that Opinion was Hobart Juſtice. But Winch and Hutton Juſtices held the contrary, for that the Law will not make a Releaſe contrary to the intent of the parties, and that the Marriage will not deſtroy that which it ſelf creates. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Smith and Stafferds Caſe. Hutton 17.

20. Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant promiſed the Wife of the Plaintiff in her Widdowhood, That if ſhe would marry J. S. he would pay her yearly after the death of J. S. during her life 40 s. and afterwards ſhe married J. S. and for the non payment of the 40 s. yearly after the death of J. S. the Plaintiff brought the Action. The Defendant pleaded a Releaſe of J. S. of all Actions and Demands. It was holden by the Court to be no plea, for being a promiſe to perform a payment after the death of J. S. there was not any poſſibility it could be demanded of him, and therefore the Releaſe was void in Law, and the Action adjudged to be well brought by the now Plaintiff. Trin. 6 Jac. in B. R. Belcher and Hudſons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part.

21. A. brought a Writ of Error to reverſe a Judgment given againſt him in C. B. for 200 l. A. being in Execution upon the Judgment had againſt him, removed himſelf by a Habeas Corpus. And in this Writ of Error, mainu-Captors were taken for him to proſecute the Writ of Error with effect; and if the Judgment be affirmed, then he to pay the Principal; and if he do not pay, then his Mainucaptors to pay. After this Writ of Error brought, and Mainucaption taken, and before Judgment affirmed, a Releaſe was made to him and his Mainucaptors of all Actions, Executions and Demands. The Judgment was afterwards affirmed. The money was not paid by A. the principal; upon which a Scire facias was proſecuted againſt the Mainucaptors, who in bar pleaded this Releaſe; and whether this Releaſe ſhould be a good bar to the Scire facias, was the Queſtion. This Caſe was long argued. It was the Opinion of the Court, That by this Releaſe the debt was diſcharged, and that this Releaſe being pleaded by the Mainucaptors in bar, was a good plea. But no Judgment was given in the Caſe. But the parties perceiving the Opinion of the Court, reſted ſatisfied, and the matter was not moved again. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Huxley and Harriſons Caſe. Raſt. 2. Part, 231, 232.

22. A man ſeiſed of Lands in G. and W. deviſed his Lands in G. to his younger ſon for life, and dyed; his Heir entred into the Lands in W. and was ſeiſed in Fee, the younger Son being within age, the Mother as Guardian by Nurture, entred into the Lands in G. and afterwards it was agreed betwixt the Mother and the eldeſt Son, That the Mother Releaſe to the elder Son, all her Dower to the Land in W. And afterwards the Mother doth Releaſe to the eldeſt Son, all Actions, reals and perſonalls, Suits, Quarrells, and Demands, Nec non totam dotem ſuam ac titulum dotis de aliquibus terris in W. qua vel quas ſhe had or ever after might have ratione alicujus rei from the beginning of the World, to the date of the Releaſe: the younger Son dyed. The Queſtion was, Whether the ſaid Releaſe made by the Mother, to him in the Reverſion expectant upon an Eſtate for life, had extinguiſhed her Dower. 2. If the concord or agreement of the parties did qualify the force of any of the words of the Releaſe. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That a Releaſe of all Actions, perſonalls and reals to him in the Reverſion upon a Freehold, did not extinct the Dower. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Releaſe of all Suits and Quarrells, was no bar of the Dower. And this word (Quarrel) extends not only to Actions real and perſonal, but alſo to all cauſes of Actions and Suits. But by Releaſe of all Suits, Executions are barred, becauſe that none can have Execution without a Suit. 3. Reſolved, That by the Releaſe of all demands, If the Deed of Releaſe had not gone further, the Dower had bin barred. By Releaſe of all demands, Freeholds, and Inheritances, Executories are Releaſed, as Rents, &c. and by Releaſe of all Demands, Executions are Releaſed. And by a Releaſe of all Demands to a Diſſeiſor, a Right of Entry is releaſed. 4. It was Reſolved, That aſwell the firſt words, as the ſubſequent words, did extend to Releaſe all Actions, Quarels, Demands, Title of Dower unto the Lands in W. only, and not to the Lands in G. for the latter words qualify and reſtreyn the firſt words to the Lands in W. 1. Becauſe that all the words are in one ſentence. 2. Becauſe if the general words ſhould ſtand without qualification, then the ſpecial words ſhould be vain, and of no effect, et maledicta eſt expoſitio quæ evacuat textum. 3. Becauſe it is a Rule in Law, Quando Charta continet generalem Clauſulam, poſtoquæ deſcendit ad verba ſpecialia quæ Clauſulæ generali ſunt Computanea, Interpretandum eſt ſecundum verba ſpecialia. 5. Reſolved, That the words relative (Quæ vel quas) refer aſwell to Actions and demands, as to the ſpecial words, and refer aſwell to the words immediate, as to the general words which are more remote. 6. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid collateral averment out of the Deed, was not of any force or effect in Law, and matter in fact is to be averred by the party, and tryable by Jury, and matter in Law by the Judges, and no averment de hors can make that good which appeareth upon conſideration of the Deed to be void. And in the principal Caſe, If the general word (Demand) had in Law by the Judgment of the Judges upon conſideration of the whole Deed of Releaſe, barred her of her Dower, no collateral averment de hors could have qualified and abridged the force or operation of the ſaid word but it ought to be qualified by apt words conteyned within the ſame Deed, as in this Caſe it was. And for theſe cauſes, it was adjudged, That the Dower was not Releaſed. Cook 8. Part, 150. Edward Altham's Caſe.

23. Debt againſt an Executor, the Caſe was; A. made the Defendants Executors, they being within age, Adminiſtration during their minority, was committed to J. S. and it was found, That during the minority of the Executors, there were goods of the Teſtators in the Adminiſtrators hands, to the value of 4000 l. and that the Defendants the Executors, when they came of full age, did Releaſe to the Adminiſtrator durante minori ætate all manner of Demands. It was made a Queſtion, Whether the ſaid 4000 l. were Aſſets in the Executors hands. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That

That it was Aſſets in their hands. And in that Caſe, it was ſaid, That it is not requiſite that every Aſſets be a thing in poſſeſſion, or in the hands of the Executor. For a thing may be Aſſets in the Executors hands if it come in lieu of a thing which was in the hands of the Teſtator. It was alſo holden, That this Releaſe of the Executor to the Adminiſtrator, was a Devaſtavit of the goods of the Teſtator, although they were not goods in poſſeſſion. Mich. 27 Eliz. in C.B. Kitleys Caſe. Godbolt. 29, 30.

24. A Releaſe of all Demands, is no bar in a Writ of Error to reverſe an Outlawry, becauſe the Writ is only to relieve the Plaintiff by way of diſcharge and not by way of demand. 11 E. 4. 6. Thefcelland and Penro's Caſe.

25. Note, That by a general Releaſe of all Actions, realls, and perſonalls, an Action which one hath as an Executor, is not releaſed by Chandiſh. 39 H. 6. 26. b. Quære.

More Releaſes.

1. THe Husband and Wife as Adminiſtrator of her former Husband, recovered a Debt; depending which Suit, the Son of the Inteſtate by Covin between him and the Defendant, procured new Letters of Adminiſtration to him and his Mother to be granted by Covin, and after Judgment, releaſed to the Debtor. The Husband and Wife ſued forth Execution: whereupon the Debtor brought an Audita Querela; depending which, the ſecond Adminiſtration was Repealed by ſentence, and the Covin and the Repeal were pleaded in Bar of the Audita Querela; upon which there was a Demurrer, And Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela, by reaſon that the Releaſe was obtained by Covin, &c. Hill. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 339.

2. Two Executors brought an Action of Debt, the one was ſummoned and ſevered. It was the Opinion of the Court, That after Judgment he could not acknowledge ſatisfaction, becauſe he was not privy to the Judgment: But the Court held, That notwithſtanding he was ſummoned and ſevered, yet before Judgment, he might have Releaſed, and ſuch Releaſe had been good. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer, 319.

3. Luker, a Merchant of Ireland, was bound in an Obligation of 80 l. to one D. of London; the Obligation was made in Ireland, but it alwayes remained in London: D. dyed Inteſtate in England, his ſon obtained Letters of Adminiſtration from the Archbiſhop of Dublin, of all the Goods and Chattels which were his fathers, within that Province; and afterwards he did releaſe the Debt, and the Action of Debt to Luker: Afterwards the Archbiſhop of Canterbury committed the Adminiſtration of the goods of the ſaid D. to his Wife; Whereupon ſhe brought Debt in London, and recovered, notwithſtanding the Releaſe made by the ſon; becauſe the Adminiſtration granted to the ſon, was not lawful; for the Adminiſtration was to be committed where the Obligation remained, and not where the debt firſt began. Mich. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 305. Lukers Caſe.

4. A man who was condemned in Debt, paid part of it to the Plaintiff, and the Plaintiff made him an Acquittance in this manner, ſcil. Received 10 l. in part of a more ſum, wherein the Defendant was condemned by Judgment, before Juſtices of Niſi Prius, whereas the Judgment alwayes is in Banco; It was moved, If this Acquittance were ſufficient in Law to ground an Audita Querela upon: The Plaintiff intending to take forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt the Defendant. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That it was not; For it was ſaid, That if I do Releaſe all Actions which I have Ratione Teſtamenti, and I am not Executor, the Releaſe is void. But it was ſaid, That if I Releaſe all the right which I have in white-Acre, which I purchaſed of one ſuch; and in truth, I purchaſed of another: yet becauſe the Land is certainly named; the Releaſe is good, notwithſtanding the miſ-recital; but when it is made in general, it is otherwiſe. Mich. 33. H. 8. 50.

5. If a man do recover Debt or Damages in a perſonal Action by a falſe Verdict, and afterwards the Defendant doth releaſe to the Plaintiff all Actions perſonals; the Defendant cannot bring an Attachment to be reſtored thereby to what he loſt, becauſe he is barred thereof by his Releaſe; and ſo it is in a real Action: If the Tenant give Releaſe unto the Demandant after Recovery, all his Right in the Land, he ſhall not have a Writ of Error, becauſe he cannot have the effect of his Writ, which is to be reſtored to the Land. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 289.

6. A man hath a Son within age, and is diſſeiſed, and dyeth; and afterwards, the ſon being within age, the diſſeiſor dyeth, and the Lands deſcend to his Heir, and a ſtranger enters upon the Lands, and abates; and afterwards the ſon of the Diſſeiſee, when he cometh of full age, releaſeth all his right in the Land to the Abator: In this it is holden, That the Heir of the Diſſeiſor ſhall not have an Aſſize of Mordaunceſter againſt the Abator, but ſhall be barred; and the reaſon is, becauſe the

A Abator is now armed with the right of the Heir of the Diſſeiſee by his Releaſe, and in that Caſe the Entry of the ſon, the heir of the Diſſeiſee was chargeable; for that he was within age at the time of the diſcent. But it is otherwiſe where a man of full age is diſſeized, and a Deſcent is caſt; for that in ſuch caſe a Releaſe to the Abator is not good; becauſe the Entry of the Diſſeiſee being taken away, the Releaſe to the Abator by the Diſſeiſee was a good foundation, upon which it may be grounded, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 227. acc.

7. If the body of the Defendant after a Recovery had by Judgment in Debt, be taken in Execution by a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and the Defendant being in Execution, the Plaintiff doth Releaſe unto him all Actions, he ſhall ſtill remain in Execution notwithſtanding ſuch Releaſe; but if the Plaintiff in ſuch caſe doth Releaſe to the Defendant all Debts, Duties, and Judgments, there the Defendant ſhall be diſcharged out of Execution; becauſe the Debt, Duty, or Judgment, which is the cauſe of the Execution, is thereby diſcharged. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 291. Cook, 5. Part, Hoes Caſe, 71. acc.

8. A. poſſeſſed of a Term for 500 years, demiſed the Term to B. for life, the Remainder to C. and the Heirs of his body, and made B. his Executor, and dyed; B. was poſſeſſed of the Leaſe, and afterwards C. Releaſed to B. all his Right in the Term: In that Caſe it was Objected, That the Releaſe was void, becauſe that C. at the time of the Releaſe, had no Eſtate in him, but only a poſſibility, the whole Eſtate and Term being in B. ſo that after the death of B, C. might enter again upon the Leaſe, notwithſtanding the Releaſe. But it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That C. by that Releaſe had extinguiſhed all his Right and Title to the Term, and had fixed it in B; becauſe the Deviſe by A. and the aſſent of B. the Executor, appearing by his acceptance of the Releaſe, were the original and fundamental cauſes of the Intereſt of C. and the death of B. was but a means to bring the Leaſe in poſſeſſion, and gave nothing at all; for that the whole Intereſt accrued by the Deviſing, and was executed by the aſſent of the Executor; and therefore in that Caſe, C. had not only a poſſibility, but ſuch an Intereſt as might well be releaſed. Cook 10. Part, 49. Lampits Caſe.

9. If the Conuſee of a Statute, or Recognizance, doth releaſe to the Tenant of the Land all the right that he hath in the Land; yet notwithſtanding ſuch Releaſe, he may ſue forth Execution; becauſe that at the time of the Releaſe made, he had not any Intereſt in the Land; for that the body was the Debtor, and not the Land, but in reſpect of the body; and the Land is not charged with the debt before Execution. So ſee, that a Releaſe made by the ſon to the Diſſeiſor againſt his father, in the life of his father, is not good, but void; becauſe the ſon had not any right all the life time of his father. See Cook 10. Part, 50. Pla. Com. 72. See Thom. Popes Caſe acc.

10. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, deviſed a Rent out of it, with clauſe of Diſtreſs, and dyed; his ſon and heir entred, and dyed, the Rent was behinde, the ſon of the ſon dyed, and his ſon entred into the Land, and made a Feoffment to the Plaintiff, and the Deviſee of the Rent releaſed all Actions, Debts, and Demands to the Feoffor; and afterwards he diſtrained the Cattle of the Feoffee for rent behinde, before the Feoffment. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Releaſe was not good, becauſe the Deviſee had no cauſe of Action at the time of the Releaſe made againſt him to whom he made the Releaſe; but if the Releaſe had been made to the Feoffee, then it had been good, becauſe that he was ſubject to a diſtreſs. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Strobridge and Forteſcues Caſe. Brownlow 2. Part, 190.

11. Debt upon an Obligation of 80 l. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff himſelf in the Court of P. being a Court of Record, brought debt upon the ſame Obligation, againſt the now Defendant: Upon the ſame Bond where the Defendant and J. P. the elder, were joyntly bound for the payment of 40 l. and after plea pleaded, the Plaintiff entred a Retraxit, and averred, that the ſaid J. P. the younger named in the Obligation, and the ſame J. P. againſt whom the Retraxit was, was one and the ſame perſon, and demanded Judgment, if againſt the Retraxit he ought to ſue; upon which it was demurred: It was ſaid for the Defendant, that this Retraxit was in the nature of a Releaſe, and quaſi a Releaſe. Crook Juſtice, ſaid, It was neither Releaſe in facto, nor in Law, but quaſi an agreement that he will not farther proſecute; and it might be that the ſaid J. P. the younger paid the moyty of the money, and the Obligee did agree to accept it of him, and that he would not further proſecute againſt him, and being joyntly and ſeverally bound, he might make ſuch an Agreement, and not diſcharge the Bond; Barkley Juſtice held the Plea good, and that it was a good Bar; for that it is a Bond joynt and ſeveral; and one of them being diſcharged, it cannot be now a joynt Bond; wherefore the diſcharge to the one, was the diſcharge quoad the other; But becauſe the Juſtices diſagreed in Opinion, it was adjourned. Hill. 14 Car. in B. R. Dennis and Paynes Caſe. Cro. 1 Part, 395.

12. Covenant, The Defendant by Indenture enfeoffed J. S. of Lands, and Covenanted for himſelf and his heirs, with the Feoffee, his heirs and aſſignes, to make further aſſurance, upon requeſt,

J. S.

J. S. conveyed the Lands to the Plaintiff, who brought the Action, becauſe the Defendant did not levy a Fine upon the Plaintiffs requeſt. The Defendant pleaded a Releaſe made from J. S. with whom the firſt Covenant was made; which Releaſe was dated after the Commencement of the Suit. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, that the Covenant did go with the Land, and that the Aſſignee ſhould have benefit of it; and the breach of the Covenant being in the time of the Aſſignee, for not levying the Fine, and the Action brought by him, they held, that the Covenantee could not Releaſe this Action wherein the Aſſignee was Intereſſed; wherefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Midlemore and Goodales Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 361.

13. A woman ſued in the Spiritual Court, without her Husband, for Defamation of her, and ſentence was for her, and coſts aſſeſſed: In an Appeal of this ſentence to the Arches, the Defendant pleaded there, the Releaſe of the Husband, as well of the ſentence, as of the coſts, which was there denyed, and upon that he prayed a Prohibition; for it was ſaid, That a Wife may ſue, ſo the Husband may releaſe, and the ſaid releaſe is to be guided by the Common Law. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the Releaſe of the Husband cannot be a Bar to this Suit quoad Reformationem morum; for the Court may ſentence the Defendant to a ſubmiſſion, or a corporal puniſhment, which the Husband cannot Releaſe; but as for the Coſts, the Husband might well releaſe them: Whereupon a Rule was given, that a Prohibition ſhould go, as to ſtay the Suit, quoad the Coſts only. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 161.

14. In an Ejectione firmæ, after a Verdict at Niſi Prius for the Plaintiff; The Defendant at the day in Banco, pleaded a Releaſe from the Plaintiff, betwixt the Verdict, and the day in Banco. It was Reſolved by the Court, That he had not day to plead it, nor had any remedy but by Audita Querela, if the Plaintiff ſued forth Execution. Mich. 20 Jac. in B. R. Stamp and Parkers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 646.

15. The Caſe was, J. S. and A. a Feme ſole, were Joynt-Tenants for life; A. took Husband, who by Fine grants to J. S Tenementa prædict. & feram. & quicquid habent, pro termino vitæ of the ſaid A. & illos Reddidit, Habendum to him and his Aſſignes, for the life of the ſaid A. and Warrants it to him and his heirs, during the life of the ſaid A. And whether this Grant by Fine ſhould enure by Releaſe, or by Grant of the Eſtate, and ſeverance of the Joynture of the moyty, was the point. It was Reſolved by the Court, That it ſhould enure by way of Releaſe; and that the rather, by reaſon of the words, Ei Reddidit, which enures by way of Releaſe; and both Eſtates being in him, the Law ſhall veſt that in him, as if he had it from the Feoffors: and Dodd Juſtice ſaid, That by whatſoever means he comes to the Eſtate of his Companion; it ſhould enure by way of Releaſe: And therefore, If one Joynt-Tenant bargains and ſells to his Companion by Deed Inrolled, although that veſts the uſe, and the Statute veſts the poſſeſſion, yet being in him, the Law ſhall conſtrue it to be entirely in him, and not by diviſion of Eſtate: Wherefore it was Reſolved in the Principal Caſe, That there was no Occupancy for that moyty of A. but A. determined by the death of J. S. and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 19 Jac. in B. R. Euſtace and Scawens Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 696.

16. Treſpaſs againſt J. for breaking his Cloſe at D. and beating of him, 1 Ollob. 10 Jac. The Defendant pleaded, That he, together with one J. D. the time of the Treſpaſs ſuppoſed, did joyntly break the Plaintiffs houſe, and beat him: And afterwards, viz. 13 Junii, 11 Jac. the Plaintiff did Releaſe to J. D. by his Writing, all Actions, real and perſonal; and averred, That the Treſpaſs of which the Plaintiff complained, and that which he and J. D. did joyntly, was one and the ſame, and not alia, neque diverſa. In this Caſe it was adjudged for the Defendant; for although a Treſpaſs be joynt and ſeveral, that he may ſue either one or all, yet when two joyn in Treſpaſs, they make but one Treſpaſſer, and either of them is anſwerable for his fellows fact, as for him; and therefore a Releaſe to one, diſchargeth the whole Treſpaſs; and againſt Joynt Treſpaſſors, there can be but one ſatisfaction: And therefore if one be ſued in one Action, although he may ſever in Plea and Iſſues, yet one Jury ſhall aſſeſs dimages for all. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Cork and Youngers Caſe. Hob. 66.

17. Sir William Fleetwood, the Kings Receiver, being indebted to the King for arrearages of his Receipts, and ſeized of the Mannor of C. in the County of Middleſex, did convey the ſame to Sir Roger Aſton in Fee, and he conveyed to the King, his Heirs, and Succeſſors, and preſently took it again to him and his Heirs, rendring yearly 34 s. pro omnibus Servitiis, & Demandis. Afterwards Sir William Fleetwood became further indebted upon his Accompt to the King: The Queſtion was, Whether the ſaid Mannor was extendable and lyable to any of the debts aforeſaid. It was the Opinion of Cook and Hobart Juſtices, that they were not chargeable, for the Land it ſelf was never chargeable for it, but in reſpect of the perſon which was Debtor: And when the King conveys the Land over, he cannot againſt his own Conveyance, charge the Land, although the debt be of ſuch a nature, that it gives no right in the Land; And therefore a Releaſe made by the King to the Tenant of the Land of all Rights and Titles, doth not diſcharge it. But the Chief Baron made a doubt of it, becauſe he took the uſe of the Exchequer to be otherwiſe; wherefore a Decree of diſcharge of the Land was ſalvo jure Regis. Paſch. 13 Jac. Out of the Court of Wards. Sir William Fleetwood's and Sir Roger Aſton's Caſe. Hob. 45.

18. A. brought Treſpaſs againſt B. C. and D: B. pleaded Not Guilty, whereupon Iſſue was joyned; C. and D. made Juſtification: After a Replication, Iſſue was joyned; depending the Demurrer, the Iſſue was levyed againſt B. and damages againſt him, and Judgment given againſt him; After which Judgment, the Plaintiff entred a Nolle proſequi againſt the Defendants C. and D; and thereupon, Error was brought by all the Defendants againſt the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Nolle proſequi againſt C. and D. had not diſcharged B; and ſo there was no Error: whereas it was Objected, That the entry of the Nolle proſequi had diſcharged all the Defendants: And the Court was of Opinion in this Caſe, That C. and D. ſhould not have joyned in this Writ of Error, becauſe there was no Judgment againſt them, nor they grieved: And the Writ of Error is, ad grave damnum of them all. Hill. 11 Jac. in B. R. Parker and Sir John Lawrence, Nevil and Woods Caſe. Hob. 70.

19. Debt for 523 l. againſt the Sheriff of S. The Plaintiff Declared, That P. and others, were bound in a Recognizance of 2000 l. to him, and that after Judgment, he ſued a Levari facias to the Defendant, which he delivered to him; whereupon the Defendant levied the ſum, and at the day returned, Quod paratos habeo, and yet did not deliver it in Court, per quod &c. The Defendant, Quoad 300 l. pleaded Nihil debet; and to the reſt, That before the Return, he did pay to the Plaintiff the ſame ſum; whereupon the Plaintiff by his Acquittance, reciting that he had received it, did acquit him: upon which it was demurred in Law. There were ſeveral Queſtions in the Caſe. 1. Whether Debt would lye, becauſe there is no contract betwixt the Plaintiff and the Sheriff. As to that Reſolved by the Court, That it would lye; for although there be no actual Contract, yet there is a kind of Contract in Law; for when money is levyed by the Sheriff, the Action ceaſeth againſt the Defendant, and the Action is ipſo facto tranſferred to the Sheriff, having both the Judgment to make it a Debt, and the Levie to make him anſwerable; And it was holden, That upon ſuch Levies appearing upon Record, the Court may award a Diſtringas, or the party may have a Fieri facias, or an Elegit againſt the Sheriff, to levie as much of his own Eſtate. 2. It was holden, That the Defendants Plea to the 308 l. Nihil debet, was not good, becauſe it was contrary to the Return on Record. 3 Reſolved, That ſince the Defendant by his Return had charged himſelf with the whole money, paratos habeo, then to be delivered to the Plaintiff, that he could not ſay that it was paid, releaſed, or acquitted before. Trin. 15. Jac. in C. B. Speak and Richards Caſe. Hob. 206.

20. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court, That by releaſe of all Actions, Duties, and Amerciaments, a Releaſe which was in Queſtion, was releaſed. Paſch. 35 Eliz. Rotheram and Crawleyes Caſe. Owen, 71.

21. Note alſo, That it was Reſolved, That a Releaſe or a Confirmation which enures by way of Enlargement of an Eſtate, may be as well to an Uſe as a Feoffment. See Mich. 7 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sammes Caſe. Lea 12. See Cook, Sutcliff Caſe, 55. the ſame Caſe, more large.

22. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, That next Avoydance was granted to A. and B. then the Church did become void, B. releaſed to A. Totum Statum, & Titulum, and then A. being diſturbed, brought a Quare Impedit in his own Name; It was ſaid, That by the Avoydance, it is become an Intereſt and a Chattel, and that one Joynt-Tenant may Releaſe unto the other becauſe of their privity, though they have no poſſeſſion. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Releaſe was void; for it is a thing in Action, and of Privity, and Confidence, and cannot be Releaſed, nor tranſferred. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Brokeſbyes Caſe, Owen 850. See Paſc. 38 Eliz. in C. P. The Biſhop of Norwich and Bennets Caſe. If a man grant the next Avoydance of the Church to two before Avoydance, the one may releaſe to the other in reſpect of Privity; but after the Church is void, ſuch a Releaſe is void. Vouch in Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 290.

23. A. ſeized of three Acres of Lands, grants a Rent-charge out of them to M. and after he enfeoffs J. S. of two Acres; M. Covenants with J. S. and grants, that he will not charge the two Acres for the ſaid Rent, with any Diſtreſſes after; and B. the Ter-Tenant of the other Acre being diſtreined, brings a Replevin. The Queſtion was, If the Covenant and Grant by M. be a Releaſe of the Rent: Glanville Juſtice ſaid, It was a Releaſe; but Anderſon Chief Juſtice was of contrary Opinion: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That if it be a Releaſe, that the Ter-Tenant may plead it, for that thereby the Rent is extinguiſhed. See Butler and Mennings Caſe. Noy, 5.

24. An Action of Treſpaſs was brought for taking of a Horſe; The Defendant pleaded, That the now Plaintiff was heretofore barred in an Action of Treſpaſs brought for the taking of the ſame Houſe. It was holden by the Court to be a good Plea, and that Judgment ſhould be given againſt the Plaintiff; for that a Bar by Judgment doth amount to a Releaſe in Law. See Sir Humphrey Ferrers and Wignall's Caſe. Noy 58.

on

25. Action upon the Statute of 1 & 2 Mar. for driving Diſtreſſes, and Impounding them in ſeveral places, ſo as the Owner was put to ſeveral Replevins; The Action was brought againſt three Defendants; and upon Not Guilty, it was found for the Plaintiff, and forty ſhillings damages aſſeſſed by the Jury againſt every Defendant ſeverally, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, that he ſhould recover the penalty of the Statute, viz. againſt every one five pounds, and for damages againſt every one forty ſhillings trebled. Upon which Judgment, Error was brought, and the Error aſſigned in the Judgment, becauſe the damages and penalties are ſevered, where it ought to have been jointly: It was adjudged Error, and the Judgment was reverſed. For but one five pound ſhall be inflicted upon all the Defendants, and not ſeveral five pounds, by the Statute; yet the words are, That every perſon offending, ſhall pay five Pounds; but the meaning of the Statute is, That the penalty ſhall be referred to the Offence, and not to the perſons; and then, becauſe there was but one offence, there ſhall be but one five pound forfeited: And it was ſaid, and agreed in this Caſe, That if there had been twenty jointly ſued, that a Releaſe made to one of them, ſhould have diſcharged all the reſt. See Partridge and Emſons Caſe. Noy, 62.

Relief.

1. RElief is ſometimes a certain ſum of money, that the Heir ſhall pay to the Lord of whom the Lands are holden, which after the deceaſe of the Auncеſtor are diſcended to him as next Heir, ſometimes it is the payment of another thing, and not of money: And therefore for the generality of it, it was a thing uncertain, and was not alike in all Tenures, but every Tenure for the moſt part at this day, doth pay a ſpecial Relief certain, or a certain ſum of money in lieu thereof. Relief is a very Ancient duty payable both to the King and Lords in the time of the Saxons, and before the Norman Conqueſt, but under ſeveral other Appellations, and of ſeveral quantities, qualities, and degrees; and for the moſt part was uncertain, untill the Statute of Magna Charta cap. 2. which appoints the Relief certain, according to the Tenure of the Land.

2. Relief was paid according to the Knights Fee, which perſons of Honor and Dignity held of the King, and according to their yearly Revenue. A Knight was anciently to have 20 l. per annum. A Baron 13 Knights Fees and a quarter: an Earl 20 Knights Fees. And after the Statute of Magna Charta, cap. 3. the fourth part of ſuch Revenue which was requiſite by the Law to the Dignity, was to be paid to the King for a Relief. See Cook 9. Part, 124. Anthony Lowes Caſe, &c. As the Relief of a Knight is 5 l. which is the fourth part of 20 l. which is the fourth part of the Revenue of a Knight. The Relief of a Baron is 100 Marks, which is the fourth part of his Revenue, 400 Marks including therein 13 Knights Fees and a quarter: And the Relief of an Earl is 100 l. which is the fourth part of 400 l. per annum, the Revenue of an Earl. And the Relief of a Duke is 200 l. and ſo by conſequence his Revenue is or ought to be 800 l. per annum, Cook 7. Part, 34. in Nevills Caſe. And note, That at this day, Noble men do pay ſuch Reliefs as other men uſe to do in reſpect of their Tenures. For as the Heir of a Knight ſhall not pay a Relief, unleſs he have a Knights Fee. So the Heir of an Earl or Baron, ſhall not pay Relief, unleſs he hath an Earldome, or a Barony. See 6 H. 8. Dyer, 2. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 9.

3. A Biſhop, holding the Lands of his Biſhop-

prick per Baroniam: And ſo, many Abbots and Priors had Baronies within the Kingdome: And yet they paid no Relief, becauſe they came, and come to the Land by Succeſſion, and not as Heir by Inheritance. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 7.

4. If a Knight hold Lands by Grand Serjeanty, he ſhall not pay Relief, declared by the Statute of Magna Charta, but the Heir being of full age at the death of his Anceſtor, ſhall pay the value of his Lands for one year, which is his Primer Seiſin. See 11 H. 4. 72.

5. If he in the Reverſion dyeth, his Heir within age, living the particular Tenant, he ſhall be out of Ward, becauſe the Seignory is ſerved by the Tenant; but after his death, he ſhall be in Ward, and at full age ſhall pay Relief; and it was ſaid, That a Reverſion is holden aſwell as a particular Tenancy. See 4 Ma. Dyer, 137. and ſee, That if Tenant by Knights Service makes a gift in tail, and afterwards releaſeth to the Donee and his Heirs; now the Donee hath an Eſtate tail, with the Reverſion expectant, and if he dyeth, his Iſſue within age, the Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip of the body and Land; and if the Heir be of full age, the Lord ſhall have a Relief. Cook 2. Part, 92, 93. in Bingbams Caſe.

6. If Land be conveyed for the advancement of the Tenants Wife, or for payment of his Debts. If after the Land be alliened bona fide before the death of the Tenant, the King nor other Lord ſhall have the Wardſhip; and there no Relief ſhall be paid. And ſo if the Father had enfeoffed his Son, if the Son had alliened the Land bona fide. It was out of the Statute of Malbridge, cap. 6. and in ſuch Caſe, the Lord ſhould not have the Wardſhip, and ſo no Relief was to be paid. But in ſuch Caſe, If the Son had dyed in the life of the Father. But otherwiſe, If the Conveyance had bin made by the Son after the death of the Tenant, then the Lord had cauſe of Wardſhip; and then the Allienation ſhall not take away the ſaid benefit from him. And ſo note, where ever there is Title of Wardſhip, there is a Relief due, and to be paid. For every Tenant by Knight Service ſhall pay a Relief. Cook 2. Part. 94. acc.

7. If there be Lord, Meſne, and Tenant, and the Rent due by the Meſne is behind, and afterwards the Tenant doth forjudge the Meſne, and the Lord receive the Services of the Meſne, which now iſſue immediately out of the Tenancy, yet he ſhall not be barred of his Arrerages which iſſued out of the Menalty; ſo if the Rent be behind, and the Tenant dyeth, the acceptance of the Services by the hands of the Heir, ſhall not bar him of the Arrerages, becauſe in thoſe Caſes, although the perſon be altered, yet the Lord doth accept the Rent and Services of him who only ought to do them. But acceptance of a Rent or Service by the hands of a Feoffee, ſhall not bar the Lord of a Relief due, for Relief is no Service, but a fruit and approvement of Service; for if it were part of the Services, then an Action of Debt ſhould not lye for the ſame ſo long as the Rent continueth; but it is as a bloſſome or fruit fallen from the Tree, and for Relief, it behoveth not to avow upon any perſon certain. Cook 3. Part, 66. in Pennants Caſe.

8. See tit. E. 1. Title Relief 13. 41 E. 3. 22. Relief is no Service, but in an approvement of Service, for which the Lord may diſtreyn, but ſhall not have an Action of Debt. But his Executors or Adminiſtrators ſhall have Debt for the ſame, becauſe they cannot diſtreyn for it. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 83, 84. See Cook 8. Part, 16. acc. Cook 4. Part, 49. in Ognells Caſe, acc.

9. Note, by Littleton, That the Heir of a Tenant by Knight Service, ought not to pay Relief, untill his age of 21 years. Yet in ſome Caſes, the Heir ſhall pay a Relief when he was within age at the time of the death of his Anceſtor. As if a man holdeth Lands of the King by Knight Service in Capite, and of a common perſon other Lands by Knight Service, and dyeth, his Heir being within age. In this Caſe, The King hath the Wardſhip of body and Land by his Prerogative, untill the full age of the Heir: And therefore in this Caſe, the Heir (although he be within age) ſhall immediatly pay Relief to the other Lord; for as the Law giveth away the Wardſhip to the King by reaſon of his Prerogative, ſo doth it in reſpect thereof reſerve to the other Lord, all that may be conveniently reſerved, viz. his Relief. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 83. acc.

10. The Bayliff of the Lord Berkley diſtreyned for Relief. The Queſtion was, becauſe the Land had bin in Ward to the Queen by reaſon of other Lands held of her Majeſty by Knight Service in Capite, Whether the Heir ſhould pay Relief to the other Lords at his full age. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That he ſhould. But in that Caſe it was holden, That the Avowant ſhould have Judgment for the Relief only, and that he ſhould releaſe the damages, but becauſe it was a new Caſe, and the Court doubted of that payment. Mich. 44 and 45 Eliz. in B.R. Shepheard and Mitchworths Caſe. See Cro. 3. Part, 184. vouched in James and Tuneyes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 28. the ſame Caſe.

11. Tenant by Knight Service dyed, having Iſſue a Son and a daughter by one Woman, and a Son by another Woman; the eldeſt Son dyed before entry. It was holden in that Caſe, That the ſecond Son ſhould pay two Reliefs, becauſe that his Brother was Tenant by a poſſeſſion in Law. See

12. If the Father enfeoffeth the Son within age, and dyeth, his Heir of full age, he ſhall not pay a Relief, becauſe nothing diſcends to him. And Relief is not within the Statute of Marlbridge of Colluſion, but tarum Cuſtodiam terræ et hæredis. 4 E. 3. br. Relief 6. 7 E. 3. Fitz. Relief 11. that he ſhall pay Relief, becauſe that his Father dyed Tenant to the Lord as to Avowry. But ſee 2 E. 4. 6. by Danby, that nothing diſcended. But yet 17 E. 3. Fitz. Title Releaſe 3. agrees with 4 E. 3. But ſee 31 E. 3 Colluſion 29. If the Father enfeoffeth the Son at full age, there he ſhall pay no Relief. Nor the King ſhall not have Primer Seiſin.

13. Relief is but a perſonal thing. And yet a Writ of Meſne will lye for the Tenant of the Meſne for his Relief not paid. 33 H. 6. 32.

14. The Heir in Socage ſhall not pay Relief, but ſhall double his rent by the name of Relief. Br. Relief 13. And ſee 13 E. 3. Relief 6. That the Lord may diſtreyn the Heir for the Relief of the Grandfather, and of the Father, before he accept him to be his Tenant.

15. If he who holds his Lands by Grand Serjeanty, dyeth, his Heir of full age; the Heir ſhall pay to the King for a Relief, the value of the Lands for a whole year. See Litt. 35. 11 H. 4. 74. acc.

16. Relief is to be paid by the Heir in Socage, preſently after the death of his Anceſtor of what age ſoever the Heir is, becauſe he cannot have the Wardſhip of him. And the Lord may diſtreyn preſently after the death of the Anceſtor for it. But the King ſhall not have Primer Seiſin in Caſe of a Tenure in Socage in chief, unleſs the Heir be of the age of fourteen years. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 92.

17. Note, it is ſaid, That in the County of Weſtmerland, there is duplex Tenura; the one per albam firmam, that is to ſay, Blanch farm; the other per Cornagium, viz. Cornage: And it is ſaid, That he who holdeth by Blanchfarm of a common perſon after the death of the Anceſtor, ought to double the Farm by the name of a Relief, but he who holdeth by Cornage, ſhall pay the whole value of the Land for one year for a Relief. Cook 2. Part, Inſtitutes 9. acc. John Graiſtock's Caſe.

18. In an Aſſumpſit, A. ſeiſed of Land, held it of the Plaintiff as of his Mannor of W. by Rent, and by a Cuſtomary Relief of one years value, A. alienes this Land to B. who 1. May, 10 Jac. deviſed it to the Defendant; the Deviſor dyed, the Defendant entred. The Plaintiff layes a Colloquium between him and the Defendant, as touching the Arrerages of the rent, and the Relief. The Plaintiff ſaid, That if he would not pay it, he would ſue him for it; upon this, the Defendant did promiſe to the Plaintiff, That if he would forbear the Suit until the next Court, and then if the Plaintiff ſhould make it appear to the brothers of the Defendant, That the Tenements were ſo chargeable with the 5 s. yearly rent and Relief, that he would pay them to him: and the Plaintiff avers, That he did forbear the Suit, and at the next Court did make it appear to his brothers by the Preſentment of the Homage, and the Records of the Court, that the rent and Relief were due by the Defendant. The Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether this Relief as it is in the Record, be of ſuch a nature, as that remedy may be had for it. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices after long Argument, that Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff, for here it is due by Tenure, for the Record is, that he held per Relivium to be paid ſecundum conſuetudinem Manerii; and then he hath good remedy for it, for that he may diſtreyn for it, and then the conſideration is good in ſubſtance, and ſo the Action well brought. Hill. 22 Jac. in B. R. Hungerford and Havilands Caſe. Bulſtr. 3. Part, 323.

Remainder and Reverſion.

1. Where a Remainder expectant or dependant upon an Eſtate for years, or at life, ſhall be good, and may ſtand in one perſon; Where not: And where it ſhall be good without a particular Eſtate; Where not.

1. A Reverſion upon a Term for years was granted to the uſe of the Grantor for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of his Executors and Aſſigns for 21 years, the Remainder over in tail. The Grantor was Attainted of Treaſon by Act of Parliament, and all his Lands, Goods, and Chattells veſted in the Queen; and afterwards the Queen granted it over. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That the Queen ſhould have the Term as forfeit, for it was an Intereſt in the Grantor, and might might well ſtand in himſelf in expectancy. But the Juſtices were of Opinion, and agreed, That if the Term were not forfeited, That then the entry of him in the Remainder in tail was lawful, becauſe that there was no other perſon who had an Intereſt in it during the Term. Paſc. 4 Eliz. Dyer, 209.

2. Lands were aſſured by Fine, to the uſe of J. S. and his Wife for the Term of their lives, and the longer liver of them, the Remainder after their deceaſe, for ſix Moneths, to the uſe of the Executors of the ſaid J. S. and after the ſix Moneths ended, to the uſe of J. D. and his Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies lawfully begotten: and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the Heirs of J. S. for ever. Provided, That if it happen J. S. at any time after to have Iſſue of his body, or any Wife of the ſaid J. S. after his deceaſe to be with Child, begotten by the ſaid J. S. that then after ſuch Iſſue had, and 500 l. paid to A. or tendred or refuſed within the ſpace of ſix Moneths after the birth of the Iſſue, then the uſe of the ſaid Lands immediately after the deceaſe of the ſaid J. S. and his Wife, and after the ſix Moneths ended and expired, ſhall be to the ſaid J. S. and the Heirs of his body; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the right Heirs of the ſaid J. S. the Wife of J. S. dyed, he took another Wife. It was a Quære what eſtate J. S. had in the Land before Iſſue had by the ſecond Wife, and before the ſix Moneths paſſed. It was the Opinion of Dyer and others, That before the performance of the Contingent, he had no larger Eſtate then he had before. Trin. 14 Eliz. Dyer, 314.

3. If a man at this day, ſince the Statute of 27 H. 8. maketh a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of A. for years, and after to the uſe of the right Heirs of B. or to the uſe of the Wife of B. that ſhall be, the limitation to the right Heirs, or to the Wife that ſhall be, is void, becauſe it had bin void if it had bin in poſſeſſion. And therefore where the Caſe was, Francis Earl of Bedford made a Feoffment in Fee of divers Mannors to the uſe of himſelf for years, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of John Lord Ruſſell his Son and Heir apparent, and to the Heirs Males of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the right Heirs of the Earl, and afterwards the ſaid John dyed without Iſſue Male in the life of the Earl his Father. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the uſe and Eſtate limitted by way of Remainder to the right Heirs of the Earl, was void, for that it had bin void if it had bin limitted by Eſtate executed at the Common Law, for that the Remainder ought to veſt during the particular eſtate. Paſc. 35 Eliz. in the Court of Wards. The Earl of Bedford's Caſe, vouched in Cook 1. Part, 130. in Chudleigh's Caſe.

4. The Queen ſeiſed of the Mannor of S. demiſed the ſame to H. B. for 21 years, who demiſed ſmall parcells of the ſaid Mannor to others for years; and after the Queen, reciting the ſaid Letters Pattents, in conſideration of a ſurrender of all his Intereſt, Granted the ſaid Mannor to the ſaid H. D. Habendum à die Conſeſſionis for three lives. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other points, That an Eſtate of Freehold cannot begin at a day to come, becauſe a man cannot make a preſent Livery to a future Eſtate, and an Eſtate for life cannot paſs without Livery; and therefore the Grant by Letters Pattents, which amount to a Livery in Law, could not begin at a day to come, for if the Freehold ſhould paſs preſently by the Letters Pattents, then the Queen ſhould have a particular Intereſt or Term without a Donor or Leſſor, which is againſt the Rules in Law. And in that Caſe, this difference was taken; Two have a Joynt Authority to take Livery and Seiſin, there Livery made to one in the name of both, is not good, becauſe they are both but one Attorney. But if two Joynt-Leſſees have power to take Livery, there Livery made to one in the name of both, is good, becauſe they have an Intereſt in the Land before their Entry, and the Livery to one in the name of both, is an actual poſſeſſion in them both, and ſufficient to ſupport a Remainder. Cook 5. Part, 94. Barwick's Caſe.

5. The King made a gift in tail of a Park, and afterwards granted the Reverſion of it in tail; and if the Donee of the Reverſion payed 60 l. at the Receipt of the Exchequer, that then he ſhould have reverſionem prædict. to him and his Heirs. In this Caſe, amongſt other points, It was Reſolved, That a Grant with a Condition precedent to encreaſe, may be made aſwell of things which lye in Grant, as Rents, Advowſons, &c. as of Lands which lye in Livery, and may be annexed aſwell to an Eſtate tail, which may not be drowned, aſwell as to an Eſtate for life or years, which may be drowned by the acceſſion of a greater Eſtate. But then ſuch increaſer of an Eſtate by force of a Condition precedent, ought to have theſe incidents. 1. There ought to be a particular Eſtate upon which the encreaſer of the greater Eſtate ought to be builded. 2. Such particular Eſtate ought to continue in the Leſſee or Grantee, untill the increaſer happen. 3. It ought to veſt at the time that the Contingency falleth. And 4. The particular Eſtate and encreaſer ought to take effect by one and the ſame Deed, or by ſeveral Deeds delivered at the ſame time, and not by ſeveral Deeds delivered at ſeveral times. Cook 8. Part, 75. the Lord Stafford's Caſe.

6. A man deviſed Lands to his Wife for life upon Condition to bring up his eldeſt Son, and after the deceaſe of his Wife, to his ſecond Son in tail; the Wife entred, but did not educate the Son, the eldeſt Son entred upon her. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the entry of the eldeſt Son was lawful. And in this Caſe amongſt other points, It was Reſolved, That the Heir by his entry, ſhould defeat only the Eſtate of the Wife, and that the Remainder might well ſtand by the Deviſe, without the particular Eſtate; but if the Eſtate had paſſed by Livery, then it had bin otherwiſe, becauſe the Livery is defeated by the defeating of the particular Eſtate. Hill. 3 Ma. Dyer, 126.

7. Note, it is a Rule in Law, That a Remainder cannot ſtand without a particular Eſtate, yet it is agreed in 37 H. 6. 36. That if a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of one for life, and after to the uſe of another in Fee; That although the particular Tenant refuſeth, yet the Remainder is good: And ſo it is if a man deviſeth Lands for life, the Remainder in Fee, and the Tenant for life refuſeth, that the Remainder is good. Cook 1. Part, 101. in Shellyes Caſe.

8. If a Feoffment be made unto the uſe of one for life, and after to the right Heirs of J. S. the Fee-ſimple of the Land ſhall be in abeyance; and before the Statute of 27 H. 8. If a man had made a Feoffment to the uſe of one for years, and after to the right Heirs of J. S. this limitation had bin good, for that the Feoffees remained Tenants of the Freehold, but ſuch limitation after the Statute is void, for then the Freehold ſhall be in ſuſpence; for that nothing remained in the Feoffees. And it was ſaid, That in the principal Caſe of Chudleigh, the future uſes were deſtroyed by the Feoffment of the Tenants for life; and although that the Remainders were in the cuſtody of the Law, yet they ought to be ſubject to the Rules of Law. And becauſe the Rule of Law is, That he in the Remainder ought to take the Land when the particular Eſtate determineth, or elſe the Remainder ſhall be void. And in that Caſe, Inaſmuch as by the Feoffment of the Tenants for life, their Eſtate was determined, and the Title of Entry given for the forfeiture, and then thoſe in the future Remainder were not in eſſe to take it; for that cauſe the Remainders in futuro, by matter ex poſt facto were utterly deſtroyed and made void; and there is no difference when an Eſtate determineth by the death of Tenant for life, and when the ſame determineth by his forfeiture, for in both Caſes entry is given to him in the next Remainder; and then if he cannot take the Land when the particular Eſtate endeth, the Remainder is void. Cook 1. Part, 135. in Chudleighs Caſe.

9. If a Leaſe be made for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. the ſame is good to him in the Remainder, becauſe by poſſibility J. S. may dye during the life of Tenant for life; but if J. S. be not in eſſe at the time of the Remainder limitted, but be born after, during the life of the Tenant for life, there the Remainder is void, quia potentiâ remota. And ſee, That a Remainder limitted by a general name, may be good, although that the party who ſhould take it, be not in eſſe at the time of the Remainder limitted. As a Leaſe for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. or a Remainder primo genito filio, but a Remainder limitted by a particular name of Baptiſm, or Surname, is not good, if the party be not in eſſe. The principal Caſe was, Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail, he in the Remainder bargained and ſold his Remainder to A. for the life of Tenant in tail, the Remainder after his death, to the King in Fee. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Remainder to the King was void, becauſe that he in the Remainder, granted all his Eſtate to A. for the life of Tenant in tail, in which caſe, he could not limit any Remainder upon it, for a Remainder is but a remnant of an Eſtate, and the King could not have the Remainder of the Eſtate when it was all granted away before. Cook 2. Part, 51. Sir Hugh Cholmleys Caſe.

10. A man ſeiſed of Lands had Iſſue two Sons, A. and B. A. had Iſſue two Daughters, and B. had Iſſue C. a Son, and he deviſed his Lands to his Executors for the payment of his Debts, untill C. being of the age of nine years, come to the age of 21 years, and when he came to ſuch age, that then he ſhould enjoy the Land to him and his Heirs, and dyed; C. before he came of 21 years, dyed; his Heir entred, and made a Leaſe for years, the two Daughters entred, the Heir re-entred. And it was adjudged, That his entry was lawful. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Intereſt of the Executors did not ceaſe, although that C. dyed before he came to the age of 21 years. For in Wills, the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be conſidered, and when he deviſed the Lands to his Executors for the payment of his Debts, it is to be intended that he had computed that the profits of the Lands for 12 years, would ſatisfy and pay his Debts, and therefore he did not intend, that their Eſtate ſhould determine by the death of his Son; and the words, viz. untill ſuch time as C. ſhall come to the age of 21 years, ſhall be conſtrued, untill ſuch time as C. ſhould have come to the age of 21 years: and it was adjudged, That the Remainder was good, And it was agreed in this Caſe, That if a man hath Iſſue a Son of the age of 9 years, and makes a Leaſe untill his Son ſhall attain to his full age, and that after that he accompliſheth his full age, that the ſame ſhall remain over to another in Fee, that nothing veſts in him in the Remainder; ſo it was ſaid to be a Rule, When a Remainder is limitted to take effect upon the doing of an Act, which Act ſhall be the determination of the particular Eſtate, if the Act dependeth upon a caſualty, the Remainder ſhall be in contingency, and ſhall not veſt preſently. And it was ſaid, That if a Leaſe be made for years, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. that the Remainder is void, becauſe a Freehold cannot be in abeyance. Cook 3. Part, 20. Berraſtons Caſe.

11. Note, It is regularly true, That where the particular Eſtate is defeated, that there the Remainder ſhall be alſo defeated; but that is to be intended when the particular Eſtate and the Remainder do depend upon one Title; but where the particular caſe is defeicible, and the Remainder by good Title, there, although the particular Eſtate be defeated, yet the Remainder continues good: As if the Leſſor diſſeiſes A. Leſſee for life, and makes a Leaſe to B. for the uſe of A. for life, the Remainder to C. in Fee; In that caſe, although A. enter, and defeat the Eſtate of B. for life, yet the Remainner to C. being once veſted by good Title, ſhall not be avoided; for it were againſt reaſon, that the Leſſor ſhould have the Remainder again, againſt his own Livery. And ſo it is if a Leaſe be made to an Infant for life, the Remainder in Fee, the Infant at his full age, diſagrees to the Eſtate for life, yet the Remainder ſhall ſtand good, becauſe it was once veſted by good Title: But note, that in both theſe caſes, there was a particular Eſtate in being at the time of the Remainder created. Cook 5. Part, Inſtitutes, 298. But if the Lord grant his Seignory to A. for life, the Remainder to B. in Fee; A. dyeth, and then the Tenement returns to B. there the Remainder to B. is void; becauſe there was no Attornment to the particular Eſtate; which being void for want of Attornment, the particular Eſtate which ſhould ſupport the Remainder, being defeated and void, the Remainder which depends upon it, is void alſo. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 310.

2. Where a Remainder ſhall be void, becauſe not Executed in due time; what ſhall be a due time to execute it: Where void; becauſe it is repugnant to the particular Eſtate: Where Remainder ſhall be good upon a Condition, or upon a Contingency; and where the Eſtate ſhall paſs preſently, where not, till the Condition or Contingency performed.

1. A. Seized of Lands in Fee, deviſed the Land to the Father for life, and after, to the next heir male of the father; the father having Iſſue a ſon at the time the Deviſor dyed, the father made a Feoffment in Fee, with Warranty, and afterwards, the father dyed. In this Caſe (amongſt other points) it was Reſolved, That by the Feoffment of the father, Tenant for life, the Remainder was deſtroyed; for that every contingent Remainder, ought to veſt either during the particular Eſtate, or at leaſt, eo inſtante as the particular Eſtate determines; for if the particular Eſtate be determined, either in Remainder, or in Law, before that the Contingency fall, the Remainder is void. Cook 1. Part, 66. Arches Caſe, See Cook 1. Part, 130 in Chudleighs Caſe acc. See before, , Cook 2. Part, Sir Hugh Chomleys Caſe, 51.

2. The Law gives no regard to Remainders or Reverſions, which are expectant upon Eſtates in Tail, but accompts them as good as void: And there ſee Cook, 1. Part, That if Tenant in Tail ſuffer a Common Recovery, they ſhall not only bar the Eſtate Tail, and the Remainder, and Reverſion, but alſo a Rent which he in the Reverſion or Remainder hath granted; And therefore it was adjudged 12 Eliz. in Treling and Truſords Caſe, That a Reverſion or Remainder, expectant upon an Eſtate in Tail, ſhall not be Aſſets to the heir, in Debt brought upon an Obligation made by his father: And if Lands be given in Tail, the Remainder, the right heirs of J. S. if Tenant in Tail ſuffer a Recovery, J. S. being alive, yet this Recovery ſhall bar the Remainder, although it were in abeyance, and in conſideration of the Law. See Cook 6. Part, 42. in Sir Anthony Mildmayes Caſe.

3. One deviſed Lands to the Prior and Covent of St. B. ſo that they pay to the Dean and Chapter of P. 20 l. per annum, and if they fail of payment, then their Eſtate to ceaſe, and to remain to the Dean, &c. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, ſtices, That it was a void Remainder; becauſe a Remainder might not be limited after an Eſtate in Fee; and as to the Condition, It was Reſolved, That the Dean and Chapter in the Remainder, ſhould not take advantage of it, but the heirs. Paſc. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 33.

4. A man deviſed Lands to his Wife, upon condition to bring up his eldeſt ſon; and after the deceaſe of his Wife, to his ſecond ſon in Tail; the Wife entred, but educated not; the eldeſt ſon entred upon her, and adjudged that his Entry was lawful. It was there ſaid and agreed, That a Condition might be annexed to a Will: And it was alſo ſaid, That if a man by Will deviſe, that his Executors ſhall ſell Lands, and they retain it in their own hands, that in ſuch caſe the Heir may enter, for the Condition is broken. In that Caſe it was alſo holden, That a particular Eſtate may be upon Condition, although the Remainder be without Condition, and he in the Remainder ſhall not take advantage of the Condition, but the heir: And in the Principal Caſe it was holden, That the Heir by his Entry ſhall defeat only the Eſtate of the Wife, and that the Remainder might ſtand without the particular Eſtate; but if the Eſtate had paſſed by Livery, it had been otherwiſe. A Gift in Tail, the Remainder to the right Heir of the Donor, upon condition, that if he alien in Fee, that it ſhall be lawful to enter, upon the Condition broken, the Eſtate Tail is only defeated. Hill. 3 Mar. Dyer, 127. See Plo. Com. News and Scholaſticus Caſe, acc.

5. A Leaſe was made for 40 years to W. C. if he ſo long lived, and if he dyed within the ſaid Term, that then his Wife ſhould have all the premiſes, for the whole reſidue of the ſaid Term, if ſhe ſhould ſo long live; and if ſhe ſhould dye within the ſaid Term, that then it ſhould remain to the ſon of the ſaid W. C. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, That the Remainders limitted were void. Trin. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 253. See Cook 1. Part, the Reſtor of Chiddington's Caſe.

6. In Waſte, the Caſe was, T. C. ſeized of the Manor of C. having Iſſue ſix ſons, and one daughter, deviſed the ſaid Manor to J. S. for 99 years, if the ſaid J. S. and G. his Wife, or any of them, ſhould ſo long live; and further by his ſaid Will, deviſed the ſaid Manor to P. his eldeſt ſon, and the heirs males of his body, the Remainder to his other ſons, the Remainder to his ſaid daughter: Proviſo, That if P. his ſaid ſon, or any of his ſaid ſons, or the heirs males of their bodies, ſhould attempt, endeavour, &c. by any act, to ſell, allien, diſcontinue &c. That immediately after ſuch attempt, &c. and before any ſuch Bargain, Sale, &c. were executed, that the Eſtate made to every ſuch perſon, ſon, &c. ſo attempting &c. ſhould ceaſe and determine, as if ſuch perſon ſo attempting, &c. were dead; and that ſuch perſon to whom the premiſſes ſhould remain or come, ſhould have and enjoy the premiſſes. T. C. dyed, P. his eldeſt ſon levyed a Fine of the ſaid Manor: H. ſecond ſon of T. C. claimed the Remainder by vertue of the Deviſe. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That this Proviſo was repugnant, for two cauſes, 1. Becauſe when he had deviſed the Lands to one, and the heirs males of his body, ſuch Proviſo to ceaſe, as if he were dead, was repugnant; for the death of Tenant in Tail, is not the determination of his Eſtate, but his death without Iſſue. 2. It was repugnant, for that by the firſt part of the Proviſo, the Eſtate ſhould not ceaſe until attempt, &c. and by the latter part of it, it ſhould ceaſe after attempt, and before accompliſhment. 3. Reſolved, That the Proviſo was void for Incertainty; and in this Caſe, be it a Condition, or a Limitation, it was ſaid, That the entire Eſtate ought to be defeated thereby; and an Eſtate in Land, cannot ceaſe in part, and be in eſſe for other part; nor ceaſe for a time, and revive after. Hill. 37 Eliz. in C. B. Jermin and Foſcotts Caſe. Vouch. in Cook 1. Part, 85. in Corbetts Caſe.

7. A Biſhop made a Leaſe of a Mannor to A. and B. for 60 years, without Impeachment of Waſte, rendring Rent; Proviſo, That if the ſaid A. and B. dyed within the ſaid Term, that preſently after the deceaſe of the ſaid A. and B. & diutius eorum vivent. that it ſhould be lawful for the Biſhop and his Succeſſors to re-enter: The Biſhop dyed, the Succeſſor leaſed the Mannor to C. Habendum cum ſive poſt mortem ſurſumreddit, &c. or forfeiture of the ſaid B. it ſhould be void, for 60 years, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, and afterwards granted the Reverſion to D. in Fee; the Tenant Attorned, and afterwards B. dyed; the ſecond Leſſee dyed, and his Intereſt came to the Plaintiff. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other things) That the ſecond Leaſe did veſt preſently in Intereſt, and did not depend upon Contingency, to take effect in poſſeſſion at the end of the firſt Term, if by none of the three means the firſt Leaſe became void in the mean time: And therefore it was Reſolved, That if a man make a Leaſe for years, to begin after the ſurrender, for future determination, or end of the former Leaſe, which ſhall firſt happen, the Leſſee hath not election to have the ſecond Leaſe, either upon Surrender, or forfeiture, or end of the firſt Leaſe, which he pleaſeth, but which of them ſhall firſt happen, the ſecond Leaſe which before did conſiſt in Intereſt, ſhall begin in poſſeſſion. 2. It was Reſolved,

That when the Leaſe of the King is doubtful if it be good or not, and another is to take a Leaſe of the ſame Lands, the courſe is, to make the Habendum to begin after the end or determination of the firſt Leaſe, for ſo many years; And therefore, if A. reciting, that B. hath a Leaſe for years, demiſeth the Lands to C. for years, to begin after the end or determination of the firſt Leaſe (and in truth there is not any former Leaſe in eſſe) the Leaſe to B. ſhall begin preſently. Cook 6. Part, 34. The Biſhop of Bath's Caſe.

8. Note, That it was Reſolved, That in all Caſes, when an Intereſt or an Eſtate doth begin upon a Condition precedent, be it to be performed by the Plaintiff, the Defendant, or by a Stranger, and be the ſame in the Affirmative or Negative; there the Plaintiff in his Count, or Declaration, ought to ſhew the performance of it; for that there the Intereſt is not in him, until the Condition be performed: But when the Intereſt or Eſtate paſſeth preſently, and veſts in the Grantee, and is to be defeated by matter ex poſt facto, there the Plaintiff may declare generally, without ſhewing the performance of the Condition, and he ſhall not be driven to ſhew that which makes againſt himſelf, but there the Defendant who ought to take advantage of it, ought to plead it. 2. Reſolved, when an Intereſt paſſeth preſently, and is to be defeated by a matter ex poſt facto, If it doth appear to the Court by matter in Law, that the Action ſhall not be maintainable, without ſhewing of the performance of the Condition or Conſideration, there the Plaintiff ought to provide the performance of it, for the maintenance of his Action. Cook 7. Part, 10. and 11. in Aghtreds Caſe. See Plo. Com. 25. Colbirſts Caſe. acc.

3. When a Remainder in Fee, or Tail, upon another particular Eſtate to the ſame perſon, ſhall be good, and when executed, when not; Where a Remainder limitted to right Heirs, Heirs of the body, to the Iſſue in Ventre ſa Mier, or to one not in eſſe ſhall be good, where not: And where a Remainder limitted to the right Heirs, ſhall veſt in the party himſelf, and not in the Heir as a Purchaſor, & è contra.

1. TEnant for life of Land, the Remainder in Tail, the Remainder in Tail; Tenant for life, and he in the firſt Remainder, joyn in a Fine, ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, to another in Fee, who renders a rent of 20 l. to Tenant for life, he in the firſt Remainder dies without Iſſue. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the ſaid Fine levyed by Tenant for life, and him in the Remainder, was no diſcontinuance, either of the firſt Remainder, or of the ſecond Remainder; becauſe every one gave only that which they might lawfully give. Alſo it was no forfeiture; for that the Law, which abhors wrong, ſhall conſtrue it firſt to be the Grant of Tenant in Tail, and afterwards to be the Grant of Tenant for life, ut res magis valeat quam pereat, Cook 1. Part, 76. Bredons Caſe.

2. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Tail, the Remainder in tail, Tenant for life enfeoffeth him in the firſt Remainder in Tail, who dyeth without Iſſue, it is a forfeiture of his Eſtate; and the difference is, when he in the Remainder accepts an Eſtate by Feoffment, becauſe the ſame is a deveſting of the Remainder, and when he in the Remainder joyns in a Conveyance. 41 E. 3. 21. acc.

3. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee to an Infant, they both joyn in a Fine, and afterwards the Fine is reverſed, as to the Infant: Yet it was holden in that Caſe, That the Conuſee ſhould hold the Land during the life of the Tenant for life; becauſe in that Caſe, each of them only gave that which he might lawfully give, as it was adjudged in Engliſhes Caſe. But it was ſaid, That if Tenant for life, the Remainder to the King for life, the Remainder in Fee, make a Feoffment, it is a forfeiture; becauſe he hath made a Livery in Fee, although that thereby nothing paſſeth but his own Eſtate, Eſtate, for that the Remainder to the King, cannot be thereby deveſted: But if Tenant for life be, the Remainder in Tail, the Remainder in Tail, Tenant for life, and he in the firſt Remainder make a Feoffment; in that caſe, it is no diſcontinuance; for that there every one gives that which he may lawfully give; and although that he in the firſt Remainder dyeth without Iſſue, yet the Feoffee ſhall hold the Land during the life of the Tenant for life; and if the Feoffment be by word, then it is the ſurrender of Tenant for life; and the Feoffment of him in the Remainder, ut res magis valeat quam pereat. Cook 1. Part, 77. in Bredons Caſe.

4. A. Tenant for life, the Remainder to B. and another, the Remainder to C. and his Heirs; C. levyed a Fine to A. and B. to the uſe of A. for his life, and after to the uſe of B. in Fee: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That by the death of A. the Joynture betwixt B. and the others was ſevered, and that B. was Tenant in common with them; And in that Caſe this difference was taken; That if a man makes an Eſtate to three, and the Heirs of one of them, one of them in this Caſe hath Fee-ſimple, and yet the Joynture continues, for it is all one Eſtate created at one time, and therefore the Fee-ſimple cannot drown the Joynture, which takes effect with the Creation of the Remainder in Fee: But when three Joynt-Tenants are for life, and one of them purchaſeth the Fee, or the Fee diſcends to him, the Fee-ſimple doth drown the Eſtate for life, for the Eſtate was in eſſe before. Cook 3. Part, 60. Weſtcotts Caſe. Note alſo, that in that Caſe it was Reſolved, That Tenant in Tail may grant over his Remainder; for that an Eſtate Tail cannot be extinct by the acceſſion of a greater Eſtate: But when an Eſtate is made to three, and the heirs of one of them, he who hath the Fee, cannot grant over his Remainder, and continue in himſelf an Eſtate for his own life: And if a Reverſion be granted to the Tenant for life, and to another in Fee, the Reverſion is extinct for a moyty; for that Tenant for life cannot acquire the Reverſion, or the Remainder of the ſame Land, but the Eſtate for life ſhall be drowned. Ibid.

5. A Leaſe was made to A. and his Aſſignes; Habendum, to him during his life, and the lives of B. and C. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That it was a good limitation, and that the Leſſee had but one Eſtate, which had this Limitation, during his life, and the lives of two others; and that he had but one Freehold, and therefore there could not be any drowning of Eſtate in the caſe; but he had a Freehold to continue during the lives of three men, and the lives of the Survivor of them. Paſch. 37 Eliz. Cook 5. Part, 13. Roſſes Caſe.

6. A man poſſeſſed of a houſe in L. for 31 years, by his Will deviſed all the profits of it to B. during the time that ſhe ſhould continue ſole, and a Widdow; and afterwards he deviſed the Term to C. his ſon, and dyed: B. with the aſſent of the Executor, entred; he in the Reverſion, by Deed Bargained and ſold the ſaid houſe to B. in Fee; and covenanted with him, That the ſaid houſe, at the time of the aſſurance, ſhould be diſcharged of former Bargains; and bound himſelf in an Obligation to perform the Covenants. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Executory Deviſe was good. 2. That although the entire Fee was not in B. quaſi &c. ſo as by the purchaſe of the Fee-ſimple the Intereſt of B. was extinct, yet the ſame ſhould not defeat the Executory Deviſe. 3. That C. could not grant his Intereſt over, as long as B. remained ſole. 4. Reſolved, That becauſe that C. had but a poſſibility, yet the Covenant did extend unto it, and to that purpoſe had eſſence. Trin. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Huntington and Rudyods Caſe, Vouch. in Cook 10. Part, in Lamplits Caſe.

7. A. ſeized of the Mannor of D. in Fee, Covenanted to ſtand ſeized thereof to the uſe of himſelf, and B. who he intended to marry, for the term of their lives; without Impeachment of Waſte: and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of their firſt Iſſue male, and to the heirs males of ſuch Iſſue; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the heirs males of the body of the ſaid A. and B; with divers Remainders: they inter-marry, and have Iſſue D. Afterwards A. dyeth, without any Iſſue of the body of the ſaid B. but only D; B. enters, a Beam falls down by force of the wind; B. takes the Timber, and converts it to her own uſe, and dies. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That until Iſſue, A. and B. were ſeized of an Eſtate Tail, exempted ſub modo, until the birth of the Iſſue male, and then they became Tenants for life, the Remainder to their Iſſue male in Tail, the Reverſion to the heirs males of A. and B. for the Eſtate for their lives was not abſolutely drowned, until they had Iſſue male. 2. Reſolved in this Caſe, That B. had the priviledge of a Tenant in Tail, after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, in reſpect of the Inheritance which was once in her, and that by reaſon of this priviledge, the property of the Trees were in her, by vertue of the Houſe, without impeachment of Waſte. Cook 11. Part, 80. Lewis Bowlers Caſe.

8. A. ſeized of Lands in Fee, deviſed the Land to the Father for life, and after to the next heirs male of the Father; the father having Iſſue a ſon at the time the Deviſor dyed; the father made a Feoffment with Warranty, the ſon entred, and after, ter, the father dyed. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Father had but an Eſtate for life, and that his ſon being his next heir male, could not enter for the forfeiture. 2. Reſolved, That the Remainder limitted to the right heir male of the father, was good, although he could not have heir male during his life; but it is ſufficient if the Remainder veſt, eo inſtante as the particular Eſtate determines. 3. Reſolved, That by the Feoffment of the Tenant for life, the Remainder was deſtroyed; for if the particular Eſtate be determined, either in fact, or in Law, before the Contingency happen, the Remainder is void; but if the Tenant for life be diſſeized, and dyeth, the Remainder is good; for that the particular Eſtate doth remain in right, and might be revеſted. Cook 1. Part 66. Archers Caſe.

9. Grandfather, father, and ſon; The Grandfather held the Manor of D. of B. as of his Manor of S. by Knights Service, and levyed a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to the uſe of the father in Tail, and after to the uſe of the right heirs of the Grandfather; the father dyed, his ſon within age: B. the Lord, ſuffered a Recovery of his Manor of S. to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife in Tail, the Remainder to the uſe of C. and his Wife in Tail, the Remainder to the uſe of the right heirs of D; B. and his Wife dyed without Iſſue, C. entred, the Grandfather dyed, his Wife dyed, the ſon entred, and made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent; C. re-entred, the Leſſee brought Ejectione firmæ. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Grandfather had an Eſtate in Fee, expectant upon the Eſtate Tail, as a Reverſion, and not as a Remainder. 2. That C. ſhould not have the Wardſhip of the Land, becauſe a Reverſion in Fee is expectant upon it, and the Reverſion is immediately holden of the Land, and not of the Eſtate Tail. Cook 2. Part, 91. Binghams Caſe.

10. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, levyed a Fine, to the uſe of his Wife for life, the Remainder in tail, the Remainder to the right heirs of the Conuſor; Tenant in Tail dyed without Iſſue, the Conuſor in the life of Tenant for life, made a Leaſe for a thouſand years, and dyed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, that the Leaſe was good, for the Conuſor had it as a Reverſion. 30 Eliz. Milford and Fenwicks Caſe. Ibid.

11. A man ſeized of three Acres, made a Leaſe of one of them to A. for life, and of the other to the uſe of B. for life; and of the third, to the uſe of C. in Tail; and afterwards by Deed Indented, covenanted with his brother, that after all the Eſtates ended and determined, that he and his heirs would ſtand ſeized of the ſaid three Acres, to the uſe of his ſaid brother in Tail. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That preſently by the death of B. one of the Tenants for life, the brother ſhould have the Acre of B. and ſhould not ſtay until all the Eſtates were ended; for by the Covenant, the Eſtate in the ſeveral Acres veſted preſently in the brother. See 32 Eliz. in the Court of Wards, Pollard and Alcocks Caſe. Vouch. in Cook 5. Part, 8. in Juſtice Windhams Caſe.

12. The King Lord, Two Tenants in common Meſnes, and Tenement; one of the Meſnes made a Feoffment of the moyty of the Menalty, unto the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his ſon in Tail, the Remainder to his right Heirs: The Tenant made a Feoffment of the Tenancy to the ſon; and after, the ſon by colluſion betwixt him and the father, enfeoffed the father and his heirs, to the intent to defraud the other Meſne of the Wardſhip, and dyed, his heir within age; the other Meſne ſeized the Ward, and after, the father, Tenant for life, dyed. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the King ſhould not have the Ward, but that the other Meſne ſhould have it in reſpect of the Colluſion; for his Title was conſummated by the death of the Tenant who made the Feoffment, but ſo was not the Kings Title, until the father, who was the Tenant for life of the Menalty, was dead, and the King had but a poſſibility. 2. Reſolved, That by the Feoffment of the Tenant, the Meanalty was extinct; becauſe the Feoffee had the Reverſion of the Meanalty, and the Reverſion being extinct, no particular Eſtate for life, or in Tail of the Meanalty could ſtand, as to him. 3. Reſolved in this Caſe, That although the Meſne had not means to recover the Ward, before a Writ of Ward brought, yet the Title of Ward, although it were a thing in Action, ſhould not be deveſted by the death of another Anceſtor. Cook 9. Part, 119. Quicks Caſe.

4. Where an Eſtate limitted by Name of a Remainder, ſhall be conſtrued and taken for a Reverſion: Where a Grant of a Feeſimple by name of a Reverſion or Remainder, ſhall not be good, et è contra. Where the Kings Grant by name of a Reverſion, ſhall be good. And where the Reverſion of the King ſhall paſs by another Name, as Land, &c.

1. NOte, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if the King be Tenant in tail of Land, the Reverſion expectant to him in Fee; and the King recites his Eſtate, and grants the Land in tail; that in ſuch Caſe, the Grant is void; for although that the King recites his Eſtate, and be apprized of it, yet the Eſtate which he intended to Grant, did not ſtand with his Eſtate, for neither his Eſtate tail in poſſeſſion, nor his Eſtate in Reverſion would enable him to make a Grant of an Eſtate tail in poſſeſſion; and therefore becauſe the Grant cannot take effect according to the intent of the King, the Grant ſhall be void: and a violent conſtruction ſhall not be made in the Kings Grants. And therefore in the Principal Caſe of Alton woods. It was holden, That the Grant of the King made to Walſh, was void, and not good. 1. Becauſe the King intended to Grant an Eſtate of Inheritance, and not for Term of life. 2 He intended to Grant one entire Eſtate, and not two ſeveral Eſtates. 3. He intended to Grant an Eſtate tail in poſſeſſion, and not part in poſſeſſion, and part in Reverſion. 4. The King intended to Grant ſuch an Eſtate in the Mannor, ſo as the King might have the Ward or Primer Seiſin of the Land in poſſeſſion, and that he could not have if Walſh had it but for the life of the King; and therefore it was holden, That the King was deceived in his Grant. Cook 1. Part, 52, 53. Alton Woods Caſe.

2. A. Tenant in tail, the Remainder to B. in tail, B. by Deed Indented and Inrolled, both Bargain and ſell his Remainder to J. S. for the life of A. Tenant in tail. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Grant was void, becauſe it could ever take effect in poſſeſſion, nor the Grantee could never have benefit thereof; and a difference was taken of ſuch a Grant of a Reverſion, and the ſaid Grant of Remainder, for the Grant of the Reverſion during the life of Tenant in tail, is good, becauſe he ſhall have the Services which the Tenant in tail ought to do during the life of the Tenant in tail, but ſuch a Grant of a Remainder can never to any purpoſe take effect, and therefore the ſame is void. Cook 2. Part, 51. in Sir Hugh Chamleyes Caſe.

3. Land was deviſed to Husband and Wife, and after their deceaſe, to their Children, they then having Iſſue a Son and a Daughter. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Husband and Wife had an Eſtate but for their lives, the Remainder to their Children for life, and no Eſtate tail. And if by the Common Law ſuch a Conveyance had bin made, the Husband and Wife ſhould have had an Eſtate but for their lives, the Remainder to their Children for their lives. And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That if A. deviſeth Lands to B. and to his Iſſues or Children, and he hath not any Iſſue at the time of the Deviſe, that the ſame is an Eſtate in tail, for that the intent of the Deviſor is manifeſt and certain, for they cannot take as immediate Deviſees, becauſe they are not in rerum natura, and by way of Remainder they cannot take, becauſe it was not the intent of the Deviſor; and therefore thoſe words ſhall be taken by way of limitation, and ſhall be an Eſtate in tail. Cook 6. Part, 15. Wilds Caſe.

4. Tenant in tail, the Remainder in tail, the Reverſion to the right Heirs of Tenant in tail. Tenant in tail by Deed enrolled, bargained and ſold the Land to J. S. and his Heirs; and afterwards levyed a Fine with Proclamations to the Bargainee with Warranty; the Conuſee made a Feoffment in Fee, he in the Remainder had Iſſue, and dyed. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved. 1. That by the Bargain and Sale, the Bargainee had an Eſtate of Inheritance diſcendable to his Heirs determinable upon the death of Tenant in tail, and had the Reverſion expectant upon the Remainder in tail, and that the Wife of ſuch Bargainee ſhould be endowed. 2. Reſolved, That the Fine levyed by the Bargainee, did not make any Diſcontinuance, becauſe the ſame did not touch nor diſplace the Remainder, and no Eſtate of Freehold paſſed by the Fine, but the Fine with the Proclamation did corroborate the Eſtate of the Bargainee, for his Eſtate was determinable upon the death of Tenant in tail, and now it is not determinable without death, without Iſſue. But if the Fine had bin levyed before the Bargain and Sale enrolled, it had bin a Diſcontinuance. Note in the principal Caſe, The Remainder by the Feoffment of the Conuſee was not diſplaced, and put to a right, For the Conuſee had a Feeſimple determinable upon the death of Tenant in tail without Iſſue, and when he made a Feoffment, his determinable Fee in poſſeſſion, and his abſolute Fee expectant upon the Eſtate tail in Remainder paſſed, and did not deveſt the Remainder for the Feoffment in it ſelf, was not tortious, nor could be tortious to another. And when he who had the Fee determinable, made a Feoffment, he who had a Fee, gave a Fee, and did not do wrong to his Heirs, and ſo there was no wrong done to him in the Remainder. Cook 10. Part, 96. Edward Seymour's Caſe.

on

5. Note, It was Reſolved by the Court in Bozouns Caſe (amongſt other points), That when the King by the Common Law cannot make a Grant, there a Non obſtante of the Common Law, will not againſt the reaſon of the Common Law make the Grant good; but when the King may lawfully make the Grant, but the Law doth require that he be inſtructed that he be not deceived, there a Non obſtante ſupplying it, ſtands with reaſon of the Common Law, and ſhall make the Grant good. When the King maketh a Leaſe for life or years, he hath the Reverſion in him, which he may lawfully Grant; but the Law requires that he be not deceived in his Eſtate, ſcil. to Grant the poſſeſſion of Land where he hath but a Reverſion; And therefore when he Granteth the Land, notwithſtanding it be in Leaſe for life or years, of Recoverors, or otherwiſe. Or if he Grant the Land, and further Grants the Reverſion dependant or expectant upon any Eſtate for life or years, in both theſe Caſes, the Grant is good. 2. When the words of the Grant be not ſufficient ex vi termini to paſs the thing Granted, there any Non obſtante cannot make the Grant good. But in Caſe of a Grant of Land which is in Leaſe for life or years; there, by the Grant of the Lands, the words are ſufficient ex vi termini to make the Reverſion to paſs, but the Law requireth, That the King be not deceived in the thing which he Granteth, and that is ſupplyed by the Non obſtante. Cook 4. Part, 35. in Bozouns Caſe.

5. Remainder of a Chattell; where good; Where not.

1. A Termor deviſed his Term to his eldeſt Daughter, and to her Iſſues, the Remainder to his youngeſt Daughter; the eldeſt dyed without Iſſue, and her Husband alliened the Term; It was the Opinion of Baldwin and Shelley; that the youngeſt Daughter was without remedy, becauſe it was a void Remainder of a Term; as it is of a Chattel perſonal; but Englefield contrary, becauſe of his intent. See 37 H. 6. 30. 7 E. 6. br. 178. acc.

2. Leſſee for years deviſed his whole Term to A. Proviſo, That if he dyed, living J. S. that then the reſidue ſhould remain to J. S. A. Alliened, and dyed. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That J. S. was without remedy. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 75. See Plow. Comm. 190. acc. 2 E. 6. Tit. Deviſe, 13. acc.

3. A Leaſe was made for 41 years to W. C. ſi tam diu vixerit et ſi obierit infra dictum terminum, That E. the Wife of the ſaid W. C. ſhould have the reſidue of the years. It was the Opinion of Dyer and Catlyn, That the Term was determined by the death of W. C. for then there was no Remainder of the Term, and therefore the limitation was void. 8 Eliz. Dyer, 253.

4. A Leaſe was made to two for Term of years, with a Proviſo in the end of the Deed, That if the ſaid Leſſees dyed within the Term, that the Term ſhould ceaſe. The Leſſees make Partition, or one of them allieneth his part and dyeth. It was holden, That the Leſſor could not enter into his part who was dead, but that the Grantee, or the Executors of the Leſſee (if he made no allienation) ſhould have his part during the life of the ſurviver, and that there ſhould be no Occupancy in ſuch Caſe. And it was ſaid, That it was not like where a Leaſe is made to two for the Term of their lives, and they make Partition, and one dyeth; that there his part ſhall revert to the Leſſor. See Mich. 3 E. 6. Dyer, 67.

5. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Lord Grant his Seignory to the Tenant of the Land for life, the Remainder over in Fee; It was ſaid in that Caſe, That the Remainder was void, becauſe no Formedon could be maintained by him in the the Remainder, without alledging of Explees in the particular Tenant. And ſo it is of Seignory Granted in Fee to the Tenant of the Land, and a ſtranger, they are not Joynt-Tenants, but the one moyety is extinct. See Hillar. 4 Mar. Dyer, 140.

6. J. S. Parſon of a Rectory, Demiſed the ſame to E. for 80 years, if ſhe ſhould ſo long live, and if ſhe dyed infra prædict. Terminum 80 annorum, or alienes, that her Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and then it ſhould remain to R. pro et durante reſiduo prædict. Termini 80 annorum, if he ſhould ſo long live, and if he ſhould dye ut ſupra, &c. that then his Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and that then it ſhould remain to W. pro tot annis prædict. Termini 80 annorum ſi, &c. and if he alienes, ut ſupra, that then his Eſtate ſhould ceaſe; and then the ſaid J. S. conceſſit premiſſa durant. tot annis quot remanerent, et ultimo continuarent inexpirat. to T. executoribus et aſſignis ſuis. J. S. dyed, T. dyed, E. and R. dyed. The Adminiſtrator of T. entred, and aſſigned the Term over. In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That the Demiſe to R. and W. were void, becauſe that the Eſtate which E. had, was not for 80 years abſolutely, but ſub modo, and then the Demiſe to them pro tot annis quot remanerent poſt mortem dict. E. pro et durante reſiduo Termini prædict. 80 annorum was void; for there could not be a reſiduo of the ſaid Term, becauſe the ſame determined by the death of E. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Leaſe and limitation to T. was void for the incertainty; for it was incertain at the making of the Leaſe, how many years ſhould be behind at the death of E. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 90 years in conſideration of Marriage demiſed the Land to his Son for 70 years, to begin after his death, adjudged a good Leaſe; and the difference is, where the Demiſe is of the Land, and where of the Term. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Lacroſts Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 153. The Rector of Cheddingtons Caſe.

7. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for divers years, deviſed the preſits thereof to one for life, and after his deceaſe, to another for the reſidue of the years, and dyed; the firſt Deviſee entred by the aſſent of the Executor; and afterwards he in the Remainder during the life of the firſt Deviſee, aſſigned it to another, and afterwards the firſt Deviſee dyed. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Aſſignment was void, for he in the Remainder had but a poſſibility during the life of the firſt Deviſee, for it is as much in Law as if the Land had bin Deviſed to him for ſo many years as he ſhould live, or for all the Term if he ſhould live ſo long, ſo as the Intereſt of the Term was ſub modo in him, and the other in the Remainder had but a poſſibility, which he could not Grant over, as it was adjudged in C. B. Cook 4. Part, 66. in Fulwoods Caſe.

8. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 40 years, Deviſed the ſame to J. S. after the death of his Wife, and that the Wife ſhould enjoy the ſame during her life, and that J. S. ſhould not Deviſe nor ſell it, but ſhould leave the ſame wholly to his Son. And in the mean time my Will is, That my Wife ſhall have the uſe thereof during her life, yielding to the ſaid J. S. during his life, 7 l. at two Feaſts, and made his Wife his Executrix and dyed, the Wife entred, and paid the 7 l. yearly according to the Will; and ſaid, That if ſhe dyed, J. S. ſhould have the ſaid Term, and after dyed. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved. 1. That J. S. took not any thing by way of Remainder, but by way of Executory Deviſe; And a man may Deviſe ſuch an Eſtate by his Will, which he cannot do by Act executed, or by Conveyance in his life time; and the Caſe is no more but this, That the Teſtator Deviſed, That if his Wife dyed within the Term, that J. S. ſhould have the reſidue of the Term; and further Deviſed the ſame to his Wife for life. 2. Reſolved, That the Deviſe was good, becauſe it was but of a Chattel, which might veſt and deveſt at the pleaſure of the Deviſor, without prejudice to any. 3. Reſolved, That there is no difference when one Deviſeth his Term for life, the Remainder over; and when a man Deviſeth the Land, or his Leaſe, or the uſe or Occupation, or Preſits of his Land: for in Wills, the intent of the Deviſor is to be obſerved, and the Law ſhall make conſtruction of the words to ſatisfy the intent; and the intent of the Deviſor expreſſed in his Will, is the beſt Expoſitor of the words: And therefore, If a man Deviſeth his Leaſe for life, the ſame is as much as to ſay, That he ſhall have ſo many of the Heirs as he ſhall live, and although the ſame be incertain at the beginning, yet when he dyeth, by matter ex poſt facto, it is made certain. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, Matthew Mannings Caſe, 95, 96. See Cook 10. Part, 47, and 52. Lampitts Caſe, &c.

9. Note, It was Reſolved, That when a man limits an Eſtate by Indenture to the uſe of himſelf for life, with power to make Leaſes for life or years, or to ſuch perſons as he ſhall name by his laſt Will, of any Eſtate or Eſtates, the Remainder to A. in tail, with divers Remainders over, That thoſe Remainders are upon a Contingent, and do not veſt in them preſently by the Statute of 27 H. 8. untill the contingency falleth, becauſe it is in doubt, Whether the Eſtates in futuro ſhall ever veſt. Cook 8. Part, 86. Lew. Lowries Caſe.

10. Note alſo, That it was holden by Cook nd winch Juſtices, but not Reſolved by the whole Court, That if a man Deviſeth in this manner, and by theſe words, viz. I Give, Grant, Will, and Bequeath to T. all my Manners, Lands, &c. To have and to hold, to T. and the Heirs of his body, for and during the Term of 500 years, that the ſame is but an Eſtate for years determinable upon limitation for want of Iſſue. But it was agreed, That if a man hath a Term, and deviſeth the ſame to one and the Heirs of his body, his Heir ſhall not have it, but his Executors, becauſe a Term is but a Chattel which cannot be entailed. See 28 Eliz. Peacocks Caſe. And Mich. 21 Eliz. Higgins and Mills Caſe, vouched in Cook 10. Part, 87. acc.

11. A. ſeiſed of certain houſes in Fee 24 H. 8. deviſed them to T. P. for 99 years, who by his Will deviſed the ſaid Leaſe in theſe words, viz. I deviſe my Leaſe to my Wife during her life, and after her death, I will it go to her Children unpreferred, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; his Wife entred, and was poſſeſſed by reaſon of the gift and Legacy: and afterwards married with J. S. And afterwards 3 Maii, J. D. did recover againſt J. S. 140 l. and by Fieri facias directed to the Sheriffs of London, the ſaid Term was ſold to N. L. and after the Judgment againſt J. S. was reverſed by Writ of Error, et quod ad omnia quæ amiſit ratione judicii pradict. reſtituator. And afterwards the Wife, the Executrix, dyed; and E. the Daughter being only unpreferred, entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff. In this Caſe (amongſt other points) it was Reſolved, That the ſaid Executory deviſe of the Leaſe after the death of the Wife to the Daughter unpreferred, was good. And in that Caſe, it was agreed, That there is no difference, when the Term or Leaſe, or houſes, and when the uſe and Occupation is deviſed, for that in all theſe Caſes, the Executory Deviſe is good. Paſc. 26 El. z. in B. R. Amner and Loddingtons Caſe. Godbolt, 26.

12. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was; A. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe of Lands for 160 years; and by his Will deviſeth, That his brother C. ſhould have the uſe and Occupation thereof, and ſhould take the profits thereof during his life, and after his death, the uſe and Occupation thereof ſhould remain to the Wife of C. during her Widdowhood; and after her Widdowhood, the uſe and profits to remain to the eldeſt Son of C. which he ſhould happen to have during his life; and after ſuch Son dying without Heir Male, to any other Sons, which the ſaid C. ſhould happen to have: And if C. dye without Heir Male of his body, that the uſe and profits ſhall remain to S. S. in the ſame manner as before: And made the ſaid C. and S. S. his Executors, and dyed. The Queſtion was, Whether this Deviſe of a Term in this manner be good to go in Remainder. And if ſuch Remainders, the one after the other of the Deviſe of a Leaſe, may be good. All the Court inclined to be of Opinion, That the Deviſe of a Term in this manner to make a perpetuity, cannot be good. For to limit a poſſibility after a poſſibility, and to limit the Remainder of a Term after a dying without Iſſue, ſtands not with the Rules of Law. But the Court would adviſe of the Caſe. Trin. 5 Car. in B. R. Sanders and Caraſhes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 166, 167.

13. Leaſſee for 60 years, deviſeth in this manner, I give my Wife and my Couſin, my Term for their lives, and after to ſuch perſons as ſhall remain in my houſe at N. at the time of my deceaſe. The Wife overlives the Couſin, and aſſigns the Term to another. The Couſin and Heir of the Deviſor enters. The Queſtion was, Whether this Remainder of a Term were good, or not. The Court was divided in Opinion, For Cook and Walmeſly Juſtices held, That it was not, becauſe it was but a poſſibility, and there cannot be any Remainder thereof. And no Councel can Deviſe how ſuch a Remainder by any Act can be executed and Deviſed. But Warburton and Daniel Juſtices held the contrary; Wherefore the Caſe was adjourned. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Mullet and Satkfords Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 198.

14. In an Ejectione firme upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Caſe was, W. H. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 76 years, lett it to one B. from the day of his death, untill the firſt of May 1629. (which was three Moneths before the end of the Leaſe) if D. his Wife lived ſo long. Afterwards he Deviſed, That W. his Son and his Aſſigns ſhould have the Tenements, and the Reverſion of them, and all his Intereſt in the ſaid Tenements for all others of the ſaid 76 years which ſhould be unexpired at the time of his Wives death; Provided, That if W. dyed without Iſſue living at the time of his death, That T. his Son ſhould have it for all the reſidue of the ſaid 76 years unexpired, from the death of his ſaid Wife, and of W. without Iſſue. And if he dyed without Iſſue, then to his Daughters; and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed. The Wife aſſented to the Legacies, W. aſſigned all this Leaſe and his Intereſt to the ſaid D. who aſſigned it to C. D. dyed, and then W. dyed without Iſſue. T. the Deviſee entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff; the Defendant claimed under C. the Aſſignee of D. In this Caſe it was adjudged for the Defendant; and it was Reſolved. 1. That Leſſee for years letting it after his death untill the 1. of May, 1629. it was a good Leaſe which began immediately after his death. 2. That the Leaſe being being made to begin after his death, unto the 1. of May, 1629. (the Leaſe being made 12. Aug. 1553.) if Dorothy his Wife ſhould ſo long live, he did not thereby convey the Intereſt and the Remainder of the Term, viz. from the 1. of May 1629. unto 12. Aug. 1629. which Intereſt and poſſibility together he might Deviſe to W. his Son. The main Queſtion was, If this Deviſe being to W. and his Aſſigns, with a Proviſo, That if he dyed without Iſſue living, That T. ſhould have it, and he Alliens it, and after dyes without Iſſue, Whether this Alienation ſhould bind T. or that he ſhould avoid it. And it was Reſolved, That this Alienation ſhould bind him: For when he limitted to him and his Aſſigns, all the Eſtate was veſted in him, and he had an abſolute power to diſpoſe thereof; for the Law doth not expect his dying without Iſſue, and therefore the difference is, where a Leaſe is deviſed to one if he live ſo long, and afterwards to another, the firſt hath but a qualified Eſtate, but when it is limitted to him and his Aſſigns, then the Proviſo thereunto added, is void to reſtreyn the Alienation. Upon this Judgment, a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber. But the Judgment was there affirmed. See Lib. Hill. 15 Jac. in B.R. Child and Bayliss Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 459, 460, 461, 462.

6. Where, and by what act or acts of the particular Tenant, or by the Act or means of a ſtranger, a Remainder ſhall be taken away, defeated, and deſtroyed; and where and by what act not. And where and by what Act the Reverſion or Remainder of the King ſhall be deveſted and Diſcontinued.

1. A Termor deviſed his Term to one for his life; the Remainder to another, and made the Deviſee his Executor by the ſaid Will, and dyed; the Deviſee proved the Will, and entred, and made his Executor, and dyed, the Executor entred, and took the profits for a year, againſt whom he in the Remainder brought an Accompt as Bailiff, &c. And by the Opinion of the Juſtices of the Common Pleas; the Action did not lye, for three cauſes. 1. For want of privity, and becauſe he was never in poſſeſſion of the Land, nor took any profits of it. Alſo becauſe the Remainder is void, for the Deviſee firſt entred as Executor, which was his colour and firſt cauſe of coming to the Land, and had not declared by any act, that his intent was to execute the Deviſe; but if there had bin any Co-Executor, and he had not ſuffered him to joyn in the Occupation of the Term with him, that had bin a full Declaration, that his intent was, that he took the ſame as Deviſee; but there it ſhall be intended, that he took it as Executor. But three of the Juſtices held and agreed, That the Remainder of a Term deviſed to one for life, is good by Deviſe, but not by Eſtate Executed. Trin. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 277.

2. A Leſſee of a Houſe and Land for 60 years, by Will deviſed, That J. his Wife, ſhould have and enjoy the Tenements, &c. for ſo many years as ſhe ſhould happen to live; and after her deceaſe, he deviſed the reſidue of the years to F. his ſon, and his Aſſignes, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, having goods ſufficient to pay Debts and Legacies, above the ſaid Leaſe; the Wife proved the Will, and Entred, and Occupied the Tenements during her life; and after, ſhe took F. to Husband; F. dyed Inteſtate, H. and his Wife by Deed, granted all their Intereſt and Term to two men, who gave the ſame back again to the Husband and Wife; after, Adminiſtration of the Goods and Chattels were committed to W. the Wife dyed; W. the Adminiſtrator, entred; upon whom the ſervant of H. entred. In this Caſe it was adjudged, That the Deviſe to J. the Wife was good, and to F. the ſon alſo, and the Entry of the Wife, with the claim of the Land as a Legacy, was an Execution for both their Eſtates, and the Intereſt of the Wife was not a collateral Occupation, but is of the ſame thing which is limitted to the ſon; and the limitation to the ſon was not a poſſibility, but a Deviſe of the Land it ſelf; and ſo it was adjudged, That the Adminiſtrator of the ſon, ſhould have the Land after the death of the Wife; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 20 Eliz. Walsden and Elkington's Caſe. Plowd. Com. 516. to 525.

3. An Allien born, purchaſed Lands in Tail, the Remainder to a Stranger in Fee, the Allien ſuffered a Common Recovery to his own uſe in Fee; all this was after found by Office. It was moved to the Court, if the Remainder ſhould be to him who had it before, or no? It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Queen ſhould have the Land in Fee, for there was a good Tenant to the Precipe, and then the Remainder is gone. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesbr. 102.

4. A. Tenant in Tail, the Remainder to B. in Tail; B. grants a Rent-charge, A. ſuffers a Common Recovery, and dyes without Iſſue, the Grantee diſtreins for the Rent, the Allienee brings Replevin: It was adjudged for the Allienee, for that a Common Recovery againſt Tenant in Tail, ſhall binde not only the Remainder, and all Leaſes, charges, &c. granted or made by him in the Remainder, but alſo the Reverſions, and all Leaſes and Charges, granted or made by him in the Reverſion. Cook 1. Part, 62. Caſtells Caſe. See Cook 1. Part, 67. Bredons Caſe. Cook 1. Part, 120. Chudleighs Caſe, acc. Cook 2. Part, 52. in Sir Hugh Chomleys Caſe, acc.

5. Lands were given to Husband and Wife, and to the heirs of the body of the husband, the Remainder in Tail, the Reverſion to the heirs of the Husband. The Husband levyed a Fine to A. and B. and their Heirs, a Recovery is had againſt the Conuſees, with Voucher, who vouch the husband only, and execution is had accordingly in the life of the Wife, which Recovery was to the uſe of the Husband, for life, and after, to the uſe of the Wife for life, and after, to the heirs of the Husband: The Husband deviſed the Lands to J. S. and after, dyed without Iſſue. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That this Common Recovery ſhould binde the Remainder in Tail; becauſe the Husband came in as Vouchee, and came in in privity of the Eſtate Tail, and is a lawful Tenant to the Precipe, and cannot be ſaid joyntly ſeized with his Wife, becauſe ſhe was not Vouched. But if the Husband and Wife had had a Joynt Eſtate to them, and the heirs of their bodies, with a Remainder over, and the Husband alone had been vouched, in that caſe it might be doubted if the Eſtate Tail ſhould be barred; becauſe the Wife had a joynt Eſtate of Inheritance with him. Cook 3. Part, 5. Copledicks Caſe.

6. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, having Iſſue a ſon by one woman, and a ſon and a daughter by another woman, Deviſed his Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his younger ſon in Tail, the Reverſion to his right heirs; a Common Recovery is had againſt Tenant for life, in which he in the Remainder in Tail is vouched, and that was to the uſe of him in the Remainder in Tail, and his heirs, who dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved, 1. That a Common Recovery had againſt Tenant for life, upon a true Warranty and Recovery in value, ſhould binde him in the Remainder; becauſe that the particular Eſtate, and the Remainder, are but one Eſtate; and the Warranty and Recompence ſhall extend to both Eſtates: But a Common Recovery againſt Tenant for life only, is a forfeiture of his Eſtate. 2. That no Act or Statute hath been made, to preſerve the Reverſion or Remainder upon an Eſtate Tail; becauſe by intendment, an Eſtate Tail hath continuance for ever, and Tenant in Tail hath power to bar him in the Remainder or Reverſion; and he in the Reverſion upon an Eſtate Tail, ſhall not be received upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 3. for the Statute doth not extend unto it. 3. Reſolved, That the Statute of 14 Eliz. of Feigned Recoveries, doth not extend to preſerve any Reverſion or Remainder expectant upon an Eſtate Tail, where Tenant for life is impleaded, and Tenant in Tail is vouched, for where Tenant in Tail is privie to the Recovery, it cannot be ſaid that the ſame is by Colluſion. Cook 10. Part, 43. 44. Jennings Caſe.

7. Note, That a Recovery by Aſſent without Title, ſhall not deveſt a Reverſion or Remainder out of the King; becauſe the ſame being ſuffered by aſſent of the Parties without Title, is but a Conveyance. 25. E. 3. 48. Cook 1. Part, 16. in Sir Will. Pelhams Caſe.

8. Note; & vid. That it was Reſolved in Cook 2 Part, in Sir Hugh Chomleys Caſe, That a Common Recovery did bar the Eſtate tail, and the Eſtate of him in the Remainder, although that the Remainder was in the Queen; becauſe that the Eſtate tail was not within the Statute of 34. H. 8. of the gift of the King, or any of his Anceſtors. In that Caſe it was agreed, If the Remainder ſhould be deveſted out of the King without a Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit; and thereupon, this difference was taken, viz. That where an Eſtate ſhall be deveſted out of a Common perſon, and veſted in another, without Action, Entry, or Claim, that the ſame ſhall be deveſted out of the King without Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit; but when in ſuch caſe, in the caſe of a common perſon, an Eſtate ſhall not be deveſted out of him, there it ſhall not be deveſted out of the King, without Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit: And therefore in this Caſe, 49 E. 3. Iſabel Goodcheaps Caſe, where a man deviſed a houſe in London, deviſable by the Cuſtome, and holden by the King in tail, and if the Donee dyed, without Iſſue, that the Land ſhould be ſold by his Executors; the Deviſee dyed without Iſſue, now the Land eſcheated to the King, yet the Bargain and Sale of the Executors, did deveſt the Eſtate out of the King, without Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit. But Note, That that was for neceſſity, becauſe the Vendee was in paramount the Eſchear; and therefore that Caſe was agreed to the Law, becauſe that there they had but a power to ſell, and could not have a Petition, nor Monſtrans de Droit, Cook 2. Part, in Sir Hugh Chomleys Caſe.

More Remainder, and Reverſion.

1. A Man gave Lands to J. S. Habendum, to him, and to three others for their lives, & diutius eorum v' venti ſucceſſivè; The Queſtion was, What Eſtate J. S. had. It was ſaid, That he had an Eſtate but for his own life, becauſe he cannot have an Eſtate for his own life, and the life of another, where the Intereſt commenceth both in preſent; and the word ſucceſſivè, doth not make a Remainder: And it was ſaid, That a Leaſe to one for life, Habendum to him, & primogenito filio ſuo, was in Remainder primogenito filio; and ſo a Leaſe for years, Habendum, to him and to another, was no Remainder. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Windſmore and Halbards Caſe. Godbolt, 51, 52.

2. A Leaſe was made to J. S. for Deed, Habendum to him, his Wife, and his Daughter ſucceſſivè, ſicut ſcribuntur & nominantur in Ordine; J. S. dyed, and then his Wife dyed: And if it was a good Eſtate in Remainder to the daughter, was the Queſtion: And in this Caſe, theſe three points were made. 1. That they did not take preſently. 2. That they could not take by way of Remainder. 3. That they could not take as Occupants, becauſe that the intent of the Leſſor was, It was ſaid that they did not, by reaſon of the Incertainty: But the Court ſaid, That this differs from Windſmores Caſe, and Reſolved, That the Daughter had a good Eſtate in Remainder; and ſaid, That the ſame did not differ from the Caſe in Dyer; where a Leaſe was made by Indenture to one, Habendum to him and others, ſucceſſivè, ſicut nominantur in Charta; for that thoſe words, ſicut nominantur in Charta, makes that Eſtate certain enough; and ſo they ſaid, That in the Principal Caſe, ſicut ſcribuntur & nominantur in Ordine, is certain enough, and ſhall be taken to be ſicut ſcribuntur & nominantur in eadem Charta. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Hill and Grabbams Caſe. Godbolt, 220.

3. Note, It was holden by Popham Chief Juſtice, That where a Leaſe was made to Husband and Wife for their lives, the Remainder to the heirs of the Survivor, that the ſame was a good Remainder, notwithſtanding the Incertainty; and that in that Caſe, the Husband after the death of the Wife, ſhould have Judgment to recover the Land, 40 Eliz. in B. R. by Popham. See Godbolt 139.

4. J. K. Copyholder in Fee, deviſed it to his Wife for life, the Remainder to W. his ſon in Fee, and made a ſurrender to that uſe; the Wife was admitted generally, and, If this were an Admittance of him in the Remainder, was the Queſtion. It was ſaid, it was not; becauſe in that Caſe, W. cannot ſurrender before Admittance, as he might do in Caſe of a Deſcent, but not where he comes in by purchaſe: But on the other ſide it was ſaid, (and to which the Court enclined) to the contrary; for the Remainder veſted when the particular Eſtate veſted, or elſe it ſhall never veſt, but it ſhall not be void; Ergo, It is executed when the particular Eſtate is executed; and the admittance of the particular Tenant, is the admittance of him in the Remainder, but not to prejudice the Lord of his Fine; See 7 R. 2. Scire facias 3. where Tenant for life ſueth execution, it is in execution for him in the Remainder: And where one deviſeth for Life, the Remainder in Tail, an ex gravi Querela was ſued: It was ſaid, That this ſhall hold as well for Tenant in Remainder, as for Tenant for life. Fitz. Nat. Br. 201. and ſee Plo. Com. in Wrotteſleys Caſe, That an Aſſent to the Deviſee for life, is an Execution of the Deviſe to him in the Remainder. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. 5. A. ſeized of Lands in Fee, having Iſſue two ſons, B. his eldeſt, and C. a younger ſon, made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, without impeachment of Waſte, and after, to the uſe of C. for life, the Remainder after his deceaſe, to the uſe of the firſt ſon of C. which ſhould have Iſſue male of his body, and to his heirs for ever; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the firſt daughter of the ſaid C. which ſhould have Iſſue of her body, and to her heirs for ever; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the Remainder to the right Heirs of C. for ever: A. dyed, B. being his ſon and heir; B. had Iſſue G. and dyed; C. entred after the death of A. his father, H. the ſon of C. dyed without Iſſue; C. after the death of H. his ſon, levyed a Fine of the Lands; the ſon of B. entred upon the Conuſees. It was holden in this Caſe, That this Remainder to the younger ſon, who ſhould have Iſſue, is but a contingent Remainder, and the Remainder to the right Heirs veſted in C. the ſon, and that the levying of the fine was no cauſe of forfeiture, and that the Heir of B. might not take advantage of ſuch forfeiture. Paſch. 7 Car. in B. R. Bowton and Nicholls Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 265.

6. The Caſe was, a man ſeized of Lands in Fee, levyed a Fine thereof to the uſe of his Wife for life, the Remainder to the uſe of his eldeſt ſon, and the heirs males of his body, the Remainder to the right heirs of the Conuſee; the Conuſee made Leaſe for a thouſand years to B. the eldeſt ſon dyeth without Iſſue male, having Iſſue a daughter, the Conſtor dyeth, the Wife after dyeth, the eldeſt ſon enters, and leaſeth the Lands to the Plaintiff. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That it was a Reverſion, and no Remainder, and this Limitation to his right Heirs, was meerly void. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Fenwick and Mitfords Caſe. Leon. 182.

7. The Caſe was; Grandfather, Father and Son; the Grandfather ſeiſed of an houſe in J, deviſed the ſame to his eldeſt ſon for life, the remainder to A. ſon of his eldeſt ſon, and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to the right heirs of the Deviſor, and to the heirs males of his body; The Father and Son dyed without Iſſue male, the Son having Iſſue a daughter, who entred, and aſſured the Land to J.S; and Covenanted, That ſhe was ſeiſed of a ſure Eſtate in Fee ſimple. It was ſaid, That the Daughter ſhould take the laſt Remainder as right Heir at the time it ought to be executed, and to the Heirs males of her body, ſo as ſhe had but an Eſtate tail, and ſo the Covenant was broken. But it was anſwered, (and ſo it was the Opinion of the Court) That at the time the Deviſe took effect, the Father was right Heir, ſo as the remainder veſted in him immediately, and ſhould not expect, untill the Father and Son dye without Heir male of the Son, for the Father is a perſon able to take to that upon the death of the Deviſor, the Father is Tenant for life, the remainder to the ſon, and the heirs males of his body, the remainder to the Father, ut ſupra, the Reverſion to the Father in Fee, and the Daughter hath the ſame Reverſion in Fee by diſcent, after the entail is ſpent. Trin. 31 Eliz. in B.R. Leon. 188.

8. A, and E. his Wife, ſeiſed of Lands in the right of the wife in Fee, by Indenture demiſed the ſame to B. and C. his Wife, and D. their daughter, Habendum to them ut ſupra dictum eſt, et eorum diutius vivanti ſucceſſive, from Mich. following for the Term of their Lives, rendring yearly during their Lives ut ſupra dictum eſt, 13 s. 5 d. at two Feaſts, and a Heriot after the death of every of them. After Mich. A. and his wife made Livery to B. and D his daughter; A. dyed; E. his wife accepted the Rent of B; B. dyed ſeiſed, C. his wife entred, and dyed ſeiſed: D. entred; E. entred upon her, and let the Land to the Defendant: D. took a husband, they entred, and let the Land to the Plaintiff: In this Caſe, one Point was, In regard the Indenture is made between A. and his wife on the one part, and B. on the other part; and the Demiſe is made to B. and C. his wife, and D. their daughter, ut ſupra dictum eſt, C. and D. being no parties to the Indenture; If it was a good Leaſe to C. and D by way of Remainder, the one after the other, or not? It was Reſolved, That as to this Point, they ſhould take by way of Remainder, the one after the other, as if the Clauſe had been in the Deed, ſicut Nominantur in Charta: for if they ſhould not ſo take, the Deed ſhould be void, which the Law will not permit, if by any Conſtruction it can be made good; and the Limitation ut ſupra dictum eſt, that he intended the other ſhould pay the Rent, and Heriot. Wherefore it was adjudged, That this Leaſe was good by way of Remainder, and that therefore the Plaintiff ſhould recover. Errour was brought upon the Judgment in the Exchequer Chamber; and afterwards the matter was ended by Compoſition, Trin. 17 Jac. in B.R. Gruenwood and Tybers Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 563, 564.

9. In Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of 3. Houſes in N, having 3. ſons, B, C, and D, deviſed one of his Houſes called the Starr, to B. and his Heirs for ever, and he to enter at his age of 22. years: Another of the Houſes he deviſed to C. his Son, and his Heirs for ever, and he to enter at his age of 22. years. The third Houſe he deviſed to D. and his Heirs, and he to enter at his age of 22. years; Provided, That if all my ſaid Children dye without Iſſue of their bodies, That then all my ſaid Houſes ſhall remain to M. my Wife, and her Heirs for ever. B. and C. dyt without Iſſue; D. had Iſſue a daughter, married to J. S. the Leſſor; M. entred into the Houſe deviſed to C: J. S. entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff: the Queſtion was, Whether by the death of C. without Iſſue, there be a Croſſe Remainder by Implication given to D, and the Heirs of his body? Or whether M. ſhall have it preſently by the death of C. without Iſſue. It was Objected, That M. the Wife ſhould not have any thing, till all his ſons were dead without Iſſue: for the words are, If all his ſons dye without Iſſue, that then his wife ſhall have all his Houſes. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That M. the Wife ſhould have it immediately after their ſeverall deaths, as they dyed without Iſſue, and that there is not here any croſſe Remainders of any of thoſe Houſes from the one ſon to the other, becauſe being a Deviſe to them ſeverally by an expreſs Limitation, there ſhall not be any greater Eſtate to them by Implication: and although the Eſtate be limited at the firſt to them and their Heirs, yet it is abbreviated and made an Eſtate ſeveral in them ſo their ſeveral Houſes, but none of them hath a Remainder in the Houſes of the other. Trin. 19 Jac. in B.R. in Gilbert and Witty's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 655, 656.

10. A. B. ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage, having Iſſue 3. Daughters, E, F, and K. deviſed the ſame to his wife for life; and after her decreaſe, that his Executors ſhould receive the profits thereof, untill till the full ſum of 900 l. was received for the preferment of his daughters in Marriage; and after the 900 l. levied, the ſaid Meſſuage ſhould remain to his right heirs males for ever: and if his heirs males ſhould diſturb his Executors in receiving the profits, that then their Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and the Lands ſhould be divided amongſt the Daughters then living, and dyed; one W. B. was found his Heir male; his wife entred, and dyed; E. his eldeſt daughter after his deceaſe, married Aſhenhurſt, and had Iſſue, and Curtis the Plaintiff by a Leaſe made by W. B. the Heir male, brought an Ejectione Firmæ againſt Aſhenhurſt; in which all the ſpeciall matter above was found: And in this caſe, it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Curtis and Aſhenhurſts Caſe, Hob. 34. See for the reaſon of this Caſe, Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cuaden and Clarks Caſe, Lib. 1. tit. Deviſes Hob. 30. 31. 32, 33. fol 648. Sect. 35.

11. In an Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was, M. S. ſeiſed in Fee, makes a Feoffment to the uſe of her ſelf for life, without Impeachment of Waſte, and after to the uſe of the Feoffees for 80 years, if N. S. and E. his Wife ſhould ſo long live; and if the ſaid E. ſurvive N. her husband, then to the uſe of the ſaid E. for life, without impeachment of Waſte, and after the deceaſe of the ſaid E. to the uſe of P. S. ſon of the ſaid N. and E. in Tail; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of J. N. and D. S. and F. S. and to the heirs of their bodies, the Remainder to the right heirs of M. S. the Feoffor; and there was a Clauſe in the Indenture, That the intent of the Eſtate for years to the Feoffees was, that the ſaid E. S. might have the profits, and not N. her husband, who was a prodigal: M. S. dyes, D. dyes without Iſſue, the Feoffees enter; E. S. dyes, N. yet alive, and P. S. dyes without Iſſue; J. N. and his Wife, and F. S. entred, and were poſſeſſed: The only Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether the Remainder in Tail to P. S. and the Remainder in Tail to E. and F. were contingent, or executed. It was Reſolved by all the Court, That the Remainders were not contingent in the Eſtate for life, which was to come to E. S. the Wife of the ſaid N. S. but were veſted preſently. 2. It was Reſolved, That all the uſes limited to the perſons not in eſſe, were contingent; but the uſes to the perſons in eſſe veſted preſently, and yet theſe contingent uſes when they happen, veſt by Interpoſition, if the firſt Eſtate for life, which ought to ſupport them, be not diſturbed. Hill. 7. Jac. in B. R. Rot. 1148 Napper and Saunders Caſe. Hutton, 118, 119.

12. B. made a Feoffment in Fee, to the uſe of himſelf, for life, and after to the uſe of ſuch Iſſue or Iſſues of the body of M. from eldeſt to eldeſt, as were reputed to be begotten by the ſaid B. whether he be lawful or unlawful: In this Caſe, it was agreed by all the Juſtices but Popham, That it was a good Remainder limited to a Baſtard, for a ſon in reputation ſuffices to make him a Purchaſor, as it was holden, 14 Eliz. Dyer, 313. And although in 22 Eliz. Dyer, it is holden, That a man cannot by way of Covenant, raiſe an Uſe to his Baſtard, yet by way of Limitation of an uſe upon a Feoffment, it is otherwiſe: And although Litt. ſayes, That a Baſtard is nullius filius; yet without queſtion he had a Mother, and ſo ſhall be termed in Law the Iſſue of his Mother. If A. hath Iſſue three ſons, and the eldeſt is a Baſtard, and a Remainder is limitted to the eldeſt Iſſue of A. In that Caſe, the ſecond ſon who is Mulier, ſhall take the Remainder; for that in general words, the Conſtruction ſhall be in digniori ſenſu; but if the words be ſpecial, as in the Principal Caſe, it is otherwiſe; for that Modus & Conventio vincunt Legem. Mich. 31 Eliz. Bladwill and Edwards Caſe. Noy 35.

13. Upon a ſpecial Verdict returned upon an Extent; the Caſe was, There was Tenant for life, the Remainder in tail; he in the Remainder in tail made a Statute ſtaple, and afterwards granted away his Remainder, and after, the Tenant for life dyed, and the Grantee of the Remainder entred, and whether execution of this Land ſhall be ſued upon the Statute, was the Queſtion, for as much as the ſaid Land never was in Demeſne in the hands of the Conuſor: Egerton Lord Keeper ſaid, That before that time, there had been a difference taken between a Remainder, and a Reverſion depending upon an Eſtate for life; for to a Remainder are no ſervices due or incident, and for that cauſe it is termed Seck; but a Reverſion hath Services incident, and thoſe may be extended, and by conſequence, the Reverſion, when it cometh in poſſeſſion; But he ſaid, It was all one, for one may charge a Remainder when it happens, as well as a Reverſion. It was ſaid by others, That there was no Queſtion in this Caſe; for although there was ſome ſcruple made of it in 33 H. 6. yet the Caſe is without Queſtion; for if he in the Remainder makes a Leaſe for years, to begin at a day to come, yet if he grant over the Remainder, the Grantee ſhall hold that charged with the Leaſe. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Goldesbr, 119.

14. In Ejectione firmæ, upon a ſpecial Verdict, the Caſe was, M. Kellway ſeized of the Lands, made his Will in this manner; For the good Will I bear to the name of the Kellwayes, and the deſire my Lands may remain in the name of the Kellwayes, I give unto the heirs males of my body, all my my Lands whatſoever; and for default of ſuch Iſſue, my Will is, to entail all my Lands to my Nephew H. K. and the heirs males of his body, and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to F. K. and the heirs males of his body, and ſo to W, C, and R. Kellway, and the heirs of their reſpective bodies; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to the right heirs of the ſaid M. Kellway, until ſuch time as the ſaid Hen. Kellway, or any Iſſue male of his body ſhall effectually aſſent, conclude, do, or go about to do any act or acts, to alter, diſcontinue, or change this Eſtate, &c. and the &c. the ſame to go to T. Kellway, and the heirs males of his body, and ſo to the reſt, under the ſame Limitations and Proviſoes (verbatim) as before. M. K. dyed without Iſſue, H. K. entred, and had Iſſue R. and after, T. K. dyed, having Iſſue S. R. and S. levyed a Fine of the Lands; the Queſtion in the Caſe were, 1. Whether there were any other immediate Deviſe to them, then one after the other, by the firſt part of the Will. 2. Whether by the ſecond part of the Will it is but a Contingent to T. if H. do go about to alien: All the Juſtices conceived, That it was an immediate Deviſe by the firſt part, and not only contingent. 3. Queſtion was, Whether this kinde of perpetuity be allowable; and whether it was a Limitation annexed to the Eſtate of H. which abſolutely determined his Eſtate by his Aſſent to levie a Fine; ſo as the fine levyed after, ſhould be a diſcontinuance. It was Reſolved by all the Court, That it is a perpetuity, Ergo, condemned, and repugnant to the Law, and not allowable; for he may not determine an Eſtate tail by ſuch Limitation, nor can he give Title to another to enter, who is a ſtranger; for by the Fine there is a diſcontinuance of the Remainder, and a deveſting thereof, ſo as he cannot Enter: Alſo the Court held, That theſe were ambiguous words, to make the Limitation of an Inheritance by the determination thereof, and therefore void, and repugnant to the Law. Hill. 17 Jac. in P. R. Fey and Hinds Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 697, 698. See Cook 6. Part, 40. Sir Anthony Mildmays Caſe. Cook 10. Part, 26. Mary Purkingtons Caſe acc.

Remitter.

Remitter; What it is: Where, and in what Caſe, and againſt what acts, the party ſhall be ſaid to be in his Remitter; and in what not: And other matters concerning Remitters.

1. REmitter is, when a man hath two Titles to Lands, Tenements, &c. and he cometh to the Land by the laſt Title; yet he ſhall be adjudged to be in the Lands or Tenements, by force of his ancient or elder elder Title; and that ſhall be ſaid to be to him a Remitter. As if Tenant in tail diſcontinueth the Eſtate tail, by making a Feoffment of the Land; and afterwards he entreth, and diſſeiſeth the Diſcontinuee of the ſame Lands, and then dyeth ſeiſed of the ſaid Lands, and the Lands deſcend to his Iſſue, or to the other Heir in tail, who is inheritable to the ſame Land by force of the entail; in ſuch caſe he is in his Remitter, and ſhall be ſeiſed by force of the firſt entail; and the title of the Diſcontinuee ſhall thereby be utterly defeated and annulled: And the Reaſon thereof is, For that ſuch an Heir is Tenant of the Land, and there is no perſon againſt whom he may ſue his Writ of Formedon for to recover the Eſtate tail; for he cannot have an Act on againſt himſelf. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 346, 347. acc.

2. If Tenant in tail doth enfeoffe his Son and Heir apparent in the tail, who is within age, and after Tenant in tail dyeth; this is a Remitter to the Heir: but if he was of full age at the time of the Feoffment, then he is not remitted; for that it was his folly, that he being of full age, would take ſuch a Feoffment.

3. If the Husband alieneth the Land of which he is ſeiſed in the right of his Wife, and afterwards the Husband taketh back an Eſtate in the ſame Lands to him and his wife, for the Term of their Lives, this is a Remitter to the woman; for that the alienation, ſhall be ſaid to be the act of the Husband, and not the act of the Wife; and no folly ſhall be adjudged in the Wife, during the life of her Husband. But yet if ſuch alienation be by Fine in a Court of Record, then the taking back of the Lands to the Husband and Wife for the Term of their Lives, ſhall be no Remitter to the Wife; because upon the levying of the Fine, the wife shall be examined by the Judge: and such examination of the Judge, of the woman, being in a Court of Record, shall bind the Wife for ever. And Note, That in each Case, when the Entry of one is lawful, and he or she taketh an Estate to him or her of the same Lands when they are of full age; If it be not by Deed Indented, or by matter of Record, which shall estopp him or her, in that case it shall be to him or her a good Remitter.

4. A Woman Tenant in general taile, had Issue a Daughter; and after she took another Husband, and by him had Issue another Daughter: Afterwards the Husband and Wife discontinued the Lands entailed, and took back an Estate in it to them, and to the Heirs of their two bodies begotten, and then they dyed, and the Land discended to the younger Daughter: It was adjudged in that case, That the eldest Daughter was not remitted: for although she had a right which discended unto her, yet no possession discended to her, and therefore she could not be remitted; and one cannot be remitted, where only there is a Title of Entry, 19 H. 6. 39. tit. Entry Congeable. 3. Br. title, Remitter, 12. See Plow. Com. 246. acc.

5. A man seised of Lands in the right of his Wife, before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uses, made a Feoffment thereof to his use, and declared his Will, That his Feoffees should stand seised to the use of his wife for the Term of her life, after the Statute of 27 H. 8. was made; which is, That Cestuy que use, shall be in possession of such estate as they had in the Use. It was a Question, If the woman was in her Remitter? It was said, That she should be remitted, because she came not to the Land by her own act, but by an act of Law, as if a Remainder had fallen upon her, and there was none against whom she could bring her Cui in vita. But the Opinion of the Justices was, That because of the Act of Parliament, to which every one is a party, she should be adjudged in of such Estate as she had by the Statute; which annexed the possession to the Use: and that was but an Estate for life, and therefore she should not be remitted, Mich. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 23.

6. If Tenant in tail after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uses, maketh a Feoffment to the use of his Issue being within age, and his Heirs, and dyeth, and the right discends to the Issue within age; in that case he is not remitted, because that the Statute executes the possession according to the Statute: But if the Issue in tail waiveth the possession, and bringeth a Formedon against the Feoffees, and recovers, he shall be recovered; and in such case, if no Formedon be brought, If the Issue dyeth, his Issue shall be remitted, because a Fee-simple discended to that Issue. Cook 1 Part, Institutes, 348.

7. Tenant in tail sustereth a Common Recovery with Voucher, and dyeth before execution had, and the Issue in tail entreth; the Recoveror may enter upon the Issue, and the Issue is not remitted, because of the recompence in value, Cook 1. Part, Sheffy's Case. Cook 10 Part, 38. in Portington's Case: And see Cook 3. Part, in the Marquesse of Winchesters Case, That if Tenant in tail sustereth a Common Recovery, and afterwards disseiseth the Recoveror, and dyeth, the Issue in tail is not remitted; for that the Estate tail was bound by the Judgment to have in value; although in truth no recompence can be had. See, If there be Tenant in tail, and a Stranger bringeth a Precipe quod reddat against him, and he voucheth to Warranty, and the Demandant by default of the Vouchee, or by the Confession of the Tenant, recovereth against the Tenant in tail, and recover in value against the Voucher, and before Execution, the Tenant in tail dyeth, and the Land discends to his Issue; yet in that case, the Demandant may enter or sue Execution against the Issue: for that in such case, the Issue shall not be remitted; nor shall he falsifie the Recovery, because he may have Assets. See Plow. Com. alt. in Marcells Case, Trin. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 35. acc.

8. Husband and Wife, Tenants in tail, had Issue two sons; the Husband dyed, the Wife made a Feoffment to divers persons to the use of the wife, without impeachment of Waste; and after her decease, to the use of the Heirs of her late husband, upon her body lawfully begotten; and for want of such Issue, the Remainder to J. S. in Fee. After the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uses made, The wife with her second husband, and the younger son levied a Fine sur Conusans de Droit come ceo, with Warranty of the Wife, and her Heirs to a Stranger, who rendred back the Land to the younger son for 61. years, and granted the Reversion and Rent to the wife by the same Fine, and to the heirs of her body, and of the body of he body lawfully begotten; the remainder to J. S; upon whom the eldest son of the wife by her first husband entred: the wife dyed, the younger son claymed the Rent: It was adjudged against the younger son, That he had no title to it: and the reason seemed to be, for that the eldest son by his Entry was remitted; or, at the least, by his Entry for the forfeiture, all other Estates were avoided, Hill. 2 Mar. Dyer, 111. Cowarn's Case.

9. In an Aſſiſe, the Caſe was, Tenant in generall Tail, before the Statute of 27 H. 8. enfeoffed divers perſons in Fee, to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of W. his Heir apparant, and the heirs males of his body begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the Remainder to the Plaintiff in the Aſſiſe in tail, with divers Remainders over, the remainder to the right Heirs of the Feoffor; the Feoffor dyed before the Statute was made; W. entred, and was ſeiſed, and had Iſſue a Daughter, and dyed without Iſſue male: The Queſtion was, If the Plaintiff in the Aſſiſe, Tenant in tail in remainder, might enter, or not? And that depended upon this, Whether W. who was inheritable to the old entail, and in remainder of the new entail, and was in poſſeſſion, was remitted, or not? It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That he was not remitted; and therefore the Plaintiff in the Aſſiſe being in the Remainder, had Judgment to recover the Land, Mich. 6 E. 6. Dyer, 77. Ryvers Caſe.

10. Tenant in genetal tail, having Iſſue two ſons, the eldeſt had Iſſue a Daughter, and dyed, his Wife of Child with a ſon; The Father ſuffered a Common Recovery to the uſe of himſelf for life; the Remainder to the Recoverors for 24. years; the remainder to the heirs males of his body: The Recovery was had, returnable Oct. Mich. viz. 9. October, upon that day in the morning; Tenant in tail dyed, and after, a Son was born; and, If the Uncle, or the Son new born, or the Daughter, ſhould have the Land, was the Queſtion? It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the Iſſue male of the body ſhould have it; for if it be by purchaſe becauſe of the mean Eſtate for years, the Uncle may not have it: For it behoves as well to be heir, as well as male, who ſhall take; and the Daughter of the eldeſt Son is Heir: but it ſeems it ſhall be to her by diſcent, till the ſon born. And all the Juſtices held, That the Recovery was well executed againſt the Iſſue in tail, becauſe of the recompence in value. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 374. Sir Coke 1. Part, Shelly's Caſe, acc.

11. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was; Sir John Mounſon had an Eſtate for years in Lands, the remainder to Tho. Mounſon, his ſon and Heir apparant in tail, with divers remainders over. Sir John the Leſſee for years, made a Feoffment to divers, and a Letter of Attorney to others, with Commiſſion to enter into the Lands, and to ſeal the Deed of Feoffment, and to deliver it in his name to the uſe of the ſaid Tho. and his Heirs, and another by a Commandment or Letter of Attorney of the ſaid Tho. entred in his name; In this Caſe, the Court was of Opinion, That it was a good Feoffment, notwithſtanding that both the Leſſee and the Attorney were diſſeiſors: for it is good between the Feoffer and the Feoffee: For they ſaid, By the Feoffment, to the uſe of him in the Remainder, and his Heirs, if he in the Remainder enter, that he is remitted, and the Eſtate for years is gone implicitively: And the Court ſaid, That in all Caſes where the Freehold cometh to the Term, there the Term is extinguiſhed: And therefore, If one Mortgageth his Reverſion unto the Leſſee for years, and after performs the Condition, yet the Leaſe for years is utterly extinguiſhed. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Mounſon and Wells Caſe, Goldſbr. 92, 93.

12. Dower by Sir John Shirley, and D. his Wife, late the Wife of Sir Henry Bowyer, againſt B. Wood, of Lands ex donatione of the ſaid Bowyer her late husband. The Defendant pleaded, That the ſaid Sir Hen. B. being ſeiſed of the Manor of W, did make a Feoffment thereof to the uſe of himſelf, and the ſaid D. his then wife, for the Term of their Lives, for the Joynture of the ſaid Wife, the Remainder to one B, and dyed. The Demandant Replyed, That before the ſaid Feoffment made, The ſaid Sir Hen. B. being ſeiſed of the ſaid Manor, did Covenant to ſtand ſeiſed thereof, to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the remainder to his ſaid Wife for the Term of life, the remainder to J. S. in tail; and afterwards made the Feoffment pront, and then dyed without Iſſue; and that ſhe entred, and was ſeiſed by force of a Remitter. Whereunto the Tenant rejoyned, That ſhe held her Dower, in claiming her Eſtate by the Feoffment in Joynture; and demanded Judgment, Whether againſt that Claim ſhe could be remitted? Upon which Plea, the Demandant Demurred. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Tenants Plea was inſufficient. For firſt, it was holden, That the Remitter to a Woman could not work, till her Husband was dead without Iſſue; becauſe till then, the poſſeſſion and right did not meet together in her. Alſo, It was holden, That becauſe both Eſtates were made unto her during Coverture, that therefore regularly upon the death of her Husband, ſhe might claim which Eſtate ſhe would. But Hobart, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That although that was true; yet in that Caſe, becauſe J. S. was in the Remainder by the firſt Conveyance, and not by the ſecond; therefore it would be a prejudice to him in the Remainder (which roſe with the firſt Eſtate) if the Law ſhould not adjudge her in her Remitter at the firſt Volens Nolens. And ſo he ſaid, It was adjudged, 41 E. 3. 17. in John S. yet Caſe: And he ſaid, That the Plea of Joynture was utterly avoided by the neceſſity of the Remitter, which was wrought by the Law. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 3803: Sir John Shirley and Woods Caſe, Hob. 71. See Cro. 2. Part, 488, 489, the ſame Caſe.

13. G. M. and A. his wife ſeiſed of Lands in Fee in the right of the Wife, 43 Eliz. levied a Fine thereof to the uſe of them, and the Heirs of their two bodies, the remainder to B. for life; the remainder to F. in tail, the remainder to A. in Fee; and they find, that they being in actuall poſſeſſion of the premiſſes; G. alone, 44 Eliz. levied another Fine of the ſame Lands, to the uſe of the ſaid G. and his wife in ſpecial tail as before, the remainder to G. himſelf in tail, the remainder to the ſaid G. and D. in Fee: They find, That G. and his Wife ſo ſeiſed, and in actual poſſeſſion: A. 14. Novemb. 44 Eliz. dyed, without Iſſue; and that J. N. is her Heir: G. continued his poſſeſſion: and 1. Feb. 45 Eliz. for money bargained and ſold the Lands to H. and S. and their Heirs: and they find, That afterwards 23 Febr. 45 Eliz. a Writ of Entry was brought againſt H. and S. being Tenants of the Freehold, upon which a Recovery was had, with Warranty: Which Recovery was to the uſe of G. and his heirs; and then they find, That G. and D. have of the Recoverors, made a Leaſe for 21. years to one L; which Leaſe came to W. the Defendant; and then G. dyed, and that then B. entred upon W. and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, upon whom the Defendant entred. In this Caſe, there were theſe Points, (amongſt other) 1. Whether the Wife be remitted upon the ſecond Fine to her firſt entail? And whether that Remitter extended to B. and the other old Remainders: And for that it was holden, That A. and G. her husband too, was remitted to the firſt entail; and that the ſaid Remitter did extend to them in the Remainders, as long as the Remitter ſtood. The ſecond Point was, Whether the Remitter failed, and when? And for that it was holden, That the Remitter failed as A. the Wife dyed; and that the old Remainders were turned into rights. The third Point, Since the Remitter ceaſed by the death of A. the Wife, and the Remainder of B. and others were put to a Right, how, they might Relieve themſelves after the death of G. the husband without Iſſue: For that payment it was holden, That the Land returned again into the Eſtate paſſed by the ſecond Fine, which continued during the life of G. the Husband, and was to continue as long as there was Iſſue, if there had been any; for till then, they in the Remainder had no title to demand the Land: But when G. the husband dyed without Iſſue, then came the Remainder to be demandable; and then B. in the Remainder did enter upon W; the Defendant claiming under the Husband, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff: which Leaſe, the Court held to be good, Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Dancomb and Wingfields Caſe, Hob. 255, 256, to 263.

14. In an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe upon a Special Verdict found, was; Land was given to a man and his Wife, and to the Heirs of the body of the Husband; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, the remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband: the Husband made a Feoffment in Fee with Warranty, and took back an Eſtate to him and his Wife for their Lives, the Remainder to A. and B. his two daughters, and to their Heirs: the Husband dyed, having Iſſue 4. Daughters; the Wife entred, and dyed: The Queſtion was, Whether by this Feoffment there was a Diſcontinuance wrought, or not; and then, Whether the Entry of the Wife, after the death of her Husband, ſhould ſo far operate, as to make a Remitter unto the Eſtate tail. And, 3. If there be no Diſcontinuance, but there be a Remitter; if the Warranty be gone: It was Objected ſtrongly, That by the Feoffment there was no Diſcontinuance wrought: For that here the Husband and Wife are Joynt-Tenants for life, with an Eſtate tail expectant; and none can diſcontinue the tail, if he were not ſeiſed of the tail; and here the husband was not ſeiſed of the tail at the time of the Feoffment: but the Husband and Wife were Joynt-Tenants for life, and ſo there was no Diſcontinuance by the Feoffment at the preſent: And then as to the Re-purchaſe of the Eſtate, Whether this ſhall make any Remitter? The Court was clear of Opinion, That here was a Diſcontinuance: and as to the Remitter, the Court held, That there could be no Remitter before an Entry. And although it was Objected ſtrongly, That he that made the Feoffment, was never out of poſſeſſion of the Land, and ſo this muſt be a Remitter: Yet the Court was of Opinion, That becauſe the husband and wife both did not enter, there could be no Remitter: But the Court held, That by the Livery, the husband was out of poſſeſſion. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Horewood and Holmans Caſe, Bulſtr. 2. Part, 29, 30, 31.

15. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of a Tenement in London, to them and the Heirs of the Husband, ſuffered a Recovery in a Writ of Right in London, which by the Cuſtome binds as a Fine at Common-Law, which was to the uſe of the Recoverors, untill they had made a Leaſe for 40. years, and after to the uſe of the Husband and Wife, and the Heirs of the Wife; the Leaſe was made, the Husband dyed: And if this Leaſe was determinable upon the Limitation of the uſe to the Recoverors, untill they had made the Leaſe; and by the Limitation of the Uſes, the Leaſe was deſtroyed; was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Leaſe was good, and not defeaſable by the Wife, who ſurvived her husband:

For her Ancient and former Right was gone by the Recovery, and then the Limitation of the Uſe after the Leaſe made, created a new Eſtate in the husband and Wife, and they claimed under the Recovery and Leaſe; and therefore it was adjudged, That they ought to hold the Land charged with the Leaſe, Trin. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 190.

16. Land was given to Husband and Wife in ſpecial tail, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband in Fee; they had Iſſue: the Husband alone levied a Fine with Proclamation to his own uſe; and after, the Husband by Will Deviſed the Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder over to a ſtranger in Fee, the Husband dyed, the Wife entred, claiming only an Eſtate for term of her life, and after dyed: and if the Iſſue in tail, or the Deviſee in the Remainder ſhould have the Land, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Iſſue in tail was barred; partly, becauſe his Mother had waived the Eſtate tail; and her Remitter: And ſecondly, by the Fine, which had barred his conveyance to the Land, and to the entail, Trin. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 351.

17. Tenant in tail before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, and a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf and his Heirs; and before the Act, he and his Feoffees made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, and dyed after the Statute, and the Land diſcended to his Iſſue, who before Entry by the Termor, levied a Fine to another. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Alience ſhould not avoid it, for although the Son was remitted, yet the Leaſe was not meerly void, without an actual Entry by the Iſſue. See Plow. Com. Smith and Stapleton's Caſe, 33 H. 8. Dyer, 51. acc.

18. A. Tenant in tail of the Mannor of D, took to husband R. T; who, 29 H 8. made a Feoffment to certain perſons, to the uſe of himſelf and his wife for their Lives, and the longeſt Heir of them; and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of J. T. their Son and Heir for life; and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of R. T, ſon and heir of the ſaid J. T. and K, and the Heirs males of the body of the ſaid R; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to divers other Uſes: By virtue of which Feoffment, it was found, That R. and A. were ſeiſed in tail in the right of A; ſcil. the ſaid A. in her Remitter; and that afterwards in the time of E. 6, they made a Leaſe of the Lands for 21. years, according to the Statute of 32 H. 8; which Leaſe came to the hands of T. T, Executor of the Leſſee: It was found, That J. was dead; and that R. had Iſſue Roger, and alſo dyed: A. dyed, Roger dyed; and found, that Roger the ſon of Roger was within age, and that the Lands were holden by Knight-Service. After a long Argument, it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Remainder to K. the Wife of J. T. was good: and that R. was not remitted, becauſe the Statute gave the poſſeſſion to them in ſuch frame as they had the uſe; And although the Office found, That A. was remitted, that was not material; for that the Jury was not to determine of the Remitter, which was a matter of Law, Mich. 1 & 2 Mar. Dyer, in the Court of Wards, Tonaſend and St. bills Caſe, Plow. Com. 111. to 115.

19. Leſſee for Life, made a Leaſe for 30 years; and after, the Leſſor and Leſſee for life made a Leaſe for 60 years unto another; which Leaſe for 60. years, the Leſſor firſt confirmed: and after, the Leſſor confirmed the Leaſe for 30 years; and after, the Tenant for life dyed within the 30 years: In this Caſe, It was holden, That the Leaſe for 30. years was determined by the death of the Tenant for life, and the Leſſee for 30. years might enter; for although that the Leaſe for 60. years was the later in time; yet was it of greater force in Law, becauſe the Leſſor who had power which of them he would, did firſt confirm the ſecond Leaſe. Temp. Eliz. Haswell and Lodgers Caſe, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 296. Which Caſe ſeems to be contrary to the Rules of Remitter; where the reaſon of Remitter is, That his primer eſtate, eſt le melior eſtate; and alſo againſt the Rule, Quod prius eſt tempore, potius eſt jure.

20. If a Feme Sole ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, taketh Husband; and the Husband alieneth the Lands in Fee; and the Alienee letts the Lands to the Husband and Wife for life, ſaving the Reverſion to the Leſſor and his Heirs: In this caſe, the Wife is remitted, and is ſeiſed of the Lands in her Demeſne as of Fee, becauſe the taking back of the Eſtate, ſhall be adjudged in Law the Act of the Husband, and not of the Wife, ſo as no folly can be adjudged in the Wife, who was Covert at the making of the Leaſe. And in that caſe, the Leſſee hath nothing in the Reverſion, by reaſon of the Remitter of the Wife: And if the Leſſor in ſuch caſe ſhould bring Waſte againſt the Husband, for Waſte done by him; although the Husband cannot barr the Leſſor, by ſhewing the Remitter of the Wife: yet in ſuch caſe, If the Husband at the Grand diſtreſs make default, and the Wife be received, ſhe may ſhew the Whole matter, how that ſhe is in her Remitter, and ſo barr the Leſſor of his Action or Waſte. See Litt. 666. Cook 1 Part, Inſtitutes, 351. acc.

21. Lands are given to Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of their two bodies, afterwards the Husband allieneth the Lands in Fee, and taketh back an Eſtate to himſelf for life: In this Caſe, the

Husband

Husband ſhall not be remitted againſt his own Act, viz. his Alienation: But if he take back an Eſtate to himſelf and his Wife for their lives, although they be but one perſon in Law, and there be no moyties betwixt them, yet becauſe the Wife cannot be remitted in this caſe without her husband, unleſs the husband be remitted alſo: In that Caſe, in Judgment of Law, both Husband and Wife ſhall be remitted againſt the Husbands one Alienation. Cook 1. Part Inſtitutes, 354.

22. If Lands be given to Husband and Wife in Tail, or in Fee, and the Husband dyeth, the Wife cannot deveſt the Freehold out of her by any verball waiver or diſagreement, as if before Entry made by her, ſhe ſaith, ſhe waiveth, and diſagreeth to ſuch Eſtate, and will never take or accept thereof; yet the Freehold doth ſtill remain in her, and ſhe may enter when ſhe pleaſeth; and therefore if ſhe entreth into the Lands, and taketh the profits, although ſhe ſaith nothing, ſhe is in her Remitter to the Eſtate, if ſhe be ouſted of it. Cook 3. Part, 26. in Butler and Bakers Caſe.

23. In Dower, the Caſe was, That Lands were given to the Father for life, the Reverſion to his ſon and heir for life; the father and the ſon joyned in a Feoffment to the Uncle in Fee, ſcil. to the brother of the Father; the Uncle took a Wife, the father dyed, the ſon being his heir in tail, the Uncle dyed without Iſſue, ſo as the Land deſcended to the ſon, as heir to the Uncle, againſt whom the Wife of the Uncle brought Dower. It was moved, If the ſon being heir in tail to his father, and heir alſo to his Uncle for the Fee diſcended, ſhould be remitted, for then no Dower accrueth to the Wife of the Uncle, for that the Eſtate of which ſhe demandeth Dower, is gone: But if the Livery in which the ſon joyned with his father, be the Livery of the ſon, the Livery in his, was an impediment to the Remitter, ſo as during his life, he ſhall be adjudged ſeized of the Lands in Fee by diſcent from the Uncle, and then Dower lyeth, for that the ſame Eſtate is Intereſted, of which the Wife demandeth Dower: The Court doubted of the Caſe, and if it was the Livery of the ſon or not; wherefore it was adjourned to be adviſed upon. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Partridge and Partridges Caſe. Leon. 37.

24. In Ejectione firmæ, the Caſe was: A. and B. his Wife being joyntly ſeized by purchaſe, during the Coverture for their lives, the Remainder to W. their ſon in Tail, the Remainder to the right heirs of A; A. by Deed, with a Letter of Attorney, enfeoffed the ſaid W. and his Wife, and the heirs of the body of the ſaid W. the Remainder to the right heirs of A. with Warranty againſt all men, and after levies a Fine to two ſtrangers of the ſame Land, to them and their heirs, with Warranty againſt all perſons, and they render back the Land to him for a week, the Remainder to the ſaid W. and his Wife, and to the heirs of the body of W. the Remainder to the right heirs of A; A. dyes, B. his Wife enters, and dyes; W. the eldeſt ſon enters, W. and his Wife re-enters: In this Caſe, the Queſtion was, Whether this Warranty made by A. upon the Feoffment, being a Collateral Warranty, and deſcending upon W. the eldeſt ſon, were totally avoided by the entry of B; and alſo, if the Remitter to the Wife B. be a Remitter to W. in the Remainder, and ſo the Warranty diſcharged: It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That it was ſo; for the Warranty being diſcended and attached before the entry of B. the Wife, although ſhe was not bound by the Warranty, yet he in the Remainder being bound, that eſtops the Remitter, as to him. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Kendall and Foxes Caſe. Cro. 1 Part, 103.

25. Tenant in Tail made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf in Fee, and afterwards he deviſed the ſame Land to his Wife in Fee, and dyed: In this Caſe it was holden, That the ſon was not Remitted, although that the Father dyed ſeized; for that the Deviſee took away the Diſcent. See 5 Eliz. Dyer, 221. Biſhops Caſe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. Pl. 624. acc See 4 Mar. Br. Deviſe 52. Pl. 482.

26. The youngeſt brother diſſeiſeth the eldeſt brother, who was barred in an Aſſize by falſe oath; the youngeſt brother charged the Land, and dyed without Iſſue, and the Land diſcended to the eldeſt. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That he was without remedy to avoid the charge; becauſe he ſhall not be remitted againſt the Record, and there was not any againſt whom he might bring an Attaint. Mich. 25 H. 8. Dyer 5.

27. It is taken for a Rule in Law, That a man ſhall not be remitted to a Right remedileſs, for which he can have no Action, for Litt. ſaith, That the Principal cauſe of a Remitter, is, when the Iſſue hath no perſon but himſelf againſt whom he may bring his Action; by which it appeareth, that he hath juſt cauſe of Action; for neither an Action without a Right, nor a Right without an Action, can make a Remitter: As if Tenant in Tail ſuffer a common Recovery, in which there is Error, and afterwards the Tenant in Tail diſſeiſeth the Recoveror, and dyeth; in that Caſe, the Iſſue hath an Action, viz. a Writ of Error; but yet ſo long as the Recovery remaineth in force, he hath no Right; and therefore in that Caſe, he cannot be remitted. So if B. purchaſeth an Advowſon, and ſuffereth an Uſurpation, and ſix moneths paſs, and the Uſurper granteth the Advowſon to B. and his heirs, and B. dyeth, his heir is not remitted, becauſe his right to the Advowſon was remedileſs. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 349.

28. Tenant in tail maketh a Feoffment in Fee with Warranty, and afterwards Diſſeiſeth the Diſcontinuee, and dyeth ſeiſed, leaving Aſſets to his Iſſue. In this Caſe, ſome hold, That in reſpect of this ſuſpended Warranty and Aſſets, that the Iſſue in tail ſhall not be remitted, but that the Diſcontinuee ſhall recover againſt the Iſſue in tail, and he ſhall take advantage of his Warranty if he hath any. See Cook 1. Part, in Shellyes Caſe, acc. And after in a Formedon brought by the Iſſue, the Diſcontinuee ſhall bar him in reſpect of the Warranty and Aſſets; and ſo every mans right is ſaved. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 390. acc.

29. If the Husband doth Diſcontinue the Lands of the Wife, and the Diſcontinuee doth Demiſe back again the ſame Land to the Wife for her life. In this Caſe, Whether the Husband agreeth, or doth diſagree to the Livery, yet it is a Remitter to the Wife; and the reaſon thereof is, for that the Law having once reſtored her ancient and better right, will not ſuffer the diſagreement of the Husband to deveſt it out of her, and ſo to revive the Diſcontinuance, becauſe Remitters tending to the advancement of ancient rights are much favoured in Law. And ſo if Lands be given to a man and his Heirs Females of his body, and he maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and taketh back an Eſtate to him and his Heirs, and dyeth, having iſſue a daughter, and leaveth his Wife great with child of a Son. In this Caſe, the Daughter is remitted; and although the Son be afterwards born, he ſhall not deveſt the Remitter. See 9 H. 7. Cook 1. Part, in Shellyes Caſe, acc. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 356. acc.

30. In a Monſtrans de droit, the Caſe was. In 17 E. 2. John de Malo lacu, gave to Peter de Malo lacu, and the Heirs of his body, the Caſtle and Manor of Mulgrave, which afterwards came to Sir Ralph Bigod. Sir Ralph 6 Hen. 8. made a Feoffment to W. and others, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and dyed. The right of the Lands, together with the entail, and the uſe diſcended to Sir Francis Bigod. 21 H. 8. Sir Francis made a Feoffment to J. S. and others, to the uſe of him and Katharine his Wife, and the Heirs of their two bodies, and had Iſſue Ralph Bigod, and Dorothy. 26 H. 8. the Statute of Forfeiture for Treaſon was made. 29 H. 8. Sir Francis was Attainted of Treaſon and Executed, and Katharine ſurvived him. 31 H. 8. a ſpecial act was made for his Attainder and forfeiture. 6 Eliz. Ralph Bigod Son of Sir Francis and Katharine were reſtored in bloud by Parliament, and dyed without Iſſue; Dorothy married Roger Ratcliff, and they had Iſſue Francis Ratcliff. 8 Eliz. Katharine dyed, Francis entred. 33 Eliz. all this was found by Office. 34 Eliz. Francis Ratcliff dyed, having Iſſue Roger Ratcliff. 34 Eliz. the Queen granted the Caſtle and Manor of Mulgrave to Edmund Earl of Sheffeild, and the Heirs Males of his body. Roger Ratcliff brought his Monſtrans de droit, and had Judgment. Whereupon Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber. There were many Queſtions in the Caſe, two were, Whether Francis Bigod who had an Eſtate in ſpecial tail, had alſo a right of the old entail in him at the time of his Attainder: Or whether it was in abeyance in reſpect of the Feoffment made by him 21 H 8. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Feoffment gives away all the Eſtate the Tenant in tail the Feoffor had concerning himſelf, or any benefit he might receive thereby, but as concerning his Iſſue inheritable to that entail, and to him in the Reverſion, and for their good, there remained ſtill in him a right of the ſaid entail by the Statute of Weſt. 2. for the good of thoſe that are ſaved by the Statute, but whether it were in the Feoffor himſelf ſleeping, till there be an Heir of the intail, or an Abeyance, was the Queſtion. 2. It was Reſolved, That this old right of the entail was forfeited to the Crown by the Statute of 26 H 8. for that there was an actual Eſtate tail in the perſon Attainted at the time of the Attainder. 3. It was Reſolved, That their Rights were bound by the expreſs words of the Statute, there being no ſaving therein for them. 4. It was much ſtood upon, if the Iſſue in tail was in this Caſe Remitted. But if there was a Remitter in the Caſe, It was Reſolved, That when the Office was found of all this ſpecial matter, that the Iſſue was barred notwithſtanding that there was a Remitter in the Caſe. And afterwards Judgment was given for the King and the Earl of Mulgrave the Lord Sheffeild. that the former Judgment given in the Caſe ſhould be reverſed: And it was reverſed accordingly. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber; the Lord Sheffeild's and Ratcliffs Caſe. Hob. 334. See Godbolt. 314. the ſame Caſe.

31. Note, Upon an Evidence given to the Jury, It was ſaid by the Court, That if Tenant in Tail, the Remainder in Fee, diſcontinueth the Land, and takes back an Eſtate in Fee, and afterwards deviſeth it to his Wife for life, the Remainder to B. for years, the Remainder in Fee to him who had the Remainder before, and then dyes without Iſſue, and the Wife enters, and dyes; that he in the Remainder may enter, for that he is remitted, and ſo he may enter upon the Deviſee for years, and avoid the Leaſe, although that his Remainder was created by the ſame Will. See 9 H. 6. 43. Remitter avoids a Leaſe for years without Entry. See 45 Eliz. in B. R. Rook and Spra's Caſe, Nº 48.

32. If the father enfeoffeth his ſon and heir apparent within age, and then dyeth, his heir may cauſe to be in either by diſcent, or by the Feoffment, 2 E. 1. Title Remitter, 13. But if the father and ſon purchaſe Lands joyntly for life, and to the heirs of the Father; although in that Caſe, that the Fee doth diſcend, yet becauſe the frank Tenement was in him in joynture with his father, in that caſe he was ouſted of his age; 5 E. 3. Age 61. 4 E. 3. Age 59. acc.

33. Tenant in Tail makes a Leaſe to his ſon for life, within age, and at full age releaſeth to him in Fee; In that Caſe it was holden, That he ſhould be remitted, becauſe the Freehold which was given within age, was the ſubſtance: Quære of it; becauſe it ſeems the Eſtate for life is extinct; and therefore, If the father Leaſeth the Land to the ſon for life, and after the Reverſion diſcends to him, Quære in that Caſe, If he ſhall be remitted? If Tenant in Tail doth diſcontinue the Eſtate tail, and the Diſcontinuee doth enfeoff the heir at full age; It was conceived that he was not remitted, for that folly ſhall be adjudged in him, although he had the preſent right during the life of his father; and ſo it ſeems, If the ſon during the life of his father taketh the Diſcontinuee to wife: But if the Diſſeiſor of Tenant in Tail enfeoffeth the heir of full age, now he is remitted, becauſe his Entry was lawful. See 21 E. 4. 47. 40 E. 3. 43. acc.

34. If Tenant in Tail makes a Feoffment, and takes back an Eſtate in Fee, and then allieneth upon condition, and dyeth, his ſon and heir within age, enters for the Condition broken. It was the better Opinion in 8 H. 7. 7. That becauſe the ſon was within age, that he ſhould be remitted: But ſee 9 H. 7. 8. by Keble and Read, That if Tenant in Tail enfeoffeth his brother, and dyeth, and a Recovery is had by default againſt the Uncle, and he dyeth, the Iſſue in Tail brings Deſcent within age, as heir to the Uncle, and recovers, he ſhall not now be remitted, becauſe he ſhall be taken as heir of full age, and ſhall be concluded by the Recovery, which is matter of Record.

35. Note by Litt. 147. That if Tenant in tail enfeoffeth his Son in Fee, which Son inheritable to the tail, at the time of the Feoffment, is within age; and afterwards Tenant in tail dyeth, and he to whom the Feoffment is made is his Heir in tail, the ſame is a Remitter to the Heir in tail. For although that during the life of Tenant in tail, who made the Feoffment, ſuch an Heir ſhall be adjudged in by force of the Feoffment; yet after the death of the Tenant in tail, he ſhall be adjudged in by force of the tail. And although ſuch Heir was of full age at the time of the death of the Tenant in tail who made the Feoffment, the ſame is not material if he were within age at the time of the Feoffment; and if ſuch an Heir within age at the time of the Feoffment, entreth of full age, living Tenant in tail, and being of full age, he chargeth the Land with a Rent charge, and after Tenant in tail dyeth, the Land is diſcharged of the Rent, becauſe the Heir is remitted, and is in of another Eſtate in the Land, then he was at the time of the Rent charge granted. Litt. 147.

36. Grandfather, Father, and Son; the Father Diſſeiſed the Grandfather, and dyed ſeiſed, the Son endowed the Wife of the Father, and then the Grandfather dyed. It was conceived in that Caſe, That the ſon might put out the Tenant in Dower, becauſe he had a new Right deſcended to him from the Grandfather: and that the entry of the Son was lawfull upon the Tenant in Dower. But it was holden, That if the Son had charged the Land, and then the Grandfather had dyed, that the Son ſhould hold the Land charged, and ſhould not be remitted, becauſe the entry was not lawfull upon him, and when the right of the Grandfather diſcendeth, he ſhall not be remitted. But if there be Great Grandfather, Grandfather, Father, and Son, and the Grandfather diſſeiſeth the Great Grandfather and dyeth, and the Father dyeth, and the Son endows the Wife of the Father, and the Grandfather dyeth. It was holden, That in that Caſe, the Son could not ouſt the Tenant in Dower, for the Grandfather himſelf could not do it, and no more can his Heir. And it was ſaid, That if the Son Diſſeiſeth the Father, and chargeth the Land, and then the Father dyeth, that the Lands ſhould be charged for ever. But if the Son had bin firſt dead, there it had bin otherwiſe; for that the Son ſhall hold the Land diſcharged, becauſe he ſhall be remitted. Note, That the reaſon in the Principal why the Son ſhould put out the Tenant in Dower, was, becauſe that the Law did compell him to aſſign Dower; and then when he hath done a thing to which he is compelled by the Law. The clauſe of compulſion being removed, he ſhall avoid that which himſelf had done. As 9 H. 6. 23. A man hath Iſſue a Son and a Daughter by one Woman, and a Son by another Woman, and dyeth ſeiſed of Lands, the Son enters and dyeth ſeiſed, the Daughter enters as Heir to him. The other Siſter brought a Nuper obiit, and was found of the whole blood, for which Caſe ſhe recovered, and betwixt them partition was made voluntarily, yet ſhe ſhe brought a Writ of Error, and the partition was no Eſtoppel becauſe ſhe was compellable to it during the Recovery in force; and ſo it was in the Principal Caſe. But the Grants of Rents by the Son, is her voluntary Act, which himſelf ſhall not avoid, notwithſtanding the new right came after to him. 19 H. 6. 23. acc.

37. A man Diſſeiſes the Kings Tenant, and afterward the Diſſeiſor is Attainted of Felony, and before Office the Diſſeiſee entreth upon the Land (as he well may). It was holden in that Caſe, That the Diſſeiſee was remitted. Afterwards Office was found for the King. In that Caſe, it is agreed in the book on both ſides, That the Remitter is defeated, and that thereby the poſſeſſion and Land is given to the King as it was in the perſon Attainted, and that the Right remains to the Diſſeiſee to be purſued and recovered againſt the King ſo as every man hath his due, and there is no wrong either to the King, or to the Subject, for the Kings Title was by the Attainder, and not by the Office, which did but find the Title, and not give it, and the Diſſeiſees due was the right which remained in him notwithſtanding the Diſſeiſin, and the Attainder, and the Office; And in that Caſe it was ſaid, That the Diſſeiſor might forfeit the Land, for it was his, but the right was not his, but the Diſſeiſees. 3 E. 4. 25. The Earl of Northumberlands Caſe.

Rents.

1. What it is, the ſeveral Natures of it; as Rent-Service, Rent-charge, and Rent-Seck. And where Rents reſerved out of Lands ſhall enſue the Nature of the Land out of which they go; Where not. And of other matters concerning Rents.

1. RE*dditus*, Rent, dicitur à Reddendo, and reddere inde, nihil aliud eſt quàm acceptum reſtituere; and reddendo inde is as much to ſay, as that the Leſſee ſhall pay ſo much, and profits to be raiſed out of the Lands at ſuch a day, which Rent is not due, untill the profits are taken by the Leſſee; and that is the reaſon that the Rent is not due before the day of payment incurred, becauſe it is to be rendred and reſtored of the iſſues and profits; and that is the cauſe that if the Land be evicted, or the Leaſe be determined before the legal time of payment, no Rent ſhall be paid, for it ſhall never be apportioned in reſpect of part of time, as it ſhall be upon the Eviction of part of the Land. Cook 10. Par. 128. in Clunns Caſe.

2. If a Rent be Granted out of the Manor of D. and the Grantor grant over, that if the Rent be behind, that the Grantee ſhall diſtreyn for the ſame in the Manor of S. this is no grant of Rent, but a penalty in the Manor of S. and the reaſon thereof is, becauſe the Law needs not to make conſtruction, that this ſhall amount to a grant of a Rent, for here the Rent is expreſly granted to be iſſuing out of the Manor of D. and the parties have expreſſly limitted out of what Land the Rent ſhall iſſue, and upon what Lands the diſtreſs ſhall be taken, and the Law will not make an Expoſition againſt the expreſs words and intention of the parties when this may ſtand with the reaſon of the Law. Cook 7. Part, 24. in Butts Caſe.

3. Rent-Service is, Where the Tenant in Feeſimple holdeth his Land of the Lord by Fealty and certain Rent, or by other Service and Rent. Then if the Rent of the Tenant be behind and unpaid, the Lord may diſtreyn for the Rent, but for that he cannot have an Action of Debt. So if a man gives Lands to another, paying to him and his Heirs, a certain Rent, the ſame is a Rent-Service, becauſe the Reverſion is in the Donor; but if a man makes a Feoffment in Fee, or a gift in tail, with the Remainder over to another, reſerving Rent without Deed, ſuch Reſervation is void, and in ſuch Caſe by the Statute of Quia Emptores Terrarum, the Donee or Feoffee ſhall hold the Land of the Lord Paramount of whom the Donor held the ſame. But if a man make a gift in tail of Land, the Remainder over in Fee, or a Leaſe for life, the Remainder over, or a Feoffment, and by the ſame Indenture, he doth reſerve to him a certain Rent, and if the Rent is behind, that he ſhall diſtrein for the ſame, ſuch a Rent is a Rent-Charge; but if in ſuch Caſe, there be no clauſe of Diſtreſs, then the Rent reſerved is a Rent-Seck, and for ſuch Rent, he ſhall never diſtrein; but if he be ever ſeiſed of ſuch Rent; if it be unpaid, he may have an Aſſiſe of it; but if he was never ſeiſed of it, he is without remedy for ſuch Rent.

4. A man makes a Leaſe for years of Lands, and the Leſſee Covenants with the Leſſor, to pay to the Leſſor, his Executors and Aſſigns yearly ſuch a Sum; and doth not charge the Land with it, the ſame is not any Rent, becauſe it is not iſſuing out of Lands, as it is holden in Plow. Com. in Browning and Boſſens Caſe. 139. 5. If

5. If a Rent-charge be granted to two, out of an Acre of Land, and that it ſhall be lawful for one of them, and his heirs, to diſtrein in the ſame grant for the ſame, the ſame is a Rent Seck; for in as much as they ſtood joyntly ſeized of the entire Rent, it cannot be as to one a Rent Seck; and as to the other, a Rent-charge; and the diſtreſs is as appurtenant to Rent; and therefore, if he who hath the Rent dyeth, the Survivor ſhall diſtrein; and if both of them grant over the Rent to one, he ſhall diſtrein for the ſame; But if a man grant a Rent to one and his heirs out of black Acre, and grant to him that he may diſtrain for it in the ſame Acre for the Term of his life, the ſame is a Rent-charge for his life, and a Rent-Seck after diverſis temporibus, otherwiſe if the diſtreſs be limitted for certain years in the ſame Acre, there it remains a Rent-Seck entirely, becauſe that the Fee and frank Tenement is Seck in ſuch Caſe. Cook 7. Part, 24. in Butts Caſe.

6. If a man grant a Rent by Deed out of his Land, there to charge the Land it is remedileſs; but the Grantee may charge the perſon in a Writ of annuity; but if there be ſuch a clauſe in it, that he ſhall not charge the perſon, the ſame is void, if he do not give him ſeizin; becauſe ſuch Proviſo takes away all remedy, from the Grantee. Cook 6. Part, 58. in Bredimans Caſe.

7. A. ſeized of Lands in Fee, which were deviſable, made a Leaſe thereof, rendring Rent, and after, he deviſed this rent to a ſtranger, and dyed, the ſtranger ſeized of the Rent dyed: If the heir, or the executors ſhould have the Rent, was the Queſtion: It was holden in this Caſe, That the Executor, and not the heir of the Deviſee, ſhould have the Rent, becauſe it was but a Chattel in the Deviſee. Baldwin and Shelley Juſtices, held, That the Deviſe was void, being a new thing; but Fitzherbert ſaid, That where the Rent is incident to the Reverſion, that it ſhall be of the nature of the Land. Mich. 26 H. 8. Dyer, 5.

8. If a man be ſeized of Lands on the part of the mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, reſerving rent to him and his heirs, the rent ſhall go to the heir on the part of the Father, 7 H. 6. 4. But if a man be ſeized of Lands on the part of the mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee of the Land to the uſe of him and his heirs, the book 5 E. 4. 7. is, That this uſe ſhall not go to the heir at the Common Law; but for as much as the Land moveth from the part of the mother, therefore the uſe, which is nothing but a truſt and confidence, ſhall go to the heirs on the part of the mother. Cook 1. Part, 100. in Shellys Caſe.

9. One Coparcener granted a Rent to two other Coparceners, for owelty of partition; although the words are joynt, yet the cauſe of the grant ſhall be reſpected, and the Rent ſhall be of the qual ty of the Land, and therefore they ſhall have the Rent in degree and quality of Coparceners, and not joyntly; and if two Coparceners make a Feoffment in Fee, rendring rent to them and their heirs, the heirs of the one and the other ſhall inherit, becauſe their right in the Land was ſevered. Cook, 5. Part, 8. in Juſtice Windhams Caſe.

10. A. lett Land to B. for years, rendring rent, the Leſſee aſſigned over his Term; A. brought an Action of Debt againſt B. for the rent, after the aſſignment. It was adjudged, That it was maintainable: It was Objected againſt the Action, that the Land is the debtor, and not the perſon; but in reſpect of the Land; and difference was taken between perſonal Contracts, and real: As if a man ſells goods, for money to be paid at a day certain, although the goods be taken away by one who hath right to the goods, before the day, yet the Vendor ſhall have an Action of Debt, in reſpect of the Contracts; But if a man maketh a Leaſe for years of Lands, rendring rent, if before the day be incurred, the Land be evicted by Eigne Title, the Leſſor ſhall not have an Action of Debt in reſpect of the Contract, becauſe it is a real Contract, and ſhall enſure the nature of the Land, and the rent iſſueth out of the Land, and the perſon is not debtor but in reſpect of the Land; and therefore, if the Lord granteth over the Reverſion, the Contract runs with the Eſtate, and the Grantor ſhall not have Debt for the Rent after the eſcaut, but the Grantee ſhall have it as a Contract which enſueth the nature of the Land. But in the principal Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Action was maintainable in reſpect of the privity of the Contract between the Leſſor and the Leſſee. Cook 3. Part, 22. Walkers Caſe.

11. A man grants a Rent-charge to another and his heirs, the Grantee dyes, his Wife recovers Dower againſt the heir. In that Caſe it was holden, That the heir cannot after ſuch endowment, bring a Writ of Annuity for the other two parts; for either the whole muſt be a Rent-charge, or the whole muſt be an Annuity; becauſe otherwiſe it would not be according to the Deed of Grant, which is entire, without fractions. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 141.

12. In Debt by an Executor, the Caſe was, By Articles Indented between the Teſtator and the Defendant; It was agreed, That he ſhould have ſuch a Houſe and Lands for 6 years; In conſideration of which, and that the Teſtator ſhould ſufficiently repair the houſe, the Leſſee covenanted and agreed, for him, his heirs, executors, and aſſigns, to pay to the Teſtator, his heirs, executors, and aſſigns, an annual rent of 90 l. during the ſaid 6 years; and upon this the Defendant entred, and the Teſtator dyed, and for 90 l. rent for one year, the Executor brought the Action. It was ſaid, That this was meerly a Covenant to pay a ſum in groſs, and ſhould go to the Executors, and ſhall not enure by way of Reſervation; and the intent of the parties was, That it ſhould be only as a Covenant, and as a ſum in groſs, otherwiſe the words of the Covenant were idle. But it was holden by the Court, That it was meerly a Rent, and enſues the Reverſion, and goes to the Heir, and not to the Executors; for as the words Covenant and Grant, that he ſhall enjoy the Lands for the Term of 6 years amounts to a Leaſe, and ſhall binde the heir, ſo the words of Covenant and Grant of the Leſſee, That he ſhall pay ſuch a Rent annually, amounts to a Reſervation; and the rather, becauſe he Covenants and grants to pay him and his Heirs. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 6. Car. in B. R. Drake and Mundeyes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 150.

13. Aſſize of a Rent Seck; the Caſe was, a Rent Seck of 4 l. per annum was granted by A. to B. his ſon, iſſuing out of a houſe called the Unicorn, in L. payable at the Annunciation, and Mich. at the houſe of the ſaid B. in L. to begin at Mich. after his deceaſe, and he gave 6 d. in name of ſeizin; and for Rent behinde, the Action was brought: The Jury finde the grant of the Rent, and ſeizin given, at the demand, at the houſe called the Unicorn, at the Feaſt of the Annunciation, and that none was there to pay it; and if this were a diſſeiſin of the Rent, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That it was a good Demand, and a Diſſeizin for not payment of it, and that this gift of 6 d. in the name of ſeizin, was good ſeizin; and the Jury found all in damages, viz. 24 l. not mentioning it to be for arrearages of Rent, and well enough. Paſch. 14 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smiths Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 365.

14. If a man which hath a Rent ſervice iſſuing out of Lands, purchaſeth parcel of the Land out of which the Rent is iſſuing, that ſhall not extinguiſh the Rent, ſave only for the parcel; for a Rent-ſervice in that Caſe, is ſeverable, and may be apportioned according to the value of the Land, becauſe it iſſueth out of the profits of the Land, and is due by Common Right: But if a man hath a Rent-charge to him and his Heirs iſſuing out of Land, and he purchaſeth parcel of that Land to him and his heirs, the whole Rent-charge is extinct, and the Annuity alſo; becauſe a Rent-charge is entire, and iſſuing out of every part of the Land againſt Common Right. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 147.

15. If a man makes a Leaſe for life, rendring Rent, the ſame is a Rent-ſervice; but if the Leſſor granteth the Rent to another, then it is a Rent-Seck, becauſe it is ſevered from the Reverſion; for the Reverſion cauſeth it to be a Rent-ſervice; and if a man holdeth by Fealty and Rent, and Grants the Rent, the Seignory paſſeth; for the Rents paſſeth it: But if a man holdeth by Homage, Fealty, Eſcuage, and Rent, if he granteth the Rent, it is a Rent-Seck; becauſe the Seignory, viz. the Homage, Fealty, and Eſcuage remains. See 26 Aſſ. 38. acc.

16. A Rent was granted to a Feme ſole, and her heirs, without the words, for the Grantor and his Heirs: The Husband and Wife brought a Writ of Annuity, and Declared, and was Non-ſuited; and afterwards, the Husband and Wife were Divorced, cauſa Adulterii; the Rent was behinde, the Wife diſtreined for the Arrearages: In this Caſe it was holden, That the Declaration by the Husband and Wife was an Election to make it an Annuity, and not a Rent-charge, and that the ſaid Declaration had prejudiced the Wife in her Inheritance; for if the Husband had not Declared, it ſhould have been a Rent in Fee in the Wife, but being turned into an Annuity, ſhe had an Eſtate but for life. 2. In that Caſe it was holden, That although that the Plaintiffs in the Writ of Annuity were Non-ſuit, yet the ſame did not alter the Election, but made the Declaration void, ab initio, as a Writ of Error doth. 3. Reſolved, That the Divorce, Cauſa Adulterii, did not make the Marriage void ab initio. 4. It was Reſolved, That Debt did lye, or that ſhe might diſtrein for the Arrearages. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. adjudge acc.

17. A Rent-charge of 10 l. per annum, was granted to a man, or an Annuity of 10 l. at his Election. It was holden in that Caſe, That the ſame was grantable over, being in the Grantee without Election; and that theſe words, or an Annuity of 10 l. were void, becauſe all was included in the Grant of the Rent-charge; and it was ſaid, That this Caſe was not to be compared to the caſe in 17 E. 2. where one granted to one 20 l. or 10 l. becauſe there nothing veſted in the Grantee before Election: But this Caſe was to be compared to the Caſe of Southwell and Ward, Mich. 32 Eliz. in B. R. where an Abbot granted to the Hoſpital of St. Johns, 40 loads of Wood, out of a great Wood, or a certain ſum in lieu of them, and that was a good Grant without Election: And in that Caſe it was ſaid by Pop. That when one granteth to another his black Horſe, or white Horſe, there ought to be Election: And it was ſaid to be adjudged in the Dutchy Court, That if a man be enfeoffed of the Manor of D. or of an Acre, parcel of it, that there needs no Election: And in the Principal Caſe it was holden, That a Grant for years, or life, of an Annuity, might be granted over, unleſs it be granted pro Conſilio impendendo, or upon Confidence, and then it is grantable over, if it be granted granted to one and his aſſignes, or to his heirs, which implyes Aſſignees. But it was holden, That a Rent-charge, of what nature ſoever it be, is grantable over. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Gitens Caſe, adjudge acc.

18. A. ſeized of Land in Fee, granted a Rent-charge of 20 l. per annum the rent, to B. to him, and his Heirs, during his life, and the lives of M. his Wife, and D. and E. his daughters; A. dyed, E. his daughter married P. the Defendant. M. 1557. 20 l. was behinde, and not paid to P. and E. his Wife, for the Rent behinde, the husband diſtreined and avowed: Being found for the Defendant, Error was brought, and 1. Error was aſſigned, becauſe this Rent was granted to one and his Heirs during his life, and three others, and is not diſcendable to the Heir, nor ſhall the Heir be Occupant thereof: But it was holden by all the Court, That the Limitations were good enough, and that the Heir ſhould have this Rent, as a party ſpecially nominated, and as Heir by diſcent, although it be not properly an Eſtate diſcendable. 2. Error, that the Eſtate being limitted to him for his own, and the lives of others, his own life includes as much as the lives of the others, and therefore void for the others: But that Exception was diſallowed by the Court, and the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 1730. And Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Rott. 348. Bowles and Poores Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 282.

19. In a Replevin, the Defendant avoued for Rent, and ſhewed, That A. was ſeized of the Manor of W. and made a Feoffment of the place, where parcel of it to O. rendring Rent and Suit at the Court of the ſaid Mannor, and that A. was ſeized of the ſaid Rent, and dyed ſeized; and that the ſame diſcended to B. his ſon and heir; who thereof ſo ſeized, bargained and ſold the ſaid Manor and Rent to N. father of the Avowant, by theſe words, Manerium de tr. & omnimodos reditus, reputed, deemed, or adjudged part of the ſaid Manor, who dyed ſeized, and that the ſame diſcended to the Avowant, his ſon and heir; and averred, That the ſaid Rent, at the time of the ſaid Bargain and Sale, & diu ante, was reputed parcel of the Manor aforeſaid: Upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That this Rent did not paſs by the Bargain and Sale, made to N. father of the Avowant; for here, in the premiſſes of the Avowry, is not any matter ſet forth importing Reputation, or by which it may appear, that the Rent in queſtion was ever reputed parcel of the ſaid Mannor, but rather to the contrary; and the bare averment of Reputation in the concluſion of an Avowry, is not ſufficient to induce Reputation: But if the Avowant had in his Avowry ſet forth any ſpecial matter to induce the Court to conceive any Reputation upon the matter of the Avowry, as to ſhew that the Bayliffs of the ſaid Mannor had always received the ſaid rent as parcel of the ſaid Mannor, and as Bayliffs, had accounted for it as parcel of the ſaid Mannor; or that the Leſſees of the ſaid Mannor had enjoyed the ſaid Rent as parcel of the ſaid Mannor, the ſame had been good matter to induce Reputation, and to have incorporated the ſaid Rent with the ſaid Mannor: Judgment was againſt the Avowant. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Forman and Bohans Caſe. Leon, 13.

20. A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent at Mich. and the Annunciation; he in the Reverſion bargained and ſold the ſame to a ſtranger, who gave notice thereof to the Leſſee; The day of payment came, the Leſſee paid the Rent to the Bargainor, and then the Deed was Enrolled: The Queſtion was, Whether the Bargainee ſhould have the rent by Relation, ſo as the Bargainor ſhould be charged in accompt to the Leſſee for the Rent firſt paid. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Bargainee ſhould not have the Rent; and Dodd. Juſtice ſaid, If Rent be paid to an Adminiſtrator who hath right for the time, and after, a Will is found, and proved, ſo as it appeareth upon the matter, that there was an Executor, and by conſequence, no Adminiſtration could be, that the Rent ſhall be paid again by him to the Executors. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Sir Robert Barker and Finches Caſe. Godbolt, 156.

21. A man ſeized of black Acre in Fee, and of white Acre for years, by Deed, granted a Rent out of both to J. S. for life, with clauſe of diſtreſs in both; the Rent was behinde, J. S. diſtreined, and avowed in white Acre. It was Reſolved (amongſt other things) That when a man grants a Rent out of Land in Fee, and a Term for years, to have for life, the Freehold of the Rent ſhall go out of the Land in Fee, and not out of the Term, becauſe it is but a Chattel; and the agreement of the parties cannot charge ſuch a thing with a Rent, which is not chargeable by Law, as out of an Advowſon, Fair, Hundred, &c. becauſe in an Aſſize, they cannot be put in Vicco, nor a diſtreſs taken in them. 2. Reſolved, That white Acre ſhould be charged with the Diſtreſs, although that the Rent did not iſſue out of it. Cook 7. Part, 23. Butts Caſe.

22. A woman granted an Annuity of 20 l. per annum to her younger ſon, iſſuing out of the Manors of Eſtwell, Otterplea, Poſtiery, lying and being in the pariſhes of Eſtwell, Weſtwell, and Chattock, in the County of Kent, aut alibi in eodem Com. dictis Manerijs, ſeu eorum alicui quoquo modo ſpectant. vel pertinent.; the woman alſo is ſeized of an Acre of Land in Chattock, not parcel of, nor appertaining to any of the ſaid Mannors, and dyeth ſeized; the Grantee enters, and abates in the ſaid Acre, and continues ſeized by abatement; and if the ſaid Acre, which was not parcel, nor appertaining to the ſaid Mannors, ſhould be charged with the ſaid Rent, or not, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Rent did not iſſue out of the ſaid Acre; becauſe that in that caſe, there is but one Grant to one and the ſame ſentence, for there is no period nor end of the ſentence, before the concluſion of theſe words, aut alibi; and the aut alibi doth not enlarge the Grant of the Rent to iſſue out of other Lands or Tenements, but enlargeth the Towns or places into which the Lands before did extend. Cook 6. Part, 34. Henry Finches Caſe.

23. If a man grant a Rent, in Manerio de D. percipiend. in 100 Acres of Lands, parcel of the ſame Mannor, with clauſe of diſtreſs in the 100 Acres, the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the 100 Acres only, and the general words ſhall be conſtrued according to the ſpecial words. Cook 8. Part, 154. in Altham's Caſe.

24. A man makes a Leaſe for life by Indenture, of Lands in ſeveral Counties, and makes Livery of the Lands in one County, and divers days after, makes Livery in the other County: yet one entire Rent ſhall iſſue out of the Lands in both Counties; and the reaſon thereof is, for that the Law will never adjudge by parcels, in ſubverſion of the agreement and intent of the parties, but where all acts are done in performance of the Original Contract of the parties, then the Law will adjudge upon all the Acts, as executed at one time. Cook 2. Part, 74. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

25. A Rent by Deed was granted to one, and his Aſſigns for life, pro Conſilio impendendo, payable yearly at four Feaſts, and for default of payment, if it be demanded, that it ſhould be lawful for the Grantee, and his Aſſignes, to diſtrein: The Grantee [aſſigned the Rent, the Tenant attorned, the Aſſigne upon the Land demanded the Rent after the day, and for want of payment, diſtreined. In that Caſe theſe points were Reſolved, 1. That a Grant of a Rent to one, pro Conſilio impendendo, could not be aſſigned over by the expreſs words of the Grantor. 2. That the Aſſignee needed not to demand the Rent at the day, as he ought in caſe of a Recovery. 3. Reſolved, That if a man hath a Rent-Seck, payable yearly at the Feaſt of P. and hath once ſeizin of the Rent, and the Feaſt paſſeth, and no tender is made, he may after the day, demand the Rent upon the Land; and if none be there ready to pay it, it is a diſſeizin of the Rent, for which he may have an Aſſize: But if the Tenant be at the laſt inſtant of the day, ready upon the Land to pay the Rent, and now cometh to demand it, or to receive it, there he cannot after, in the abſence of the Tenant, come upon the Land, and demand it, and make the other a Diſſeiſor, and recover damages without default in him: But in ſuch caſe, the Rent ought to be demanded upon the Land, with all the Arrearages; and although the ſame be in the abſence of the Tenant, yet the ſame debt amounts to a deeper in Law, upon which he may have an Aſſize, and recover the Arrearages, Damages, and Coſts. Cook 7. Part, 27. Mannd's Caſe.

26. In an Avowry, the Caſe was, J. S. granted a Rent of 14 l. per annum, out of Land; Habendum, 7 l. per annum, for 38 years, if J. D. ſo long live, payable at Mich. and at Lady; and Habendum the other 7 l. and to begin after the death of W. for 38 years, payable at the ſaid Feaſts; and if it happen the ſaid Rent of 14 l. to be behinde, that he may diſtrein: And if this was one entire Rent, or ſeveral Rents, was the Queſtion; for that it is but one Grant of 14 l. in the beginning, and the Diſtreſs is limitted for 14 l. and ſo entire in the Diſtreſs. But it was Reſolved by the Court, that they were ſeveral Rents, becauſe they have ſeveral beginnings, and ſeveral endings; and although it be mentioned to be but one in the clauſe of Diſtreſs, yet it is to be intended diſtributive to each part thereof; whereupon it was adjudged for the Avowant. Paſch. 5 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 209. Bear and Woodleys Caſe.

27. A Prior ſeized of divers houſes, with the conſent of his Covent, made a Leaſe of them for years, rendring the yearly rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. at four Feaſts of the year, as well in the City of L. viz. for the Houſe, 3 l. 11 d. for another, 20 s. and for other houſes, ſeveral Rents, reſidue of the ſaid 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. with condition, That if the ſaid Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. were behinde, in part, or in all, at any of the ſaid Feaſts, That then it ſhould be lawful for the Prior and his Succeſſors to re-enter. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, (amongſt other points) That it was but one entire Leaſe, conſiſting upon ſeveral unites. 1. One Demiſe. 2. One Leſſee. 3. One beginning. 4. One Term. 5. One determination. 6. One Reſervation of Rent in groſs; and that the (ſcil.) after, did not make a ſeverance of it, but the ſame is rather a ſeveral Declaration of the ſeveral values of the Land: and therefore it was Reſolved, That it was but one entire Rent, by the intention of the parties, & benigne faciendæ ſunt chartarum interpretationes propter ſimplicitatem Laicorum, ut res magis valeat quam pereat. Cook 4. Part, 54. Knights Caſe.

28. If there be two Joynt-Tenants, and one makes a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, the Leſſor dyeth, the other ſhall not have the Rent becauſe that that he claimeth by the firſt Feoffor, which is paramount the Leaſe, and the Reſervation: And ſo if Tenant for life maketh a Leaſe for years reſerving Rent, and afterwards ſurrenders to him in the Reverſion, not being in by force of his Ancient Reverſion, he cannot have the Rent newly reſerved. Cook 1. Part, 96. in Shelyes Caſe.

29. Note, That Regularly a Rent-charge is extinct by purchaſe or otherwiſe gaining the poſſeſſion of the Land out of which the Rent is iſſuing. But yet in ſome Caſes, a Rent-Charge ſhall not be wholly extinct where the Grantee claimeth from and under the Grantor. And therefore if B. maketh a Leaſe of an Acre of Land to A. and A. is ſeiſed of another Acre in Fee. A. Granteth a Rent-Charge to B. out of both Acres, and doth Waſte in the Acre which he holdeth for life. B. recovereth in Waſte. In this Caſe, It was holden, That the whole Rent is not extinct, but ſhall be apportioned; and yet B. claimeth the one Acre under A. and the reaſon thereof is, for that no man ſhall take advantage of his own wrong. For ſeeing the Waſte was committed by the Act and wrong of the Leſſee, he ſhall not take advantage thereof to extinguiſh the whole Rent; and the whole Rent cannot only iſſue out of one Acre, becauſe the Leſſor hath the one Acre under the Eſtate of the Leſſee, and therefore in ſuch Caſe it ſhall be apportioned. And ſo it is if A. had made a Feoffment in Fee, and B. had entred for the forfeiture; in that Caſe, the Rent ſhall be apportioned, and not wholly extinct. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 148.

30. If the Father within age purchaſeth parcel of the Land charged with the Rent, and alieneth within age, and dyeth, and the Son recovereth in a Writ of Dum fuit infra ætatem, or entreth, in that Caſe, the Law is mixt with the act of the party; and yet in ſuch Caſe, the Rent ſhall be apportioned, for that after the Recovery or entry, the Son hath the Land by Diſcent. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 150.

31. Lord and Copyholder for life, the Lord Grants a Rent-charge out of the Mannor; the Copyholder ſurrenders to the uſe of A. who is admitted. In this Caſe it was holden, That he ſhould not hold the Copyhold charged with the Rent, but if in ſuch Caſe the Copyholder dyeth, ſo as his Eſtate is determined, and the Lord granteth it to a ſtranger de novo, to hold the ſaid Lands by Copy. It was adjudged that this new Tenant ſhall hold the Land charged with the Rent. See 10 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged. See Mich. 26 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Leon. 4. acc.

32. A man Leaſeth a Hundred, rendring rent, or a man Grants a Rent out of a Hundred; It is not a good Rent, but meerly void, for that a Hundred is not Manourable, nor can be put in view, nor any Aſſiſe lyeth of ſuch Rent. See 20 Eliz. Cleere and Corbets Caſe. The Dean and Chapter of Norwich Leaſed a Parſonage and Common of Paſture, rendring Rent. 1 E. 6. they ſurrendred their poſſeſſions to the King; and afterwards the King granted the Parſonage without ſpeaking of the Common of Paſture. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Patentee ſhould have all the Rent, and no Apportionment ſhould be in reſpect of the Common, for that all the Rent iſſued out of the Parſonage, and nothing out of the Common. See the Caſe vouched. Trin. 33 Eliz. in the B. R. in Knightly and Spenters Caſe. Leon. 331.

33. In Treſpaſs for entring his houſe, It was found that the Plaintiff Leaſed the houſe to the Defendant for 7 years, with Condition, That if the Rent be behind by the ſpace of 10 dayes, that then it ſhall be lawful for the Leſſee to re-enter. After the Feaſt of, &c. the Rent was behind, and the 10th day after the Leſſor came a Quarter of an hour before Sun-ſetting, and demanded the Rent in theſe words, I demand 3 l. 10 s. for a half years Rent of this houſe, now due, and there continued till the Sun was ſet, but no Rent was paid. Note, the Iſſue was, If he came to the houſe half an hour before Sun-ſet, and there continued demanding the half years Rent of the premiſes due at the Feaſt of the Annunciation laſt paſt. It was moved, That upon this Verdict, the Iſſue is not found for the Plaintiff: The Iſſue was upon the half hour, and the Quarter part of the hour was found. 2. The Iſſue was, If the demand were of the Rent due at the Feaſt of the Annunciation paſſed, and the Verdict is for Rent due at the time of the demand. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Verdict was good for the Plaintiff. But it was agreed by all the Court, That if in demand of Rent (ut ſupra) the Leſſor or any on his part doth demand any penny more or leſs then is due, or in his demand doth not ſhew the certainty of the Rent, and the day of payment of it, and when it was due, the demand is not good, and no re-entry in ſuch Caſe ſhall be given unleſs the demand be preciſely and ſtrictly followed. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Fabian and Winſors Caſe. Leon. 305.

34. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed, and ſhewed, That A. his Father was ſeiſed of the Mannor of, &c. and granted out of it to the Avowant a Rent of 20 l. per annum. And if the Rent be behind by ſix dayes after the Feaſts, &c. wherein it ought to be paid, ſi licite petatur, then it ſhould be lawfull to diſtreyn. The Grantor afterwards Covenanted with the Lord Treaſurer and others, To ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor to the uſe of himſelf and his Heirs, untill he and his Heirs have made made default of payment of 100 l. per annum, till 3000 l. be paid; and after ſuch default of payment, to the uſe of the Queen and her Heirs, untill the ſaid 3000 l. ſhould be levyed; and levyed a Fine to the uſes aforeſaid. The Rent was arrear, default of payment was made of the 100 l. per annum. The Queen granted the Mannor to the Plaintiff, the Grantee diſtreyned for the Rent and Arrerages. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That the demand of the Rent was good, and as to the demand during the poſſeſſion of the Queen, the Court held the ſame to be good. For although the poſſeſſion of the Queen be privileged as to the Diſtreſs; yet the Demand is good without any wrong to her Prerogative, for the Rent in Right is due, and the poſſeſſion of the Queen is in Right chargeable with it, but is not recoverable by Petition; and it was holden, That if the party ſueth the Queen by Petition, he ought to ſhew in his Petition, That he hath demanded the Rent. And it was holden, That notwithſtanding the poſſeſſion of the Queen, the Rent is demandable and payable to entitle the party unto Petition againſt the Queen, and to Diſtreſs againſt the Subject when the poſſeſſion of the Queen is removed. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Wicks and Dennis's Caſe. Leon. 190.

35. The Father ſeiſed of Lands, he and his Son and Heir by Indenture Leaſed the Land to the Defendant for years, to begin after the death of the Father, rendring Rent to the Son; the Father dyed, the Leſſee entred, the Rent was behind, the Son diſtreyned. It was holden in this Caſe, That the Reſervation of the Rent to the Son was void, and though the Son did prove to be Heir, it bettered not the Caſe; but the Reſervation muſt have bin to the Heir or Heirs by the Leſſor, by that name, for that is the only word of privity requiſite to the Reſervation of Rents. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Oats and Friths Caſe.

36. In Debt, the Caſe was, a man was poſſeſſed of a Term for 20 years in the right of his Wife, he made a Leaſe for 10 years rendring Rent to him, his Executors, and Aſſigns, and dyed. The Queſtion was, Whether the Wife ſhould have the Rent after the death of her Husband, or the Executors of the Husband. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Executors ſhould have the Rent, and not the Wife, for it is a ſpecial Reſervation, and the Wife ſhall not have it, becauſe ſhe comes in paramount. And alſo the Rent is incident to him who hath the Reverſion under the Leſſor, and that is the Executor. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Blaxton and Heaths Caſe. Poph. 145. See ibid. 35 Eliz. 5. ibid. acc.

37. B. made a Leaſe of Lands to F. for ten years rendring 50 l. Rent payable yearly by equal Portions at the Annunciation and Mich. or within 10 dayes after any of [the ſaid Feaſts within the ſaid Term. The Term expired for Arrerages of Rent for the two laſt years, the Action of Debt was brought after the 10 dayes, counting the Arrerages to be behind at the Feaſt of Mich. paſt, which was the laſt Feaſt, and the laſt day of the Term: Upon the general Iſſue pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff. In Arreſt of Judgment it was ſaid, That the Plaintiff in this Caſe was without remedy for any part of his rent, by reaſon of the falſity in his Action. For if a man bring his Action for one thing to which he hath right, and for another thing for which he hath no right, his Writ ſhall abate for all; and here the Plaintiff bringing his Action for rent payable within 10 dayes, which are out of the Term, and ſo no Rent by force of the Reſervation, nor yet a Rent within the word (yearly) therefore the whole Writ ought to abate, and this laſt rent being reſerved, and payable out of the Term, is no Rent. The Opinion of the Court was, That although the Leaſe ended at Mich. yet the duty as to the Rent remains by reaſon of the Contract betwixt them, and then the 10 dayes are only a Liberty given to the Leſſee for his benefit. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Barwick and Foſters Caſe. Bulſt. 1. Part, 1. Cro. 2. Part, 227, 233. idem.

38. In Ejectione firmæ, it was found, That A. was ſeiſed of Land in Fee, and by Indenture granted a Rent of 20 l. per annum to B. his Heirs and Aſſigns payable at the Annunciation and Mich. with clauſe of Diſtreſs. And Covenanted for him, his Heirs and Aſſigns, with B. his Heirs, &c. to levy a Fine of the ſaid Lands to C. and D. which ſhould be that the Conuſees ſhould ſtand ſeiſed to the uſes and intents, That if it ſhould happen the ſaid Rent to be unpaid, and no ſufficient Diſtreſs found upon the premiſes, or any Reſcous, Pound, Breach, or Replevin ſhould happen to be, Then it ſhould be lawful for B. his Heirs, &c. to have the Rents thereof untill the ſaid 20 l. rent, and the Arrerages ſhould be paid to the ſaid B. his Heirs, &c. B. within ſix Moneths 9 Jac. Bargained and ſold the ſaid Rent of 20 l. per annum to F. with all penalties and forfeitures, 19 Oct. 11 Jac. the rent due at Mich. was demanded by F. and not paid. Trin. 12 Jac. D. one of the Conuſees at the requeſt of F. levyed a Fine to the uſes in the firſt Indentures. 13 Jac. F. diſtreyned for the Rent of 10 l. due at Mich. 11 Jac. and impounded the Diſtreſs, and the Defendant ſued a Replevin. Then they find, That F. entred and Leaſed to the Plaintiff. The Queſtions in the Caſe were, 1. Whether the entire Rent not being arrear, but only 10 l.

10 l. for half a year, were cauſe of entry within the Proviſo, which is, If the ſaid Rent of 20 l. be arrear. It was Reſolved, That it was a ſufficient cauſe of entry, and he might have an Aſſiſe de redditu, though but half a year; and it is not a Condition, but a Limitation of the uſe according to the intent of the parties; where this non payment of the 10 l. and the Replevin brought, are good cauſes of Entry. 2. Whether this Rent of 10 l. due and demanded before the Fine levyed, and after the Fine is levyed, and then a Diſtreſs is taken for the Rent due before the Fine levyed, and then a Diſtreſs is taken for the Rent due before the Fine levyed, and after a Replevin is ſued thereupon. Whether this gives title of Entry to B. In this, the Court was divided in Opinion, Houghton and Doddridge Juſtices held, he had not title to enter, for by the Fine the uſes were raiſed, and that cannot extend to a Rent formerly arrear, for there ought to be Arrerages and Diſtreſs for them both after the uſes raiſed. For the words are, If the Rent be behind, and Diſtreſs taken, and Replevin ſued, Then, &c. which cannot refer to a Rent due before the Annunciation. Crook and Mountagu Juſtices held, That the Fine was but an Aſſurance, which muſt be guided by the Indentures, which were long before the Rent due for the Execution if the thing have reſpect to the Original act, and ſhall have relation thereunto; wherefore they held he might well enter. But if the Diſtreſs had bin before the Fine, and the Replevin after, perhaps it had bin otherwiſe. But in this Caſe, they were both after the Fine. The Caſe was adjourned to adviſe upon. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Havergill and Hart's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 110, 111, 112.

39. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſans for a Rent-Charge to his Father. The Plaintiff confeſſed the Tenure, but alledged, That at our Lady, which was one day of payment, he was upon the Land, and offered to pay it, and remained upon the Land till Sun-ſetting. The Defendant Replyed (proteſtando, that he made no ſuch tender), That after that, and before the Diſtreſs ſuch a day, he at a Cloſe demanded the Rent, and none came there to tender it, for which cauſe he diſtreined; and averred, that neither at the time of the Diſtreſs, or at any time after the Plaintiff offered to pay it; upon which it was demurred. It was the Opinion of the whole Court for the Defendant, and that he ſhould have return of the Cattel; and the difference was taken between this and Homage, where one makes tender to the party, and he refuſeth, there he cannot diſtreyn, becauſe it cannot be performed by a ſtranger, or by another as a Rent may: And it was agreed in this Caſe, That the tender at the day was not material; but if he had tendred it at the Diſtreſs, then the taking ſhould have bin tortious. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Crawley and Kingſmills Caſe. Hutton 13.

40. A. makes a Leaſe of 20 Acres rendring Rent, the Leſſee grants all his Eſtate in one of the Acres to J. S. the Leſſor confirms the Eſtate of J. S. It was Reſolved in this Caſe by the whole Court, That by this Confirmation the entire Rent is gone in all the other Acres; for being an entire Contract, and by his own Grant there cannot be an occupation for part, and an extinguiſhment for the other part. Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. Geddard's Caſe. Owen. 10.

41. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, granted a Rent-Charge out of it to A. for life, with clauſe of Diſtreſs, and then makes a Leaſe to B. for years, and then Grants the Reverſion to J. S. for life. The Rent is behind, the Tenant makes the Defendant his Executor and dyes; the Term of B. ends. J. S. enters and makes a Leaſe to the Plaintiff; the Executors of A. Diſtrein for the Arrerages. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That the Diſtreſs was well taken for the Arrerages upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 37. for that the Rent doth not iſſue out of the Term for years, but out of the Freehold; and upon Grant thereof, the Tenant of the Freehold muſt attorn, and not the Termor. Trin. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Lambert and Auſtens Caſe. Owen. 117.

42. Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, If the Obligor pay the Rent of 37 l. yearly at two Feaſts, according to the true intent of certain Articles of Agreement made between the Obligor, and Obligee during the Term, &c. That then, &c. The Defendant pleaded the Articles certain, That the Obligee demiſit et ad formam tradidit to the Defendant Omnia talia Domus Tenementa et terras in parochia de P. in Quibus, the ſaid Obligee had an Eſtate for life by Copy according to the Cuſtome of the Manour, Habendum for 21 years, if the Obligee ſhould ſo long live, rendring to the ſaid Obligee during the ſaid Term 37 l. to be paid at the Caſtle of C. and further pleaded, That at the time of the making of the ſaid Articles, The ſaid Obligee had not any Eſtate in any houſes, Lands, &c. in P. for the Term of his life by Copy. Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff demurred in Law; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. In this Caſe, were two points. If nothing paſſed by the Articles, and ſo the Reſervation of the Rent void. 2. If the ſaid Obligation for payment of the ſaid Rent was void. It was Reſolved by the Court upon the firſt point, That no Rent is reſerved, for the Leaſe did never begin, and ſo the Rent ſhould not. As to the ſecond point, Whether

Whether the Rent ſhould be paid by reaſon of the Obligation, as a ſum in groſs, or not. The Court differed in Opinion: For Fenner, Juſtice, held, The Condition of the Obligation, is to pay the Rent according to the Articles; which is, That if the Leſſee have not the Land, the Leſſor ſhall not have the Rent. Popham, contrary; For the Obligor is bound to pay it, although nothing were demiſed to him; for that by the Obligation, he hath made it a ſum in groſs: And it is altered from the nature of a Rent upon the Obligation, and he is bound to pay the Rent or Sum; and if this be either of them, he muſt pay it. There was no Judgment in the Caſe, Paſch. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Strowd and Willis Caſe, Owen, 110, 111.

43. Tenant in tail of a Rent-Charge, agreed with the Tenant of the Land, to extinguiſh this Rent, and that he would levy a Fine of the Land to the Tenant; and afterwards he did levy a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, and upon a Releaſe: And if this Fine did cut off the Eſtate tail in the Rent, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid, and Objected, That this Fine was no barr or extinguiſhment of the Rent; becauſe the Writ of Covenant doth not contain the thing of which the Fine is to be levied, and here is not any Fine directly of the Rent. And ſee the Opinion of Thornton, in Plowd. Com. in Smith and Stapleton's Caſe, Tenant in tail of a Rent, diſſeiſed the Terr-Tenant, and levied a Fine with Proclamations: It was holden, That the ſame ſhould not barr the Iſſue in tail of the Rent. But the Opinion of the Court was, That this Fine doth work by way of Releaſe; and things are not to paſſe litterally in a Fine: and the words of the Statute of 32 H. 8 are, Of any Lands, Tenements, or Hereditaments, any wayes entailed; and if there be any word in the Conveyance which will carry it, it is ſufficient: and this Rent is an Hereditament entailed to the perſon who levied the Fine, and is carried inclusivè in the Statute. Nay, if a man had nothing in the Land if it was entailed to him who levied the Fine, this ſhall barr the Eſtate tail for ever: And therefore ſee, Tenant in tail made a Feoffment to J. S; and after that, he did levy a Fine to a ſtranger of the Land: It was holden, That he Iſſue ſhould never avoid that Fine; and yet neither the Conuſor nor Conuſee had any thing in the Land. And ſee Cook 1. Part, Arthers Caſe, Where the Iſſue in tail levied a Fine in the life of his Anceſtor; It was a good Barr, and yet he had there but a poſſibility. And it was holden in this Caſe, That if a man have a Piſcary in another mans Land, and a Fine is levied of it by the name of Land, it will paſſ: the Piſcary, and will barr the Iſſue if it were entailed. In the Principal Caſe, It was holden, That the Rent entailed, was barred by the Fine. Hill. 22 Car. in C. B. Hilliard and Saunders Caſe, Winch. 109, 121, 122.

44. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; Tenant for life, and he in the Remainder in tail, joyned in the grant of a Rent in Fee out of the Land; and then they joyned in the levying of a Fine to a ſtranger and his Heirs. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Eſtate of the Grantee of the Rent which was before determinable, was now made abſolute. Mich. 22 Jac. in C. B. Sir Tho. Holbeach and Sambeartes Caſe, Winch. 102. Cro. 1. Part, 73. the ſame Caſe.

45. Husband and Wife, and a third perſon, were Joynt-Tenants for the Lives of the Wife, and the third perſon; The Husband and Wife by Indenture let the moyety for 21 years: the Wife dyed; the ſurviving Joynt-Tenant entred: And, If this Leaſe ſhould bind the Survivour, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Leaſe was good, and is as a Leaſe made by her, untill ſhe after the Coverture, or one who claims in privity by her, avoid it by Entry; For it is not void by the death of the husband, but only voidable; and the Avoidance out to be by Entry, which cannot be by the Joynt-Tenant Survivor, for he is paramount the Wife, and not under her: And therefore the Leaſe being good, untill it be avoided by one who hath privity, ſhall bind as long as any of the Joynt-Tenants be alive: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Smalman and Agborowes Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 417. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 272, 273. the ſame Caſe.

46. A. poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for 100. years; He and J. his Wife, by Indenture ſealed only by A, and not by his wife, aſſigned their Eſtate in the Leaſe to T, reddendo et ſolvendo to him and J. his Wife durante termino prædict. to them and the Survivor of them, if they ſhould ſo long live, 71 l. at Mich. and our Lady: Proviſo, That if the ſaid Rent be behind at any of the ſaid Feaſts and not paid to him or his Wife, or to the Survivour of them, and to their Aſſigns, and to the Aſſigns of the Survivor of them to re-enter, &c. T. enters; A. dyes, J. ſurvives him. At the Annunciation after, and for 40. dayes the Rent was behind, and not paid: the Wife the laſt day demands it; The Adminiſtrator of A. alſo demands the Rent, which is not paid. It was urged, That the words, reddendo et ſolvendo to the husband and wife durante toto termino, and to the Survivor of them, being by Indenture, ſhould enure as a Reſervation to the husband, and as a Grant to the wife:

wife: It was the Opinion of the Court in this Case, That although the reddendo et solvendo durante termino, (if there had been no more said) had been a Reservation during the Term: Yet when he doth not rest upon the Exposition of the Law; but it is reddendo to him and his Wife, and the Survivor of them, if they so long live; that is an expresse Reservation; that it shall not be during all the Term, but to him and his wife, and the Survivor of them: And the Reservation to the Wife is void, because she is no party in Interest, or to the Deed, and to the Survivor of them, is also void to give the wife any privilege thereof. And therefore, It was holden, That the Rent should endure no longer, then during the life of the Husband. Hill. 7 Car. in B. R. Bland and Inmans Case, Cro. 1. Part, 210. Godbolt, 449. the same Case.

47. A man seised of Lands in Fee, and of Copyhold Lands in Fee according to the Custom of the Mannor, made a Lease of the Freehold Lands, and of the Copyhold to J. S. for years, rendring one entire Rent: And afterwards the Lessor surrendred the Copyhold Lands to C. and his heirs; and at another time granted by Deed of the Freehold Lands to C. in Fee: J. S. attorned, and after C. brought debt against J. S. for the whole Rent. It was Objected, That the Reservation of the Rent was an entire Contract, and by the grant of the Lessee, the same could not be apportioned: Also by that act, the Lessee should be subject to two Fealties, whereas he was subject but to one before. It was Resolved, That the Contract was not entire, but that the same by the Act of the Lessor, and the assent of the Lessee might be severed: for the Rent is incident to the Reversion, and the Reversion is severable, and by Consequence so is the Rent. And as to the Fealties, to that the Lessee shall be subject, although the Rent should be extinct: For it is of necessity incident to the Reversion, and to every part of it, but the Rent shall be apportioned. Pasch. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Collins and Hardings Case.

48. Note: It was agreed by the whole Court, That Arrearages of Rent reserved upon an Estate for life, are not forfeited by Outlawry, because they are realt, and no remedy for them, but a Distress: Otherwise, if upon a Lease for years. Hill. 5 Car. in C. B. Hetley, 364.

49. A man grants a Rent out of Lands, and limits the same to be paid at a house which is off from the Land; and if the Rent be behind, and lawfully demanded, then the Grantee to distrain: the Rent is behind, and the Grantee distrains, no demand being made at the house; In a Replevin, The Opinion of the Court was, That there ought to be a Demand at the house: and the Distress it self is not a sufficient demand; for the demand is parcel of the Contract: and demand ought to be before the party is entituled to distrain, Pasch. Tr. 17 Car. in C. B. Selden and Kings Case, Marsh 218. And so it was likewise adjudged, 3 Car. in C. B. in Berryman and Bowdens Case.

50. In a Replevin, the Case was, A man acknowledged a Statute, and afterwards granted a Rent-Charge: The Statute was afterwards satisfied by effluxion of time; and the Grantee of the Rent did distrain; And whether he might distrain without bringing a Scire facias, was the Question? It was strongly urged, That the Grantee, though he were not privy, ought to have a Scire facias; for it is only to accompt. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Grantee might well distrain; and he cannot have a Scire facias, because he is a stranger: But if he may have a Scire facias, (for there is no Authority in Law in the Point) yet he may well distrain without it. And Bramston, Chief Justice, said, I believe you will never find a Scire facias brought by the Grantee of a Rent, or of other profit apprender. Pasch. 18 Car. in B. R. Barwell and Harwell's Case, Marsh, 207.

51. A. made a Lease for years, reserving Rent at Mich. upon Condition, That if the Rent be behind at Mich. and a moneth after, that he might enter. The Lessee after Mich. and before the moneth ended, sent his Servant to the house of A, to pay the money to A; The Servant delivered the Rent to B, who was the Daughter of A, to deliver the same to A; the said B. having at several other times received the Rent, and paid it to A: which he accepted; but now he refused to receive it, and entred for non-payment of the Rent. It was said, That his Entry was lawful, and that the tender made to B, and by B. to the Lessor, was not good, because the Servant of the Lessee had authority to deliver it to the Lessor: therefore when he delivers it to another, he hath not pursued his authority: But notwithstanding this, because that in the principal case, the Rent was due at Mich. and the moneth after was given, because of the penalty of Re-Entry, and the tender and refusal was after the Rent was due, and within the moneth; and in regard the Lessor was at no prejudice, if he had accepted of the Rent when B. his Daughter tendred it unto him; and because it appeared to the Court, That the Lessor had an intent to defraud the Lessee of his Lease, and the Law doth not favour frauds; and therefore it was adjudged against A. the Lessor, Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Croppes Case, Godbolt, 38, 39.

52. A Leſſee for 30 years of a Farm called Creſwellfield Grange, conſiſting of divers parcels; viz. Hobſfield Parkfield, and divers others, made his Son his Executor, who demiſed all the Grange (except Hobſfield) to B. for 23. years, and demiſed Hobſfield to F. for 23. years; and afterwards granted all the reſidue of his Term in the whole Grange, to B. and F: He in the Reverſion in Fee, granted a Rent-Charge in Fee, iſſuing out of all his Lands called Creſwellfield Grange quondam in tenura of A, et adtunc in tenura et occupatione B. vel aſſignat. ſupra. The Rent was behind, the Term for 30. years was expired; He in the Reverſion made a Feoffment in Fee to another; the Grantee made his Executors, and dyed: the Feoffee made a Leaſe at Will, the Executors of the Grantee diſtrained for the Rent behind in the life of the Grantee before the expiration of the Term. And in this Caſe, Judgment was given for the Executors againſt the Plaintiff, in a Replevin. In this caſe, It was Reſolved, (amongſt other Points) 1. That the Arrearages due in the life of the Grantee, were loſt by the Common-Law. 2. Reſolved, That by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 32. Debt lay againſt the Feoffee of the Feoffee, or the Tenant at Will of the Feoffee for the arrearages, by the expreſs words of the Statute; for when things are due in right, and become remedileſs by the Act of God; ſcil. the death of him to whom they are done, Acts of Parliament which give remedy in ſuch caſe, ſhall be favourably expounded to advance the remedy proportionable to the miſchief and defect of the Law; and ſo the ſecond Feoffee; and ſo in infinitum ſhall be charged by force of the Statute. And it was agreed in that Caſe, That if A. hath a Rent-Service, or a Rent-Charge in Fee, or for life, the Rent is behind; A. grants over the Rent to another; the Tenant attorns, and dyes, that his Executors ſhall not have Debt, for that by the Grant over, the Arrears are loſt, and were not due to the Teſtator at the time of his death: and in ſuch caſe after the Grant over, the Teſtator himſelf could not diſtrain, or have any remedy for the Arrearages. Hill 29 Eliz. in C.B. Cook 4 Part, 49, 50. Ognells Caſe.

53. A Rent was granted to a Woman Sole for life; the Rent was behind: ſhe took a huſband, the Rent was again behind, the Wife dyed; the Huſband brought Debt againſt the Heir of the Grantor for the Arrearages encurred before the Marriage: It was Reſolved, That for the Arrearages encurred before the Marriage, the Huſband had not any remedy by the Common-Law; but for the arrearages due during the Marriage, at the Common-Law an Action was maintainable. But it was Reſolved, That by the Stat. of 32 H.8. Cap. 37. the huſband ſhould have an Action of Debt, as well for the Arrearages before the Marriage, as for the Arrearages after the Marriage, 17 Eliz. Reported by Bendloes, Sharp and Poolets Caſe, vouched in Cook 4. Part, in Ognells Caſe.

Reparations.

1. IF a man Leaſeth a Manor to one for years, and the Leſſee Covenanteth to keep the Houſes of the ſaid Manor, as much as was in the ſaid Manor, in as good plight as he found them, and ſo to leave them in the end of the Term; and during the Term, the Tenant doth Waſte in the Houſes, or in cutting down of Oaks: It was Reſolved, That in that caſe, an Action of Covenant doth lye preſently againſt the Leſſee, becauſe it is impoſſible that now the Covenant ſhould be performed. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 145. 13 E.3. Covenant. 2. Cook 5 Part, 23. in Sir Anthony Maynes Caſe, acc.

2. If one committeth Waſte, and before an Action of Waſte, the Leſſee doth repair the houſes, and afterwards the Leſſor brings an Action of Waſte; In that Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Action is not maintainable, becauſe the Jurours ought to View the Waſte; which now they cannot do: But yet in that caſe, the Defendant ought to plead and ſet forth the ſpecial matter, and cannot plead, that he did no Waſte, becauſe the Entry is in the Preterperfect Tenſe; ſcilicet, Quod non fecit waſtum. See 10 Eliz. Dyer. 256. Cook 5 Part, 119. in Whelpdales Caſe, acc.

3. If a houſe falleth down in the time of the Leſſee for life or years, or in the time of Tenant in Dower, as by the Curteſie; the particular Tenants have ſuch a ſpecial property in the Timber, that they may take the ſame to build the like houſe for his habitation: And ſo it is, if they cut down Trees for reparations, they have a ſpecial property in the Trees for that purpoſe, 44 E.3.5. And ſo it was Reſolved, Cook 11. Part, 82. in Lewis Bowles Caſe.

4. Note; Tenant for life or years in many Caſes, may fell down Timber Trees to make Reparations, although he be not compellable thereunto, ment, and ſhall not be puniſhed for the ſame in an Action of Waſte: As if an houſe be ruinous at the time of the Leaſe made, if the Leſſee ſuffer the houſe to fall down, he is not bound by Law to repair the houſe in that caſe; and yet if he cut down Timber upon the ground ſo letten, and repair it, he may well juſtifie it: and the reaſon is, becauſe the Law doth favour this ſupportation and maintenance of houſes for habitation: And therefore if the Leſſor by his Covenant undertake to repair the houſes, yet the Leſſee (if the Leſſor doth it not) may with the Timber growing upon the ground, repair them. Coke 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 54.

5. A Leaſe was made of a Meadow bordering upon the River of Ex. in Devon. and the Leſſee Covenanted to ſuſtain and repair the Banks of the River, upon a pain of 10 l; and afterwards by reaſon of a ſudden Flood, the Banks were decayed and periſhed: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that caſe, That the Leſſee ſhould be excuſed from the penalty, as if it had been of a houſe burnt by Lightning, or thrown down by Tempeſt; but yet in that Caſe, It was holden, That he ought to repair the Banks in convenient time, 29 H. 8. Dyer, 33.

6. If one be bound by Preſcription to keep a Sea Bank in good repair, and by a ſudden and unuſuall encreaſe of Waters it is beaten down; In ſuch caſe, the Commiſſioners of Sewers may charge all other perſons and their Lands, that may receive any loſs or damage thereby; but if any default or negligence be found in him, who ought to repair it, as that he hath not kept the Banks ſo high, nor ſo well repaired as they have been uſed formerly to be kept; Or that the danger was not ſo inevitable, but that he might well have prevented it: The Commiſſioners in ſuch caſe may charge Him only with the Repair thereof; or if he be not able to repair it, ſo as the charge is layd upon others, each perſon charged may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him, and recover Damages according to his loſs. Coke 10 Part, 139. in Knigbly's Caſe.

7. Upon a Leaſe made of a houſe, the Leſſee Covenanted, That he would from time to time, after 3. moneths warning ſufficiently repair, and at the end of the Term, leave it ſufficiently repaired to the Leſſor; and for not leaving it ſufficiently repaired, Covenant was brought. Upon this, the Defendant demurred, becauſe he doth not alledg, That he for 3. moneths before gave notice to him of the defects. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Declaration was good; for the Clauſe, To leave it repaired at the end of the Term, is diſtinct by it ſelf, and doth not depend upon the former Clauſes; for he ought to leave it ſufficiently repaired without Notice, at his perill; and the Notice within the 3. moneths, refers only to the Reparations within the Term, whereunto he is not tyed without Notice 3. moneths before, Trin. 20 Jac. in B. R. Hayſett and Butchers Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 644.

8. In Covenant, the Caſe was; The Plaintiff let a houſe to the Defendant for 21. years, from Mich. following: And the Defendant Covenanted, Quod ab & poſt emendationem & reparationem dict. Meſſuagii, by the Plaintiff, his Heirs or Aſſigns, He at his proper Coſts and Charges as need ſhould require, bene ſufficienter repararet & ſuſtineret the ſaid Meſſuage during the Term, and ſo leave it at the end of the Term well and ſufficiently repaired; and alledged a Breach, That at the time of the Demiſe, and beginning of the Term, a Dove-houſe parcell of the Premiſſes, was in good and ſufficient reparations; and the Defendant during the Term, voluntarie ſuffered it to ſtand uncovered for a year, whereby it became very ruinous, and afterward pulled it down, and ſo it became of no value. The Defendant pleaded, That he did not ſuffer it to ſtand uncovered, nor did pull it down. Upon which, being at Iſſue, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the Breach was not well aſſigned; for the Covenant is, That ab, & poſt, that the Plaintiff hath repaired it, that he would maintain it in reparation, ſo as the Defendant ought not to repair it, untill the Plaintiff hath firſt repaired it. And of that Opinion was the whole Court. For the Court held, That the Covenant being ab & poſt reparationem by the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff ought firſt to repair it. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 19 Jac. in B. R. Slater and Stones Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 645.

9. In Covenant brought, for not repairing a houſe upon a Leaſe made, wherein the Defendant Covenanted for himſelf, his Executors and Aſſigns, to repair the houſe within 2 moneths warning the 1. of Jan. 19 Jac. The Defendant pleaded, That long before the Warning; viz. 3 Jac. he aſſigned over his Term to J. S. who had alwayes after paid his Rent to the Plaintiff; which he had accepted of, and avers the performance of all Covenants, untill the Aſſignment: It was the Opinion of the Court, That this aſſignment doth not take from the Leſſor his advantage of the expreſs Covenant, notwithſtanding the acceptance of the Rent by the hands of the Aſſignee; for that notwithſtanding the ſame, he might charge the Leſſee or Aſſignee at his Election. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Barnard and Godſall's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 309. The ſame Term, Varnie and Goodcheap Caſe, adjudged acc.

10. A. ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage in B. in Fee, and of a Leaſe for divers years in being; let both the Houſes and Courts, Orchards, Gardens, appertaining to them, to the Defendant by Deed for 10 years, whereby the Leſſee Covenanted to repair the Houſes, Edifices, and Buildings, with neceſſary Reparations; and that he would maintain and keep dimiſſa præmiſſa, with paying and fencing, and at the end of the Term, leave domos & alia præmiſſa ſufficiently repaired, pailed, and fenced: and thereof by a Deed, he granted the Reverſion to the Plaintiff in Fee, and by another Deed, the Reverſion for years; and the Defendant attorned upon the ſeveral Grants; and that at the time of the Leaſe and grant of the Reverſion, the houſes were well repaired; and that after, to him of the grant of the Reverſion Diverſa domus loca parcella, et res eorundem tenementorum et præmiſſorum deceſſuat. diruit. & fract. fuerant & in deceſſu deveneranat; Et quod diverſa alia parcellæ et res eorundem tenementorum et præmiſſorum eiſdem præmiſſis affixa ab inde avulſa, et ſeparata fuerant; and Juſtified, in the pavement of the Court, Locks and Keys carrying away, and of a Cupbord, breaking the glaſſe in the Windows, and carrying away a Shelf not fixed. Upon which, the Defendant Demurred: and being adjudged for the Plaintiff, and Damages entire given to 100 l, Errour was brought, becauſe he having two Reverſions; the one in Fee, and the other for years, by ſeveral Deeds, ought to have brought ſeveral Actions. But it was Reſolved, That it was well enough. The ſecond Errour was, That the aſſignment of the breach is, in not repairing of the Pavement, which is out of the Covenant; for it is neither building, pailing, nor fencing, and damages are given for it. It was ſaid by the Court, It was within the Intention of the Covenant; and it is quaſi the building, and within the words, Leave them ſufficiently repaired, maintained, &c. The Judgment was affirmed, Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. rotr. 3214. Pyett and the Lady St. Johns Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 329.

11. Covenant: for that the Caſe was; Queen Eliz. let an houſe to W. C, wherein were theſe words; viz. That the Leſſee his Executors and Aſſignees reparabunt domum prædict. and leave it ſo Repaired. Afterwards, the Queen granted the Reverſion to the Plaintiff, and to his wife, and the heir of the husband in Fee; and for not repairing, the Action was brought. It was Demurred, becauſe the Action was brought by the husband alone: 2. Becauſe they be not the words of the Covenant of the Leſſee, nor is it the Deed of the Leſſee. But it was Reſolved for the Plaintiff; for the Action being perſonall, and damages only to be recovered, the husband may alone have the Action. 3. Reſolved, That theſe words in the Queens Letters Patents, did amount to a Covenant on the part of the Leſſee; and he accepting the Leaſe, was bound to the Covenant. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1500. Sir John Brett and Cumberlands Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 399.

12. Leſſee for 80 years, upon Condition, That if the Leſſee, his Executors or Aſſigns, did not repair the Houſe within 6. Weeks after Warning, that the Leaſe ſhould be void: The Leſſee made a Leaſe for 10 years to J. S, who ſuffered J. D. to occupy the houſe: the Leſſor came to the houſe, and gave notice of the defectments in the Reparations to the Occupier of the houſe; and for default of Reparations, he entred. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Notice given to the Occupier of the houſe, was not ſufficient, no more if it had been given to the Aſſignee of the Leſſee; but it ought to be to the perſon intereſted in the Term, who is liable to the Reparations. 2. Reſolved, That the Notice at the houſe is not ſufficient, but it ought to be to the perſon of the Leſſee. Hill. 44 Eliz. in B.R. Streetman and Everſleys Caſe. Owen, 114.

13. A Copyholder brought Treſpaſs againſt the Lord, for cutting down of Trees; and alledged a Cuſtome within the Mannor, That a Copyholder might cut down Trees to repair his Houſe; if that there was not ſufficient left to repair it: and alledged, That there was not ſufficient Trees left to repair it. It was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. That a Copyholder might cut down Trees to repair, and for firebote and other neceſſaries. 2. That Treſpaſs lyeth againſt the Lord for cutting down the Trees; for that the Copyholder hath an Intereſt in the Trees, as well as in the Land. And it was ſaid, That the Lord might as well pull down the Copyholder's houſe, as cut down his Trees: And a Copyholder hath a ſpecial Intereſt in the ſhadow and Lopps; and the Lord the generall Intereſt. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Heydon and Smiths Caſe, Godbolt. See the Caſe more at large, Cook Select. Caſe, 67. See, Trin. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Stebbing and Groſvenors Caſe, The Cuſtome of the Mannor of N. in the County of S. was, That every Copyholder might lopp the Pollingers upon his Copyhold pro ligno combuſtibili; and the Lord of the Mannor cut down the Pollingers, being upon the Plaintiff's Copyhold; upon which, he brought his Action upon the Caſe, becauſe that the topps of the Trees in ſuch caſe did belong to the Copyholder, and they were taken by the Lord.

14. Upon a Leaſe of a houſe, the Leſſee Covenanted, That he would repair the houſe with convenient, neceſſary and tenentable Reparations; The

The Leſſor brought Covenant, and alledged a breach, in not repairing for want of Tyle, and dawbing with Morter; and did not ſhew, That it was not Tenentable: It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ought to have ſhewed it; for the houſe may want ſmall Reparations, as a Tyle or two, and a little Morter, and yet have convenient, neceſſary, and Tenentable Reparations. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Conyſbies Caſe, Marſh, 17.

15. An Information was exhibited againſt the Inhabitants of Shorreditch, for not repairing the High-way: The Iſſue was, Whether they ought to Repair it, or not: In this caſe, It was ſaid by the Court, That by the Common-Law, The Inhabitants of a Pariſh ought to repair all High-Wayes lying within the Pariſh, if Preſcription did not bind ſome particular perſon thereto, which was not in this Caſe. In this caſe, ſome of the Inhabitants would have been Witneſſes, to prove, that ſome particular Inhabitants lying upon the High-Wayes, had uſed time out of mind to repair it: but they were not permitted by the Court, becauſe they were Defendants in the Information: Wherefore the Jury found, That the Inhabitants ought to repair the Way. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. The King & the Inhabitants of Shorreditches Caſe, Marſh, 17.

16. Many Indictments were exhibited ſeverally againſt ſevtral men, becauſe each by himſelf ſuffered his door to be unrepaired. And it was ſhewed in the Indictments, That every one of them ought to repair. It was moved, That the Indictments might be quaſhed. But the Court would not Quaſh them without Certificates, that the parties had repaired their doors. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Marſh, 45.

17. Note: The Inhabitants within the Pariſh of H. having a Free Chappell of Eaſe, had a Cuſtome, That thoſe within ſuch a Precinct, ought to find a Rope for the third Bell, and to repair part of the Mother-Church: In conſideration of which, they have been freed from payment of Tythes to the Mother-Church: the Queſtion was, Whether it was a good Cuſtome, or not. Quære; for it was not Reſolved, but the Caſe adjourned. Paſch. 17 Car. in B. R.

18. Upon the Commiſſion of Sewers, upon the Statute 23 H. 8. Cap. 5. and upon their Order or Decree, made a Certificate thereof: Theſe Exceptions were taken to their Certificate; 1. It doth not appear, that the Commiſſion was under the Great Seal of England, as it ought to be. 2. It doth not expreſs the Names of the Jurors, nor ſhewed, that there were 12. ſworn, who made the Preſentment, as it ought to be; but only, Quod præſentatum fuit per Juratores; ſo as there might be but 2. or 3. ſworn. 3. By the Certificate it appears, that it was preſented by the Jury, That the Plaintiff ought to repair ſuch a Wall: but it is not ſhewed for what cauſe, viz. either by reaſon of Tenure, Preſcription, or otherwiſe. 4. They Preſent, That the Wall wants Reparations, but it doth not ſhew, That it lyes within the Levell. 5. It appears, That there was an Aſſeſſment without a Preſentment; for it is Preſented, That ſuch a Wall wanted Reparations, and that the Commiſſioners aſſeſſed the Plaintiff for Reparation of that Wall, and another, for which there was no Preſentment. 6. It appears by the Certificate, That the Tax was laid upon the perſon; whereas it ought to be levied upon the Land. 7. It appears, There was no Notice given to the Plaintiff of the Aſſeſſment; which ought to have been by reaſon of the great penalty which followes for not payment of the Aſſeſſment: for by the Statute, the Land is to be ſold for want of payment. 8. Becauſe they Aſſeſſe and Tax the Plaintiff upon Information; for it ſeems, That they were credibly informed, That ſuch a Wall wanted Reparation, and that the Plaintiff ought to repair it; whereas they ought to have done it upon Preſentment, and not upon Information, or their private knowledg. 9. They Aſſeſs and Tax the Plaintiff; and for non-payment of it, ſell the Diſtreſs; which by Law they ought not to do, for the Statute enables them only to diſtrain; and that a Replevin might be brought, for the Statute gives Avowry: and if the ſale of the Diſtreſs ſhould be ſuffered, then no Replevin could be thereof: The Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the Certificate of the Commiſſioners was inſufficient, for divers of theſe Cauſes: and more eſpecially, becauſe it was not ſhewed, That the Commiſſion was under the Great Seal of England, Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Marſh, 123.

19. In a Replevin; The Defendant Juſtified by authority from the Commiſſioners of Sewers: And the Jury found, That the Tenants and Occupiers of 7. Acres of Lands adjoyning to the River of Thames, had alwayes uſed to repair the Bank ſometimes voluntarily, ſometimes by Preſentment; and that divers other perſons had Lands within the ſaid Levell ſubject to drowning, if the ſaid Bank was not repaired and made: It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That all ſhould be Taxed, and not he only who had the Land adjoyning to the River. For the Statute of 6 H. 6. Cap. 5. and the Commiſſion of Sewers, have preciſe words in the Commiſſion, That no perſon of any Eſtate or Condition ſhall be ſpared; otherwiſe, great inconveniency might enſue: for it may be, that the rage of the Water ſhall be ſo much and ſo great, that the

the whole value of the Land adjoyning will not be ſufficient to repair the Bank, Et qui ſentit commodum ſentire debet et Onus. And the ſaid Statute requires equality, which well agrees with the Rule of Equity, Cook 5. Part, 100. Rooks Caſe. 2. In that Caſe, Reſolved, That although that by the words of the Commiſſion, authority is given to the Commiſſioners, to do according to their diſcretion; yet their proceedings ought to be bounden within the Rule and reaſon of Law. 3. It was Reſolved, That if the Owner of the Land was bounden by Preſcription to repair the Bank; that upon ſuch a Commiſſion awarded, the Commiſſioners ought to charge him only with the whole, but might Tax all who have any Land in danger. See Cook 10 Part, 140. in Knighly's Caſe, &c.

Repeal.

A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop of W. and the Warden of Merton College in Oxford; and the Plaintiff declared, how that the Warden was ſeiſed in Jure Collegii, of ſix Acres of Lands, to which the Advowſon was appendant in Fee, and Preſented: And after W. C. was ſeiſed of ſix Acres, with the Advowſon appendant in Fee, and dyed ſeiſed, and that they diſcended to G. his ſon and heir: And afterwards, the father was attainted of Treaſon by Parliament, for which cauſe the King ſeiſed the Acres; and he being ſo ſeiſed, the Church became void; and the Predeceſſor of the Defendant did Preſent by Uſurpation upon the King; and afterwards, the Attaindor was annulled, and the ſon reſtored, and entred into the ſix Acres, and enfeoffed the Plaintiff; and now the Church being void, it appertained to the Plaintiff to Preſent: Upon which the Defendants did demur in Law. It was in this Caſe adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, and a Writ awarded to the Biſhop, without making any Title. 28 H. 8. Dyer, 24.

2. Reginald Poole, who was Dean of Exeter, 31 H. 8. was attainted of Treaſon, but not deprived by Sentence, but his poſſeſſions were forfeited by the Statute of 26 H. 8. Dr. Haynes was choſen Dean: Afterwards the Biſhop made a Feoffment of certain of his Lands of his Biſhoprick in Fee, and the ſaid Dr Haynes confirmed it, and afterwards the Attaindor 2 Mariæ was repealed, and made void, againſt the firſt Dean only, and his Heirs: The Biſhop dyed; It was a Quære, If the Succeſſor of the Biſhop ſhould be bounden by the Feoffment and Confirmation? Mich. 3 Mar. Dyer, 123. See Cook 1. Part Inſtitutes, 30. It ſeems the Succeſſor ſhall be bound by the Confirmation, becauſe the Confirmation is but a meer aſſent by Deed, to the Grant.

3. Two brothers were: The youngeſt had Iſſue a ſon, and is attainted of Treaſon, and Executed; and afterwards, the eldeſt brother (having good cauſe for a Petition of Right to certain Lands, being in the Kings hands before the Attaindor) dyed without Iſſue, and the ſon of the younger brother was his next Heir in blood, who by the Attaindor of his Father, is diſabled to the ſaid Right, and Title of Action, as Heir to his Uncle: And, If the ſaid Right was extinct, and the cauſe of Petition determined, was the Queſtion? And it was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That ſo long as the Attainder remained in force, that it was. After all this, the ſon was reſtored in blood by Parliament, as Heir to his Father, in theſe words, viz. That he and his Heirs ſhall be from henceforth enabled only in blood, as ſon and Heir, and Heirs of the ſaid Father; and made only, Heirs, and Heirs in blood to the ſaid father, and that alſo the ſaid ſon and his Heirs, ſhall from henceforth be enabled to ask, have, hold, and enjoy all ſuch Lands, which at any time hereafter ſhall diſcend, come, remain, or revert from any collateral Anceſtor of his ſaid father, as if the Attaindor had not been, had, &c. Saving to all and every perſon, Bodies Politique, their Heirs, Succeſſors, &c. all ſuch Eſtate, as if the ſaid Act had never been made: And now the Queſtion was, if the ſaid ſon was reſtored to the ſaid Right and Title of Petition which was in his Uncle, as Heir to him, or not. Note, There was a Proviſo before the Saving, &c. That the ſaid Act of Reſtitution ſhould not extend to any Lands which were in the Kings hands, or of any other perſon, by the Attaindor. It was holden by the Juſtices, and the whole Court, That by theſe Clauſes, That the intent of the King, and of the Parliament, was literal to the party, who was reſtored, ſo as he ſhould be enabled to have the Petition of Right, as Heir to his Uncle. Paſc. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 274.

4. Note, That a common perſon cannot revoke, or Repeal a Preſentment to a Church, made by himſelf; becauſe he hath put the ſame out of himſelf, and he hath given to the Biſhop power to Preſent that which was by himſelf firſt begun: But if the King doth Preſent to a Church, and his Clerk be Admitted and Inſtituted, yet the King may before Induction, Repeal or Revoke his firſt Preſen-

Preſentment, by Preſentment of another Clerk to the Biſhop; and the very Preſentment of the ſecond Clerk, without any more ſignification thereof to the Biſhop, is in Law a Repeal of the firſt. See 25 E. 3. 47. Robert de Kelſyes Caſe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtit. 360.

5. The King Preſented (by reaſon of the Temporalties of a Biſhops ſede vacante in his hands) one to a Prebend; the Preſentee was afterwards Inſtituted and Enſtalled by the Dean and Chapter, Guardians of the Spiritualties; Afterwards, the King reciting that he was Canonicè Inſtitutus by reaſon of his Preſentation, did Ratifie and confirm the Preſentation, and he dyed Incumbent: A Biſhop being created in the mean time. It was holden in this Caſe, That the King ſhould Preſent again, notwithſtanding his Confirmation, becauſe he was not full Incumbent by the firſt Preſentation of the King. Trin. 32 Eliz. Dyer, 292. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Walters Caſe adjudged acc.

6. The Vicarage of Yatton in the County of S. came to the Queen by Lapſe, The Ordinary of the Diocеſs Collated A. unto the Vicarage; Afterwards the Queen Preſented B, who brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop, and the Incumbent, pendant which Suit, A. by Covin and fraud obtained a Preſentation from the Queen, without making mention of the Queens pleaſure to Repeal the firſt Preſentment. It was holden by the whole Court in that Caſe, That the ſecond Preſentation in it ſelf had been ſufficient, and had been a Repeal of the firſt, if it had not been by Covin. And ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 4 Jac. in the Common Pleas, in the Biſhop of Bangor and Williams Caſe. See 19 Eliz. Dyer 339.

7. If the King hath reaſon to Preſent by Lapſe, or otherwiſe, and Preſents J. S. to the Biſhop, and before J. S. be Inſtituted and Inducted, the King dyeth; and the Succeſſor King, without reciting or making mention of the Preſentment of his Predeceſſor, Preſents J. D. to the ſame Church. It was adjudged in ſuch Caſe, That the Demiſe of the King did determine the firſt Preſentation; becauſe the Preſentation was but a power given to the Ordinary, which was Countermandable, and Revocable, and by the Preſentment, J. S. held neque Officium, nec Beneficium. 2. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That the firſt Preſentation in that Caſe was Repealed, although it was not recited by the King; and it was not within the Statute of 6 H. 8. cap. 5. That the King ought to recite the ſame; for it was agreed, That the ſaid Statute went only to Leaſe, and did not extend to Preſentations to Churches. 16 Eliz. Dyer, 327. Mich. 8. Jac. in the Exchequer, Calvert and Kitchins Caſe adjudged acc.

8. Sir Maurice Berkley had the Office of Banner-bearer by Patent from the King; and at the Coronation of Queen Mary, he came before one of the Maſters of the Chancery, and ſurrendred the ſame; which ſurrender was accepted of by the ſaid Maſter, and a Record made of it, but not delivered up, for Reſtitution was made of the ſaid Patent: And, after the ſaid Office was granted by Letters Patents to J. L. Sir Maurice brought a Sciyre facias againſt J. S. for to ſhew cauſe why the ſaid Letters Patents granted to the ſaid J. S. ſhould not be Repealed; for it was a Queſtion, if the Record of the ſaid Surrender, was ſufficient to make void the firſt Patent to Sir Maurice. The point was not determined by the Juſtices, but remained undetermined; But at laſt, the matter was compounded between them by the Lord Keeper of the Great Seal; and thereupon J. S. was removed from the Office, and Sir Maurice Berkley was reſtored to the ſaid Office. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 276.

9. Note, That where there are two Patents of one thing, there a Scire facias lyeth by the old Patentee, to Repeal and make void the laſt Patent againſt the ſecond Patentee; for 28 H. 8. a Scire facias iſſued to the Sheriff of Middleſex, at the Suit of John Penwarren, who was Baylie of the Hundred of C. in the County of Cornwall, by Inheritance, and expulſed out of his ſaid Bayliwick by Hen. Thomas; and thereupon the ſaid Letters Patents were Repealed, and made void, and the ſaid John Penwarren was reſtored to the ſaid Office, una cum exitibus. Paſch. 3 Eliz. Dyer, 197. See there many Scire facias brought for the Repealing of ſecond Letters Patents.

10. The King, at the ſupplication of Prince Henry his firſt begotten ſon, Duke of Cornwal, brought a Scire facias againſt Henry Lindley Knight, and Serjant Hele, to Repeal Letters Patents of Q. Eliz. Dat. 2 Maii 8. 37. of her Reigne, to the ſaid Hen. Lindley, and one Gelly Meirick, and their Heirs, of the Manners of Taunton, Tottowie, and Landalph in the County of Cornwall, to the end the King might make Livery of them to the ſaid Duke, as members and parts of the ſaid Dutchy; whereupon the ſaid Sir Hen. Lindley, Serjant Hele, and one Warwick Heale, Terr-Tenants were ſummoned, and after three Imparlances, they pleaded to the Act of Parliament, 11 E. 3. Nul tiel Record; and afterwards, Judgment was given for the King, That the Letters Patents granted by Queen Eliz. to Lindley and Hele ſhould be Repealed. Cook 8. Part, the Princes Caſe.

11. Anno 5 H. 4. Rott. Parliament, a Petition in Parliament was exhibited by the Commons for the Reſumption of Grants and Letters Patents made of the Lands of the Dutchy of Cornwall;

To

To which the King and Lords gave anſwer. And it was agreed by the King and Lords in Parliament, That the Lord the Prince ſhould have Writs of Scire facias. And thereupon, a Scire facias was brought in the Chancery, in the Name of the King, to Repeal a Grant which King R. 2. made of the Manner of Riſborge, parcell of the Dutchy of Cornwall, made to Sir Lewis Clifford, and his Heirs, who was returned ſummoned, and made default; Wherefore it was adjudged, That the ſame Letters Patents made to the ſaid Sir Lewis Clifford, ſhould be repealed. Cook 1. Part, 23. in the Prince's Caſe. See there, more Letters Patents repealed, upon Scire facias brought.

12. An Eſtate made to the King, and Letters Patents by him granted over, and all by Covin, by him, who granted to the King and the Patentee, to make an Evaſion out of the Statute of Mortmain, ſhall not binde, but ſhall be repealed. Hill. 14 Eliz. Cook 3. Part, 78. in Fanmors Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, 57, 58. in Caſe of the Warden and Communalty of Sadlers Caſe adjudge acc.

13. Upon a Rule given to ſhew juſt cauſe why a Prohibition ſhould not be granted to the Prerogative Court, It was Reſolved, That if the Prerogative Court have power to prove a Will, they may Repeal it by an Appeal; but if Lands be deviſed by the Will, together with goods, they have no power to Repeal it, as to the Lands; but if they ſhould have no power to Repeal it, as to the goods, it would be very miſchievous: But they have no power to make the Deviſe good or ill, as to the Lands; and therefore, where the Prerogative Court endeavoured to appeal a Will wherein Lands were deviſed, the Court at firſt ſeemed to grant a Prohibition; But afterwards, the Court held, There could be no ſuch Diviſion made of the Will by Prohibition, as to ſtand good in part, and to be Repealed for the reſt, and ſo would not grant the prohibition. Trin. 1650. in B. R. Bowles and Clarks Caſe. Styles 221.

2. Where one Statute ſhall Repeal another Statute by general words, and where not.

1. IF a man before the making of the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. had had a Diſpenſation from the Pope for a Plurality, and at the time of the making of that Statute had had one Benefice, with Cure of ſouls, of the yearly value of 8l. and within a year after the making of the Statute of 28 H. 8. he obtains a Confirmation of his former Diſpenſation, with words in the Confirmation, To hold and enjoy the effect of his Diſpenſation. It was the Opinion of Mounſon and Manwood Juſtices, That the firſt Benefice was void, by the Statute of 21 H. 8. and that the Statute of 28 H. 8. did not reſtore him to the ſame without a new Preſentation, notwithſtanding that the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 16. made the Bulls of Diſpenſation made by the Pope, good for one year; and that if they be ſurrendred within the year, That the Chancellor of the Augmentation may make a new Preſentation of him: But by Dyer Juſtice, As the Statute of 21 H. 8. made the firſt Benefice void, ſo the Statute of 28 H. 8. did reſtore him to the Benefice; for where two Statutes are creſs in appearance one to another, and no clauſe of Non obſtante is contained in the ſecond Statute, ſo that one may ſtand with the other, ſuch conſtruction ſhall be made of the Statutes, that both of them ſhall take effect. Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer, 347.

2. A man ſeized of a Wharf and Houſe, holden in Burgage, deviſed the ſame to his Wife, and her Heirs, upon condition, That the Wife by the adviſe of Learned Councel, and in convenient time, ſhould give all the Lands for the maintenance of a Free-School, and certain Almſmen, and Almſ women for ever, and that the Wife ſhould have the profits during her life, bearing the charges of the ſame School, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; ſhe entred, and was ſeized; and afterwards made a Leaſe of the Lands for years, the Heir entred for the Condition broken. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other things) That the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 10. did not extend to take away good and charitable Uſes, for that that Statute took away only ſuperſtitious Uſes, as other Statutes, viz. the Statute of

(G)

26 H. 8. and 28 H. 8. 31 H. 8. and 37 H. 8. did.

2. It was Reſolved, That the Statute of 32 and 34 H. 8. of Wills, did take away the force of the Statute of 23. for that the words are, That all and every perſon having an Eſtate in Fee ſimple, may diſpoſe, &c. by which it appeareth, That Companies not incorporated, are included, and not excepted out of the Statute of 32 and 34 H. 8. Cook 1. Part, 25. Porters Caſe.

3. A Tenant for life of Land, the Remainder in Tail to B. the Reverſion to B. and his heirs expectant; B. levyed a Fine to C. and D. and to the heirs of C. to the uſe of them and their heirs, and had Iſſue, and dyed, before all the Proclamations were paſt, the Iſſue being then beyond ſea, the Proclamations are made, and afterwards, the Iſſue returns, and made his claim. In this Caſe it was adjudged by the Fine and Proclamations. In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Eſtate Tail which paſſed by the Fine, was not abſolutely determined by the death of Tenant in Tail; but it was in the election of the Iſſue in Tail, to make it voidable or void. But 2. It was Reſolved, That when the Proclamation paſſed without any claim made by the Iſſue in Tail, that right which diſcended to him, was barred by the Statute of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. and the ſaid Tail was not preſerved by the Statute of Donis, or any other Statute. Cook 3. Part, 87. The Caſe of Fines.

4. A man ſeized of a Reverſion in Fee, expectant upon an Eſtate Tail, by Indenture, in conſideration of blood, Covenanted to, and ſeized of the ſaid Reverſion, to the uſe of his Neece; and afterwards, Tenant in Tail in poſſeſſion, dyed. It was Reſolved, That in that Caſe, the King ſhould not have Primer ſeizin by the Statutes of 32 and 34 H. 8. 2. Reſolved, That by the Statute of Marlbridge, It was Colluſion apparent to enfeoff his eldeſt ſon: But it was holden, That no Colluſion can be averred, when upon an Eſtate for life, or a gift in Tail, the Remainder was limitted or left in another. 3. Reſolved, That the ſaid ſaving of Ward and Primer Seiſin in the Statute of 32 H. 8. ſhould have relation only to Acts executed, and not unto Wills; for alwayes in Statutes, relation ſhall be made according to the matter precedent; but in an Act executed, he might convey all, and therefore it was neceſſary to add the ſaving, as to that. Cook 7. Part, 76. Sir George Carſons Caſe.

5. A Mannor which did conſiſt of free Rents, of 7 l. Copy Rents 3 l. and of Demeſnes, which had uſed to been demiſed for ſeveral Rents and Farms of 7 l. to which Mannor an Acre of Waſte, parcel of the ſaid Mannor, of the value of 1 d. Heriots, Court Baron, and Perquiſites of Courts, which were never demiſed for life, years, or otherwiſe appertaining, were by a private Act of Parliament, 27 H. 8. given to A. and B. in Tail, with divers Remainders over, and the Donees were by the Act reſtrained, Quod non facerent aliquod nocumentum, or diſinheritance to the Iſſue in Tail, or to thoſe in the Remainder, and that they ſhould have power to make Leaſes for life, years, or at Will, rendring the true and ancient Rent of the ſaid Tenements ſo to be demiſed, and that all other Acts ſhould be void: Tenant in Tail accepted a Fine of a ſtranger ſur Conuſans de Droit, &c. by which he granted and rendred the Mannor for 300 years, rendring Rent, amounting to the Free Rents, Copyhold Rents, and Farm-Rents, and 18 d more, and 12 d. for the Waſte to be paid at two Feaſts, where the ancient Rent was payable at four Feaſts; Tenant in Tail dyed; and if the ſaid Leaſe of 300 years was to be avoided by the ſaid Act of 27 H. 8. was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other points) That although it is provided by the Act, That all Eſtates made, reſtrained by the ſaid Act, ſhould be void, yet the ſame ſhould not be void, as to Tenant in Tail himſelf; but ſhould be avoided by the Iſſues in Tail; and that all Acts of Parliament ſhall have a reaſonable conſtruction to be collected out of the words of the Act, according to the meaning of the Makers of the Act. Cook, 5. Part, 6. The Lord Mountjoyes Caſe.

6. A Cauſey of ſtone in the River of D. and City of C. was made, before the time of E. 1. for the maintenance of certain Mills; of late a Decree was made for a Breach made in the ſaid Cauſey. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the Statute of Magna Charta, Omnes Kideli deponantur, extended only to Wear for taking of Fiſh, and that the Commiſſioners of Sewers could not ſubvert a Cauſey erected before the time of E. 1. but by the Statute of 25 E. 3. c. 4. and 1 H. 4. c. 12. If they be inhanced, they ought to be amended by abatement; and the Cauſey in Queſtion was erected before the time of E. 1. and never ſince enhanced, and therefore out of the ſaid Statutes: So it was Reſolved in the Caſe of Cheſter Mills, upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 5. of Sewers. Cook 10. Part 137.

7. A Religious Colledge to which a Rectory was appropriate, and other Land of the ſaid Colledge came to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. The King conveyed the Rectory to A. and the lands parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Colledge to B. The Fermor of B. brought a Prohibition againſt the Fermor of A. and in that ſhewed the Statute of 31 H. 8. concerning diſcharge of Tythes, and alſo ſhewed both the poſſeſſions at the time of both Statutes: It was adjudged in this Caſe, That a Prohibition did not lye, and a conſultation was awarded: For it was Reſolved, That this Colledge did not come to the King by the Statute of 31 H. 8. but by the Statute of 1 E. 6. 2. It was Reſolved, That the branch of Diſcharge of Tythes in the Statute of 31 H. 8. did not extend to any Colledge which came to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. 3. Reſolved, That no Eccleſiaſtical Leaſe, as Biſhoprick, Deanries, which are not Religious, were within the ſaid Statute of 31 H. 8. for ſuch houſe ought to be Religious and Regular, which vowed obedience, conſtant poverty, and perpetual chaſtity. Cook 2. Part, 38. The Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe.

8. Note, It was holden and Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the Statute of 33 H. 8. for Tryals of Treaſon committed out of the Counties, was repealed by the Statute of 1 & 2 Ph. & Mar. and that the Rebels which were in the North, ſhould be Indicted in the County where the offence was committed, and the Indictment removed before the King in Banco, and the Juſtices of Oyer in Middleſex, and the Jury ſhall be of the County where the Indictment was. Hill. 12 Eliz. Dyer, 286.

9. An Informer ſued a Recuſant for the penalty of 20 l. by the moneth, for not repairing to his Pariſh Church, nor to any other Church or Chappel, or place of Common Prayer, or Divine Service: The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 23 Eliz. That every Recuſant being a Recuſant Convict, ſhould forfeit to the King for every moneth 20 l. and pleaded the Statute of 28 Eliz. That every offender againſt the Statute of 23 Eliz. ſhould pay for every moneth after ſuch conviction, without any other Indictment, 20 l. to the King at the Exchequer, and pleaded the Statute of 35 Eliz. quod nulla pars by the ſaid Statute ſhould be paid to the Informer. In this Caſe it was Reſolved upon the ſaid Statutes, 1. That the branch of 23 Eliz. of Diſtribution ſhould extend as well to the clauſe of penalty of Recuſancy, as to the ſaying and hearing of Maſſes. 2. Reſolved, That the Statute of 28 Eliz. had not taken away the liberty which the Informer had, by the Act of 23 Eliz. becauſe that Act did not extend to any abrogation, but the rather, to a more ſpeedy execution of the ſaid branch of 23. and alſo, becauſe that Act did not give any penalty to any perſon to whom it was not given before; and alſo, becauſe the Statute is in the affirmative, and Statutes affirmative, do not take away precedent Acts affirmative. 3. Reſolved, That the Statute of 35 Eliz. did not take away the Statute of 23 Eliz. as to the Action papalent; for the purpoſe of the Act was only to ouſt delays, and to give ſpeedier remedy; alſo the words of the Act of 35 Eliz. are not ſimpliciter, That all penalties ſhall be recovered to his Majeſties uſe; but ſecundum quid & ſub modo, and the Act of 35 H. 8. ſhall be extended only to that to which it is referred, and ſhall not alter or abrogate any Law before: And Acts of Parliament ought not by any ſtrained conſtruction out of general and ambiguous words of a ſubſequent Act, be abrogated. Cook 11. Part, 59 to 61. Dr. Fosters Caſe. And in that Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Act which gave the 20 l. a moneth, did not take away the Act of 1 Eliz. which gave the forfeiture of 12 d. for every Sunday, but that both did well ſtand together.

Repleader.

1. IN a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſans as Bayliff to J. S. for damage feaſant, and ſuppoſed, That King E. 6. let the Land to A. and B. for Term of years, who Granted parcel of his Term to the ſaid J. S. The Plaintiff ſaid, That long before the ſaid King had any thing, &c. That the late Abbot of K. was ſeiſed in Fee in the right of his Church, and with the aſſent of his Covent demiſed to him for life, Habendum poſt mortem A. and B. and that they dyed, and he put in his Cattel. They were at Iſſue upon Traverſe of the Leaſe of the Abbot; and the Jury gave their Verdict at large, and found the Leaſe ut ſupra, but concluded, that there was not any Letter of Attorney to make Livery. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That in this Caſe a Repleader ſhould be awarded, becauſe that a Verdict at large cannot be given upon a ſpecial Iſſue joyned. Paſc. 3 Ma. Dyer, 117, 118.

2. Debt againſt Executors of an Executor upon an Obligation made by the firſt Teſtator, The Defendant pleaded, That his Teſtator in his life time adminiſtred all the goods and Chattells, which were the goods of the firſt Teſtator at the time of his death; and that no goods and Chattels of the firſt Teſtator, were in his hands at the time of the Writ brought, or after. The Plaintiff replyed, That the Executor of the firſt Teſtator had divers Goods and Chattells which were of the firſt Teſtator in his hands not Adminiſtred at the time of his death, to the value of, &c. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this Iſſue was a Jeofail, becauſe the Defendant in his Bill did not conclude, ſo nothing in the hands of his Teſtator. And the Plaintiff in his Replication doth not alledg, That the Teſtator of the Defendant had Aſſets in his hands tempore mortis ſuæ; and therefore it was inſufficient, for it might be that he had once Aſſets the which he diſpoſed of for the payment. And alſo the Concluſion is by another affirmative. And ſo the Iſſue is joyned upon two Affirmatives, which maketh it to be a Jeofail; and thereupon a Repleader was awarded by the Rule of the Court. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 174.

3. Debt

3. Debt upon an Obligation, The Defendant pleads, That a ſtranger was Impriſoned by another ſtranger, and kept in Priſon till the Defendant as his Surety of the ſtranger, made the Obligation. It was holden by the Court to be a naughty Plea, and a Repleader awarded. Trin. 7 Jac. in C. B. Mantell and Gibbs Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 64.

4. B. brought Debt againſt S. upon a Bond, the Condition was, That whereas the Defendant was Arreſted at the Suit of one A. If now the Defendant ſhall appear in the Kings Bench, where the proceſs is returnable, that then, &c. And the Defendant ſaid in fact, That he had appeared ſecundum formam et effectum conditionis prædict. et hoc petit quod inquiratur per patriam et prædict. B. ſimiliter. It was moved, That the parties ſhould re-plead for this matter upon which they are at Iſſue, ſcil. the appearance is not tryable by Jury, but by the Record. And the Court was clear of Opinion, That the parties ſhould replead for that cauſe. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Bret and Shepheards Caſe. Leon. 90.

5. In Error, A. brought a Quare Impedit of the Church of D. againſt the Arch-Biſhop of Canterbury, and S. the Plaintiff entituled himſelf by Grant to the next Avoydance. That one T. C. was Preſented, Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted thereinto, and that the Church became void by acceptance of another Benefice above value. The Arch-Biſhop pleaded a plea, upon which it was demurred. And S. pleaded a Plea, and traverſed, That the ſaid T. C. was Admitted, and Inſtituted therein; and upon this they were at Iſſue, and a Writ awarded to the Arch-Biſhop upon that Tryall. Afterwards upon conſideration of the Plea of S. it was adjudged to be ill, and a Repleader awarded, becauſe the Induction being alledged, ought alſo to have bin traverſed. Whereupon the Defendant amended his Plea, and traverſed the Admiſſion, Inſtitution, and Induction, and Iſſue was thereupon joyned, and found for the Plaintiff. After divers continuances in Banco; the Plaintiff ſhewed, that the Arch-Biſhop was dead; and prayed, That there might be no Judgment againſt him, and to have Judgment upon the Verdict, which was granted. Whereupon S. brought Error, and aſſigned, That the Re-pleading was not well awarded for the Iſſue which was joyned before the Writ awarded to the Arch-Biſhop was well awarded, and there needed no Repleader. But it was holden by the Court, That the Repleader was well awarded, for the Induction being alledged aſwell as the Inſtitution, there ought to be a traverſe to it, which alters the courſe of the Tryal. Hill. 9 Car. in C. B. Stephens and Fancons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 276.

6. Error of a Judgment in Trover againſt Huſband and Wife, becauſe the Wife after Coverture found goods, and converted them to her uſe. They pleaded Quod ipſi non ſunt culpabiles; and for that cauſe it was Ruled ill, and no tort is ſuppoſed in the Husband. Wherefore after a Verdict for the Plaintiff, a Repleader was awarded; whereupon they pleaded, and traverſed the Converſion. It was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given, and Error brought and aſſigned, That the firſt Iſſue was well joyned, and there ought not have bin a Repleader. But Non allocatur. For the wrong being alledged to be in the Wife, and none in the Husband; the Iſſue only ſhall be that ſhe is not guilty, and ſo the Preignothories of the Common Pleas certified it to be their courſe. Hill. 44 Eliz. in the Exchequer Chamber, Cox and Cropwells Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 5, 6.

7. Replevin, the Defendant avows upon the Statute Infra feodum et dominium upon a ſtranger. The Plaintiff ſaid Non tenuit generally, without alledging tenure de aliquo, and traverſed the tenure alledged. It was holden to be ill, and for that cauſe a Repleader awarded. And it was holden, That the Plaintiff might have all Pleas which he might have at the Common Law, beſides Diſclaimer, for he might traverſe the Tenure, or plead hors de ſon Fee, but he cannot plead Non tenure generally. Paſc. 3 Jac. in C B. Paramor and Chapmans Caſe.

8. Upon an Aſſumpſit of the Wife dum ſola fuit the Plea was entred, Et prædict. J. N. et Bridgetta ven. et defend. vim et injuriam, &c. Et ipſa Bridgetta dicit, quod ipſa non Aſſumpſit. Et hoc, &c. et prædict. Querens ſimiliter. This being tryed, and found for the Plaintiff, it was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That a Plea of a Feme Covert without the Husband, is no plea at all. And an Iſſue being joyned, and tryed thereupon, is idle and not helped by any Statute of Jeofailes. Wherefore a Repleader was awarded by the Court. Mich. 9 Jac. in B. R. Tampion and Newſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 288.

9. In Debt upon an Obligation upon Condition to pay 10 l. 10 s. the Defendant pleaded payment of 10 l. ſecundum formam Conditionis, upon which they were at Iſſue, and a Verdict was for the Plaintiff; and yet a Repleader was awarded. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Kyat and Halls Caſe. Hob. 113.

10. In an Action of Aſſault and Battery, the Defendant pleaded Not Guilty to the Battery, and pleaded a ſpecial Juſtification as to the aſſault. It was prayed, That there might be a Repleader, becauſe the Iſſue joyned is immaterial. It was holden by the Court, That where there is an immaterial Iſſue, there ought to be a Repleader, and it is not helped by the Statute, and there can be no Judgment, for the matter is not put in tryal, and for this cauſe it would be unreaſonable to give Judgment, and the Iſſue is an immaterial iſſue; where the Court ruled the parties to Replead, Paſc. 1649. in B. R. Jennings and Lees Caſe.

Replegiare, or Replevin.

1. A Replegiare, or a Replevin, is a Writ where a man diſtreineth another for Rent, or other thing, then he ſhall have this Writ directed to the Sheriff to deliver to him the Diſtreſs, and ſhall find ſureties to purſue his Action, and if he purſue it not, or otherwiſe it be found and adjudged againſt him, then he that took the Diſtreſs, ſhall have again the Diſtreſs, and that is called the return of the Cattel, and for that he may have a Writ, which is called Returno habendo.

2. If the Lord taketh the Cattel of his Tenant wrongfully. And afterwards the Cattell come home again to the Tenant. In ſuch Caſe, although that the Tenant be poſſeſſed of the Cattel, yet he may have a Replevin againſt the Lord for his Cattel taken, and therein he ſhall recover his damages for the wrongful taking of them, becauſe elſe he ſhall be without remedy, for he cannot have an Action of Treſpaſs againſt the Lord for ſuch taking of his Cattel. See Fitzh. Natur. Brev. 69. acc.

3. Note, It appeareth by the words of the Statute of Marlbridge cap. 21. Quod vice comes poſt querimoniam inde ſibi factam, ea ſine impedimento vel contradictione ejus, qui dicta averia ceperit, deliberare poſſit: by which words it appears, That a Plaint muſt firſt be entred in the County Court before the Sheriff can make a Replevin. But yet upon the ſaid Act, the Sheriff may take a Plaint out of the County Court, for that it would be very inconvenient for the Owner to forbear his Cattell till the County Court day Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes 145.

4. If a Replevin be ſued by Writ, and the Sheriff returns thereupon, That the Cattell be not to be found, then a withernam ſhall be awarded againſt the Defendant; And if a Nihil be returned, then an alias Capias and pluries Withernam; and thereupon an Exigent; and if he do at the Return of the Exigent find Pledges to make deliverance, and be admitted to his Fine, then the Plaintiff ſhall declare upon an nuncore detend. and go to tryal upon the right of the cauſe of Diſtreſs; and if it be found for the Plaintiff, he ſhall recover his Coſts and Damages; and if for the Defendant he ſhall have Returno Habendo. But if upon the Return of the Pluries Replegiare, the Defendant appeareth, then no Withernam lyeth; but he muſt gage deliverance or be committed. See Brownlow, 1. Part, 169.

5. If the Plaintiff in a Replevin doth declare, That the Defendant had, and doth yet detain the Cattel, and the Defendant doth appear, and afterwards makes default, the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment to recover all in damages, aſwell the value of the Cattel, as damages for the taking of them, and his Coſts. Mich. 8 H. 8. Rott. 108. acc.

6. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed as Adminiſtrator of F. for a Rent reſerved upon a Feoffment made of the Manor of D. reſerving Rent in Fee to the Feoffor in the name of a Fee-Farm Rent with clauſe of Diſtreſs for the not payment of it; and that the Rent did diſcend to the Iſſue of the Feoffor, and for Rent due to the Heir of the Feoffor in his life time, the Defendant avowed. The Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry ſaid, That neither the Inteſtate, nor his Anceſtors, nor any other whoſe Eſtate the ſaid F. hath in the Rent, were ever ſeiſed of the ſaid Rent within 40 years; upon which there was a Demurrer. It was the Opinion of the Court in this Caſe, That the Seiſin is not to be alledged, being it was by Deed made within the time of Preſcription; neither is Seiſin to be alledged but where it is traverſable; but where it is traverſable, there it muſt be alledged. It was adjudged for the Avowant. Trin. 6 Jac. in C. B. Cowper and Fiſhers Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 169.

7. In a Replevin, the Lord avowed the taking of one Mare as for Rent behind, and for the fourth part of a Relief, but doth not expreſs the ſame due for the Relief, and for the Rent. For the Rent, the Plaintiff pleads a tender, and for the Relief demurs, becauſe the Defendant in the Avowry had not expreſſed the ſame, and alſo becauſe he had diſtreined one thing both for the Rent and the Relief, pretending that if one cauſe ſhould paſs againſt him, and another for the Avowant; that he could not have Returno Habendo. But the Opinion of the Court was to the contrary. But they ſaid That

That if two men do diſtrein one and the ſame Mare for ſeveral cauſes, and they have ſeveral Judgments for themſelves ſeverally, that in ſuch Caſe no Retorno Habendo can be made of the Mare. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Pain and Moſtalls Caſe, acc.

8. In a Replevin, the place was omitted in the Declaration: Whereupon the Plaintiff demurred. It was holden by the Court to be a good cauſe of Demurrer, for that the Plaintiff is bound to take notice where the Cattel are diſtreined. And a man cannot diſtreyn for a Rent-Charge but in the day time, becauſe the party cannot take notice where the diſtreſs was taken; and the Law doth preſume that the Tenant of the Land, or his Servants are all the day upon the ground. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Read and Howes Caſe. Brownl. 176.

9. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant cepit averia of the Plaintiff apud Oceould, and did not ſay, in quodam loco, &c. upon which the Defendant did demur in Law. The Queſtion was, Whether the expreſſing of the place where the taking and diſtreining of the Cattel was were material in the Plaintiffs Declaration or not. It was Objected for the Defendant, That the Ancient form of the Regiſter ought to be obſerved. And in the Regiſter, the place where the taking is, is ſet forth. And 35 H. 6. 40. Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe the Plaintiff in the Replevin did not alledg the place where the taking was. It was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, to which the other Juſtices inclined, That the effect of the Suit in this Caſe, is not the ſhewing of the place, but the taking of the Cattel; and it is to come on the part of the Defendant to ſhew where he took the Cattel, for perhaps the Plaintiff doth not know where he took them: and if he did know the place where they were taken, yet perhaps he hath not Witneſſes to prove the ſame, and ſo by this means, the Plaintiff ſhould be at a miſchief, and delayed in his ſuit; whereas a Replevin is feſtinum remedium to have his Cattel again, which perhaps are his Plough Cattel. And in this Caſe, upon the matter, the Avowant is the Actor, and he beſt knows the place where he took the Cattel: And it is no reaſon that the Plaintiff miſſing the place, not being matter of ſubſtance, ſhould be prejudiced in his Suit. Divers books were alledged, where the taking is alledged to be in a Town, without ſaying in quodam loco, and yet good. 4 E. 3. 13. 14 E. 3. 14. 21 H. 7. 23. 9 H. 4. in 1 Homine replegiando. 13. The Caſe was adjourned. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Read and Howes Caſe. Godbolt. 186. See Hob. 16. the ſame Caſe.

29. In a Replevin, the Plaintiff made his Plaint of taking of 1000 ſheep. It was againſt F. and others. F. pleaded Non Cepit; the others ſaid, That the property of the Sheep was in another. Upon the firſt Iſſue, the Caſe was this, The Lord W. was poſſeſſed of certain ſheep, and by his Will deviſed them to E. his Daughter, for her advancement in marriage, and made his Wife his Executrix and dyed: the Wife took to Husband J. S. who let the Sheep with a Farm for 11 years by Indenture; upon which it was agreed, That the Leſſee ſhould keep ſo much of the Rent to buy ſo many Cattel ſtill over, ſo as the whole ſtock of the Sheep upon the Farm ſhould amount to 1000. And the Leſſee Covenants to yield and render to the ſaid J. S. at the end of the Term 1000 ſheep, between two years, ſhorn, and four years, ſhorn. Afterwards J. S. gave to one A. who had married E. the Daughter, the ſaid 1000 ſheep, to have them after the ſaid Term; the Term expired, J. S. ſould and granted them to Wood the Plaintiff. A. pretending, That the ſaid Sheep paſſed to him by the ſaid Grant of J. S. ſeiſed them, the ſame was done Noſtanter, as they were driven in the High way. Whereupon contention ariſing betwixt the parties concerning the ſaid ſheep, the one charging the other with Felony, the Conſtable of the Town went to the houſe of F. the Defendant, to aſk his advice, who anſwered he would not meddle therewith. Afterwards J. D. who had bought the ſheep of A. came to F. and ſaid, That the High way was ſufficient for Paſturage for them, and prayed that the ſheep might be delivered to him to keep; to whom F. anſwered, That if the ſaid J. D. would find ſufficient Sureties, to deliver back the Cattel to him who had right, he would be contented the ſaid J. D. ſhould take them. And to that purpoſe, he became bound to F. The Opinion of the whole Court was, upon this long matter ſhewed, That F. Non cepit; and as to the property of the ſheep, the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Grant made by J. S. of the Sheep during the Term was utterly void, for that the ſaid J. S. during the ſaid Term, had not in the ſaid Cattel, either a general or a ſpecial property; nor alſo after the Term; but if that after the Term the Leſſee will not according to his Covenant deliver to J. S. 1000 ſheep, he is put to his Action of Covenant; and it was ſaid by the Juſtices, That if I let certain ſheep to one for two years; upon that Leaſe, ſomewhat remains in me, but that cannot be properly ſaid a property, but rather a poſſibility of a property, which cannot be granted over. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Ward and Foſter's Caſe. Leon. 42, 43.

11. In a Replevin, the Defendants made Conſtat as Bayliffs to J. S. for damage feaſant. The Plaintiff

Plaintiff in bar of the Conuſans ſhewed, That he, and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he hath in 140 Acres of Land, time out of mind, have had Common in ſix Acres of Land, whereof the place where is parcel, and ſo put in his Cattel, &c. againſt which the Defendants ſaid, That he had Common in 40 Acres of Land, whereof the ſix are parcel, all lying in Communi Campo; and that the Plaintiff long time before the taking, &c. had purchaſed two Acres, parcel of the ſaid 40 Acres: Upon which it was demurred. It was ſaid, That the Replication to the bar was not good; For in the barto the Avowry, the Plaintiff hath ſhewed that he hath Common in ſix Acres, and the ſame ſhall be intended Common in the ſix Acres only for Common in 40 Acres, cannot be Common in ſix Acres. See 35 H. 6. 38. In Debt for Rent upon a Leaſe for years, the Plaintiff declared, That he Leaſed to the Defendant 30 Acres of Land, rendring the rent in demand. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff leaſed to him the ſaid 30 Acres, and alſo ſuch a Rectory rendring the ſame Rent; it was holden it was no Plea without traverſe, abſque hoc, that he Leaſed the 30 Acres only. In the Principal Caſe, the Court was clear of Opinion, That for want of a Traverſe, the plea was not good, for the Common ſuppoſed in the bar to the Conuſans out of the ſix Acres, cannot be intended the Common ſuppoſed in the Declaration, ſcil. out of the 40 Acres. And the Court was clear of Opinion, That by the purchaſe of the two Acres, the whole Common was gone. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Kimpton and Bellamyes Caſe. Leon. 43, 44.

12. A Replevin againſt two, who make Conuſans as Bayliffs to A. for a Rent upon a Leaſe for life. The Plaintiff in bar of the Conuſans pleaded, That two ſtrangers had right of entry in the place where, &c. and that the Defendants by their commandments entred, and took the Cattel damage feaſants, abſque hoc, that they took them as Bayliffs to A. the Defendant did demur. It was ſaid, That the Traverſe was not good, for by that means the intent of the party ſhall be put in Iſſue, which no Jury can try. It was ſaid by the Court in this Caſe, That when a Bayliff diſtreins, he ought if he be required, to ſhew the cauſe of his Diſtreſs, but if he be not required, he is not tyed to do it. But at laſt the Court agreed, That the traverſe was well taken. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Bullers Caſe. Leon. 50.

13. In Evidence to a Jury in a Replevin brought by I. S. againſt one B. for taking of Cattel; the Defendant made Conuſans, and he ſaid, That J. D. was ſeiſed of ſix Acres of Lands, and granted a Rent out of that, to his Son in tail, and for Rent behind, he avowed; the Iſſue was, That the Rent did not paſs by the Grant. It was holden in that Caſe, That the avowant ought to prove, that the Grantor was ſeiſed of ſix Acres or more, and not of four or five Acres, if he will maintain his Iſſue. Trin. 19 Jac. in C. B. Bennets Caſe. Winch. 15.

14. In a Replevin, the Defendant ſaid, That he had property in the Beaſts, abſque hoc, that the property was in the Plaintiff, and ſo prayed Judgment of the Writ. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, for that in no book is found ſuch a traverſe as this, that the Plaintiff had not property, but only that the property was in the Defendant. And 2. The concluſion of his plea is not good. It was ſaid by Hobart Juſtice, That an Action of Detinue affirms the property at the time of the Action, but a Replevin the time of the taking; and two men may have ſuch property in the ſame thing, that every of them may have a Replevin. It was ſaid by a Serjeant at Bar, not of Council in the Caſe, That the Book of Entries is, That the Defendant might traverſe the property of the Plaintiff. Hutton Juſtice ſaid, That was never ſeen. The whole Court agreed, That this being after Verdict, Judgment ſhould be given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Winch. 26.

15. In a Replevin betwixt S. and R. who made Conuſans as Bayliff to the Earl of B. and ſhewed, that the Land was parcel of ſuch a Chauntry, which came to King E. 6. by the Statute of 1 E. 6. and pleaded the ſaving, by which the Right of others was ſaved; and ſhewed, that ſo much Rent was behind, upon which he made Conuſans. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Land is out of the Fee and Seignory of the Earl of B. It was holden, That that was no plea, for he confeſſed ſo much in his Avowry, and this Avowry is not for Rent ſervice, for the Seignory is extinct by Act of Parliament, but this is for Rent reſerved by the ſaving of the Act of Parliament, and this is a Rent Seck, and diſtreinable for the Privilege which was before, and it was holden, That he might Traverſe the Tenure, that at the time of the making of the Statute, nor ever after, this was ever holden of the Earl of B. Paſc. 22 Jac. in C. B. Stephens and Randalls Caſe. Winch. 77.

16. In a Replevin, for taking of 4. Oxen at C. in the County of L. in a place there called Dowgate Leys: The Defendant ſaid, That the place contained 4. Acres in C. magna, which was his Freehold, and Juſtifies the taking Damage Feaſants. The Plaintiff in barr to the Avowry Replyes, That the place where, &c. lyes in a place called H. quarter parcel of a great Field called E. in C. aforeſaid, and that the Plaintiff at the time, time, and long before was ſeiſed of a Meſſuage and 14. Acres of Land Meadow and Paſture to the ſaid Meſſuage belonging; and that he and all thoſe whoſe Eſtate he had, ought to have Common, and ſo preſcribed to have Common for him, his Farmers and Tenants, &c. for all Cattle Commonable Levant and Couchant upon the Tenements. Upon Iſſue taken upon the Common, it was found for the Plaintiff. In Arreſt of Judgment, It was moved, That it did not appear by the Barr to the Avowry, in what place the Meſſuage and Land, to which the Common did appertain, did lye; viz. Whether it did lye in C, or in any other place, or County; which of neceſſity ought to be ſhewed, becauſe the Tenure ought to be both of the place where the Meſſuage and Land did lye, and of the place where the Land did lye, to which the Common was claimed; and therefore of neceſſity it ought to be ſhewed in Certain, and ſhall not be of neceſſity intended to be in C. where the Common is: For a Common may be appurtenant or appendant to Land in another County. And for that defect, the Judgment was Arreſted per Curiam. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. Braxall and Thorolds Caſe, Brownl. 1. Part, 188.

17. In a Replevin, the Caſe appeared to be, That the Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That if a Copyhold Tenant ſuffer his houſe to be ruined for want of Reparation, that he might be amerced, and that the Lord might diſtrain the Cattell as well of the Tenant, as of the under-Tenant Levant and Couchant upon the Land for the Amercement: A Copyholder ſuffered his houſe to go to ruine for want of Reparations, and afterwards made a Leaſe of his Copyhold Meſſuage for a year; and the Lord diſtrained the Under-Tenant. In this Caſe, It was holden by the Court, That it was a good Cuſtome, and alſo a good Diſtreſſe. And in that Caſe, It was ſaid, That the Amercement is not only perſonall, but is a Charge upon the Land, and the Diſſeiſee is but a pledg, and therefore a ſtranger might be diſtrained by ſuch a Cuſtome, Hill. 17 Car. in B.R. Thorn and Tylers Caſe, Marſh, 161.

18. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A man claimed Common for his Cattell Levant and Couchant upon the Land in a Field called D, when the ſaid Field was unſowed with Corn; and ſet forth, That he put 6. Kine, and uſed his Common in the ſaid Field, becauſe the Field was not ſowed with Corn. The Defendant in his Avowry ſhewed, That part of the Field was then ſowed with Corn. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That ſowing parcel of the Field, ſhould not hinder the Plaintiff from uſing his Common in the reſidue, for that might be done by Covin, to deceive the Commoner of his Common. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Tinelack and Rigbyes Caſe, Brownlow. 1. Part, 189.

19. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A man granted a Rent out of certain Lands, and limited the ſame to be paid at a houſe which was another place of the Land; and in the Grant was this Clauſe, That if the Rent were behind, and lawfully demanded at the houſe, that then it ſhould be lawful for the Grantee to diſtrain: the Rent was behind, and the Grantee diſtrains; and upon Trayerſe taken upon the demand, Whether this Diſtreſſe upon the Land were a good demand, as this Caſe is, was the Queſtion? It was the Opinion of the Court, That there ſhould be a Demand: For it was ſaid, It is part of the Contract, and like a Condition precedent: For as in a Condition precedent, a man ought to perform the Condition, before he take any thing by the Grant; ſo in this caſe, the Grantee ought to make a demand to enable him to diſtrain; for before the Demand by the manner of the Grant, he is not entituled to a Diſtreſſe. Trin. 17 Car. in C.B. Selden and Kings Caſe, Marſh, 147.

20. In a Replevin, Avowry was made for an Amercement in a Leet, and ſhewed, That he was ſeiſed of the Mannor in Fee, and that he and all, &c. have had a Court-Leet, &c. The Plaintiff traverſed, That he was ſeiſed of the Mannor in Fee. The Court was of Opinion, That if the Defendant had but a Reputed Mannor, it would maintain the Avowry, although he had no Mannor in truth. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B.

Repli-

Replication.

What Replication ſhall be good; What not. Where, and to what barr; What not. Where made good by the Rejoynder: Where it muſt be general; Where ſpecial. And of divers other matters concerning Replications.

1. TReſpaſſe for entring his Houſe, and breaking his Cloſe in D. The Defendant pleaded, That the Houſe and Cloſe in which the Treſpaſs is ſuppoſed, contains 20. Acres, and is, and was, his Freehold. The Plaintiff Replyed, Quod locus et clauſa, in quo ſupponitur tranſgreſſio eſt unum, Meſſuagium, and makes title to it. Upon Not-guilty, It was found againſt the Plaintiff; for that by his Replication, he doth make Title but to a Meſſuage, which doth not maintain the Declaration, which was for a Meſſuage and Cloſe. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldſtor. 158.

2. Note; It was moved to the Court, That when the Defendant pleads in barr to the Action, and the Plaintiff Replyes, and the Defendant doth demur ſpecially upon the Replication, and the Barr is inſufficient, Whether the Juſtices ſhall give Judgment upon the Replication, or ſhall reſort unto the inſufficient Barr, the Replication being alſo inſufficient. It was the Opinion of the Court, That when the Action is of ſuch a nature, that the Writ and the Count doth comprehend the Title, as a Formedon, or the like, then becauſe there is a ſufficient Title for the demandant by the Writ and Count, ſo as the Judges may ſafely proceed to Judgment for the Plaintiff, there they ſhall reſort to the Inſufficient Barr: Contrary, where the Title doth commence only by the Replication; as in an Aſſiſe, Treſpaſs, &c. Trin. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Zouch and Bonfields Caſe, Godbolt, 138. Leon. 75. the ſame Caſe.

3. Debt upon an Obligation of 500 l. to perform the Award of A. and B; The Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrators did not make any Award. The Plaintiff ſhewed the Award in his Replication, but did not aſſign any breach. Upon Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court, That although the Verdict was found for the Plaintiff, yet he could not have Judgment, becauſe there was defect in the Replication, in that he did not aſſign a Breach, and ſo had no cauſe of Action; and the ſame being matter of ſubſtance, is not helped by the Statute: Judgment was ſtayed, Paſch. 7 Jac. in B.R. Barrs and Fletchers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 220.

4. Ejectione Firmæ, upon a Leaſe made by A: The Defendant pleaded, That before A. had any thing, J. S. was ſeiſed, and had Iſſue H, and dyed ſeiſed, and that the Land diſcended to H. his Son and Heir; and that A. entred, and was ſeiſed by Abatement, and made the Leaſe. The Defendant Replies; and confeſſed the Seiſin of J. S: and ſaid, That he Deviſed the Lands to A. in Fee, and dyed; by force of which, A. entred, and was ſeiſed by force of the Deviſe; Without that, that A. was ſeiſed by Abatement. Upon which, It was demurred. In this Caſe, It was adjudged for the Defendant; for that the Traverſe was not good: for the Plaintiff made Title under A. the Deviſee, and ſo his Entry was lawfull, and not by Abatement; and then to take a Traverſe makes the Replication vitious: for no Traverſe ought to be, where the thing traverſable is Iſſuable, And alſo, it was not good for the manner of it; for it ought not to be, That A. was ſeiſed by Abatement; but without that, That A. did abate. Paſch. 7 Jac. in B.R. Eedel and Luſt's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 221.

5. Debt upon an Obligation; The Defendant pleaded, It was upon Condition, to ſtand to the Award of J. S; who awarded, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff at ſuch a day 100 l. or find two Sureties to be bound with him, to pay the 100 l. to the Plaintiff, by 20 l. per annum, till the whole was paid; and that he had performed the Award. The Defendant ſaid, He had not paid him the 100 l. and ſo aſſigned the breach: upon which, the Defendant did demur. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Replication was good; for although the Award be ſet down in words diſjunctive, yet in Law, in ſubſtance, it is ſingle: for as to the finding of the Sureties, the Award is void, ſo as nothing is awarded, but the payment of the 100 l. at the day; to which the Plaintiff by his Replication hath fully Anſwered. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Oldfield and Willners Caſe, Leon. 140.

6. Scire facias againſt K. R. Adminiſtratrix of J. R. upon a Judgment for a debt due by the Inteſtate: The Defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate made his Will, and made E. R. his ſon within age, his Executor; and that Adminiſtration was committed to her durante minore ætate; and that E. R. at 17. years refuſed to be Executor, and that Adminiſtration was committed to J. S; and that at the time E. R. came of full age, ſhe had fully adminiſtred all the Eſtate which came to her hands. The Plaintiff Replyed, That at the time E. R. came of full age, devaſtavit diverſa bona of the Inteſtate, unde ſatisfeciſſe potuit to him his debt. The Defendant Rejoyned, Quod ipſa non devaſtavit aliqua bonorum, &c. Which upon Iſſue, was found for the Defendant. It was moved, That there was not any Iſſue joyned; for in his Replication, he doth not alledge, That K. the Defendant devaſtavit, but quod devaſtavit, and K. is not named. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Iſſue was well joyned; for there is no mention who devaſtavit in the Replication; and therefore it muſt be Intended, That the Mother of the Executor devaſtavit: And the Rejoynder being Quod predict. K. non devaſtavit: for ſhe was the Adminiſtratrix, and no other could make the Devaſtavit. And K. in her Replication ſaith, Quod ipſa non Devaſtavit; and hereupon a Verdict was: which the Plaintiff ſhall not avoid by an Exception to his own Replication. Judgment was given for the Defendant. Trin. 3 Car. in B. R. Oxford and Rivetts Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 57. and 66.

7. Treſpaſs of Aſſault and Battery; The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff aſſaulted him, and would have beat him and wounded him, and what he did, was in his own defence. The Plaintiff Replyed, That he had a Special Warrant from the Sheriff to arreſt him upon Attachment, and that he laid hands upon him, and the Defendant reſcued himſelf, and beat the Plaintiff, de injuria ſua propria; Et hoc eſt paratus verificare. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Replication was not good, becauſe he did not conclude his Plea, Et hoc petit quod inquiratur per Patriam, but relyed upon his Plea, Mich. 4 Car. in B. R. Dunſtomb and Smiths Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 117.

8. Errour in the Exchequer, upon a Judgment in debt upon an Obligation; The Errour aſſigned was, That there was not a breach alledged,: For the Condition being, That he ſhould enjoy ſuch Lands without Evi'ction, the Breach was aſſigned by Recovery by Verdict, in Ejectione Firmæ, upon a Leaſe made to one E; and doth not ſhew what Title E. had to make the Leaſe; but avers, That E. had good Title; and it might be, he had a title derived from the Plaintiff after the Obligation made: and therefore he ought to ſhew, That he had good and Eigne Title before the Leaſe made. And for this caſe, It was holden by all the Juſtices, That the Replication was not good, Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Kirby and Hanſteers Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 315.

9. Debt upon an Obligation, to perform the Award of J. S: The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. made an Award, That whereas there was a Suit by the Defendant in Chancery againſt the Plaintiff for ſuch a Cauſe, That that Suit ſhould ceaſe, and that the Plaintiff ſhould ſtand as quitted de qualibet materia, in eadem contenta: and avers, That he did not farther proſecute the ſaid Suit, and that the Plaintiff alwayes ſtetit inde quietus of every matter in the Bill. The Plaintiff by Replication ſhewed, That before the ſubmiſſion, the Defendant exhibited Quandam Billam in the Chancery againſt the Plaintiff, and ſets it down Certain; and that after the Arbitrament, he exhibited, quandam aliam Billam; and averrs, That they were both for one and the ſame Cauſe, and the matter in the laſt was in the firſt. It was Objected, That it was not ſufficient to ſay, Quod ſtetit Quietus; but he ought to ſhew how he was diſcharged. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Plea was good; for there is a difference, where one is bound to acquit another of ſuch a Suit, or ſuch a debt; there he ought to procure his actual diſcharge. But the Arbitrament being, Quod ſtaret acquietus, but that by that Arbitrament he ſhould be acquitted, which is ſufficient; And where Arbitrators award, That one ſhall be quit againſt the other, it is a good barr in an Action brought by any of them. 2. It was holden, That the Replication was not good, becauſe it was not ſhewed, that any Subpœna was ſued out upon the Roll. It was adjudged for the Defendant, Paſch. 12 Jac. in B. R. Fretman and Sheenes Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 339, 340.

10. Errour of a Judgment in Derby, in Debt againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father, the Defendant pleaded reins per diſcent. The Plaintiff Replyed, Aſſetts, but did not ſhew any place. It was found for the Plaintiff: Errour brought, Becauſe he did not ſhew in his Replication, any place where the Aſſetts ſhould be. The Court held it to be erronious: For Intendment ſhall never hold it, and that the Replication was ill: And the Judgment was reverſed, Mich. 16 Jac. in B. R. Bown and Carringtons Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 502, 503. See Clark and Broughtons Caſe, ibid. adjudged acc.

11. Ejectione Firmæ; The Plaintiff declares of a Leaſe made by J. B: The Defendant pleaded, That the Land was Copyhold parcel of the Manor of S; of which the King was ſeiſed; and by his Steward ſuch a day granted the ſame to him in Fee, to hold at Will according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, and that he was admitted; and ſo Juſtifies. The Plaintiff Replyed, That before the King had any thing, &c. Queen Elizabeth was ſeiſed in Fee in the right of the Crown, who, by her Steward, at ſuch a Court granted the Land in Queſtion to him in Fee, to hold at Will, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, who was admitted and entred. It was demurred, becauſe the Plaintiff ought to have traverſed the Grant alledged by him in his Barr. But the Court held the Replication good, for the Plaintiff hath confeſſed and avoided the Defendant's Title, by a former Copy granted by the Queen, and ſo needed not traverſe the Grant to the Defendant. Paſch. 10 Jac. in B. R. Rice and Haverſtons Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 299.

12. Treſpaſs; for that the Defendant took and impriſoned the Plaintiff for the ſpace of a Moneth: The Defendant Juſtified by a Writ out of the Exchequer, to take the Plaintiff and his Lands, untill the King was ſatisfied. And the Sheriff of S. took the Plaintiff in Execution by a Latitat at the Suit of R. D; and in exitu ab Officio left him in the Priſon to R. H. being Sheriff. his Succeſſor. The Plaintiff Replyed, That quoad the Execution out of the Exchequer, that there was a Superſedeas unto the Defendant Quod cum deliberaret, ſi ea de cauſa et non alia ſuit impriſonatus, and as to the detainment by the Latitat, he pleaded, That R. B. commanded the Sheriff to diſcharge him of that Action, before that Impriſonment, and made to the Sheriff a Releaſe of that Suit. The Defendant demurred upon the Replication. It was the Opinion of the Court in this caſe, That the Superſedeas was as good cauſe to diſcharge him, as the firſt Proceſs was to Arreſt him; and in regard he hath not done it, he is chargeable to falſe Impriſonment. 2. It was Objected, That the Sheriff was not bound to obey the Plaintiff's diſcharge upon the Latitat: for although a Sheriff upon a Plaintiffs Command, may let a Priſoner out of Execution; yet he is not bound to do it. But the Court held the Replication good enough: For as well as the Sheriff may take Notice of the party to Arreſt him at his Suit; ſo he is to take knowledg of the party to accept his diſcharge. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Withers and Henley's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part, 379.

13. Errour; The Caſe was; J. W. Adminiſtrator of J. R. de bonis non adminiſtr. of J. T. Executor of J. A. not adminiſtred by J. S. Adminiſtrator of J. A, brought Debt againſt H. the Plaintiff. The Defendant pleaded, That the ſaid J. A. made the ſaid J. T. his Executor, who adminiſtred, and after dyed, and made one J. D. his Executor, who took upon him the Execution of the Will of the ſaid J. T, and adminiſtred divers of the Goods; which J. D. is alive. The Plaintiff Replyed, That bene et verum eſt, that J. A. made J. T. his Executor, who adminiſtred the Goods, and dyed, and made J. D. his Executor; but ſaid, That J. T. did not prove the Will of the ſaid J. A; and that the ſaid J. D. before he received Onus Teſtamenti of the ſaid J. T. refuſed before the Ordinary, ſuch a day, to adminiſter his Goods as Executor to him: Upon which the Defendant did Demur. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff; And Errour brought, and aſſigned for Errour, That the Replication was a Departure from the Declaration. The Opinion of the Court was for the Defendant in the Writ of Errour, and that the firſt Judgment ſhould be affirmed; for that the Declaration was good, That he adminiſtred as Executor: And the Replicatson is not any Departure: For that ſhews, How that he was Executor quoad Adminiſtration, but not abſolute Executor, becauſe he had not proved the Will; and then when he dyed without Probate, the firſt Teſtator dyed Inteſtate. 2. It was holden, That he might well aſſent to be Executor to one Teſtator, and refuſe for the other. Mich 17 Jac. in B.R. Hayton and Wolfet Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 614.

14. Debt upon an Obligation, to ſtand to an Award: The Plaintiff declared of an Award made 28. May, ſuch a year to be delivered up the 29. day of May the ſame year. The Defendant pleaded, Nullum Arbitrium. The Plaintiff Replyed, The Award was made by the Umpier, 28 May, ready to be delivered up the ſame 28 of May. The Defendant demurred to the Replication, for doubleneſſe; one in his Declaration; the other in his Replication: for, the Award ſet forth in the Declaration, and that in the Replication, cannot be intended to be one and the ſame. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Iſſue to be tryed, is not to be taken upon the day of the Award made, and ſo it cannot be double; and one cannot demur for the doubleneſſe of the matter upon a thing upon which no Iſſue can be taken. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Tylers Caſe. Styles, 41.

15. Debt upon Obligation: The Plaintiff declared, That whereas at the requeſt of the Defendant he became bound to a third perſon, for the payment of a certain ſum of money unto J. S. at a day certain, wherein the Defendant became bound to pay the money to J. S. at the day limited, for which the Plaintiff was bound; and in the mean time, ſhould ſave him harmleſſe, Then the Obligation to be void. The Defendant pleaded, That he cauſed the party with whom the Plaintiff was bound to ſubmit himſelf to Priſon, and that the Plaintiff was not damnified. The Plaintiff Replyes, and denyes not the Barr, but ſayes, That a Latitat was ſued out againſt him, and that he feared to be Arreſted. The Defendant Demurred upon the Declaration, becauſe he doth not ſay, He took out the Latitat prout patet per recordum; and Queſtioned, how the Words, in the mean time, ſhould be underſtood. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not neceſſary to plead Non Damnificatus, if the party be in Priſon; and the words in the mean time refer to the laſt words of the Condition. But the Court ſaid, That here the one pleaded an ill Plea, and the other hath alledged an ill Breach: and therefore they would Adviſe. Paſch. 1652. in B.R. Young and Petits Caſe, Styles 356.

16. Debt upon an Obligation, for not performance of Covenants by an Under-Sheriff. One Covenant was, That he ſhould not execute any Extent, of any ſum above the ſum of 20 l. before he had firſt given Notice to the Sheriff of the Writ: and if any ſuch Writ of Execution were above 20 l, that he ſhould not execute it, without ſpecial Warrant of the High Sheriff. The Defendant pleaded, That he had performed all the Covenants. It was the Opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, in that Caſe, That if the Covenant had not been againſt Law for Executions above 20 l; and that the Barr had been inſufficient, becauſe he did not plead Negatively to the Covenant, That yet if the Replication were naught, and aſſigned no ſufficient Breach, the Plaintiff could not have had Judgment; For although the Action were well brought, yet when it appeareth, that the Condition was for performance of Coverants, there can be no cauſe of Action, without ſome Covenant broken; and therefore in that caſe, the Plaintiff could not have had Judgment, And if it doth appear to the Court, that the Plaintiff hath no cauſe of Action, he ſhall never have Judgment, although the Barr be inſufficient, and although he hath thereupon a Verdict againſt the Defendant. Paſch. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sir Daniel Norton and Syms Caſe, Hob. 13. & 14.

17. King Henry 8. made a Leaſe for years to Colthurſt, excepting great Trees, and after granted the Reverſion and Trees to the Duke of Northumberland, who demiſed the Land and Trees to J. S. without impeachment of Waſte: The Duke is Attainted; and the Queen granted the Fee to S, who enfeoffed J. D. in Fee, and was bound to ſave harmleſſe the ſaid J. D, and the premiſſes touching the Intereſt of J. S. by the Leaſe. Afterwards J. S. felled Trees; J. D. brought Debt upon the Obligation. It was the Opinion of the Court, Becauſe he ſhewed not in his Replication, That J. S. claimed the Trees by virtue of the Leaſe, nor made his Concluſion, Sic Damnificatus. it was adjudged againſt him. Trin. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 185.

18. Debt upon an Obligation, The Condition was, Whereas the Plaintiff had taken J. S. as an Apprentice, That if J. S. ſhould Waſte or Conſume any of his Goods, and that duly proved by the Confeſſion of J. S. or otherwiſe, That then the Obligor, his Executors, &c. within three moneths after due proof and Notice thereof given to him or them, ſhould render him recompence and ſatisfaction. The Defendant pleaded, That there was no proof made, &c. The Plaintiff Replyed, That there came to the hands of the Apprentice 4000 l. of his in Flemmiſh Money, whereof he imbezelled and waſted as much thereof as came to 400 l; and that he confeſſed it by a Writing under his hand. It being found for the Plaintiff, Errour was brought, and aſſigned; becauſe it is not ſaid to whom he made the Confeſſion in the Replication. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Replication was good; for here it ſhall be taken to be underſtood of a voluntary confeſſion according to the common acceptation, and not to a Confeſſion in a Court of Record; and it is good enough, becauſe it anſwered the words of the Condition. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Death and Golds Caſe, Hobart, 92, 93.

19. Treſpaſſe; The Defendant Juſtified, becauſe it was the Freehold of J. Marqueſs of Winton, and by his Command. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Land is parcell of the Manner of A; and that W. was ſeiſed in Fee of the ſaid Manor, and levied a Fine thereof to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for their Lives, the Remainder to Ed. Pawlet for 100 years, if he ſo long lived; W. and his Wife both dyed; Ed. entred, and let to him for 21. years; who entred, and averred the life of Edward. It was Demurred hereupon, becauſe the Replication doth not anſwer nor confeſſe and avoid the Freehold of J. Marqueſſe of Winton, which was alledged in the Barr. It was holden by the Court, That the Barr being a Barr at large, the Title in his Replication being at large, his claiming but a Leaſe for years, is a ſufficient Replication, without Anſwering to the Freehold. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 10 Jac. in B. R. King and Cokes Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 279.

20. Treſpaſſe of Aſſault and Battery; The Defendant Juſtified in his own defence, by reaſon of an Aſſault upon him. Upon Iſſue joyned, upon Evidence, the Defendant gives in Evidence an Aſſault and Battery upon the Plaintiff, 2. July, 13. Car. before, and produced Witneſſes to prove it. The Plaintiff ſhewed, That the Battery which he intended, was 9. July, 13 Car. and he alſo produced Witneſſes to prove it. The Defendant's Councel moved, That it was no Evidence; for that the Plaintiff ought to have made a ſpeciall Replication, and ſhewed that ſpeciall matter. But the Opinion of the Court was, That that was not requiſite; and if another day had been ſhewed in the Replication, it ſhould be a Departure: and it ſufficeth to ſhew it in Evidence, to be done at another day (ſon Aſſault demeſne); for the day is not material. Paſch. 14 Car. in B.R. Thurston and Lyſters Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 370.

21. Debt brought in London againſt one, as Son and Heir, upon an Obligation made by his Father, who pleaded, Nothing by Diſcent at the time of the Writ brought, nor ever after. The Defendant Replyed, Aſſetts in London in Parochia et Ward. de A; and afterwards the Plaintiff gave in Evidence, Aſſetts in Cornwall. It was conceived, 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271. that the Jury could not find this locall matter in a Forrein County. But ſee, Cook 6. Part, 47. in Dowdall's Caſe; Where it is Reſolved, That where the place is material, and when it is made parcell of the Iſſue, there the Jury cannot find the Point in Iſſue in another place; becauſe by ſpecial pleading, the Point is reſtrained to a certain place. 2. There is a difference, where the place is named for Conformity and Neceſſity; and where it is parcell of the Iſſue: And therefore it was agreed, That in the Caſe above put, of 10 Eliz. Dyer, 271. That in Debt brought againſt the Heir, and he pleads, Nothing by Diſcent, generally, the Plaintiff cannot Reply in ſo generall a manner; for then no Tryall can be thereupon: but in ſuch caſe, for conformity and neceſſity of Tryall, he ought to name a certain place, as there he did, within a Ward within London. But yet in that caſe, It was holden, That the Jury might find Aſſetts in any other County whatſoever, Cook 6. Part, 47. in Dowdalls Caſe.

22. Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator, upon a Bond of 600 l. made by the Inteſtate; The Defendant pleaded in Barr a Recovery of 100 l. to the King, and another Recognizance of 800 l. to J. S. pro vero et juſto debito; and pleaded another Recognizance to J. D. of 1000 l. pro vero et juſto debito; and pleaded divers other Recognizances of great value, and that ſhe had fully Adminiſtred, and that Nulla habet bona, which were the Inteſtate's in manibus ſuis præterquam bona ad valentiam, of the ſaid Recognizance to the King, and the other Recognizances, and averred, That all the ſaid Recognizances remained in force, et quod ipſa nulla, five alia, five plura habet bona, præterquam bona, quæ non ſufficient ad ſatisfaciend. prædict. debita ſeperalia. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the ſaid Recognizance to J. S. was for the ſecurity of 400 l; which 400 l. the Inteſtate paid to J. S. in his life-time, in full diſcharge of the ſaid 800 l; which 400 l. J. S. received; and pleaded, That the other Recognizances were for performance of Covenants, all which were performed, and that all the ſaid Recognizances did remain by fraud and Covin of the Adminiſtrator, not cancelled, to defraud the Plaintiff of his juſt debt; and averred, That the Adminiſtrator had Goods in her hands of the Inteſtates, præterquam bona ad valentiam of the ſaid 100 l. due to the King. Upon which, the Defendant did Demur in Law. Divers Exceptions were taken to the Plaintiff's Replication; 1. Becauſe the Plaintiff in the Replication had averred, That the Recognizance to J. S. of 800 l. was made pro ſecuritate ſolutionis 400 l. and ſo have taken averment againſt the Recognizance, which is matter of Record. 2. It is not averred, When the 400 l. was paid. 3. Becauſe they have not traverſed, That the Recognizance to J. D. was not acknowledged pro vero et juſto debito. 4. Becauſe the Plaintiff's in their Replication averr, That the Recognizance remained not diſcharged, by Covin of the Defendant, to defraud the Plaintiffs of their Debt; and the Defendant alone cannot commit Covin: for that Covin ought to be betwixt two. But in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Barr was inſufficient; for the Defendant confeſſeth, That ſhe had Aſſetts to pay the ſaid Recognizances; and after denyeth. 2. She ſaid, She had Aſſetts, but not ſufficient; but ſhe ought to confeſſe how much ſhe had, becauſe ſhe acknowledged Aſſetts. 3. Reſolved, That the Replication of the Plaintiffs was good, and that their pleading, That the Obligation was made to perform Covenants, was good without more certainty, becauſe they are ſtrangers. 4. That the generall allegation of Covenants, by the Plaintiffs in their Replication, was good, without ſhewing of Refuſal to releaſe. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cook 9. Part, 108, 109. Meriel Treſhams Caſe.

23. In a Replevin; the taking was ſuppoſed to be in K: The Defendant ſaid, That the place is 40 Acres parcell of the Manor of K, which is his Freehold. The Plaintiff Replyed, and ſaid, That the place is parcel of the Manor of K. in K, and conveyed to himſelf Title to that, abſq; hoc, that the ſaid Manor of K. unde, &c. was the Freehold of the Defendant: In that caſe it was holden, That he was eſtopped to give Evidence, that the the Defendant had not any Mannor of K; for the abſq; hoc, and the word unde, implyes, that he had ſuch a Mannor: But the Plaintiff ought to have taken by Proteſtation, That the Defendant had no ſuch Mannor of K; and have Replyed, That it was parcell of the Mannor of K. in K, to which he himſelf conveyed Title; abſq; hoc, that the ſaid 40 Acres was the Freehold of the Defendant. Paſch. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 183.

2. Pope Urban, at the requeſt of the Baron of Greyſtock, founded a Colledge of a Maſter and ſix Prieſts, reſident in Greyſtock, and aſſigned to each of the Prieſts five Marks per annum, beſides their bed and chamber; and the Maſter 40 l. per annum, and the ſame was certified into the Book of Firſt Fruits and Tenths, Rectoriam & Eccleſiam de Greyſtock; which Colledge was in being five years before the Act of 1 E. 6. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That this Reputative Colledge was not given to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. becauſe it wanted a lawful beginning, and the countenance of lawful Commencement; for the Pope cannot found a Colledge within this Realm, but it ought to be done by the King himſelf, and no other: And it is there ſaid, That *Nomen non ſufficit, ſi res non ſubjunt & falſa. 3. King E. 1. anno 12. of his Reigne, granted to T. B. Biſhop of St. Davids, and his Succeſſors, the Advowſon of 34 Churches in Wales within his Dioceſs, to hold of the King and his Succeſſors, in as the Biſhop and his Succeſſors might appropriate them, or any of them, to their Church of St. Davids, and Aberguelly, or annex Prebends to them in their ſaid Churches; Three years after, with the Kings aſſent, he erected or eſtabliſhed a Colledg, or Collegiate Church, in Landwybeny, being one of the 34 Churches, and ordained 13 Channons ſecular there; ſcil. five Prieſts, four Deacons, and four Subdeacons, and of them made Prebends and Prebendaries, and annexed and appropriated 13 of the ſaid Churches to them, and reſerved to himſelf and Succeſſors as Dean, Locum in Choreo, & vocem in Capitulo, and Viſitation; in which the Biſhop did not purſue the power and authority given him by the Letters Patents. Afterwards E. 3. reciting the ſame foundation of the ſaid Colledge, and of all other the premiſſes, by his Letters Patents, granted and confirmed to the Biſhop of St. Davids, and his Succeſſors, all that which his Predeceſſor had in the Premiſſes, notwithſtanding the Statute of Mortmain. It was the Opinion of the Court in that Caſe, That notwithſtanding all that was done without the Kings Licence, yet by the ſaid Letters Patents, the ſaid Colledge continued a Colledge in Reputation, and that this Colledge was given to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. becauſe it had the countenance of a Colledge by the Kings Letters Patents, although for the cauſe aforeſaid, the ſame were of no effect. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer, 269.

4. Note, It was Reſolved, That a Chauntry or Colledge in Reputation, and not in Law, was given to King E. 6. by the Statute of 1 E 6. within theſe words: All, and all manner of Chauntries, Colledges, &c. In 29 Eliz. in the Chancery, upon an Aid Preyer of the King. The Caſe was, Between the Lord St. John Plaintiff, and the Dean and Chapter of Gloceſter Defendant, for the Parſonage Impropriate of Penmark, in the County of Glamorgan; becauſe that the Patron (who before the Appropriation had granted the Advowſon to the Body Eccleſiaſtical, to which the Appropriation was made) in 18 H. 2. was but Tenant in Tail; and yet alwayes it continued as a Church Impropriate. It was Reſolved by the Lord Chancellor (being aſſiſted with ſome of the Judges) That that Rectory by Reputation was given to the King by the Statute of Monaſteries: The Lord St. John, and the Dean and Chapter of Gloceſters Caſe. Vouch. in Cook 11. Part, 13. in Pridle and Nappers Caſe.

5. The Parſonage of Bulbenham in the County of Leiceſter, 22 E. 4. was appropriated to the Abbot bot of Sudbury, but no Vicarage was endowed (for upon every Appropriation, a Vicar ought to be endowed) according to the Act of 4 H. 4. but there had continued a Vicar there in Reputation, and the Rectory continued also appropriated. In that Case it was Resolved in the Exchequer, That the said Rectory was given to the King by the Statute of Monasteries, Trin. 30 Eliz. Grimes and Smiths Case. See 40 E. 3. The Church of Kimbolton was Appropriated, and there was a defect in the Appropriation, That the Earl of Hereford who granted the Advowson of the said Church to the Body Ecclesiastical, to which the Appropriation was made, was but Tenant in Tail; and yet it was clearly Resolved, That the said Rectory was given to King H. 8. by the Statute of Monasteries. 6. A Tenant for life of the Manor of D. the Remainder to B. in Fee; B. and her Husband levied a Fine 10 Eliz. of all the Demesnes of the said Manor, by certain quantities of Acres, which included all the Demesnes, and granted and rendred the Demesne to J. S. for 50 years, rending Rent, and granted the Reversion to the Husband and Wife, and to the Heirs of the Wife; and in the Indentures which lead the use of the Fine, It was agreed, That the Husband and Wife should have Ingress, Egress, and Regress, to hold Courts upon the said Demesnes; and averred, That the said Demesnes and Services were within the County known, reputed, and called by the name of the Manor of D. 16 Eliz. another Fine was levyed by the said Husband and Wife, of divers other Mannors of the Wife, except the Manor of D. in which Fine, so many Acres were contained, as were sufficient to pass the said Demesnes to the use of the Wife for life, with divers Remainders over. In this Case (amongst other points) it was Resolved, That the Exception in the Fine 16 Eliz. by the name of the Mannor of D. was sufficient to except it out of the Fine; for that was the Intention of the parties, for they did not intend the dismembring or destroying of the said Manor; for provision was made to have Egress and Regress to hold Courts of the Mannor; also, the parties to the Fine in 16 Eliz. thought it to be a Manor; and there it is excepted, by the name of a Manor, and the intent of the parties was to exclude it out of the Fine in 16 Eliz. and to include it in a subsequent Fine levied, 23 Eliz. where it is named by the name of a Mannor. Cook 6. Part, 63. Sir Moyle Finches Case.

7. In an Ejectione firmæ, A Lease was made of a Mannor, and Issue was joyned, Quod non demisit Mencrium, and a special Verdict was given, That there was not any Freeholders, but divers Copyholders of the said Mannor, and that it was known by the name of a Mannor: It was adjudged in that Case, That although it was not a Mannor in Law, for want of Freeholders; and although it was impleading in an Action adversary, and not amicable; yet because the Issue was found, and that in truth the Lands passed by the Lease, It was adjudged for him who had the Lease of the Mannor, Mich. 23 Eliz. in B. R. Vines and Dwhams Case, ibid.

8. In a Replevin, the Case was, Sir Francis Ask.w was seized of the Mannor of Cofford in Fee, which Mannor did extend unto Dreiton, North Kelsey, South Kelsey. D. and C. had Demeans and Services, parcel of the said Mannor in each of the said Towns, and granted Manerium suum de North Kelsey in North Kelsey to B. and his Heirs; and further granted all his Lands and Tenements in North Kelsey; and to the Grant, the Tenants in North Kelsey did attorn: The Question was, if by this Grant to B. a Mannor passed or not. It was said, That upon this Grant, no Mannor passed, but that the Lands and Services in North Kelsey should pass as in gross, for they were not known by a Mannor, but for parcel of a Mannor: But in this Case, it was holden by the Justices, That in as much as Sir Francis Askew had before this Grant, as well Demeans as Services in North Kelsey, it may be said collaterally a Mannor there, and that, notwithstanding Tempore Concessionis (propriè loquendo) no Mannor was in North Kelsey, yet now by operation of Law, upon this new Grant, a new Mannor shall arise: And whereas it was Objected, That a Court Baron is incident to a Mannor, and no Court Baron is alledged to be there; It was holden, That there need not now be any erection of a Court, because the Court Baron before the Grant, might be holden in any place within the Mannor; therefore every part of the Demesnes is capable of a Court to be holden there: And so it was the Opinion of the Court, That a Mannor passed. Pasch. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Marsh and Smiths Case. Lun, 26.

9. In a Replevin, the Defendant avowed for a Rent-charge, and shewed, That A. was seized of the Mannor of W. and 33 H. 6. made a Feoffment of the place, where &c. to one O. rending Rent, and Suit of Court, at the said Manner, and W. was seized thereof, and dyed seized, and that the same descended to B. his son and heir, who was seized of the said Rent, as parcel of the said Mannor; and that the said B. so seized of the said Mannor and Rent, 26 H. 8. bargained and sold the said Mannor and Rent, to the father of the Avowant, by these words, Manerium de W. & omnes, & omnimodas Reddittus, reputed, deemed, & adjudged part or parcel of the said Mannor, who dyed dyed ſeized, and the ſame deſcended to the Avowant as his ſon and heir; and averred, That the ſaid Rent, at the time of the Bargain and Sale, and dia ante, was reputed parcel of the ſaid Mannor: It was Objected in this Caſe, That the Averment in the purchaſe of the Avowry, was contrary to the matter of the Avowry; for the creation of the Rent ſet forth in the Avowry proceſs, That the Rent was not parcel of the Mannor, but a Rent in groſs; and then the Averment, That the Rent is parcel of the Mannor, without ſhewing how, againſt the ſpecial matter of the Avowry, is not traverſeable: Alſo, nothing can be parcel of a Mannor, which in rei veritate cannot be parcel of a Mannor; but a Rent charge cannot be parcel of a Manoor rei veritate, therefore not by Reputation. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That this Rent did not paſs by the Bargain and Sale by B. to the Father of the Avowant; for that in the premiſſes of the Avowry, is not any matter ſet forth importing Reputation: But if the Avowant in his Avowry had ſet forth any ſpecial matter to induce the Court to conceive a Reputation upon the matter in the Avowry, as to ſhew, that the Bayliffs of the ſaid Mannor had alwayes received the ſaid Rent, as parcel of the Mannor, and had accompted for it as parcel of the Mannor, and that the Leſſees had enjoyed the Rent as parcel of the Mannor; the ſame had been good matter to induce Reputation. Judgment was given againſt the Avowant. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Forman and Babuns Caſe. Leon, 13, & 14.

10. The Statute of 1 H. 5. cap. 5. is, That in every Writ Original, in which Proceſs of Outlawry lyeth, that Addition ſhall be given to the Defendants, of their Eſtates, or Degrees, or of their Trade: One who was Yeoman by birth, was commonly called Gentleman. In ſuch Caſe it was adjudged, That in a Writ brought againſt him, he ſhall have the addition of Gentleman, although in truth he be not a Gentleman, but only by vulgar Reputation; for the intent of the Statute is, That he have ſuch a Name by which he may be known. Hill. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Carter's Caſe.

11. If a Grant be made to a Baſtard by the name of him who is ſuppoſed to beget him, it is good, if he be known by ſuch a name: So if a Remainder be limitted Richardo filio Richardi Lawood; It was holden to be good, although he was a Baſtard, if in vulgar Reputation and knowledge he be known by ſuch name. 39 E. 3. 11. acc. Part 6. Part, 65. in Sir Moyle Finches Caſe.

Repugnant, and Repugnancy.

1. IF a Leaſe for life be made upon condition, That if a ſtranger pay to the Leſſor 20 l. that then after the death of Tenant for life, it ſhall remain to the ſtranger; this is a good Remainder. So if a Leaſe be made to the Husband and Wife, and if provided by the ſaid Leaſe, that if A. the eldeſt ſon ſhall dye, living the Husband and Wife, that then it ſhall remain to B. their ſecond ſon for life: In theſe caſes there is no Repugnancy, nor contrariety; becauſe that in the firſt Caſe the ſtranger ſhall have it expreſly after the death of the Tenant for life: But if a Leaſe for life be made upon Condition, That if a ſtranger pay to the Leſſor 20 l. that then immediately the Land ſhall remain to the ſame ſtranger; this Remainder is void, for the Repugnancy and contrariety; for that the Tenant for life ought to have it during his life, during which time the ſtranger cannot have it. Plowd. Com. 33. in Colthurſt and Bejuſhams Caſe.

2. The Cuſtome of London is, That a man may deviſe his purchaſed Lands in Mortmain. A Purchaſer made his Will, and thereby Deviſed, That the Prior of St. Bartholomew, and their Succeſſors, ſhould have the Land, ita quod reddant annuatim Decano & Capitulo Sti. Pauli 16 Marks: and if they failed of payment, that their Eſtate ſhould ceaſe; and that for default of payment, the Dean and Chapter ſhould have the ſaid Lands: the Condition was broken, the Dean and Chapter Entred. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That the Condition was void; and the reaſon was, becauſe no Eſtate could remain after the Fee-ſimple was limitted away; becauſe the Feoffor had determined his Intereſt and Right; and then a ſtranger could not enter for the condition broken. Paſch. 24 H. 8. Dyer, 33.

3. A. made B. and a Woman, his Executors; Provided, That B. ſhould not adminiſter his goods. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That this Proviſo was void for its Repugnancy; for when A. had made them once his Executors, the ſeveral Powers limitted to them afterwards, was void; becauſe when the the intent of a man who makes his Will, agrees not with the Law, his Intent ſhall be taken as void: And therefore, if a man deviſeth Lands to J S. in Fee, and if he dyeth without Heir, that J. D. ſhall have the Land, ſuch a Deviſe is void, as to J. D; becauſe that one Fee-ſimple cannot depend upon another Fee-ſimple by Law. See 19 H. 8. Dyer, 4.

4. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, Demiſed the ſame to one, and B. his ſon, and to the heirs of B. Habendum, until 99 years, and ſo from 99 years, to 99 years, until 300 years were paſſed, without impeachment of Waſte, rendring Rent, if it were demanded: And the Leſſor Covenanted, That he and his Heirs, at the end of the ſaid 300 years, would make to the Heirs of the Leſſee, ſuch another Leaſe for 300 years, but no Livery was made. The Queſtion was, That becauſe that Fee-ſimple was expreſſed in the premiſſes of the Deed, If the Limitation in the Habendum was Repugnant and contrary to the Premiſſes. It was Reſolved, That the Habendum was not contrary to the Premiſſes; and in that caſe, theſe differences were agreed for Law; When things take their eſſence and effect by the delivery of the Deed, and which lye in Grant, without any other Ceremony, there, in ſuch a Limitation to one and his heirs, Habendum, for life or years, is void: The ſame Law if a Seignory be Granted to one and his heirs, Habendum, to the Grantee for years, it is void; but when to an Eſtate limited by the Premiſſes, a Ceremony is requiſite to the perfection, to the eſſence of it, and to the Eſtate limitted by the Habendum, nothing is requiſite but only the delivery of the Deed (as in the Principal Caſe) there although the Habendum be of a leſſer Eſtate then is mentioned in the Premiſſes, the Habendum ſhall ſtand: And therefore it was adjudged in the Principal Caſe, That the Habendum was not repugnant, and that the Leaſe was a good Leaſe. And Note, a difference was taken between an Eſtate in the Premiſſes implyed, and an Eſtate expreſſed; for if A. Grant a Rent to B. generally, the ſame by Implication is an Eſtate for life; but if the Habendum be for years, the ſame qualifies the generality and Implication of the Premiſſes. 2. It was Reſolved in the Principal Caſe, That the uſe, by and to the Heirs of B. upon conſideration had of the whole Deed, were void: and that both the Leſſees had a good Eſtate for years; and if Livery had been made, the ſame ſhould not have changed their Eſtates. Cook 2. Part 23. Baldwins Caſe.

5. Tenant for life, the Remainder in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entered; Tenant for life granted Tenement. p adiſt. to C. Habendum Tenement. prædict. from the Feaſt of Mich. following, for life; Leſſee for years attorned, C. entred, and made a Leaſe at Will, to whom the Tenant for life levyed a Fine cum cæt. &c. he in the Remainder entred, and his entry was adjudged lawful. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other points) That the Grant to C. was void; for an Eſtate of Freehold, cannot begin at a day to come; and the Habendum in this caſe was not contrary to the Premiſſes, for that the Habendum only qualifies the Eſtate, and limits it; for the Office of the premiſſes of a Deed, is to expreſs the Grantor, Grantee, and thing Granted; and the Office of the Habendum, is to limit the Eſtate. Cook 3. Part, 55. Buckley's Caſe.

6. Husband and Wife Tenants for years of the Meſſuage called the three Conies in Fleetſtreet: The husband Let part of the Term by theſe words, The Houſe called The three Conies, with all the Chambers, Cellars, and Shops; except to the husband, the Shops to his own uſe: The Husband dyed, the Wife entred, and an Ejectione firmæ being brought; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, 1. That, that Exception was but Temporary to the Husband only, there being no words, To him, his Executors, or Aſſigns. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Exception was void touching the Shops, becauſe it was repugnant to the Leaſe, the Leaſe being of all Shops, &c. Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 264.

7. In an Ejectione firmæ upon a Leaſe for years upon Not Guilty pleaded; the Caſe was, A Copyholder in Fee of the Mannor of T. (where the Cuſtome was, That any Copyholder might ſurrender out of Court into the hands of two Tenants Copyholders of the Mannor to the uſe of another) ſurrendred into the hands of two ſuch Tenants of the Manner, the Copyhold Tenements to uſe of D. and B. ſon of the ſaid A, and of the longeſt liver of them both; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to B. the ſon of his body, lawfully begotten; the Lands to remain to the youngeſt ſon of Mary, Wife of the ſaid Copyholder; this ſurrender not to ſtand nor be of force, until after the death of A. the Copyholder; A. dyed, and the Surrender was Preſented at the next Court; D. and B. ſon of the ſaid D. were admitted Tenants to them, and the longeſt liver of them, and to the heirs of the body of B. the ſon, the Remainder to the younger ſon of Mary. D. and B. dyed without Iſſue, H. younger ſon of Mary entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff: E. the Wife of the Defendant, is found Heir of the Copyholder, and entred, and ouſted the Plaintiff. The Queſtions in this Caſe were, 1. Upon this clauſe, viz. This Surrender not to ſtand and be of full force, until after the death of A. the Surrender resdent; Whether the Surrender were good, and that clause void? It was Resolved by the Court, That the Surrender was good, and that clause (being repugnant to the Premisses) shall be rejected as as void and idle, and shall not destroy the Premisses. The second point was, Whether B. had an Estate for life only, or an Estate to him, and the heirs of his body? It was Resolved, That he had but an Estate for life; and being limitted by express Limitation, it shall not be a higher Estate to him by Implication. Trin. 10 Car. in B. R. Seagood and Hares Case. Cro. 1. Part, 267.

8. A. seized of black Acre in Fee, and possessed of white Acre for years, grants a Rent-charge to B. for life out of both Acres; B. distreins, and avows in white Acre. It was adjudged, That the Avowry was not good, because he derived the Rent out of white Acre, Virtute cujus he was seized for life, which was Repugnant to have a Freehold out of a Chattel; and therefore Judgment was given against him for insufficient Pleading. Cook 7. Part, 24. Butts Case.

9. A Prebend Leased Lands for 70 years, the Dean and Chapter being Patron, confirmed Dimissionem predict. for 51 years, & non ultra. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Confirmation was good for the whole Term; for when they confirmed Dimissionem predict. &c. for 51 years, it was void, and Repugnant; but if they had recited the Lease, and confirmed the Land for 51 years, it had been good for the 51 years only. Cook 5. Part, 81. Fords Case.

10. Note, It was said by the Justices, That if a man make a gift in Tail, upon condition that he shall not make a Feoffment, this is a good Condition: But if the Condition be, that he shall not make a Charter of Feoffment, this is not good; for this without Livery, amounts but to a Tenancy at Will, which Tenant in Tail cannot be restrained to do: So if a man make a gift in Tail, upon Condition that he shall not make a Lease for his own life, this is void and Repugnant; for when a man makes a gift in Tail (which is an Estate of Inheritance, and by possibility may continue for ever) he cannot be repricved from doing any lawful act, or making any Estate, which is no wrong to any: But if a man maketh a Lease for life or years, with Condition, that he shall not allien nor demise the Land, this is good; because the Lessor hath the Reversion, whereby he hath power to restrein the Lessee: So if a man demiseth a Copyhold Mannor for life or years, with condition, that he shall make no voluntary Grant of any Copyhold Lands, according to the Customs of the Mannor, this is good. But if a Mannor be granted in Tail with such a Condition, the Condition is void for the Repugnancy. Cook 6. Part, 42, 43. in Sir Anthony Mildmays Case.

11. A man by Indenture, Covenanted to stand seized to the use of himself for life, and after, to the use of divers of his sons, and the heirs males of their bodies; Proviso, That if they, or any heirs males of their bodies, should avise or attempt any Act, by which the Limitation of the said Land, or any Estate Tail should be undone, barred, or discontinued, That after such act made, or discontinuance executed, the uses (as to him so attempting) should cease, as if such person were naturally dead; the eldest son suffered a common Recovery. It was Resolved in this Case (amongst other points) That the same Proviso, to cease an Estate limitted to one, and the heirs males of his body, was void, was repugnant, and against Law; for that the death of the Tenant in Tail, is not a ceaser of the Estate Tail, but the death without Issue is the determination of it, and before Issue, Tenant in Tail hath an Inheritance, which may by possibility continue for ever; and it is repugnant, that Land should remain during the life of Tenant in Tail himself. Cook 1. Part, 84. Corbetts Case.

12. A. made a Charter to B. in Fee-simple, and the same day it was Covenanted between them, That B. should hold the same Tenements for eight years, and if A. did not pay to B. 10 l. at the end of the Term, that then the Land should remain to B. and his heirs. In this Case it was holden, That the subsequent Covenant was void and Repugnant: for first, the Charter of Fee-simple was absolute, and the Covenant being made after the Charter, could neither alter the absolute Charter, nor upon a condition precedent give him a Fee-simple, that had a Fee-simple before. See 12 E. 2. Tit. Voucher, 265. Cook 2. Part, Institutes, 217. acc.

13. If a man deviseth Lands, upon Condition that the Devisee shall allien, the Condition is void, and so it is of a Grant, Release, Confirmation, or any other Conveyance by which a Fee-simple doth pass; for it is absurd, and Repugnant to reason, that he who hath no possibility to have the Land revert again to him, should restrein the Devisee, Feoffee, or Grantee in Fee-simple to allien, and take away all his power. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 223. acc.

14. Debt upon an Obligation for not performance of Covenants by Sir Daniel Norton High Sheriff of H. against Chamberlain his Under Sheriff. The Case was, The said Sir Daniel made the Defendant his Under Sheriff at Will. The Under Sheriff (amongst other) did Covenant, That he would not execute any Extent, Liberate, Elegit, or other Execution of any sum above the sum of 20 l. before he had made known first to the Sheriff, the nature and quality of the ſaid Writ, and if any ſuch Execution were above 20 l. that he would not Execute it without ſpecial Warrant of Sir Daniel, the High Sheriff. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That if a Sheriff will make an Under Sheriff, Proviſo, That he ſhall not ſerve Executions above 20 l. without his ſpecial Warrant, is void, becauſe by making of him Under Sheriff, he implicitely gives him power to Execute all the Ordinary powers of a Sheriff; as ſerving of Proceſs and Executions; and therefore ſuch a Proviſo is repugnant and void in Law to the Office of an Under Sheriff. It was objected, That this reſtraint grew not on the part of the Sheriff, but on the part of the Under Sheriff by his Covenant, which might ſtand good notwithſtanding it was repugnant to his Office. But the Court held the Covenant void in Law, for ſince by being made Under Sheriff, he is lyable by Law to execute all Proceſs; he could not Covenant not to Execute any Proceſs without ſpecial Warrant, it being contrary to Law, and the ſame repugnant to his Office of Under Sheriff. Paſc. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sir Daniel Norton and Syms Caſe. Hob. 12, 13, 14.

15. The Eſtates of Idiots and Lunatiques are intruſted to the King. And therefore, If the King ſhould grant to one who intrudeth upon the Poſſeſſions of an Idiot or Lunatick, or take their poſſeſſions unlawfully, that he would not meddle with them, but ſuffer them to do their pleaſure, ſuch a grant were void, becauſe it is contrary and repugnant to the truſt and Office of the King, which is to do Juſtice, which he cannot put off. So if the King being but Guardian, grants the Land in Fee, the Grant is void for the reaſon aforeſaid, as it was adjudged, 21 E. 3. 47. in the Earl of Keats Caſe. See Cook 7. Part, 36. the King cannot give away a penal Law. So if the King having a Laps, ſhould grant to an Intruder, That he would not preſent to the Church, or if perhaps one ſhould intrude or uſurp upon the Kings Lapſe, and the King ſhould grant to the Uſurper, That he would not remove his Clerk, this were contrary and repugnant to that Truſt which the Law repoſeth in the King, aſwell for the behoof of the true Patron, as for the good of the Church, for by this means the true Patron ſhould loſe his Patronage: and therefore in all theſe Caſes ſuch Grant of the King would be void. See by Hobart Juſtice, in the Caſe of Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Litchfields Caſe 155.

16. Note, It was Reſolved, in the Caſe between the Colledg of Phyſitians, and Dr. Bonham, (amongſt other things). That foraſmuch as the Phyſitians had not any Court granted to them by Letters Patents, that they could not by any Authority implicitè granted to them, or for any miſdemeanor done by Dr. Bonham, commit him to Priſon without Bail or Main-prize, untill he ſhould be delivered by the command of the Preſident and Cenſors. And for proof of that, the Caſe of the Mayor and Commonalty of the City of London, 38 Eliz. was remembred. A Grant was made to the Mayor and Commonalty, That the Mayor for the time being ſhould have Plenam et integram Scrutiniam gubernationem et correctionem omnium et ſingulorum Myſteriorum, without granting to them any Court in which there ſhould be any legal proceedings, That the ſame was good for to ſearch by which a diſcovery might be made of ſuch Offences, which by the Law might be puniſhed in any Court, but the ſame did not give them any abſolute or irregular power to puniſh any Subject of the Realm at their pleaſures. And it was agreed by the whole Court in the Caſe of Dr. Bonham; That when an Act of Parliament is againſt common Right and reaſon, and repugnant and impoſſible to be performed, that the Law doth adjudg ſuch an Act to be void. See 14 Eliz. Dyer. The Statute of 1 E. 6. gave Chauntries to the King, ſaving to the Donors all ſuch Rights and Services. The Common Law ſhall adjudg it to be void as to the Services. For it ſhould be againſt Right, Reaſon, and repugnant to Law, that the King ſhould hold of any, or do any ſervice to any of his Subjects. See Hill. 7 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part, 94, 95. in Dr. Bonhams Caſe.

17. Note, That a ſaving in an Act of Parliament which is repugnant to the body of the Act is void; and therefore ſee Plow. Com. 563. where the ſuppoſed Attainder of the Duke of Norfolk was by Act of 1. Mariæ declared to be void, and Nul ab initio, Saving Eſtates and Leaſes made by King E. 6. that the Saving was void, for when the Attainder was declared to be void, the ſaid Saving was againſt the body of the Act, and therefore void. Plow. Com. 563.

18. By the Statute of 31 H. 8. cap. 13. it is Enacted, That all Religious houſes and their poſſeſſions, then or after to be diſſolved, ſhall be unto the King in the ſame eſtate and Condition as they were at the time of the making of the ſaid Act, Saving to all ſtrangers their Intereſts, &c. After the ſaid Act made, the Abbot of Ramſey granted the next Avoydance of a Church of his Patronage, and afterwards the Abby was diſſolved. In that Caſe, it was adjudged, That the grant was void, and the Saving repugnant to the body of the Act, for if the Advowſon ſhall be in the King in the ſame Eſtate and Condition as it was at the time of making of the ſaid Act, then a Grant afterwards made cannot be ſaved. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer, 231.

19. King

19. King Hen. the 8th, Tenant in tail to him and the Heirs Males of his body of the Mannor of A. by force of a Fine 3 H. 7. with the Reverſion to him, his Heirs and Succeſſors by force of an Attainder and Office, gave by his Letters Patents the ſaid Mannor of A. to W. W. in tail. And after it is enacted by Parliament, That the ſaid Mannor of A. by reaſon of the great profit and pleaſure of it, ſhould be re-veſted in the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, Saving to all their Rights, &c. W. W. Bargained and ſold the ſaid Mannor to J. S. againſt whom Intruſion was brought. In this Caſe, it was amongſt other points Reſolved, That the ſaving in the ſaid Act was void and repugnant, and that the ſaving did not extend to ſave the Eſtate of him who was ſeiſed of the Land: And it was further Reſolved, That although the Grant made to W. W. was good, and he had an Eſtate tail, yet by the expreſs words of the Statute, the ſame was given to the King. Cook 1. Part, the Caſe of Alton Woods.

20. A wound was given the 4th day of Auguſt, and the party dyed the 19th day of December after. And an Indictment againſt A. and B. as acceſſaries to the Felony, was drawn in theſe words, viz. Et predict. A. et B. tempore felonie et murdri predict. fuit, viz. 4. Auguſt, &c. felonice fuerunt preſenti, &c. ad feloniam et murdrum predict. in forma predict. faciend. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the ſaid Indictment as to A. and B. the Abettors was inſufficient and void for the Repugnancy in it, becauſe no Felony was committed untill the death of the party, and one ſhall not be adjudged a Felon by relation, which is a fiction in Law. Cook 4. Part, 42. in Heydons Caſe. So in an Appeal of Murder, in the Count, the wound was layed to be given at B. and the death to be at D. and then the Indictment concludes, Et ſic predict. J. S. quod S. predict. modo et forma the ſaid J. S. felonice, &c. Murdravit. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Indictment was inſufficient, and void, for that it cannot be ſaid, That he murdred him at the place where the wound was given, but where the party dyed. Cook 5. Part, 42. Humes Caſe. See Cook 4. Part, Wrotes Caſe, &c.

Requeſt.

Where, and in what Caſe a Requeſt is neceſſary; Where not: Where generally made and layed, it good; and where it muſt be ſpecial, and ſpecially layed; Where not.

1. DEbt upon an Obligation to ſtand to the Arbitrament of J. S. who did arbitrate, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 20 l. and appointed no certain day of payment. The Defendant in pleading confeſſed the Arbitrament; but ſaid, the Plaintiff did never require him to pay it. Whereupon the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was holden by the Court clearly, That it was no Plea, becauſe the Defendant at his peril ought to make payment within convenient time, and the Plaintiff needs not to make any requeſt. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Bret and Andrews Caſe. Goldesbr. 63.

2. In Aſſumpſit: The Declaration was, In conſideration that the Plaintiff would give credit to E. C. then Servant to the Defendant for any thing the ſaid E. C. ſhould deal for to the uſe of the Defendant with the Plaintiff; promiſed, That he would ſee the Plaintiff contented that which the ſaid E. C. ſhould deal for with the Plaintiff, when the Defendant ſhould be requeſted. It was found by Verdict, That the Defendant promiſed to ſee the Plaintiff contented that which the above named E. C. ſhould deal with the Plaintiff for the uſe of the Defendant any way. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this Verdict did not maintain the Declaration, becauſe for collateral matters, which are not duties, a Requeſt is material, and are not like a duty; as for Debt which is due, and no day of payment expreſſed, that ſhall be alledged when he ſhall be thereunto requeſted, generally. As if I ſell my horſe for 10 l. and no day of payment, it ſhall be alledged in the Declaration cum inde requiſitus eſſet. Trin. 5 Jac. in C. B. Gore and Colthrops Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 13.

3. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if the Defendant before Mich. do make knowledg, and ſuffer all and every ſuch reaſonable Act and thing whatſoever they be, for the good and lawful aſſuring and ſure making of the Mannor of D. to J. S. and his Heirs, &c. that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That before Mich. the Plaintiff had not reaſonably required the Defendant to make any reaſonable Act or Acts which ſhould be for the good and lawful aſſuring of the Mannor of D. The Plaintiff replyed, That at ſuch a day before Mich. he requeſted the Defendant that he would convey and aſſure the Mannor of D. to J. S. according to the tenour of the Condition: upon which Iſſue joyned, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, Here was no breach, for that the Plaintiff ought to have required one aſſurance in certain. It was adjudged, That the Condition was broken, for by the Condition the Defendant is to make all and every act whatſoever for the aſſuring of the Mannor; in ſo much, that if the Plaintiff ſhould requeſt one Fine, Feoffment, or Recovery, or Bargain and Sale, the Defendant ought to make all. But the Opinion of the Court was, That he was not bound to make an Obligation, or Recognizance, for the enjoying of the Mannor, for that is but collateral Security, and no aſſurance. Mich. 1 Jac. in C. B. Pudſey and Newſams Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 84.

4. Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was to perform, obſerve, fulfil and keep all Covenants, Grants, Articles, Payments, contained in a Leaſe. The Leſſee did not pay the Rent at the day, the Plaintiff without making any requeſt, begins a Suit upon the Obligation, and upon this matter pleaded; the Plaintiff Replyed, That he was not demanded: And upon that the Defendant demurred. It was ſaid for the Defendant, that when any penalty is annexed to the payment of a Rent, be it annexed to the Eſtate or otherwiſe, it ought to be requeſted, and without requeſt to pay it, no penalty ſhall be incurred: On the other ſide it was ſaid, That the Leſſee ought to make a tender upon the Land to ſave the penalty, and then the Leſſor need not to make requeſt. The Caſe was adjourned. But Cook Chief Juſtice cited Miles and Drayles Caſe. Where a man was bound for performance of a Will, he needed not to pay Legacies Deviſed, for which a day is Aſſigned without a Requeſt. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. Maxley and Jennings Caſe. Brown. 2. Part, 176, 177.

5. In Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration of a ruſſ Bond delivered by the Plaintiff, the Defendant promiſed to pay to him at the day of the Plaintiffs Marriage 3 l. and alledged in facto, That he was married ſuch a day, Et licet ſæpius requiſitus, he had not paid it. Upon Nihil dicit and Judgment for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That the Declaration was not good. 1. Becauſe he doth not ſhew that he gave notice of his Marriage. 2. Becauſe the payment ought to be after Requeſt, and the day of Requeſt ought to be mentioned, for licet ſæpius requiſitus will not ſerve. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Defendant at his peril ought to take notice of the Marriage; and that poſtea requiſitus was ſufficient without ſhewing the day of the Requeſt. Paſc. 2 Car. in C. B. Crane and Cramptons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 23.

6. Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant had a Dog which uſed to kill ſheep; and the Defendant knowing thereof, That his Dog had killed the Plaintiffs ſheep; and taking notice that the Plaintiff intended to ſue him for recompence; he intreated the Plaintiff not to ſue him, and to make what benefit he could of the Sheep; and in conſideration that the Plaintiff would deſiſt his Suit, and make ſuch benefit as he might of the Sheep; the Defendant 1. Maii, 18 Jac. promiſed to recompence him the Damages which he ſuſtained by the killing of the ſaid ſheep. And alledged, That thereupon he deſiſted his Suit, and endeavoured to make benefit of the ſheep killed, but could not make any; and alledged, That he was damnified 44 s. and that 1. May, 2 Car. he requeſted the Defendant to recompence him of the damages ſuſtained. The Defendant pleaded the Statute of 21 Jac. of Limitation of Actions. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for there was no cauſe of Action untill requeſt to make recompence, for till requeſt there was not any thing due, and the duty ariſeth upon the requeſt; and the non payment of the money after the requeſt, is the cauſe of the Action; and becauſe the Action was brought within the time after the breach. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 4 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 98, 99. See Mich. 4 Car. Godbolt, 437. the ſame Caſe.

7. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, Whereas there was a contract betwixt the Defendant and J. S. concerning certain Trees growing upon ſuch Land, the Defendant in conſideration the Plaintiff would cut down and carry the ſaid Trees, promiſed that he would ſave him harmleſs of all damages and loſſes which might happen to him by reaſon of ſuch cutting down, or carrying them away when he ſhould be required; and alledged, That he cut down five of the ſaid Trees, and carried them to the Defendants houſe, and the Defendant had not ſaved him harmleſs, licet ſæpius requiſitus, but ſuffered him to be ſued at the Common Law for cutting them down, whereby he was enforced to lay out divers ſums of money in defence of the Suit. Upon Non Aſſumpſit found againſt the the Defendant; It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe he doth not ſhew in what Court he was ſued, nor what Charges he expended, nor how he was damnified. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was ill in ſubſtance, no breach being ſufficiently ſhewed; and Peck and Metholds Caſe was vouched: Where an Aſſumpſit was, That he ſhould deliver ſuch an Obligation upon requeſt after payment of ſuch a ſum; and he alledged the money was paid, and that licet ſæpius requiſitus he did not deliver the Obligation. Upon Non Aſſumpſit and Judgment for the Plaintiff. Error was brought, becauſe it was not to be delivered, but upon requeſt; and ſo it was ſaid in the principal Caſe, becauſe a ſpecial requeſt was not made, and the year and place alledged of the requeſt, it was not good. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good, and Judgment given for the Defendant, Mich. 10 Car. in B. R. Palmer and Knights Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 280, 281.

8. Covenant, For that the Defendant Covenanted, That he would make a lawfull ſurrender of ſuch Copyhold Land upon reaſonable requeſt, and that he would permit the Plaintiff to enjoy the ſaid Lands, and to receive the rents quietly. The Plaintiff ſhewed, That ſhe was a Copyholder of ſuch Lands, and alledged a Cuſtome, that ſhe might ſurrender by Letter of Attorney into the hands of Tenants out of Court; and ſhewed, That he cauſed a Letter of Attorney to be made for the Plaintiff to ſeal, and gave Authority to two perſons therein named, to ſurrender at the next Court, and tendred to her to Seal, and ſhe would not Seal it, nor ſurrender at the next Court holden ſuch a day, and that ſhe received the Rents of the Lands, and ſo brake her Covenant. The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff tendred to her ſuch a Letter of Attorney to ſeal, and for that ſhe did not know what was therein contained, ſhe required reaſonable time to be adviſed by her Councel, and the Plaintiff refuſed to give her any time, for which cauſe ſhe did not Seal it. It was Reſolved in this Caſe. 1. That the breach is not well aſſigned, for ſhe is upon the Covenant to make ſurrender upon requeſt, but is not bound to make a Letter of Attorney to make a ſurrender, ſo the breach is not aſſigned according to the Covenant; and whereas it was Objected, That ſhe was to have reaſonable time; the Court was of Opinion, That there was no difference, whether ſhe was to do it upon requeſt, or upon reaſonable requeſt: And it was holden in that Caſe, That there ought to be an expreſs requeſt to make the ſurrender, and not an implyed requeſt. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 6 Car. in B. R. Sym and the Lady Smiths Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 218.

9. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That he was an Inn-keeper, and a Commiſſion iſſued in a Suit, betwixt the Defendant and others to examine Witneſſes, which Commiſſion was ſet upon in the Plaintiffs houſe being an Inn, and in conſideration that the Plaintiff did promiſe to find Horſe-meat, and Mans meat for the Defendant and his company during the ſitting of the ſaid Commiſſion, the Defendant promiſed to pay all ſuch ſums as the Dyet and Horſe meat ſhould amount unto, when he ſhould be requeſted; and alledged in facto, that he found Horſe meat and Mans meat during all the time of three dayes the Commiſſion there was ſet upon, which came to 5 l. which the Defendant licet ſæpius requiſitus had not paid. Upon Non Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That the promiſe being to pay upon requeſt, the year, day, and place ought to be expreſſed: and of that Opinion was the whole Court. For when the Defendant is chargeable upon a Collateral promiſe, there ought to be a preciſe Requeſt alledged, and licet ſæpius requiſitus is inſufficient. Judgment was ſtayed. Mich. 5 Jac. in B. R. Selman and Kings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 187. See Hill and Wades Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 523. acc.

10. Debt upon an Obligation Conditioned, Whereas he was Preſented to the Church of S. in the Iſle of Ely. That if he reſigned the Benefice within a Moneth after requeſt made to him, viz. at the Parſonage houſe of S. that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, Non requiſivit. It being adjudged for the Plaintiff, and Error brought and aſſigned. 1. For that the Plaintiff alledgeth a Requeſt at the Parſonage houſe of S. by a Viz. whereas it ought to have bin alledged at the Parſonage houſe preciſely. 2. Becauſe it is not ſhewed, That he gave notice. But both Errors diſallowed by the Court; for, for the firſt, it is a uſual courſe to expreſs it by a viz. for the ſecond, being found to be preciſely made, it is included therein that he was preſent, and had ſufficient notice given him, otherwiſe they ought not to find the requeſt. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. Lawrence and Johns Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 274.

11. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in conſideration that he had retained the Plaintiff to go from London to Paris, to Merchandize divers goods for the profit of the Defendant, promiſed to give him ſo much as ſhould content him, and alſo to give him every ſum of money he ſhould expend there in his affairs: and layed, that he was contented to have 25 l. for his labour, which the Defendant refuſed to pay. Exception was taken to the Declaration, for that there there is not ſet down any time or place of the notification of his contentment: And it was ſaid, That if one aſſume to pay to another 20 l. upon requeſt, if the time and place be not ſhewed, In ſuch Caſe often Judgment is ſtayed, for that no Action will lye without a Requeſt. In the Principal Caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for the ground of the Action is the Aſſumpſit, and the ſhewing of the contentment, is but to reduce the Action to a certainty. Paſc. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Dillaby and Haſſalls Caſe. Leon. 124. See Godbolt, 144. the ſame Caſe.

12. Error upon a Judgment in debt in C. B upon an Arbitrament of 340 l. ſuppoſing that there were controverſies betwixt the Plaintiff and the Defendant and his Wife for divers ſums of money layed out by the Wife dum ſola fuit, and that they ſubmitted themſelves in Arbitrament, aſwell concerning the Premiſes, as concerning all Suits betwixt them concerning the Premiſes; and the Arbitrators awarded, that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 340 l. for all ſums of money layed out by the Plaintiff for the ſaid Wife, dum ſola fuit cum inde requiſitus eſſet, and that all Suits betwixt them ſhould ceaſe. And that the Defendant licet ſæpius requiſitus had not paid the 340 l. It being upon Nihil debet found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment, Error brought. It was Aſſigned for Error, That the Arbitrament is to pay 340 l. cum inde requiſitus eſſet; ſo requeſt being part of the agreement, there ought to be a ſpecial requeſt, and licet ſæpius requiſitus will not ſerve: and ſo was the Opinion of the Court: And it was ſaid, it is not like unto a Debt upon a Bond or Contract, for there the Debt being due by ſpecialty or Contract, needs not a ſpecial demand, but licet requiſitus will ſerve. But being due by Arbitrament, it is not due but according to the Arbitrament upon ſpecial demand. The Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 18 Jac. in B. R. Waters and Bridges Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 639, 640.

13. Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant had a Fieri facias for 61 l. of the goods of J. S. and delivered that Writ to the Sheriff, to whom it was directed, and affirmed to the Plaintiff, That the Cloth in the Shop of C. S. were the goods of J. S. lyable to the Execution, and required the Plaintiff to execute it. The Defendant then and there, in conſideration that the Plaintiff would ſeize the ſaid Cloth for the ſaid Execution, promiſed the Plaintiff, That he would enter Bond to the Sheriff when he ſhould be required, in any reaſonable ſum to ſave the Sheriff, and the Plaintiff harmleſs againſt all perſons, for entring the ſaid Shop, and taking the ſaid goods in Execution: And the Plaintiff giving credit to his promiſe, entred the ſhop, and took the ſaid goods in Execution, for which C. S. ſued him in Treſpaſs, and recovered againſt him 20 l. And the Defendant licet ſæpius requiſitus had not entred Bond to the Sheriff. Being found for the Plaintiff, it was moved, That the promiſe was upon a conſideration againſt Law, ſcil. to take Execution of goods, which were not the Defendants, and to ſave him harmleſs againſt all perſons. But it was adjudged, That the Declaration was good, and requiring the Sheriff to do Execution, its reaſonable he ſhould ſave him harmleſs; and the promiſe to give Bond in a reaſonable time, is good enough, though not agreed what the penalty ſhould be. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 20 Jac. in B. R. Arrundell and Gardiners Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 653.

14. Error of a Judgment given in the Court of Northampton in an Aſſumpſit. The Error was Aſſigned, becauſe it appeareth, That the Action was brought before the Plaintiff had made requeſt. The Caſe was, A Contract was made between the Plaintiff and the Defendant; and the Defendant was to pay to the Plaintiff 10 l. when the Plaintiff ſhould require him. The Plaintiff brought an Action in the ſaid Court, 1. Martii, 16 Jac. and the Requeſt is layed to be 7. Martii, 16 Jac. following. It was ſaid in this Caſe, Where a contract is made, and no time is expreſſed for the payment of the money. If the party bring his Action before he make his requeſt, he ſhall not have damages: but if he maketh an actual Requeſt, and the Defendant doth not pay the money, there he ſhall recover damages beſides the duty. Here the Action was brought before the requeſt made, and ſo no damage to the Plaintiff. And the Judgment was, That the Plaintiff recuperet damna prædicta, viz. the Damages layed in the Declaration. Dodd Juſtice ſaid, That the Judgment ought to have bin Quod recuperet damna quæ ſuſtinuit, and not damna prædicta. The Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Gleed and Wallis's Caſe. Godbolt, 362.

15. In an Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff declared upon an account, and ſhewed that the Defendant was found in Arrerages 20 l. which he promiſed to pay when he ſhould be requeſted; the Plaintiff had not layed any day or place of the Requeſt in his Declaration. It was ſaid by Hobart Chief Juſtice, That when a man brings an Action upon the Caſe for a thing which was Originally a debt, he need not lay any time or place of Requeſt; but when the Action is brought for a collateral thing, there he ought to lay a day and place of the Requeſt. Trin. 19 Jac. in C. B. Bartlet and Bartlets Caſe. Winch. 2.

16. Action

16. Action upon the Caſe; The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had paid to J. S. 40 l. to the uſe of the Defendant by his appointment, he aſſumed upon requeſt, to deliver an Obligation, in which he and another ſhould be obliged to the Plaintiff in 100 l: And that the Defendant Licet ſæpius poſtea requiſitus, did not deliver the ſaid Obligation. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, in ſtay of Judgment, That the Plaintiff had not alledged any ſufficient requeſt, by ſhewing ſuch a day, and ſuch a place which is Iſſuable, and being matter collateral, the Requeſt is part of the Cauſe of the Action. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Plaintiff ſhould have Judgment; yet they agreed the difference, when the Requeſt ſhall be alledged as part of the thing to be performed, and when it is implyed in the debt: And for the time here, it is ſufficient, viz. Poſtea; but for the place, it is omitted; and if Iſſue had been tendred thereupon, it might be ſupplyed afterwards. Mich. 22 Jac. in C. B. Mitchell and Pecks Caſe. Note; It is ſaid, That this Judgment was reverſed in B. R. becauſe the Requeſt being upon Collateral matter, is material. Quære, If ſo. See Bolſtrod. 3. Part, 299, 300.

17. Action upon the Caſe, for a Promiſe, brought by an Executor, againſt the Executor of an Executor, for payment of money lent unto him; Wood borrowed the money, and promiſed to pay the ſame: In this caſe, It was the Opinion of the Court, It is here implyed, That he was to pay this upon Requeſt, being that which the Law required: If no Requeſt be made by the omiſſion of it, he is not to loſe his debt; the Law here is prime tempore: but by Law they are both of them ſimul tempore, the requeſt made the money to be paid; but if he doth not make requeſt, the debt by this is not to be loſt: for his Executors may requeſt; as they did in the principal Caſe. And in this Caſe, It was ſaid, That it had been adjudged, If money be lent to one, who promiſeth to pay it upon requeſt, to J. S. who dyes before any requeſt made; yet he ſhall have it: for the money ſhall be paid to his Executor. Mich. 14 Jac. in B. R. Davenport and Woods Caſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Bolſtr. 3. Part, 259.

18. B. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt Sir Arthur Lake, and Declared, That whereas at the ſpecial Inſtance of Lettice, Wife of the Defendant, he had provided for the ſaid Lettice, a Taffety Roll; the Defendant did promiſe to pay as much as it was worth, upon Requeſt; and alſo in like manner for providing of Linnen, &c. and making ſeverall Garments for the Wife; and averred, That the ſeveral things bought amount to ſuch a ſum, and the making thereof, was worth ſuch a ſum, which in toto, &c. and alledged the requeſt, and averred that they were neceſſary Veſtiments, & convenient for the degree of the Wife, and that after the making of them, he delivered them to the Wife: The Queſtion in this Caſe, was, Whether the Cauſe of Action ſhall be ſaid upon the requeſt, or upon the promiſe. It was ſaid, That this was the Contract of the Husband; whereupon the Plaintiff might have an Action of debt againſt him, and then it is but an Aſſumpſit in Law, and the Requeſt is not the cauſe of the Action. But the Court inclined, That no Action of Debt lay againſt Sir Arthur upon this Aſſumpſit; but only an Action upon the Caſe upon the Requeſt, Mich. 5 Car. in B. R. Tiſſ and Lakes Caſe, Hutt. 105, 106.

19. In Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had ſold and delivered to him ſuch a number of Pieces of Stuffs, the Defendant did promiſe to deliver to him the value of the Stuffs in ſuch Pipes of Wine lying in J. S. his Celler in London, as the Plaintiff ſhould make choyce of. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, it being found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Plaintiff in his Declaration hath not averred, That he made any election, and before election, the Defendant was not bound to deliver them. In this Caſe, the Court held, That here ought to be a ſpecial Requeſt made to deliver the Wines, becauſe it is upon a Contract; and becauſe no Requeſt was made, It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Parmiter and Creſſy's Caſe, Styles, 49.

20. In Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had paid him ſuch a ſum of money, did aſſume and promiſe to joyn in the Surrender of certain Copyhold Lands: The Defendant Demurred upon the Declaration, and ſhewed, That the Plaintiff did not alledg, that he made any Requeſt to the Defendant, to joyn in the Surrender, which he ought to do; for it was not a ſingle act to be done by the Defendant alone, but he was to joyn in the Act with another: And ſuch was the Opinion of the Court. Alſo the Court was of Opinion, That the Breach was not well aſſigned; for he hath aſſigned a particular way how he ſhou'd Surrender into the hands of two Tenants of the Mannor; whereas he did aſſume onely to joyn in a Surrender, which might be in Court, or into the hands of the Lord, as well as into the hands of two Tenants. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Freeborn and Purchaſers Caſe. Styles, 107.

21. Action upon the Caſe; the Plaintiff declared upon 3. Aſſumpſits made by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, That the Defendants Son ſhould pay pay ſuch a ſum of money to the Plaintiff for his boarding with him, when he ſhould be thereunto required. Upon Non Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Plaintiff doth not ſhew that he did require the ſon to pay the ſum of money; but only ſaith, Licet ſæpius requiſitus, non ſolvit. It was the Opinion of the Court, That this was a Collaterall promiſe; and therefore the requeſt muſt be averred to be made to the ſon. It was adjudged, Quod Querens nihil Capiat per Billam. Mich. 1649. in B. R. Williamſon and Meads Caſe, *Sty*les, 207.

2. Where re-entry for a Condition broken, ſhall not be lawfull without demand or requeſt of the Rent reſerved. And where a Condition upon Eſtates is not to be performed without requeſt; Et è contra.

1. THe Queen made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent payable at her Receipt of her Exchequer at Weſtminſt. ſeu ad manus baliorum ſeu receptorum, with Condition, to be void for non payment of the Rent; and afterwards granted over the Reverſion: And, If the Patentee ſhould demand the Rent, to take advantage of the Condition, was the Queſtion? And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved (amongſt other things); 1. That if a Common perſon reſerve a Rent upon a Demiſe, payable at a place off the Land, he who will take advantage of the Condition for not payment of the Rent, ought to demand the Rent at the place where it is limited to be paid; for the payment of the Rent off the Land, doth not alter the Nature and Quality of the Rent. 2. Reſolved, That the Patentee ought to demand the Rent upon the Land et expreſſio eorum quæ tacitè inſunt nihil operatur. 3. That the King ſhall take advantage of a Condition, for not payment of Rent, without a Requeſt, or demand of the Rent. Cook 4. Part, 72, 73. Borough's Caſe.

2. A Rent by Deed was granted to one and his Aſſigns for life pro Conſilio impendendo, payable yearly at 4. Feaſts; and for default of payment, if it ſhould be demanded, that it ſhould be lawful for the Grantee and his Aſſigns to diſtrain: the Grantee aſſigned the Rent; the Tenant attorned, the Aſſignee upon the Land demanded the Rent after the day; and for want of paymept, diſtrained: In this caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. That a grant of a Rent to one and his aſſigns, pro Conſilio impendendo might be aſſigned over by expreſs words of the grantor. 2. That the Aſſignee needs not to demand the Rent at the day, as he ought in caſe of a Re-entry; but in caſe of a Diſtreſs, he may demand it at what time he pleaſeth. 3. That if a man hath a Rent-Seck payable yearly at the Feaſt of M. and hath once Seiſin of the Rent, and the Feaſt paſſeth, and no tender or demand made, he may, after the day, demand the Rent upon the Land; and if none be ready to pay it, the ſame is a denyal of the Rent; for which he may have an Aſſiſe. Cook 7. Part, 28. Manis Caſe.

3. A man made a Feoffment in Fee of his Land; and for the better aſſurance, bound himſelf in an Obligation, That he and his ſon ſhould do all ſuch acts as ſhould be deviſed by the Obligee: The Obligee deviſed a Deed of Releaſe; the Father ſealed it as his Deed, but the Son did not deliver it; but becauſe he could not read, and was unlearned, he required the Obligee to read it to him, or to have the Deed to be read unto him; which he refuſed, but brought Debt upon the Obligation: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That if a man not lettered be bound in an Obligation, he is not by Law bound to deliver it, before it be read unto him: and if it be in a language which he underſtands not, he is not bound to deliver it, before it be expounded to him. 2. Reſolved, That if a man can read, yet if the Deed be in ſuch a language, that the party doth not underſtand it, if he requeſt or demand that the writing be read and expounded to him, and is ready to it; if it be denyed him, he may refuſe to deliver it. But in the principal Caſe, The Son was bound to deliver it at his perill, becauſe his Father had bound him ſo to do. Cook 2. Part, 3. Manſers Caſe.

4. A Perſon promiſed, that he would make a good and lawful Eſtate and aſſurance in Law, of a Rectory diſcharged of all former bargains and ſales made by him, during their joynt Lives of him and the Plaintiff, as by Councel Learned of the Plaintiff, upon requeſt made, ſhould be adviſed; In an Action of Aſſumpſit brought, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, If the advice ſhould be given to him who ſhould make the Eſtate immediately, or to the Plaintiff? In this caſe, It was Reſolved, That it is moſt fit, that the Councellor give his Counſel to him with whom he is of Councel; and that he ſignifie the ſame to him who is to make the Eſtate: But in this caſe, it was Reſolved, That the Councellor cannot give advice without requeſt. Cook 5. Part, 20. Higginbottams Caſe.

5. Dely

5. Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, That if the Defendant delivered to the Plaintiff an Obligation of the ſum of 10 l. wherein the Plaintiff ſtood bounden with one T. to the Defendant for the payment of 10 l: And alſo, if the Defendant do acknowledg ſatisfaction of a Judgment upon the ſaid Bond, and alſo deliver true notes of all Bills of Charges, as do concern the ſame; that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, Quod non fuerunt aliqua Bilia Miſarum pro et concern. Sent. predict. and did not anſwer, ad reſiduum conditionis: In that Caſe, It was adjudged againſt the Defendant; for he ought to have performed the reſidue of the Condition in convenient time, and that without Requeſt. And in this Caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. When the act, by the Condition of the Obligation to be performed, is in the nature of a tranſitory thing, as payment of money, and no time is limited, although that the place is expreſſed, the act ought to be done within convenient time. 2. A difference was taken between the Concurrence of the Obligee and a ſtranger, and the Obligor and the Obligee: For if I be bound to enfeoffe a Stranger, and no time is limited, although that the concurrence of the Obligor and Obligee is requiſite, the Obligor ſhall not have time to make it during his life; but he ought to do it preſently: for the Obligor hath taken upon him to do it to a ſtranger, and that may be done without the concurrence of the Obligee: But when the Obligee himſelf is party, and the act cannot be without his concurrence, there it is reaſon that the Obligor have time during his life to do it, if the Obligee doth not haſten the ſame upon requeſt. 2. Reſolved, That when the Act to be performed by the Condition by the Obligor, doth not concern in any manner the Obligee or his benefit, but is to be done by the ſole act and labour of the Obligor, there the Obligor hath time to do it during his life; and the performance of it cannot be haſtned by Requeſt. Cook 6. Part, 30, 31. Bathies Caſe.

6. A man by his Will deviſed his Land to A. his ſon for 60. years, after the death of the Deviſor, if the ſaid A. ſhould ſo long live; and after, to the uſe of B. his ſon for life; and after to the heirs males of the body of A, with divers remainders over; Proviſo, That if A. do not ſuffer his Executors quietly to carry away all his goods in his houſe, or ſhall do any thing to hinder the intent of his Father, that then the Uſes limited to A. and his heirs ſhould ceaſe. The Deviſor dyed; The Executors came to the houſe, and would have carried away the Goods, and A. would not ſuffer them, but forbid and hindered them to carry away the Goods; he in the remainder entred for the Condition broken. In this caſe, amongſt other Points, It was Reſolved, That the denying by word, was not any breach of the Condition, but there ought to be an act done; as, after Requeſt made, to have ſhut the doore upon them, or to have layed his hands upon them, and ſo reſiſted them. 2. Reſolved, That although a particular diſturbance by a ſpecial act had been ſhewed; yet A. ſhould not loſe his Term, for none ſhall loſe any Eſtate or Intereſt which he lawfully hath, without ſome act or default in himſelf: and therefore becauſe A. was a ſtranger to the Feoffment, he ſhould not loſe his Term without Notice given to him of the Proviſo of the Will of his Father: As Grantee of a Reverſion or a Feoffee ſhall not take advantage of a Condition for not payment of Rent, without Notice, and demand of the Rent of the Leſſee. But it was agreed in that caſe, That if a man be bound to perform the Award of J. S; and J. S. doth make an Award, That the Obligor ought to perform it without Requeſt or Notice, becauſe he hath bound himſelf to do it. Cook 8. Part, 92, 93. Fraunces Caſe.

More Requeſt.

1. IN an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That in Conſideration that he the Plaintiff would marry A; B, promiſed to pay the Plaintiff 20 l. when he ſhould be required, after marriage: and the Plaintiff in his Declaration did not alledg any ſpecial Requeſt of it; which was moved to ſtay Judgment. But the Court was of Opinion, That it was good, and that it was not neceſſary for the Plaintiff to alledge a Requeſt, or Demand of it. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Skipwoſh and Skipwoſhs Caſe, Brownlow. 1. Part, 10.

2. Errour of a Judgment in Debt, given in the Court of Windſor, becauſe the Coſts de incremento are not ſaid to be given ad petitionem Querentis, as it ought to be; and Beneficium nemini obtrudituri: and therefore it was ſaid, That an Alien born ſhall not have medietatem Linguæ, if he do not requeſt it: On the other ſide, it was anſwered, That Coſts ought alwayes to be aſſeſſed ad petitionem Querentis; and although the requeſt of the Plaintiff was not here preciſely put to the increaſe of the Coſts; yet at the beginning of the Judgment it is ſaid, Ideo ad petitionem Querentis, &c. Conſideratum eſt, &c. that Coſts ſhall be given ex incremento; ſo as this request goes to the whole ſentence. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Judgment ſhould be reverſed; for, the encreaſe of Coſts ought to be given ad petitionem Querentis; and the words, ad petitionem Querentis, in this caſe, being miſ-placed, will not ſupply the defect; and Damages de Incremento, is always ad petitionem Querentis. Hil. 2 Car. in B. R. Goods Caſe, Popham, 211, 212.

3. In Aſſumpſit, to pay 34 l. which accrewed upon ſeveral promiſes; The Plaintiff ſurmiſed, That one was endebted to him in 12 l; and the Defendant came unto him, and prayed to truſt him; and if he would, he would pay him the old debt, and, whatſoever he ſhould be in arrearage more, if it did not exceed 100 l, he would pay: and that afterwards he ſold to him divers Pieces of Fleſh, at reaſonable prices; and that he ſent him 3 l, which he promiſed to pay; and then he came and requeſted him to pay the whole 34 l; but he would not pay the 19 l. for the price of the Fleſh, nor the 12 l: Judgment being for the Plaintiff, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, Becauſe he doth not alleeg before, That the Fleſh which he ſold amounted to 19 l. And, 2. Becauſe he makes but one Requeſt for the ſeverall Debts, where there ought to have been ſeveral Requeſts. The Court was of Opinion, All was good for the firſt, becauſe he refuſed to pay the 19 l. pro precio; but it had been better, if he had alledged, That the Fleſh amounted to ſuch a price; and for the Requeſt, the Court was of Opinion, That it was well made. Paſch. 4 Car. in C. B. Gammon and Mallorus Caſe, Hetley, 84.

4. Debt for an Amerciament in a Court-Baron, The Plaintiff declared, That he was amerced at the Court-Baron of the Fermor of the Mannor of C: Amongſt other Exceptions to the Declaration, one was, Becauſe it is not ſhewed in the Declaration, That he required or demanded the Amerciament. But to that was Anſwered, Licet ſapius requiſitus, was in the Declaration, and that that was ſufficient, becauſe it was a duty before the Requeſt; but if firſt by the Requeſt it becomes to be a duty, then a Requeſt in facto ought to be alledged. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt.

5. The Caſe was; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for 21 years, rendring Rent at Mich. and the Annunciation, or within 13 Weeks of any of the ſaid Feaſts: After Mich. and before the 13. Weeks paſſed, the Leſſor dyed; the Plaintiff his Executor brought an Action of Debt for the Rent: It was Reſolved by the Court in this Caſe, That the Action did not lye; for the Rent being to be paid at Mich. or within 13. Weeks after, the Leſſee had Election to pay it at any of the dayes; and before the laſt day it is not due; and when the Leſſor dyeth before that day, his Executors had not any right to the Rent; but after the death of the Leſſor, having but an Eſtate for life, the Rent was gone: But if the Leſſor had had a Fee-ſimple, and dyed before the laſt day, his heir ſhould have had the Rent as incident to the Reverſion: But if the Leſſor had over-lived both dayes, the Rent had been a thing veſted, and his Executors ſhould have had it; But if the Rent had been reſerved at Mich. and if it be behind for 13 Weeks, that then it ſhould be lawful for the Leſſor to re-enter. If the Leſſee overlived Mich. the Executors ſhould have had debt for the Rent; for then the Rent was due, and the 13 Weeks were but a diſpenſation of the entry of the Leſſor untill that time. And it was Reſolved in this caſe, as well where the Rent is reſerved at two dayes in the diſjunctive, that it is ſufficient, if that the Rent be demanded at the laſt day, without demanding it at the firſt day. Mich. 32 Jac. in B. R. Glover and Archers Caſe.

6. If A. bringeth an Action againſt B. of Trover and Converſion of Plate, Jewels, &c. and the Defendant pleads Not guilty; It is good Evidence prima facie, to prove a Converſion, That the Plaintiff did requeſt the Defendant to deliver them, and he refuſed, and therefore it ſhall not be preſumed that he hath converted them to his own uſe. Yet it is there ſaid, It is but Evidence; and if it ſhould be found by Special Verdict in ſuch caſe, That the Plaintiff did requeſt them of the Defendant, and he refuſed to deliver them, it is not a matter upon which the Court can judge any Converſion. For Converſion ought to alter the Action of Detinue to Action upon the Caſe, which a denyal cannot do in Law; and yet it is good Evidence, and ſo hath been approved and allowed, to prove a Converſion. Cook 10. Part, 57. in the Caſe of the Chancellor of Oxford.

7. Six Carpenters came to a Tavern, and called for a Quart of Wine, and drank it, and upon Requeſt, refuſed to pay for it: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That when Entry, authority, or Licence is given by the Law, and the party doth miſcarry himſelf in the doing of it, he ſhall be a Treſpaſſor ab initio; as if the Lord diſtrain for Rent and Damage Feaſant, and wrake or kill the diſtreſſe: and ſo if a man entreth into an Inne or Tavern, and carrieth away any thing:

In

But when Entry, or authority, or Licence, is given by the party, and he doth amiſſe, he ſhall be puniſhed for his Miſ-doing; but ſhall not be a Treſpaſſor ab initio. 2. Reſolved, That Not doing, cannot make the party who hath authority or Licence by the Law, to be a Treſpaſſor ab initio: and therefore in the principal Caſe, for not paying for the Wine (though upon requeſt) the Defendants ſhall not be adjudged Treſpaſſors ab initio, but the Taverner for that ſhall have an Action of Debt. Cook 5. Part, 147. The 6. Carpenters Caſe.

8. Two Joynt-Tenants of a Houſe, one acknowledged a Statute, and dyed poſſeſſed of divers Goods in the ſaid houſe: The Sheriff with the Jury came with proceſs of Law, to extend the Goods, and they offered to enter into the houſe to extend the Goods, and the Defendant not ignorant of the premiſſes, to diſturb the Execution, the door being open, ſhut the door; by which doing, the Sheriff could not extend the Goods. And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the houſe of every man is his Caſtle; and therefore, if Theeves come to a mans houſe, to rob or murder him; if he kill any of the Theeves, it is not felony, and he ſhall forfeit nothing. 2. If a houſe be recovered in any reall Action, or by Ejectione Firme, the Sheriff upon an Habere facias Seiſinam, or Poſſeſſionem, may break the houſe to do Execution, becauſe that after Judgment, it is not the Defendant's houſe. 3. In all Caſes where the King is party, there the Sheriff after he hath ſignified the Cauſe of his coming, if no doore be open, may breake the houſe, and do Execution; but if he may enter without breaking of the houſe, or upon Requeſt made by him, in ſuch caſe if he break the houſe, he is a Treſpaſſor. 4. It was Reſolved in the principal Caſe, for the Sheriff upon requeſt and denyal, in the caſe of a common perſon, to break the houſe of any Subject, and execute any Proceſs for the Inconvenience of Murthers and Robberies; and the Sheriff cannot break the houſe by force of a Fieri facias, but he is a Treſpaſſor; and yet the Execution which he doth in the houſe, is then good. 5. It was Reſolved in the principal Caſe, That the Sheriff had not done his duty: For it doth not appear, that he had made any requeſt to open the doore of the houſe, and therefore the party might lawfully ſhut the doore of his own houſe. Cook 5. Part, 92, 93. Semaynes Caſe.

9. Note: It was Reſolved by the Court, That if there be Lord Meſne and Tenant; and the Lord avow upon a ſtranger, and not upon the Meſne, there the Tenant is without remedy to have Aide of the Meſne, becauſe he is Tenant in Feeſimple, and may plead any Plea, that the Meſne may, and the Meſne cannot joyn with the Tenant, becauſe that the Avowry is not made upon the Meſne: But yet, in ſuch caſe, the Tenant is not without remedy, but the Tenant may reſort to the Meſne, and ſhew him his caſe, and pray the Meſne to take his Cattel out of the Pound, and to put in his own Cattel, and ſo demand Acquittal againſt the Meſne; And if upon ſuch requeſt the Meſne refuſe, he may have a Writ of Meſne againſt him, and plead in that, that he was diſtrained in default of the Meſne, and recover his Coſts and Damages againſt him; and by ſuch means the Meſne ſhall compell the Lord to avow upon him, and abate the Avowry made upon the Stranger: But if in ſuch caſe, the Tenant ſutth a Replevin, and hath deliverance of the Cattell, and doth not make ſuch Requeſt to the Meſne, then the Lord ſhall avow upon the Stranger, and the Tert-Tenant is without remedy, through his own default. Cook 9. Part, in the Caſe of Avowry 21, 22. acc. See Cook 9. Part, 111. in Meriet Treſham's Caſe, in fine, accord.

10. See, That where a man is bound to do a thing by Obligation, or otherwiſe, that there in ſuch caſe he muſt do it, at his perill, without requeſt. Cook 2. Part, 3. before, in Manſers Caſe. And ſee, Hob. 14: acc.

Reſceit.

Where, and in what Action it lyeth, what not; where he in the Reverſion ſhall be Reſceived, upon the default of the particular Tenant for life, or years, where not; And where, and in what Caſe the Wife ſhall be Reſceived for default of her husband, where not.

1. REſceit is, When an Action is brought againſt Tenant for life, or years, or other particular Tenant, and they make default; then he in the Reverſion cometh, and prayeth that he may be Reſceived to defend the Land, and to plead with the Demandant.

2. Note, It is ſaid in Cook 8. Part, 50. That an Aſſize is Feſtinum Remedium, wherein the Defendant ſhall not be Eſſoined, nor caſt a Protection, nor vouch a ſtranger; nor ſhall a ſtranger be Reſceived; for that Reſceit doth not lye in an Aſſize; but Quære of that, for that in 22 E. 3. Tit. Reſceit, 139. an Aſſize of Mort dancester was brought againſt Husband and Wife, the Aſſize was awarded by default, and remained pro defectu Juratorum; and the Wife came, and prayed to be Reſceived: It was Objected, That Judgment was given that the Aſſize ſhould be taken: Yet in that caſe, becauſe the Wife came, and prayed to be Reſceived, before final Judgment was given; after the Aſſize awarded, the Wife was Reſceived. See 22 Aſſ. 22. Cook 11. Part, 39. in Metcalfes Caſe.

3. In a Writ of Entry for Diſſeizin, brought againſt J. S. Tenant for life, who made default after default; he in the Reverſion came and prayed to be Reſceived, and was Reſceived, and pleaded in Bar, upon which they were at Iſſue; and at the Aſſizes, the Iſſue was found againſt the Demandant; and in the mean time, between the Aſſizes and the day in Bank, J. S. the Tenant for life, dyed; and afterwards, at the day in Bank, the Appearances of the Demandant, and of the Tenant by Reſceit, by the Attorneys were recorded: The Demandant pleaded the death of the Tenant for life, and prayed, That the Writ might abate, and that no Judgment might be; and the Tenant by Reſceit prayed, upon the Poſtea returned, that Judgment might be given; and the Court doubted what ſhould be done. Et Curia adviſare vult. Hill. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 258. Sir Humphrey Ratcliffs Caſe.

4. In Admeaſurement of Paſture againſt Huſband and Wife, Judgment was given, that Admeaſurement ſhould be made, which was afterwards done, and Returned into the Common Pleas at a day certain; at which day, the Husband made default, and the Wife came into Court before the Judgment given in the Principal matter, and prayed to be Reſceived. It was Objected, That ſhe came too late after the Admeaſurement awarded, which is a Judgment: But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That that was not a Judgment upon the principal matter; and where the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 3. is, Si maior ante Judicium venerit, &c. It was ſaid, That that muſt be intended of the principal Judgment; and by the Rule of the Court, the Wife was Reſceived. See 5 E. 2. Fitzh. Title Reſceit, 165. Cook 11. Part, 39.

5. In a Writ of Right brought by the Lord Windſor againſt Husband and Wife, at the Petit Cape, and awarded; the Wife came, and prayed to be Reſceived: It was prayed, That becauſe the Demandant offered not himſelf at the firſt day, that he might be Non-ſuited; but it was denyed by the Court: wherefore the Wife was Reſceived, and Vouched, and afterwards, ſhe waived the Voucher, and joyned the Miſe upon the Grand Aſſize. Mich. 2 Mar. Dyer, 103. The Lord Windſor and St. John Caſe.

6. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, having Iſſue a ſon by one woman, and a ſon and a daughter by another, deviſed his Land to his Wife for life, the Remainder to his younger ſon in Tail, the Reverſion to his right Heirs; a common Recovery was had againſt Tenant for life, in which he in the Remainder in Tail was vouched, and that to the uſe of himſelf in Tail, and his Heirs, who dyed without Iſſue. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That no Act or Statute had ever been made to preſerve a Reverſion or a Remainder upon an Eſtate in Tail, becauſe by intendment, an Eſtate Tail hath a continuance for ever; and Tenant in Tail hath power to binde him in the Reverſion or Remainder: And in that Caſe it was holden, That he in the Reverſion or Remainder, upon an Eſtate Tail, ſhould not be Reſceived by the Statute of Weſt. 2. for that the Statute doth not extend to it: But if Tenant for life be, the Remainder for life, if Tenant for life be impleaded, he in the Reverſion hath been Reſceived, becauſe that he in the Remainder had no higher Eſtate then Tenant for life himſelf: But if there be a Fee immediate between the Eſtate of him who claims to be Reſceived, he ſhall not be Reſceived; and if he

he who hath the Reverſion in Fee, and he who hath the mean Eſtate for life, at the ſame time might be Reſceived, the mean Eſtate for life, in reſpect of the proximity, ſhould be preferred before the Reverſion in Fee; becauſe the words of the Statute are Admittantur hæredes, vel illi ad quos ſpectat reverſio, Cook 10. Part, 44, 45. Jennings Caſe.

7. An Action of Waſte was brought againſt Husband and Wife, and after Iſſue joyned at the Niſi Prius, the parties appeared, and a Verdict was given for the Plaintiff; at the day in Bank, It was moved, That the Wife might be Reſceived: But it was rejected by the whole Court as a ſtrange motion, for ſhe could not in ſuch Caſe be Reſceived. Trin. 14 Jac. in C. B. Bell and Hartleys Caſe. Hob. 177.

2. Where Tenant by Reſceit ſhall Vouch, and what ſhall be a good Counterplea of a Voucher, what not; and where one ſhall be eſtopped to Counterplead Reſceit, where not.

1. IN a Formedon in the Remainder brought againſt Husband and Wife, the Husband made default, and the Wife was Reſceived, and Vouched over, and the Demandant took three Counterpleas to the Voucher; ſcil. 1. That for part of the Tenements, that the Wife had nothing therein but joyntly with her Husband. 2. For another part, That the Vouchee, nor any of his Anceſtors, ever had any thing in the Premiſſes in Demeſne, Reverſion, or Services, after the Title of the Demandant, but joyntly with J. S. and others who were alive. And for the Reſidue; That the Husband and Wife had levyed a Fine thereof, with Warranty, to a ſtranger: Upon which Counterpleas, the Wife demurred in Law. It was the Opinion of the Court, That none of the Counterpleas were good, 1. Becauſe it ſhall be intended that this Joynt-Tenancy was made during the Coverture; and then no moyties betwixt them, and that now ſhe is Tenant by Reſceit as a Feme ſole. 2. For the ſecond, becauſe he ought to have alledged by name, that the Vouchee, or his Anceſtors were Joynt-Tenants, and averred the continuance of the ſame, and there is no averment of the Continuance during the life of the Vouchee, or his Anceſtors. 3. That the Demandant ſhall be eſtopped to alledg the alienation of the Land by Fine, pendant the Writ, as he was before upon the Counterplea of the Reſceit; and if it ſhould be a Counterplea, the ſame is to the alienation and Warranty, and not to the Vouchee, for that Proceſs that the Vouchee cannot render in value, when the Vouchee had nothing in the Lands at the time of the Voucher. The Counterpleas were all diſallowed by the Court. Paſch. 17 Eliz. Dyer, 351.

2. See, Where Tenant by Reſceit ſhall vouch, and what ſhall be a good Counterplea to the Voucher. Cook 1. Part, 15. in Sir William Pelhams Caſe.

3. Error of a Judgment in a Quod ei deforceat, in the Seſſions in the County of Montgomery: The Defendant ſaid, that he had majus jus than the Plaintiff; upon which they were at Iſſue; and at the day, the Defendant made default, and a Petit Cape was awarded. At the day of the Return, J. S. prayed to be Reſceived, becauſe the Feoffment was made to the uſe of him and his Wife, for the life of the Wife, the Remainder to the ſaid J. S. and his Heirs: The Demandant Counterpleaded the Reſceit, traverſing the Feoffment; and at the Return of the Jury, J. S. did not appear, but one B. his ſon and heir, prayed to be Reſceived, by his Guardian, he being within age; and ſaid, that his father was dead, and he his ſon and heir appeared, and pleaded the ſame plea his father did, and prayed that the peril might demur for nonage: The Plaintiff counterpleaded his Reſceit, taking Iſſue upon the Feoffment, as aforeſaid; and upon that they were at Iſſue; and at the day, the Tenant by Reſceit made default, and Petit Cape awarded; whereupon Judgment was given againſt the Tenant by Reſceit: Whereupon Error was brought, and Error aſſigned, becauſe the Counterplea was of the Feoffment, where he ought to have ſaid, Of the Reverſion, and he cannot traverſe the Feoffment. 2. Error, Becauſe the Reſceit is admitted after Reſceit, which ought not to be, but only in Caſes where the Tenant by Reſceit dyeth, and the Heir cometh in loco ſuo. 3. Becauſe the Judgment was given againſt the Tenant by Reſceit, upon the default of the Tenant by Reſceit, when the Judgment ought to be given againſt the Tenant to the Action. The Court diſallowed the two firſt Errors; but for the third, they held it a manifeſt Error, and therefore the Judgment was Reverſed. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Kiffin and Vaughans Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 190, 191.

4. In a Præcipe quod reddat, the Tenant confeſſed the Action; whereupon came others, and ſaid, that they were in Remainder, and that the Land was in ſuch a Town, and holden by the Tenant for the life of one J. as of the Manner of T. by by certain Services, the which Mannor was ancient Demeſne, and all Lands and Tenements within the ſame Mannor, have uſed to be pleaded by Writ of Droit cloſe. It was holden by the Court, That they ſhould be Reſceived ſo to plead, notwithſtanding the Tenant had confeſſed the Action in that Court; for it was ſaid, That the Confeſſion of the Tenant doth not make the Land to be frank-fee, if Judgment be not given thereupon; But if the Tenant for life doth levie a Fine of the Land, Quere, If then it ſhall not be frank-fee. Mich. 2 E. 4. 26.

5. See, Where he who prays to be Reſceit, upon Grant of a Remainder in Tail, ſhall not be Reſceived, unleſs he ſhew his deed of Grant of the Remainder. Cook 10. Part, 92. and 94. in Dr Leyfields Caſe.

Reſcous.

Where, and in what caſe it lyeth, and againſt whom, and for what; and where the Writ ſhall be brought againſt the Reſcouſſer, where againſt others, and by whom.

1. REſcous is, where a man doth diſtrein Cattel for Rent, or other ſervices, or for damages feaſant, and would impound them, and another doth Reſcous, or take them from him: Or it is, when the Sheriff, Baylie, or other Officer of the King, doth arreſt a man for debt, or for other ſervice, or cauſe and Reſcous is made either by the party himſelf, or by a ſtranger; then this Writ of Reſcous lyeth: and in ſome Caſes it lyeth for the Baylie, Sheriff, or Officer: and in ſome caſes, for the party plaintiff to whom the damage is done, or at whoſe Suit he was arreſted. Fitz. Nat. Br. acc.

2. If a man ſueth forth an Execution, and hath a Capias to the Sheriff to arreſt the party, and the Sheriff makes his Warrant to the Baylie of a Liberty where the party dwelleth, to arreſt him, by which the Bayly doth arreſt him, and others do Reſcue him from the Bayly; he who ſued for the Writ of Execution, ſhall have a Writ of Reſcous againſt them that reſcued him: But Quære, If in ſuch Caſe the Bayly of the Liberty ſhall not have Reſcous againſt him, becauſe the Bayly is chargeable to him who ſued forth the Writ of Execution.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe, brought againſt the Sheriffs of London, upon an Eſcape; they arreſted the party upon a Latitat, and that in bringing him to the Goal, a Reſcous was made of him, and ſo returned a Reſcous: The Queſtion was, Whether it was good, or whether an Action upon the Caſe would lye againſt the Sheriff, when one is Reſcued from him who is taken upon a Mean Proceſs: This Caſe was much doubted at the firſt, and Mich. 44 Eliz. in B. R. Rott. 177. Walde and Lamberts Caſe was vouched; where it was held, That a Reſcous ſhould not excuſe the Sheriff in an Action upon the Caſe, brought by the party upon an Eſcape. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Action would not lye, the Arreſt being made upon a Mean Proceſs; and it would be a miſchievous Caſe, if the Sheriff ſhould be compelled alwayes to have with him the poſſe Comitatus; and the party hath his remedy at Law againſt the Reſcouſſer, by a Writ of Reſcous: And in this Caſe, it was agreed, That if in the Arreſting, the party is Reſcouſed, be it upon an Execution, or a Mean Proceſs, No Action for this lyeth againſt the Sheriff; and if the Priſoner be arreſted, and in bringing him towards the Goal he is Reſcouſed from the Sheriff, no Action lyeth againſt the Sheriff: But if a man be Arreſted, and be in Execution, and afterwards he is Reſcouſſed, then Caveat Vicecomes; becauſe he might have raiſed in ſuch Caſe Poſſe Comitatus. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. May, and Proby; and Lumleys Caſe. Bulſtrode 3. Part, 199, 200. Cro. 2. Part, 419. The ſame Caſe.

4. In an Action upon the Caſe, the matter was this; An Action of Debt was brought by the Plaintiff, and he recovered, and had a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum to take the party; the Sheriff Arreſts him, and the Defendant made a Reſcous; and if in that Caſe, an Action lyes againſt the perſon who Reſcouſed him, was the Queſtion: See the Book of 6. E. 43. the difference where the Arreſt is upon Mean Proceſs, where upon Execution: The Caſe was debated, and the Judges divided in Opinion; but the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That the Action did lye. Paſch. 4 Car. in C. B. Lyres and Cunninghams Caſe. Hetley 95.

5. An Action upon the Caſe againſt J. S. and his Wife, whereas the Plaintiff had recovered in Debt againſt one, and had a Capias ad ſatisfaciend. directed to the Sheriff, and the Sheriff arreſted the party, and had him in Execution, and the Defendants Reſcued the party, and he eſcaped: Upon Not Guilty, the Wife was found guilty of the Reſcous. It was Objected, That the Action lay not, becauſe Debt upon the Eſcape lay againſt the Sheriff, and it is an immediate wrong to the Sheriff, Sheriff or Bayly, and the party had no prejudice in common preſumption, becauſe that his Action is transferred to the Sheriff, who hath ability to ſatisfie him. But the greater Opinion of the Court was, That the Action did lye againſt the Defendants, Paſch. 4 Car. in C. B. Coughams Caſe. Hutton 98. See Sect. before; and Quære, If it be not one and the ſame Caſe.

6. In Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, Whereas J. S. was indebted to him in 300 l. he ſued a Latitat out of the Kings Bench to the Sheriff of Nottingham, to arreſt him; intending upon Return of the Writ, and Bayl put in, to Declare againſt him; that he delivered the Writ to J. D. the Sheriff, who made a Warrant to the Kings Bayliff of the Liberty of Newark to execute it; which Warrant was delivered to one L. Deputy of the Lord Burleigh, Ratio Libertatis Domini Regis Vicecomitis ſui de Newark, who arreſted the ſaid J. S. and that the Defendant reſcued him out of the Cuſtody of the ſaid Deputy, and he eſcaped. Upon Not Guilty, it was found for the Plaintiff, and 180 l. damages: Whereupon Error was brought, which was, That it is ſhewn, that he was reſcued from the Deputy of the Bayliff of the Franchiſe, whereas it ought to be from the Bayliff himſelf, or from the Sheriff; but the ſaid Exception was overruled by the Court, and P. 31 Eliz. Burgh and Appletons Caſe was vouched; where it was Declared, That the Bayly of a Liberty arreſted the party, and delivered him to the Sheriffs Deputy, and he reſcued him from the Sheriffs Deputy, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 2. Error was, becauſe it was alledged that the Lord Burleigh was Balivus Libertatis Domini Regis de N. and the King cannot have any Liberties: but non allocatur; for the King may grant ſuch Liberties by ſuppreſſion of Abbeys, or by other means, and they ſhall not be ſaid to be extinct, unleſs they be ſhewed ſo to be. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 8 Jac. in the Exchequer. Kent & Elwis Caſe. Cook 2. Part, 241.

7. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That whereas W. P. ſenior, and W. P. jun. were indebted to him by ſeveral Bonds, he ſued a Latitat out of the Kings Bench to the Sheriff of S. to arreſt them, and that the Sheriff made a Warrant to J. S. and others, to arreſt them; who arreſted W. P. jun. and the Defendants reſcued him: The Defendants pleaded Not Guilty: a Special Verdict found this matter, viz. That the debt due to the Plaintiff, the proſecuting the Latitat; and further found, That the ſaid W. P. was indebted to P. P. ſen. and that he ſued out a Latitat againſt him, who made a Warrant to the ſame Bayly to Arreſt him at the ſuit of the ſaid P. P. ſen. and it was directed to them, conſtabulis & decenis, that they were not known Bayliffs, and that 8 Jan. in the night, about 6 a clock, they entred the houſe of one of the Defendants, the door being open, and W. P. being there, P. P. jun. laid his hands upon him, and having both the warrants in his pocket, ſaid to him, Here I do arreſt you by vertue of a Warrant which I have, but did not ſhew him the Warrant, nor had it in his hands, nor told him at whoſe ſuit he Arreſted him, nor W. P. did not demand to ſee the Warrant. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved. 1. That this Arreſt, till the other demanded to ſee the Warrant, was legal, acc. to Cook 5. Part, 68. 2. That this Arreſt in the houſe, the door being open, and at 6. of the clock at night, was good againſt the party arreſted, and the reſcuing of him was unlawful, Cook 5. Part, 81. Garnons Caſe. 3. That the arreſt was good, although he did not ſhew him by which of the Warrants he arreſted him; for that being once in cuſtody, he is in cuſtody for all cauſes for which the Sheriff hath made him warrants. 4. That for this Reſcous, the Plaintiff, at whoſe Suit the Arreſt was, might maintain the Action, for he hath the loſs, and cannot have his Action againſt the Sheriff. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Hodges and Marks Caſe. Cro. 2 Part, 475. See May and Prokyes Caſe before.

8. In Reſcous the Plaintiff declared, That where, as he had diſtreined 40 ſheep of the Defendants, and 80 of J. S. for damage feaſance, the defendant reſcued them all, and took and chaſed them: The defendant juſtified the putting his 40 ſheep in the place where was Common, and that the plaintiff, de injuria propria, took and chaſed them, and that he would have taken them from him, and they ran amongſt the other ſheep of J. S. and folded with them, and becauſe he could not ſever them, he chaſed them, which is eadem Reſcous: Upon a Demurrer, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for though there be ſome colour to reſcue his own ſheep, yet he ought not to Reſcous the ſheep of a ſtranger, who appeared not to have any right of Common. Paſc. 18 Jac. in B. R. Jennings and Playſtows Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 468.

9. In Treſpaſs, the Plaintiff declared, That he had levyed a plaint in the Counter of Lond. againſt W. and upon proceſs, he was arreſted by J. S. a Sergeant, & that the defendant, vi & armis, did reſcue him, whereby he loſt his debt: upon Not Guilty, and verdict for the Plaintiff, Judgment was, Quod Defendens capiatur; upon which, Error was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, and the Judgment was affirmed; for although the nature of the Action is properly upon the Caſe, as touching the Plaintiffs loſs, or damage of debt, yet being done with force, & that force being done, although not to the Plaintiff himſelf, to the Sergeant who was Miniſter as wel for him, as to the Court, he may lay and bring his Action vi & armis. P. 14 Jac. in B. R. Wheatly and Stones Caſe. Hob. 180. See there M. 41 El. in B. R. Aſtel and Ridges Caſe: M. 43 El. in B. R. Perling and Marriots Caſe acc.

2. Where

2. Where Execution ſhall be taken, and awarded, when the Party taken, reſcued himſelf and eſcaped.

1. DEbt upon an Obligation, to pay 100 l. The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. was bound with him, joyntly and ſeverally in the ſame Obligation, and that the Plaintiff recovered againſt him, and had him in Execution, upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and that at ſuch a day, he freely ſuffered him to eſcape. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for an Execution againſt one is no Bar; and although he eſcaped by the voluntary permiſſion of the Sheriff, ſo as the Plaintiff is entituled to an Action againſt the Sheriff, yet that ſhall not deprive him of his remedy againſt the other; but if he had pleaded, that the Sheriff had ſuffered him to go at large, by the command or licence of the Plaintiff, it had been a diſcharge, and might have been pleaded in Bar. Hill. 2 Car. B. R. Whitacres and Hawkinſons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 53.

2. In Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That he recovered againſt T. D. in Debt, and that he was taken by the Sheriff upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and the Defendants reſcued him. It was ſaid, an Action did not lye by the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant for this Reſcous, but the remedy is againſt the Sheriff, in Debt, or Action upon the Caſe, and the Sheriff ought to have his Action againſt the Reſcouſors: But it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye for the Plaintiff, for that he is the party that ſuſtained the loſs, and to whom the injury was done; wherefore he ought to have the Action, and not be enforced to ſue the Sheriff, who perhaps is dead, and then no Action lyeth againſt his Executors; and if he do recover, the parties may plead it, if they be ſued by the Sheriff. Paſch. 4 Car. in C. B. Myns Caſe. See Sect. before, 4. & 5.

3. Scire facias to have Execution upon a Judgment in Debt; the Defendant pleaded, That at another time the Plaintiff had ſued Execution by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, and the Defendant was taken in Execution. The Plaintiff Replyed, and ſaid, That was true, but that he preſently Reſcued himſelf, and eſcaped. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Replication was good; and that the Plaintiff not having the fruit of his Execution, might have a new Execution. And although it be no good Return upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, that the Defendant Reſcued himſelf; yet the Defendant ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong. And whereas it was ſaid, That the Plaintiff might have his remedy againſt the Sheriff. It was anſwered, That doth not take away his remedy againſt the party who eſcaped, unleſs the Defendant ſhew that the Plaintiff hath ſued the Sheriff, and recovered againſt him: Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 6 Car. in B. R. Robinſon and Cleyton's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 174, 185. acc.

More Reſcous.

1. ONe was Indicted for a Reſcous, and Exception was taken to it, becauſe it wanted the words, Vi et armis, or manu forti; and alſo, becauſe the place where the Reſcous was made, was not certainly expreſſed. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That it was good, for it ſhall be intended, That where the Arreſt was made, there was alſo the Reſcous; and the Indictment was good without the words vi et armis, for the word Reſcuſſit implies it was done with force. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Cramlingtons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 345.

2. H. Indicted in London for a Reſcous made to a Sergeant at Mace, upon a Plaint in London, upon Not Guilty, It was found for the King; and a Fine aſſeſſed of 30 l. upon him, and Impriſonment without Bail or Main-prize. Error upon it was brought and aſſigned, becauſe the Indictment was not vi et armis. And 2. Becauſe it was expreſſed, That he made the Arreſt by vertue of a Warrant. But becauſe the Indictment was, That by vertue of a Plaint before ſuch a Sheriff, he was lawfully taken and Arreſted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it ſhall be intended, That he had a good Warrant. Paſc. 16 Jac. in B. R. Hews Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 472.

3. In a Capias utlagatum before Judgment, the Sheriff returned, That J. S. and J. D. reſcouſed the party. It was moved, That the Return was not good, for there ought to be additions by which they might be ſued to Outlawry. But the Court held it to be good without additions, for no Statute will compell the Sheriff to give additions in this Caſe. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Return was good, and the Reſcouſors who were

preſent

preſent, were commited to the Fleet. Paſc. 19 Jac. in C. B. Holman and Hall's Caſe. Winch. 10.

4. The Sheriff of S. returned a Reſcous againſt A. that whereas there was a Judgment had againſt B. and a Fieri facias awarded upon it, with a Warrant to R. to take the goods of B. by vertue thereof ſuch a day. R. diverſa bona et catalla ipſius, did levy, and had them in his Cuſtody, and that A. reſcued them from the Bayliff, contra voluntatem ipſius R. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That no Reſcous can be upon a Fieri facias, but the party ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe. And Reſcous only lyes upon a Capias, which lyes againſt the perſon himſelf. Trin. 5 Car. in C. B. The Sheriff of Surrey and Addertons Caſe. Hetley, 145.

5. The Sheriffs of Norwich brought Action upon the Caſe againſt B. becauſe that they à Capias ad ſatisfaciendum being awarded to them, they 20 Feb. 25 Eliz. directed their Warrant in Writing to three Sergeants of the City to Arreſt him, by force of which, the ſaid Sergeants the 26th of Feb. in the ſame year, did Arreſt him in Execution, and that he was reſcued and eſcaped. Upon Not Guilty, a Special Verdict, That about 20. Feb. Anno 25. ſuch a Warrant was made by them to the Sergeants, but not 20. Feb. and that the Sergeants by force thereof, about 26. Feb. did Arreſt him, but not 26. Feb. And upon the whole matter, there was a demurrer. It was Objected, That the Arreſt was not good, nor did the Action lye. 1. Becauſe the body of a man cannot be Arreſted without a Warrant in Writing, and it is not ſhewed, That the Warrant was in Writing, et ſigillo ſignatum, as it ought to be. 2. Becauſe there muſt be a preſent loſs to the Plaintiffs, they are chargeable, but not charged; for if the Sheriffs dye before they begin his Suit againſt them, their Executors ſhall not be charged. And 3. The Verdict is not good, for the wrong in it is not layed certain. But the Court held, That it was not material, whether he ſhewed or not, That the Warrant was ſub ſigillo ſigillat. 4. They held, That they ſhould have their Action upon the Caſe for the wrong done, and that the Defendant ſhould not take advantage of his own wrong. See 13 H. 7. 1. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action was well brought. Hill. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Yarram and Bradſhaws Caſe. Godbolt, 225.

Reſervations.

1. Of the words, Tenendo, Reſervando, Faciendo, Reddendo, Solvendo; Salvo Excepcis; how they ſhall be taken and conſtrued; where they ſhall be good, and to what extend, in Deeds or Grants, or Acts of Parliament, and to what not.

1. REſervation is a general Term, but it is of divers natures; for by ſome words of Reſervation, it ſhall be taken to go to that which a man had not before: As if a man make a Leaſe for years or life, reſerving Rent, becauſe he had not the Rent before; and therefore the word Reddendo ſhall be conſtrued to the giving him a Rent, which he had not before, ſometimes it ſhall extend to that which he had before: As if a man make a Leaſe of Lands, reſerving the Woods, Under-woods, or great Trees, there Leſſee cannot meddle with them, by reaſon of the words of Reſervation; be the words reſervatis, or exceptis groſſis arboribus.

2. Note, It is ſaid in Plow. Com. 140. in Browning and Beſtons Caſe. That upon a Leaſe for years, although that there are not the uſual words of Reſervation of the Rent. Yet if there be words equivalent in Law, it is ſufficient. And although that the words be not apt nor uſual, yet if they have ſubſtance, and lead to the matter intended, it is ſufficient. And the Law takes words of ſubſtance not uſual, equivalent to words of ſubſtance uſual. And therefore if Land be granted by Indenture, and by the ſame Indenture, the Leſſee Covenants and Grants to render and pay for the Lands ſuch a ſum, the ſame in ſubſtance is a good Reſervation of Rent. So ſee 9 H. 6. 35. A Commoner makes a Deed to the Tenant of the Land, by which he renounceth his Common to him, the ſame ſhall enure as a Releaſe of the Common; and yet there are no words of Releaſe in the Deed.

3. Guardian by Deed Indented, aſſigns unto a Woman Dowable, and to her ſecond Husband, Land of greater value then her Dower amounts unto; and in reſpect thereof, by the ſame Deed, the Husband and Wife grant an yearly ſum, to the value of the overplus to the Guardian, with clauſe of Diſtreſs; the Husband dyes, the ſame ſhall bind the Wife after the death of the Husband, becauſe that the Grant of the ſame for the over-plus, ſhall be a good Reſervation of Rent. 17 E. 3. 9. Avowry, 95. acc.

4. The King Lord, an Abbot Meſne, and Tenant of the Mannor of D. the Tenant is Attainted of Treaſon, and after Office found, the King by his Letters Pattents granted over the Mannor to B. and his Heirs, Tenendum de nobis haeredibus et Succeſſoribus noſtris et aliis capitalibus Dominis feodi illius per ſervitia inde debita et de jure conſueta. It was Objected, That the Tenure ſhould be of the King, becauſe by the Attainder, the Meſnalty was extinct, and alſo becauſe there is an expreſs Tenure reſerved of the King. But it was Reſolved, That the words were ſufficient to create a Tenure in the Meſne, for ſuch was the intent of the King, that the Meſne who did not offend, ſhould not loſe his Services. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Tenure ſhould be of the Meſne immediately, and of the King as Lord Paramount. Cook 6. Part, Sir John Molyns Caſe.

5. Lord, Meſne, and Tenant: The Meſne held of the King in Capite in Socage; and the Tenant held of the Meſne in Socage: the Tenant was Attainted of Treaſon, the King ſeiſed the Land, and granted by his Letters Pattents the Tenancy to J. S. Tenendum de nobis et haeredibus noſtris per Servitium militare, et faciendo aliis capitalibus Dominis feodi ſi qui fuerint, reddita et Servitia quae inde debebantur antequam ad manus noſtras devenerant. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Tenure of the Meſne ſhould be revived, although that the King by his Letters Pattents in the firſt place had reſerved to him other Services, becauſe the King for his Honor, and the advancement of the ancient Right expreſly intended, That the Meſnalty ſhould be revived. Note there, a difference between a Creation of a new Tenure without any reſpect to the ancient Right; for there the firſt Reſervation ſhall be preferred; and Reſtitution of an Ancient Tenure, for that ſhall be preferred before the Reſervation, which is firſt in words. Cook 9. Part, 131. Bewlyes Caſe.

6. If the King be entituled to the Land of J. S. by forfeiture of Treaſon, or Felony by Act of Parliament, or by Office, by that, all Tenures are determined, as well of the King, as of all others: and if that Land be given to another, by another Act of Parliament, ſaving to all others their Rights, Intereſts, Titles, Rents, Services; as if no ſuch Act had bin made. It was holden, That in ſuch Caſe, the Seignories were not revived, for that no Seignory was in eſſe at the time of the ſecond Act of Parliament made, and there are no words of gift or Reviving in the Act, but words of Saving, which doth not ſerve to ſave that which was not in eſſe at the time of the Saving. See 27 H. 8. Br. tit. Parliament, 77. Note the Difference betwixt this Caſe, and Sir John Molins Caſe; for in that Caſe, there were words which did amount to the reviving of the Ancient Seignory.

7. The King Granted Lands in Fee, Tenendum de nobis, et ſucceſſoribus noſtris per Servitia unam roſam rubicam, annuatim ad feſtum St. Johannis pro cunctis Servitiis. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That it was a Tenure in Socage in Chief, for inaſmuch as Fealty is incident to every Rent Service, the Law annexes Fealty to the ſaid Rent, ſo as the Tenure ſhall be by a Roſe and Fealty; and that is a favourable conſtruction as near to the intent of the King as may be. Cook 6. Part, 6. Wheeler Caſe.

8. A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 100 years, he and his Wife by Deed Indented, Aſſigned the ſame to J. S. reddendo et ſolvendo, to the Husband and Wife, and to the Survivor of them 10*l.* yearly, during the Term: Proviſo, That if the Rent were behind by 40 dayes, that the Husband and Wife, and the Surviver of them ſhould enter; the Husband dyed Inteſtate; there was two points in the Caſe, 1. If it was a good Rent to the Wife, ſhe being a party to the Deed, but not ſealing it. 2. Admitting, That the Wife could not enter, nor demand the Rent, If the Adminiſtrator of the Husband might demand the Rent, and enter for the Condition. It was holden by Berkley Juſtice in this Caſe, That the Wife ſhould have the Rent by force of the ſolvendum, which ſhould operate as a new Grant, for the Reddendo ſhall relate to the Husband, and the Solvendum to the Wife, and words of Reſervation ſhall ennure according to the intent of the parties. 2. He held, That forasmuch as the Reſervation was during the Term, that the Executor or Adminiſtrator ſhould have it. Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. Spencers Caſe. See Godbolt, 448. Blands Caſe.

9. King Hen. 8. by his Letters Pattents gave the Mannor of A. to Walter Walſh, and the Heirs males of his body: Afterwards by an Act of Parliament made, 28 H. 8. It was Enacted, That the ſaid Mannor of A. by reaſon of the great profit and pleaſure of it ſhould be re-veſted in the King, his Heirs and Succeſſors, ſaving to all perſons their Rights, Titles, &c. as if the ſaid Act had not bin made. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That when the ſaid Mannor of A. was expreſly given to the King by the Act of Parliament, the general ſaving in the Act did not extend to ſave and reſerve the Eſtate of him who was ſeiſed of the Land: for when a ſalvo in an Act of Parliament is repugnant, to the body of the Act it ſelf, there the Salvo is void. Cook 1. Part, in the Caſe of Alton Woods, 47, 50, 51. See Plow. Com. 503. The Attainder of the Duke of Norfolk by an Act of Parliament, 1. Mar. was declared to be void, Saving the Eſtates and Leaſes made by King E. 6. It was Reſolved, That this (Salvo) was void, for when the Attainder was declared to be void, the ſaid (Salvo) was repugnant to the body of the Act; and therefore void.

to

10. The Prior and Covent of C. made a Leaſe of their Mannor of D. with the Appurtenances in the County of D. una cum Columbris ac redditu omnium Testamentorum ejuſdem Manerii, decimis garbarum, pertinentiis Eccleſiæ ibidem, finibus, hariottis, perquiſitis Curiæ ibidem provenient, et aliis quibuſcunque emolumentis et profitais eidem Manerio pertinent. five proveniet. Advocation. Eccleſiæ ibid. et Wrecum Maris, &c. duntaxat, Exceptis et reſervatis. The Prior and Covent were Parſons of the Church there, and had Spiritual Juriſdiction, the doubt was, Where the Exception ſhould begin, and, If the Farmor ſhould have the letting, ſetting, perquiſits of Court, &c. The Opinion was, That the Farmor ſhould have them, and that the Exception did begin but at advocationibus Eccleſiæ, for otherwiſe the Leaſe ſhould be repugnant in it ſelf; or for every Emolument profit appertaining to the Mannor, ſhould be reſerved to the Leſſor. Alſo the nature of an Exception or foreprize is to reſtrein part of a thing before ſpoken of, whereas Decimas garbarum, &c. is a new thing. Paſc. 37 H. 8. Dyer, 59. Wiltſhires Caſe.

11. In Clifford's Error, in Ejectione firmæ; Error was aſſigned, That the Writ was in Manerium de A. &c. et unum Meſſuagium, &c. And the Count was of the Demiſe of the Mannor, advocatione Eccleſiæ reddit. aviſa, &c. dicto Manerio pertinent. exceptis et reſervatis, ſo as the whole Mannor was not let, as the Writ ſuppoſed. The Opinion of the Juſtices was, That it was a void Exception of the Services, which were of the ſubſtance of the Mannor, and the Leaſe is Manerio ſpectant. and ſo the Exception void. Hill. 1 Ma. Dyer, 96. in Clifford's Error.

12. Note, there was an Exception taken to the Pleading, in Fulmerton and Steward's Caſe. Plow. Com. 102. in the firſt Leaſe of a Tenement, there late Argent, becauſe that the Plaintiff did not aver, that the ſame was not parcel of the 100 Acres of Paſture in which the Treſpaſs was ſuppoſed. And upon that, the Caſe was this; A man ſeiſed of a Mannor, made a Leaſe thereof for years, excepting one Acre. Bramley Juſtice held, That that Acre was not parcel of the Mannor, but ſevered from it, and became in groſs; As of an Advowſon appendant, where the entire Mannor is let; the Advowſon excepts the Advowſon, the Advowſon is ſevered and become in groſs. But Portman Juſtice, held the contrary, and took a difference between the Leaſe of the Mannor for life with ſuch Exception, and a Leaſe of years of it. Mich. 1 Ma. Dyer, 103.

13. L. Tenant in Knight-Service of C. as of his Mannor of D. in the County of N. holden in Capite, levyed a Fine, and took back an Eſtate of the ſame for life, the Remainder to his Wife for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of the Husband, and C. being within age, it was upon Office found in the County of Middleſex, That he held the Mannor of O. in Ward; and the King granted the Wardſhip during the Minority to P. excepting Wards and Marriages: L. dyed, having two ſons, his Wife entred; the eldeſt dyed, the youngeſt within age, if the King ſhould have the Wardſhip, and the third part of the Land out of the hands of the Wife, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. was the Queſtion. In that Caſe, it was a Quære if the Exception were good or not. It ſeemed the better Opinion to be, That it was thought it was a ſtring incident; for that there Judgment is given for the Queen. Mich. 2 Eliz. Dyer, 172. Lanes Caſe.

14. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, by Deed Indented, Granted, and ſold the ſaid Mannor to B. and his Heirs. In which Indenture were divers Covenants to levy a Fine, and ſuffer a Recovery to the uſes in the Indenture. Provided, That B. ſhould give the Advowſon to A. for his life, and if it happen void, then one time to his Executors. A. ſuffered a Recovery according to the Indenture, and afterwards A. and B. levyed a Fine with a Render of a Rent of 42 l. to A. in tail, the Remainder to D. in Fee, with recompence and Diſtreſs. B. in his life time did not grant the Advowſon to A. and dyed. The Church voided, E. the ſon of B. entred into the Mannor: A. entred for the Condition broken. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That the Fine levyed by A. and B. had not extinct the Condition; For the Fine by the Common Law was directed to have a ſpecial operation according to the intent of the parties by the general Covenant, and that was, that the Eſtate ſhould be conditional, and that the Condition ſhould not be vouched by the Fine, but the ſame did extinct all other Rights and Titles, ſaving only the Condition. And in that Caſe, it was put for a Rule, and agreed, That a ſaving of a Condition might be annexed to another Deed, and that it was not of neceſſity, that the ſaving ſhould be alwayes in the ſame Record. And in that Caſe, it was put and agreed,

That the Lord by Deed might releaſe all his right in the Land, ſaving to him his Rent. And a man may enter into Warranty, ſaving to him his Rent or Condition; and that the Releaſe of the Lord to his Tenant is good Salvo ſibi dominio. Cook 2. Part, The Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

15. Husband and Wife, Leſſees for years of a houſe called the three Conies in Fleetſtreet, the Husband let part of the Term by theſe words, viz. the houſe called the three Conyes, with all Chambers, Cellars, and Shops, excepting to the Husband, the Shops to his own proper uſe; the Husband dyed, the Wife entred into the Shops. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Exception was but temporary to the Husband himſelf where there are no words of Executors and Aſſigns; and that the Exception was void touching the Shops, becauſe it was repugnant to the Leaſe it ſelf of the Shops. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer, 264. See 3 H. 6. 53. acc. And ſee Perkins, Sect. 642, 643. acc.

16. If a man be ſeiſed of a Water in which he hath a Piſcary from the Town of D. in the County of M. to the Town of Sale in the ſame County; and upon the ſame Water he hath a Mill, and he Grants to a ſtranger, totam partem Piſcarie ſuæ de Duam procul terra inde extendent, et quod nec ipſe nec hæredes ſui nec molendinarii de cetero cum retibus nec aliis ingen. Piſcabunt. ſalvo tamen ſtagno Molendini. It was holden in this Caſe, That this Exception or Reſervation ſhould not ouſt the Grantee of his Piſcary in the ſame Stagne or Pool; but the Salvo ſhould have Relation only, as for the Reparation of the Mill, and for the doing only of neceſſary things to the Mill. 34 Aſſ. 11.

17. A man leaſed his Land for years, excepting the Wood; And afterwards the Leſſor granted the Wood to the Leſſee, if now the Wood were ſo united to the Land again, that by the Leaſe of the Land, the Wood paſſed as a thing annexed to it, or if it did remain as an Intereſt diſtinct and ſevered from the Land, was the Queſtion. It was Reſolved in this Caſe (amongſt other points), That the Leſſee had no Judgment of Law abſolute and divided property in the Trees, ſo that by the Leaſe of the Land they do not paſs: And this difference was taken, That if I enfeoff you of all my Lands (except the Trees) to have and to hold, to you and your Heirs; now the Trees in property are divided from the Land, although in facto they remain annexed to the Land, for if he cut them down and carry them away, it is not Felony. And therefore if the Feoffor grant the Trees to the Feoffee, they are re-united as well in property as they are in facto, and the Heir of the Feoffee ſhall have them, and not the Executors of the Feoffor. Cook 4. Part, 63. Herlackendens Caſe.

18. Leſſee for years opened a Cole Mine, and afterwards aſſigned over all his Intereſt in the Land with all profits and commodities, excepting the profits in the Cole-Mine, the Aſſignee digged in the Cole-Mine: and the Leſſor brought an Action of Waſte. In this Caſe, amongſt other things, it was Reſolved. 1. That if a man hath Land in part of which there is a Cole-Mine open, and he demiſeth the Land for life, or for years, the Leſſee may dig Coles in it, for it ſhall be intended, that he ſhall take all the profits of the Lands. But if the Mine be not open, but included in the bowells of the Land, there by Leaſe of the Land, the Leſſee cannot make new Mines; but it ſhall be Waſte. 2. Reſolved, That the Exception in the Principal Caſe was void: For a man cannot except a thing which doth not belong unto him; and by the Exception of the Mine, the Land it ſelf is not excepted. And it was Reſolved, That the Leſſee could not appropriate the Mine to himſelf, and ſubject himſelf only to Waſte, and treble damages, becauſe the Leſſee by his own wrong which he committed, could not deveſt the Intereſt which the Leſſor had in the Mine. Cook 5. Part, 12. Saunders Caſe.

19. Leſſee for years aſſigned over his Term, excepting the Timber Trees; and afterwards the Trees were cut down. It was adjudged, That in that Caſe, an Action of Waſte was maintainable againſt the Aſſignee, for that the Exception was void. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Foſter and Spencer's Caſe.

20. A. and B. his Wife being Tenants for life of a Tenement called R. the Remainder to A. in tail, the Remainder to B. in tail, the Reverſion to A. and his Heirs. A. and B. by Indenture demiſed the ſaid Tenement to J. S. for years, except all Trees of Timber, Oaks, and Aſhes, and liberty to carry them away, rendring Rent. A. dyed, having Iſſue M. a Daughter, the Wife of Sir Allen Percy. Afterwards J. S. demiſed the ſaid Tenement to Sir Allen for 7 years; the Queſtion was, Whether Sir Allen having the immediate Inheritance in the right of his Wife expectant upon the Eſtate for the life of B. and having the poſſeſſion by the ſaid Demiſe, might cut down the Timber Trees, Oaks, and Aſhes. It was Objected, That he might well do it. For it was ſaid, That it was Reſolved in Cook 5. Part, in Saunders Caſe, That if Leſſee for years or life aſſign over his Term, excepting the Mines or Trees, that the exception is void, becauſe he cannot except that which he cannot lawfully take. But it was Reſolved in the principal Caſe by all the Juſtices, That the Exception was good, becauſe that he who hath the Inheritance joyns in the Leaſe with the Leſſee for life. But it was further Reſolved, That if Tenant for life leaſeth for years, excepting the Timber Trees, the ſame is lawfully and wiſely done; for otherwiſe, If the Leſſee or Aſſignee cutteth down the Trees, the Tenant for life ſhould be puniſhed in Truſt, and ſhould not have any remedy againſt Leſſee for years. But when Tenant for life upon his Leaſe excepteth the Trees, if they be cut down by the Leſſor, the Leſſee or Aſſignee ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſs Quare vi et armis, and ſhall recover damages according to his loſs. Trin. 7 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir Allen Percies Caſe. Cook's Select Caſes, 60.

21. A man made a Leaſe for 30. years of a Manor, Excepting all Woods and Underwoods growing and being upon the ſaid Manor, and afterwards made another Leaſe to the ſame Leſſee of all the Wood and Underwoods growing and being upon the ſaid Manor for 60 years, without impeachment of Waſte; and afterwards made a third Demiſe of the ſaid Manor to the ſaid Leſſee without Exception, to begin at a day to come; ſcil. from the expiration of the firſt Leaſe for 30 years; the Term for 30 years expired; the Leſſee cut down Trees, and he in the Reverſion brought Waſte: In this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That by the Exception of the Wood and Underwood, the ſoile it ſelf was excepted. 2. That notwithſtanding the Exception, the Woods did remain parcell of the Manor. 3. That by the acceptance of the future Leaſe to begin divers years, to begin after the ſaid Leaſe of 60 years was ſurrendred, becauſe the Leſſee by his Acceptance had affirmed the Leſſor to have ability to make a new Leaſe; the which he had not, if the firſt Leaſe had ſtood. Cook 5. Part, Ives Caſe.

22. A Leaſe was made Reſerving Woods and Underwoods to one for years; the Leſſee cut down Woods. It was holden, That Waſte did not lye, Becauſe the Statute is in terris boſcis, ſibi Dimiſſis, &c. Shelley ſaid, That by the Reſervation of the Woods, the Land is not reſerved; for the Tenant ſhall have the herbage, &c. But by a grant of Woods, the Land ſhall paſſe, becauſe the Deed of every man ſhall be ſtrongeſt taken againſt him. Trin. 28 H. 8 Dyer, 19. See Cook 11. Part, in Liford's Caſe.

23. A man Leaſed divers Cloſes, by the words, Demiſeth, granteth, and to Farm letteth, together with all manner of Timber Wood, and Underwood, and Hedg-rowes, Except the great Oaks in ſuch a place: The Termor cut down Wood in a place which is not excepted. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was Waſte; for that he who hath Timber demiſed to him, cannot cut down the Trees; and the word [Great] in the Leaſe, doth not alter the Demiſe. Hill. 23 Eliz. Dyer, 374.

24. A man makes a Leaſe of a Manor, in which there is a Wood of 30 Acres, and in another place of the Manor there are Timber-Trees, and there is an Exception of Timber-Trees and great: In that caſe, by 3. Juſtices, the Herbage and the Underwoods do paſſe: And ſuch ſeemed to be the Intent of the Leſſor, by reaſon of the word [Great] in the Exception. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer, 79. Cook 1. 1. TEnant by Knight-Service, at this day makes a Guift in tail of the Land, reſerving to him and his Heirs, 10 s. Rent, without more words; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe, That the Tenant ſhould hold by both; for one of them the Law hath reſerved; viz. the Tenure by Knight-ſervice, without ſaying any more, and the which is added to it, by the ſpecial reſervation of the party. Paſch. 34 H. 8. Dyer, 52.

2. A. by Indenture granted Land in Fee-Farm, Reſerving Rent, with Condition of Re-Entry for not payment of the Rent; and by the ſame Indenture he Covenanted and granted, with the Grantee, &c. to make further aſſurance according to the intent expreſſed in the ſame Indenture: And by another Indenture of the ſame date, he Covenanted to levy a Fine of the ſaid Lands, which ſhould be to the only uſe, intents, effects, and Conditions expreſſed in the former Indenture, and no other; and Livery and Seiſin was made upon the Indenture accordingly; and afterwards he levied a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit come ceo, &c. to the Grantee with Warranty: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this caſe, That by the Fine of the Land, the Rent and Conditions were not extinct by reaſon of the former Indenture, which Ruled the Fine. And it was ſaid by them, That it was like unto a Releaſe, made by the Lord to the Tenant of the Land, of all the

the right in the Land and Seigniory, Salvo ſibi Dominio ſuo, whereby the Town was not extinct, but the annual ſervices only. Hill. 4 Mar. Dyer, 159. Puttenhams Caſe.

3. If a man be ſeized of Lands on the part of his Mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, Reſerving Rent to him and his Heirs: in this Caſe, according to the Rule of the Common Law, the Rent ſhall go to the Heir of the part of the father: But if a man be ſeized of Lands on the part of his Mother, and maketh a Feoffment in Fee, to the uſe of him and his heirs, in this caſe the uſe ſhall not go to the heir at Common Law, viz. to the heir of the part of the Father, ; but for as much as the Land and Living moveth from the part of the Mother, therefore the uſe, which is nothing but a Truſt and a confidence, ſhall go to the heirs on the part of the Mother. 4. Upon a Writ of Cuſtoms and Services, where it is Reported, That whereas there was contention betwixt the Lord and Tenant, for Murage and Caſtle Ward; the Lord upon the Fine, Conceſſi, That the Tenant, ſit quietus de prædict. Servitio, ſalvis aliis omnibus Servitiis: The Juſtices prima facie conceived, That this Fine was to releaſe the Tenure of Knight Service, and to reſerve only a Tenure in ſoccage: The Tenancy being holden by a Knights Fee and a half: But upon advice afterwards, It was Reſolved by the ſaid Juſtices, That the Knight-Service did ſtill remain; for that the diſcharge of the Murage and Caſtle-Ward, which it might be were uſurped, was by them holden to be no diſcharge of the Tenure in Knight-Service. 5. Abbot of a Covent made a Leaſe for years, reudring yearly during the Term to the Abbot and Covent, or to his Succeſſors, 14 l. at two Feaſts, upon condition, That if the Rent be behinde, to re-enter: The Abbot ſurrendred all the Lands to the King, which afterwards by mean Conveyances came to J. S. who levyed a Fine of the Reverſion to B; B. before Attornment, granted by Deed the Reverſion to his ſon and heir, to whom the Termor Attorned, and then the Rent was behinde, and the ſon in the Reverſion entred into the Land. In this Caſe (amongſt other points) it was Reſolved, That the Reſervation in the disjunctive was good; for the Law ſhall make ſuch a conſtruction as ſhall ſtand with the Intention of the Law, and of the parties: And it was agreed, That rendring rent yearly during the Term to him and his Succeſſors, and rendring rent during the Term to him or his Succeſſors, is all one if the Rent be reſerved to him and his Succeſſors, although the words are joynt, and in the Copulative; yet by conſtruction in Law, the Leſſor ſhall have it during his life, and his Succeſſors after his deceaſe: And theſe words (to him, or his Succeſſors) are words only of explanation; for ſuch Reſervation had been good, being reſerved yearly during the Term, without theſe words, To him and his Succeſſors. But if a Feoffment be made, To have to one, or to his heirs, he hath but an Eſtate for life; becauſe there wants words precedent, to divert the words in the disjunctive; the ſame Law, if a Reſervation to one, or his heirs. Cook 5. 6. The Biſhop of York made a Leaſe for years, of divers Lands in Batterſey, rendring rent at Batterſey, Proviſo, That in the time of Vacation, the Rent ſhall be paid to the Chapter, ut in jure ſuæ Sede vacante, the Rent was behinde, the Baylif of the Succeſſor of the Biſhop re-entred, and diſtrined. It was holden in this Caſe (amongſt other things) That the Proviſo was not a Condition, but a Forepriſe, or Exception, not annexed to the thing given; and if it ſhould be a Condition, yet it was an impoſſible Condition; becauſe that rent may not be paid to the Chapter, becauſe they have not the Reverſion; alſo in jure ſuo it could not be; becauſe that, ſede vacante, the Queen had the Right: And it was holden, That the Rent in that Caſe ſhould not be paid, either at York, or at the Manſion houſe of the Biſhop, at Batterſey, but it ſhould be paid upon the Land, and upon demand. 7. A man ſeized of a Mannor in Fee, holden in Capite of the King, before the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum, did Enfeoff J. S. of part of the Demeſnes of the Mannor, without ſaying more, who enfeoffed another, Tenendum of the Feoffor and his heirs, per redditum 26 s. 8 d. per annum, and pro omnibus Servitiis & Demandis. It was the clear Opinion of the Juſtices, That this Land was not holden in Capite, and the firſt Menalty is holden of the Feoffor, as by the Mannor by Knights ſervice. Paſch. 13 Eliz. Dyer, 299.

8. In Debt, upon Obligation to perform Covenants, Payments, and Reſervations in an Indenture; the Caſe was, A man ſeized of a houſe in Fee, leaſed the ſame to J. S. for a year by Indenture; and if both parties agreed, and ſhould be contented, that the Term ſhould continue for any longer time: Then Habendum & Tenendum dimiſſa prædict. in the ſaid J. S. for three years, Reddendo inde annuatim, during the ſaid Term of four feaſts of the year 40 l. Rent; the Leſſee entred, and occupied the houſe for a year, and the Leſſor ac-not payment of the ſaid rent for the ſaid year, brought debt: The Queſtion was, If the Leſſee ſhould pay any rent for the firſt year, or not? It was Objected in this Caſe, That the Leſſee ſhould not pay any Rent for the firſt year, becauſe the Reddendo did depend upon a Contingent, which never took effect; for the Leaſe was not continued over the firſt year, and the Reſervation is, durante termino prædict. which being ſpoken only in the ſingular number, ſhall relate only to the three years laſt mentioned, and not to the term of one year, which was certain, before the Contingent: and becauſe every Reſervation ſhall be taken ſtrongly againſt the Leſſor, and ſhall not be extended beyond the words. But it was Reſolved, That the Reſervation of the Rent ſhould extend to the firſt year, and the proper place of Reſervation, is to come after the Limitation of all Eſtates; and the Reddendo inde did extend to all the Eſtates before; and durante Termino prædict. although it be in the ſingular number, yet the ſame is Nomen collectivum, and ſhall have reference to every Term within the Indenture; and ſuch conſtruction ſhall be made of Reſervation of Rents, that the Leſſor ſhall not loſe his Rent at any day. Cook 10. Part, 107, 108. Humphry Laſields Caſe.

9. A Leaſe was made of a Houſe and Lands for years, if the Leſſee ſhould ſo long live; and afterwards, the Leſſor by his Deed Indented, granted the Meſſuage and Land to another: To have, and to hold the Reverſion to the Grantee for life, cum per mortem, ſurſumredditionem, vel forisfacturam of the Leſſee, aut aliter acciderit, Reddendo inde annuatim, to the Grantor and his heirs, cum Reverſio acciderit 9 s. 4 d. per annum; the Leſſee dyed, the Grantor of the Reverſion diſtreined for the Arrearages of the Rent, as well before the death of the Leſſee, as after. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That by the Leaſe of the Meſſuage and Land, the Reverſion paſſed. 2. That Hebendum Reverſionem was good; for that in Judgment of Law, nothing but the Reverſion is granted by the premiſſes. 3. That by the ſaid Reſervation, the Rent ſhall not begin till the Reverſion fall in poſſeſſion; and theſe words, cum Reverſio prædict. acciderit, ſhall be expounded according to the intent of the parties, which was not that the Grantee for life ſhould pay the Rent reſerved, before that he might take the profits to raiſe the Rent out of them. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Paines and Prowſes Caſe. ibid.

10. The King leaſed a Mannor to J. S. excepting the Courts and Perquiſites; the Grantee made another Leaſe, to begin after the firſt, excepting Courts and Perquiſites: It was holden by the Juſtices, That the Exception in the Leaſe of the King was good, but not in the Leaſe of the Grantee: and therefore it was holden, That the Grantee of Reverſion, during the firſt Term, might grant Copies; but when the ſecond Leaſe begins, he may not, but the Leſſee might. At what time Rents reſerved ſhall be ſaid to begin, and be good at; What not. And of divers other things concerning Grants and Reſervations of Rents and Services. And where a Rent upon a Leaſe ſhall follow the Reverſion; Where not.*

1. EVery Reſervaton of Rent ought to be out of ſuch a thing, to which a man may reſort to take a Diſtreſs; as out of Houſes, Lands: And a Rent in caſe of a Common perſon, cannot be reſerved out of a Rent; but the King may reſerve a Rent out of a Rent; or out of a thing which is not mainvainable. See 44 E. 3. 45.

2. A Biſhop after the Statute of 1 Eliz. made a Leaſe for years of a Fair, being parcel of his Biſhoprick, for three lives, rendring the ancient and accuſtomed Rent; which Leaſe was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. It was adjudged in that Caſe, That his Succeſſor ſhould avoid the Leaſe, becauſe that a Fair is but a Franchiſe, or a Liberty not Manurable, out of which a Rent cannot be reſerved; and all Leaſes of ſuch Inheritances out of which the ancient Rent cannot be reſerved, are void. Cook 5. Part, 3. Jewells Caſe.

3. A Mannor did conſiſt of divers Free Rents, amounting to 7 l. &c. and 15 Copyhold Tenements, which were holden for lives, the Cuſtomary rent of which was 3 l. and of Demeſnes, which had uſually been demiſed by Indenture for ſeveral Rents, and Fermes of 8 l. &c. and there was one Acre of Waſte, parcel of the ſaid Mannor, in which were divers high-wayes, and Common for the Tenants, of the yearly value of 12 d. There was alſo a Court Baron, and Perquiſites of Courts, appertaining to the ſaid Mannor; the ſaid Free-Rents, Copyhold Rents, Herriots, Perquiſites of Courts, o Leet, were never before demiſed for life or years. It was found, That Anne, the Wife of Charles Lord Mountjoy, was Tenant in Tail of the ſaid Mannor, and after, to J. Pawlet, and Eliz. his Wife, and the heirs of their bodies lawfully begotten, with divers Remainders over: And that the ſaid Charles Lord Mountjoy dyed, and that the ſaid Anne his Wife did accept a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit, &c. of the ſaid Mannor; by which Fine the ſaid Anne granted and rendred the moyty of the ſaid Mannor for 300 years, rendring Rent, amounting to the Free-rents, Copyhold Rents, Ferm-rents, and 18 d. more, and 12 d. for the Acre of Waſte. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other things, That the Rent did not Iſſue out of the Heriots, Leets, &c. which were never before demiſed, but out of the things manurable, to which the Leſſor might reſort to diſtrein; And it was ſaid, and agreed in this Caſe, That if a Leaſe be made of Land, and of the Mature of a Mill rendring Rent; or if a Leaſe be made of Land, and a Hundred, or of an Advowſon rendring rent, all the Rent ſhall iſſue out of the Land, and not out of the Mature, Hundred, or Advowſon. But in that Caſe, it was agreed, (as before in Jewels Caſe, That the King might reſerve and rent out of a Fair, or thing not manurable, becauſe he might diſtrein in all other the lands of the Grantee, for ſuch Rent: And it was agreed, That if a Rent be granted out of a Mannor, that the Demeans only, and not the Services, are charged, and chargeable with the Rent. Cook 5. Part, 4. Sir John Molyes Caſe.

4. The Cuſtome of London is, That a Purchaſer of Freeman in London, may deviſe his purchaſed Lands in Mortmain: A purchaſer deviſed his Lands by his Will, to the Prior and Covent of St Bartholomew, and his Succeſſors, ſo as they pay to the Dean and Chapter of St Paul in London, 20 Marks rent; and if they failed payment, that their Eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and the Dean and Chapter ſhould have the Land; and for the Condition broken in not payment of the Rent, the Dean and Chapter entred. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe, That the Condition was void, and that the rent reſerved to the ſtranger, was not good. Paſch. 29 H. 8. Dyer, 33.

5. A man ſeized of Lands in Fee, made a Leaſe of them for life; and afterwards, by Indenture, Covenanted to convey and aſſure the ſaid Lands to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his ſon in Tail, with divers Remainders over: And by the ſame Indenture, it was further Covenanted and agreed, That it ſhould be lawful for him at any time after, to make of the ſaid Land any Leaſe or Leaſes, Grant, or Grants, as well in poſſeſſion as Reverſion; Provided, That they ſhould not exceed the number of three Lives, or 21 years, the quod upon every ſuch Leaſe & Grant, the moſt ancient Rent was reſerved during the ſaid Leaſe or Grant: Afterwards, he levyed a Fine to the Uſes in the Indenture; and afterwards Leaſed the ſaid Lands to J. S. for 99 years, if the ſaid J. S. and J. D. ſhould ſo long live, to begin after the determination of the Eſtate of the Tenant for life, rendring yearly after the beginning of the ſaid Leaſe to him, his heirs, or aſſigns, or to ſuch perſon to whom the Inheritance of the premiſſes ſhould appertain during the ſaid Term, 14 s. 4 d. at the four moſt uſual Feaſts, yearly to be paid. It was a Queſtion in this Caſe (amongſt other points) if the Reſervation of the Rent was good. It was Reſolved, That it was good, for the Leaſe had not its Eſſence from the Eſtate which that Leſſor had for life, but the Leaſe had its Eſſence out of the Fine; and in conſtruction of Law, did precede the heirs for life, and all the Remainders; Alſo the Reſervation was to the Leſſor, and to every perſon to whom the Inheritance and Reverſion of the premiſſes ſhall appertain during the Term, which is good; for the Law ſhall diſtribute the time to every one to whom the Limitation of the Uſe was. But the Court ſaid, That the ſureſt way was to reſerve the Rent yearly during the Term, and leave the Law to make diſtribution, without any expreſs Reſervation to any perſon certain. Cook 8. Part, 70, 71. Whitlocks Caſe.

6. A man ſeized of black Acre for Fee, and of white Acre, for years, granted a Rent out of both to J. S. for life, with clauſe of diſtreſs in both Acres; the Rent was behinde, and J. S. diſtreined, and avowed in white Acre. In this Caſe (amongſt other things) it was Reſolved, That when a man grants a Rent out of Land in Fee, and a Term for years, to have for life, that the Freehold of the Rent ſhall Iſſue out of the Land in Fee, and not out of the Term, becauſe it is but a Chattel, and the agreement of the parties cannot charge ſuch a thing with a Rent which is not chargeable by the Law, as out of an Advowſon, Hundred, &c. which cannot be put in view in an Aſſize, nor any diſtreſs taken in them. Cook 7. Part, 23. Bas Caſe.

7. A. ſon of J. S. brought debt againſt the Defendant for twenty Marks Rent, and Declared, That his Father the 27 of April, 25 Eliz. Leaſed to the Defendant a Houſe, &c. in B. in the County of C. from Mich. following, for 21 years, yielding during the ſaid Term, if the Father ſhould ſo long live, 30 l. at our Lady, and Mich. by equal portions, and yielding to the heirs and aſſigns of the father after his death, 20 Marks at the Term aforeſaid, and that the Defendant entred, and occupied the Lands from 35 Eliz. &c. the father dyed, ed, 4 Mali, 7 Jac. and becauſe 20 Marks for a half years Rent was behinde, the Action was brought. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration: It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff; for the clauſe by which the Rent is reſerved to the Heir, gives but twenty Marks for the whole year, and not twenty Marks every half year; and therefore the Plaintiff had miſtaken his demand in ſuing for twenty Mks. for one half year; for theſe words, ad terminos prædictos, are only the time of the payment of the twenty Marks, which were to be paid as the 30 l. were; and although in the clauſe which reſerved the rent to the heirs, the words by equal portions, were omitted, yet the Law will ſupply them. Another cauſe of the Judgment was, becauſe the Plaintiff brought his Action as heir to his father, and did not ſhew that the Reverſion deſcended to him, and the Rent demanded is incident to the Reverſion deſcended, and ſo the Plaintiff makes no Title to have the Rent, quod Nota. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Smith and Newſhams Caſe. Brownlow 1 Part, 108, 109.

8. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, W. H. was ſeized of a Meſſuage, and 55 Acres of Land, five Acres of Meadow, and ſix Acres of Paſture in F. and 27 Junii 28 H. 8. by Indenture, demiſed the Tenement aforeſaid to J. S. for 79 years, Reddendo inde annuatim, to the ſaid W. H. and his Aſſignes, 26 s. 8. at the Feaſt of the Annunciation, and Mich. by equal portions, and after, the Leſſor dyed, and the Reverſion deſcended to his ſon, under whom the Defendant claimed: The point in this Caſe was, If the Rent reſerved ſhould go to the heir, or ſhould be determined by the death of the Leſſor; for if the Leſſor had reſerved the Rent to him, it ſhould determine by his death, and the Addition, and his Aſſignes ſhall not enlarge the Reſervation. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That by this Reſervation, the Heir ſhould not have the Rent; for that the Reſervation was made to the Father, his Executors, and Aſſigns, and not to his heirs. Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Weſton and Edwins Caſe. See Hill. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Rotr. 1341. Richmond and Butlers Caſe adjudged acc. Cook 12. Part, 36.

9. In an Action of Debt for Rent, the Caſe was this, A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 20 years, in the right of his Wife, made a Leaſe for ten years, rendring rent to him, his Executors, and Aſſigns, The Queſtion was, Whether the Executors or the Wife ſhould have the Rent? Crook and Houghton Juſtices, held, That the Rent was gone; Mountague contrary. But it was agreed by them all, That the Executors of the Huſband ſhould not have it: It was alſo agreed, That if Leſſee for 20 years makes a Leaſe for 10 years, and then ſurrenders his Term, that the Rent is gone. And it was holden in the principal Caſe, If the Huſband after the Leaſe made, had granted over the Reverſion, his Grantee ſhould not have the Rent. Mountague ſaid, in the principal Caſe, The Wife in Chancery might be relieved for the Rent. Trin. 16 Jac. in B. R. Blaxton and Heath. Caſe. Godbolt, 279.

10. A. the Father, ſeized of Lands in Fee, he and his ſon and heir apparent, by Indenture, Leaſed Lands to J. S. for years, to begin after the death of the father, rendring rent unto the ſon; the father dyed, the ſon entred, and the Rent was behinde, and the ſon diſtreined, and the Leſſee brought an Action of Treſpaſs, and had Judgment; for the Reſervation of the Rent was held utterly to be void; for although the ſon did prove heir, it bettered not the Caſe by the event: but the Reſervation muſt have been to the heir, or heirs of the Leſſor by name, for that is the only word of Privity in Law, requiſite in the reſervation of Rents and Conditions; for the heir is in repreſentation in point of taking of Inheritance, eadem perſona cum Anteceſſore. Trin. 12 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 3264. Oats and Frithe Caſe. Hob. 130. 151.

11. The Caſe was, A. being ſeized of Lands in Fee, ſuffered a common Recovery, to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife, for life, the Remainder, Seniori puero de corpore dict. A. and to the heirs males of the body dicti ſenioris pueri. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the ſon ſhould have it, and not the daughter; for although pueri was taken for male or female, yet now it is taken in any modern Author for male; and the circumſtances do prove, that he intended it to his ſon, for that he made it for ſetling of his Inheritance; and it ſhall not be ſuppoſed he ſuppoſed his daughter ſhould have it; and where a Leaſe may be taken two wayes, the moſt uſual ſhall be intended; as in Caſe of a Reſtitution of a Rent at Mich. that ſhall be intended at the chiefeſt Feaſt. Mich. 16 Eliz. in C. B. Lane and Coups Caſe. Owen, 64.

12. A man makes a Leaſe for years, reſerving rent to him, his Executors and Aſſigns, and during the Term, the Leſſor dyes; his Heir, who hath the Reverſion, brought debt for the Rent: It was urged, that the Rent was incident to the Reverſion; and the heir having the Reverſion, ſhall alſo have the Rent as incident to it: So 5 E. 4. 4. If two Joynt Tenants make a Leaſe, rendring Rent to one of them, yet the other ſhall have the Rent, though no mention be made of him: But it was adjudged to the contrary by the Court; for when a man paſſeth Lands from himſelf, the Law gives him liberty to paſs them in ſuch manner as he himſelf will; and this liberty ought to take effect according to the expreſs words; for the Law will not extend the words further, for the intent ſhall appear by the words, and then in the principal Caſe, it cannot be intended, that his will was, that the Heir ſhould have the Rent, becauſe the words are not ſufficient to give it to his heirs. See 12 E. 4. A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent to the Leſſor and his Aſſigns; In that caſe, none ſhall have the Rent but the Leſſor, and it is void by his death, for his Aſſignee cannot be privie to the Reſervation; and the words of the party ſhall not be in any wayes enlarged, unleſs there be great inconveniency to be avoided. Reſignation.

1. REſignation is, Where the Incumbent of a Church or Benefice doth reſigne it up, or leaveth it to the Ordinary who did admit and Inſtitute him into the Church or Benefice, or unto his ſucceſſors: It differeth from a Surrender in this, The Reſignation is made to him who hath no Intereſt in the thing reſigned, but an authority to admit the party to the Church or Benefice; whereas a Surrender is made to the party who hath an Intereſt in the thing which is ſurendred: and every Reſignation muſt be abſolutè, ſponte, purè, & ſimpliciter.

2. R. G. Parſon of the Church of E. in the County of Norfolk, did by an Inſtrument in Writing reſigne his Benefice, before a publique Notary, and others, into the hands of the Biſhop; the Reſignation was abſolute and voluntary, to the uſe of J. S. and J. D. or either of them: But in the Inſtrument of Reſignation was theſe words inſerted, Proteſtatione & ſub Conditione quod ſi aliqui eorum non admiſſi fuerint per affectionem Epiſcopi infra ſex menſes, quod tunc hæc præſens Reſignatio mea vacua & pro nulla habeatur. It was Objected, That the Plaintiff might reſigne, as well upon a Condition, as a particular Tenant may ſurrender upon Condition; and it was ſaid, That two Parſons may exchange their Livings; and if the Eſtate be executed on the one part, and not on the other, that parſon whoſe part was not executed, might have his Benefice again; as it was adjaged 46 E. 3. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Incumbent cannot transfer his Benefice unto another, without Preſentation; and it is againſt the nature of a Reſignation to be upon Condition; for it being an Act Judicial, a condition cannot be annexed unto it, no more then the Biſhop or Ordinary, can admit the Incumbent upon Condition. Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. Gaytons Caſe. Owen, 12.

3. Note, It was adjudged in the Court of Common Pleas, by the Lord Dyer, Weſton, and the whole Court, That a Dean, or any other Eccleſiaſtical perſon, might reſigne their Dignities or Benefices to the King, as divers did to King E. 6. for that the King had the authority of the ſupreme Ordinary. Cook 5. Part, 34. in the Caſe of Eccleſiaſtical perſons.

4. A Parſon of the Church of G. was bounden in an Obligation to the Prior of E. to reſigne to the Prior for a certain penſion, as it ſhould be agreed betwixt them. The Parſon and Prior did agree of a certain penſion of 5 l. and yet the Parſon refuſed to reſigne, 14 H. 4. 19. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That although they were agreed of the Penſion, yet the Parſon was not bound to reſigne, until he might be ſure of his Penſion, and that he could not be without a Deed; and therefore in ſuch Caſe, the Parſon was not bound to reſigne, until the Prior ſhould render a Deed of the Penſion, whereby he might be ſure of it. Cook 5. Part, 21. in Sir Anthony Maines Caſe.

5. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was, The Defendant being Incumbent of the Church of B. (being a Donative, and C. and G. having the Donation thereof) made an Inſtrument, whereby he Conceſſit & reſignavit to C. & omnibus ad quos in hac parte pertinet ad acceptandum Eccleſiam ſuam de B. and thereupon the two Patrons gave it to the Plaintiff, who being diſturbed by the Defendant (who ſuppoſed the Reſignation to be void) brought Treſpaſs. It was a Queſtion, whether the Reſignation of a Donative Church, could be to the Donor, or how it might be departed with. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That this being a Donative, begun only by the foundation and erection of the Donor, he hath the ſole Viſitation and Correction, and the Ordinary hath nothing to do therewith, and as the Parſon comes in by him, ſo he may reſtore it to him; and although the Preſentee when he is in, hath the Freehold, yet he may reveſt it by his Reſignation, without any other Ceremony, and the Ordinary hath nothing to do therewith; for Admiſſion and Inſtitution are not requiſite in caſe of a Donative. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Reſignation to one of the Patrons was good: for it enures to both, as a Surrender ſhall do. 3. Reſolved, That although the Reſignation was de Eccleſia, yet it extends to all the poſſeſſions; and although it was Objected, That it is not found that the Donors accepted of the Reſignation; yet it was holden, That it being in a ſpecial Verdict, all neceſſary circumſtances cumſtances ſhall be intended. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 3 Jac. in B. R. Fairchild and Gaunt's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 63.

6. In a Quare Impedit, the Iſſue was, if I. S. by Covin between him, and B. and C. did reſigne into the hands of the Biſhop: In this Caſe it was holden, That if the King hath Title of Lapſe, and a Reſignation be made by fraud, and one be admitted, this ſhall not take away the Kings Title; for if the King's Title appear upon Record, then ſhall go out a Writ for the King; but otherwiſe it is upon matter of Evidence: The King ſhall loſe his Title by Reſignation, as by death, where he hath Title to Preſent by Lapſe, and doth not, except the Reſignation be by fraud. Trin. 6 Jac. in C. B. Comber and the Biſhop of Wincheſter's Caſe. Brownl. 1. Part, 161.

2. Where upon Reſignation the Church is void, and to whom the Reſignation muſt be made; And where, and when all charges of the Incumbent ſhall be avoided upon Reſignation, where not.

1. REſignation, if it be of a Benefice with Cure of ſouls, it muſt be made to the Biſhop, who is the immediate Ordinary, by whoſe Admiſſion and Inſtitution, the Incumbent came firſt into the Church, and cannot be made to the King as ſupreme Ordinary of the Dioceſſes of England; and the reaſon thereof is, 1 H. 7. Quare Impedit, 103. becauſe upon the Reſignation, the Ordinary is to give notice unto the Patron of the Avoydance; to the intent, that the Patron might Preſent another to the Church; which the Biſhop may do, but the King is not bound to do.

2. If two Parſons do agree to permute or exchange their Benefices, this cannot be done by any Act of theirs, but there muſt be a Reſignation of their Benefices firſt made unto the Ordinary, for they muſt be ſettled therein by him: But if a Reſignation be made of any Dignity or Promotion Spiritual in the Church, and not to a Benefice with Cure of ſouls, there to extinguiſh the Dignity, or Spiritual Promotion, the Reſignation made to the King as ſupream Ordinary, is ſufficient to make a Reſignation of the ſame. See 10 H. 6. 11.
